Problems concerning the village were aired at the Tuesday meeting of the Manchester Planning Commission at the members listened to John Auning of Wilcoxon-Lehman and Associates evaluate some of the prime problems.

- He listed the following as major problems of concern: 1. Large number of two-family dwellings, 2. Scattered industry in the residential area, 3. General appearance of the Main Street above the first story of the buildings, and 4. The tight building program which has been employed along some of the streets blocking street expansion.

Wilcoxon-Lehman & Associates are the village planning consultants hired by Manchester to guide the long range planning program for the community.

Mr. Auning reported that the present land use study is finished. The Jaycees are planning to distribute a questionnaire to every home in the community in the near future. It is hoped that residents will cooperate and fill out the questionnaires so that the planners will get a true picture of just what the community wants and expects in the future expansion plans.

The next meeting of the local planning commission will be Oct. 10th.

There is no question about Allegro 11 being in the tradition of Ford Motor Company's Mustang and Cougar. A sporty, two-passenger experimental design roadster, it is a "second-generation" version of the original Allegro, a closed fastback vehicle shown for the first time in 1963. Built on a 99-inch wheelbase, Allegro 11 is 169.3 inches long and 66 inches wide, has a cowl height of only 33.25 inches and measures 41.25 inches from the ground to the top of its roll bar--more than eight inches lower than the over-all height of its predecessor and about 10 inches less than the Mustang and Cougar.

Revenue Bonds O.K'd for Water Improvements

Plans have been submitted to village council by the consulting engineers for the construction of water mains and other improvements to the water system here. Attorney General Frank J. Kelly, Chairman of the Municipal Finance Commission sent word that Commission has approved $5,000 of Water Supply and Waste Disposal System Revenue Bonds for Manchester. The bonds run until 1997. Bids for the construction work will be opened September 29.

Basically the plans call for the construction of an elevated water tank and two additional water tank extensions. On Hibbard at Main Street a main will be extended to the railroad grade and continue west along that property to the new well on Ann Arbor Street.

The pump from the abandoned well on North Macomb Street will replace the one at the East Main Street well. Another line will parallel the main running on Hibbard along the railroad grade and continue west to the Ann Arbor street new filtering tank. There the water pumped from the old well will be filtered before going into the water mains. The two filters at the Macomb Street pump will be moved and other added at the new site. The new filter will filter 150 gallons per minute or a total of 450 gallons per minute.

A new main with a river crossing from the new well will hook at Macomb with a connection to Washington which will pick up their dead end in the water main.

These are the plans but they will be finalized until the bids for the $275,000 project are opened on September 29. Municipal finance has approved the sale of the bonds. Bids for the sale of bonds will be opened at the regular council meeting on October 16.

With a new elevated water tank engineers say that the water pressure on Ann Arbor Hill will be about 50 pounds compared to 65 pounds of pressure in the low areas of the community. Further plans concerning the elevated tank are expected from the engineers.

County Wide Ambulance Service Approved

Washtenaw county will not be without ambulance service on October 1. Manchester Supervisor Clayton Parr, said he was glad that the problem has been ironed out--at least on a nine month-try-out with the Superior Ambulance Service of Wyandotte.

The county funeral directors decided nearly three months ago to go out of the ambulance business. Superior's cost is $93,333 for the nine month period.

Five local companies banded together to make an offer, but the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors didn't match the one offered by Superior.

Break-in Reported At High School

Manchester High School was broken into Tuesday night for the second time since school convened.

According to Police Chief, Bill Wilson, $30 in cash was taken from the superintendent's office and damage was estimated at about $250 in the school book store and the superintendent's office.

The police chief says he has some good leads and "it's just a matter of time until they are caught."

The first break-in was on the opening day of school.

CAMP SO-BER SAYS 'THANKS'

Camp So-Ber held a chicken barbecue Sunday--according to none. This Brothers of the Brush Chapter was organized early in the Manchester Centennial and was probably the most active of any of the Chapters.

Included in the group were people from the Shaton-Freedom area. It was soon after that the Centennial Corporation realized that this group would play an active part in the summer long plans.

One of the most significant weekends, the July 4th holiday, was when Camp So-Ber members came to the front with a Farmers' Day Parade. They brought in antiquated farm machinery from all over the area.

Many people were involved--including some from out of town. Camp So-Ber members wanted to say "thanks." They did. Last Sunday these busy people, mostly farmers, showed their appreciation to those who helped them.

