TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

Question and Answer Column
This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. International Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - I just started my first job. How many exemptions should I claim for withholding purposes? I'd rather get a refund than have more taxes to pay next year.
A. If you claim no exemptions on your withholding certificates then more will be withheld from your paycheck than if you claim one exemption for your cont. lower right col.

E. G. MANN MILL INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT AT BRIDGEWATER

Earl and Glen Mann in front of the new Grain Dryer and Storage Bin.

E. G. Mann & Sons, Inc. of Manchester and Bridgewater have installed a new 250 bushel Grain Dryer at their mill in Bridgewater. They also added 14,000 bushels of extra storage capacity, new elevator legs, a new cleaner and a new 1,000 bushel corn sheller.
The new dryer is ready for operation and is expected to get heavy use as soon as the corn harvest starts.
This new equipment will enable the elevator to give faster and better service to their many customers in the Manchester and Saline area.

the moon, the first in Michigan since 1964.

Robert Victor, assistant staff astronomer at Michigan State University's Abrams Planetarium, says that the lunar eclipse will begin at 4:25 a.m. (EDT) Wednesday, October 18. That's when the moon begins to enter the umbra, or inner dark central portion of the earth's shadow.
The shadow will cover half the moon at about 5 a.m., and the total eclipse will begin at 5:45 a.m., Victor says.

The total eclipse will end at the left edge of the moon emerges from the shadow at 6:46 a.m. Victor notes that the final stage of the eclipse will be interrupted at 8:01, when the moon sets.

self. Note that if you do not claim all exemptions you are entitled to on the withholding certificates filed with your employer, you have not forfeited your right to claim them at a later date. You can, and should, claim all the exemptions you are entitled to on your income tax return.
Q - My cleaning woman doesn't have a Social Security number. Should I just leave that information out when I file the quarterly return on the wages I pay her?
A - No, a Social Security number is needed so that her earnings may be properly credited to her account. This will help make sure that she receives the Social Security benefits she is entitled to.

Application for a Social Security number should be made on form SS-5 available at local IRS and Social Security Administration offices.

Q - My income so far this year has been lower than I expected. Can I just forget about the next installment of my estimated tax or do I have to file an amended declaration?
A - If your tax liability appears to be greater or smaller than you originally estimated then an amended declaration should be filed. You will find the form for doing this printed on the bill for the third installment which is due Sept. 15. If you do not receive a quarterly bill, send a postcard to ask your local IRS office for a copy of Form 1040-ES (amended

AN EPOCH IN ENTERPRISE HISTORY

Newspaper Chalks Up 100 Years

By Marie Schneider

The Manchester Enterprise is celebrating its birthday. . . . 100 years. It was on October 17, 1867 that the first issue of the weekly rolled off the hand press. The printing shop was on the second floor back room above what is now Brown's TV on East Main.
Starting the venture were George Spafford and Mat Blosser. They and Charles Spafford had been employed at the Tecumseh Herald.
Spafford and Blosser decided to set up shop in Manchester and enlisted help of friends to organize the Manchester Printing Co. George Spafford was the first editor-publisher.

A year later, November 26, 1868 at the age of 22 years, Mat Blosser purchased the shop and assumed entire control of the Manchester Enterprise. He continued to be active until December 1939 and established a record of one person in the same printing business for 72 years.

Mat's parents, the Peter Blossers, arrived in the area from Lockport, New York in the fall of 1848 and settled in Tecumseh. When his parents moved to Manchester where he was employed at the Southern Washtenaw Mills, Mat didn't come. He remained with his grandparents in Tecumseh.

Later Mat's father left the mill operation and became affiliated with J. D. Van Duyn and J. A. Lynch in their druggist grocery shop. But in 1875 he lined his son in the printing business. He worked as the pressman and had charge of the mailing list and book bindery.

