Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dorff and children left Tuesday for Racine, Wisconsin where they have purchased a home.

The family expressed regret at leaving Manchester where they have lived for the past eight years.

Mr. Dorff left Double A Products Co. here where he was quality control manager to become vice president of Hydrolic Products, Inc.

A large number of friends gathered at the open house at the Dorff home on Saturday evening to bid them farewell.

CROSS ROADS CAMP DAINAVA

- by Marie Schneider

Comparatively few people are aware of a large youth camp near here.

Camp Dainava, meaning cross roads, is located five miles west of Manchester, off Austin Road, this side of the Jackson County line.

Probably a chief reason that the camp is not particularly well known in this area is that the main requisite to be admitted to camp is that a person be a Lithuanian or of Lithuanian descent.

The camp always has a long waiting list and is never able to accommodate all of its applicants.

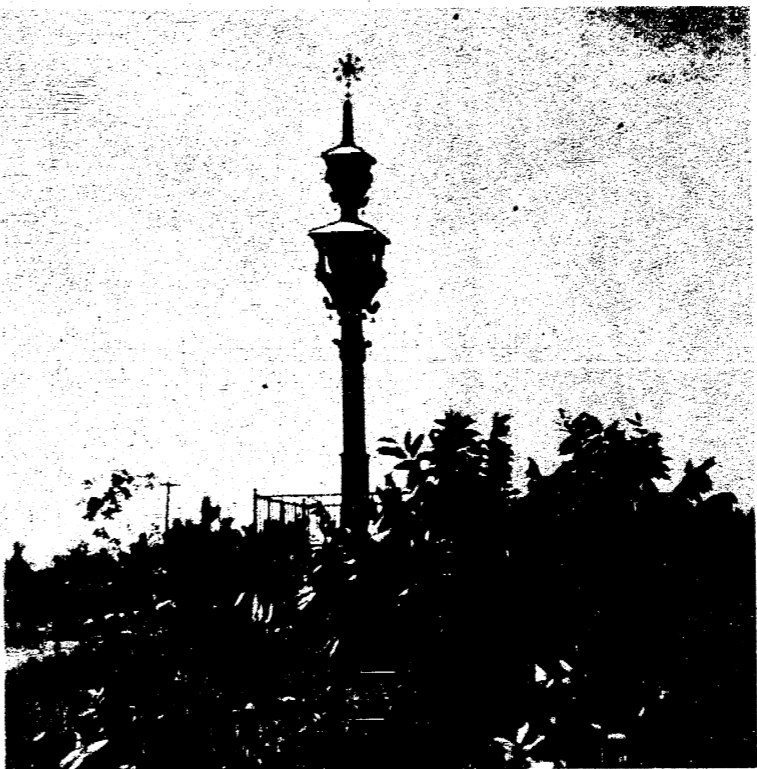

This year it opened on July 15 and has been going full tilt ever since. After the middle of September operations slowed down according to Rev. Fr. Peter Patlaba, director.

The Manchester Township camp site was one of 25 under consideration by a group of representative Lithuanians who wanted to have some place in the U.S. where they could meet, talk over their mutual problems and most important keep in touch with others of their own nationality.

