

Intermediate School District Growing Fast

The Washtenaw County Intermediate School District is believed to be one of the fastest growing units of government in the area. During the 1966-67 fiscal year plans went along smoothly for a new $720,000 school service center in Scio Township.

The intermediate district rented 7,200 square feet in the Benz Building in Ann Arbor but it outgrew the area when it nearly doubled the number of employees. Programs were extended and added in special and general education so that it was necessary to lease an additional 7,000 square feet in the Benz Building.

It is expected, according to School Supt. Nick A. Ianni, that it won't be necessary to add so many more programs but to refine those which have been started. The district has a comprehensive special education program that includes services for the homebound, physically handicapped and vocational rehabilitation and visiting teachers programs.

Plans for the operation of the Juvenile Detention School and the County Trainable School got underway for the first time during this last fiscal year. Additional personnel to all of the programs was added so as to reach and service more handicapped children in Washtenaw.

There are three new programs, all designed to serve the 10 local districts in the county. These include a data processing center, an instructional materials center and department of instruction.

The Intermediate School District also combined with the community college to conduct a survey relative to vocational education possibilities for high school students, and acted as the delegates for Project Headstart.

During the past year the Intermediate District approved its first commitment to tax the electorate for monies to build a new administration and service center building. This resulted in a $720,000 bond issue.

The $720,000 in bonds represented the Intermediate District's use of special bonding power granted by state legislature.

The state law provides that an intermediate school district can levy up to one mill on every dollar of the intermediate school district's equalized valuation simply by resolution. The resolution was adopted last Nov. 15.

The new facility which the funds will finance will be located on a 35-acre site in Scio Township near the corner of Wagner and Scio Church Road and will be completed in 1971. Looking ahead the Superintendent hopes for bonding out some of the programs now in a way rather than more expansion.

Call 769-2300

AMBULANCE SERVICE

Any one desiring the services of the Superior Ambulance can receive them by calling 769-2300 according to Clayton Parr, Manchester Supervisor. He advised that anyone who finds this number they should call the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department, which maintains a direct line with Superior.

A spokesman for Superior said helicopter rescue service will operate out of Westland, and will be able to reach any point in Washtenaw County in 12 minutes from the time notification is received.

Phil Nelson, manager of operations for Superior, announced the location at which ambulances will be stationed. They are at 2000 Ecorse Road in Ypsilanti Township, on Michigan Avenue at Saline, at University Micro-Films on Zeeb Road at I-94, at the municipal building in Chelsea and at the sheriff's garage in Ann Arbor. Nelson said the fifth location, in Ann Arbor may be a temporary one.

In every area the phone number is the same: 769-2300.

COMMUNITY CHEST BUDGET BREAKDOWN

The Manchester Community Chest Budget for this year totals $18,504. In a break-down The American Red Cross is the largest recipient and receives $3,900.

Manchester Recreation will receive $3,000 and Michigan United Fund (35 agencies) is in line for $2,679. Portage Trails Council of Boy Scouts will receive $1,100.

The Manchester School Band is budgeted to get $300, Manchester Student Council $200 and the Yearbook $250.

The Salvation Army will receive $775 and Cystic Fibrosis $425.

Coming in for $150 each are: The Clovers, Michigan Children's Aid, Catholic Social Services and Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children. Huron Valley Child Guidance is slated for $75; Manchester Family Service, $100; and Manchester MOM's Club and Pleasant Lake School each $50.

WOM CLUB NEEDS ADDRESS OF SERVICEMEN

Manchester MOM's Club needs the addresses of men in service so they can remember the service men at Christmas time. These include those in service from the townships: Sharon, Manchester, Bridgewater and Freedom. Mrs. Roy Lowery is the contact woman. Her phone number is 428-5413. Packages for overseas distribution must be in the mail by November 1st. The sooner these addresses can be either phoned or sent to her the better.

