Know Your Candidates

The first two questions put before the candidates were: No. 1 - What do you consider the most pressing need of the village at this time? No. 2 - Would you comment on the desirability of further industrial development in the village.

JOHN ALTHOUSE Candidate for Mayor - Question No. 1

A. An ample supply of good water has been the most pressing village need for the past two years and still is most important.

too many problems during the wet fall and winter seasons. Delinquency and rowdiness seem to be increasing every year.

B. The need to improve village streets is and has been a pressing need with progress in resurfacing proceeding in accord with a five-year program initiated in 1966.

C. Delinquency - an ever-increasing community problem is now requiring more village effort and funds in an attempt to control.

Question No. 2 - Additional light manufacturing or processing within our present zoning laws, would be of substantial benefit to all.

Question No. 2 - It is common knowledge that residential tax revenue alone cannot adequately support village expense requirements.

Question No. 2 - I feel industrial development is necessary.

DONALD ROSS Candidate for Mayor - Question No. 1

Water is the most pressing need at this time.

Question No. 2 - Yes, I feel industrial development is necessary.

ALBERT GAIGE Incumbent for Council - Question No. 1

I feel that the most pressing need in the village at this time is improvement of the water system; larger and more adequate sewers and improved street conditions.

Question No. 2 - I believe that further industrial development in Manchester would help increase valuation, create more employment and buying power.

HERBERT MAHONY Incumbent for Council - Question No. 1

Although we sold our water system revenue bonds a few weeks ago, the needed improvement to our facilities will remain our most pressing need until the project is completed early this summer.

NORMAN WALZ Candidate for Council - Question No. 1

I consider the most pressing need for the village of Manchester to be: A good street program.

By this I think it would install a better outlook for industry and residential people that are interested in becoming a part of the community.

Question No. 2 - I think it would be an asset to the village and community to have more industry in Manchester.

It is the only way to get more residents into the community.

By more industry and residents it means more taxes to help support the village.

Industry will help bring other business places into the village also.

WILLIAM SCHAFFER Candidate for Council - Question No. 1

I feel the most pressing need at this time is water and streets. Our council's efforts have been directed toward the solution of this problem but there is still more to be done.

Question No. 2 - I feel we do need proper industrial development but we need further discussion and investigation into this matter.

E. GUY LITTLE Candidate for Councilman - Question No. 1

I consider good sewers, water, and streets the most pressing need of the village at this time and I would have the sewers and water lines of adequate size to handle our needs now and into the future.

Then and only then, can we build our new streets without the fear of having them torn up or dug up. This type of work must be done right and done right the first time.

Dental Student Hopes To Locate In Manchester

A friend sparked an interest in the dental career for U.S. Air Force Captain Glen Lehr. Now the long eight years of study required to become a dentist will soon end.

Mr. Lehr will graduate in May from the University of Michigan Dental School, a Doctor of Dental Surgery. He will be well-qualified as he's attended numerous schools in his Air Force and now dental career: including Michigan State, University of Omaha, University of Detroit, Boston University, University of Massachusetts and the University of Maryland.

The Lehr's moved to Manchester while Mr. Lehr was attending school in Ann Arbor. Now three and one-half years later they've decided to stay. "Good schools, a growing town with opportunities, the need for another dentist and the small-town atmosphere" were contributing factors in their decision.

Mr. Lehr hopes to open an office-clinic in Manchester on a twelve acre plot along the east side of Carr Park.

Glen and Marie Lehr met while he was in the service. She is from Fleetwood, England, a small town near our sister-city across the ocean, Manchester, England. They were married at his parents home at Pleasant Lake in 1959.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Price visited them this past summer and enjoyed some of the centennial activities.

The Lehr's attend Emanuel Church and Mrs. Lehr is secretary-treasurer of the Lydia Circle. They have three children, Christopher, Michael and Victoria. In addition to his school studies and future career, the Lehr's are busy redecorating their rambling farm house on Sanborn Road.

EDITORIAL

The following is an editorial reprinted from our first J. R. News published November 4, 1966.

We think it is high time that newscasters and reporters in this country get news stories back into their proper perspective.

