Mix well and add enough flour to make a soft but not sticky dough. Roll out to a quarter inch thick on a lightly floured board and cut in diamonds three inches long. Slit the center. Pass one end of the diamond through the slit. Drop the Klejner into hot deep fat. Flip when the under side is brown. When both sides are brown remove from fat and place on brown paper to cool. An inch cube of dough dropped in fat should take 60 seconds to brown. This is a test to determine the temperature of the fat.

Due to lack of space this story will be continued next week.

VISITING HERE
Mr. and Mrs. John Wakefield and children, Amy and Brian of Greenbelt, Md., arrived Saturday for a two week vacation with her mother, Mrs. F. M. Reck.

Mrs. Gustav Kuether and son Scot and daughter Linda arrived Dec. 6 from San Pedro Sula, Honduras, Central America to spend the holidays. Rev. Gustav Kuether arrived Saturday, Dec. 16 and will spend until Christmas Day with his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Kuether before leaving to spend some time with Mrs. Kuether's parents, the Howard Higgins. They plan to return to Honduras the later part of January.

Due to the short week, we will be publishing the next issue on Friday.

There are brief sketches of the churches, schools, industries and centennial farms and histories of some of the business places.

The accounts of Manchester go back to the time when the Indians peeked their heads in the windows of the early pioneers' homes and how Jan Huber discovered an Indian skeleton just a couple of years ago. The Elba post office, first in the area, was important years ago.

The book has an account of how Manchester celebrated its first July 4th in 1839 before Manchester had a charter. It mentions that the first train chugged into town in 1870. There are pictures and a history of the mill around which the community grew.

Those who read the pages will probably chuckle when they come across some of the excerpts from the files of the Enterprise and note the fine sense of humor of the publisher, Mat Blosser.

On Jan. 29, 1892 he wrote: "We miss the street lamp in front of Goodyear House. Why don't the city fathers erect a tallow candle on Ann Arbor Hill and illuminate the whole town." There's a lot of history in the book and a complete run-down of the happenings of the centennial celebration. There are pictures of the style show and the people who paraded

The lovely togs of yesteryears. There are pictures of the Farmers Day parade which included a covered wagon. The 8th Michigan Cavalry put on a demonstration skirmish. Other events listed include the Border Collie Show at the Fair on Centennial Day. All of the Centennial events are complete with pictures.

On the cover of the Centennial Book is a reproduction of the bird's eye view of the village as sketched by and engraved for E. S. Glover. He distributed the pictures in November, 1872. Manchester kept abreast of the times and the pictures were sent to Vienna, Austria for exhibit at the World's Fair the following summer.

A lot of water has tumbled over the Main Street dam since the history was handed to the printer on August 15th but the book is out now, just in the nick of time for Christmas!

CUTLINES OMITTED

In last week's issue of the Enterprise the picture with the Christmas tree story was one taken at the Sherman tree farm near here. Looking over the trees were Douglas Sherman 15 years and Laura Diane, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schwab.

Christmas In Denmark Brings Fond Memories

-by Marie Schneider
The first use of the Christmas seal is credited to coming from Denmark. A postal clerk, Einar Holboell, born in Denmark in 1865, ordered the first Christmas seals to be printed and sold at regular post offices in the country. The story goes that, as he was stamping letters and Christmas cards in 1903 in the post office in Copenhagen, he thought of the idea of a seal.
Why not have a special Christmas stamp printed for the many tuberculosis sufferers who need hospital treatment? The idea sold and that first year more than four million stamps brought in some $18,000. Sweden was quick to follow the next year and Norway two years later.
But it wasn't until 1907 that the idea was given consideration here. In Denmark there isn't such an extensive greeting card exchange. The word for Merry Christmas in Danish is Glædelig Jul.
Denmark has a delightful tradition which, in some parts of the country is an important part of Christmas. "Jul-Nisse," the benevolent little man of the attic, is the essence of Christmas to these people. He is never seen except by the family cat. He lives in the attic and tends the farm animals. He is responsible for many mischievous happenings in the house.
Before going to bed on Christmas Eve, the Danish children in the farming area climb the attic stairs and place a bowl of porridge and a pitcher of milk before the door. They arise in the morning to find that the food has mysteriously disappeared during the night. This custom was not practiced in the area of Copenhagen where Mrs. Mumma lived.
This year the Mummas will be dining out for Christmas. She says that it will be less lonesome because their only child - a son Paul - is stationed in Texas while in service. He and his wife will not be home for Christmas.

