

Students Ken Tindall and Stan Parr are intently interested in the miniature impact sled being explained by General Motors Corporation representative, James Garland. The sled was used to demonstrate the value of seat belts and was one of nine demonstrations shown in GM's "Previews of Progress" science and engineering show seen at Manchester High School on Wednesday, Feb. 14 at 10:00 a. m.

Manchester Jr. High School students Scott Limpert, Steve Popkey and Doug Flint are shown experimenting with the turbine engine used in GM "Previews of Progress" show.

"PREVIEWS IN PROGRESS" SHOW APPEARED BEFORE MANCHESTER STUDENTS

"We have engineered in the United States the most progressive land on the face of the earth, but many challenging questions remain to be answered by the scientists and engineers of the future."

That message of opportunity was presented to local students when General Motors research-in-action stage show, "Previews of Progress," appeared at Manchester High School and Junior High School on Wednesday, February 14 at 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m.

The non-commercial show seeks to encourage more student interest in science and engineering careers. It was presented in non-technical language by Previews lecturers Mr. Stephen B. Gain and Mr. James Garland.

A highlight of the 40-minute program was the Sunmobile, a 15-inch model car that runs on sunlight. Eight button-like solar cells on the car's hood convert energy in sunlight into electricity. A 300-watt lamp, simulating the sun's rays, powered the car across a table top during the show.

The GM representatives emphasized that the Sunmobile was not designed to prove the feasibility of running automobiles on sunlight or to forecast it. It demonstrates, they said, the potential of the continuing search for new ways to harness for more efficient use the tremendous energy of the sun.

Students also saw three fuel cells convert chemical energy into electricity. The small fuel cells, made with chemicals during the show in containers the size of paper cups, provided enough power to operate a portable radio.

The fuel cell -- a highly efficient energy conversion device is a subject of continuing intensive research, the Previews lecturers said. They told students that GM has developed a full-size experimental vehicle that demonstrates that electric propulsion by fuel cells is technically feasible.

One way to move heavy loads with little physical effort was illustrated by an "air bearing" platform. A small vacuum-cleaner type motor provided a thin film of air under three large circular pads supporting the platform. This air-cushion reduced friction between the floor and the pads enabling finger-tip movement of the platform carrying about 200 pounds.

Two novel experiments involving "man-made" molecules indicated modern chemistry's contributions to progress. Synthetic rubber was manufactured in a bottle in just one-minute and a foam plastic cake "baked" itself in only two minutes.

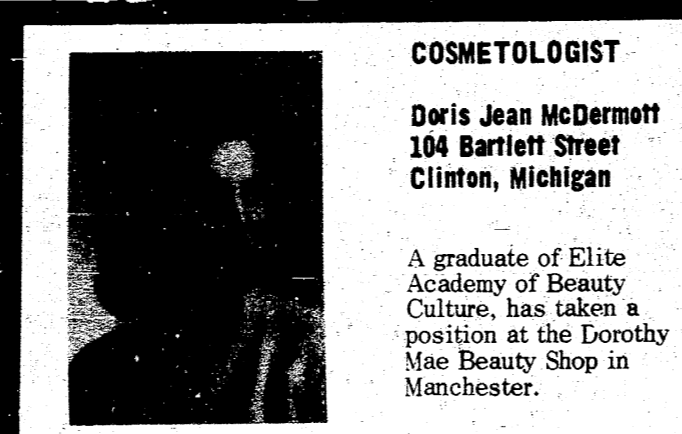

The importance of seat belt protection for vehicle occupants was dramatized by a model impact sled, a device automotive safety engineers have been using to test the structural integrity of car bodies and components.

Since 1962, a full-size impact sled has been used in vehicle safety and occupant protection tests at the GM Proving Ground at Milford, Michigan. It enables GM engineers to "fire" payloads up to 5,000 pounds along a pair of 100-foot rails on a sled-like structure. These tests can be repeated as often as necessary under carefully-controlled conditions to provide factual data.

A study by a University of Michigan medical team indicates that the use of seat belts could reduce the number of traffic fatalities by as much as 40 per cent.

General Motors representative Mr. Stephen B. Gain is explaining the operation of the sunmobile to students John Ciro and Debbie Bradley.

Citizen's Committee Attend School Board Meeting

One of the major points for discussion at Monday night School Board meeting was the purpose and organization of the Citizen's Committee appointed by the various organizations in the community.

The purposes for requesting the formation of the Citizen's Committee were expressed in Mr. Klager's opening remarks to the Committee -- (1) to familiarize them with the different phases of our education program and plant; (2) to get the civic organization's thinking and suggestions through these appointed representatives and (3) to better inform the total district through these representatives relative to the operation of the schools, its programs, and future plans.

