TWO ESCAPEES CAUGHT NEAR MANCHESTER

Two escapees from the Boys Vocational Training School at Whitmore Lake were captured early Wednesday morning by officers Trolz from the Sheriffs Dept. and McCormick from the Chelsea Police force.

The pair, both 16, had earlier broken into the house of Fred Kennedy at 6451 M52, Manchester. They had searched the basement and were trying eggs when Mr. Kennedy awoke and discovered them. The boys were armed with a 22 pistol and a 22 rifle. They took Mr. Kennedy's money and proceeded to awaken Mrs. Kennedy. Fred went to the basement and got a 30-30 rifle. When the boys came down to get him, he shot one of them in the leg. In the exchange Mr. Kennedy was wounded in the arm.

The boys fled, leaving the 22 rifle behind. They were spotted later by Brian Alber and Joe Brady who called the Sheriffs Dept. Joe and Brian detained the boys by talking to them while the Sheriffs men arrived. After the arrest it was discovered that one boy still had the pistol under his belt.

The pair had been the object of a wide search Monday night when they went into a field after a high speed chase by an officer from the

by Carolyn Ahrens

Twenty years ago, Kenneth Kouba and Gerald White opened a J. I. Case farm implement shop on Chelsea-Manchester Road. They used their last initials to form the name of their shop - K & W Farm Supply.

In 1950, Kenneth Kouba bought out his partner and continued in the business alone until recently when K & W was incorporated and his son Larry became part-owner.

K & W carries all J. I. Case equipment and parts, small items such as air compressors, portable heaters, tires and batteries. Their stock consists of Diesel-powered tractors and machinery, grain elevators, planters and all the modern farm equipment used today.

They depend on agricultural farm equipment, maintenance and repair for their main source of business but have some utility equipment in stock.

Ken Kouba remarked, "There has been a gradual change in the farm machinery since we began with the equipment of years ago, the Diesel equipment for instance. Also the compact garden tractor has especially become a top market item."

Besides Ken and Larry Kouba there are two full-time and two part-time mechanics. The shop will soon be enlarged to further accommodate the customers.

A sales and service shop such as K & W will always be in demand in a farm community such as Manchester and Southeast Michigan.

TV Entertainer To Appear

James Reneaux, whose home is in Jackson, Michigan, has presented his polished sleight of hand act at night clubs and TV shows in sixteen countries, including the Today Show, the Tonight Show, and the Ed Sullivan Show on U. S. Television.

Mr. Reneaux has prepared some new routines, which, combined with his well-known night club act, make a complete show. To test his new program for audience reaction, he is presenting it at school auditoriums near Jackson, when his schedule permits.

"I don't get a chance to do these shows as often as I would like to," he states. "Most of the time I travel around the country with my regular act, working at clubs and conventions, usually for adult audiences. But I enjoy doing tricks for youngsters, and both young people and adults come to these school shows. That's my favorite kind of an audience. I have a lot of comedy material in this show, and people seem to like it. Everyone likes to laugh."

The show will be Friday, March 29 at 8:00 p.m. at the Manchester High School. Tickets will be available at the door.

The program will be sponsored by the Yearbook Fund.

Red Cross Seeks Youth

Young people for summer volunteer service in hospitals are now being recruited by the Wash-taw County Chapter, Mrs. Richard A. Ware, Chairman of Volunteers, announces. Cooperating hospitals are St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Veterans, Wash-taw County and the Geriatrics Unit of Ypsilanti State Hospital.

To serve effectively, Mrs. Ware says, each Volunteer receives intensive classroom and on the job training by means of a 20 hour program developed especially for Youth volunteers. Highly skilled technicians handle this training program and upon successful completion a "capping" ceremony is held. The first meeting will be held Saturday, April 6, 1968 from 9:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. at the Red Cross Operations Center, 2725 Packard Road, in Ann Arbor. Any student who will be age 15 by July 1 is eligible. Applications for this service may be obtained at the Red Cross Operations Center from Donald Peak, Director of Youth Activities for the Red Cross.