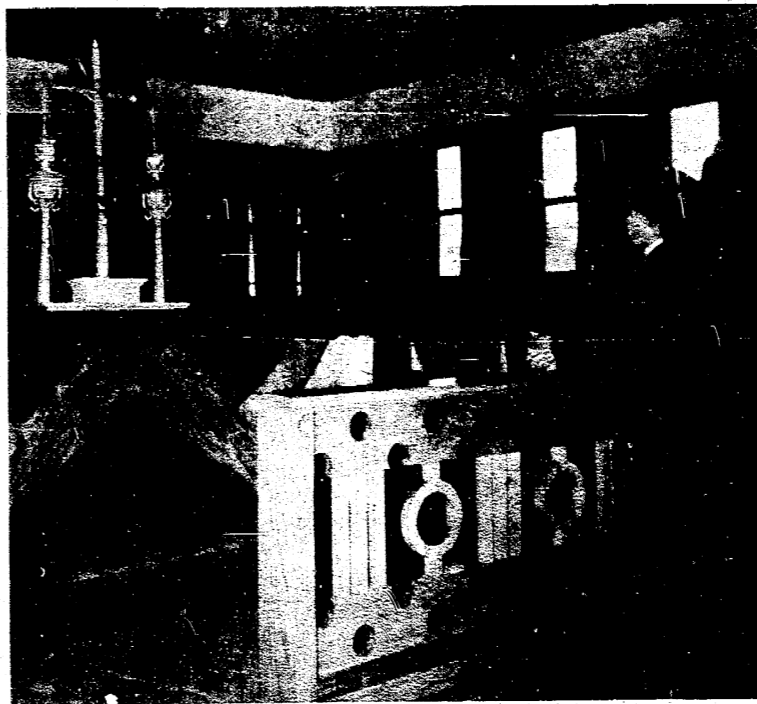

Adolph Damusis, a chemist with the Research and Development Division of the Wyandotte Chemical Corp. in Wyandotte is president of the camp board of directors.

These honorary members are divided into three categories. Those contributing less than $100 to $10,000 donors.

The first building was constructed in 1956 with doctors, lawyers and construction workers teaming side by side in a common effort.

ENTRANCE - A large cross, part of a typical Lithuanian landscape, stands at the entrance to Camp Dainava, west of Manchester.

FATHER Peter Patlaba (center) is the camp director. With him is a visiting priest originally from Lithuania and one of five nuns who are on the camp staff. This chapel is located in the camp's hall.

'ONCE FOR ALL DRIVE'

Organization for the annual Manchester Community Fund and Red Cross Drive is rapidly taking shape under the leadership of Luther Klager, Robert Swartz and Mrs. James Baker.

The Businessmen's Division with Mrs. Tom Marshall as chairman will begin solicitation on Main Street next Monday, October 3.

The Industrial Division is also starting October 3 according to Clarence Fielder, Division Chairman.

All personnel connected with the Drive and Community Chest Board members are urged to attend the workshop, October 6 at the Nellie Ackerson School at 7:30 sharp.

Mrs. Del D. Ludwick announced her village house-to-house team captain: Mrs. John Bunney, Mrs. Ben Creason, Mrs. Clarence Fielder, Mrs. Charles Knorrp and Mrs. Ronald Whittington.

Rural team captains working with Mrs. Norman Fielder are: Mrs. Mandercher Township, Mrs. Lo Ren Troiz; Sharon Township, Mrs. Elias Dennis; Freedom Township, Mrs. Lynn Voegeding and Bridge-water Township, Mrs. Monroe Eversole Jr.

Ronald McNally is chairman of the Manchester Public School Division this year and their campaign begins the first week in October as usual.

All personnel connected with the Drive and Community Chest Board members are urged to attend the workshop, October 6 at the Nellie Ackerson School at 7:30 sharp.

ZIP CODE INFORMATION COMES FROM POSTMASTER

Residents in Manchester will be offered an opportunity to ZIP CODE their mailing lists during October, according to Postmaster Marvin Kirk.

Letter carriers will deliver "no postage needed" cards to each of the city's postal boxes and to the rural patrons beginning October 10, the postmaster said.

The cards will have blanks for addresses used most often, but for which individuals do not know the proper ZIP Codes.

Postmasters in appropriate cities add: The project will be a feature of "ZIP Code Week", to be celebrated locally October 8 to 15th.

Throughout the nation 95,000,000 of the cards will be delivered. In cities with more than one ZIP Code, there will be two cards for each household; one for local addresses and the other card for out-of-town.

In rural areas and cities with one ZIP Code assigned, only an out-of-town card will be delivered since all local addresses will have the same ZIP Code.

"This is a good time to get the ZIP Codes missing from your lists," Postmaster Kirk noted. "This Christmas, ZIP Code will be as important as shopping and mailing early for the efficient and on-time delivery of the record-breaking avalanche of mail expected in the pre-holiday weeks."