GAS STOLEN

Farmers in the area are getting pretty annoyed because of robberies involving gas taken from private gas pumps. Robert Cole of 55018 Sharon Hollow Road reported that the lock on his gas tank was broken last Thursday night and gas taken. Cole figured that the intruders would return and he would be ready for them.

Sunday night he caught 3 at the gas tank again. He ordered them to halt, according to police chief, Bill Wilson. When they

Radishes Grown on Farm near Manchester Harvested by the Tons

-by Marie Schneider

Did you ever stop to consider that the gay little bag of bright red radishes might have a story to tell you if they could?

They might have first peeked through the ground on a radish farm eight miles north of Manchester. Next time you shop take notice. See if the white print on the cellophane bag reads, "George Weasel, Inc."

Radishes are one of the few crops which can be harvested, and replanted about every four weeks.

According to Mr. Weasel, he begins the Michigan operation in May when the first radish seed arrive at his 250 acre project. He leases land on Esch road from Tom Walton. Weasel said,

"Although I've been in the radish business since 1950, until very recently I've been disappointed with the seed planters manufactured in this country."

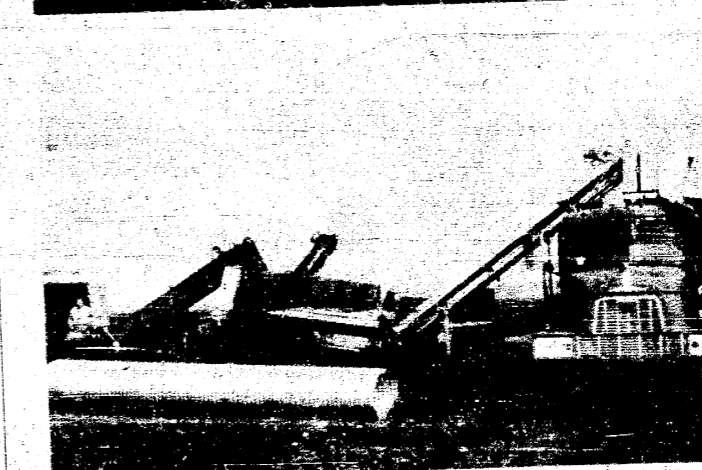

At this time he is using a planter imported from England which can plant 80 acres of radishes a day. It takes 15 pounds of seed to the acre and this year radish seed hit a long-time low of 70 cents a pound.

The radish specialist says that he had operations in Lemington, Ontario, Canada for five years before coming to Michigan. In fact, he says that about five years of continually planting radishes in any area is enough. From that time they will not produce very well and he said scientists have been unable to determine just what is removed from the soil.

He mentioned that mint reacts in the same manner. Weasel plans to finish up the Michigan operation in a couple of weeks or so—depending on the weather. The cool weather has retarded the production in recent weeks.

In September he started planting near Belle Glade, Florida where his winter radish farm program of 5,000 acres does a land office business in the glades. He explained that Michigan is not ideally suited to radish production. Michigan is about 800 feet above sea level. Florida is at sea level. He believes that radishes must have a water table. The sun dries out the Michigan land and "we have to depend on rainfall. This past summer it has not been very plentiful. Ohio is 700 feet above sea level—so that is somewhat better."

Automation has cut down on labor in this field. Where he once employed over 2,000 people with the new modernized equipment he can work the same number of acres with 100 employees.

After the heavy rain the other day the muck, single track road leading back to the operation didn't appear very favorable. Weasel and his employee had no problem getting there. They flew in from McClure, Ohio, headquarters for his business. In fact Weasel always flies. He doesn't have time any other way. His white, twin Cessna Sky Night lands on gravel on a ditch bank across the fields. He also owns a Laer Star. This 12-ton plane carries 1,400 gallons of fuel. He uses the Laer Star commuting to Florida.

He wastes no time and almost before you can wink your eyes he's off across the field in the lumbering giant 12-row harvester. The machine, which he and his men built, pulls a half ton a minute. Time plays an important part, at about two o'clock on a warm day the radish tops start to wilt down and then the harvester stops work.