WASHINGTON REPORT Marvin L. Esch

Obscene mail has been a very unpleasant and unfortunate problem for many people in this country. Until this year our laws provided no adequate protection for the thousands of families who have been plagued continually by the delivery of uncollected snail mail to their homes.

Last year alone, the Post Office Department received one-quarter million complaints with reference to the receipt of pandering advertisements. Since I have been a member of Congress, dozens of my constituents have written to find out what they can do to prevent this mail from coming to their homes. I feel, as they do, that this practice represents a serious invasion of privacy and an offense against the rights guaranteed in the First Amendment.

The rights of any smaller dealing in sexually provocative advertising matter, in all decency, be limited by the equal right of any person to object -- with the force of the law -- to receiving such material in his home.

With my strong support, legislation was passed in Congress last year which will go a long way to correct this long-standing violation of decency and still remain within guidelines established by the Supreme Court. This legislation, Title III of Public Law 90-206, will go into effect April 15. I want to explain the provisions of this new law for the benefit of those who have been trying to find means of protecting themselves and their families against snail mail.

ive, however, if objections are made known. If you wish to make a complaint to the Postmaster General and would like any further details on this law, please do not hesitate to contact me in Washington.

THE DISCIPLINE OF LOVE

by Rev. T. W. Menzel

"I am the vine, you are the branches. -- Apart from me you can do nothing." John 15:5. Read John 15:1-11.

Christ's picture of the vine and the branches is often taken to be a sweet and tender image. But it is also as tough as life, and as demanding, for it lays bare the demands of real growth. Ten times in verses 5-10 the word "abide" occurs, warning us that life is only possible if we abide in him.

Notice the disciplines of love: to prune, pray, obey, rejoice and suffer! Jesus could compare our life in him with the life of the vine because he knew how the vine produces fruit. It means trimming the vine back to its real essentials. Like the would-be rose grower who only snips at the ends and dried remnants of his bushes, you can deceive yourself if you do not make life count for the production of fruit.

The barren shoot, not living for the vine, is useless. This is the stern truth about our need. Outside of his life and love there is no real life, only death. That is why Paul, in Romans 12 and in 1 Corinthians 12 insists that Christians must be living members of the Body of Christ. Union with Christ is life; therefore, the pruning of life to remove all things unfruitful is a matter of life and death. Apart from the vine we are nothing.

Prayer: We rejoice, O God, that our Master has shown us the life which brings true peace and joy. Take from us all things that hinder our fruitfulness for the Kingdom, that Christ may be glorified and thy name glorified. Amen.

The poorest way to face life is to face it with a sneer.

A useless life is only an early death.

ST. JOHN Chapter 6 - Verses 28 and 29

Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: Many children are having learning or emotional problems at home or in school. I am certain that some children in Manchester are in this group. In fact by extrapolating from Juvenile Court records we have reason to believe that 500 to 1,000 children under the age of 16 in Washtenaw County are not now in school because of some problems of maladjustment.

Parents of these children are concerned but attitudes of neighbors and friends and quasi-scientific articles have caused many to feel that the home is the core and cause of all such problems. They feel guilty and remain quiet. By meeting together and openly discussing these hidden concerns, parents can find new ways to improve conditions both at home and in those community facilities that care for their children.

The Washtenaw County Chapter of the M. A. E. D. C. (Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children) has as their primary concern the quality of care that is provided for all children with emotional disorders. I wish we had a Kennedy or Humphrey or some famous person to speak for us for then it would better publicize the need for parents to get together and raise a stronger voice to better the quality of care for these children. Right now most of our members don't know that we exist.

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey says, "Maintain an interest and join with other families and concerned persons in seeking improvements" when advising parents of retarded children but the same principle is true when applied to other handicaps.

People who care to be more active, call me.

FARM NEWS

THREATEN STATE'S HOG CHOLERA FREE STATUS

Michigan's hard won hog cholera free status has been threatened by an outbreak of hog cholera on a farm near Chelsea in 2,000 feeder pigs imported from Arkansas.

Federal-state veterinarians recently disposed of 1,075 of the animals, sending the bodies to a rendering plant. The rest had died on the premises of this highly contagious and costly disease of swine.