Several pieces of literature were handed to the group including a pie explaining sources of revenue and distribution of funds, how our school system stands on net current expenditures and teacher salaries and a report which was read earlier by Mr. Swartz involving various problems and future plans for our school system.

Members of the Citizen's Committee are: Donna Gill and Vivian John, B.P.W.; Rita Limpert and Richard Kuntz, Chamber of Commerce; Gary Brokaw and Glen Lehr, Jaycees; Don Stockwell, American Legion; Charles Carlton and Clayton Parr, Town and Country Farm Bureau; Irwin Paul, Modern Farmers; Alvin Widmayer, Pleasant Lake Farm Bureau; Loren Trolz and Maynard Leach, Iron Creek Farm Bureau; Mrs. Joyce Hoeft and Pauline Bristle, Short Hills Farm Bureau; Clyde Gieske and Victor Grossman, Raisin River Farm Bureau; Herb Mahony and Eugene Bentschneider, Optimist; Lloyd Hughes and Leonard Dayss, Kossel Farm Bureau.

It was suggested by Gene Bentschneider that some organization should be made for the Citizen's Committee. Gene was then appointed temporary Chairman to coordinate the organization following the adjournment of the school board.

In other business, Birdella Flood was appointed principal for the elementary school, Judy Mann was hired to teach Birdella Flood's third grade class and a new reporting system for the kindergarten and first grades report was given the board for their study and more information will be brought to light at a later date.

Following adjournment of the School Board, the Citizen's Committee met. Glen Lehr was elected Chairman and Gene Bentschneider, secretary for the group. Five points were discussed which the group felt required further study. These five points are: (1) Budget; (2) Up-dating old school; (3) New school; (4) Adult education and (5) Curriculum. Committees were formed and a chairman appointed for each. The Budget Committee consists of Clayton Parr, Chairman, Leonard Dayss, Gene Bentschneider, Donna Gill and Charles Carlton. Up-dating old school Committee -- Don Stockwell, Chairman, Gary Brokaw, Lloyd Hughes and Vivian John. New School Committee -- Alvin Widmayer, Chairman, Joyce Hoeft, and Pauline Bristle. Adult Education Program -- Loren Trolz, Chairman, Victor Grossman and Clyde Gieske. Curriculum Committee includes Herb Mahony, Chairman, Irwin Paul and Rita Limpert.

Each committee was to have a meeting before the next general meeting of the Citizen's Committee. Positions on some committees were left available in the event some civic organization in the community had not been contacted requesting a representative.

The next Citizen's Committee meeting will be held March 25 at 8:00 p. m. at the High School.

Class Slated For School Bus Drivers

Classes for all school bus drivers in Washtenaw County are being held as follows:

March 11, 1968 - Dexter High School (Library) Baker Road Dexter, Michigan

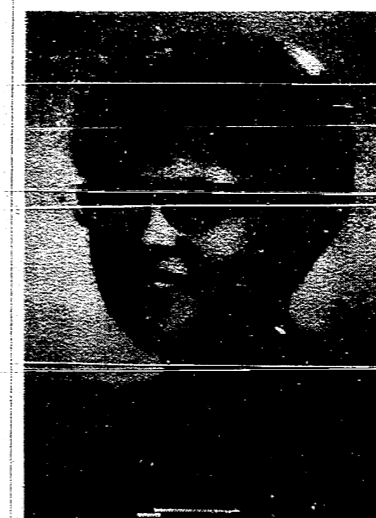

March 12, 1968 - Manchester High School (Study-Auditorium) 710 East Main St. Manchester, Michigan

All classes meet from 7:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m.

More discussion on maintaining good rider control -- Good conduct on the part of bus riders and a realistic approach to the principles of first aid and the treatment of accident victims. The instructor for the classes will be Homer Earl. The Bus Driver Education Program is conducted by Eastern and Western Michigan Universities and sponsored by the County Intermediate School District in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Education. All school bus drivers should plan to attend. School administrators and school board members are urged to send their drivers.

Well-trained, school bus drivers are a necessity today. School buses carry our most precious cargo -- our children.

State Directed Teacher-School Negotiations Planned

A plan for the state to direct teacher-school board negotiations will be described in a forthcoming article by a University of Michigan man, Dr. Ray E. Kehoe, Director of School Services, proposes in his article, "Who Negotiates for Children?" that the state might be able to restore harmony to school systems and insure a greater degree of educational quality for the children.

The article will appear in the March issue of a professional newsletter Education Summary, published by Croft Educational Services, New London, Conn. "Negotiations cannot hope to solve pressing problems of economic and human relations that separate school boards from teacher organizations," says Kehoe.

