

NEW POST OFFICE FOR BRIDGEWATER

Under the Department's Lease Construction program Mrs. and Mr. Travis G. Barnes will improve the building according to departmental specifications and rent it to the Department on a month to month basis.

The new one-story building will offer more working room. It will have an interior space of 414 square feet and 1,200 square feet of parking and maneuvering area.

Mr. O'Brien explained that the Department's capital investment is limited substantially to postal equipment. The building will remain under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes.

SHAKESPEARE READING CLUB WILL MEET

The Shakespeare Reading Club will meet at the Emanuel Fellowship Hall on Tuesday, February 27 at 2:00 p.m. Mrs. Louis Vogel will be guest speaker and each member is asked to bring a guest.

In the old days, the man who saved money was a miser; nowadays he's a wonder.

EXPECTANT PARENTS CLASSES TO BEGIN

A new series of classes for expectant parents sponsored by the Ann Arbor Visiting Nurse Association and the Washtenaw County Health Department will begin next week. The classes are held two times a week on Monday and Thursday evenings at 7:30 p.m. in Room 117A of the Washtenaw County Building.

The first class covers the general topic "How Your Baby Grows Before Birth". Other subjects to be covered in later classes include layette, labor and delivery and care of the newborn infant.

The series will be taught by Miss Karen Korte, R.N., and Mrs. Jacqueline Crankshaw, R.N. Public Health Nurses, and will continue for seven weeks. The registration fee is $2.50 per couple. A special class for fathers is planned, and information is available on hospital tours and related classes.

SCOUTS SPEND CHILLY BUT EXCITING WEEKEND

Thirty-one boys and two scoutleaders, Larry England and Ted Roberts, braved the blistery winds and cold last weekend at a winter survival camp, Camp Buree at a camp site near Whitmore Lake.

The boys, all between the ages of 11 and 15, are from Troop 426, Troop 436 and Post 404. Special awards are one goal for the scouts as well as an adventurous weekend. They built lean-to shelters, cooked over open fires and were reported to have had a cold, but exciting weekend.

Probate Judge Ross W. Campbell has announced that he has set aside Monday afternoons from 2:00 to 4:30 p.m. and Friday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the schedule of the Estate and Mental Health Division of the Washtenaw County Probate Court for otherwise unscheduled meetings with members of the public.

Judge Campbell invites anyone having a problem involving an estate, mental health, secret marriage, or guardianship matter which is not presently pending.

Professor B. J. George, Jr., Chairman, Criminal Code Revision Committee, Michigan Bar Association states, "Michigan is the only state with a law combining the various above-mentioned factors in such a manner as to permit a person to escape prosecution for a major crime, even though mentally-competent and legally sane, by initiating criminal sexual psychopath proceedings and upon commitment, removing himself permanently from the jurisdiction of the court."

Dean Milligan, CSP State Chairman pointed out, "The success of this state-wide mental health project is entirely up to each local chapter," and behind the Manchester Jaycees are you as parents and citizens. Behind any legislative law passage is public support. If you wish to support this program, petitions will be available for your signature in several village stores. One hundred signatures are needed so please support this program for changing the present Criminal Sexual Psychopath Law.

These are not problems faced by citizens far from our community -- this is happening in communities less than twenty miles away. It is a problem we must concern ourselves with.

Rep. Smith, 52nd District, states, "The problems noted in the fair but effective handling of criminal sexual psychopaths are to a large extent due to flaws in the statute itself." In his report of the special committee on mental health legislation for criminal cases he pointed out that CSP Act makes no provision for the treatment of these offenders until a felony or third misdemeanor brings them to court, the Act permits misuse of its provisions to escape prosecution for crimes unrelated to sexual psychopathy, and many times a person is released after an unreasonably short period of treatment and confinement.

Jaycees Collecting Signatures To Change State Law

A community petition drive for changing the Criminal Sexual Psychopath Law will be conducted by the Manchester Jaycees in support of the Dexter Jaycee program already underway.

"This petition is not a legal document, therefore, any concerned citizen may sign it," Dean Milligan, State CSP Chairman, Dexter Jaycees, assures residents. "We will present Rep. Roy Smith, Chairman of the Criminal Psychopath (CSP) Committee, all petitions collected, showing the state-wide support for changing the CSP law."

The present psychopath laws are insufficient for the rising problem of the criminal sexual psychopaths. This is an alarming problem and concerns everyone. There has been child-molesting, gross indecency with young children and reoccurrences of criminal sexual acts from such persons who admit they will undoubtedly continue to commit such acts when released from confinement.

These are not problems faced by citizens far from our community -- this is happening in communities less than twenty miles away. It is a problem we must concern ourselves with.

Rep. Smith, 52nd District, states, "The problems noted in the fair but effective handling of criminal sexual psychopaths are to a large extent due to flaws in the statute itself." In his report of the special committee on mental health legislation for criminal cases he pointed out that CSP Act makes no provision for the treatment of these offenders until a felony or third misdemeanor brings them to court, the Act permits misuse of its provisions to escape prosecution for crimes unrelated to sexual psychopathy, and many times a person is released after an unreasonably short period of treatment and confinement.