After filling in the street number, city and state, the cards are to be mailed back to the postmaster. Post Office personnel will add the proper ZIP Codes and return the cards to the sender.

President Johnson has proclaimed October 10-15 as "ZIP Code Week" to promote greater usage of ZIP Code.

Postmaster General O'Brien announced May 19 that steps were being taken to make ZIP Codes more accessible to the mailing public.

The present program resulted from a search for the most effective method to get the codes in the hands of private mailers.

HOW TO FREEZE SEAFOOD

For best results in freezing fish, remove scales and entrails, wash and dry thoroughly and wrap in airtight aluminum foil. When freezing scallops, oysters, or clams, pack them in a deep container with a solution of salt water and leave one inch of head-space for expansion.

PROTECTIVE PAINT

Before stashing away your garden tools for the fall and winter, try protecting them with a coating of aluminum enamel. The aluminum paint prevents rusting and gives the tools an attractive, bright appearance that will endure through many seasons of use.

HEAT SAVERS

Use of aluminum venetian blinds can have an insulating effect in the home. The Aluminum Association reports. Because the metal reflects radiant heat, aluminum venetians bounce heat back into a room in cold weather and help keep the sun's heat out on hot days.

STRANGE CARGO

Ever have to move a 480-pound gorilla? Probably not. But if the need arises, follow the lead of the directors of a Kansas City zoo. Borrowing an idea from the shipping industry, they packed their ape into a five-foot aluminum crate for transport to a new home. While extremely light for hoisting, the aluminum was strong enough to contain the powerful and protesting beast.

SOYBEAN LOSS PER ACRE ACCORDING TO HEIGHT CUT

Height	Bushels
6 -	-4.3
4 -	-2
2 -	-1

THE HIGHER SOYBEAN PRICES GO the more it pays to save every bushel. To keep harvesting losses low set the combine to cut as close to the ground as possible. Engineers say you'll lose 1/2 bushel an acre for each inch of cut above ground level. For each inch of cut above 4 inches you'll lose more than a bushel per acre. At a 6-inch cut you could easily be losing 3 bushels per acre. At 2 1/2 a bushel, you are leaving 23 on every acre.

"WET" FEEDING HOGS has been gathering interest. Ohio State University has developed a paste feeding system and at least one manufacturer has put out a liquid feeder. They are attempts to reduce labor and gain greater feed and equipment efficiency. In Ohio's system enough water is mixed with the feed to make a paste which is pumped through a pipe to a circular feeder serving four pens. It is automatic and has produced more efficient gains than self-fed pigs on the same ration in a dry form.

IMPROVED DAIRY OUTLOOK calls for some possible changes in herd management and better equipment and facilities. For instance, with higher feed costs, higher milk prices, and strong slaughter cattle prices, good records are a valuable tool to determine which cows should be culled. Use DHIA records -- cows on this program earned $219 more than others in the 195-58 year. Also use good AI bulls to upgrade your herd and avoid using best bulls.

PORTABLE FARM ELEVATORS ARE DANGEROUS, so handle them carefully. When you move an elevator watch out for power lines. If you move one with a tractor and it catches in power lines, don't step off the tractor -- jump free! Then shut the power off before clearing the elevator.

Fall Barbecue Brings Summer

Meal Indoors

You can carry a happy touch of summer into your fall supper table with this Skillet Chicken Barbecue. It's a perfect change of pace menu surprise, but chances are you'll be repeating it all through the season until the backyard season arrives again. Even browning of the chicken and uniform tenderness after the final step of the recipe are important to its success. Because of aluminum's superior heat distribution, the recipe requires use of an aluminum top-of-the-range or portable electric skillet. These new nonstick aluminum fryers not only will make your chicken barbecue better, but they'll add to your pleasure with easy pan cleaning afterwards, reports The Aluminum Association.