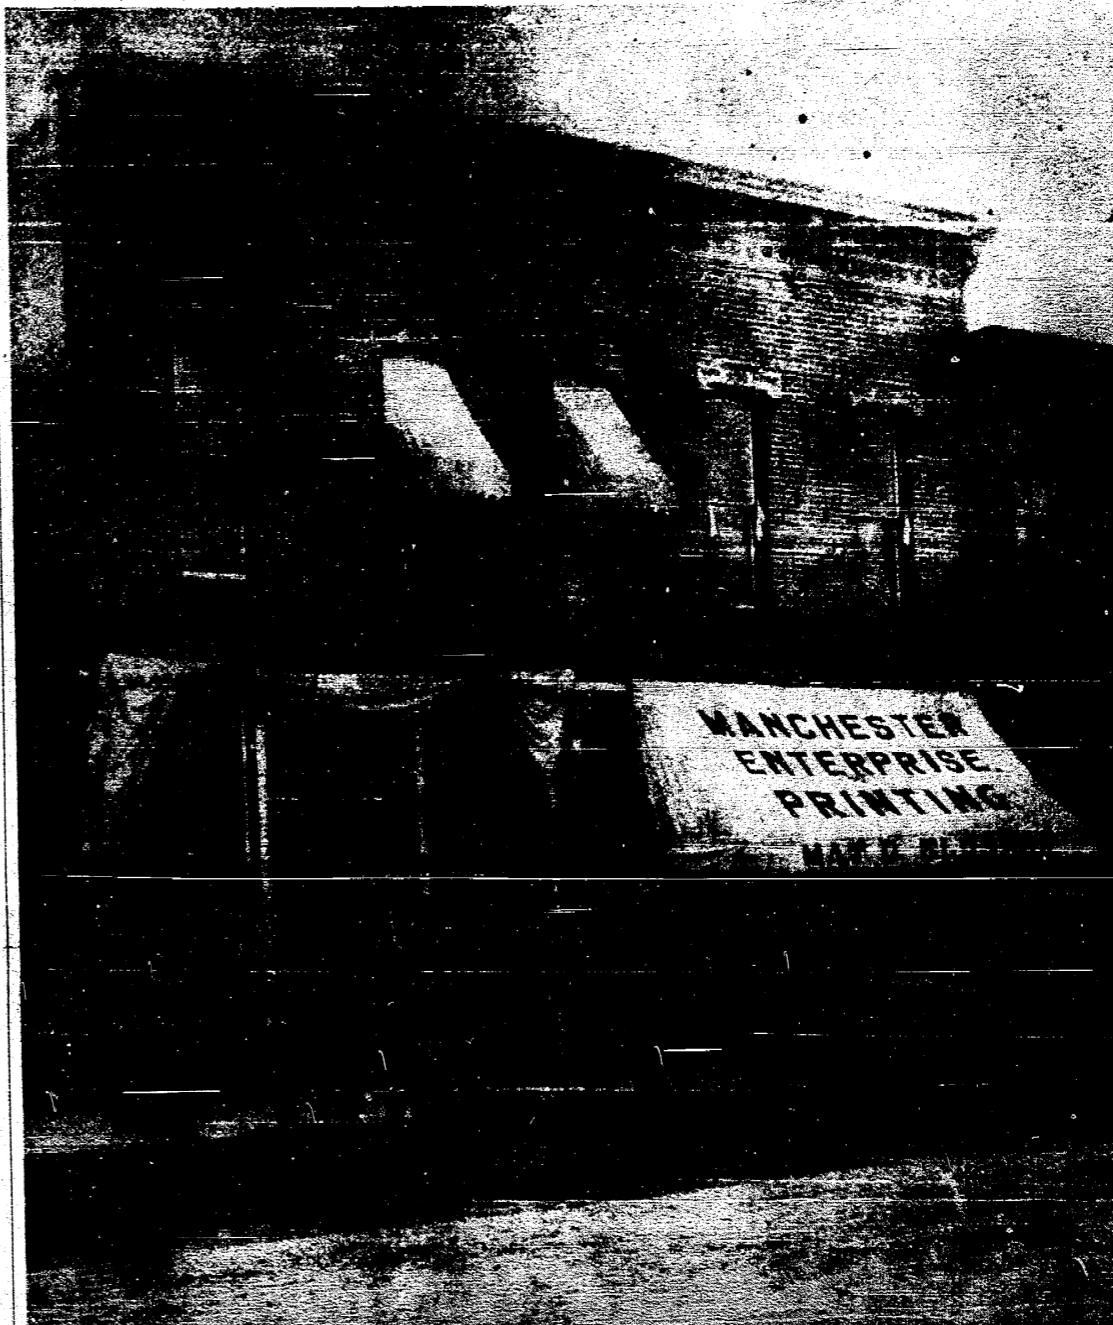

For some years they published German text book. It was printed in Chicago but the binding was done here.
In those days magazines were plentiful and families often had their copies bound for their libraries. Blosser were not exceptions and volumes of Century, Cosmopolitan and St. Nicholas were among those they bound for their home--along with files of the Enterprise.