They were guests of Camp So-Ber at a chicken broil which was a miniature Manchester Broil--except there were many trimmings as only the excellent cooks of the Camp So-Ber members could congeal up.

There was everything from scalloped potatoes, salads of all sorts, relishes and cakes of all kinds including hickory nut. Name it--they had it.

It was a family affair and each family brought chickens along with dishes to pass. Early in the morning a work crew set up the gifts. They had had plenty of practice in the past fourteen years. By one o'clock the plump chicken halves were done to a Manchester style. cont. page 8

School Addition Dedication Slated For Sunday

Durward B. Varner, chancellor of Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan will deliver the dedication address Sunday at 3 p. m. at the Manchester High School addition.

The dedication and open house will take place from 2 to 5 p. m. at the East Main Street location. The Manchester PTAs will serve refreshments during the open house.

The High School Band will play under the direction of Robert C. Sortor and guests will be introduced by Supt. of Schools, Robert D. Swartz. Chester C. Kosicki, High School Principal will introduce the faculty.

Architect Edward Jennings will present the building which will be accepted by Luther C. Klager, president of the Manchester School Board. The Manchester High School Varsity Choir will be directed by Roger Morrison.

The Manchester Public School District approved the $520,000 addition to the High School on December 16, 1965. Construction was started in August 1966 and completed in June of 1967.

The building expansion provided the district with a new high school library, a new music room, five additional classrooms, a large study auditorium, two new science laboratories, an enlarged shower and locker facilities ample corridor space with 600 lockers and new administration offices. The present high school building will now accommodate 600 students at maximum capacity.

The architect was Louis C. Kingscott & Associates, Inc. of Kalamazoo and the major contractors were: Cunningham Construction Co., Tumens Electric Service and Spartan Plumbing & Heating.

WELCOME SWEET SPRINGTIME! The crocus is usually associated with the early spring. But the crocus at the Manchester Township Library switches the seasons. Instead of peeking through a winter covering of leaves at the first sign of spring the library variety pops up after the first leaves drop in the fall.

The crocus, a member of the iris family, is a most delicate shade of orchid. The two beds with hundreds of blossoms receive no special care. But they never disappoint those who watch for them to appear.

Miss Jane Palmer, retired librarian, says that the first bulbs were planted by the wife of Dr. James A. Lynch on the south side of her new home--built in 1867 in a park area once owned by Major John Gilbert.

The house was sold in 1934 to become the Manchester Township Library. After Miss Palmer became librarian she moved some of the bulbs around to the rear of the library and this accounts for the two beds. The crocus have every right to be especially lovely this year, they too, are celebrating a centennial--along with Manchester. cont. page 8

And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety armrests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

WEIRD VOODOO PLANTS ADD VARIETY

Marie Schneider

A Manchester man's hobby is raising flowers. From early spring until the snow covers the ground, Kern has flowers growing in ornamental arrangements in his yard. Some are commonplace and others are very unusual.

One of those which falls into the last category is the Voodoo plant or Sacred Lily of India.

A row of these umbrella-like plants borders one of the flower gardens now. He says that sometimes motorists stop their cars and inquire about them and what they are.

This could be expected for there are very few in the United States.

The plant grows from a bulb and no blossom while it grows in the ground but blooms early in the spring from the bulb without the aid of soil or water.

Community Chest Drive to Start Next Week

Manchester United Community and Red Cross Drive will be underway next week when Irvin Gill and her team of collectors will begin contact with businessmen in the area.

The United Fund Kidney Foundation is of special interest to Manchester people. The break through in the aid they can give their patients this year is the result of years of research which contributors have helped with.

The Manchester Blood Club is one of the vital links in the chain of life. Ninety people in the area gave blood to the club and many others offered to meet the need last spring.

Now is the time for those who cannot give blood to share the cost of this community service.

This is one of the dozen things the Red Cross does locally to help, not to mention the national and international phase of its charter with the United States government.

Each agency has a thrilling story of service to someone dearly loved--now is the time to "Be BIG enough to give a LITTLE more."

The Huron Valley Council of Cooperative Nurseries' Fall Conference will be held at the Ann Arbor High School on September 30.

This includes some 26 members involving nurseries in several communities--Manchester, Chelsea, Milan, Plymouth, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Dundee, Monroe, Saline, South Lyon, Whitmore Lake and Hamburg.

