

MARCH OF DIMES

The Mother's March chairman are responsible for dividing the communities into sections and appointing captains for each area. Mrs. Sells said. She points out that the more people who are aware of the purpose of the March of Dimes, the more successful the drive will be. The Mothers' March is the largest fund raiser of all. In Washtenaw, the door-to-door march will take place on January 31 in the communities and for the rural and township areas it will be from January 20 to January 30 with money raised in on the 31st.

Teens chairman will be appointed to name teens to plan activities specifically for them and coordinating special projects planned on a county basis.

Teenagers have an important stake in finding answers to the problems of Birth Defects and they are an eager group who will give of time, enthusiasm and ideas if given the opportunity. Diane Young is the county woman in charge and can be reached at 764-9883.

The county bowling tournament will be held in January and Betty Dillaway at 662-8915 and Walter Schmid at 662-1149 are working on the details.

Amanda Rich is the Washtenaw County Poster Girl for 1965. In Manchester the campaign chairman is Conrad Gonyer assisted by Mrs. Hugh Burton and Marie Schneider.

Other campaign directors in the county include: Mrs. Kenneth Norris, Chelsea; Mrs. Steven Soroz, Dexter; Mrs. James Keller of Saline; Mrs. John Briegel of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Richard Tetens of Milan and Mrs. Clyde Meade of Whitmore Lake.

Mrs. Robert Grant of Ann Arbor is named the Townships Chairman. She will be responsible for finding chairmen to head each township. They, in turn, will be responsible for the rural areas outside the community.

Mrs. Omer Robbins has only recently been named to head the drive in Ypsilanti. CAP, Inc. and a group of volunteers prepared the matters for the Ann Arbor area. The facts folder of the poster girl, Amanda Rich, was printed and donated by Walter Leonard, publisher of the Chelsea Standard as his contribution to the campaign.

LOCAL MAN ACCUSED OF BREAK-INS

A Manchester man has been implicated in five burglaries of business places in Jackson and Washtenaw counties, sheriff's deputies reported.

Sheriff's Detective Thomas Dornance said Earl Whitaker of Manchester obtained more than $500 in tools and other merchandise in the thefts. The officer said Whitaker broke into four business places in the Manchester area and one in Clear Lake in Jackson County. Whitaker is currently awaiting sentence on another burglary charge, Dornance said.

OUTDOOR CHRISTMAS DECORATIONS WILL BE JUDGED

The Village of Manchester is announcing that, in keeping with its tradition, outdoor Christmas displays will be judged again this year.

There will be prizes of $15, $10 and $5 awarded to the three displays considered best by the judges, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Albers.

Villagers are asked to have their displays lighted between the hours of seven and eleven o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings, December 26 through December 28. This will give the judges an opportunity to select "the best" without being hurried.

ROAD COMMISSION PLANS

is also on a gravel pit location. That boasts of a creek which might have further developments and is on a 100-acre site owned by the county. As soon as possible some county road money will be channelled to get some of the projects off the ground but at present all available funds must go to meet the day-by-day expenses of the county.

Vandalism of road signs has proved costly during the past year and as a safety measure many had to be replaced. This ties in with the program that the road signs in the United States are being replaced with uniform signs. About half have been completed with nine townships having new signs and a tenth township probably will be finished by the end of the year.

There are still some badly broken roads including Saline-Ann Arbor Road. A project is underway to fix the bad spots with a base construction of dry asphalt and sand gravel. This is recapped with a mat of bituminous concrete.

Minier said, "This is a relatively inexpensive program. Austin road also needs repair and our men will take care of these repairs just as quickly as they can be scheduled. Lack of funds is the big problem - let's hope this coming winter treats us more kindly than last year."

CLASSES FOR BUS DRIVERS

Classes for all school bus drivers in Washtenaw County are being held as follows:

- Dec. 18 Dexter High School Library
- Dec. 19 Manchester High School Study Auditorium
- Dec. 20 Milan High School 920 North Street

The topic "Rider Control--Call It Discipline If You Like" will be discussed by the instructor Homer Earl, who will conduct each class. The Bus Driver Education Program is conducted by Eastern and Western Michigan Universities and is sponsored by the County Intermediate School District in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Education. All school bus drivers should plan to attend. School administrators and school board members are urged to send their drivers.

