Visitor Stays; Starts Business

by Carolyn Ahrens

Not long ago, Elihew Fillyaw came to the Manchester area only in the fall for his favorite hobby, hunting. Then about three years ago he decided "he liked the community so much he wanted to live here." So he and his family moved to a small farm on W. Austin Road.

Mr. Fillyaw had been in the gas station business for about twenty years in the Dearborn area when he purchased the Ashland Service Station on W. Main Street which is now officially known as Fillyaw's Ashland Service.

As a Manchester businessman, Mr. Fillyaw meets many people both from the area and visitors passing through. He employs two part-time men and his son, Larry, on a full-time basis. Another son, Roger, helps on the weekends.

With a new two-ton wrecker, electric tune-up equipment and a variety of other services, including the selling of auto accessories, Mr. Fillyaw has long and busy hours. This also includes 24-hour AAA emergency service.

Mr. Fillyaw's wife, Gladys, and daughter, Mary, complete the family who are members of the Faith Community Church.

Fillyaw's Ashland Service is open daily from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 7 to 11 and is closed on Sunday.

SURVEY TAKEN ON CHOICE OF NIGHTS

Recently the possibility has arisen concerning the Manchester merchants changing their store evening hours from Wednesday night to Friday night. This would involve everyone if it were done.

As Friday is pay-day for many, it involves grocery shopping and other shopping as well. As pointed out by several people, there is no school the next day. But also mentioned was the varsity football and basketball games on Friday evening although the starting time has been moved to 8:00 p.m. Many people felt it wouldn't personally matter to them if the stores were open on Friday night instead of Wednesday. Although they felt it would probably be to the advantage of many.

In a telephone poll, fifty people were called at random. This included 28 families living within the village and 22 families in the rural area on changing to Friday nights. The results were: 26 yes; 2 no; 22 felt it wouldn't matter either way.

There are advantages and disadvantages involved in this possibility and will require further consideration. If you have a comment please express your views to any of the village merchants. They are concerned about your opinion as you are most important part of their business.

Junior High Student Council members are busy preparing for the forthcoming United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive. This group is stuffing coin cards into envelopes for distribution, during the October campaign, to elementary school children. Students are reminded that their gift to the United Fund should be from their own earnings or allowances and not an extra gift from their parents.

OFF THE CUFF

Two more breakins reported. One at Tom Marshall where considerable damage was done and about $42,000 taken. Also broken into was Arnold's Service where about $5,000 was taken. The thefts occurred Friday a.m. Investigation is continuing.

Steve Hone is in the Lucas County Jail where he was sentenced to seven months for being involved in an accident with a stolen car. This is the vehicle stolen during the recent breakins. Hone had already been sentenced by the time they had notified authorities here of his arrest. We wonder if maybe they have the right idea. When Hone is released, charges of car theft await him here. A juvenile was also involved.

The trial in the drowning case of Thomas Miller is being held this week in Ann Arbor. Hearing the case is Judge Francis O'Brien.

Council is working out plans for fixing the Duncan Street bridge. Engineers are working out different ways of repairing or replacing the bridge. First estimated costs for repairs are $12,000 to $15,000 and to replace with a two-lane bridge, $20,000 or more.

Have all the merchants turned in their questionnaires passed out by the Planning Commission? Better make your opinion known.

Hope to see you all at the Jaycee sponsored River Clean-Up, Sunday, Sept. 29 at 1:00 p.m. Let's show our community spirit in improving the appearance of our town.

The fall Crocuses have been in full bloom this past week at the Manchester Township Library.

Susan Pentlow of 15783 English Road reports that the Red Pontiac Potatoes she planted are growing above the ground as well as below the ground.

The Kueblers of 6870 Steinbach Road report they have a "squash tree" growing in their garden. The squash vine has wound itself around a pear tree and has grown up so far in the tree that it looks like a "squash tree" instead of a pear tree.