We don't feel that an occasional draft card burner represents the feelings of the thousands of young men who are willing to fight and die for their country, and whose same fighting and dying assure this young "intellectual", and we use the term loosely, the right to stand and voice his opinion.

We don't think the few black power and the hand full of riot-prone Negro people represent the majority who are quietly working for full equality and getting it. We don't believe there is a new morality in this country. Young people still have the values and aims in life that our fathers and grandfathers had and we resent any implications to the contrary.

And most of all, we dislike the "loyal" Americans who join in with these minority opinions and use as their excuse for joining a riot or applauding a lawbreaker the fact that someone said it was all right in today's modern world.

We realize that we need to have all news reported factually and fully, but we don't need the added inclination that this is representative of people's feelings. When we read a newspaper we expect to find the article on a draft card burner in its proper place, the 24th page, inside lower column, with a small headline and one paragraph in length.

MICHIGAN TAXPAYERS WILL BE REQUIRED TO PAY THEIR SHARE OF COST OF FEDERAL SPENDING

Michigan Taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $9,025,850,000 in federal taxes as their share in the cost of the federal spending budget of $186.1 billion proposed by President Johnson for the federal fiscal year beginning July 1, 1968, according to an estimate made by the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. This estimate is based on the State Chamber's calculations that Michigan taxpayers bear 4.85% of all federal taxes.

Harry R. Hall, President of the Michigan State Chamber stated that, "The $9 billion plus share which will be borne by Michigan taxpayers to support the proposed budget is about 7 times the total budget proposed by Governor Romney for Michigan expenditures. Naturally, any reduction or increase made by Congress in this budget will either reduce or increase the amount that Michigan taxpayers will pay. It is indeed distressing to realize that the Federal Government is proposing a huge increase of more than $10.5 billion over the current estimate of the 1968 fiscal year. Congress should take immediate steps to reject pro-

WASHINGTON REPORT - Marvin L. Esch, Congressman

The State of the Union Address by President Johnson before a Joint Session of the House of Representatives and the Senate offered the nation little new in terms of hope for peace in Vietnam or programs for progress here at home.

FIREMEN CALLED

Shortly after noon last Thursday, firemen were called to the home of Eugene Kryzaniak at 8105 Eiseeman Road. A fire started accidentally in an upstairs bedroom. Damage was estimated at $500 to the house and $200 to the contents, according to Fire Chief, Jim Kensler.

A small town is the place where a fellow with a black eye doesn't have to explain - they already know.

restrictions on our willingness to enter into talks and to bring the war to an end.

In matters relating to the nation's foreign policy commitments in other parts of the globe, the President was nearly silent. He entirely ignored the crumbling of our relations with NATO and avoided altogether the immense policy questions posed to our nation by Great Britain's announced withdrawal from its overseas military stations. This nation can ill afford to avoid the major questions facing our relationships with our staunch friends of Western Europe. Foreign policy experts have argued in recent months that the Administration's concentration on the problem of Vietnam to the exclusion of all other foreign policy matters has led to the swift erosion of NATO. There was nothing in the President's speech to allay that concern.

I was also pleased to note that the President's interest in the plight of the farmer and look forward with interest to seeing his specific program proposals.

There is insufficient space in this column to discuss the entire State of the Union Address and the many significant issues which it raised. These will be the issues to which the Congress must address itself in the months ahead and I will continue to discuss them with you through this forum. In the meantime, I would appreciate your comments on the President's speech and the issues facing us in 1968.

SENIOR CITIZENS SEEKING PROPERTY TAX REDUCTION SHOULD APPLY

It's time for persons seeking a property tax reduction under Michigan's Senior Citizen Homestead Tax Exemption Law to apply at their local assessor's office.

Last year this law meant an average savings per senior citizen of $95.88. The state spend $16 million reimbursing local units of government for the tax loss.

All eligible Michigan homeowners who are 65 years of age and over will need to file an affidavit for a tax reduction for their 1968 taxes. Those who applied last year must file again.

Applicants may file between Jan. 3 and sometime in March, a date set by each local assessor's office. There are no lien provisions attached to the Homestead Tax Exemption Act, and there will be no attempt by state or local governments to collect from the heirs or otherwise attach the property.