Conference Co-chairmen are Mrs. Robert Horwood of Plymouth and Mrs. John Sheard of Ypsilanti. Mrs. Richard Kuntz of Manchester is publications chairman.

The purpose of the conference is to give parents, teachers, school administrators and other interested persons a chance to share views on current programs and approaches in order to enhance the lives of young children and their families of today.

In Manchester Nursery School sessions begin October 3 at the Emanuel Church Hall with Mrs. Paul Boehler as the teacher.

To enroll children call Mrs. David Little at 428-8153 or Mrs. Laurin Bertke at 428-8134.

The nursery is sponsoring a Tupperware demonstration at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 5 at the Emanuel Church hall. The public is invited.

This is the 5th year for the local Nursery School and the program can accommodate 20 children from three years to school age.

than two weeks. The Sacred Lily of India is a long stalked affair. It is stubbed green with a huge dark maroon flower. The color of the stalk often gives it the nickname of "snake plant."

Technically it is named amorphophallus-spec-terveri. Some think the plant is frightening because of the uncanny way it grows and blossoms. There is a record of one possessor who really "panicked" when the bloom shot up in the air.

The plant reportedly originated in what is now South-Vietnam in southeast Asia and was brought to England in 1871.

Benefit Smorgasbord To Aid Roger Hill Family

Methodist men here are planning a benefit smorgasbord to help a former Manchester man and his family.

The Roger E. Hills of 2397 Carpenter Road, Pittsfield Township must move to Arizona before winter sets in--if they are to assure the health of their young son Tommy. The other children are Kevin, 2, and Vicki Jean, 3. Hill needs a job when he gets to Arizona.

The Methodist men rallied to help the former member of the church when they heard of his plight. The public smorgasbord will start at 5 p.m. until all are served on Saturday, October 7 in the church hall.

While many Michiganders look forward to winter and snow and enjoy watching winter's escapades this family hopes to be far away. If they don't leave, Tommy may not see another spring.

Tommy is about five months old and when the weather is bright and warm he seems to be pretty much like other children his age. But cold, damp weather might bring the youngster's life to a sudden end.

Tommy, like his 28-year-old father and two-year-old brother Kevin has a respiratory ailment called bronchiectasis.

According to his aunt, Mrs. Eugene Walter of Manchester, both of little Tommy's lungs are infected. The affliction is a type of fungus growth which prospers in cold, damp climates but is arrested in warm dry climates.

So the Hills are looking forward to going to Arizona to get into the climate which may save Tommy's life.

A year ago in July, Roger Hill had about 70 per cent of his right lung removed. This is a way that the disease can be checked. But such an operation won't help Tommy--both of his lungs are affected.

Rev. Oscar Cooper of the Manchester Methodist Church is negotiating with another former Manchester resident who lives in Arizona to see if he can help obtain work for Hill. Since his operation last year, Hill has been unemployed. Aid to Dependent Children's Program is helping with the family income.

Before his operation, Hill was employed at the Ford assembly plant and later gained experience in office work, including bookkeeping, general business and typing. He worked as a hospital orderly and did sales and stock work at a department store.

FAIR BOARD EVALUATES '67 FAIR

Manchester Fair Board officers met to evaluate the reports of the Community Fair.

"Without question," said Fair Board President, Ted Stautz, "it was the largest to date. Several factors entered into the picture. First, it was a day longer than usual. This was because of the Centennial Day Celebration. Then, too, there were more entries in farm produce, vegetables, grains, home economics and flower displays. The only department down was the antique display."

Fair Board officers reported that the gate was above other years--and of course the weather--cont. page 9

Schaffer, Mrs. Tom Walton, Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Mrs. Douglas Higgins, Mrs. Earl Koebbe, Mrs. James Pratt, Mrs. Norman Higgins, Mrs. Robert Swartz, Mrs. Ronald Jenter and Mrs. Fred Leeman.

The Canteen workers were: Mrs. Earl Alber, Mrs. Robert Clark and Mrs. Harold Alexander.

The local volunteers usually work at several out of area Bloodmobiles per year as well as the Manchester clinic.

Manchester is scheduled to have another clinic on March 8, 1968. The present clinic in the Club bank is 38 pints and if another clinic is needed a cancellation date will be picked up in late October or early November.