The Blosser children had their special assignments. Fred started an early age and made this his life work. He was employed in newspaper offices in Jackson, Sioux City, Iowa and Seattle, Washington.

He returned to Manchester in 1878 when he was suffering from poor health. He moved to Arizona where he died a short time later. His father, still working at the mill, was 82 years at that time.

Mr. Blosser was one of the early members of the Michigan Press Association and was very active in it. In those years the association arranged some extensive trips both east and west. Reports of Mr. and Mrs. Blosser's trips from Seattle and California to the rugged coast of Maine were shared with their readers. He took in the world's fair in Philadelphia in 1876 and reported on the novel exhibition.

Mat Blosser made himself a name to those who lived here and out a welcoming hand to those who made Manchester their adoptive home. He was noted for his willingness to work to promote the best interests of the community.

His daughter, Margaret Blosser Burtless wrote a brief history of the Enterprise. She did this in 1952 for local librarian Miss Jane Palmer and in this recalled the early days of the paper.

As a small child she said she visited the paper when it was in its first location above the Baxter store, now Brown's TV. Her father printed the paper on a hand press. She wrote that she learned to hand set type at the age of 12. This she did in her spare time from classes in the Manchester schools.
After graduating from high school she was taken into the office as compositor and continued to work until 1900.

Daughter Marie also had her duties and when quite small she helped fold the papers on publication day. It was not uncommon to have villagers tease Mr. Blosser about "his homemade office force."
A few years later the equipment was moved to the second floor at the left of the stairway, in what was then the Goodyear building. It was later owned by the Arbieter Society and is now owned by the American Legion.

In 1904 Mr. Blosser purchased the building on the east side of the river on the south side of the street. The location was the home of the Manchester Enterprise until the George Kodas bought in 1959. For a time they printed in Clinton before moving next door to the old Enterprise location.

The paper was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macomber Sept. 6, 1967 and moved to Rymack Printing at 111 East Main Street. Like the man who first helped to start a paper here a century ago, Harry Macomber has overcome many obstacles in order to own the paper.
The Macombers are planning to hold open house a little later to give everyone a chance to see the presses and get a glimpse of their off-set shop.

It will be at that time too, that the Manchester Centennial Book, containing the history of Manchester will be made available to the public for the first time.

It is the firm belief of the staff that nothing could be more appropriate for the century old Manchester Enterprise to offer to everyone its newest publication telling about the history of the community. The book will also contain some of the best pictures available from the early history taken from the private collection of the late Arthur Jenter.

The book will contain Marie Schneider's history of Manchester which is presented to the Centennial Corporation as a gift by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hendley, Mr. Hendley is a former village president, active in community affairs and president of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester.

The book also contains pictures taken during the summer of the centennial celebration.

Certainly the weekly paper has played an important role in compiling an authentic history of the community. Mat Blosser worked for progress and improvement of Manchester and wasn't slow to state his views as can be pointed out in his editorials such as:
"Dec. 3, 1868 - New cross-walls! We notice that our city fathers have concluded that cross-walls are agreeable, especially in muddy weather and the marshes is busy laying same. This is a great improvement, long needed. It was almost impossible to find a crossing on a fine day as the streets were crowded with teams so that they obstructed all openings. Now we will be able to cross without danger of having our heads knocked off or getting in the mud."
"March 4, 1869 - Manchester needs a bank. Among other things we need a bank where a responsible citizen, farmer, manufacturer or mechanic might borrow money (with proper security) at a reasonable rate of interest say ten or twelve per cent--not a fraction above the latter."

Blosser was very active in the Masonic lodge. He died April 17, 1941. The next owner was H. C. Farley, now publisher of the Clinton Local. He sold to George Partee who kept the publication only a year when he sold to Mike Gallagher. Mike and his father, the late Myron Gallagher also purchased the Saline Observer and the Milan Leader. They were all printed at the Saline location. The next owner was Fred Giesel, whose father was with the Cincinnati Post. Frank Handy bought the three papers and continued to print them in Saline. Later he sold to John Stomen of Milan. He owned the paper only a short time before selling to Mr. and Mrs. Koda. It was their first experience in the newspaper field.

The date for the open house for the centennial paper in its new location has not been set, according to Mr. and Mrs. Macomber who are busy with their newest occupation--publishing the Thursday weekly along with their established line job work.