He predicts that teacher-school board relations will become "more abusive" as teachers continue their demands for higher salaries and for a greater voice in the management of human affairs. Outlining his plan, Kehoe suggests that the state appoint a "blue ribbon committee" of leading educators and citizens to recommend improvements and changes.

Such recommendations would include class size, teacher preparation, library and guidance services, instructional materials, buildings and sites. The legislature would then review the recommendations. Under Kehoe's plan, all school district employees would work under a state civil service system and be paid according to standards established by an Educational Civil Service Commission. The Commission would also set uniform salary levels.

Teacher organizations and school boards would be able to suggest to the Committee improvements in salaries or other conditions of employment.

Kehoe, who has served as coordinator of school surveys and evaluations for the University of Michigan, also proposes that teacher-board disputes and grievances in those areas appropriate for negotiations might be resolved through the following steps: local negotiation efforts, fact finding, mediation, and binding arbitration.

Each local district, says Kehoe,

Voters will be asked to go to the polls again Monday. This is the day of the Annual Village Election.

Although the deciding was done in the Primary, an annual election is still required by law. All the candidates are again running as Republicans. All are unopposed unless there is a strong write-in campaign.

For Mayor is John Althouse; for Clerk, Lyle Widmayer, for Treasurer, Ed Kirk, for Trustee three men are running for three vacant seats. They are incumbent Herb Mahony, Wendall Reinhart and Harry Macomber. For Assessor is Russell Widmayer.

The polls will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m.

The newly elected candidates will be sworn into office on Thursday evening, March 14 in the Village chambers at 120 S. Clinton.

Firemen Concerned About Numerous Grass Fires

After a weekend of fighting grass fires, Chief Jim Kensler asked that residents in the area be warned about starting these fires. The Chief blamed the very dry conditions which make the dead grass highly inflammable.

Most of the fires originated by a spark from a trash burner. With the winds to fan them, these fires quickly get out of control. So far none of the fires have burned up to a building, but this could easily happen.

Firemen compared the conditions to those in the dry fall months. If you have things to burn make sure there is no wind and that your burner isn't surrounded by dead grass. Also, if you intend to burn a roadside or brush piles, you must have a permit.

Taxes Collected

$374,698.27 taxes have been collected. Delinquent taxes equal 16,156.79 with a total of $390,855.06 at the end of collection. 96% of the quota has been attained which is the best collection since 1945 according to Mike Wolfe, Treasurer.

Cub Scouts And Leaders Attend Awards Dinner

On February 26 at St. Mary's Church Hall, Cub Scouts and Webelos of Troup 421, parents, den mothers, Boy Scout leaders gathered for a potluck supper and awards presentation.

Following the supper, Father Raymond Schlinkert opened the program with a greeting. Scoutmaster Robert Armentrout presented service pins to the den mothers and leaders. Jay Lantis, Manchester Cub Master, presented the Cub Scout den awards and the Webelos colors. There were approximately thirty-five awards presented at the Blue and Gold Banquet.

Roger Morrison lead the group in a community sing in closing the program. The hall was decorated in the traditional scout colors of blue and gold. More pictures next week.

We watch the news with growing disbelief as everyone arms themselves. Police Departments buy armored cars, citizens, black and white, are supposedly buying guns by the hundreds. Does this sound like the good ole' United States where men have equal rights and law and order are a way of life? In a pessimistic light, is this like the Hitler era where the horrors became so great men shut their minds to them? We'd believe the newspapers and television if the stories they tell were about any other country but ours.

If we didn't know better, we'd say the President's Commission on Civil Disorders and their report are just so much Russian propaganda. One of their recommendations was that 2 million new jobs be created. I don't have any figures to back me up, but I'll bet close to that many are open now if anybody wanted them. Steward Alsop said in an article some time ago that after the Detroit riot, the major car manufacturers hired some 3,000 hard-core unemployables. Less than 6% stayed at their new jobs. As one negro put it, he'd rather burn around all day than be tied down to an eight hour, 5-day a week job.

We won't dispute the fact that there is racial discrimination or that many negroes are living in deplorable conditions, but we wonder if perhaps this is by choice instead of force. We know they'd probably cry they don't like living as they do but even with help most of them won't change. One thing we're sure of is that this problem can't be legislated, even though everyone thinks this is the answer. Our Constitution is already very explicit in defining that all men have equal rights in this country, but it doesn't promise a free existence because of it. We don't need new laws. We need to enforce the ones we have.

Ten years ago we didn't hear all this talk. Were negroes better off than now? We think this present situation is a result of leaders like President Johnson on down the list, telling people they have a right to have whatever they want whether they earn it or not. Then the Supreme Court upholds this by not punishing any rioters.

Whatever happened to the belief that in this country a man could be whatever he wanted if he had the ambition to do it.