Christmas In Denmark Brings Fond Memories

With Christmas almost here Paul Mumma of Bethel Church Road remembers her childhood holidays in Copenhagen, Denmark. She has been home here in recent years. She came first to visit her great-uncle in Detroit when she was 18 years old. She liked the country and the food.

shepherds who went to the manger were followed by a little lamb. The story goes that the little lamb was caught by holly thorns and the red berries are the blood drops that froze on the branches. One of Denmark's prettiest customs is the remembrance of the birds. A sheaf of grain is saved from the fall harvest. On Christmas morning, every gable, gateway and barn is decorated with the grain--the birds' Christmas dinner.

Mr. Mumma is impressed with the excellent food served in Denmark. And he marvels at the breakfast which usually consists of warm, freshly baked bread, good country fresh butter and all kinds of rich cheese and coffee. Every morning warm bread is delivered to the homes. Mrs. Mumma says no one serves day-old bread, like they do here.

Beautiful sweaters, hand knitted is a speciality. She bought some on her last trip home. The country is noted for dairying, fine dishes and beautiful silver. She held up a chunky sauna cloth which also serves as a candlestick.

"This reminds me of Santa as we visualized him when I was a child," she said smiling.

Most of the young folks wear knitted knee socks and the boys wear short pants. The country clings to tradition and Christmas isn't as commercialized as it is in the States, although people are beginning to send more Christmas gifts.

She doubts if she will make any Christmas this year. But she remembers it was the Christmas cookie.

"It is like lebkuchen is to Germans. I'll give you the recipe, if you'd like to try it."

Here it is for those who'd like to try their skill at the Danish pastry.

Klejnær: 2 eggs, 2 egg yolks, half cup sugar, half cup melted butter, 1 teaspoon baking powder, half teaspoon grated lemon rind or almond, cardamom or nutmeg. Combine all ingredients in the order given.

Book Is Published

by Marie Schneider

The first person to stop in to purchase the long awaited, much talked about book, "Manchester's First Hundred Years" was Chick Kirk. He bought three.

With the book the community wraps up the centennial celebration which started with a parade and burying of the razor early last spring.

The book is on sale every day at the Rymack Printing Building on Main Street, home of the Manchester Enterprise, where the book was printed by Harry Macomber. It will also be sold Friday and Saturday this week at the Union Savings Bank. The cost is $2.25 and is in an envelope ready for mailing. This is the first history of the community to be offered to the public.

What better time than this to perpetuate the history of Manchester than in the centennial year? J. C. Hendley, a member of the Centennial Board of Directors, and his wife, Virginia, offered to have the history written by Marie Schneider. This was their contribution to the Centennial of the community. Mr. Hendley, a practicing attorney and president of the Union Savings Bank, is also a former president of both the village and Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Hendley, a member of the Washtenaw Historical Society and a former member of the Manchester Library Board for many years, wanted a history that would interest children--one they could read and understand.

Many people contributed to the publication. Property owners cheerfully dug out deeds and abstracts to verify dates. The Hendleys wanted facts not fiction--something people could turn to and say, "This is Manchester."

It was believed that pictures of the early village would add to the book and Mrs. Arthur Jenter loaned the collection of her husband, the late Mr. Jenter. Many of them are reproduced in the book. Others brought in pictures. There were so many that it took hours to make the selections. Those who loaned pictures can pick them up at the Rymack location. It would be impossible to mention all the people who contributed or give recognition to all who helped. Margaret Schneider learned to adjust to eating on the kitchen sink when the tables were filled with reference materials. Then there were other days when the kitchen range was used for a storage place and if you wanted to eat at all you had to eat out. There is a short history of the four townships: Manchester, Sharon, Bridgewater and Freedom. John C. Miller, Supervisor of Freedom Township proposed that it might be interesting to include the early maps of the townships from the Atlas of 1874. Early comments indicate that his suggestion was well received.

Consumers Power Co. of Jackson and the Bell Telephone Co. brought these utilities up to the minute. Clayton Parr, local supervisor and M. H. Wolfe, township treasurer filled in missing data. Roy Kern thumbed through the council proceedings and the Enterprise files to check dates and events. Jane Palmer, retired librarian offered some of her interesting historical notes. These included the last flight of the passenger pigeons through Manchester.

There are some short stories about some of this community's outstanding people. One "They Bunkled Bill" and A Bit of Main Street" was reprinted through the courtesy of the Jackson Citizen Patriot. There is a story about the late Franklin M. Reck, noted personality who was in "Who's Who in America" for 12 years; Nellie Ackerson, for whom a school was named and G. W. Kramer, who was Manchester Santa Claus. There is a story about Benner Root, president of the Union Savings Bank, who loved the community enough to be sure that Carr Park would be improved for a playground for the children; and another about 94-year-old Carl Wursthner and his life in Manchester.