No Bids Received On Sale Of Bonds

November 6 is the date that the Manchester Council expects to open bids for the sale of $275,000 of Water Supply and Sewage Disposal Revenue bonds. The sale of the bonds was previously approved by the Municipal Finance Commission and will run until 1997.

It has been expected that there would be some bids at the Monday Council meeting--but there were none. This means that the bond issue will have to be re-advertised.

According to village president Gale Koebbe, if there are no bids a brokerage firm could be contacted to negotiate a bidding program. The lack of interested bidders retards the program.

Koebbe pointed out that the contracts for the work program have been let tentatively pending the sale of the bonds. These contracts are good for 60 days and this gives ample time for the re-advertising of the bonds.

The successful bidders on three separate parts of the water program which were approved by council at a special meeting are: Dunigan Brothers of Jackson for water main installation; Layne Northern of Lansing for filter removal and installation; and a third successful bidder was Pittsburgh-DesMoines of Chicago for erecting a new water tower. The contracts were awarded contingent to the sale of the bonds.

Cub Scouts to Hold Meeting

Cub master Jay Lantis is urgently requesting parents and prospective cub members to be present at the organizational meeting at 7 p.m. Monday, October 23 in the all-purpose room of the Nellie Ackerson School.

He hopes that everyone interested will be present at that time in order that all the boys will have a chance to bring the cub program and not miss any of the events planned for the year.

Lantis pointed out that all third grade boys are eligible for the cubbing program. The Web-lows are the older boys--through continued on page 8

Ye New Editor has His Say ...

On this the 100th Anniversary of the Manchester Enterprise it seems a good time to tell about myself as I hope to own this paper for the next 100 years. (would you believe 50?) To start with, I'll explain where the name "Rymack" came from. My name is Harry Macomber. The word Rymack is composed of the ry from Harry and the Mac from Macomber. My wife, Pat, made this up while we were deciding on a name for the print shop. After looking at the name in different styles of type I decided that it wasn't balanced so I added a k, for Rymack. I hope this will clear up the big mystery and cut down on the number of times I am called Mr. Rymack (Harry Rymack doesn't sound too bad.)

As for my history: I was born in 1940, on a farm on Pleasant Lake Road. We moved from here when I was two or three so I don't remember much from that time. My dad bought a farm between Dexter and Chelsea. My only memories there are, being chased by a big bunch of roosters and a mean old buck sheep. I started school there and I can remember singing "We Three Kings" at the Christmas Party. I also remember our class painted quart jars for our mother's Christmas present. I can remember that I couldn't wait for all the different colors of paint to dry, so mine all ran together. I can't recall what my mother said when I gave it to her, but she probably thought it was original anyway. From there we moved to my Grandfather's farm which my dad purchased in 1946. This was located on Park Road, four miles west of Ann Arbor. I didn't start school right away and I can remember very well one of the first things that happened. I had gone out to the barn to watch dad threshing wheat. I was walking around on the barn hill when I decided to pull out a big pig weed growing there. I pulled it out and a big bumblebee flew out and up my pant-leg. I was wearing the old fashioned overalls so there wasn't anything to stop him. He stung me in the chest and I really danced until he fell out. I remember my Grandfather laughing so hard he almost fell. He sent me to Grandma and she put baking soda on it and gave me a piece of pie. (to have those kind of problems again, sigh)

I went to a school on the corner of Scio Church and Knight Road. After a couple of years my parents joined Salem Lutheran Church and all of us kids went to their Christian Day School. This is located on the corner of Scio Church and Street. I graduated from eighth grade and was confirmed into the church. Next I attended Slauson Jr High for one year, then on to Ann Arbor where I quit after one year.

I worked at home for a couple of years at such jobs as helping to build my brother-in-law's house, painting, helping the neighbors and of course working on our farm. One day while I was at the neighbors cow sale, the auctioneer asked me if I would like to go to Arizona with two train loads of cattle. As I had never been out of Michigan I decided to go. That was one of the most memorial things I have ever done. You can imagine a young farm boy, who had not even been to Ohio, traveling through Chicago and then out west. I was alone with 45 head of cattle. I had to water and feed them as we traveled. If you have never tried sleeping in a box car filled with cows while traveling 60-70 miles an hour, you have missed a real treat.