Everyone seems afraid to speak up against law breakers and call them what they are. Especially the courts. We aren't. We're against any form of law breaking whether it's a white man refusing to serve a black man food or a black man throwing a rock through the white man's window.

We've heard it said that publicity is a big cause for spreading riots. This may be so but if those watching the Watts riot had seen the participants locked up to the last one instead of watching them get away with those acts, there wouldn't have been any spreading of riot fever. There isn't any increase in discrimination nor is there any wave of new awareness of a better life. What we have is just a simple case of rank lawlessness and we think it's time the courts in this country judged those participants accordingly.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

We've seen a big shift in responsibility in the past few years. Criminals are no longer responsible for their acts. It's society's fault. Instead of punishment, we're supposed to understand why they did it and sympathize. Poor people aren't responsible for their plight. It's the fault of those who work hard all their life but don't pay a big enough share in taxes to support those who don't want to work. Juvenile delinquents aren't responsible for their conduct. They should be allowed to voice their opinion and destroy anything they don't agree with even though it may have been a code of life for generations.

This is why we were disappointed that Gov. Romney dropped out of the Presidential race. We would have like to see him as President. Not because of his tax stand or Vietnam views, but because of his high moral values. Our biggest concern now is the moral decay of this country. If this trend continues another four years, we wouldn't take any bets on the future. As we watch the news on television, we see the mainstays of American life; hard work, high moral values, family life, law and order, etc. smashed one by one. In the past the pendulum has swung back the other way, always in time. Will this again be true? It will if we make it clear that we don't intend to spend our time making excuses for those who destroy our American way of life.

If a crime is committed, the guilty are punished regardless of the excuse. If a man is physically able, it's his problem to earn his own living. Our youngsters need and appreciate strong reins while they are growing up. If we continue to excuse juvenile delinquents, we are going to destroy a generation.

History is a harsh judge. Those who remain silent or look the other way are going to make a loud noise in future history books.

MAUREEN KIRK IS ENROLLED IN INTERNSHIP

Siena Heights College senior Maureen Kirk of Manchester is currently enrolled in the 12-month Internship at the Providence Hospital School of Medical Technology in Southfield (a suburb of Detroit), Michigan. The school is affiliated with four Michigan colleges and universities - Eastern Michigan University, Northern Michigan University, Siena Heights College and the University of Detroit. The school also accepts graduates or seniors from other colleges and universities when openings occur.

The "3 plus 1" program allows the student to spend three years at the university completing the science requirements in biology, chemistry, college mathematics, and electives that include bacteriology, physics and others sufficient to make a total of 90 semester hours, and then the Internship at the school of Medical Technology to merit the baccalaureate degree.

Students are admitted to the P. H. S. M. T. in February, July, and October making a total of fifteen students at one time preparing to qualify for examination for registration with the Registry of Medical Technologists of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

The opportunities for a registered medical technologist are widespread. Attractive employment opportunities are available in hospitals, physician's private laboratories, clinics, health agencies, in industrial medical laboratories, in research and in pharmaceutical houses. Medical Technologists may advance as teachers, supervisors and specialists. The program provides an excellent background for graduates work leading to advanced degrees in medical technology and also in bacteriology, biochemistry and other sciences.

Besides their farming abilities, the MMPA Outstanding Young Dairy Couple is judged on the basis of participation in civic affairs, personality, and knowledge of farming and milk marketing. Judges for the program this year were MMPA Director Ernest Miller, Michigan State University Professor Donald Murray, and State Education Department official Richard Karels.

The Prowses will serve for a year in a variety of capacities within the state, and will be official representatives of MMPA at conventions of the National Milk Producers Federation.

VANISHING DOCTORS

Farmers are trying to solve the mystery of vanishing medical care - especially in the more rural sections of our state. Doctors seem to disappear overnight from many rural communities.

Nationally, the trends are about the same with the facts showing that about 20,000 more practicing physicians are needed to meet the growing demand.

Causes for the shortage appear to be tied to such things as specialization, improved immunization programs, more attention to nutrition, more attention to demand (and given) to our growing numbers of aged, and more medical people operating laboratory equipment.

But it appears that organization within the medical profession and within the agencies and boards which tightly control it, are a prime cause of Michigan's present doctor shortage.

Exhausted by the prospect of re-taking examinations following return from military service, as is required by Michigan law, some doctors prefer to move elsewhere.

Iron Creek Farm Bureau will meet at the home of Mearl Armstrong, 10350 Sharon Hollow Road at 8:30 p. m. on March 8, 1968.

MEAT DEALER FINED FOR MISLEADING AD

Charged with misleading advertising in promoting the sale of food freezer beef, the Cattlemen's Meat Outlet operated at Pontiac by Edward Fogg recently paid fine and costs totaling $115.

