Fair Time '68

The Manchester Community Fair will soon be underway as the brown and green striped tents are raised and the Ingalls Amusement Company equipment is moved into the Athletic Field. On Tuesday, August 20 through Saturday, August 24, a program of activity has been carefully planned by the Fair Board under the direction of Ted Stautz, President of the Manchester Community Fair.

The Howard Heath Farm Program will be broadcast daily by WPAG, a gate ticket drawing is scheduled each evening at 9:30 p. m. and the Senior Class of '69 will serve breakfast, lunch and supper meals with soft drinks and snacks throughout the day from 6:00 a. m. to 11 p. m. at their Senior Food Tent.

Tuesday morning all exhibits are to be entered by noon and will be judged that afternoon. Details and exhibit rules are outlined in the fair book. Activities for boys and girls through 16 years of age are planned for Tuesday afternoon and include a pie eating contest and egg toss with prizes for the winners.

The fair parade is scheduled for 7:00 p. m. followed by the choosing of a fair queen and court.

Wednesday's schedule includes a boys bike race, lamb judging in the afternoon, and an extra attraction of a high school girls' softball game at 2:30 p. m. Marlene Uphaus and "The Queen and Her Court" will play Jerry Creech's team, "The Nifty Nine." The Senior Class will serve a Wednesday Night Special of a Swiss Steak Dinner from 5-7 and all are cordially invited. Then following the steer judging at 8:00, Luke Schaible and his band will be on hand with dancing music for all.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor, I don't know if this letter I am writing is correctly placed for the right column or not, but here goes anyway. I would like to say hats off to the business people on Manchester main street for painting and fixing up their store fronts. It is nice to walk down our village street and see it so nicely painted and kept up. If the business men on side streets would just get a little incentive and clean their store fronts, it sure would make the side streets as neat appearing as the main street.

Home owners on all village streets are expected to keep up the appearance of their lawns and houses. Why is there an exception as far as businesses on side streets? Thank you for an opportunity to express an interested persons opinion.

Signed, An interested village homeowner

THE RULING MINORITY

By Rev. Ralph Janofski Iron Creek Community Church

In the Book of Judges, Ch. 7, verse 4, we find this statement: "The people are yet too many." There are many accounts on record of history being changed by a few people. Sometimes this has been very good but it also has been proved at times to be the opposite. Major trends of thought, works of art, discoveries and inventions of science and industry are the contributions of just a few, and have benefited and influenced the majority.

This same principle has been true in the history of the church. We have examples such as the Reformation, and such men as Abraham Lincoln in more recent days and of Noah and Abraham in the far past. In a period when "all the world was desperately wicked" God found one man in whom He bestowed grace and mercy and by him God made a new beginning of the human race.

It is also true that the followers of Jesus Christ are a minority. This is strongly stated in the teaching of the Wide and Broad Gate and the Strait and Narrow Way, but the Bible declares that if God be for us, who can be against us. Even the gates of Hell cannot prevail against the true followers of Jesus Christ. There have been in the past, and we find it so even now, that a few men have met and organized and prevailed in their Godless courses, to the great hurt of the world society and the tearing down of righteous standards everywhere. This is so of a few men who met in Russia half a century ago and the Godless philosophy and economy of Communism has spread over half the world today.

In the time in which we live we have another classic example of the ruling power of the minority in the promotion of what is called "civil rights." That which may have been intended for the good of all has resulted in blasphemy to the name of God and Christianity by "marches", "sit-ins", "riots", and "civil disobedience." It has prompted legislation in behalf of the "poor" by which administrators of poverty programs have become wealthy, the poor have become more dissatisfied, and more demanding of charity, while the honest and industrious are called upon for a greater part of their earnings to pay for these programs. Honest and God-fearing citizens must speak out against these things and promote those things that made America the great nation that she is.