Everytime I got all stretched out to sleep I would hit some rough tracks. I would fly right off the piles of hay. A couple of times it even knocked the wind out of me. During the day I would sit in the open door and watch the big jackrabbits and pheasants run from the tall grass by the tracks. Mr. C. B. Smith, the auctioneer who sent me, told me that none of the cows would have calves before we arrived. Five calves later, and still not in Phoenix, I began to wonder. There should have been a movie made of me in with those five cows trying to milk them while we were moving. I never did get a pall of milk that was not spoiled before I could get it to the door. I kept a diary while I traveled and it is really interesting reading now.

Golden Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Herman G. Schwab of 8716 Neal Road, Manchester will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, October 22. The 9 a.m. High Mass at St. Mary's will be offered for them. Open house from 2 to 5 p.m. will be hosted by their children in the Knights of Columbus hall. Special guests at the party will be the attendants at the wedding fifty years ago. They are his sister, Mrs. Peter Cash of Manchester and her brother, Mr. Henry Ambs Sr. of Jackson.

The couple has spent most of their married life at the farm where Mr. Schwab was born at 8716 Neal Road. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Schwab. A retired farmer, Mr. Schwab still raises sheep and a few chickens. They put in a garden every year and Mrs. Schwab still does some canning and baking. She enjoys doing needlework.

Mrs. Schwab, the former Veronica Ambs came to the Manchester area with her parents when she was 13 years old. She and Mr. Schwab were neighbors before they were married. They are members of St. Mary's Catholic Church and Mrs. Schwab is an honorary member of the Altar Society. She is also a member of the Arbiter Society. They are members of the Farm Bureau.

Their three children are: Miss Marian Schwab at home, Paul Schwab of 123 Torrey Street, Manchester and Russell Schwab of 8610 Neal Road, Manchester; four grandchildren; four step-children and seven step great-grandchildren.

COUPLE WED IN FIRST METHODIST CHURCH OF WAYNE WATSON-RANDALL

The First Methodist Church of Wayne was the scene of the wedding of Joycelyn K. Watson and Fred N. Randall. The wedding took place at 7 p.m. Saturday, October 7. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Watson of 3225 Treadwell, Wayne and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Randall of 10331 Cross-her costume and she carried white germs, roses and blue forget-me-nots. Mrs. Janet M. Sears of Flint, sister of the bride was the honor attendant. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rose Theison of Garden City and Miss Alicia M. Mills of Detroit. All of the attendants wore gowns fashioned with blue chiffon bodice and white crepe skirts. They carried arrangements of blue tipped white mums.

Little Jayne Sears of Flint was the flower girl for her aunt and Steven Martin of Wayne was ring bearer.

John Pratt of Manchester served as best man. Ushers were Joseph and James Watson of Wayne and James and Jerry Randall, both of Manchester, brothers of the bridegroom.

At the reception at the church hall Miss Karen Woodward cut the wedding cake and Karen Schwein and Cathy Hall served punch.

The couple are at home at 35732 Michigan Avenue, Apt. 1, Wayne after returning from a wedding trip in Northern Michigan. The bride is employed in Westland and her husband is employed at General Motors at the Hydro-matic Willow Run Plant.

At the wedding Gladwin Miller of Wayne was the soloist and was accompanied by Michael Ma-

COUPLE WED IN METHODIST CHURCH

Pamela Kay Lamb and Barry Ned Lee exchanged their wedding vows at the Manchester Methodist Church at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, October 14.

The Rev. Oscar Cooper read the service before an altar decorated with bouquets of white mums. Mrs. Cooper played traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Joseph Pfaffinger of Clinton, the bride was attired in a peau de soie A line gown. The long sleeves were fashioned of Alencon lace which was also used on the matching lace panels on the gown and detachable chapel train. Her shoulder length veil of nylon net was held by a crown of seed pearls and she carried an arrangement of white roses and carnations.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Lee of 830 N. Twin Lake Road, Tipton.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Carmen Calloway of 607 City Road wore a gold colored wool suit and black accessories. Mrs. Lee wore beige wool with matching accessories. Their corsages were gold colored carnations.

The bride chose a floor length gown. Delicate lace molded the empire style bodice and long pointed sleeves. A scalloped square neckline framed her face. The gown had a slim skirt of peau de soie topped by a bow under the bodice. The skirt and train had scattered appliques of lace. Her fingertip veil was of pure silk with a crown of mock pearl orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of mums centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joyce Bowers of Manchester, sister of the bride was the honor attendant. She wore a green empire styled gown and carried pink roses.