The Mummas bought their 15 acre residence about 12 years ago but were not sure they would want to live in the country. About three years ago, when Mr. Mumma retired they decided to fix up their country place. Today the exterior looks like it was transplanted from Denmark.
"While people here have been so concerned about celebrating a centennial we wouldn't consider it very spectacular at home. Take this hand-carved hope chest. It would date back about 350 years - it was handed down in the family," she explained. "It belonged to my aunt and was imported here."
The immense chest is now used for storing blankets, etc. but at one time it was a hope chest for a prospective bride.
The hand carved chairs and table also had their origin many years ago in Denmark. The huge dining room buffet, which dates well over three hundred years, matches beautifully, but was imported from England. This, the Mummas bought.
They have the 20 Royal porcelain fish plates which Mrs. Mumma's father, Paul Timm sent them for a wedding gift. Mr. Mumma remarked that, just starting out, they found it hard to get the money to pay the duty. But the plates were in excellent condition and not a single dish was broken. Mrs. Mumma mentioned that Crown porcelain in the best quality has three wavy lines carefully marked near the crown on the back of the dishes.
They have a lovely selection of this fine porcelain and figurines. It is interesting that these large chests which are hundreds of years old, has a lock and key for every drawer and cupboard. When the drawers are locked the metal rings clear.
Mrs. Mumma's father doesn't share their love for the country. continued on page 2

Petitions Due

Those seeking nominations for village offices have until January 2 to have petitions signed and returned to the village clerk, Lyle Widmayer. Thirteen petition forms are out the clerk said, but he has no idea how many will be returned. He says that he will run for a sixth term.
This year candidates will seek election on the Republican and Democratic tickets. In previous years village officials have been elected on the Progressive and Citizens' tickets. The one-year terms of village president, Gale Koebbe; clerk, Lyle Widmayer; treasurer, Ed Kirk and assessor, Russell Widmayer expire.
Council seats to be filled for two years are: those of Herbert Mahoney, Al Gage and Basil McGuire.
The primary election will be February 19 and election on March 11 the clerk said. All voters are to be registered by January 19 to vote this year. The clerk is sending out notices to those who have been registered but who have failed to vote in the last two years. He mentioned that people who have not been registered here - those new to the community and those who will be voting for the first time are required to register first time and will not be sent notices. and they will not be sent notices.

CHRISTMAS IN DENMARK

contd. from page one He has spent a lifetime in the city and its too dull for him. When he flies in, he comes out to Manchester but he makes his headquarters in a Detroit hotel. Although he is well over seventy he still heads the rubber company in Copenhagen and drives his own car to the office every day. His wife, Mrs. Mumma's mother was an accomplished actress and died when she was only 48 years. Mrs. Mumma, whose maiden name was Grethe Timm, has only one brother, Jørgen. He lives in Copenhagen and when Mummas were there a couple of years ago he had just finished building a lovely new home with a thatched roof. They explained that it is getting extremely hard to find workmen who still know the trade.

The school system in Denmark is much different. Classes are held Monday through Friday and Saturday morning. Sports are not considered a part of school program and have to be practiced after school hours. In the fifth grade the students are given a test. If they show exceptional talent, plans are made for the student to continue and to prepare for college. If there is no special reason the student should plan to attend college they are taught a trade so they will be better equipped for work when they leave the school room. "I'll never get used to the hot summers here. At home when the temperature was in the 70s we thought we were having a heat wave. Maybe the winters are colder there. We didn't notice it because it was a dry climate.

This might be the reason that the holly thrives so well over there. I do miss it," she reflected. A white wooden fence surrounds the yard. If this were in Denmark it would be covered with holly.

May you sail smoothly to a year of great success.