Michigan residents of more than 15 years, aged 65 or over, are eligible for the exemption if their homesteaded real property tax value does not exceed $20,000, and their gross income does not top $5,000.

Each applicant must supply a deed, land contract, or mortgage; a birth certificate or other legal proof of age; a recent tax bill or bills for all real property owned; and his social security number.

He should be prepared to give the true cash value of property owned out of the state of Michigan, and a statement of income.

OVERLOOKED DEDUCTIONS AVAILABLE FOR CHILD-CARE AND OTHER EXPENSES

A frequently overlooked deduction available to certain taxpayers is the deduction for child-care and disabled dependent care. In addition to the dependency deduction, employed women and widowers may deduct up to $900 paid for the care of certain dependents.

Remember that the taxes actually paid in the year are the amount of the deduction. If you paid local income taxes in 1967 that were based on 1966 income, the deduction is taken in 1967. CASUALTY LOSSES - Losses arising from fire, storm, or auto accident or from theft may result in tax deductions.

BAND BOOSTERS WILL HOLD CANDY SALE

The Manchester Band Booster's Club will hold a candy sale at the Union Savings Bank Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, February 2 and 3 and February 9 and 10.

The Band Boosters is an organization of parents whose children are involved in the instrumental music program in the Manchester School system. The main purpose of this group is to provide financial support for a variety of band and orchestra functions.

The funds are used in many ways; graduating seniors who qualify are presented variety blankets, young people in the music program receive recognition awards and several musicians are recognized through receipt of scholarships to attend summer music camps such as Interlocken, Blue Lake Fine Arts and Smith-Walbridge Camp.

Proceeds from the Candy Sale will be used for the various projects explained above.

A father down the block is going to have to start all over again on the fund to send his boy to college now that it has been wiped out by the cost of getting him enrolled in first grade.

The daylight saving idea comes from an old Indian who cut off one end of his blanket and sewed it on the other to make it longer.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Until such time all students learn to respect the rules and authority of a school bus, and its driver there cannot be a driver who isn't risking his life, and those who are passengers on said bus. When quick disciplinary measures are made by the driver (be they right or wrong at the time), it is the driver's AUTHORITY that should rule out.

I am only one parent who appeals to parents of ALL children who ride the school buses every day or once in a while to a game. Teach your children that it is a mode of transportation, and a privilege, not a playground morning and night.

Let me ask you, "When driving your car, do you allow screams, whistling, jumping from one seat to another?" Assuming you do not, magnify these actions ten times and you are in a bus with an uncontrolled load of students.

I am all for the good old-fashioned paddle, for the "little kids" or elementary students. As for the high school students, if they do not know that classroom conduct is expected of them, then the school policy should be such that a student is warned one time and then, it is suspension.

Does this sound hard? You're darn right it does, but I am sick of hearing about all the terrible things kids do on school buses. In the name of common sense, parents, wake up and see you are casting the mold, be it a perfect shape or mishappen.

Now that I have given vent of my feelings toward the kids, let me also add, it is the responsibility of the bus supervisor, and the school administration to hire qualified drivers. By this I mean competent, no matter the number of years behind the wheel.

COOPERATE OR STARVE!

The world is "on a collision course with disaster" -- that disaster is starvation. It has been estimated that in the next two decades worldwide food supply must be increased by 50 per cent and in many heavily populated areas by at least 100 per cent in the same period of time.

Through advanced technology, the developed nations using modern agricultural chemicals, machinery and know-how can feed themselves with abundance, while in other lands actual starvation is widespread and insufficient food is a chronic condition of life. Unless this imbalance can be corrected, the chance for any stable peace among the nations is in the long run virtually nil. A hungry individual or nation will sooner or later take desperate measures to wrest from his more affluent neighbor that which he must have to stay alive.

agricultural chemicals have become a major factor in making the U. S. farmer the most productive on earth. The private enterprise, profit incentive system has encouraged investment in research, production facilities and marketing with the result that out of almost 500 individual pesticides, 364 originated in the United States.