Perhaps we also are a minority group, but this is a holy and right cause. The account of Gideon in the Book of Judges tells us that God reduced Gideon's army to a very small 300 men, wholly dedicated to the deliverance of their nation, and obedient to their leader. They went forth to battle in the name of the Lord and God gave them the victory. Good and Godly people can depend on God's help in the issues that face our nation today. Will we not rally to the need of the hour and declare ourselves ready to march under the Banner of the Cross?

Reflections -- Phew! It's over for another year! This is the sentiment expressed by most parents and many leaders. Not so with the 4-Hers. They are already planning and looking forward to next year's County Show. This is great - what with all the many trips between home and fair grounds, all the tears and the just plain sweat and toil it takes to get any exhibit ready for the fair. The parents really deserve a big vote of thanks from their 4-Hers and leaders. The parents who are really and truly interested in their children's projects will make countless trips between home and the meeting place and the fair grounds. The

SUCCESS

A successful man is he who receives a great deal from his fellowmen, usually incomparably more than corresponds to his service to them. The value of a man, however, should be seen in what he gives and not in what he is able to receive. "Albert Einstein"

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

"Plato said it a long time ago -- the penalty for not taking part in government is that you will be ruled by your inferiors. This is a 'privilege' widely enjoyed in this country, and it is not the fault of your inferiors."

"It is your fault!" Making this pungent observation was Allan Kline, Iowa hog farmer and former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation. The occasion was a nation wide farm research meeting held at Michigan State University, just ahead of the 1960 elections.

Kline felt strongly about total citizen commitment toward self government and had little time for people who thought they had done their duty just by voting and urging others to vote. "There isn't a man or woman who can discharge his political responsibilities just by voting. This is the least of his responsibilities. I'm tired of people who somehow assume that a 'Get Out the Vote' program is a great patriotic duty. There's a lot of people in this country that I don't give a whoop whether they vote or not!"

Having made his point, Kline went on to say that he was interested in good, thoughtful, able people voting providing they knew what they were voting about and were making decisions based on a reasonable analysis of situations and based on the kind of confidence in America which the record deserves.

The 73 year-old farm statesman died suddenly this summer while visiting the farm he loved near Vinton, Iowa. Although his voice is stilled, his thoughts reach out to all Americans:

"You are American citizens. You live in a time when history is being made. We are again testing self-government in this country. Politics - government, is only good if it has in it able people, willing people, working people."

"But if you don't take part in government, if you -- the good people, if you, the busy and able people of America don't take part in self-government, then the chances of our grandchildren enjoying our freedoms is not good..." Kline said.

He added: "I think the chances are good because we're going to work at it. I believe there is a rebirth of enthusiasm in the business of government..."

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR

The "Family of the Year" will be honored at the 119th Michigan State Fair, which opens Friday, August 23, and runs through Monday, September 2 (Labor Day).

E. J. (Jeff) Keirns, State Fair general manager, said the family will receive gifts and be feted on Family Day at the fair, Friday, August 30.

The largest family in attendance at the fair that day will be chosen. Those competing will be required to provide birth certificates or other forms of identification for the children. Registration will be at the Community Arts Building between 10 and 11 a. m. that day. In the event of a tie, a drawing will determine the winning family, which will be announced at noon.

The family will become the guests of the State Fair for the day. Members will receive gifts from Consumers Power Co., Unique Zippers, Personality Plus, Inc., Michigan Bell Telephone Co., and will participate in a fashion show courtesy of Montgomery Ward. The gifts will be presented in cooperation with the State Fair Community Arts Department.

In addition, the family will receive a plaque, dinner on the Fairgrounds, and free admission to all Midway shows and rides.

They will be special guests at the 8 p. m. Grandstand show, featuring the State Fair Aerial Spectacular, with trapeze and highwire artists, swaying-pole performers, and a human cannonball.

Special status also will be accorded the family at the 3 p. m. Music Shell show, which will star Arthur Godfrey, the radio and television personality. Later, they will meet Godfrey and The Cowbells, the singing family which is also on the Music Shell program that day.