Under the proposed bill, the State Board of Education would be charged with the responsibility of carrying out the provisions of the proposed law and of ensuring that the monies granted are used by parents to meet part of the educational costs they incur to send their children to a non-public school.

The non-public school attendees by the child would certify to the state that the child is enrolled at the school and is taking two or four of the "secular" courses listed in the proposed law.

No educational grants would be paid to parents for any formal course in religious doctrine or worship.

The sponsors of the bill estimated it would take an appropriation of $21 million to pay the educational grants to the parents of children who attend Michigan's nearly 1,000 non-public schools.

The appropriation, they said, would come from the state's General Fund and would not in any way be taken from funds now appropriated for public education.

The bill opens with a preamble which outlines the contributions made by Michigan's non-public schools and discusses their declining enrollments and the impact the drop in non-public enrollments is having on public education.

Koebbe Welding A Busy Place

Gale Koebbe working on a lathe in the shop.

Since January, 1966, the Koebbe Welding Shop on the corner of Eldon and W. Main Streets has been operated by Gale Koebbe and Jim Lyon. Prior to that it was owned by Earl Koebbe.

The original shop was in a building where the Union Savings Bank parking lot is now located. Some twenty-five years ago, Earl Koebbe moved the shop to the present location which he had built almost entirely himself.

During the war years, steel was scarce and he had to rely on his own skill for much of the building materials. As a welding shop should not be made of wood, he put up cement block walls, then made the tresses and steel decking for the roof and metal window frames. Eventually he taught his son, Gale the welding trade.

Today, Koebbe Welding does a great deal of construction equipment repair for area companies such as Union Construction, Doug Higgins, Hadden Milling of Tatumsh and Atlas Feed and Grain. They also repair farm equipment and make smaller items such as clothesline poles, log chains of various sizes from 3/4" to 1 1/2", weighing up to 60 pounds.

They are equipped for any number of steel and welding jobs with three drill presses, three hydraulic presses, three lathe machines, three shop welders and one portable welder. They have about 50 ton of structural, sheet and plate steel in stock for their use as well as retail sale. Koebbe Welding also has oxygen-acetylene gas from Jackson Welding for retain sale which is used for welding torches.

Non-public school enrollments, which hit a peak of 361,000 in 1964, have declined by 30,000 children during the current school year and these students, now attending public schools, "require an expenditure of $18 million of public monies by the State or Michigan and Michigan school districts" to educate these children, the preamble points out.

"It is in the best interest of the taxpayers of the State of Michigan and Michigan school districts for non-public elementary and secondary schools to continue their operation," it continues.

The preamble states that large numbers of non-public school children transferring to public schools "would threaten the quality of education offered to children . . . in the public schools because of the additional funds that would be necessary to educate these children."

Non-public schools "fulfill a public purpose by serving the general welfare of the people of the State of Michigan," it concludes.

Optimist Hold Farmer's Night

The annual Optimist "Farmers Night" was very successful. The meeting was held at Emanuel Church last Monday evening. Eighty-seven members and guests were in attendance.

After a roast beef dinner was served, first master, Chick Kirk took the floor. He said he had heard of the three Scotsmen who drew lots to see who fainted in church so the other two could carry him out just before the collection plate was passed, but he just recently learned of two Manchester businessmen who both fainted at a restaurant so their cousin would have to pay the bill. Rollie Grossman and Ron Jenter both reached in their pockets. Rollie asked Chick if he would take a small box instead of the fine money. It sounded like money inside so Chick opened the box only to find a mouse trap inside. He also fined Rollie for trying to ride to the hospital on Ron's ambulance fee. Rollie said that was because Ron had the most comfortable cot in the ambulance.

After the fines were assessed, Lorenz Wackenhut or "Red and his Sportsmen" played some numbers for the group. These included waltz, polka, and modern music.

Speaker for the evening was Judge William Agar, Jr., Circuit Judge from Ann Arbor. He gave a very inspiring talk on the probable causes of the increased crime rate among young people. He said he felt the biggest reason was a lack of good old-fashioned discipline.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:30 p.m.

Iron Creek Study Group will meet at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Bloom, Thursday, March 7 for a potluck luncheon featuring Mexican food at 12:30.

Optimist Citizen Of The Week

Lyle Jacob of the Manchester High School Junior Class has been honored by the Manchester Optimist Club with the Outstanding Citizen Award. Lyle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jacob, Jr. of 18233 Pleasant Lake Road.

Lyle, a member of the Emanuel Church, enjoys sports and playing the drums. For the past three years, Lyle has been a member of the high school band and is president of the band this year. This year when drums were added to the Varsity Choir, Lyle filled the position very well. Lyle is very active in high school athletics. This year he was a varsity football player, is presently a member of the varsity basketball team and is a varsity baseball player. In his sophomore year, Lyle received a Citizenship Award from his class.

Lyle is not sure of his plans after graduation, but he thinks he would like to be an electrician.

STATE AID

A bill is now before the legislature in Lansing concerning government aid to non-public schools.