The animals had arrived in Michigan with Health papers prepared in Arkansas. Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture said Michigan had been declared hog cholera free last April after complying with requirements of the nation-wide effort to eradicate this serious swine disease. At the time Michigan was the largest swine producer of the seven states which have achieved this status.

Standards for the eradication program provide that a state may maintain its hog cholera free status as long as it experiences only primary outbreaks -- that is, confined to one farm with no spread to other premises. So far it appears that no additional premises have become infected.

Hog farms in the surrounding areas are being watched to make sure the disease does not spread. During this period of greatest danger, farmers have been asked to take extra precautions to isolate hogs from outside contacts. Also, veterinarians should be called at the first sign of sickness in pigs, advised Dr. J. F. Quinn, state veterinarian of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

EASTERN STAR TO MEET

MEASUREMENT SERVICES SAVE TIME AND MONEY

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan ASC State Committee, reminds farmers who are interested in participating in Federal farm programs that measurement services are provided for farmers at a very small cost.

Measurement services can be used in several ways, for example, a farmer could ask for a measurement of his crop after planting so that if he had any excess over the permitted acreage, he would know exactly how much to destroy; the farmer could ask for an official measurement of all the fields of cropland on his farm that did not already have an official acreage or a premeasurement service could be used to measure and stake out the exact amount of permitted acreage for program purposes prior to planting time.

The value of measurement services is especially important to farmers in certification counties. The entire State of Michigan is on certification where the producer will report his acreages to the local ASCS county office. With measurement services, certifications would be accurate and could result in less spot checks.

The use of this service could mean more income for the farmer. Farm operators would be able to plant within their full permitted acreage and not have extra acreage diverted under the program in which they are participating.

GRANGE URGES EXTENSION OF THE FARM ACT OF 1965

The National Grange called for passage this year of legislation to extend the Farm Bill of 1965 and expressed preference that action be taken if at all possible, to make the Act of 1965 the permanent legislation rather than face the threat of reverting to the thirty-year-old Act of 1937.

Henschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, told the agriculture Committee of the House of Representatives that the Act of 1965 much more clearly fits the circumstances of today than do the basic provisions of the Act of 1937 or the so-called Permanent Legislation. The Master of the Grange noted that farmers and the nation as a whole will automatically FALL BACK if the Act of 1965 is permitted to expire.

The very serious consequences of failure to extend the Act of 1965 this year will begin to manifest themselves in early spring of 1969. A call for a wheat marketing quota referendum will become necessary in March or April if we have to revert to the old legislation. Other serious consequences would include further disruption of the livestock-feed grain sector of U. S. agriculture and reversion to the old cotton program at approximately 33¢ to 34¢ per lb. support.

The National Grange Master cited the positive results that had developed from the Wheat-Cotton Bill of 1964 and the Farm Act of 1965. He pointed out that net income to farm operators was increased from a low $12.2 billion in 1964 to more than $17 billion in early 1966.

The severe decline in farm income which has occurred in the last year and a half has NOT been the result of the failure of the provision of the Act of 1965. On the contrary, this farm income decline has clearly been the result of the destruction of the effective supply-management that had been created in the Act of 1965. This decline resulted from the national call for increased agricultural production in the United States to help meet the World Food Crisis. The War on Hunger or Food for Peace Program should have provided that increased food production for this purpose would be insulated from competition on the commercial market, the market on which the farmer's income must finally depend.

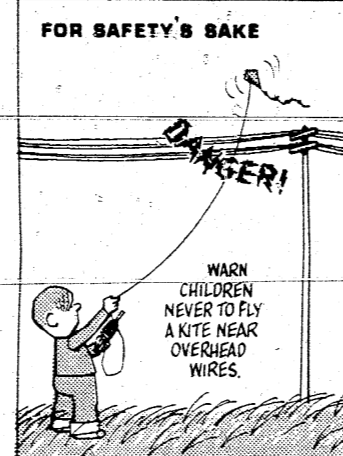

American farmers want to see hungry people fed, but American farmers cannot pay the bill alone nor can they pay the "lion's share" of that bill.