VOTER REGISTRATION DEADLINE, OCTOBER 4

Time is fast closing in on prospective voters who still have not registered for the November 5 general election.

"You have only until October 4 to get registered," is the way the state's chief elections official, Secretary of State James M. Hare put it. "If you are not registered, you can't vote for important offices as well as on a record five statewide proposition on the ballot."

The measure of choosing well is, whether a man likes and finds good in what he has chosen.

Family Business Still Growing

By Carolyn Ahrens

As the Standard Oil Agent in the Manchester area, George E. Wacker of W. Main Street, is following in the footsteps of his father. The late Arthur Wacker had been in the fuel oil business since 1932 when he took over the route from Don Silkworth of the Gallup-Silkworth Co. Young Wacker took over the business in September, 1960.

In supplying the 500-600 customers in approximately a 12-mile radius of Manchester, Wacker is equipped with three 2,000 gallon delivery trucks, a small truck used for hauling barrels and a truck with 4-wheel drive for servicing customers often snowed in during the winter. The trucks are equipped with two-way radios for immediate customer service which often saves a repeated trip to an area, provides break-down emergency service and numerous other services between Mr. Wacker and his employees as well as the customers.

Bud Schiefel and Floyd Parr work on an "as-needed basis" which might be one or two days a week during the summer and almost full time in the winter.

Standard Oil includes fuel oil for homes, gas for trucks, tractors and other equipment used

AMERICAN RED CROSS WILL RECRUIT NEW VOLUNTEERS

The Washtenaw County chapter of the American Red Cross will recruit new volunteer workers from September 23 through October 5, Mrs. Allan F. Smith, chapter vice chairman, announced.

The volunteer drive is conducted annually to seek persons of all ages who care to devote any special talent to Red Cross work. They will spend about a half day a week at their volunteer jobs. Washtenaw county needs at least 3,000 active volunteers to operate successfully.

Workers are needed to serve as typists, blood clinic workers, auto drivers, writers, speakers, artists, hospital workers, nurses, first aid instructors, receptionists, and social services and military family case workers. Persons wishing further information may call the Red Cross Operations office in Ann Arbor, 971-5300. Applicants will be interviewed by professional Red Cross volunteer leaders, and will receive training if necessary. Since January, 1968, volunteers have worked 46,342 hours in community projects, and have collected a record 7,210 pints of blood for distribution to patients requiring blood transfusions.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

This letter is also in regards to our telephone conversation of September 16, but this letter will cover demonstrations not ADC & Welfare.

People in the U.S.A. are asking themselves "Why are all of these demonstrations, sit-ins, sleep-ins, love-ins, etc., taking place and why doesn't someone put a stop to them?"

After seeing the hour long special "What Trees Do They Plant" which is Chicago's answer to why their police reacted the way they did. I think the answer is simple, and three-fold in its entirety.

(1) Disrupt the people in the U.S.A.
(2) Disrupt the Police Departments.

(3) Disrupt the Federal Government.

These were the main reasons for the demonstrations in Chicago. To me, this sounds like communism. The whole idea behind the Communist take over of countries is described above, in three sentences.

(1) Disrupt the people in the U.S.A.

This is a Communist starting point. If they can get the people to fighting, and distrusting themselves, their neighbors and friends, then they are on the road to victory.

If we, as Americans, listen to these Communist even though we know what is right, and do their bidding, then we are helping them to a major victory.

In all of the major demonstrations held, how many times have you heard of the leader of the whole demonstration up front leading his charges? Not too many, if at all. Usually he is in the middle of the pack, giving directions to his charges over microphones. When trouble starts he is the first one to break and run for cover. This too is the Communist way, start trouble, then get out and leave the charges to fend for themselves.

(2) Disrupt the Police Departments.

If the Communists can get the Police Departments into trouble, with the people by claiming Police Brutality, etc., this is step two of their three step plan for Communist take over of a country.