- SKILLET CHICKEN BARBECUE
- 1 3-lb. chicken
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 1 tsp. paprika
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1/2 tsp. monosodium glutamate
 - 1/4 tsp. pepper
 - 1 10 1/2 oz. can tomato soup
 - 1 cup oil or shortening
 - 1 cup water
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped onion
 - 2 tbs. vinegar
 - 1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 clove garlic, minced
 - 1 tbs. sugar
 - 1/2 cup lemon juice
- Disjoint chicken into serving size pieces, wash and dry. Mix flour with paprika, salt, monosodium glutamate and pepper. Coat chicken pieces with flour mixture.

Heat fat in aluminum electric skillet set at 350° F. or over moderate heat in non-electric aluminum skillet. Brown chicken in hot fat, placing pieces on plate as they are browned. When chicken is browned, add remaining ingredients to skillet and bring to a boil.

Reduce heat to 225° F. or low with non-electric skillet. Return chicken to skillet. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until chicken is fork tender. Makes 4 servings.

Dutchmen Hit Winning Mark

No one needs to tell the Brooklyn football team that Manchester quarterback Pat Wallace was on the mark.

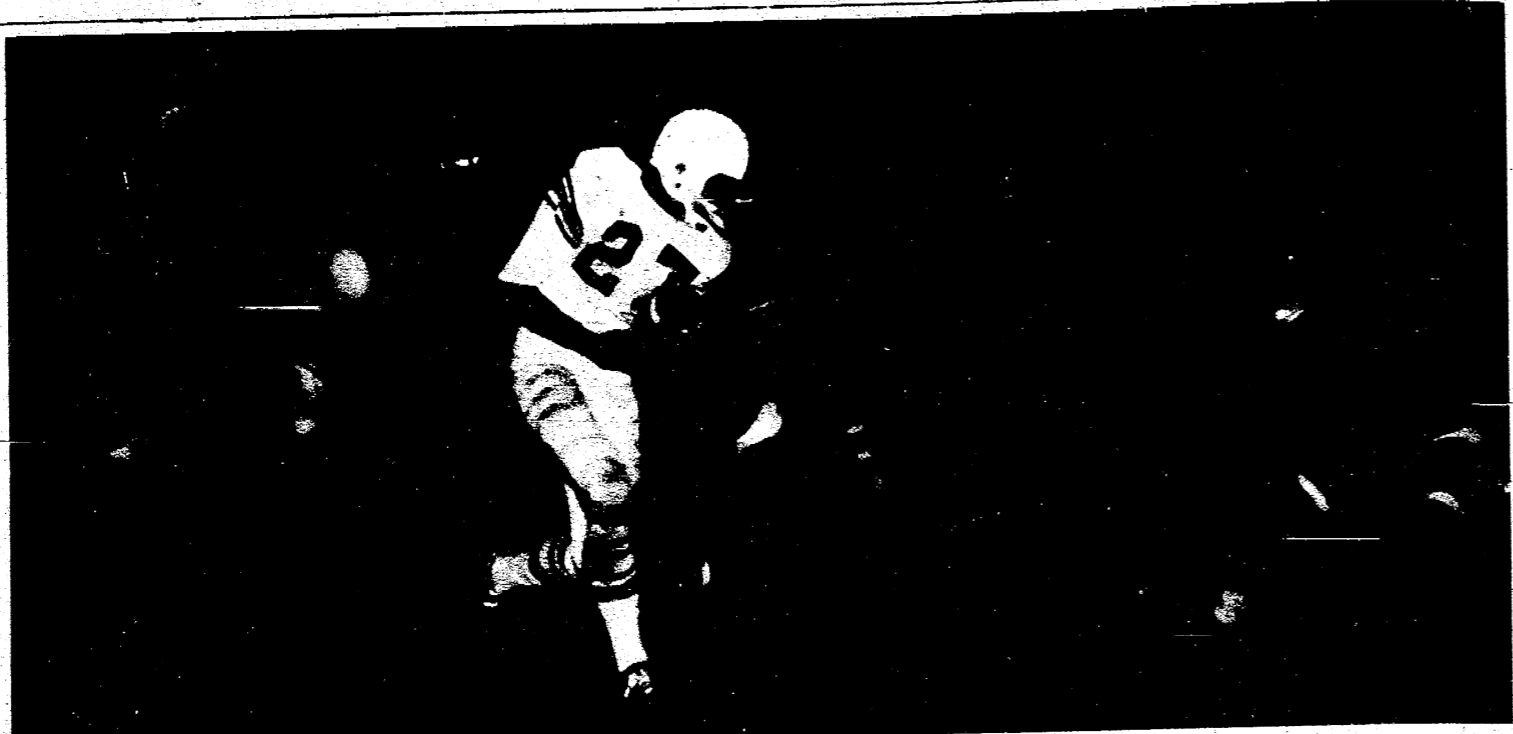

The Flying Dutchman signal caller completed six of 15 passes for three touchdowns.

Wallace gave the Manchester team a 12-0 bulge in the first period by hitting flanker back Gary Shadley and end Larry Fielder for touchdowns strikes of one and 11 yards, respectively.

The quarterback then put the game on ice by scoring on a one yard sneak after he ran back a 45-yard pass interception in the second period.

Wallace again teamed with Fielder for a 10-yard pass good for a touchdown. Mike Nickerson closed the scoring in the third period with a 15-yard run.

The Dutch capitalized on five intercepted passes and covered one fumble, and the offensive line earned the praise of Coach Jack Raffaelli. The Flying Dutchmen are 1-1 on the season.

LAKELAND CLUBS TAKE TO AIR

The first full round of play in the Lakeland C Conference reveal that the traditional powers—Clinton and Manchester—may once dominate the action.

Both teams dusted themselves off after losing their non-conference openers last Friday night. Clinton was downed by Adrian Catholic Central, 18-6, while Mosencio edged Manchester, 12-7.

It was a different story for the two clubs Friday night. The defending champions, Clinton, gave their new coach, Mike Snyder, a taste of victory as a head coach. The Redskins rolled up a 19-0 victory over Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

The runnerup to the champs last season, Manchester, shocked Brooklyn with a stinging 31-0 setback.

In the other league game, Whitmore Lake out lasted University High, 6-0, in a Friday afternoon contest.