While we don't claim to know the facts concerning this measure, we base our decision on what we feel government should or shouldn't be involved in.

We're against the government giving any support to these schools or the parents whose children attend them.

We recently talked to a man who came from Hungary just before it was taken over. He stated in a simple phrase what we feel was the intention of our constitution and bill of rights. He said, "Hungary used to be like this country, then the government took over everything, now it's no good to live there."

JUSTICE?

We're sure you are all aware of the recent controversy concerning the running of the Washtenaw County Jail by Sheriff Harvey.

We support Sheriff Harvey because we think it's time we stopped being more concerned with criminal rights than the victims. Jail was never intended to be a "nice place to spend a few days." Jail is a form of punishment or at least it used to be.

True, we don't believe in cruel punishment of any prisoner. We wouldn't, for instance, condone beating a confession out of anyone, but neither do we think a prisoner should have a private room and bath with a feather bed.

If there are irregularities, we are sure they would be discovered by the inspector whose job it is to watch for these things. If any one has a complain against the Sheriff, they can voice it loudly in this fall's election. Sheriff Harvey was elected by a majority of Washtenaw County citizens because they believed he would do a good job. We hope the Sheriff has the moral courage to continue running the jail as he thinks best. We'll support him until we see him giving in to a small group of protesters.

TAX REFUNDS HELD IN PROCESSING

Income tax refunds of 713 taxpayers in Michigan, who filed Forms 1040 and 1040A without correct Social Security numbers, are being held up in processing.

Even if the IRS is able to verify the correct number from Social Security Administration records, there is a delay in processing the refund, A. M. Stoepler, IRS District Director said.

If the IRS has to contact the taxpayer to obtain a correct Social Security number, which is vital in identifying the return for processing by computers, there is generally further delay, he said. Other types of taxpayer errors are slowing IRS computer processing at the IRS Service Center in Cincinnati, Ohio, where Michigan returns are processed, Mr. Stoepler noted. Most of these errors occur because the instructions sent to taxpayers with returns are not being followed.

Up to last week, he reported 743 returns had been filed without the necessary signatures. These will have to be sent back to the taxpayers before refunds can be processed.

AGRICULTURE in Action

Soon, if all goes as planned, Michigan's newly chosen "Most Outstanding" young farmer and his wife will board a non-stop jet to Washington, D. C. and a guided, all-expense tour of our nation's capital. Included will be a study of great Americans and great documents. There will be a visit to the newly opened Ford's Theater where Lincoln was shot and to the home, nearby, where Lincoln died. A trip by bus to George Washington's home at Mount Vernon will include a stop at Arlington National Cemetery and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers. A breakfast is planned with Michigan's Republican delegation to Congress and a luncheon with Michigan Democrats. There will be a visit to the Bureau of Printing and Engraving (where money is made) and the White House and Congress (where money is spent) followed by a press conference at the National Press Club. The trip -- a gift of the Michigan Farm Bureau, is only one of many awards and honors that will come to the state's top young farm couple, in an annual program sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Michigan. The "Jaycees" -- with typical enthusiasm, use the program to spotlight the problems and achievements of modern young farmers - state and national.

This year's field of 15 Michigan candidates include: James Bigelow, Alma; Charles Bracey, Ovid; Robert Bust, Allendale; R. James Cook, Howell; Samuel J. Elliott, Ypsilanti; Robert Gasper, Ciesaning; Robert Harper, Ypsilanti; and Richard Kroegel, Bangor.
Others are: Alan Mandigo, Paw Paw; Russell Myers, Battle Creek; Wesley S. Prine, Springport; Gerald Slocum, Hart; Robert Squanda, Saginaw; Kermit Stevens, Adrian; and Edward Wawernia, Grand Ledge.
All were nominated by their local Jaycee Chapters and four of the list will be named the state's top four young farmers. In a final announcement climaxing the awards program, one will be picked as "Most Outstanding." This state winner will compete in a national contest held later in the spring.

ANGUS SHOW AND SALE SET FOR MARCH 8 & 9

The largest crowd of Angus buyers in Futurity history is expected to attend the 1968 Michigan Angus Futurity Show & Sale, March 8 and 9, at the Michigan State University Livestock Pavilion. According to R. S. Underhill, this year's Futurity Chairman, the reason for this high interest is due to the excellent quality of females and bulls entered... all animals consigned have met certain standard grading qualifications, so the buyer knows ahead of time the high type of quality to expect.
Also of great interest to Angus purchasers will be the featuring of such attractions as the 1st prize Summer Yearling Bull, American Royal Show; 2nd prize Senior Bull calf, Michigan State Fair; Reserve Champion Bull, Kentucky State Fair; (highest performance tested bull in Michigan 1967); Heifer Calf Champion, American Royal; and a daughter of Ankonian Projector, 1966 International Grand Champion Bull; selling are 23 bulls and 60 females, graded for quality.
Governor Romney has proclaimed the week of March 3, 1968 through March 9, 1968 as "MICHIGAN ANGUS WEEK."