People in this country are saying the Police Department in Chicago over reacted in their attempts to put down violence.

After four days and nights of rioting, rock throwing, burning and looting, what were these policemen supposed to do? How many people would have stood by and allowed this to go on, if they were in the place of the policemen in Chicago, and knew that an attempt was going to be made to disrupt the Democratic Convention, and an attempt was going to be made to assassinate the three top leaders of the Democratic party trying to get the Presidential Nomination.

People are to easily lead to Roar Police Brutality when policemen stand up to protect the lives and property of us all, and to easily lead to Roar, for more police protection when they don't.

How Can They Win????

(3) Disrupt the Federal Government.

If the Communist can get the people to start questioning the decision of our leaders then they are on their way to a three step victory and over all conquest of a nation.

When the youth can be so easily swayed against a U.S. Policy, what about the rest of the people? Do they go along with the majority or do they stand on their own two feet and back their freely elected leaders?

The youth of today want all the freedoms they can get, but they don't want to stand and fight for them.

Some adults are getting the same way. Why? Communism.

If the Communists can get our people to not back any decisions of our leaders except those that the Communist want, then they are slowly winning their type of war. The war on our minds.

If we are to be "One Nation, Under God Indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for All," then we are going to have to shake the cobwebs of Communism from our minds, support our leaders, in all decisions, good or bad, and back our nation 100%.

SENATOR GIL E. BURSLEY

The Michigan Senate Committee on Abortion Law Reform will hold the first of a series of hearings on Monday, October 7, according to Senator Gilbert E. Bursley (R-Ann Arbor), Committee Chairman.

"We hope to receive testimony both for and against liberalized abortion laws with specific suggestions as to provisions for such legislation.

"During the past session, legislation was introduced to legalize abortion in cases involving the life of the mother, possible defects in the unborn child and in cases of rape and incest. Hearings were conducted by the Senate Judiciary Committee but no action was taken on the proposal.

"We plan to develop additional evidence, to review the experience of other states with liberalized abortion laws and to have recommendations ready for the 1969 Legislature.

"The Ann Arbor public hearing will be on Monday, October 7, from 10:00 a. m. to noon and during the afternoon. It will be 100%.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Thomas G. Sharpe

For a good many months now, the Michigan State Bar Association and the office of the Attorney General of Michigan have been promising the public that investigations of alleged misconduct on the part of certain Livingston County attorneys are being conducted with all possible haste.

Both in formal press statements, and in direct communications to me, assurances have been given that the clouds of doubt that hang over Livingston County would soon be dispelled -- that a full report would be made and all proper action promptly taken by the authorities, if we would merely wait patiently a little longer.

I, for one, can say most emphatically that my patience is rapidly running out!

The first batch of evidence concerning apparent irregularities in the handling of the Rosa Miller estate was presented to the State Bar in early February, and to the Attorney General soon afterward with additional documentation. Fully 69 pages of documented evidence in the Orpha

Bowe case went to the same authorities in March, and has been followed by a steady stream of additional information concerning other seeming improprieties in the county's judicial system, down to and including charges of ticket-fixing.

A spring and summer have since gone by. September is here. And there has been no report, no action. Nothing tangible has been done.

I have said before that I have no wish to pre-judge any individual, no matter how serious the charges or convincing the evidence. Lawyers deserve their day in court just like anyone else.

I am rapidly forming some strong judgments, however, about the system that has spawned this situation -- the system that permitted whatever misconduct may have taken place in the first place, and has since, in effect, condoned it with sheer lethargy.