KLAGER'S MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Editor: Let us quietly go back to strictly constitutional understanding and principles. The people are sovereign. And the sovereign people conferred upon their state government the power to represent them. The state governments, in time, felt the need for a federal agency to perform certain duties which could not be performed efficiently by the several states. They held a Constitutional convention and entered into a contract. The parties, and the only parties, to that contract

(the constitution of the United States) being the states and the federal agency. All the men power, soldiers, resources and power to produce wealth were in the states. These are still in the states to serve us whenever our elected officials wake up and claim them. The fact that state officials slept while these powers were usurped by the federal agency is no argument to continue the slumber.

The COUNCIL FOR STATEHOOD P. O. Box 1131 North Miami, Florida, 33161 has been sending informative letters to Governors and Legislators of the 50 states for three years reminding them of the powers delegated to them and NOT to the federal agency. I have received 68 of these letters and they are splendid. Isn't there some one among your readers who can influence our state officials to read these letters when they receive them?

Our state powers are a sleeping GIANT that can work wonders cleaning up the mess that Congress, the State Department, and the supreme court has pushed us into. We should give more thought to selecting Legislators and Congressmen than to who is to be president. Congress can put the President where he belongs and keep him there, if we elect patriots instead of rubber stamps in congress.

L. T. CONLIN TO LEAD MICHIGAN WEEK IN WASHTENAW COUNTY

L. Thomas Conlin, owner-manager of Conlin Travel Bureau Inc., Ann Arbor has been named Washtenaw County chairman for Michigan Week-1968. The appointment was made by Bud Kirvan, public relations manager of Dundee Cement Co., who serves as chairman of Region 16, which includes Monroe, Lanawee, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties. "We are fortunate that Tom Conlin has agreed to accept this responsibility," Kirvan said. "The magnificent job he did as chairman of the University of Michigan Sesquicentennial Birthday, indicates the organizational talent he is bringing to this position."

Mr. Conlin earned a degree in economics from the University of Michigan and also served as a security officer in the United States Air Force. Returning to Ann Arbor, he obtained control of Travel Bureau, Inc., and a year later changed the corporate name to Conlin Travel Bureau, Inc., a firm that is now among the largest travel agencies in Michigan, with two offices in Ann Arbor.

A past president of the University of Michigan Club of Ann Arbor, Conlin is a member of the National Council of Christians and Jews and a member of the Rotary Club. He will have specific charge of all county activities of Michigan Week and will appoint chairmen for the cities and villages within his county.

POSTAL RATES TO INCREASE EFFECTIVE JANUARY 7

Increased rates for all classes of mail except parcel post and international mail will go into effect January 7, Postmaster Marvin Kirk reminded postal customers

this week. "Even with the new rates of six cents for first-class mail and 10 cents for air mail, postal service is still a real bargain," Postmaster Kirk declared. "For six cents you can send a letter to any of the 50 states, to any United States territory or possession, to Canada or Mexico, or to any American serviceman stationed anywhere in the world."

Postmaster Kirk pointed out that the new rate for post cards will be five cents and for air mail post cards eight cents.

He said the added cent in the letter rate is a 20 per cent increase compared to a 24 per cent boost in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 per cent hike for advertising circulars, "occupants" mail, and other material in the third-class category.

The by rate of six cents per ounce for first-class mail applies up to 13 ounces and the new rate of 10 cents per ounce for air mail applies to 7 ounces. Under the new rate structure all first-class mail over 13 ounces and all air mail over 7 ounces will be merged into a single category.

These heavier pieces of first class and air mail subject to the single rate schedule will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