BARLEY, OATS AND RYE LOANS AVAILABLE

Commodity price support loans are available to all producers of 1968-crop barley, oats and rye, Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, informed producers recently. He added that producers of these crops do not have to participate in other farm programs to be eligible for price support loans, as is the case with wheat and corn.

Any farmer, he stated, who produced barley, oats or rye this year can obtain a price support loan on the crop by contacting the local county ASCS office. The crop can be stored either on the farm or in approved warehouses.

Use of the Price Support Loan Program has many advantages to producers, Mr. Light stated. He pointed out that by using the program the farmer can hold the grain until the desired market price is reached and, in the meantime, have use of the loan funds at 3 percent interest. The loan can be repaid in partial payments to cover the grain being used or sold.

The market prices for these crops, Light noted, are well below support levels in Michigan. Extensive use of the loan program by producers could only strengthen the market and increase the market price. Mr. Light urged producers to discuss the details of the loan program on these crops with their local county ASCS office.

1968 FEED GRAIN PAYMENTS BEING MADE

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State ASC Committee, announced recently that 1968 Feed Grain payments will be made starting August 14, 1968. There are over 55,000 Michigan farmers participating in the program.

These farmers diverted some of their normal acreage of feed grains from production.

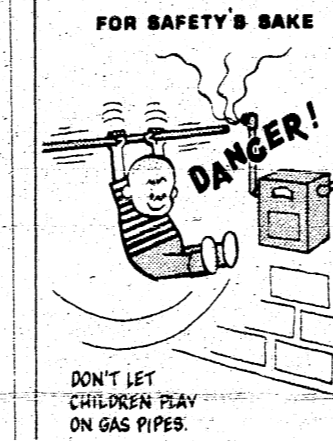

The payments compensate them for the loss of income on the acreage they diverted from income producing feed grain crops. In effect, Light added, we asked them to take out of production a portion of their land to adjust national supplies to expected demand.

Participation in the program is voluntary. Feed grain producers had the choice of restricting their production for the diversion payment and a guarantee of a government price support on their feed grains. The other alternative was not to participate and to plant unlimited acreage without any government assistance, thus taking a chance that the market price for their crop would be favorable.

In 1968 approximately 49% of Michigan feed grain farmers found it advantageous to enroll in the feed grain program. Based on preliminary reports, these farmers will divert 836, 922 acres from feed grains in 1968.

In closing, Mr. Light stated that the program under present legislation will continue through 1969. Congress is presently considering legislation to extend the program. He added that the objectives of the program are to reduce total feed supplies and to maintain farm income.

MF 165 is the work champ of 4-plow farming

MF 165 is the 4-plow tractor that challenges all the others in work output. It has the power plant to get the job done fast... an economical 203 cu. in. direct injection diesel engine or high torque gasoline and LPG engines. Now the MF 165 has Pressure Control that transfers thousands of pounds of weight from pull-type implement and tractor front end to the drive wheels. Advanced Ferguson System transfers weight from mounted implements automatically. This means less slippage and more work done every day. Independent PTO operates free of transmission drive clutch. SPECIAL SEWING COURSES OFFERED 4-H LEADERS

Women who know something about home sewing and would like to volunteer as a 4-H Club leader can add to their skills through a program designed especially for 4-H clothing and home improvement leaders. The announcement comes from the National 4-H Service Committee, which in cooperation with the Extension Service and The Singer Company has arranged a course called "Your Sewing Machine." The course is set up by the Extension Service and usually runs for two days. Three teaching manuals are used: (1) Know Your Sewing Machine. (2) Regulation and Care for Your Sewing Machine (3) Make the Most of Your Sewing Machine. Singer provides the manuals. The training sessions feature latest methods of teaching young people of different ages and abilities, and includes actual work with the sewing machine. Upon returning home, the project leaders show their 4-H girls what they learned, and how to make sewing a joy instead of a chore. A certificate of merit is presented each woman completing the course. More information can be obtained from the County Extension office.