The Grange Master again urged that the Congress should establish a Strategic Reserve in this Session of the Congress and extend the provision of the Act of 1965 or preferably make those provisions the basis of permanent legislation rather than invite the return to the out-of-date provision of the prior legislation.

The Ann Arbor Unit of the Michigan Diabetes Association will hold a morning Coffee Meeting on Wednesday, April 3 at 9:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. William Wetzel, 1200 Arborview, Ann Arbor.

The guest speaker will be Miss Betty Brosius, Nutrition Consultant for the Michigan Diabetes Association whose topic will be "Food Exchanges and New Ideas for Diabetics."

The public is invited to attend and participate in the discussion. There is no charge. Pamphlets relating to diabetes will be available. For further information call Mrs. Wetzel at 665-4319.

FOOD PRODUCTION UNDER LABOR CONTROL?

Michigan farmers are more than a little put out with the action of Representative James G. O'Hara, Mt. Clemens, to place them under provisions of the national Labor Management Relations Act.

He has introduced a bill in Congress which would force all farmers to recognize labor unions on the land. In doing so, it becomes obvious that the Michigan Congressman is more concerned with advancing the cause of organized labor than he is with either the welfare of farmers or the price of food.

Were the proposal to be approved by Congress, the farmer would be forced to "negotiate in good faith" with any union signing more than half of the workers employed on his farm. It is at this point that farmers would find themselves in the same position as employers of other industries who now have to wade through the legal hazing of current rulings, doctrines, opinions and interpretations of labor boards to determine what is meant by the term -- "good faith bargaining."

The main catch is that farm operations are vastly different than those of any other industry, and farmers alone face the seasonal harvesttime problems of highly perishable crops. True, the Act is supposedly aimed at only those larger farmers using a number of employees -- with the Labor Committee considering an exemption for farmers below a certain size.

But farm leaders are quick to point out that it isn't really possible for any farmer to avoid being involved, for if a union is able to organize a few large farms in an area it would have an economic base of compulsory collected dues to build within the community.

Through the familiar labor techniques of striking, picketing, and boycotting, a labor union could harass the workers on a small farm and herd them into employment on the larger.

Since the margin of profit in agriculture is already so very thin, the question is raised why labor unions are at all interested in rural America.

Perhaps the answer lies in the fact that food-lines of a nation are more strategic than any other -- and that labor control of agriculture would be labor control of America.

4-H COUNCIL MINUTES

The Washtenaw County 4-H Council meeting was called to order by president Clair Powers at 8:11 p.m., March 11, 1968 at the Rural Activities Center. Roll call was taken with the following members present (13). Mrs. Charles Powers, Mrs. Walter Lampe, Mr. Erwin Steeb, Mrs. David Gordon, Marlene Zeeb, Mrs. Reno Feldkamp, Mrs. Elton Heber, Mrs. Gail Girbach, Archy Bradbury, John McGinnis, Archy Bradbury, Shar Powers, and Joanne Ticknor. Absent: Pat Staskiewicz, and Mrs. Kraay. Guest: Mr. E. Mrs. MacPhail (area 1 representative to the State 4-H Council.)

Old Business - Mr. Neal had a question on the sheep (market) requirements if you are to show one sheep out of a pen of 3. What if the child only has 1?

Archy Bradbury answered this: He said that this is understood and no one will be excluded if they bring only one sheep. Also Mr. Neal pointed out this would eliminate the child who didn't live on a farm because they couldn't afford to raise 3 sheep.

This question was first one sheep to show.

Dress Revue (Spring Show) 1. Need help to check garments in and out. 2. Faber Awards will be chosen. 3. Open House Sunday afternoon, and refreshments will be served. 4. Garments will be released along with all other projects, between 4:00 and 7:00 p.m. Sunday. 5. Premiums will be paid afterward to the club as it was done in the past.

Change of Council meeting place. Mrs. Lampe suggested the County Building. Motion by Mr. Neal to remain having council meetings at the Rural Activities Center. Seconded by Mrs. Powers. Motion passed.