PITY THE POOR LITTLE MISTREATED CONSUMER

They can raise the price of liquor and the only squeal you hear is from a thirsty public which demands more gin and beer.
The same thing with tobacco; they'll pay without a peep, And smoke at least as heavy as they did when it was cheap. You can put a tax on movies; they'll ante up and go. They'll pay a raise with pleasure on the things they wear for show. But raise the price of milk!! Oh Boy!! They'll fight with all their breath.
They have a growing youngster who is sure to starve to death!! They don't ask for bigger wages just to spend it all on milk. They'll show these wicked milkmen their scheming, thieving, ilk.
They'll march with hoisted banner, they'll cable, write, or wire. They'll drag the local dairymen by the whiskers through the mire. They won't mind paying raises on their whiskey, smokes, and silk.
But not the slightest fraction will they tolerate on milk.

A.D.A. BOARD ACTION

The American Dairy Association of Michigan board of directors has voted to seek a flat rate of four cents per hundredweight on all milk marketed by Michigan dairy farmers for its proposed new promotional program. In its original discussions, ADA had talked about a percentage deduction that would at present amount to four cents per hundredweight.
Discussions with dairy farmers indicated that the flat rate was preferred. Goal for the proposed program is $1,600,000 in promotional money each year.
"Straw" votes by dairy farmers at meetings - including some MMPA Locals -- has been running over 77 per cent in favor of the plan, the ADA said. A two-thirds vote by all dairy farmers in a mail referendum is needed for the program to take effect, if and when it is taken to a formal vote.

DEAN'S BRINGS CHEMICAL MILK TO MICHIGAN

The Dean Foods Co. Liberty Dairy of Evert, out to bust the Michigan Superpool for the last five months, has put chemical milk on the Michigan market in a big way.
The product, called "Tingle," is made from sodium caseinate (a chemical derived commercially from-milk), vegetable fat, corn syrup solids, a few other chemicals, and water.
Many who have tasted it say it is quite flat and rather "chalky," but better than many dairy farmers thought it would be.
Dean's was known to be distributing the product through only one west-central Michigan super-market chain where it sold for from 34 1/2 to 43 cents per half gallon -- a nickel or so less than whole milk on the same shelves.
While formulas for chemical milk vary somewhat in different products, one laboratory analysis has shown a product now on the market to be decidedly inferior to cow's milk in nutrition.
The chemical milk particularly lacks calcium, phosphorus and other minerals, and has considerably less protein than real milk.
Speculation about the market future of the chemical milk has ranged widely. One fact is clear: Until consumers render their verdict by either buying or not buying it, all guessing is rather futile. Some say that while the chemical milk probably has limited potential to take sales from dairy farmers, it may be the forerunner of a potentially greater market threat -- "filled" milk.

This product, made from skim milk with vegetable fat replacing the butterfat, is at present illegal for sale in Michigan.
It has been tried in a few markets in other states with varying success. A big selling point in some places has been the filled milk's shelf life, but one dealer who makes the stuff has said that when it goes bad it is "putrid." This could be due to the coconut oil used as butterfat replacer.
Dean's motive in introducing the chemical milk to Michigan is not quite clear. They are not the first company to offer it here, but they are the first with large scale marketing (sales results are not known).
MMPA and Mackinaw Trail Milk Producers Association have refused to sell milk to Dean's since August, when the Chicago-based firm refused to pay Super-bag prices. Dean's Liberty Dairy has advertised for shippers to replace the MMPA-Mackinaw Trail members now going to Ovid and Detroit, but apparently had little success finding new Michigan sources for milk, except for a few mavericks. They have been bringing some Wisconsin milk here.

PROPER SAMPLING AND RIGHT QUALITY RECORD

Proper identification, sampling and weighing of a producer's milk is extremely important for two reasons: First, to be sure the producer receives the proper payment for milk shipped; and second, to be sure that a producer received the right quality record.
When milk was shipped in cans it was the responsibility of the station weighmaster to sample properly and record the weight. However, there was always an argument as to who was responsible for numbering the cans so producer identification could be determined.
Bulk shipment of milk has placed the responsibility of weighing, sampling, and producer identification with the bulk pick-up operator. This is set forth as a qualification in the licenses of a bulk milk hauler.
Butterfat tests and quality records depend upon proper identification. If the hauler doesn't label the sample correctly, a producer could be shut off the market because of a problem for which he is not responsible.
The following information should be placed on the sample bag: The date, shipper location and number, route, shipper and the temperature of the milk. This information should appear in this order, starting at the center of the sample bag and working to the bottom. The sample bag should be about half full and folded over at least three times.
It is very important that every producer check how his sample is handled and if it isn't correct, inform the hauler how you want the sample handled. Remember, poor sampling can mean wrong results and it is you who will lose.
If you have any question on procedure, check with your MMPA Membership Representative.

Want to be a wise moneysaver? Then just dial your Long Distance calls direct instead of placing them Person-to-Person. It's one way to cut your phone bill if you are reasonably sure the party you are calling will be there. And it's easy, too. Just dial "11", then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want.
For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Cincinnati costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct Station-to-Station and that same call costs only 85¢. You pocket the 34 per cent difference.
So be smart. Give a hoot about savings. Dial Direct. It's the moneysaving way to call Long Distance.