LEADER DOG SHORTAGE
Leader Dogs for the Blind, located south of Rochester, Michigan, on M-150, graduated 165 Leader Dogs with their masters during the last twelve month period. To graduate 165 Leader Dogs, it was necessary to check nearly 1,000 family pets offered for the training program.
A Leader Dog must have certain qualities to be capable of serving as a Leader, for instance, it must be a dog that will accept responsibility and be completely friendly to people. It usually helps if a dog has been raised in a family where there are children so it is used to being with people. A dog for Leader Dog work must be "trainable", and it must like to ride in automobiles. Tests show that a dog that is shy or timid, afraid of noise and confusion, reluctant to meet strangers will not pass the training program. People using Leader Dogs face all sorts of traffic conditions and confusing situations, therefore, it takes a stable dog to qualify.
The Leader Dog School is using German Shepherds, Labrador and Golden Retrievers from one year to 30 months of age. They must be at least 22 inches in height at the shoulders but not more than 26 inches. They must be in good physical condition because the training program is a concentrated effort of four months duration (three months with the trainer and one month with the student) so there is no time to build up a dog.
Students are accepted from all over the United States and Canada, as well as Mexico and several South American countries. There is no charge for the service. The school is supported by Michigan United Fund.

Couple Travels To Scotland

By Carolyn Ahrens

On July 5, Don and Harriet Macintosh of 10100 Hogan Road boarded a Transinternational Airline Super DC-8 along with 250 fellow passengers bound for Scotland. It was a chartered flight which was sponsored by the order of Scottish Clans. They traveled at a 35,000 ft. elevation at 550 mph and Mrs. Macintosh remarked, "We had a grand plane ride and enjoyed every bit of it." A 6-day journey by boat for Don Macintosh some forty-five years ago was a 6 1/2 hour flight today.

Upon their arrival in Prestwick, they were met by Mr. Macintosh's brother-in-law and nephew and were driven to Glasgow where they spent the first week visiting families there. "We visited all their homes, had a grand time and were royally entertained," the Macintosh's added.

While in Glasgow they visited Stirling and the famous Stirling Castle. From Glasgow they traveled by car to Inverness, the capitol of the highlands in the northern part of Scotland where they spent three weeks "visiting, reminiscing and traveling all over northern Scotland."

Sights included the beautiful mountainous Glencoe; several lakes which are called lochs in Scotland, including Loch Leven, Loch Linnhe, Loch Lomond and Loch Oichy; Mr. Nevis, the highest mountain in Scotland; Fort Augustus and a monastery there; Loch Ness which is 1,000 feet deep in places and where tales of a monster have been handed down and where the temperature remains at 42 degrees winter and summer. They also visited the Inverness Gardens on the northwest coast of Scotland; and with a sister of Mr. Macintosh's took a 3 1/2 hour boat trip down Caledonian Canal; a visit to Culloden Moor Battlefield where they saw the Macintosh Clan stone; and they climbed 203 steps to the top of the second highest Lighthouse in Scotland overlooking Dornoch and Moray Firth and five shrines (counties) of Scotland.

As pointed out by Mrs. Macintosh, "Don saw more of Scotland in five weeks than he saw in the 22 years he lived in Scotland due to lack of transportation."

The Macintosh's spent the last week back in Glasgow where they visited Edinburgh, the Edinburgh Castle, walked down Princess Street, saw a clock made of flowers and several art museums and parks. Mrs. Macintosh remarked on the beautiful uncommercialized countryside, the friendliness and courtesy of the people there. They enjoyed many old favorite foods of Mr. Macintosh's including freshly caught fish, steak and kidney, scones and potted head.

It was a sad farewell of families and new friends but both are looking forward to a return visit some day and a promised visit to Manchester of some of Mr. Macintosh's family. When they returned to Manchester and drove into their yard a neighbor had put up a sign saying, "Welcome home Harriet and Don." The Macintosh's added, "We were happy to be home with our friends again."

County Roads: Not Good, But Why?

By Karen Kirk

Everyone around Manchester has a common gripe. Our roads are bad. The big question is what is being done or can anything be done.