The U. S. Agricultural Chemicals industry is now cooperating with international organizations and trade associations of other nations to insure that artificial barriers, such as prohibitive tariffs or unrealistic pesticide tolerance standards for minute traces of chemicals in food, do not restrict free movement between countries of surplus food or of the chemicals required to protect crops both in production and storage.

THOMAS REED PARTICIPATED IN MSU JUDGING

Thomas H. Reed, son of Mrs. Evalyne A. Reed of 8418 Hyde Road, Clark Lake was a member of the 1967 Michigan State University Livestock Judging Team which participated in six inter-collegiate competitions during the year.

Team membership is an outgrowth of enrollment in MSU's Livestock selection class where students learn to evaluate breeding livestock and market animals on the basis of slaughter value and future reproductive capacity.

The 1967 team, MSU's 67th consecutive one, has compiled one of the most impressive records yet according to Dr. Harlan Ritchie, team coach and assistant professor of animal husbandry.

The team placed second at the North Central Regional Contest last spring at Purdue University. This fall, it placed first at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., first at the American Royal Livestock Exposition at Kansas City, second at the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition in Harrisburg, and fourth at the Eastern National in Timonium, Md.

MICHIGAN INCOME TAX AS IT RELATES TO FARMERS

Under the new law adopted October 1, farmers are not required to withhold state income tax, but they should supply a copy of the W-2 form to each of their workers. Except for exemptions, rules are the same as those for Federal income tax filing.

Anyone with a Michigan Income Tax liability of over $100 as a self-employed person, who is not subject to withholding, must file an estimate and pay quarterly or in advance. In 1968, farmers will have a choice of filing an estimate of 1968 Michigan Income Tax liability including a payment on January 15, 1969, after the end of their tax year, with a final payment by April 15, 1969, or they can file a final return, including payment, on February 15, 1969.

On farm partnership returns, the income for state taxation should be prorated for each of the members. In a corporation, the dividends received and the wages from the corporation are all part of an individual's income and need to be filed as such.

Individual taxpayers pay Michigan income tax based on their Federal gross income figure. The most common is personal exemption for each dependent allowed by the Federal return. At $1,200 per exemption, this would be $300 for the quarter of a year reported for 1967. Also, interest income received as an obligation of the Federal Government can be excluded, and credit can be obtained for income that has been taxed under the Michigan Business Activities Tax Law.

For all types of income, the taxpayer has the choice of reporting his last quarter's income subject to taxes or he can report a quarter of his total for the year, whichever is more advantageous.

At the same time, several items must be added in adjusting gross income for Michigan income taxation. These include interest received from the obligations of states other than Michigan and gain or loss resulting from the sale of assets. Only the prorated gain or loss for the time held since the beginning of Michigan income tax need to be included.

Income tax credit, to be received for property taxes paid in the new law. However, it is not effective until the taxable year beginning January 1, 1968.

The Michigan Department of Treasury will be soon mailing a set of instructions and reporting forms. For further information, contact your county agricultural agent.

Reed, a junior majoring in animal husbandry, was seventh high individual in the North Central Contest, fifth high individual in the American Royal, and tenth high in the Pennsylvania National Livestock Exposition.

FARM NEWS

FARM LAND TREND IN STATE CONTINUES

Never in more than a century have there been as few farms as there are in Michigan today, but the average acreage in today's farms is the largest it has ever been.

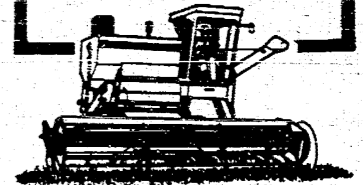

The trend toward fewer and larger farms has been going on for years and is nationwide. Nationally the number of farms has shrunk a quarter since 1959. On Jan. 1 there were 89,000 farms in the state. This is 3,000 less than a year ago when there were 92,000, says the Lansing office of the Crop Reporting Service which is maintained by the USDA and the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

While farms are dwindling numerically, the average size is going the other way. On Jan. 1 the average size of the Michigan farm was 152 acres, and a year ago it was 145 acres. The year before that it was 142 acres.

Total land in Michigan farms is expected to be about 13 1/2 million acres this year. This is about 200,000 acres less than a year ago.