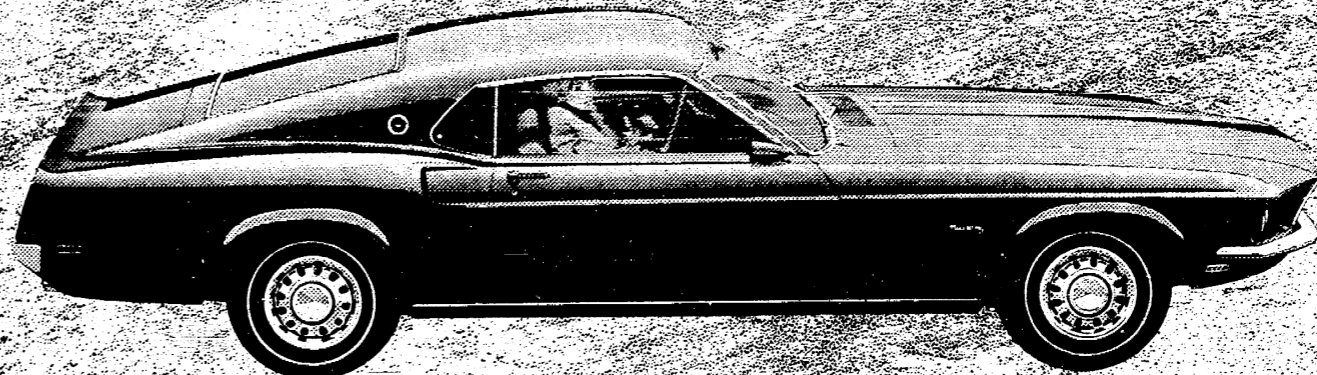

I am beginning to believe that both the original alleged irregularities publicized in Livingston County, and the prolonged failure of the authorities to clear the air are inherent in any system whereby a profession is given the privilege of policing its own members.

Under the integrated bar system, every lawyer, prosecutor and judge in Michigan belongs to the same union, so as to speak. If such stereotyped characters as "ambulance-chasers" or "mouthpieces" for criminal syndicates exist in our state -- as they probably do to at least some extent -- then they are literally fraternity brothers, not only of more reputable attorneys, but also of the lofty, dignified, black-robed members of Michigan's highest tribunal, the justices of our State Supreme Court.

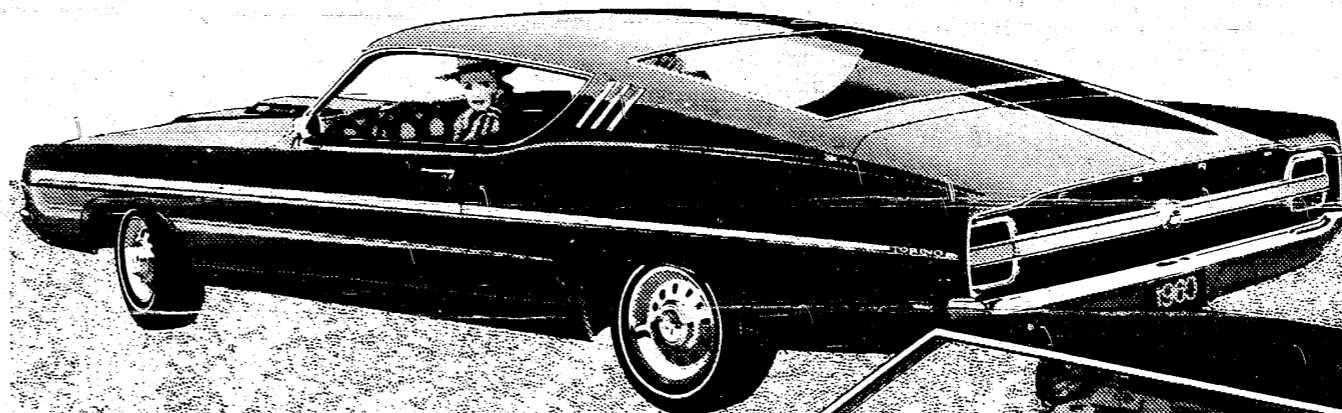

Under this system, individual attorneys can hardly be criticized for failing to speak out when they see misconduct on the part of their fellow union-members. How can

IS GOD SPEAKING?