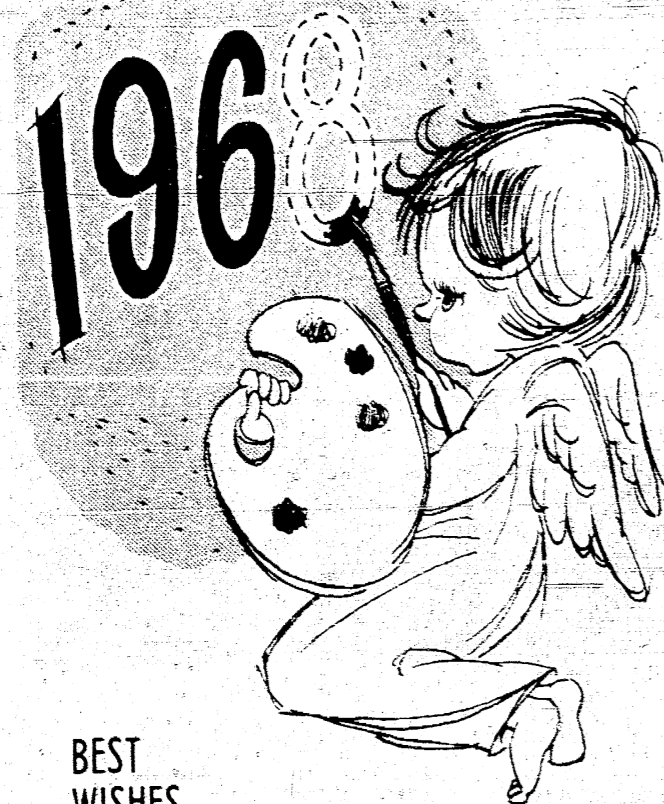

A flat rate of 80 cents will be charged for all mail in this category up to one pound. For all mail weighing more than one pound, the present air parcel post rates will continue to apply, except that the postage on matter weighing between one and five pounds will change at half-pound intervals rather than one pound intervals.

Postmaster Kirk said that the new rate structure will mean a reduction of postage on some parcels.

Another rate change that will affect the general public is the increase from four to six cents for the first two ounces of individual pieces of third-class mail. Unsealed greeting cards may be sent at this rate, Postmaster Kirk said. He emphasized that the new rate on unsealed greeting cards will not go into effect until January 7 like me sitting on the sidelines and just taking pictures, while my boys are out there playing their hearts out? No sir!

No, I just decided to put the camera away for the night and do some serious visiting.

PLACE HEADS RED CROSS BLOOD PROGRAM

Dr. Edwin H. Place of Ann Arbor has been appointed Chairman of the Washtenaw County Red Cross Chapter Blood Program, Chapter Chairman Alexander M. Moore announced. He replaces Dr. A. James French who has served for eight years as Blood Program Chairman.

Dr. French, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Pathology at the University of Michigan, requested a replacement but has agreed to continue serving as consultant Moore said. Under Dr. French's leadership the Red Cross Blood Program in Washtenaw County has more than doubled, Moore continued. His volunteer service in the growth and expansion of this essential community service was invaluable.

Dr. Place, a graduate of Wayne State Medical School, engaged in private practice in Blissfield, Michigan from 1932 to 1936 with post graduate study in Health Administration from 1936 to 1941. He received his Master of Science in Public Health from the University of Michigan in 1939. He served in the Division of Industrial Hygiene of the United States Public Health Service. And from 1946 to 1955 Dr. Place was Industrial Physician in the Oldsmobile Division of General Motors becoming Medical Director of the Hydra-Matic Division 1955 to 1965.

Dr. Place served as Blood Program Chairman while Medical Director of Hydra-Matic Division and was closely associated with the Red Cross Blood Program for the past twelve years. In addition, since 1965 he has contd. page 11

Young Thieves

NEW YORK—Sixty three percent of the persons arrested for automobile thefts during 1966 were under the age of 18, according to the Insurance Information Institute. More than 57,000 motor vehicles were stolen in the United States in 1966.

Auto Thefts Increasing

NEW YORK—Auto thefts in the United States doubled in the 10 years from 1957 to 1966, according to the Insurance Information Institute. The number of cars stolen rose from 265,000 in 1957 to nearly 557,000 in 1966.

Rising Fire Losses

NEW YORK—Property losses caused by fire in the United States rose from $161 million in 1900 to $1.5 billion in 1966, the Insurance Information Institute reports. The 1966 losses were more than double the $649 million in losses in 1950.

NOTICE

Dear Friends: Marvin and I want to thank all of you for your interest and good wishes throughout our misadventures of the past year.