THE GREATEST FEELING

"My soul Magnifies the Lord, And my spirit rejoices in God my Saviour, For He has regarded The low estate of his hand maiden

These words spoken by the greatest of mothers, Mary, it is a feeling akin to that of Mary's we Christians have in this moment of the Advent season. The atmosphere that surrounds our lives is filled with an unspeakable joy, anticipation, as we continue our preparation to celebrate the greatest miracle known to mankind, the birth of Jesus. Jesus was conceived by the Holy Ghost, and born of the Virgin Mary when she was espoused to Joseph. Jesus God's gift to the world, a "love gift" given that we no longer may be imprisoned by the darkness of sin.

Peace, Inner Security, Light and a way out of sin's dungeons. For each to have these from God's gift, we need only to believe in Him, receive Him into our life, thus permitting Him to sit on the throne of our heart. Little wonder the Angel said, "Fear not for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." He's God's Door, through which we are privileged to pass from earth to Heaven, from life into Eternal life. Our Hope for that life came with Him at his birth. Here is an everlasting gospel that can be preached to all the world, "In our dark streets of today's world shineth the Everlasting Light." While nations stumble and grope in the darkness, yet there is Light 'tis the Day spring from on high. He of whom we hear much by the Christmas card, letters, Christmas program, carols is the Eternal Lord of all.

Let us realize, the Christ whom God has given can be a personal Christ. "God imparts to human hearts the blessings of His heaven.

No ear may hear his coming, but in this world of sin, where meek souls will receive Him still, the dear Christ enters in." Allow me to leave you with this thought, "The birth of Christ within man is a re-birth of the man."

DEATH AND TAXES PREPARATION FOR LETTER

(This is the first in a series of articles on "Income Tax Tips for Farmers" prepared by Dr. Edward R. Kyle, Extension Agricultural Economist at Michigan State University.) Michigan farmers have the option of filing a final return on '67 state and federal income taxes by February 15, or they may file an estimate of '67 taxes before January 16.

By filing the estimate, they will have until April 15 to file the final report. The additional time was designed to allow farmers to gear to the more common filing date and obtain necessary computerized material from banks and other financial institutions.

Most self-employed taxpayers are required to make an estimate a year earlier. The annual burden of income tax filing can be minimized with an understanding of rules and by organizing records properly. Many farmers still lack an understanding of the basis for income tax reporting. While farmers are allowed to deduct operating expenses from their income, the cost of capital assets is recovered only in depreciation or when disposed of. Examples of capital assets, or items held and used in the business over a period of time, are dairy cows, breeding stock, building and other improvements. The relationship between the income tax report for the business and the individual is also often misunderstood. All farmers must file at least two basic reports, their personal 1040, which is a recapitulation of all their potential sources of income—wages from off farm—work, interest, rents, royalties—and their Schedule F form.

Capital assets that have been disposed of need to be reported on a Schedule D form. The tax owed is computed on form 1040, after subtracting exemptions and itemized deductions. Refund on gas tax and investment credit are also deducted on this form.

OPTIMIST CLUB TO PARTICIPATE IN TOURNAMENT

Announcement was made today by Clarence Fielder, president of the Optimist Club of Manchester, that the local group would be represented in the famed Tournament of Roses Parade on New Year's Day.

Cooperating with the International organization at St. Louis, Missouri, Optimists will proudly present to the one and a half million who personally view the spectacular event in Pasadena, California, and to an estimated 100 million television viewers, a gigantic float that is 17 feet high, 20 feet wide, and 53 feet long. Its unique construction and subject matter will be in keeping with the parade theme this year, "Wonderful World of Adventure," and will dramatically tell the story of Optimists' service to youth.

The actual construction of the Optimist float, according to President Clarence Fielder began in early September and as now but real flowers may be used, the actual placing of the blossoms must be done in the final forty-eight hours ahead of January first. Over 300,000 flowers (mostly chrysanthemums) will be used, with the color of each matching the implied color of the designers' conception.

Hundreds of organizations and companies try, but only sixty floats are allowed to enter the annual extravaganza so it is understandable why the Optimists are most proud that the plans for their organization's entry passed the rigid inspection of the Pasadena Float Committee.