NEW OFFICE NEEDED FOR WASHTENAW INTERMEDIATE BOARD

The Washtenaw County Intermediate Board of Education is looking for a site for its new office building. Several have been under consideration, according to Nicholas A. Ianni, Supt. of the County Board of Education.

Because of the cramped conditions in the County Court House, the offices were moved to 130 So. First Street in the Benz Building where the staff occupies two floors.

Garden 8-4211
MANCHESTER

Mr. Ianni points out that the ideal location geographically would be somewhere "west of Ann Arbor near the expressway."

County school trustees have been investigating the purchase of sites on Wagner and Park Roads, in Scio Township, but the acquisition of this has been hampered by the possibility of the Detroit Edison Co. to bring high tension wires across the property. A spokesman for the Detroit Company said that the utility may be willing to release a 38-acre parcel from its options. This is being investigated.

Also under consideration is the property owned by the county at Washtenaw and Platt Roads. This, too, will be the site for a juvenile home, and other county facilities.

The school trustees also instructed its real estate agent, Geo. Frisinger, to investigate other possible sites.

Ianni has indicated that the new building should contain much more space than the slightly more than 7,000 square feet the intermediate district now rents at the Benz Building.

The Board has approved the hiring of F. Huston Colvin of Colvin, Robinson, Wright and Associates as the project's architects.

Several weeks ago the superintendent indicated that the building's cost, including site, equipment and architect's fees, would probably be in the excess of $500,000. Under a recently enacted law, the intermediate board could finance construction of the building without the approval of taxpayers. One mill on every dollar of the intermediate district's state equalized valuation can be assessed by the county board. This would amount to about $725,000 in revenue, Ianni said.

 personnel volunteering their time. It was not even necessary to hire an architect to plan the camp.
 Everyone contributed whatever skills they had. Very few workers are salaried. Those on the payroll are mostly students who help around camp in the summer or who work with the five nuns who are on the kitchen detail.
 The people seem to be bonded together by their cultural ties and the hardships they have endured. This camp, far away from the hustle and bustle of the city, seems to remind these homesick people of their own country.
 The land is rolling and very picturesque around Thorn Lake. Most of the campers come from the Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago areas.