LEGISLATIVE HIGHLIGHTS

Two widely different methods of reforming the lower court system in Michigan and eliminating the fee-paid Justice of the Peace office now are out on the House and Senate floor, with debate already under way in the House.

The more elaborate House plan (Substitute House Bill 2763) has been recommended by both Judiciary and Appropriation's Committee, although the latter amended the proposed District Judge Salary to $15,000. The House promptly restored the original $20,000 figure. It would call for 178 attorney-judges in 99 districts with appointed non-attorney "magistrates" outside of cities. It would permit existing municipal judges to carry over into the new court if their terms of office expire after December 31 or to run with a ballot designation if their terms expire on that date. Detroit still is exempted from the system.

Substitute Senate Bill 68, the Senate version, also got Judiciary and Appropriation Committee approval with a $15,000 salary. It provides for 81 judges in 40 districts with 178 "magistrates" required and more if desired.

Hopes for lowering the maximum license penalty points from 12 to 9 appeared to have dimmed. The House, after debate, returned the bill (House Bill 2237) to the Public Safety Committee where it originated.

Moving to fill one of Michigan's gaps in the federal standards for state safety programs, Representative James Tierney (D, Garden City) filed House Bill 3749 to require the licensing and regulation of commercial driving schools. This failed to move last year.

Senator James G. Fleming (R, Jackson), chairman of the Senate Highways Committee, filed a bill aimed at the complaint of law enforcement people that the circuit courts too often restore suspended and revoked licenses on solely economic grounds. The bill (Senate Bill 1125) would limit court review of license actions to the legality of the order and the competence of the evidence on the record.

RABIES NOTED

Word has just been received by the Washtenaw County Health Department from the Michigan Department of Public Health Laboratories in Lansing confirming a case of rabies in a skunk which was killed by a dog in Monroe County one mile from Milan.

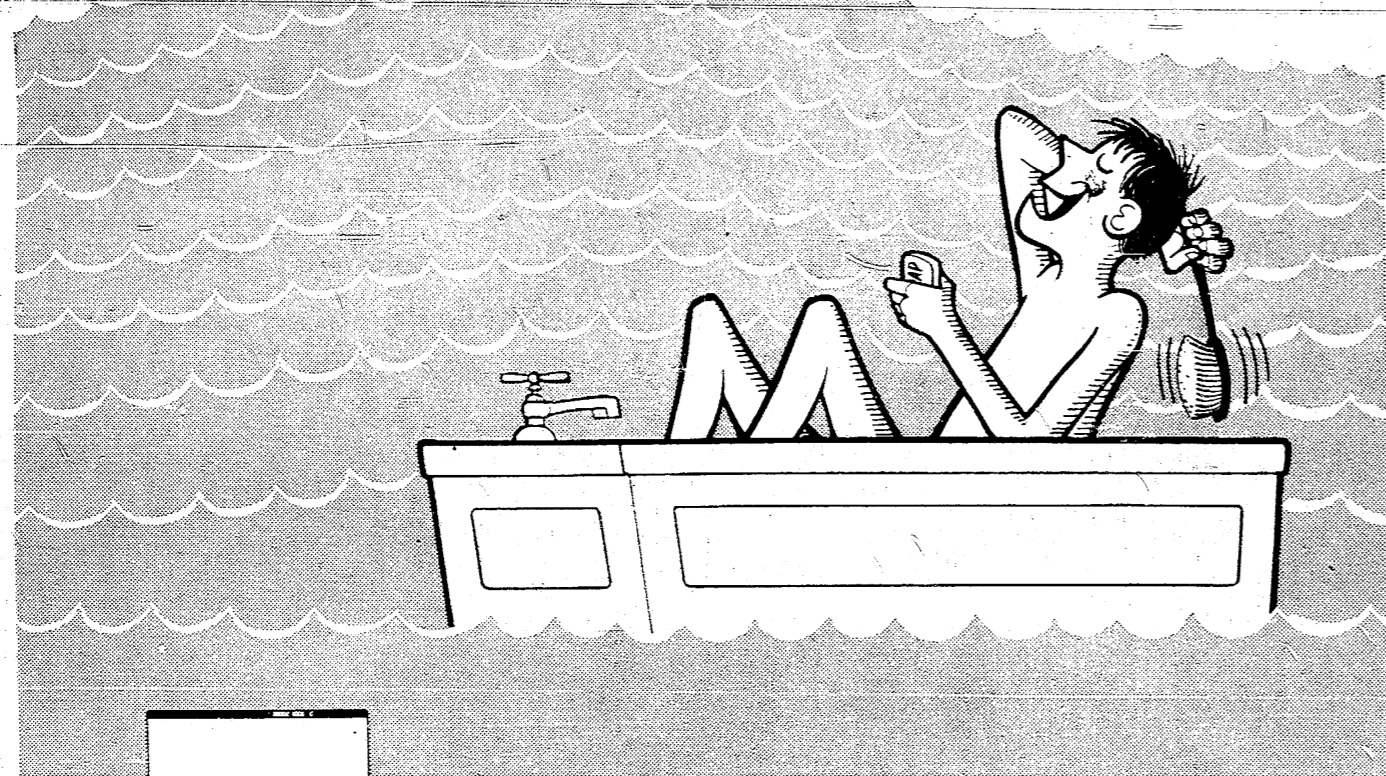

The finding of this case so close to Washtenaw County serves to remind everyone of the constant reservoir of rabies in wild life and the resulting threat to domestic animals, especially dogs, and to human beings.