President Fielder said that float designs are closely guarded secrets almost up to parade time, but all reports from those who have viewed the scale model, indicate that the Optimist entry will be one of the most outstanding. All that could be divulged was that the smallest part of the whole float was to be a green frog, six feet tall and that three motorized vehicles which move independently will be necessary to move the Optimist float along the parade route down Pasadena's Colorado Boulevard. Their movements must be coordinated by walkie-talkie units in the hands of the three drivers.

The Manchester Optimists join nearly 100,000 fellows throughout the United States and Canada in inviting the public to view the Tournament of Roses

Parade and trust they enjoy the efforts of the 2550 clubs and members which will make possible the participation of Optimists International.

The Church of Christ is the world's only social hope and the sole promise of Peace.

WASHINGTON REPORT-
Marvin L. Esch
A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

This week I'm taking the liberty of departing from our regular Washington Report format as our family's way of sharing with you some personal thoughts of the season.

Surely Christmas is a time for many things. Foremost, although seemingly lost at times in commercialization, is the religious inspiration to be found in the celebration of the birth of Christ and the spirit of giving which surrounds these holidays. Christmas is a time for fond remembrances, for thoughts of good things to eat, and more seriously, a time for reflection and reedification.

Most fond of memories in our family, as I'm sure it is in many others, is the decoration of the Christmas tree. Of course, this can be both a joyous and trying experience. The delightful purchase of that beautiful tree can be spoiled when you find out about the crooked trunk when you get it home. And when Junior, reaching for an ornament, knocks it over for the third time one can feel all is lost. When I think that our first tree cost me 75¢, I can't help but exclaim about how times have changed.

As for that good food, I'm reminded about the number one contribution of my wife Olga, - homemade nutbread. The kids prefer her chocolate chip cookies. Gifts of baked goods always carry a special warmth; perhaps because it's something that the giver made herself.

As we reflect on the past year, Christmas is somehow different. A holiday meant for fellowship, enjoyment and entertainment is somehow changed this time around. Certainly the duty of national office has altered our outlook. We feel closer to our national problems. We see in our mail that our national problems often thought of as distant items affect the day to day activities of individuals. And we think frequently about the hundreds of people who have written us seeking help in solving serious personal problems.

Mirth and rejoicing
And glad
On that Christmas night
Of old,
Gings from men

Who traced a star
Through eastern skies,
Pursuing hope
Following faith
Long, long ago foretold
Mirth and rejoicing
And glad
On that Christmas night
Of old,

The gift of God
Who gives the world
His Son
The gift of love

ESCH'S REPORT

We cannot help but look back on 1967 with concern about the direction of our nation. The war, the riots, inflation and our many other serious national, but yet personal, concerns make it difficult to be optimistic about the future. Yet when one considers the proven ability of the American people to face and beat hard times, one can't help but be optimistic and rededicate himself to help pull us through this difficult period.

This Christmas, our family joins yours in a prayer for peace and for a new year that may bring in our nation a rededication to freedom and responsibility.

We hope to grow old, yet we fear old age; that is, we are willing to live, and afraid to die. —Brayere—

Dear Mr. Widmayer:

In accordance with your official advertisement of sale for the above described bonds published in the Michigan Investor, September 23, 1967, which by reference is made a part of this bid, we will pay you the par amount of the bonds, and accrued interest from date of the bonds of delivery to us for bonds bearing interest at the following rates per annum:

We compute the net interest cost to the Village, on the above bid, as $ of 5.00% subject to verification.

This bid is conditioned upon the final, unqualified legal opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds.

As evidence of our good faith, in submitting this bid, we enclose our certified check in the amount of $5,500.00 which shall be retained by you as full liquidating damages in the event that we fail to accept delivery and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of this bid.

Respectfully submitted, WATLING, LERCHEN & CO. MGR. KENOWER, MACARTHUR & CO. DETROIT

By: Charles C. Bechtel, Mgr. Municipal Bond Dept.