Claire Knickerbocker of Tipton was the best man. Larry Bowers and Steven Rogers, both of Manchester seated the guests. Miss Lucy Feldkamp sang, "Because" accompanied by Mrs. Robert Pratt at the organ.

Mrs. Bowers chose a navy blue dress with ivory and gold accessories for her daughter's wedding. She wore an off-white cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Rogers chose a gold two piece dress with brown accessories and a green cymbidium orchid.

A reception followed at the church hall. Mrs. Marvin Keezer of Manchester cut the cake.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Couple at Sharon EUB Church

The Sharon Evangelical United Brethren Church was the setting for the wedding ceremony uniting Carolyn Mae Bowers and James Michael Rogers. The Rev. Chas. Fox officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Bowers of 20800 Bethel Church Road and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leslie Rogers of 101 West Duncan Street and the late Mr. Rogers.

The bride wore a floor length gown. Delicate lace molded the empire style bodice and long pointed sleeves. A scalloped square neckline framed her face.

During the month of September the class was placed upon the graduation of new students and they already are participating in the school's extra-curricular activities.

GLASS FIBERS WINNINGS TO EVENINGS

An evening dress and an evening bag made of glass fibers may be possible with Fiberglas, according to Mrs. Helen Fairman, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties.

Investigations now underway are considering whether or not glass fiber fabrics need to be bleached, Mrs. Fairman says.

These considerations are based on the possibilities of skin irritations from handling glass fiber fabrics, their tendency to break during the laundry process, and information on caution about bleaching, ironing and dry cleaning.

Certain cautions should always be followed in using glass fiber fabrics. They must always be washed separately. Machine washing is permitted for some glass fiber textile products, while other smaller pieces can easily be hand washed.

If glass fiber is washed in a washer, put the empty washer through a complete cycle before loading another load of clothes. Large glass fiber items should be taken to the dry cleaner for washing. Glass fiber fabrics should not be dry cleaned.

JOLLY FARMERETTES ORGANIZE

October 9 the Jolly Farmerettes held their organizational meeting. This is the third year that two sets of officers have been elected on the junior and senior levels.

The junior officers conduct every fourth meeting. They are: president, Beth Marriman; vice-president, Laura Sutton; treasurer, Joyce McAtee; secretary, Monica Curtis; recreation leader, Marilyn Uphaus; song leader, Joyce Bowers and reporter, Sue Vogel.

The senior officers are: president, Kathy Feldkamp; vice-president, Valerie Vogel; treasurer, Susan Jacob; secretary, Vickie Eisele; recreation leader, Mary Simmons; song leader, Judy Simmons.

The group filled out registration forms for the County Extension office and collection of the premium money from the County 4-H Fair.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT PTA OPENER

There were 150 people at the first meeting of the Pleasant Lake PTA. Children and their parents visited the classrooms.

Mrs. Paul Boehler, new PTA president introduced parents who are new to the area. Superintendent Robert Swartz introduced the new teachers at the Pleasant Lake School. He also mentioned there is new playground equipment at the Pleasant Lake School.

The next meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the Pleasant Lake School on Tuesday, November 14 and plans are underway for a public square dance and euchre party on November 4th.

Service notes: Korat, Thailand-Army Private First Class Edward L. Kline 111, 20, whose parents live on Route 1, Brooklyn, Mich.

Lefty's Sports Corner

The Flying Dutchmen were so hot Saturday night against Ypsi-Roosevelt that the Ypsi fire department had to come out and check on the team. Sparks were flying all over the place. Now for the results.

Quarterback Rick Lowery threw touchdown passes of 52 yards and 17 yards to Bobby Pratt and a 8 yard pass to Homer Walter. Bobby Pratt did some fine running on his two touchdowns. Homer Walter made his look easy.

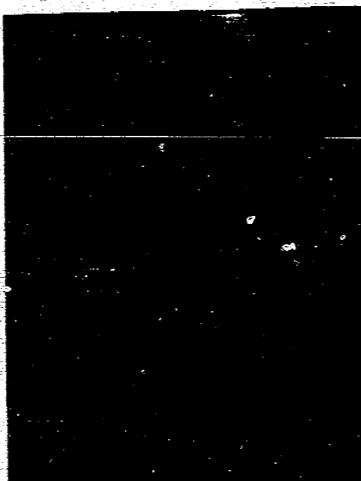

Now for the other touchdown. It was scored on a near seven yard run by that Dutchman whose name is Mike Kozzovianik. Now if that is a Dutch name - I'm a Polack.