It was discussed whether or not a person from outside such as an outstanding citizen could be elected to serve on the Council. 1. Point made by Mrs. Powers that this person would need to be someone close to the 4-H activities such as a members parent. 2. Mrs. McGinnis thought you would get someone associated with the youth, such as a teacher. But they probably wouldn't want to take a post-tion. 3. Mr. MacPhail said that Monroe had an older member club which was primarily for recreation. From this they could draw an interested body. 4. Gail agreed that we should get an outsider, for they could bring in new ideas. Mrs. Lampe made a motion that we may have people serve on the council that aren't active 4-H leaders. Seconded by Gail Girbach. Motion was defeated.

Awards Committee. Mrs. Lampe suggested the awards should be a separate group, rather than having the leaders on the Council (as it is at the present) be the Awards Council. Mrs. Lampe made a motion that the council appoint a separate awards committee. Seconded by Mrs. McGinnis. Mr. MacPhail suggested we bring in some leaders to work with some council leaders but keep it down to 5 or 6. Motion was defeated.

New Business. The next council meeting will be April 1.

Spring Achievement. Will there be a change in ribbons other than the Gold given out in knitting and clothing? Answer:

No.

County Show. Horse: English. It was suggested that they come and go out on the same day because of the stable trouble, otherwise they wouldn't show. Reason was it was too much trouble to set up tents and stalls. What if there are 2 out of a Western Club that ride English? Mrs. Little answered by explaining that there would probably be some English. Release of exhibits 9:00 Thursday night.

Woodworking trip to Grand Rapids. The Council voted to have the Woodworking Committee choose their own candidates for the Grand Rapids trip.

Exchange trip and Citizen Shortcourse. Suggestions for these awards: 1. They be Juniors so they will be of use later. 2. Encourage previous kids to be part of the Committee. 3. Keep a Small Committee - 2 council members and 2 previous winners. Motion by Mrs. Heiber that the committee be made up of 2 council members and 2 previous winners. Motion carried.

Meeting was adjourned at 10:11.

WOW! DUTCHMEN VISIT GORDIE HOWE

Above are some very happy Dutchmen. They had the pleasure of meeting Gordie Howe, of the Detroit Red Wings Hockey Team last Sunday night at the hockey game in Detroit.

The Dutchmen with Gordie are Jim Jenter, Bob Pratt, Rick Lowery and Ron and Bill Panches.

The boys also saw Gordie score his 39th goal of the season, and Frank Mahovalich score his 300th and 301st goals of his career.

By the way, Detroit beat Boston 3-3.

SENIOR'S THE BEST !!!!

Senior Boys beat the Faculty 40-26 Tuesday afternoon at the High School.

WOW!!! What a game!

Leisure is a beautiful garment, but it will not do for constant wear.

The most utterly lost of all days is that in which you have not once laughed.

GO DUTCH!

In the pictures above are the pitching staff of the Dutchmen and their infield. You may think you are seeing double but you're not. We have boys on the team that are capable of playing several positions.

The pitchers are Big Scott Sloat, Gary Stautz, Rick Lowery and Lynn Neihaus and Mike Stockwell.

The only thing that bothers me is that they do not have a left-handed pitcher.

The infield is quick hand Lyle Jacobs at first base. He is not in the picture as he was at play practice. Big Scott Sloat is the second baseman. At shortstop is tricky Rick Lowery. At third base is go-get'er 'em Irv Roberts. The catcher is lightfoot Bill Panches. "Lefty"

PLAN TODAY, FOR A FIRE SAFE TOMORROW

Everybody takes a new lease on life when Spring rolls around. And that lease on life -- for you and your family -- will be more certain if you've planned and practiced a family life drill.

"This is another kind of Spring Clean-Up action -- cleaning up any misunderstandings about what to do if fire should strike your home," says Fire Chief Jim Kensler. "National Fire Protection Association records show that more than eight of every ten lives taken by home fires might have been saved if people had planned and rehearsed ways to escape."

"So plan and practice today for a safer tomorrow."

