Celebration Of New Years Varies Among Countries

While you may sing "Auld Lang Syne" when the clock strikes 12 on New Year's Eve, your Japanese counterpart may sing "Otanjōbi Dmedeto Gozaimasu" ("Happy Birthday To You") for the stroke of midnight means it's everyone's birthday!

Celebrating the first day of a new year is an age-old custom. Nearly all people have marked the coming of the year. However, the time selected as New Year's Day has varied widely. The first day has been celebrated as early as the autumnal equinox, about September 21, and as late as the summer solstice, about June 21.

In most European countries during the Middle Ages, March 25 was the beginning of the New Year.

Since antiquity, Jewish people have celebrated their New Year's day in September or early Oct. The special name which was given this momentous occasion, Rosh Hashanah means, "The Feast of the Trumpets."

With just as much of a roar, the Russians long ago welcomed the New Year in with a hundred cannon shots at midnight.

In ancient China, people took a different approach in their country. They cleaned house, paid debts and closed their shops. Then they shot off their fire crackers and who can ever forget a New Year's in Chinatown in a big American city with its colorful processions and fiery paper dragons breathing good cheer to everyone!

Near China in old Japan, New Year's was a time for everybody to don new clothes, take three days off from work and visit their friends. Each gatepost would be adorned with green pines and bamboo. And over each door would hang red lobsters, crabs and scarlet tangerines, standing for long life and happiness.

Gypsies in Spain used to marry on New Year's Eve. The 18th century writer George Barrow tells that a main feature of the bridal ceremony was the feasting associated with it. Once the gypsy couple took their vows, guests ate, sang and danced throughout the night and day.

Not to be outdone, Italians just consider Jan. 1 as part of their Yuletide festival and so revel until Twelfth Night, 12 days after Christmas.

Tradition has it that in Scotland the first one in a house on New Year's Day get a big big bear hug. Why? Because he has brought the host good luck. Midnight Scot celebrators carry cakes and spiced ale to wish their host a good year.

Christmas Party The Friendship Circle of the Iron Creek Church members and husbands enjoyed a dinner at Cramers Restaurant near Brooklyn

A HOLIDAY SEASON PLEDGE:

Make it None for the Road!

The Automobile Club of Mich. announced it is discarding the traditional ironclad "If you drive, don't drink" admonition for the Christmas and New Year's holiday.

"For the first time we are facing the fact that 80 per cent of all motorists do have an occasional social drink—probably more during the holidays than at any other time," said Auto Club General Manager Fred N. Rehm.

He announced the start of a campaign geared to the holiday host, asking him not to kill his guests with hospitality by encouraging them to overindulge. "We will distribute TV, radio, and newspaper educational material specially designed by Auto Club with an approach never tried before," Rehm said. "We will distribute to motorists and bar owners pamphlets that can be converted into reminder 'leaves' to be slipped over liquor bottles, carrying a 'none for the road' message to holiday hosts and guests."

The campaign is the largest ever attempted in Michigan aimed at curbing holiday drinking and driving, Rehm said, adding: "We've added a new appropriation to our $100,000 "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" campaign to handle this special holiday project."

When drinking, driving still is the most dangerous "mixer" of all, but the Auto Club points to a certain inescapable fact. "That the occasions for social drinking increase over the holidays—That most partygoers depend on their cars for transportation;

The Auto Club this year is asking the holiday party-giver to consider himself "First a Friend. Then a Host."

SPONSORS TRAINING FOR WORKERS

The contract for this project is being executed by Secretary Wirtz by Richard A. Reef, acting regional director of the Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (BAT) in Cleveland.

The workers will be trained in five occupations—molding machine operators maintenance, material handlers—plastics, molding machine operators and tryout and trimming press operators.

The company will be reimbursed $24,384 in MDT funds for instruction costs and related training expenses. It is estimated that about $85,956 in wages will be paid to trainees by the company during the OJT period.

Christmas Package Project for fifty patients of Cottage 21 at the Coldwater State Home and Training School was a reality through the tireless efforts of Mrs. Glen Bertke (above) with the help of her sister Mrs. Albert Meyer. The two had decided to fill the boxes to make the holidays just a bit more pleasant for the patients. Only eight in the cottage were able to go home for Christmas.

Others who joined in to help furnish food and assist with packing were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wolff and family, Mrs. Marie Gieske, Mrs. Ethel King, Mr. and Mrs. George Grossman Jr.