PRESIDENT- Adolph Damusis, a chemist with the Research Development Division of the Wyandotte Chemical Corp. heads the camp board.

"Here at camp we are attempting to teach our children not to lose ties with the old values, build character and to bring our people closer together in our adopted land. By so doing we hope to make our children better citizens of this country, appreciate what they now have and not lose contact with one another," Damusis said. "We do not want Lithuania to become a country of the past."

The first immigrants used to come to the camp on week ends and work long hours putting up the buildings. But now there are blacktop roads all over the area and blacktop walls.

Although the camp doesn't completely close down during the winter, there is but one big picnic remaining on Sunday, October 2, for all the campers to gather again. This promises to be a special occasion. The camp belongs to the Catholic arch diocese of Chicago. Fr. Peter is stationed there although he celebrates one mass at St. Mary's in Manchester each Sunday during the summer.

During the winter the camp will be open for skaters and skiing parties. The main building, a large motel type of accommodation is well insulated and can accommodate 200 people. It is heated by bottle gas and also has a fireplace.

During the summer, when there are some weeks set aside for families to gather, teachers from Chicago and Detroit volunteer to teach children of all ages so that their parents are free to attend lectures, conventions and all types of classes, including art.

There is a large auditorium with a folding wall. This serves as a chapel, complete with an altar. Mass is said daily when people are in camp.

Scouts make up most of the winter population of the camp.

A large dining room and kitchen have been erected a short distance from the main building. Everyone is served there except when there is a cookout. One of the cooks comes from Chicago every summer during the busy season.

'CHILDREN'S HOUSE'-Chicago teacher Mrs. Janina Julkevicius is among the educators at Camp Dainava who volunteer to teach children during the summer months, enabling the parents to attend various lectures and conferences.

On the walls are some very charming pictures brought from Lithuania.

The Lithuanians are a warm and friendly people, yet serious and hard working. They seem happy with their life here, yet they try hard to retain a part of a culture which was snatched from them in their home land by the Soviets—not once, but twice. They are quick and eager to give credit to the country they now call "home." But they hope that some time, somehow, they might return to Lithuania.

A poll conducted by Elmo Roper and Associates earlier this year found that about half the population is using ZIP Code. Of the remaining half who are not, 80 per cent said the reason was that they did not know the ZIP Codes for the people to whom they write. Previously, the Post Office Department has embarked upon an extensive effort to help volume mailers convert their lists to ZIP Code.

"The Roper poll strengthened our conviction that the public generally is ready and willing to cooperate with business mailers who will be presorting their second and third-class mail after January 1, 1967," Mr. O'Brien said. "I am convinced that the 'ZIP-A-LIST' project will go a long way toward accomplishing our goal of ready availability of the proper ZIP Codes in the home."

Local cards will be printed with blue ink and out-of-town cards in red.

Addresses which cannot be ZIP because of insufficient or improper addresses will be forwarded to the city indicated on the card, if legible, and the codes will be added there.

Only addresses, not names of correspondents, should be listed on the cards, the postmaster said. ZIP Codes represent delivery areas for the postal service not individuals.

During the summer, a "dry run" of the ZIP-A-LIST project was conducted in Columbus, Ohio and Richmond, Virginia. Information gained from these tests is being incorporated in the national program.

HOW TO BE A FLAVOR SAVER

Do you savor your cooking chores? You should—because you can build a reputation for blue ribbon cookery simply on the knowledge of how to preserve and enhance natural food flavors.

To keep eggs fresh for a fairly long time, rub oil, butter or pure glycerin over the whole surface of the shell.