The firm was placed on six months' probation during which time the case ordered its advertising be approved by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Food Inspection Division before being presented for publication.

They said such terms as "T-bone, first-cut" turned out to be chuck steak. The word "chotee", which is a defined U. S. grade, was used in advertising beef of lower grade.

Inspectors presented in Justice Kenneth Hempstead's court in Oakland County copies of advertisements the firm had run in publications over a year's time.

"Angus steer quality" was used in advertising beef. Inspectors termed this misrepresentative advertising.

They charged that the operator, who specializes in food freezer meats, had been warned several times and also had been provided with a copy of the law and regulations governing advertising of food.

J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Food Inspection Division, said inspectors had been advised to check the advertising of firms dealing in meats in food freezer quantities, to lessen the chance of food buyers being victimized by false advertising.

"One cannot expect to get high quality stock at ridiculously low prices" said Dean F. Lovitt, chief of the plant industry division of the Dept. of Agriculture.

"Purchasers should always demand a certificate of inspection with the stock as their assurance that it has passed inspection for insects and disease. Local nurserymen usually are familiar with local conditions and the varieties likely to do well in an area, and their advice can be helpful", he said.

VILLAGE OF MANCHESTER, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

COUNCIL RESOLUTION TO VACATE STREET

WHEREAS, Richard E. Way and Gwen L. Way, husband and wife, of the Village of Manchester, Washtenaw County, Michigan have filed a petition requesting that a resolution be entered by this council vacating, discontinuing and abolishing that part of Furnace Street from Granger Street easterly to its terminus in Granger and Morgan's Addition according to the plat thereof as recorded in Liber 41 of Deeds, page 756 in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan.

WHEREAS, said street has never been used by the public and has been claimed by Richard E. Way and Gwen L. Way, and their predecessors in title adversely to any other person or persons whomsoever, and

WHEREAS, Richard E. Way and Gwen L. Way, are the owners of all land abutting that portion of Furnace Street to be vacated, NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Village of Manchester Council deem it advisable to vacate, discontinue, and abolish all that part of Furnace Street from Granger Street easterly to its terminus in Granger and Morgan's Addition to the Village of Manchester according to the recorded plat thereof,

AND, the Village Council does hereby declare its intention to vacate, discontinue and abolish said street on April 1, 1968 and any objections to the same shall be filed in writing with Lyle A. Widmayer, Clerk of said Village on or before 8:00 p. m. of said day.

THIS RESOLUTION shall be published for four consecutive weeks prior to said date in the Manchester Enterprise, a newspaper published and circulated in said Village, UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED at a regular meeting of the Village Council of Manchester, Michigan, on February 19, 1968.

Gale Koebe, President
Lyle A. Widmayer, Clerk

vided with a copy of the law and regulations governing advertising of food. Enforcement of the law is vested in the state agricultural department.

J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Food Inspection Division, said inspectors had been advised to check the advertising of firms dealing in meats in food freezer quantities, to lessen the chance of food buyers being victimized by false advertising.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE WARNS AGAINST MIRACLE PLANT CON MEN

"Springtime opens the season on home gardeners and landscapers for miracle plant con men. Don't be taken in by these racketeers" is the warning sounded by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley.

The public is warned against high pressure salesmen and mail order advertisers using fancy names for ordinary shrubs and plants and making exaggerated claims for their plant material.

Beward of glowing word descriptions and faded photographs of climbing vine peaches, giant climbing strawberries, 1,000 giant red roses on a single bush (unknown to horticulturists), flowering shade trees that grow roof high in a single year, including the "Flowering Maple" that turns out to be the common silver maple with most inconspicuous blooms, etc.

The firm was placed on six months' probation during which time the case ordered its advertising be approved by the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Food Inspection Division before being presented for publication.

Inspectors of the Department signed the complaint, charging that the firm substituted inferior grades of meat for what was advertised.

They charged that the operator, who specializes in food freezer meats, had been warned several times and also had been provided with a copy of the law and regulations governing advertising of food.

J. L. Littlefield, chief of the Food Inspection Division, said inspectors had been advised to check the advertising of firms dealing in meats in food freezer quantities, to lessen the chance of food buyers being victimized by false advertising.

BOOSTERS NIGHT SUCCESSFUL

The Boosters Fun Night last Friday sure was a big success. It took the help of a lot of people and they came through like champs.

We would like to thank the Varsity Club for handling the tickets. Also, Mr. Sorter for some fine music. Above all, we want to thank the Alumni and Faculty for a very good basketball game. By the way, the Faculty beat the Alumni. I just happen to forget the score.