Here are pointers to help you plan:

- Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways or halls by fire.
- Particularly for nighttime fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke, allow extra time for escape or rescue.
- For upper floor escape, use any available porch or garage roofs, ladders and trees as ways down to safety. Be sure exit windows work easily, and that they are low and large enough to get through.
- Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet for a "roll-call," and be sure everyone knows the rule "look-out - stay-out."
- Know how to call the fire department, by street box or neighbor's phone, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.
- Plan who will look out for infants and the infirm, and how. Once your plans are made, urges Fire Chief Kensler, it's important for all the family -- including the children -- to rehearse it carefully and regularly.

Judging by the number of possible arrangements for the letters of the alphabet, people should never run out of new things to say. The 26 letters can be transposed 620,448,401,733,369,000 ways.

CHELSEA AREA CHILD STUDY CLUBS TO HOST SPRING MEETING

"Marching Along Together" is the theme of the spring planning meeting which will be held at the Chelsea High School April 20.

The purpose of this meeting is to help all of the child study groups in the southern Michigan area plan their programs. Also, to receive their 1968-69 program syllabus, exchange ideas with other clubs in the buzz sessions, receive leadership training and to hear an outstanding speaker.

Mrs. Robert L. Daniels is chairman of the steering committee. Her co-workers, who represent the Chelsea Child Study Club, Kinder Klub, Modern Mothers and the Suburban Mothers Child Study Club are Mrs. Robert B. Robbins, Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons, Mrs. Norman C. Houk, Mrs. Eason B. Whitaker, Mrs. Larry A. Chapman, Mrs. Warner H. Stebert, Mrs. Fred A. Mills, Mrs. Paul M. Weber and Mrs. Frederick J. Hoffman.

They will host approximately 400 members of various clubs including the executive board of the Michigan Child Study association.

All clubs planning to send delegates to this meeting are urged to send their registrations in early; deadline is April 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bertke spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer of Brooklyn.

PAMPHLET EXPLAINING MAIL FOR SERVICEMEN NOW AVAILABLE

An illustrated pamphlet -- Mail for Servicemen -- outlining the expanded program for airlifting letters, packages and other military mail overseas at low postal rates is now available through Manchester's Post Office window clerks, Postmaster Kirk wishes to announce.

Postmaster Kirk said that "as a result of the new legislation and action by President Johnson we are now airlifting more than 75 per cent of all mail going to the military men and women stationed abroad. We hope this guide will help more American families be familiar with these services and use them."

The eight-page pamphlet illustrates three services for airlifting parcels at rates the average family can afford, the speedy service now available for newspapers and news magazines to most overseas bases, the special rates for books and similar educational materials, and how to mail sound-recorded personal messages. The guide also provides parcel wrapping instructions, information on the time it takes parcels to reach Vietnam and other overseas bases from major U. S. cities, and pointers on the correct way to address military mail.

TOTAL FUNDS AWARDED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS.

Congressman Marvin L. Esch announced that the colleges and universities in the Second Congressional District have recently been awarded a total of $861,500 in federal Educational Opportunity Grants and a total of $661,753 for federal college Work-Study Programs.

Congressman Marvin Esch reported that Educational Opportunity Grants to institutions in the district include $570,260 to the University of Michigan to help fund an estimated 1,137 student awards, $164,330 to Eastern Michigan University for 391 student awards, $82,930 to Washtenaw Community College for 192 student awards, $23,220 to Adrian College for 58 student awards, and $20,770 to Monroe County Community College for 76 student awards.

Not for a good many years have clothes been so exciting for the Junior Miss. Color, imagination, comfort and durability have been built into designs and fabrics. And such wonderful accessories! Buttons, beads, boots, belts, hostery and bags give no end of ways to enhance the costume.

That is why planning an outfit is such fun for girls enrolled in the national 4-H Dress Revue program. They not only make and accessorize their clothes, but learn how to wear them becomingly.

This year about 335,000 girls from coast to coast are learning tips on sewing and modeling from professionals. Their teachers are local 4-H leaders, extension specialists in clothing and representatives from the educational department of Simplicity Pattern Co., Inc. the program sponsor for 22 years. Any girl between 9 and 19 years of age can join 4-H, says the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H programs and activities throughout the state.

Numerous activities are connected with the dress revue project. One of the most constructive from the standpoint of learning how to be well-dressed is the 4-H fashion clinic. In addition to gaining the confidence and poise that comes with being smartly attired, 4-H girls win merit awards provided by Simplicity.