To counteract this threat in the past the Washtenaw County Health Department in cooperation with the Washtenaw County Veterinary Association has sponsored rabies vaccination clinics for dogs, the last of which was held in January, 1967.

The County Public Health Veterinarian, Doctor George Bowler, states that the rabies vaccine most commonly used is good for two years and indicates that another public rabies vaccination clinic is not scheduled until January, 1969. He also reminded dog owners that the dog licensing regulations in Washtenaw County require that all dogs must be vaccinated for rabies.

Doctor Otto Engelke, County Health Officer regards this confirmed case of rabies in wild animals as a serious threat to the community. He further stated, "Every dog owner should make doubly sure that their dogs have an up-to-date rabies vaccination. If a check reveals a need for this vaccination an immediate appointment with a veterinarian should be made

FIRST RACE SET FOR MICHIGAN INTERNATIONAL SPEEDWAY

An inaugural date of Sunday, October 6, 1968 has been granted sanction to the new Michigan International Speedway by the United States Automobile Club (USAC) Executive Committee it was announced today by L. H. LoPatin, President of MIS. This is the first time that a definite major race date of this importance has been awarded by USAC to a circuit under construction and prior to completion.

The event will be a 250 mile National Championship Race for (Indianapolis) cars and will be run on the Speedway's 2 mile banked oval. This will be one of the major races sanctioned by USAC in 1968. A full field of the high powered automobiles featuring all the major Indy contenders is expected and it is anticipated that several international drivers will be among the starters eager to achieve an initial overall victory and lap record on the brand new circuit.

The Michigan International Speedway, located in the picturesque Irish Hills tourist area on S. 12, just 65 miles southwest of Detroit, is now under construction on the road and oval circuits.

The $4.5 million racing complex, comprised of a 3-mile road racing circuit (designed by world renowned racing driver Schling Moss); a 2-mile 18 degree banked "D" shaped oval (designed by Charles Money penny) and a 1 1/4 mile International driving school course and skid pan combined will be fully completed by the October 6 date - as will a 25,000 seating capacity grandstand and complete Press and Pit facilities.

A full race program is planned for 1969 at what will be soon known as the world's foremost car racing plant, and will include Indy and Stock cars on both the oval and road circuits as well as major Sports Car Events.

LANSING REPORT - Senator Gilbert E. Bursley

Michigan state tax revenues increased at a rate of 4 1/2% in the latter half of 1967 but are still lagging behind earlier budget estimates.

The big news was, of course, the state income tax which produced $52,827,453 in "new money" in the three months after it went into effect on October 1.

The sales tax, still the source of half our funds, increased its return by $14 million or 4 1/2% over the previous year.

The business activities tax receipts dropped off by $5 million or 7 1/2% due to strikes which interrupted large payrolls and shot up labor costs.

will permit a one-page return on which to report sales, use and withheld taxes and then to submit one check covering the total.

As might be expected people still smoke despite various medical warnings and our cigarette tax receipts went up almost one billion dollars in the last six months of the year.

in to the state about $11 million per year. Thus our present 7% tax nets close to $80 million annually.

Total state revenues amounted to about $668 million for the six months; of this the sales tax amounted to $317 million; motor fuel tax $106 million; business activities tax $53 million; income tax $52 million; cigarette tax $41 million; use tax $37 million; utility property taxes $36 million; and the inheritance tax $11 million.

Students Ken Tindall and Stan Parr are intently interested in the miniature impact sled being explained by General Motors Corporation representative, James Garland. The sled was used to demonstrate the value of seat belts and was one of nine demonstrations shown in GM's "Previews of Progress" science and engineering show seen at Manchester High School on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 10:00 a. m.

Manchester Jr. High School students Scott Limpert, Steve Popkey and Doug Flint are shown experimenting with the turbine engine used in GM "Previews of Progress" show.

"PREVIEWS IN PROGRESS" SHOW APPEARED BEFORE MANCHESTER STUDENTS

"We have engineered in the United States the most progressive land on the face of the earth, but many challenging questions remain to be answered by the scientists and engineers of the future."

That message of opportunity was presented to local students when General Motors research-in-action stage show, "Previews of Progress," appeared at Manchester High School and Junior High School on Wednesday, February 14 at 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m.

The non-commercial show seeks to encourage more student interest in science and engineering careers. It was presented in non-technical language by Previews lecturers Mr. Stephen B. Gain and Mr. James Garland.

A highlight of the 40-minute program was the Sunmobile, a 15-inch model car that runs on sunlight. Eight button-like solar cells on the car's hood convert energy in sunlight into electricity. A 300-watt lamp, simulating the sun's rays, powered the car across a table top during the show.