J. V.s FLYING HIGH

The J. V.s beat Clinton Friday night 70 to 68 and then beat Chelsea Saturday night 55 to 50.

The big man for the J. V.s Friday night was big Scott Sloat. He scored the last two points with just one second to go. It was an exciting basketball game all the way.

Jeff Stevens played another fine game. He was high man for the J. V.s with 31 points. Richard Schable had 18 points. Big Scott Sloat had ten points but two of them he will remember for a long time.

The Chelsea game was not near as exciting because the J. V.s had this ball game well in hand. Lynn Niehaus and Jeff Stevens each had 15 points. Mike Hamilton had 7 points.

The next game will be Friday at Novi. "Keep Flying J. V.s!"

IT'S CLINTON AGAIN 92 - 80

The Dutchmen played one of their better games against Clinton Friday night but it still was not good enough.

The Dutchmen kept the game close until the fourth quarter - then Clinton took off.

High point getter for the Dutch was Rick Lowery with 28 points. Dan Smith had 20 points and Bob Pratt had 12 points.

The Dutchmen went to Chelsea Saturday night and played the Bulldogs right off the floor with a 68 to 52 victory.

Dan Smith and Rick Lowery each had 14 points. Bill Panches had 10 points. See you at Novi Friday.

WRESTLING HERE THURSDAY

The Manchester Wrestling team lost to Monroe-Jefferson last Wednesday 30 to 22, but there were a few bright spots for the Dutch.

In the pictures above you will see Lynn Alber in one and Bruce Haeussler in the other. Also, you will see Bruce's father and mother, along with brother, Hugh, cheering them on.

Bruce won his match by a decision. Lynn pinned his man - and what a man! 257 pounds. WOW! Nice going Lynn.

Don't forget Thursday night there. Preliminary matches start at 7:30 p.m. See you there.

FRESHMEN BEAT CLINTON 51 - 38

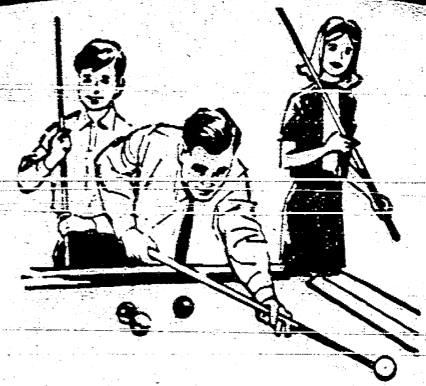

The Freshmen played a hustling game against Clinton Monday night. Dave Tapping played another one of his fine games. He had 16 points with 13 rebounds. John Weidmayer had 13 points and 13 rebounds. Phil Nickerson had 12 points.

At its January 22 meeting the Manchester Optimist Club honored Nancy Kennedy with the Outstanding Citizenship Award. Miss Kennedy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kennedy of 6379 M-52, is an eighth grader at the Manchester Junior High School.

For the past two years in Junior High, Nancy has maintained an "A" average in her studies, a record she also achieved in the elementary grades. Presently she serves as the treasurer for the junior high chorus and plays piano accompaniment for this group. In addition, she has been a very active 4-H Club member for the past four years and just recently received the Washtenaw County 4-H Dairy Foods Award for 1967. Nancy is also a member of the Sharon Evangelical United Brethren Church Youth Fellowship group. She is interested in sports and believes she would like to be a

LOOKING AROUND

A British Columbia lumber company will use three huge, helium-filled balloons to fly logs out of thick forests where tractors can not penetrate.

A barn owned by farmer J. D. Fink burned to the ground in Cleveland, North Carolina, when the town's fire engines would not start because their batteries were dead. Fire Chief Joe Bradford said children go in the fire station, turn on the truck radios, run down the batteries.

THREE ACCIDENTS MAR WEEKEND

Three accidents occurred within an hour of each other Sunday night. All three happened at the intersection of M-52 and E. Austin Road. At 7:36 p.m. a car driven by John L. Mooneyham of 622 Sunset Drive, Manchester crashed sideways into the embankment at the end of M-52. Mr. Mooneyham sustained a broken back but managed to walk to the Bull Pen where he called officers. About five minutes later, before officers could arrive, a car driven by Gary Richard Hamden of 1102 Willow Road, Tecumseh plowed into the Mooneyham car. The driver was unhurt.