When Weasel winds up his harvesting for the year, the giant machine will have a special permit to lumber along the highway during the daylight hours to Parnysberg, Ohio. From there it will be shipped by rail to the Florida radish farms. Weasel is building a third machine like the one used here. Each is capable of pulling and topping a half

Jaycees To Deliver Questionnaires

The local Jaycees will be the distributors for questionnaires on Thursday evening in a planning survey study of the village.

Gale Koebbe and Harry Macomber, Planning Commission members and also members of the Jaycees are in charge of distribution. They will be ably assisted by all of the membership.

The village of Manchester Planning Commission is undertaking a three year program of study and proposals for the future development of the village.

In order to obtain citizens' opinions and feelings regarding various aspects of the area, they are asking aid by completing the questionnaire, sealing it with the return address on the outside: Villian-Lehman & Associates, Inc., Southfield, Michigan. No postage is necessary and the answers to the questions will be tabulated.

Through this survey a wide range of local thinking will be assembled—thinking which could be overlooked in the normal course of data collection. Everyone will have an opportunity to express themselves on a wide range of subjects concerning existing and future development in the village. It is the thinking of the committee that the collective answers will be beneficial as a stimulus to both the consultants and the Planning Commission in arriving at the best possible planning for Manchester.

Some of the questions are: What major attraction induced you to become a resident of Manchester? If a native, what induced you to stay? What physical feature or area in the village do you consider least attractive? Which one single feature represents the community's greatest asset? Should the village be incorporated? Why? Adequacy of business development in the community? Does the village need additional fire protection, police protection, parks and recreation, schools?

There are also blanks for many additional comments and suggestions including—What do you see as the biggest immediate problem?

It is hoped that everyone will give consideration to the questions and return the filled out questionnaire for evaluation.

JAYCEE RIVER CLEAN-UP SLATED

The Manchester Jaycees are beginning their campaigning for a river clean-up Sunday, October 15. The starting time is 1 p.m. at the Main Street bridge.

Sunday has been selected because it is the only time that some of the equipment which will be used is available.

There is the problem of manpower on work days. This is a charitable work which can do much to enhance the appearance of the community. The Raisin River is not a thing of beauty when it is full of dead trees, stumps and debris. The Jaycees who planned the event, point out the afternoon hour will not conflict with any church service in the area and the work here is by no means confined to Jaycee membership. Manchester belongs to the people who call it "home" and everyone should be actively taking pride in improving the continued on page 8

Time on our hands . . .

If you see smoke coming from the building at 111 E. Main, don't be alarmed. There is no fire, it's just us trying to get that Centennial Book published in between regular job printing and publishing the Enterprise.

Marie Schneider has written the history for the book and we have piles and piles of pictures both old and many new ones we took this summer. Right now we're typing the manuscript. The book will contain a hundred pages with about fifty of them being pictures.

If you're looking for someone to blame for the book not being out . . . we're it. We tried working seven days a week and 13 or 14 hours a day, but couldn't take the pace. So, we'll use as our excuse, "The book will be well worth the wait." Check the Enterprise weekly for a progress report.

While we're on the subject of the Centennial, we would like to thank everyone for the big response we had for our costume and beard judging contests. We think the entire centennial was a big success. We're sure everyone has some fond memories and pictures that they will cherish for years to come. We took many pictures during the summer and these will be shared with everyone in the centennial book.

We proved again that as a town, Manchester can do anything it puts its mind to.

The "Wheeler Dealers"

We hear many comments about "big government" today. When we as ordinary citizens get a glimpse of how complex our government really is, we tend to shudder, turn our backs and hope for the best.

While we admit that a common sense man who called black - black and white - white, would be a welcome sight, we're not convinced that there is too much government.