WASHINGTON REPORT
Congressman Marvin L. Esh

For many years I have been emphasizing that the number one social crisis we face in this country is the need for adequate job training for the unemployed and underemployed. While there are many job openings available, the number of skilled applicants for these positions remains small and, at the same time, many remain on welfare roles.

Our task is clear. We must develop programs that will bring meaningful training to the unemployed and the underemployed so that they may prepare themselves to become contributing members of our community and fill job vacancies which now exist. Such programs obviously must be a total community effort. We must involve private industry which provides the jobs and technical expertise. We must involve the unions whose goals include better jobs and conditions. And we must involve concerned citizens and community groups who can provide the type of public support necessary to make the programs successful.

The current On-The-Job Training Program in Monroe County represents a giant step in the right direction. It involves the private sector, education interests and community institutions. It utilizes the skills and expertise needed to do the job. The Detroit Archdiocesan Opportunity Program is to be commended for initiating this effort and I was honored to play a part in helping to get it off the ground.

The recent decision of the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce to undertake the task of involving the business community in Washtenaw County job training programs is another encouraging step in the right direction. The Human Development Committee of the Chamber and 22 area employers will participate in a community wide effort to find more and better jobs for the disadvantaged. This positive action by the Chamber will provide a vital link with private enter-

RETARDED CHILDREN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The membership drive of the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children began March 1, 1968, and will continue throughout the month. The help and assistance of the entire community are needed if we are to achieve greater strides toward the prevention, treatment and cure of mental retardation in Washtenaw County, in the state of Michigan, and throughout the country, states a spokesman for the Association.

The Association invites everyone who is interested in this work to join its efforts in accomplishing these goals. Annual membership dues are $5.00 for a family and $3.00 for individuals. Membership chairman for the year ending June 30, 1969 is Mrs. Stan Rehak, 1726 Hanover Road Ann Arbor, phone 662-2352.

The next chapter meeting of the WARC will be held Monday, March 18, at 8:00 p. m., Trinity Lutheran Church, 1400 W. Stadium, Ann Arbor. The speaker will be Mrs. Margaret Schilling, executive director United Cerebral Palsy of Detroit. Mrs. Schilling will discuss "What goes into long range planning for the handicapped child." All those interested are welcome.

The trouble with being a parent is that by the time you're experienced, you're unemployable.

Man's capacity for justice makes democracy possible; but man's inclination to injustice makes democracy necessary.

THE THINGS THAT ARE CAESAR'S

by - Rev. Cooper of Methodist Church

In Matthew 22, the Pharisees tried to ask Jesus a question that would get Jesus in trouble with the Roman government as treason if he answered one way or it would cause trouble with the Jews if he answered another way. The question was, "Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar, or not?" Jesus surprised them with his answer: "Render, therefore, to Caesar, the things that are Caesar's; and to God, the things that are God's."

In His answer, Jesus was saying that I have some specific responsibilities to the state. Many people in the early church were community leaders and this has always been the case. No denomination can assume my personal responsibilities to society. It is my Christian responsibility to know the candidates for every office. Careful studies have shown that many voters do not know one candidate from another; that a majority of the citizens do not know the name of their Senators and Representatives at the state or national level.

It is my Christian responsibility to know what issues are current in government; to know what they involve and where I stand in relationship to these issues. They tell us that mail to Michigan Senators and Legislators has increased by volume over 1966-67 by 8 times, but few of these understand the issues or know why they favor or oppose the issues.

It is my Christian responsibility and my democratic privilege to express my position concerning both candidates and issues. I must share my position with elected officials at every level of government. I must go to the polls and vote my conscience. There are literally hundreds of eligible adults in the Manchester area who are not even registered to vote. Many who are registered just do not bother to vote.

I can also pay my taxes. I must ask myself some serious questions when I complain about taxes: questions like, "What have I done to remedy this situation? I am sure this would make Mike Wolfe's day a little more pleasant."

I also have a responsibility to God. The state, because it is not Christian, does not always reflect Christian thought. To accept the unchristian pattern of thought and a life without conscience: By the kindness of this society, the Christian faith can be practiced. For this kindness, I owe my neighbors my loyalty within conscience. When the desire of the community require the violation of my conscience; then I must dissent from that conduct because I owe God my first allegiance.

I am bound both to God and community; to conscience and to loyalty. These differ in their order of allegiance but do not in degree.

One of the tragedies of our day is that people are not aware that Jesus speaks to us as to men of old. "Render, therefore, to Caesar the things that are Caesar's; and to God the things that are God's."

He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

Dial direct and let the savings roll in.

If you'd like to save some money, you'll be interested in Direct Distance Dialing. It's a more economical way to call Long Distance because direct dialed calls are all Station-to-Station instead of Person-to-Person.