At 8:48 p.m. Dennis Lee Martinus and his passenger, Nina Strang went through the end of M-52 and up the embankment. Neither of these people were hurt. Dennis resides on Holloway Road, Adrian and Nina Strang lives at 220 Union Street, Manchester.

At 1:10 a.m. Sunday a car driven by Paul Leon Burkhardt of 2432 Lenawee Highway, Palmyra, left the road at the corner of City Road and Riverside Drive. No one was injured.

Also on Sunday night officers interrupted an attempted breaking and entering at the Country Market. A window in the front door had been smashed. Officers said that moments before the glass had been unbroken so they figured they had interrupted the break-in attempt.

Sportsman Club Growing Steadily

The Manchester Sportsman Club is located on Grossman Rd. on twenty acres of beautiful rolling hills of maple, oak and pine trees. The club house is 32' by 72' with parking facilities with expansion planned for the near future. The club house is used regularly for wedding receptions and private parties in addition to the club-planned activities.

The Sportsman Club is active in community affairs and sponsors a trap shoot in the fall, fox hunts, fishing trips to area lakes and a Boy Scout Troop. Twice monthly they sponsor a dance, open to the public and featuring the Lorenz Wackenhut Band. Newly elected president, Spec Kappler declares these dances to be "especially fun for everyone with square dancing, round dancing and everything in between. Come join the fun."

Other officers are Claren Knauss, Sr., Vice-president; Francis Heckaman, Secretary; Recording Secretary, Walt Kies; and A. E. Patterson, Treasurer. These men are the 15th elected officers of the Sportsman Club since its first official election in 1953. Although a relatively new club, it now has over 100 members.

It all began with ten men who had a common interest - hunting. These men gathered often at Pat Patterson's sporting goods store and decided to find a place to target practice. Hank Sokolowski gave them permission to use his gravel pit which became their target area for almost four years. By then, interest had grown; other sportsmen heard of their activities and eventually twenty acres were purchased from Frank Clagon on Grossman Road.

It took a great deal of hard, dedicated work to build a club house but it was completely built by Sportsman Club members. Work began in May, 1963 and the official dedication took place in 1966. One of these charter members who worked so diligently was Lorenz Burkhardt who was then given the honor of first president in the new club house with 27 charter members then. The first officers of the Manchester Sportsman Club were A. E. Patterson, President; Gaylord Knauss, Vice-President; Lawrence DeVerna, Secretary; Harold Dresch, Treasurer; and Stanton Roesch, Legal Advisor.

This is a club the members are justly proud of and feel still more can be accomplished by active participation of its present members and the new members who will join in the future. President Spec Kappler adds, "Some members have worked exceptionally hard with donated hours to get where we are today."

Membership includes men from Chelsea, Brooklyn, Bridgewater, Novi, Clinton, Tecumseh and the surrounding community. "New active members are most welcome and members of the club have information for sportsmen interested in joining," President Spec Kappler adds.

CATHOLIC SOCIAL SERVICES TO HOLD ANNUAL DINNER

The Catholic Social Services of Washtenaw County announces its Ninth Annual Dinner Meeting to be held at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, February 13 in the Michigan Union Ballroom. The Honorable Francis L. O'Brien, Judge of Washtenaw County Probate Court will speak on the topic, "Our Community and Our Youth."

Know Your Candidates

This week's questions are: No. 1 - What do you foresee as being one of our biggest problems in the future? No. 2 - Do you feel anything can be done to promote more public interest and participation in council activities? Don't forget that all these candidates are running as Republicans. This means that your next mayor and council will be decided at the primary election on Monday Feb. 19.

For mayor are two candidates, you will choose one. For council, there are nine (9) running, you will choose three (3). The regular election held in March will be only a formality, as everyone is running on one ticket. If you want to help elect our next officials, you must do so in the Primary.

Wendell Reinhart - Council

No. 1 One of the problems in the future will be housing. As we improve on water, sewer and street programs and make plans for more industrial development, we will need more homes. We will need middle-priced and more expensive homes. When key men of industry move in our village, it makes a healthy condition.