Today is one of many voices, multitudes of voices. Each seemingly has a message. What is the message? "This is the way, this is the answer to your problem!"

"You aren't with it," "As long as you do it that way, you will never win." Then comes a voice loud and clear through all of these, saying, "Who is right?"

We near these voices and we become more confused, as we note none of these voices with their message has solved our problems today.

We continue to have war, moral problems; we have yet to find solutions to our economic problems. People continue to hunger, and there are dire needs in life to be met. Today, there is more hate in our generation than ever. What has happened to love?

I could not help but think of the rich young ruler spoken of in Matthew 19:10 who seemed to have trouble in finding an answer to his problem. He spoke to Jesus the Son of God in who was placed all the power and wisdom, of heaven and earth, saying, "Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?"

Jesus proceeded to answer the young man's question, "Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother, and Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

To these words from the lips of Jesus, the young man said, "All these things have I kept from my youth up, what lack I yet?" It was then Jesus challenged him by saying, "go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: And come and follow me."

Here was the answer in these final words of Jesus; here was the voice, different from any other voice for it is a voice that makes an appeal to the heart, not to the intellect. This young man had what he wanted, the right voice and the truth. We have today what we want, the right voice, the truth if we accept, but the label on us reads truth evaders. We seemingly can't accept the voice, we run from reality. Because of this, there can be but one result, we lack discernment of God's Voice from the sea of voices we hear. And we are not aware of the many ways God clothes his voice. Thus we hear it said, "I never hear God's voice, "This doesn't mean, "God isn't speaking."

The atmosphere is full of his voice, out of the events of the day, this voice of God can be heard. In the third Chapter of Exodus, God's Voice came from the burning bush. What did the voice say? His voice came clothed on a burning bush saying, "Moses, Moses," Moses recognized that voice and he answered, "Here am I."

On another occasion God's voice came clothed in a whirlwind. That voice is recorded such in Job, the 38th chapter. What did this voice out of the whirlwind say to Job? "Who is this that darkened counsel by words without knowledge? Gird up now thy loins like a man; for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me." Who is it that think on the whirlwind, as being God's voice today? Some say of the after effects, "it's just a freak of nature."

Thus we could go on and on painting to the different cloaks that wrap the voice of God, Today his voice can be heard in the thunder, and lightning, the earth quake, the tornado. But the message he speaks is being missed by the multitude. It is a message that will solve every problem of the world, cure every heart disease of the day, will give every man, woman, boy and girl a new hold on life. What doth the voice say? "Prepare to meet thy God."

In obedience to the voice of Jesus, "come and follow me" there is adequate preparation to meet God. Not until we follow God through Christ, will we have Peace, Wonderful Peace, the gift of God's love.

Not until we say "Here am I, use me," will we come to know God in all his splendor and glory, and depend upon God as our Eternal Father. To know him is to love him, to know him is to serve him, to know him is to live, while others without him, only exist.

Thus we could go on and on painting to the different cloaks that wrap the voice of God, Today his voice can be heard in the thunder, and lightning, the earth quake, the tornado. But the message he speaks is being missed by the multitude. It is a message that will solve every problem of the world, cure every heart disease of the day, will give every man, woman, boy and girl a new hold on life. What doth the voice say? "Prepare to meet thy God."

In obedience to the voice of Jesus, "come and follow me" there is adequate preparation to meet God. Not until we follow God through Christ, will we have Peace, Wonderful Peace, the gift of God's love.

Not until we say "Here am I, use me," will we come to know God in all his splendor and glory, and depend upon God as our Eternal Father. To know him is to love him, to know him is to serve him, to know him is to live, while others without him, only exist.