For you fans that have not seen these boys in action yet - you are missing some fine high school football. See You All Friday Night "Lefty"

New Franchising Director Appointed for Dairy Queen

Frederick G. Leeman has been appointed director of franchise operations for Dairy Queen Enterprises, Inc., according to Raymond Kent, of Manchester, general manager of the state organization that directs the 180 Dairy Queen stores in Michigan.

In his assignment, Leeman will assist in the expansion of Dairy Queen store franchises throughout the state and service the sales and merchandising needs of store operators.

Leeman joins Dairy Queen after a 25-year career in industry that covers a wide variety of management assignments. For the past five years he has been industrial relations manager for Double A Products Company, a subsidiary of Brown & Sharp Manufacturing Company.

For the previous 20 years, he was employed by Argus Camera. He directed industrial engineering activities at the Ann Arbor plant and helped establish Canadian operations with the opening of the Toronto plants. He was the first resident manager in charge of manufacturing and marketing at Toronto.

Leeman, 46, resides in Manchester with his wife, Mary Jane. Two children were both married this past year.

A native of Chicago, Leeman first came to Michigan in 1939 to attend Michigan State University. After World War II service in the Air Force, Leeman resided in Ann Arbor where he attended the University of Michigan Engineering School, specializing in industrial engineering.

The Leemans have long enjoyed the Michigan outdoors as a hobby, progressing from tents to campers to a permanent second home now at Beulah.

Leeman will work out of both the Flint and the Ann Arbor offices of Dairy Queen Enterprises.

BE BIG ENOUGH TO GIVE A LITTLE MORE is this year's community chest slogan. In welcoming the drive chairman the Community Chest Chairman, Ed Gallaway mentioned the importance of everyone cooperating. "Without your support the drive cannot succeed," he said.

Joe Fitzgerald, Drive Chairman for 1968 said the goal is $600 over last year and suggested that solicitors report regularly with chairmen. He publicly thanked the Manchester Division of Hoover Ball Manchester Jaycees and Optimists for making the dinner meeting possible. Dinner was prepared and served by St. Mary's Altar Society. Mrs. Irvin Gill reported about 40 percent collected in the businessmen's drive and Mrs. Bill Schaffner said her division had reached the 50 percent mark.

Wm. De St. Aubin of the Washtenaw County American Red Cross noted that this was the 12th kick-off that he had attended in Manchester. Red Cross, which

Fr. Raymond Schlinkert, pastor of St. Mary's commended the workers for the good job they do each year and assured them they would do a repeat performance. Key speaker Robert Swartz said all solicitors should think positive in approaching these prospective contributors and this will generate the necessary interest in the all out once-a-year fund raising effort.

Youth Jailed in Tire Theft Earl Whittaker, 22, of 112 1/2 Adrian St. demanded examination when arraigned Monday before Ann Arbor Municipal Judge S. J. Eldens on a charge of having stolen tires from a filling station here.

Whittaker was arrested Sunday at Jackson, where, police said, he was attempting to sell tires that had been reported missing from the filling station.

He was remanded to Washtenaw County Jail pending the October 20 examination before Judge Eldens.

Dedication Of New Church Set For This Sunday

The Faith Community Church, located a quarter of a mile south West Austin Road at 8400 Sharon Hollow Road, Manchester will be dedicated at 3 p.m. Sunday, October 29th. The $67,000 edifice is situated on a four acre tract purchased by the Willis Hassett farm.

The Faith Community Church is interdenominational evangelical. Rev. Thomas E. Hicks is the pastor. Guest speaker for the dedication will be Dr. Homer Kent Sr. vice-president of the Grace Theological Seminary at Winona Lake, Indiana.

At the dedication service the building contractor, William Miller of Britton will present the keys to the church building committee chairman, Claude Gage.

The church is a two story brick structure, purchased from the Faith Church Structures of Mount Clemens, Michigan. The first meeting of the Faith Community Church group was a service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carlton on Sunday, March 27, 1967 and the congregation was established on Sunday, March 27, 1967 at a meeting held at the Sharon Town Hall, 2929 East Lake Road and at the time the church name was selected. Sixty people attended and at the time the church name was selected. The actual construction was begun June 17, 1967. The first service was held in the new church Sunday, Sept. 3 and the worship service on Sunday, October 8.