No. 2 I think one of the ways to create interest is through public relations. We must keep our people informed. Our paper has already started to do this.

Our people should feel free to visit our council meetings at any time.

Some people would rather just talk to their councilman than to attend the meetings and they should feel free to do this also.

John Althouse - Mayor

No. 1 Proper planning for our village future is or should be of prime concern to every village official and citizen.

The lack of sound physical and financial planning today will be our biggest problem of the future. No. 2 Attempts in the form of questionnaires have indicated little interest in Village affairs. Methods of stimulation of concern in public affairs are no doubt many and could include such methods as citizens committees and more active press coverage of village affairs.

James Scully - Council

No. 1 Without being directly involved in the Village activities, it is quite difficult for me to look into the future and point out particular problems. I do feel though that our need for storm sewers will probably become one of our biggest problems.

No. 2 A lot of things could be done to promote more public interest, but I don't think it should be done this way. I feel that the people themselves have to be interested enough in the Village to attend the council activities without a personal invitation.

E. Guy Little - Council

No. 1 I foresee streets as our biggest problem. My reasoning for this is as follows: (1) It is the most expensive problem confronting the village. (2) Our present streets give non-residents such a poor image of Manchester, it turns away many potential investors for our village, whether they live in home or business.

No. 2 Yes, we must try to promote the active interest of citizens and not continue as we do now with a reaction-type interest only. I would propose that Council keep the public informed on all their meetings as they do now, but also include a statement on the agenda for these meetings. I feel that

Spec Kappler To Retire Feb. 9

On February 9, Spec Kappler will retire from Double A Products Company Maintenance Department after fourteen years of employment. Prior to that he was a carpenter and bricklayer in the Manchester area. He's lived in Manchester all his life and says, "I love this community and it's wonderful to have lots of friends. I speak to everyone, young people as well because I dearly love youngsters."

Spec Kappler is the newly elected president of the Manchester Sportsman Club. His favorite hobbies are fishing, playing euchre where is is currently involved in the American Legion Euchre Tournament, and although he doesn't bowl anymore, he is an enthusiastic roofer for his one-time Manchester team.

He lives on Duncan Street with his wife, Ada, formerly of Jackson. Spec has three sisters and five brothers.

Friday, February 9 is also special in another way for Spec. It is his 65th birthday. With his enthusiasm, hobbies and many friends, Laurence "Spec" Kappler will probably enjoy his retirement to the fullest.

BPW To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

On February 10, 1968 the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will celebrate their 50th anniversary. The Manchester BPW received their Charter on May 14, 1960 and since have been responsible for various community projects.

In 1960, they sponsored the Miss Washtenaw County for Miss Michigan Contest with three area girls participating. In 1963, they founded the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of Manchester, presently known as the Dollars for Scholars and have sponsored several rummage sales and baked goods sales with all profits donated to the scholarship fund. Ed is also secretary of the Optimist Club and an usher at St. Mary's Church.

the publication of these agendas might be the spark that could kindle the fire of interest.

Joseph Fitzgerald - Council

No. 1 The problem that I believe will be one of our biggest concerns in the future is present today only on a smaller scale. The need for improvement within the town on a limited budget. By improvements, I mean sanitary as well as a storm sewer program. Also a sound street program, where-in once you have improved a street or section of that street you are done with it.

No. 2 No I personally don't believe a set program could be initiated to stir interest in the Council for the majority of the people of Manchester. The people of Manchester in the past as present will be on hand to be counted when an issue is forced.

Donald Ross - Mayor

No. 1 At this time it would be hard to say what would be the biggest problem in the future when we have so many right now.

There is the water situation, the bad roads, no recreational facilities for the young people and inadequate housing. Many people now working in Manchester have had to find housing elsewhere because they just can't find houses in the village.

No. 2 Yes, like a new building and everything on the ground floor. More of the public and especially our senior citizens would attend these meetings if they knew they would not have to climb 20 or 30 steps to the second floor. Also, more publicity as to the day and time of these meetings.

Albert Gaige - Council

No. 1 Personally I believe that the biggest problem in the future will