Last Saturday I'd just arrived at Ben Franklin (the children looked so nice in their jackets I'd bought at Ben Franklin's sale last fall) when somebody called, Pauline, is that you? It was Marvin! Little Davy didn't even know his daddy at first - a year is a long time, especially when you're only three - but we all had a wonderful Christmas together.

By the way, Marvin and I are going to get one of those transistor radios Ben Franklin has on sale - only $6.99 - maybe we'll see you there next Saturday. Best wishes for 1968! Pauline and Marvin

BLOOD PROGRAM

contd. from page ten
been a volunteer physician in charge of numerous blood clinics. More than 200,000 people in Washtenaw County have their blood needs covered through the American Red Cross program with blood provided those protected without charge.

CEO ASKS FOR INCREASE FOR HEADSTART PROGRAM

Washtenaw County Citizens Committee for Economic Opportunity has approved a budget request for a 20 percent increase over the one recommended by federal officials for next summer's Headstart preschool program.

The request has to be submitted to the federal Office of Economic Opportunity before the $101,101 budget could become a reality. CEO chairman Albert H. Wheeler says that there may not be more than $80,000 appropriated. This was the amount recommended at the level of last year's grant.

The proposed increase is to be used primarily to improve salaries of subprofessional aides and to cover bus transportation to the Headstart centers for the children. Wheeler said that the transportation part of the program "operated in the red" last year.

The new proposal seeks to increase pay of aides from $1.50 to $2.50 per hour. If cuts are made they will be mostly in the pay of professional employees.

Included in the program will be $31,950 worth of medical, dental and psychological examinations and treatment, with the treatments to be made by doctors of the parents' choice.

Some 300 children will be included in the program in eight centers and will be operated by the Intermediate School District for eight weeks from June 26 to August 21.

The program is designed to help children of low income families educationally and socially for entering kindergarten in the fall.

Projected costs of an area occupational program for Washtenaw and Livingston Counties will be released when school planners have determined the scope and content of proposed programs, according to Earl W. Schaffer, Study Director for the two counties. At this time the planners have not set up a projected cost in terms of millage.

The cost for construction and operation for such programs are dependent upon:

1. projected growth of high school

enrollments, etc.
2. square footage of floor space required for various occupational courses

3. types of equipment required for various courses
4. number of years over which bonds are retired

5. predicted future state equalization evaluation of the school districts involved

6. available state and federal aid
Schaffer said that Oakland County is planning four area occupational education centers for high school students. In January 1967, Oakland County voters approved 1/2 mill to finance the construction and operation of four centers.

Monroe County planners, on the other hand, determined that 1.5 mills would be necessary to finance one occupational education center to serve 11th and 12th graders from all high schools in the county.

WINNING REPORT - Senator Bert E. Bursley

Let me wish each of you a Happy New Year with PEACE and PROSPERITY. We can achieve the goals of PEACE and PROSPERITY in 1968 but we must remember that Michigan's problems are closely tied to events

taking place at national level and that the United States, in turn,
is directly affected by activities
in the international sphere.

Much of what happens will be geared to the timetable of the national elections. March will witness the first of several key presidential primary elections
which start off in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, and Oregon. In August,
the Republican National Convention will be held in Miami.
Beach and later in the month
the Democrats will meet in Chicago. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, the American people will vote for a President and Representatives in Congress and in Michigan for the State House of Representatives and county officers.

If one can be so bold as to make predictions, I would suggest that President Johnson will be running against Richard Nixon. However, I think Governor Rockefeller has a good chance of beating Nixon out for the nomination. He would be my personal choice although I think both are highly qualified.

At this point, Governor Romney, for whom I have the greatest personal respect, would have to be rated a distinct underdog.

Republicans will have a good chance of winning control of the U. S. House of Representatives
but this depends upon the presidential candidacies and upon developments in the two key areas of "peace" and "prosperity."

In Lansing, the entire Michigan House of Representatives, presented Republican by a 56-54 margin is up for election. The outcome will be close and will be influenced very much by the popularity of the national tickets.