This year, six national scholarships of $600 each will be presented to the top dress revue members selected from among all the 1968 state award winners. The state award is an expense-paid trip to Chicago and the National 4-H Club Congress, December 1 through 5. Dress revue medals are presented to the county blue award group.

Joseph Bacigalupo is a Chicago window washer. He slipped on an icy ledge, four stories above the street, at 5:30 one morning and dangled for an hour by his safety belt before a pedestrian came by and noticed him, called the fire department which got him down. Joe says he isn't going to start work so early from now on.

Peace Corps Volunteer In South America

Gretchen Hardenbergh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hardenbergh, of East Austin Road, Manchester, has been a Peace Corps volunteer since July, 1966. After three months training in Puerto Rico, she was sent to Usiacuri, Colombia, South America, in the coastal area bordering the Caribbean Sea. The climate is very warm and humid, but is bearable because of altitude and frequent breezes. There are few opportunities for work of any kind, and the land in the village is too poor to support adequate vegetable gardens. One of Gretchen's jobs has been to help implement a lunch program for underprivileged children. Food is provided by care, supervision by the Peace Corps, and staff and labor come from local people. This seems to be a very worthwhile project, and much careful thought went into planning the facility. After only three months operation, the daily attendance is over 70, a real achievement which should make a great difference in the lives of these fortunate children.

The major portion of Gretchen's time has been spent with the artisans of the village, who make lovely baskets by a method unique to this area. The following article was translated from the Spanish language paper, the Spectator of Barranquilla, Colombia, November 29, 1967.

A Peace Corps Group Directs the Artesania ---

The Cooperative Weavers' Guild of Usiacuri has been functioning for some time with about a hundred members. In Usiacuri, a large nucleus of Arts and Crafts has been established.

Nevertheless, Senorita Gretchen Hardenbergh of the Peace Corps, whose business it is to advertise these articles, has pointed out that it is also necessary to conquer the home market where such articles are in great demand.

Gretchen is a charming, red-haired North American girl from Michigan, attached for the last seventeen months to the department of Atlantico. She is liked and appreciated by all the craftspeople whom she encourages and helps constantly. The Cooperative's capital is only 30,000 pesos, and its financial condition is at present placed on a gigantic blackboard so that they and outsiders can acquaint themselves with the management of the entire business. Unfortunately, definite support of the Colombian Association of Cooperatives is lacking, by which a school of Arts and Crafts could be established.

Because the success of the cooperative rests upon expanding sales, the Twentieth Century Club of Manchester has arranged to have a shipment of these handicrafts brought here in an effort to promote understanding and appreciation of this unusual work. Samples will be displayed, and orders will be taken at the following locations: Union Savings Bank, April 12 and 13. Lenten Breakfast, Emanuel Church, April 10 and Cancer Benefit Card Party on April 26.

Chrysler Purchases King-Seeley Plant

E. Elmer Sivacek, formerly general manager of the King-Seeley Division of King-Seeley Thermos Co., has been appointed division manager of the automotive business which Chrysler Corporation acquired from King-Seeley on March 21.

Joseph F. Kerigan, Chrysler vice president - car assembly and stamping, made the announcement here at a news conference. He disclosed that the executive, management and supervisory people and the employees of the Ann Arbor and Scio plants are remaining in the same positions, under Chrysler ownership, that they held previously.

The Ann Arbor plant, with 120,253 square feet of floor space, and the Scio plant, with 329,517 square feet, have been building parts under Chrysler ownership for Chrysler and other automotive customers since March 25.

The two plants have become part of Chrysler's car assembly and stamping group, Kerigan said.

The 1,100 employees of the Ann Arbor and Scio plants are now joined with a total Chrysler Corporation employment of more than 225,000 people," he told newsmen.

Kerigan said Chrysler intends to carry on the Ann Arbor and Scio operation "very much as it has in the past under King-Seeley ownership and with the same people."

This means, he explained, that Chrysler hopes to retain King-Seeley's automotive customers.