Our forefathers set up a simple, yet direct system of government. Laws had to be added and changed to grow with the country. This great complex wasn't created in a day by one man. It took years of growing steadily to meet the ever increasing demands of thousands of people.

We don't see our present problems as being the fault of too much government. We think the blame lies in running today's government with fifty year old political ideas.

The wheeler, dealer, favor swapping politician should be a thing of the past. Instead they are the prominent figures in our present government. Even our President's history has been one of wine and dine; you do this and I'll return the favor, etc. Somewhere along the line people have come to expect that this is what a politician should be.

We haven't as yet decided who we're going to back in '68, but we sure would like to see a man get president who called a spade a spade and firmly believed government could be run like a business . . . red figures matching or below black ones on the profit and loss sheet. We don't advocate more government nor less, but we think there is unlimited room for improvement in the management of our government.

AREA HERD HAS HIGH PRODUCTION

Lifetime milk and butterfat production levels for Registered Holstein cows in this area have been announced by Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The individual animals have been credited with career production totals exceeding 100,000 lbs. of milk under official testing supervision.

Because of current replacement heifer rearing and purchase costs, cows that stay in the herd longer and achieve high lifetime production have proven to be more profitable. The Holstein Association has more than 26, - 800 cows on file that have attained the 50-ton production milestone.

Local Holstein breeders and their long-time producers reported by the organization include:

SOIL SURVEY URGED FOR WASHTENAW COUNTY

Washtenaw and Wayne are the only counties in southeastern Michigan which have not had or started surveys for a detailed soil survey. This is now under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors. The survey which would be made by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service is expected to cost $265,640 of which $127,330 would be paid by the county. Completion of the survey would take six years, according to Donald R. Johnson, county extension director. It would replace a 1930 survey which, with new knowledge of soils and new techniques, is outdated and inadequate, he said. Johnson described the soil survey as "a scientific detailed study of soil characteristics" which will be accurate to within one acre. Experts can now identify 400 types of soils while in 1930 they used only 25 types. The information gained will be used in planning for highways, industrial location, health and many other uses. "For planning, we need to know the limits of the land," Johnson told the supervisors. In addition, public agencies will be able to adapt the knowledge to their use and better serve the public, he said. Monroe County is being surveyed now. Field mapping would take three years from the fall of 1968, and cartographic work would be another three years, Johnson said. The cost of the survey is 58 cents per acre, with the total county acreage being 458,000. The proposed division of costs is $127,330 to be paid by the county, $100,250 by the Soil Conservation Service and $38,000 by the Michigan State Agricultural Experiment Station. The county's payments would be in six annual installments, the first of them to be $17,396, and the rest to be $21,896. No decision is likely before October when the county adopts its 1968 budget.

The interest rate on any one bond shall be at one rate only and represented by one interest coupon for each coupon period, and all bonds maturing in the same year must carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at time of delivery.

- Said bonds will mature serially as follows:

$ 40,000.00 on May 1 of each of the years 1994, 1995 and 1996.

Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government.

Bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1968 to 1979, inclusive, are not subject to prior redemption.

The right is reserved of redeeming bonds maturing in the years 1980 to 1996, inclusive, at the option of the district, in inverse numerical order on any interest payment date on or after May, 1979, at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium as follows:

- 3% on each bond called for redemption prior to May 1, 1982;
2-1/2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1982, but prior to May 1, 1985;
2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1985, but prior to May 1, 1988;
1-1/2% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1988, but prior to May 1, 1991;
1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1991, but prior to May 1, 1993;
1/2 or 1% on each bond called for redemption on or after May 1, 1993, but prior to May 1, 1995.
No premium on bonds called for redemption on or after May 1, 1995.