Moved by Althouse and supported by Mahony: WHEREAS, the Village Council has heretofore authorized $275,000.00 Water Supply and Sewage Disposal System Revenue Bonds of the Village to be dated July 1, 1967, and WHEREAS, the Village Council has offered said bonds for sale after proper publication of the notice of sale thereof, as required by the provisions of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933, as amended, on October 16, 1967 and November 6, 1967 and no proposals for the purchase of the bonds were submitted on either of said dates; AND WHEREAS, Section 12 of Act 94, Public Acts of Michigan, 1933 as amended, provides that if the Village shall have offered the bonds at two or more public offerings and shall not have received at the second public offering any bid, then the bonds may be sold at private sale within thirty days after the last public offering; AND WHEREAS, Watling, Lerchen & Co. have submitted a written proposal to purchase said bonds at private sale, said bonds all to bear interest at the rate of five percent (5%) per annum, the purchase price of the bonds being at par; AND WHEREAS, said proposal to purchase the bonds was submitted within thirty (30) days of the last public offering of said bonds, NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED THAT: 1. The proposal of Watling, Lerchen & Co., and Kenower, MacArthur & Co. to purchase the Village of Manchester Water Supply and Sewer Disposal System Revenue Bonds, to be dated July 1, 1967 at par and accrued interest with all bonds to bear interest at the rate of five percent (5%) per annum is hereby accepted and said bonds are hereby sold at private sale to Watling, Lerchen & Co. and Kenower MacArthur & Co. at the foregoing terms. 2. Moved by Mahony and supported by McGuire WHEREAS, the Village of Manchester, and western Washtenaw County, have been heretofore appropriated and conveniently served by the Justice Courts as heretofore established by law, and WHEREAS, based on information contained in the Ann Arbor News and a recent meeting of the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, it appears that the lower court needs of the Village of Manchester and western Washtenaw County will be served by District Court Judges, residents of, and located in Ann Arbor as a continuation or expansion of the existing Ann Arbor Municipal Court System, and WHEREAS, the proposed district court if located in Ann Arbor, Michigan would be unduly burdensome upon the Manchester Police Department and all police departments of western Washtenaw County requiring their members to make numerous trips to Ann Arbor, in all Village ordinance cases misdemeanors and local traffic violations, in most instances attendants upon delay and waiting time in the court and in its administrative offices, and WHEREAS, the location of the proposed lower court in the City of Ann Arbor would be a district hardship on all residents of western Washtenaw County and the Village of Manchester who will have business with said court either civil and criminal, and WHEREAS, it has been wrongfully represented that no lawyer in western Washtenaw County would serve as a County Judge, since an investigation of lawyers who have offices in Chelsea, Manchester and Dexter reveals that no such inquiry was made; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED THAT the Council for the Village of Manchester has determined that the proposed lower court changes will seriously and adversely effect the workings of law enforcement in this western Washtenaw County and will be economically burdensome to the Village of Manchester and to the residents of western Washtenaw County, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the president of the Village of Manchester, Gale Koebbe, be directed to do all things necessary to promote legislation that will insure the interests of the Village of Manchester and the residents of western Washtenaw County will be adequately protected in the proposed district court organization, BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the clerk submit copies of this resolution to all members of the state legislature who represent the western Washtenaw County area, the Washtenaw County Senior Circuit Judge, the Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, the Washtenaw County Bar Association and the Supervisors of Sylvan, Lyndon, Manchester, Lima, Sharon and Dexter Townships. All yeas, carried.

Moved by Bauer supported by McGuire, we adjourn. Carried. Lyle A. Widmayer, Clerk

CHRISTMAS IN DENMARK

Mix well and add enough flour to make a soft but not sticky dough. Roll out to a quarter inch thick on a lightly floured board and cut in diamonds three inches long. Slit the center. Pass one end of the diamond through the slit. Drop the Klejner into hot deep fat. Flip when the under side is brown. When both sides are brown remove from fat and place on brown paper to cool. An inch cube of dough dropped in fat should take 60 seconds to brown. This is a test to determine the temperature of the fat.

Due to lack of space this story will be continued next week.

VISITING HERE

Mr. and Mrs. John Wakefield and children, Amy and Brian of Greenbelt, Md., arrived Saturday for a two week vacation with her mother, Mrs. F. M. Reck.

Mrs. Gustav Kuether and son Scot and daughter Linda arrived Dec. 6 from San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America to spend the holidays. Rev. Gustav Kuether arrived Saturday, Dec. 16 and will spend until Christmas Day with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Kuether before leaving to spend some time with Mrs. Kuether's parents, the Howard Higgins. They plan to return to Honduras the later part of January.

Due to the short week, we will be publishing the next issue on Friday.

There are brief sketches of the churches, schools, industries and centennial farms and histories of some of the business places.

The accounts of Manchester go back to the time when the Indians peeked their heads in the windows of the early pioneers' homes and how Jan Huber discovered an Indian skeleton just a couple of years ago. The Elba post office, first in the area, was important years ago.