In Vietnam I would predict that the United States will achieve an increasingly striking military superiority during the spring and summer months. It is fully possible that serious negotiations toward a Vietnam peace may be undertaken in 1968. It is absolutely essential, however, that the American people accord overwhelming support to the national effort in Vietnam. Only when Hanoi appreciates that we are a united people and that we are quite willing to stay there indefinitely will they feel it advantageous to negotiate. I spent many years as a military intelligence officer in the Middle East and I emphasize that Communist goals are coldly realistic and over the long span consistent and unchanging. A premature thaw doesn't mean that the cold war is over.

Prosperity is keyed to adequate anti-inflationary measures.

We must reduce federal spending and reimpose the surtax to reduce the prospective deficit for one year of 20 billion dollars. If we don't reduce this "gap" we will have cheaper dollars, rising prices and increasing international distrust over the stability of the dollar. It would be near disastrous to devalue our dollar in terms of gold (presently $35 an ounce). Other nations would do the same and chaos in world markets would ensue.

State government will have to appropriate more to meet rising student enrollments at grade school, high school and college level. But state government will have to do this out of rising revenues and without imposing new taxes. It is my hope that the Legislature can take early action on the public school appropriation so that local school boards can negotiate teacher contracts as early as possible in the spring.

We certainly hope to avoid a rash of teacher strikes next summer.
Firm government action must be taken to maintain law and order in our cities next summer. This is a countrywide problem but we in Michigan may have to face it again this year. It is essential that understanding actions be taken to overcome the conditions that give cause to such riots.
United States influence as the leading world power is seriously undermined by racial disorders
at home - so it is to the advantage of all Americans to see that this problem is solved. The increase in crime and acts of violence in this country is alarming. Governor Romney has stressed - and I fully concur - the need for a reawakening of national morality
at grassroots level.

RESIDENTS SHOULD HAVE THEIR CHRISTMAS TREES AT THE CURB BY 8 a.m. FOR FREE VILLAGE PICK-UP BETWEEN 8 a.m. & 5 p.m. January 4 and January 11
Bruce Daniels

BOYS FROM ST. LOUIS SCHOOL at Chelsea provided the musical entertainment at the annual Christmas party at St. Mary's hall on Sunday evening. There were about fifty at the event and a number of them depicted the manger scene at Bethlehem as a part of the program.

COUPLE WED IN RITES AT ST. MARY'S

In a double ring ceremony at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Manchester at 6 p.m. Friday, December 22, Martha Jane Sodd became the bride of Ronald R. Evilsizer.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dean Sodd of 6123 Hasley Road, Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Edward Evilsizer of Logan Road, Manchester.

The Rev. Fr. Raymond R. Schlinkert officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie with silk organza and Chantilly lace train.

Her shoulder length veil was held by an arrangement of matching peau de soie, organza and lace accented with lily-of-the-valley and rose buds.

Miss Mary Beth Sodd was her sister's maid of honor. She is from Kansas City, Missouri. Bridesmaids were Miss Eileen Glady's Evilsizer, sister of the bridegroom and Misses Kristin Jean Sodd and Dianne Louise Sodd of Manchester, sisters of the bride.

All of the attendants wore floor length gowns of sapphire green metallic peau de soie styled on empire lines with short sleeves. Their headpieces matched their gowns and they carried nosegays of red roses except for the honor attendant. Her flowers were red and white roses.

Jerry Lee Evilsizer of Chelsea served as his brother's best man. Guests were seated by Kevin Marvin Kirk and Gary George Chavey, both of Manchester.

A reception was held at the Sharon townhall immediately following the ceremony.

The bridegroom is an Aviator in the United States Navy and is stationed at Albany, Georgia, where the couple plan to live.

SPENDS CHRISTMAS IN NEW JERSEY

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Furgason and Ed Gallaway flew to Parlin, New Jersey where they spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. William Furgason and family. They returned home Christmas night. It was Furgason's first time to see their new granddaughter, Deborah Louise, who was born November 15th.

FETED AT SHOWER

Katherine Kuhl was the guest of honor at a shower arranged by Mrs. George Wacker at her home last Saturday.

Miss Kuhl is bride-elect of Helge Johanson with the wedding date set for January 20.