It's easy, too. Just dial "1", then the Area Code, if it's different from your own, and the number you want. For an idea of how much you can save, here's an example. A 3-minute Person-to-Person call between Detroit and Chicago costs $1.30 at the day rate. Dial direct and the cost is only 85¢.

So whenever you're reasonably sure the party you're calling will be there, dial direct and let the savings roll in!

Manchester Fire Department

By Carolyn Ahrens

The Manchester Volunteer Fire Department is considered one of the finest volunteer departments in Washtenaw County and this is attributed to one main factor—the twenty-two dedicated men who make up the department.

Jim Kensler has been Manchester Fire Chief over five years and is largely responsible for the outstanding department today. "We've got a good bunch of guys in the department," he is often heard to say. "They give a lot of time and hard work to maintain a smooth-running department."

Ann Arbor Fire Chief Arthur Stauch says, "The volunteer fire departments are really commendable in their operations in taking in all the problems involved in a rural department. They do a wonderful job as they are handicapped in the way that they must haul all the water to a fire and then use it to the best possible advantage. The Manchester Fire Department is such a department."

A reliable, swift-acting fire department is only as capable as the men and equipment behind it whether it's a full-time or part-time operating department. When the shrill whistle beckons, day or night, it immediately becomes a full-time, often dangerous job for the Manchester firemen.

These men are trained for emergency operation and within minutes are on their way to anything from a grass fire to a flaming house. A roaring fire is just as dangerous for the men fighting against it whether it's in a big city or a small community. When burning buildings collapse, the results can be just as serious.

Frank Lowery, Fire Chief in the 1930's said, "The first five minutes to a fire makes all the difference between saving and losing a house or barn." This is as true today as it was many years ago.

The Manchester Volunteer Fire Department was organized in 1900 with six firemen and their equipment consisted of a water wagon which was a high wheel cart with a hose reeled around the center. The "Hook and Ladder Club" had little to work with and a fire in those early days usually resulted in total loss. Communication and equipment was slow and as Mr. Lowery added, "You couldn't put out much of a fire with only 40 gallon water tanks."

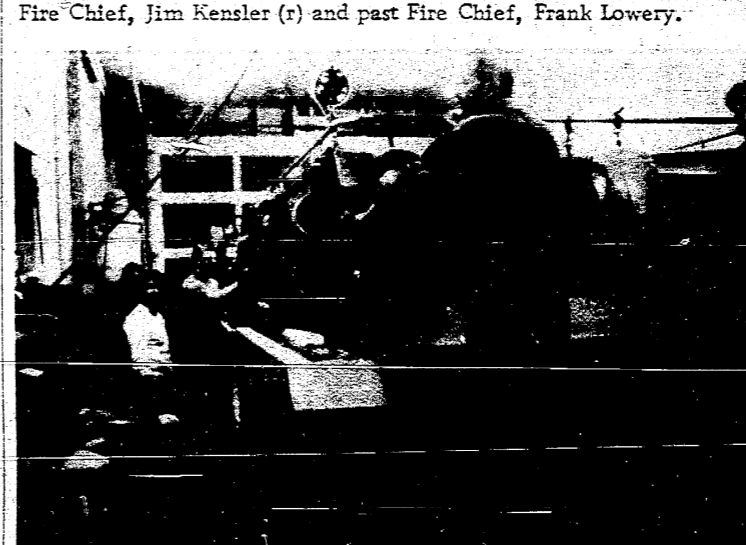

A raging fire would be out of control before the department arrived and unless the residents outside the village limits had paid the $25.00 fee, they didn't receive any help from the fire department. These supporting fees and the village residents maintained the department for many years. In 1912, the village installed fire hydrants and by 1920 had purchased a soda acid tank which could only be used in the village since it had to be pushed by hand to the fire. Soon after, however, they bought an Overland and pulled the equipment. In 1921, they purchased a Model T which is still owned by the department as a remembrance.

Frank Lowery joined the fire department in 1915, became Chief in the mid-1930's and was an active fireman for 35 years. "In those early days," he recalled, "we used the stand pipe with hoses running from it to the fire. At one time we had 1200 feet of hose but sometimes it still wasn't enough." The stand pipe Mr. Lowery refers to is the water tower and the firemen pumped water directly from it until the fire hydrants were installed.

In 1928, the village and the Fire Chief, Jim Kensler (r) and past Fire Chief, Frank Lowery.

Firemen wash the new truck at their regular monthly meeting.

"paying" farmers financed the purchase of a GMC truck which also used soda acid. These two trucks were used until 1945 when Manchester Township assumed the departmental expense and eventually additional equipment was purchased.