The book has an account of how Manchester celebrated its first July 4th in 1839 before Manchester had a charter. It mentions that the first train chugged into town in 1870. There are pictures and a history of the mill around which the community grew.

Those who read the pages will probably chuckle when they come across some of the excerpts from the files of the Enterprise and note the fine sense of humor of the publisher, Mat Blosser.

On Jan. 29, 1892 he wrote: "We miss the street lamp in front of Goodyear House. Why don't the city fathers erect a tallow candle on Ann Arbor Hill and illuminate the whole town." There's a lot of history in the book and a complete run-down of the happenings of the centennial celebration. There are pictures of the style show and the people who paraded

The lovely togs of yesteryears. There are pictures of the Farmers Day parade which included a covered waggon. The 8th Michigan Cavalry put on a demonstration skirmish. Other events listed include the Border Collie Show at the Fair on Centennial Day. All of the Centennial events are complete with pictures.

On the cover of the Centennial Book is a reproduction of the bird's eye view of the village as sketched by and engraved for E. S. Glover. He distributed the pictures in November, 1872. Manchester kept abreast of the times and the pictures were sent to Vienna, Austria for exhibit at the World's Fair the following summer.

A lot of water has tumbled over the Main Street dam since the history was handed to the printer on August 15th but the book is out now, just in the nick of time for Christmas!

CUTLINES OMITTED

In last week's issue of the Enterprise the picture with the Christmas tree story was one taken at the Sherman tree farm near here. Looking over the trees were Douglas Sherman 15 years and Laura Diane, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwab.

Christmas In Denmark Brings Fond Memories

-by Marie Schneider
The first use of the Christmas seal is credited to coming from Denmark. A postal clerk, Einar Holboell, born in Denmark in 1865, ordered the first Christmas seals to be printed and sold at regular post offices in the country. The story goes that, as he was stamping letters and Christmas cards in 1903 in the post office in Copenhagen, he thought of the idea of a seal.

Why not have a special Christmas stamp printed for the many tuberculosis sufferers who need hospital treatment? The idea sold and that first year more than four million stamps brought in some $18,000. Sweden was quick to follow the next year and Norway two years later.

But it wasn't until 1907 that the idea was given consideration here. In Denmark there isn't such an extensive greeting card exchange. The word for Merry Christmas in Danish is Glædelig Jul.

Denmark has a delightful tradition which, in some parts of the country is an important part of Christmas. "Jul-Nisse," the benevolent little man of the attic, is the essence of Christmas to these people. He is never seen except by the family cat. He lives in the attic and tends the farm animals. He is responsible for many mischievous happenings in the house.

Before going to bed on Christmas Eve, the Danish children in the farming area climb the attic stairs and place a bowl of porridge and a pitcher of milk before the door. They arise in the morning to find that the food has mysteriously disappeared during the night. This custom was not practiced in the area of Copenhagen where Mrs. Mumma lived.

This year the Mummas will be dining out for Christmas. She says that it will be less lonesome because their only child - a son Paul - is stationed in Texas while in service. He and his wife will not be home for Christmas.

The Mummas bought their 15 acre residence about 12 years ago but were not sure they would want to live in the country. About three years ago, when Mr. Mumma retired they decided to fix up their country place. Today the interior looks like it was transplanted from Denmark.
"While people here have been so concerned about celebrating a centennial we wouldn't consider it very spectacular at home. Take this hand-carved hope chest. It would date back about 350 years, -it was handed down in the family," she explained. "It belonged to my aunt and was imported here."
The immense chest is now used for storing blankets, etc. but at one time it was a hope chest for a prospective bride.
The hand carved chairs and table also had their origin many years ago in Denmark. The huge dining room buffet, which dates well over three hundred years, matches beautifully, but was imported from England. This, the Mummas bought.
They have the 20 Royal porcelain fish plates which Mrs. Mumma's father, Paul Timm sent them for a wedding gift. Mr. Mumma remarked that, just starting out, they found it hard to get the money to pay the duty. But the plates were in excellent condition and not a single dish was broken. Mrs. Mumma mentioned that Crown porcelain in the best quality has three wavy lines carefully marked near the crown on the back of the dishes.
They have a lovely selection of this fine porcelain and figurines. It is interesting that these large chests which are hundreds of years old, has a lock and key for every drawer and cupboard. When the drawers are locked the metal rings clear.
Mrs. Mumma's father doesn't share their love for the country.

The clerk is sending out notices to those who have been registered but who have failed to vote in the last two years.