Steam foods instead of boiling them; you won't drain away valuable nutrients and flavor agents. Place the food in a container above the boiling water, so that only the steam is able to reach the food.

used as cook-and-serve containers for oven-to-table food preparation. And stainless, supplied by Republic Steel Corp., will not affect the taste of food as some containers do. Called "Swap Tops," the bowls come with plastic tops for air and water-tight storage in freezer and refrigerator. Plastic tops from coffee, nut and candy tins provide spare covers.

A lump of charcoal in your refrigerator will absorb strong food odors and flavors, keeping foods free of all odors and flavors but their own.

Stuff chicken with cored apples to keep the meat moist and to add piquancy to its flavor.

Master these little tricks, and you won't need a repertoire of exotic dishes and complicated sauces to pique the palates of family and friends.

BE A WINTER WHEAT WONDER!

Five years ago, we thought that 50-bushel wheat yields were really something. But today farmers are setting their sights on 60-90- or even 120-bushel harvests per acre—and achieving them!

How? By following a program of effective management that includes timely planting, proper seed, proper fertilization, disease and weed control.

Low oven temperature is a must for tasty, tender roast beef.

Slice tomatoes vertically; they'll retain more juice.

Bacon drippings used for frying and searing meat impart a delicate flavor. But be sure to use a little less salt.

Stainless steel is probably the best all-around cooking and food storage material, because it's lightweight, easy to clean, won't rust or corrode. A new line of multiple-use stainless steel bowls, by the Vollrath Company of Sheboygan, Wisconsin, can be

SEED—Yet you can't expect to get good yields—much less top yields—unless you buy the best seed. Some of the new improved varieties of seed increase yield potential. Apply at the rate of about 40 pounds per acre. Seeding heavier than this only reduces head size, so you don't seem to gain anything.

FERTILIZERS increase both the yield and the protein content of wheat, particularly if they are rich in nitrogen. The latest pelletized fertilizers recommended by successful farmers are Ammo-Phos fertilizers by Olin. According to scientists at Olin Mathieson Laboratories, these fertilizers have, in fact, revolutionized the industry. These high-analysis fertilizers—rich in nitrogen—are water soluble, store well and distribute easily.

PLANTING—Improved tillage equipment has made it possible to seed wheat two to three weeks earlier in the fall for maximum results. Of course, if you are in an area where diseases or insects such as Hessian fly are a problem, later seedings may be necessary. Many farmers wait until the temperature starts to cool down and the soil moisture is at least four inches deep—about the middle of September—before planting.

DISEASE—The mercury compounds, hexachlorobenzene compounds and improved wheat strains have practically eliminated the smut problem.

WEEDS—Compounds of 2, 4-D are effective in controlling many of the broadleaved annual weeds.

Well Wishes Go to Upton In New Venture

H. H. Upton Jr. has recently acquired ownership of Malloy Lithographing, Inc. located at 5411 Jackson Road, five miles west of Ann Arbor. He has resigned as a vice president and general manager of Double A Products Co. in Manchester.

Mr. Upton said, "It is a challenge for me to own a business. The decision to leave Double A was very difficult to make. I have always had the highest respect for Double A and have enjoyed my associations with the employees. I enjoy particularly working in the environment of a small company. I do feel, however, if I am to go into business for myself it should be now."

Mr. Upton said that he looks for continued growth at the Double A plant which his father brought from Ann Arbor in 1940. H. H. Upton Sr. retired in 1960.

The business executive came to the Manchester operation in 1948 after serving two years in the Navy where he was an ensign. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Business Administration.

Mr. Upton, a director of the Union Savings Bank, says the Malloy Company will be doing its banking in Manchester.

Malloy employs in the neighborhood of fifty people and plans are underway to expand the facility as growth and expansion are anticipated.

LIBRARY NOTES

The Manchester Township Library has received a film catalogue from the Washtenaw County Library. These films are both 8 mm and 16 mm. The county will furnish a projector on request.

There is also a list of 8 mm silent films for family groups. This group includes films starring Douglas Fairbanks, Charlie Chaplin, Lillian Gish and Lionel Barrymore. These films can be picked up in the morning and returned the next day.