The GM representatives emphasized that the Sunmobile was not designed to prove the feasibility of running automobiles on sunlight or to forecast it. It demonstrates, they said, the potential of the continuing search for new ways to harness for more efficient use the tremendous energy of the sun.

Students also saw three fuel cells convert chemical energy into electricity. The small fuel cells, made with chemicals during the show in containers the size of paper cups, provided enough power to operate a portable radio.

The fuel cell -- a highly efficient energy conversion device is a subject of continuing intensive research, the Previews lecturers said. They told students that GM has developed a full-size experimental vehicle that demonstrates that electric propulsion by fuel cells is technically feasible.

One way to move heavy loads with little physical effort was illustrated by an "air bearing" platform. A small vacuum-cleaner type motor provided a thin film of air under three large circular pads supporting the platform. This air-cushion reduced friction between the floor and the pads enabling finger-tip movement of the platform carrying about 200 pounds.

Two novel experiments involving "man-made" molecules indicated modern chemistry's contributions to progress. Synthetic rubber was manufactured in a bottle in just one-minute and a foam plastic cake "baked" itself in only two minutes.

The importance of seat belt protection for vehicle occupants was dramatized by a model impact sled, a device automotive safety engineers have been using to test the structural integrity of car bodies and components.

Since 1962, a full-size impact sled has been used in vehicle safety and occupant protection tests at the GM Proving Ground at Milford, Michigan. It enables GM engineers to "fire" payloads up to 5,000 pounds along a pair of 100-foot rails on a sled-like structure. These tests can be repeated as often as necessary under carefully-controlled conditions to provide factual data.

A study by a University of Michigan medical team indicates that the use of seat belts could reduce the number of traffic fatalities by as much as 40 per cent.

Citizen's Committee Attend School Board Meeting

One of the major points for discussion at Monday night's School Board meeting was the purpose and organization of the Citizen's Committee appointed by the various organizations in the community.

The purposes for requesting the formation of the Citizen's Committee were expressed in Mr. Klager's opening remarks to the Committee -- (1) to familiarize them with the different phases of our education program and plant; (2) to get the civic organization's thinking and suggestions through these appointed representatives and (3) to better inform the total district through these representatives relative to the operation of the schools, its programs, and future plans.

Several pieces of literature were handed to the group including a pie explaining sources of revenue and distribution of funds, how our school system stands on net current expenditures and teacher salaries and a report which was read earlier by Mr. Swartz involving various problems and future plans for our school system.

Members of the Citizen's Committee are: Donna Gill and Vivian John, B.P.W.; Rita Limpert and Richard Kuntz, Chamber of Commerce; Gary Brokaw and Glen Lehr, Jaycees; Don Stockwell, American Legion; Charles Carlton and Clayton Parr, Town and Country Farm Bureau; Irwin Paul, Modern Farmers; Alvin Widmayer, Pleasant Lake Farm Bureau; Loren Trolz and Maynard Leach, Iron Creek Farm Bureau; Mrs. Joyce Hoeltz and Pauline Bristle, Short Hills Farm Bureau; Clyde Gieske and Victor Grossman, Raisin River Farm Bureau; Herb Mahony and Eugene Bentschneider, Optimist; Lloyd Hughes and Leonard Days, Kossel Farm Bureau.

It was suggested by Gene Bentschneider that some organization should be made for the Citizen's Committee. Gene was then appointed temporary Chairman to coordinate the organization following the adjournment of the school board.

In other business, Birdella Flood was appointed principal for the elementary school, Judy Mann was hired to teach Birdella Flood's third grade class and a new reporting system for the kindergarten and first grades report was given the board for their study and more information will be brought to light at a later date.

Following adjournment of the School Board, the Citizen's Committee met. Glen Lehr was elected Chairman and Gene Bentschneider, secretary for the group. Five points were discussed which the group felt required further study. These five points are: (1) Budget; (2) Up-dating old school; (3) New school; (4) Adult education and (5) Curriculum. Committees were formed and a chairman appointed for each. The Budget Committee consists of Clayton Parr, Chairman, Leonard Days, Gene Bentschneider, Donna Gill and Charles Carlton. Up-dating old school Committee -- Don Stockwell, Chairman, Gary Brokaw, Lloyd Hughes and Vivian John. New School Committee -- Alvin Widmayer, Chairman, Joyce Hoeltz, and Pauline Bristle. Adult Education Program -- Loren Trolz, Chairman, Victor Grossman and Clyde Gieske. Curriculum Committee includes Herb Mahony, Chairman, Irwin Paul and Rita Limpert.

Each committee was to have a meeting before the next general meeting of the Citizen's Committee. Positions on some committees were left available in the event some civic organization in the community had not been contacted requesting a representative.

The next Citizen's Committee meeting will be held March 25 at 8:00 p.m. at the High School.