Notice of redemption shall be given to the holders of bonds to be redeemed by publication of such notice not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the State of Michigan, which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the School District has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of erecting, furnishing, and equipping a new elementary schoolhouse; constructing and equipping playgrounds; acquiring additional land for site purposes; and developing and improving sites.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1967, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school District. Each bidder shall state in his bid the interest cost to the School District, computed in the manner above specified. No proposal for the purchase of less than all the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

The bonds are to be issued pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 12, Part II, Act 269, Public Acts of Michigan, 1955, and the School District is authorized and required by law to levy upon all taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay these bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

United Fund Kickoff Dinner Slated For October 11

Workers for Manchester United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive will meet at a kickoff dinner at St. Mary's Catholic church hall, at 7 p.m., Wednesday, October 11. The dinner is sponsored by Hoover Ball & Bearing Company, Manchester Jaycees and Manchester Optimists. The interest of these three community leaders in this civic project is greatly appreciated by the Community Chest Board, Edward Galloway announced.

In order to distribute hits and most of all pertinent information regarding the local drive, it is most important that every solicitor and campaign worker attend the dinner. Reservations must be kept as received by October 7.

Edward Galloway, president of the Community Chest, will welcome the workers and introduce Joseph Fitzgerald, campaign manager. He will outline this year's drive briefly and present Ronald Bontsema and W. de St. Aubin. Mr. Bontsema represents the United Fund from Lansing. United fund is composed of 35 agencies, selected and budgeted by a state-wide budget review committee. Solicitors will have a first hand opportunity to find out how the United Fund serves this area by asking their own questions.

Mr. St. Aubin, director of the Washtenaw County Chapter of the American Red Cross, will be on hand to clarify any questions about the Red Cross Role in the present military involvement as well as in national disaster and local assistance given by the Red Cross.

Robert Swartz, superintendent of Manchester Public School System will be the speaker for the occasion. His topic "From the Chin Up" is a talk on -personality helps. Mrs. Louis Vogel will be back this year to explain the kits and send solicitors off cheerfully to their task of collecting $13,504 for 51 agencies. The dinner will be prepared by St. Mary's Altar Society, chairmaned by Mrs. William Schwab. It is to be served at 7:00 p.m. sharp.

Rural and village house-to-house solicitation will begin Oct. 12. It is expected that the Businessmen's Division, Manchester Public School and Industrial Division will have preliminary reports the night of the dinner. The campaign will continue through the month of October.

CENTENNIAL FARM

A farm owned by Walter W. Hoenes of Sheridan Road, five miles south of Manchester, has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission. The farm, located in Manchester Township, Washtenaw County, has been in the possession of the family since 1866. It was originally purchased on July 2, 1866 by Ludwig Hoenes, grandfather of the present owner, from John Betz. The original farm had 40 acres. Later, 60 more acres were added. The oldest part of the house has a brick stone foundation with hewn logs on top. After the Hoenes family acquired the farm house, they added several more rooms and a large utility room. Walter Hoenes said his father, Lewis, used to find arrow heads on the land but he never found one. However, he did find a stone which has been fashioned to make some kind of a tool which the Indians used. Hoenes said he threw it out of a field and then noticed that when it fell against another stone, it had an unusual clanging sound. He investigated and scraped off the dirt to find that it was not an ordinary stone. His grandfather used to tell of watching the Indians on the farm as they followed along the creek which ran through it. He would warn his family to be careful and noted that "the most noisy Indians are the friendly ones but watch out for the quiet ones." Hoenes said that according to old records there was once a lake and a saw mill on the property. His father was the highway commissioner in 1886 and among his papers he found an order to pay G. E. Smith 75 cents for shoveling snow for two and a half hours.

Gas Stolen

continued from page 1 failed to heed the warning he fired at the car. Officers arrived and John Perry, 19, and Elmer Sharp, 23, of City Rd., were apprehended. Another teenager involved is being sought. A similar incident occurred Friday night on Bethel Church Rd. and 4 teenagers have been turned over to juvenile court.

Gale Lon Matteson, 17, of Jackson pleaded guilty when he appeared before Judge Stanton Roesch. The charge was a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages. He paid a $50 fine.