Paul Wolff, who is at the Coldwater Home is spending a week with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bertke. Monday the Bertke's entertained at a family luncheon, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wolff and family of Manchester, Mrs. Ethel King of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wolff of Wayne, Mrs. Albert Meyer and Mrs. Amanda Gaize.

Postal Notes

Mailboxes are protected by Federal law, and pranksters or vandals who damage or destroy the boxes and their contents may be in for a heavy fine or imprisonment, Postmaster Marvin Kirk warned today.

The Postmaster noted that some 25,000 mail receptacles were damaged or destroyed in the past year. It was also noted that 2,641 persons were arrested in the year up to June 30 for damaging or destroying mail receptacles.

Postmaster Kirk quoted from the laws: "Whoever wilfully or maliciously injures, tears down or destroys any letterbox or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the same or wilfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited therein, shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than three years."

This applies to all mail receptacles and the mail in them, even though the boxes are bought by citizens and are their personal property, Postmaster Kirk emphasized.

"Pranksters--and especially children who do not know any better--should be made to realize the seriousness of their actions," the Postmaster said. "A $1,000 fine or a term in jail is enough to take the humor out of any prank."

EMU GLEE CLUB BREAKS INTO PRISON

The Eastern Michigan University Glee Club last week broke into prison--with the aid of an inmate--to give a concert.

Club members had gone to the Federal Correction Institution at Milan to present a Christmas concert. They were being admitted to the prison through a passage-way which has electronically controlled doors at both ends. One door will not open until the other is closed.

As they went through the first door, it locked behind them, but the other door refused to open. Prison officials worked on the controls for a half-hour, but were unable to get the doors open.

Finally, an inmate who apparently has had some experience at this sort of thing--was summoned, and he was able to free the Glee Club, which gave its concert on time.

'RED' LAMB'S NEW KIDNEY DOING WELL

Melvin "Red" Lamb is reported doing well following a Christmas week operation in which he received a donated kidney. Home for Christmas, Melvin "Red" Lamb returned to the Cleveland Clinic Tuesday, Dec. 27 and received the present of his life from a boy between five and eight years old, who died of a brain tumor. One of his kidneys was donated to Lamb and the other to a patient in an adjoining room. Lamb's father, LeRoy Lamb of Manchester said it was too early to be sure but indications point to a successful operation. Lamb, whose troubles stemmed from strep throat infection when he was 8 years old, entered the Cleveland Clinic last April 22. His kidneys were removed in an operation May 27. Since that time he has lived with his wife in an apartment across from the clinic, returning there twice a week for treatment on the facility's artificial kidney machine. Lamb's name has been on the hospital's list of persons with both "A" and "O" type blood who were awaiting kidney donations. Persons with "O" blood are "Universal donors," as the type is compatible with all other types of blood. Many residents in Manchester, Chelsea and Saline rallied to Lamb's support during long months as he waited for a suitable donor. Gifts of blood to blood banks in his name and benefit dinners and dances swelled a fund set up in his name. These as well as contributions from individuals and organizations boosted the fund to more than $8,300. The Lambs reportedly used little of the fund while living in Cleveland awaiting the transplant. WILL MEET Sunday, Jan. 8th the Youth Membership Class will meet in the Pastor's Study at 9:45 A.M.

SANITARY LANDFILL MAY SOON BE REALITY

Village Council has not forgotten the problems of the village dump. According to president Gale Koebbe the possibility of a sanitary land fill site for the four townships--Manchester, Freedom, Bridgewater and Sharon is almost a reality. The Council members have met with the supervisors of the townships and at this time figures are being computed in the hopes of arriving at a satisfactory solution which would be agreeable to every one. The area in question is located very near the intersection of the townships involved. This will make it very accessible to everyone.

The land involved is a 10-acre parcel which can be leased for about $500 a year, the village president said. Such things as roads, attendants to be at the site when it is open are a few of the issues still to be ironed out, plus what it will cost on a per capita basis. The topographical survey has been taken, test borings have been made and are satisfactory. At this time council is waiting for the final approval of the State Health Department. Next Thursday several councilmen and president Koebbe are planning to attend a municipal league meeting at Hillsdale at which sanitary disposals and sanitary land fills will be discussed. These are problems which are plaguing many small communities in this area. John Althouse reported to council that at this time he does not have the full time police chief's post filled but has several prospects being considered at this time. Council has authorized that checks of $15, $10 and $5 be given to the top three homeowners for the best outdoor decorations for Christmas. In first place was Robert Armentrout, second place, Stanton Roesch and third place Claren Knaus Sr.