Class Slated For School Bus Drivers

Classes for all school bus drivers in Washtenaw County are being held as follows:

March 11, 1968 - Dexter High School (Library) Baker Road Dexter, Michigan

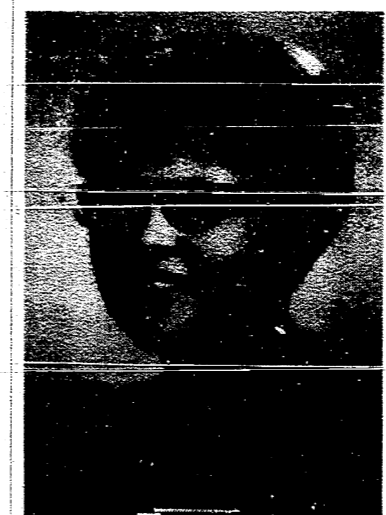

March 12, 1968 - Manchester High School (Study-Auditorium) 710 East Main St. Manchester, Michigan

All classes meet from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.

More discussion on maintaining good rider control -- Good conduct on the part of bus riders and a realistic approach to the principles of first aid and the treatment of accident victims. The instructor for the classes will be Homer Earl. The Bus Driver Education Program is conducted by Eastern and Western Michigan Universities and sponsored by the County Intermediate School District in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Education. All school bus drivers should plan to attend. School administrators and school board members are urged to send their drivers.

Well-trained, school bus drivers are a necessity today. School buses carry our most precious cargo -- our children.

Engaged

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Saline High School and is now attending Eastern Michigan University. The future groom is a graduate of Manchester High School and is now engaged in farming.

State Directed Teacher-School Negotiations Planned

A plan for the state to direct teacher-school board negotiations will be described in a forthcoming article by a University of Michigan man, Dr. Ray E. Kehoe, Director of School Services, proposes in his article, "Who Negotiates for Children?" that the state might be able to restore harmony to school systems and insure a greater degree of educational quality for the children.

The article will appear in the March issue of a professional newsletter Education Summary, published by Croft Educational Services, New London, Conn. "Negotiations cannot hope to solve pressing problems of economic and human relations that separate school boards from teacher organizations," says Kehoe.

He predicts that teacher-school board relations will become "more abrasive" as teachers continue their demands for higher salaries and for a greater voice in the management of human affairs. Outlining his plan, Kehoe suggests that the state appoint a "blue ribbon committee" of leading educators and citizens to recommend improvements and changes.

Such recommendations would include class size, teacher preparation, library and guidance services, instructional materials, buildings and sites. The legislature would then review the recommendations. Under Kehoe's plan, all school district employees would work under a state civil service system and be paid according to standards established by an Educational Civil Service Commission. The Commission would also set uniform salary levels.

Teacher organizations and school boards would be able to suggest to the Committee improvements in salaries or other conditions of employment.

Kehoe, who has served as coordinator of school surveys and evaluations for the University of Michigan, also proposes that teacher-board disputes and grievances in those areas appropriate for negotiations might be resolved through the following steps: local negotiation efforts, fact finding, mediation, and binding arbitration.

Each local district, says Kehoe,

Voters will be asked to go to the polls again Monday. This is the day of the Annual Village Election.

Although the deciding was done in the Primary, an annual election is still required by law. All the candidates are again running as Republicans. All are unopposed unless there is a strong write-in campaign.

For Mayor is John Althouse; for Clerk, Lyle Widmayer, for Treasurer, Ed Kirk, for Trustee three men are running for three vacant seats. They are incumbent Herb Mahony, Wendell Reinhart and Harry Macomber. For Assessor is Russell Widmayer.

The polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

The newly elected candidates will be sworn into office on Thursday evening, March 14 in the Village chambers at 120 S. Clinton.

Firemen Concerned About Numerous Grass Fires

After a weekend of fighting grass fires, Chief Jim Kensler asked that residents in the area be warned about starting these fires. The Chief blamed the very dry conditions which make the dead grass highly inflammable.

Most of the fires originated by a spark from a trash burner. With the winds to fan them, these fires quickly get out of control. So far none of the fires have burned up to a building, but this could easily happen.

Firemen compared the conditions to those in the dry fall months. If you have things to burn make sure there is no wind and that your burner isn't surrounded by dead grass. Also, if you intend to burn a roadside or brush piles, you must have a permit.

Taxes Collected

$374,698.27 taxes have been collected. Delinquent taxes equal 16,156.79 with a total of $390,855.06 at the end of collection. 96% of the quota has been attained which is the best collection since 1945 according to Mike Wolfe, Treasurer.

Cub Scouts And Leaders Attend Awards Dinner

On February 26 at St. Mary's Church Hall, Cub Scouts and Webelos of Troup 421, parents, den mothers, Boy Scout leaders gathered for a potluck supper and awards presentation.

Following the supper, Father Raymond Schlinkert opened the program with a greeting. Scoutmaster Robert Armentrout presented service pins to the den mothers and leaders. Jay Lantis, Manchester Cub Master, presented the Cub Scout den awards and the Webelos colors. There were approximately thirty-five awards presented at the Blue and Gold Banquet.

Roger Morrison lead the group in a community sing in closing the program. The hall was decorated in the traditional scout colors of blue and gold. More pictures next week.