River Cleanup . . .

TEEN MEETING SEPTEMBER 20 The third meeting of the Manchester teens was called to order Wednesday September 20 at 7:30. There were approximately 70 present.

Mr. Wilson reported that there has been no trouble from any of the kids who were at the meetings and congratulated them on their good behavior. Judge Francis L. O'Brien and Mr. George Foltz, director of Juvenile Court were the speakers. They congratulated the kids for starting to get the teen club project going. They also said nothing like this has been tried in Washtenaw County. They said they would help us in any way they could. Mr. Wilson said that there is property available on which we could build a teen center.

President, Dave Osburn, spoke about the clothing regulations in school. It has been agreed that Mr. Wilson, the teen committee and the school board will meet to discuss the problem.

A dance is being planned for some time in November. Ray Clouse said he is willing to pay $60.00 for a band and disc jockey. The admission tickets will be $1.00 and the money made will go toward a building fund for the teen center.

Mr. Wilson also asked for some of the kids to help decorate the Sportsman's Club for the policemen's Ball on October 21. It was agreed to and will be discussed at the next meeting. It has been decided that we will use the high school gym for roller skating on Saturday afternoons and Sundays. There will be a charge of 25c to keep the skates up.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, October 4, at 7:30. The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 by Mr. Bill Wilson, Respectfully submitted, The Elements

Contracts for Water Improvements Set at Special Council Meeting

Three separate contracts were awarded Monday night at a special council meeting. The bids were called to review the bids received for work on three separate parts of the water system. John M. Holland of McNamee and Scoble, consulting engineers, presented the bids and a recommendation that the lowest bid be accepted in all three cases. The work to be done included installing a new 12 inch water pipe, moving the existing filters from the old well and installing a new 300,000 gallon water tower. The engineers estimated cost of all three projects was $203,275.75. As this was considerably lower than the estimated cost, the engineers felt they would stay well within the $275,000 worth of bonds approved for the project. Still to be bid on is a new building at the well site on Ann Arbor Hill. Plans were not completed at Monday's meeting, but preliminary drawing was shown. It was hoped that some local contractors would bid on this building as it is not a large enough project to interest outside construction firms.

Life Long Resident Recalls Early Days of Manchester

Marie Schneider Until the last couple of years Percy Kelly spent all of his ninety years in the Manchester area. For the past several weeks he has been a regular visitor along Main Street while staying out at his home at 14890 Ely Road. Much repair work is going on at the farm prior to renting the place. Kelly's left Manchester about 100 years ago after Mrs. Kelly, the former Mabel English, fell and broke her hip. Now, while she is hospitalized, Mr. Kelly is living with a daughter, Mrs. Samuel (Alwilda) Seyfried and her family at Gallien. Mr. Kelly was born in Manchester Township on November 12, 1876. He remembers the community when it was young. He regrets being unable to be there for the centennial events the last summer but enjoys reading about them. Kelly lived in the hilly Iron Creek area. "Many changes have taken place in farming since I was young and doing farming," the soft spoken man said. "Grandfather had one horse and a neighbor who operated a sawmill also had one. We borrowed theirs. It was the custom," Mr. Kelly said. Young Percy was told to take the "team" and plow a sidehill in preparation to planting buckwheat. The plow tipped and the handles literally jumped over his head. He managed to hang onto the reins but remembers how scared he was. Another neighbor, Herb Hunt cradled the grain which was later tied close to the heads and stood in shocks. "Some of the hills we worked were pretty steep. I can remember tying one wheel so it wouldn't turn. We did this to slow down the wagon so the horse could pull it down the hill," Kelly said. During the centennial celebration here there was a flailing demonstration. Percy Kelly has vivid recollections of the hard work connected with flailing grain. He remembers that farmers used a conveyor to carry straw to the stack on a belt instead of blowing it. "Quite often I found myself up on the straw stack leveling off the straw. That was a dirty job," Kelly said.