Today the fire department has four trucks in operation, the newest, an 8-cylinder powered truck with two high pressure pumps. It was purchased last year and to insure top service, several firemen went to Lansing for operation instruction. The 2,000 gallons of water carried to a fire today is a long way from the 40 gallons of several years ago.

"Manchester has always been lucky to have outstanding fire chiefs and firemen," Frank Lowery remarked. "A fire chief carries a great deal of responsibility." Indeed, a fireman of any rank has a great deal of responsibility for property and often lives.

Community Chest

The annual meeting of the Manchester Community Chest is scheduled for 8:00 p. m., March 21 at the high school. The public is urged to attend and all organizations in the area are requested to have representatives at the meeting in order to bring the views of their groups and to help determine policy for the coming year.

Four members of the board are to be elected for three-year terms. Terms expiring this year are Floyd Green and Louis Vogel of Pleasant Lake and Mrs. D. D. Ludwick and Mrs. Franklin Reck of Manchester. Suggestions for board members may be sent to the nominating committee Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Irvin Gill and Robert Swartz.

Legislative

Highlights

Court Reform Advances — The Holbrook lower court reform bill, House Bill 2763, is finally over its first hurdle after the House passed it with one vote to spare and then defeated an attempt at reconsideration. The Senate Judiciary Committee, which has its own bill, Substitute Senate Bill 68, on the floor, moved it to the foot of the calendar and began a review of the differences between the two measures.

The House Bill is the more complex and expensive and comes closer to the proposal of the so-called executive-judicial-legislative study committee. As finally passed in the House after a futile effort last fall and two weeks of debate this year, House Bill 2763 would create 99 district courts, excluding Detroit, with 179 judges to be paid $20,000, plus permissible county supplementation up to $27,500. The courts would not be courts of record but a recording of all proceedings would be kept for possible appeals. The bill permits the district judges, who must be attorneys and barred from practicing law, to appoint non-attorney "magistrates" in districts outside of metropolitan areas (having their own districts) and in districts including more than one county. The magistrates would be allowed to accept guilty pleas in misdemeanor cases, issue search warrants on authorization of prosecutors and city attorneys, fix bail, issue search warrants on authority of the judge and try cases if the defendant agrees for offenses on which they are allowed to accept guilty pleas. The courts would replace justice courts, municipal courts, police courts, the Recorders Court of Cadillac and circuit court commissioners. Establishment of traffic and parking violation bureaus is permitted. (The Senate bill requires fewer courts and judges and allows more magistrates.)

Operetta Coming — An operetta, "Three Pink Leprechauns" is scheduled for March 22 and 23. This is being presented by the Manchester Jr. High Chorus.

According to Roger Morrison, director, the cast includes some 40 members of the chorus. It will be held in the Civic Auditorium with performances at 8:00 p. m. Adult admission is 75c and children 50c.

Optimist Club

Tours Double A

After their regular meeting Monday night, members of the Optimist Club were given a tour of Double A Products.

When they arrived at Double A, Donald Roach, General Manager, welcomed the group. He remarked that although they were going to be shown the entire plant, the most important asset of the company, those who work there, were missing in the evening.

A movie produced by Brown and Sharpe, of whom Double A is a subsidiary, was shown. In the movie Brown and Sharpe's new plant, Precision Park, was shown from its planning stage to completion. This new plant is in Rhode Island.

After the movie, Don Roach explained briefly the types of products manufactured by Double A. With the help of Henry Vander Kaay, Jerry Creech and Herb Mahony, visitors were given a tour of the plant.

From the many overheard remarks, the Optimist members seemed very impressed with the growth and changes happening at Double A Products Company.

Annual Election

Draws 116 Voters

116 votes were cast in the annual election Monday compared to 69 last year. John Althouse was elected mayor on the Republican ticket with 114 votes. Ted Roberts received one write-in vote on the Democratic ticket for mayor. Lyle Witzman was elected clerk with 114 votes and Ed Kirk was put in as treasurer with 115 votes. Hany Macomber received 112, Wendall Reinhart, 108 and Joe Fitzgerald received one write-in vote. These men ran on the Republican ticket.

Two men received one write-in vote each on the Democratic ticket. They were Guy Little and Jim Scully.

The new officers will be sworn in at a special meeting Thursday, March 14 at the Village Hall at 7:00 p. m. Still not decided is who will fill the vacancy created by John Althouse successful bid for mayor. A man should be appointed at the next council meeting which will be with the new officers.

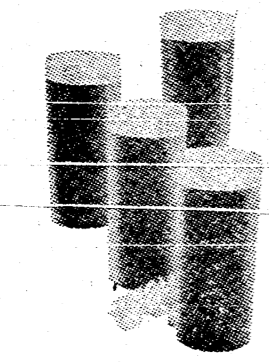

Truth is the foundation of all knowledge and the cement of all societies.