"Through the years, King-Seeley has won the respect of everyone involved in automobile and truck manufacturing for the high quality of its motor vehicle products," he said. "King-Seeley also has won the respect of the communities in which it operates."

"Our aim is to maintain that fine relationship and to provide steady employment, at the two plants we have acquired."

A graduate of Tri-State College, Angola, Ind., Sivacek joined King-Seeley in 1941 and remained with the company continuously until March 21 when he began managing operations for Chrysler. He had been a vice president of the King-Seeley Thermos Co., and general manager of the King-Seeley Division, since 1963.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Council met in regular session. Present, Mahony, Koebbe, Reinhart, Macomber, Bauer and Lowery.

Bills were presented and paid. There were seven guests present. The garbage collector was present requesting a new contract for the next three years. He also reported that someone else was picking up garbage in the village. As he has an exclusive right to pick up in the village, he asked council to stop the other party from giving service to Manchester residents. Council will act on this.

Committee appointments were approved. (These can be found on this same page)

Committee reports were given. Herb Mahony, Finance Chairman, asked his committee to meet to set up the new system of taking care of the books. This will be held Thursday night at 8:00 p. m.

Gale Koebbe, Public Works Chairman, reported that chloride will be applied to the gravel streets to cut down dust. He also reported that work will start soon on the new water tower.

Wendell Reinhart, Health and Safety Chairman, is planning a meeting of his group to discuss problems and plans for the coming year.

Harry Macomber, Planning Commission Representative, reported on a study undertaken by him and Bruce Daniels, Supt. of Public Works, concerning the railroad property, from Hibbard to the east Village Limits. After taking a survey, they found that the grade could be leveled down to make a street. The estimated cost was about $800,00. Don Limpert was present at the meeting and said that if his were done it would enable him to build his industrial park. Macomber stated that he hoped this would be a joint project as Limpert's cooperation could save the Village money in removing the high banks. After much discussion, it was turned over to Gale Koebbe who said his committee would have a further report next meeting.

Macomber brought up the problem of sewers in regards to the hookup for the new medical center. He quoted the Village engineers as saying the problem was in the 18 inch main but further study is needed. This was also turned over to the Public Works Committee.

Macomber also asked if the Ordinance Committee could have the building permit applications ahead of the regular council

"Service to God is shown by service to man" is the Testimony of Faith of the Emanuel United Church of Christ. Rev. Ralph L. Kuether expresses his belief that Emanuel Church is thus following their doctrine of faith in serving the community by providing educational facilities for the children of Manchester.

Last year and the current school year, Manchester Public Schools have used the classrooms of Emanuel Church as they did several years ago when additional space was needed. Although the school system does not pay rent, they partially reimburse the church for heat and light utilities.

Approximately seventy-five first-grade children attend school at Emanuel and in addition to using three classrooms about sixty children also use the dining hall at lunchtime and are supervised by Mrs. William Schaffer. The Emanuel parking lot and Russell Widmayer's vacant lot across the street are used as playground areas and the village has blocked off Madison Street behind the church for added safety.

There are three first-grade teachers, Mrs. Leo Scully, Mrs. Charles Cresswell and Mrs. Dale Laninga. Although the students are separated from the rest of the elementary school children, their teachers make it as pleasant and workable as possible. They have a pet chipmunk and have planted garden seeds in a nature study course. Special trips must be made for materials and library use however.

But without the generosity of the Emanuel Church many of the young people of the public schools would be deprived of the special attention and instruction they now receive in the smaller classrooms. Not only would the first-grade pupils suffer in overcrowded conditions but several more classrooms would have to be enlarged to accommodate the seventy-five students now schooled at Emanuel Church.

Mrs. Birdella Flood is the Manchester Elementary School Principal which includes the Emanuel Church classrooms, Nellie Ackerson and Pleasant Lake Elementary Schools.

Rev. Kuether also noted that the Manchester Cooperative Day Care Center also uses a classroom on Tuesday and Thursday mornings. Mrs. Paul Bowler is the nursery school teacher and is assisted by mothers of the pre-schoolers. There are approximately twenty children enrolled and the nursery school has been in operation over five years.