The Washtenaw County Road Commission is responsible for maintaining the roads within the county. The Commission consists of three men elected every two years for six year terms. They are Raymond L. Koch, chairman; Herbert L. Frisinger and Don A. Weir. According to state law, an engineer must be a board member who can approve programs made by the Commission. The board chose Howard G. Minter as managing director.

The Commission operates under two systems; the primary and local. Seventy-five percent of the money appropriated to the Commission must be spent on primary roads. They have to provide a three mile square service which is obtainable up to a distance of one and one-half miles. Roads like Austin and Pleasant Lake are primary roads.

The Commission recently presented a proposal to raise taxes one mil over the next three years within the county for the use on roads. It will not be placed on the ballot because it did not appear before the election deadline. The road commission must now formulate a program about how they would intend to use these extra funds and present it before the board of supervisors. If they approve this proposal, the money collected over the next three years will be placed in a separate fund for use in outlying rural primary and secondary roads around the county.

The Motor Vehicle Fund appropriates money collected from 64¢ and weight (license) taxes to counties, cities and interstate highways according to Act. 51. Counties receive 34 percent of the total, cities receive 20 percent and interstate highways get 46 percent.

When the county gets their allowance they must spend it according to the regulations of the Michigan State Highway Commission. Under the primary system 15 percent is given to all the townships, 10 percent distributed according to mileage and 75 percent represents the weight tax portion. The local system money is appropriated by 65 per cent mileage and 35 per cent population within each township.

Unless a township happens to have a large population and many roads particularly primary ones which get more money, there isn't a very significant amount to work with after all the percentages are divided. Townships can get more money if they want to make improvements on their own. The Commission will match the proposed cost of their programs with 15 percent of the total.

In Manchester, there are 46.41 local roads or 4.93 per cent of county's total. According to the 1960 census, Manchester Township holds 1.42 per cent of the county population.

Three years ago the Commission decided the money spent on primary roads would be used according to the greatest need which was determined by the amount of population and primary roads within an area.

Before the present Commission was elected the county was divided into three areas according to mileage, population, area and amount of travel. One-third of the fund was spent equally in each district.

"The better roads are where there are more people who use them to get them," Clayton Parr, Manchester Township Supervisor said. "Now this Board of Commissioners want the township board to match one half of the funds needed for improvements. Usually the job can be done with one half of the estimated cost. According to the attorney general the townships are not liable for the roads. We may turn over our funds to the county to get improvements. When the Motor Vehicle Fund is divided the townships do not get anything because there are no township roads. We have no control over the County Commission because we don't give them money. We can only make suggestions," commented Supervisor Parr.

"The Commission says they don't have the money," John Miller, Freedom Township Supervisor said. "We don't feel we are getting what we should."

Miller said the Road Commission meets with the township board once a year and tells them what they will match. He said they tell the board what they want done but the Commission sets up the rules.

"If townships want total road classification, the Commission will pay for all the primary roads if the township pays for the secondary roads," Miller said. "Otherwise townships must pay for all classification if it is only a partial application," he added.

In Freedom there are 13 miles of classified primary roads and 51 miles of secondary roads. "There have been no new black-top roads in this area in 40 years. Pleasant Lake road was the last county-state project," Miller said.

He believes the funds should be more evenly distributed. Koch was asked what the county was planning to do to improve Austin Road. They decided to use a weighting technique which contains material with a load bearing capacity. They are presently working on the job which will build up the road edges making them level with the middle of the road.

When the road was originally built it was a one-lane track with the center being the highest part. When this job is finished, the road will be extended from 20 to 24 feet.

The county has found it is too costly to rebuild roads by tearing them apart and laying down a sand and gravel base. They can only do this with Federal appropriations in high traveled urban areas. First they must fulfill a sand and gravel, curb and gutter requirement as with the Stadium Boulevard and Main Road intersection in Ann Arbor.

The Commission is now using a black base formula which has an increased load carrying type black top ingredient. The base is laid down and the edges are built up and the top surface is sealed over. More roads will