Optimists To Honor Top Students

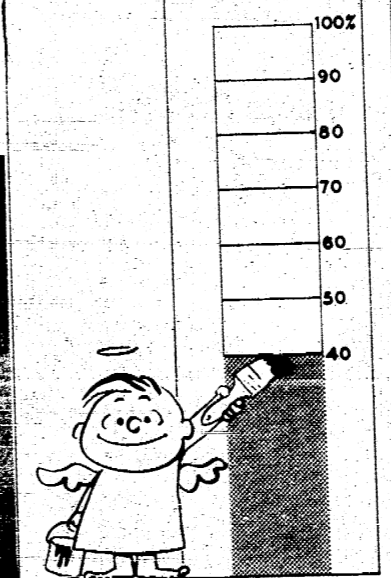

A local civic club, the Manchester Optimists has launched a program. Every two weeks the club will name an outstanding citizen, according to club members. Faculty members will also select five names and the principal's office will tabulate the results.

Representatives in the student council other than the class that is up for the award will make the final selection. This selection will be kept secret until chairman Klager has the opportunity to invite the lucky winner and parents to the next dinner meeting.

Students are to be selected on ability to work to capacity and get along with people cheerfully. They should be responsible and self-reliant, practice self control, respect adults and people of authority and have ambition.

The first selection of the Optimist committee is Michael Kirk. He is a member of the senior class and for seven years was active in 4-H, was the Optimist's choice for Wolverine Boy's state. He earned two junior varsity football letters and was co-captain in his 10th grade. Again this year he is co-captain.

The executive committee of student council will make up

FUND DRIVE

Joseph Fitzgerald, Chairman of the Manchester Community Fund Drive, reported today that the current drive is lagging behind last year's figures. Mr. Fitzgerald said that sectional leaders are reporting their respective areas are from 12 per cent to 15 per cent behind last year's collections.

The 1968 goal is $13,504. This amount provides assistance to 15 local and county agencies plus an additional 35 Michigan United Fund Agencies and two national agencies. A large portion of the community fund collection stays in the local Manchester area.

The Community Fund Drive is a "once a year" opportunity to provide for the less fortunate, the youth of the community, and local endeavors which benefit the community at large.

Mr. Fitzgerald, on behalf of the local fund, is urging everyone to consider favorably this year's drive, and to give a fair share when the fund worker comes calling.

Local people who work in the outside industries or businesses are asked to designate that their amount given at work be designated for the Manchester Fund.

School Board Accepts Low Bid

The Manchester Board of Education accepted the low bid of 4,69203 per cent for a proposed $650,000 bond for an elementary school site and construction.

The bonding attorneys are Miller, Kenower, Mac Arthur & Co. The four bids ranged to a high of 4.8964 per cent.

The bonding attorneys are Miller, Kenower, Mac Arthur & Co. The four bids ranged to a high of 4.8964 per cent.

Construction bids have not yet been let for the new elementary school which will include 12 classrooms, an all-purpose room, kindergarten and related areas, a small elementary library, teachers' rooms, conference rooms, principal's office, teachers' lounge and storage areas.

Ah, Fall...

Robin Teresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hainstock of Manchester, expresses our sentiments exactly. What better place to be on a sunny fall afternoon than setting in the golden leaves.

Oldest Citizen Also The Most Active

Manchester's oldest citizen will celebrate his 94th birthday Oct. 28th. Carl F. Wuerthner was born in Manchester in 1873, the same year the cornerstone was laid in Lansing for the capitol building.

If all goes well he plans to be in Jackson for his birthday at the home of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rothweiler. Also present will be his daughter, Mrs. Paul Rague and her daughter from Benton Harbor.

Halloween Party Is Jaycee Project

Calling all kids! Tuesday, October 31 all of the children in the Manchester School District are invited to the annual Halloween Party on the Athletic Field.

This is the time that the hobgoblins and witches stir their brew and its time for tricks and treats. There are bound to be all sorts of creatures prowling the streets and knocking on the doors.

To set the pace for the big event the Jaycees are again offering cider and donuts--and apples to these queer looking individuals who are asked to form in parade at 6:45 p.m. sharp on the athletic field.

There will be judging and prizes will be awarded to the best costumes for both boys and girls for pre-schoolers, kindergartners through the fourth grade for each section and for the fifth and sixth grade by group.

Room mothers of each grade will be the committee of judges and this part of the program is handled by Maynard Blossom. George Daubner is the chairman of the Jaycees in charge of refreshments and prizes.