The third and fourth grades from Pleasant Lake school visited the library to see the "Fossils in Michigan" Display. Reading materials accompany the display, and is for juvenile young adults and adult readers.

Mrs. Hanks and Mr. Hicks and the children visited the Historical room. Mrs. Hanks told those present that it was through the efforts of Mrs. Burrill Hansen that the Historical room became a reality.

The Library needs someone who has a feeling for history to carry on in Marge Hansen's place.

THE CORNER

IT'S EVERYONES JOB

Manchester area moves into its annual effort to raise funds for the United Community Services with the coming of October. This is the time when all men, women and children work toward a common goal--one gift to help as many people as possible.

This UNITED GIVING helps to make sure no one is forgotten--the lonesome serviceman in far away places, the troubled teenager striking out blindly against society, the aging person with many afflictions that take medical aid and research, the sick little child in need of loving care and families in trouble and facing problems beyond their capacity to control.

UNITED GIVING covers these vital needs. It means giving your fair share to meet the needs for a year and GIVING enough for all.

Council Okays Rezoning Property

At Monday's council meeting the Sutton property on Sooten Rd. was rezoned from R1 to R3.

S & W Builders had requested the rezoning as one of the first steps in clearing the way for the erection of a six-family apartment house on the five acre site.

The Building permit for the apartment house and another for remodeling a house on adjacent property, also owned by S & W were tabled until some agreement is reached for extending a sewer line to the property.

The council had proposed an assessment to property owners in the area who would benefit if the sewer line is extended.

Donald and Hugh Sutton and Norman Walk, partners in S & W Builders were present at the meeting. Council has withheld the building permits pending outcome of the contracts for the sewer installation.

The council agreed to meet with applicants for the position of police chief on Wednesday.

Daniel Singer, who held the post, resigned two weeks ago to work for the new Ford Motor Co. in Saline. He is working on a part time basis for the village.

County Chapter to Host March of Dimes

Some 400 people from across the state are expected to attend a luncheon and tour held Friday, Oct. 14 hosted by the Washtenaw County Chapter of the National Foundation March of Dimes.

Dr. Theodore Phandt, director of Children's Hospital in Omaha, Nebraska will address presidents and others from the National Foundation.

The announcement was made at a meeting last week of the board of the Washtenaw County Chapter at the YM-YWCA.

The groups will tour the U-M Medical Center in the morning and afternoon. Mrs. Hugh Sutton of Manchester will be one of the hostesses. She is also a member of the County Board.

COLUMBUS DAY A LEGAL HOLIDAY

The 1966 Legislature passed Senate Bill No. 34 (Public Acts No. 152) with immediate effect. This Public Act declares the Saturday nearest the 12th day of October as a public holiday to be known as Columbus Day and provides that the same shall be recognized, classed and treated as other legal holidays under the laws of this state. In 1966 the Saturday nearest the 12th day of October will be October 15th.

The new law began an attempt by Senator Charles Youngblood Jr. of Detroit to elevate Columbus Day to the status of a legal holiday.

Many objections were raised by banks and others as to the economic ramifications of a legal holiday costing millions of dollars--closing banks, schools, and all public offices.

The stalemate was broken by agreement to give legal status to Columbus Day on a Saturday when most banks were closed anyway or open only part time and schools and public offices were closed.

Thus Saturday, October 15, 1966, will be a legal holiday and it will be necessary for banks to be closed on that date.

AREA TO HAVE NEW FURNITURE STORE

The opening of a new furniture store has been announced by the owners Wes Eisele of Ann Arbor and Lou Vogel of Pleasant Lake. Eisele is a former resident of Freedom Township.

The new firm is to be known as Lodi Town & Country Furniture and is located at the corner of Pleasant Lake and Ann Arbor-Saline Road.

The 7500 square foot building will provide for Early American and Contemporary furniture.

Eisele has been in the furniture business for 25 years with Barrett Furniture. Vogel has been with Montgomery Ward for 29 years including 10 years in the company's Chicago Buying office and most recently with the Martin Haller Co. in Ann Arbor.