LATIN THEME AT CHURCH MEETING

The Women of the Emanuel Church met on Thursday, Sept. 12 around tables interestingly decorated in the Latin American theme as arranged by Jean Alber and her committee. There was also a table of artifacts from various Latin American countries, many of which belonged to the speaker, Mrs. Clare Reck. She told of her trip to South America for the unveiling of a memorial to her late husband, Franklin Reck, who had done so much for better understanding between the nations of this hemisphere.

Newly elected officers were installed by Rev. Ralph Kuether, including president, Mrs. John Hofhansian and Mrs. Brian Alber who is serving out the unexpired term of the secretary. The new treasurer, Mrs. Douglas Higgins, was unable to be present for the service of installation.

Refreshments continued the theme, being a fresh fruit cocktail made of typically Latin American fruits and coffee along with "Empanada" - a sweet-filled pastry - which Jean Alber had made.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's! There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button? Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field? Some people think so. Our competitors.

Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better. The power range is very impressive. Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires. Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough. TOM SHARPE'S REPORT the average lawyer be expected to bring charges against a judge, or against another lawyer? It appears to be an influential question in Livingston County.

In Livingston County. In the meantime, he can be put out of business. Citizens who see another citizen commit a crime is expected to report this to the proper authorities. But it is totally unrealistic and unfair to expect an attorney who knows of a judge breaking the law to do the same thing. It is unfair, under the present system, to both the attorney and his clients.

If a police officer is accused of misconduct, and there appears to be any substance whatsoever to the accusation, the officer is suspended from duty until his hearing is held. If he is then found innocent, he is reinstated. accused on any matter how minor the charges may be, they are allowed to continue practicing until either final conviction in a criminal case, or if either ever takes place.

The contrast between the two procedures would seem to imply a basic belief that lawyers, on the whole, are far more honest and trustworthy than law-enforcement officers. I'll readily admit that I don't have this belief. And I don't think the general public does, either.

Still, all of the arguments for or against the present system for letting the legal profession police itself boil down to the same point in the end. Is the system working? The Michigan Bar Association in particular and the very concept of the integrated bar in general are on trial in Livingston County today. The citizens of Michigan and those charged with responsibility of representing them are sitting on the bench. If a few more weeks of delay go by, a judgment may very well be rendered by default.

WASHINGTON REPORT
Marvin L. Esch

For the first time in many years the American people are faced with a serious challenge to their electoral system. Our system is usually taken for granted. It is assumed that it will work, because it has always done so in the past.

Nonetheless, the possibility that a third party candidate will take enough votes to throw this election into the House of Representatives has raised many questions about the system. Few people realize that the final selection of the President is subject to numerous uncertainties. A stalemate in that election or a protracted period of doubt and confusion could have alarming results for our system.

Under our present system, the President is elected by ballot in the Electoral College. Every State is represented by electors equal in number to the State's representation in the House and Senate. These electors are selected in the manner determined by the individual state legislatures. In addition, the District of Columbia is granted three electors by operation of the 23rd Amendment.

The President and Vice President are elected by a majority of the 538 ballots cast. Of 270 votes, 270 are needed for election. The Electoral College never assembles in one place, but rather meets separately in fifty-one jurisdictions. There is only one round of balloting. If no candidate receives a majority, then the House of Representatives elects the President and the Senate elects the Vice President.

The present electoral college system is dangerously inadequate. For example: 1. It has permitted a candidate with fewer popular votes than another candidate to be elected President.

2. It has allowed electors to disregard the mandate of their election in casting an electoral ballot.

3. The winner of the plurality of votes in the electoral college state wins all of the electoral votes in the state regardless of the vote received by the other candidates.

4. It has required the House of Representatives to decide elections when no candidate received a majority of electoral votes. In this process, each state, regardless of population, is given one vote.

5. Under the present system, the President and Vice President are elected by a majority of the electoral college, not by a majority of the people.

6. There is no provision made in the present law for the selection of a successor in the event of the death of a presidential or vice presidential candidate between election day in November and the meeting of the electors in December.

There have been a number of plans proposed to correct the deficiencies in the present system. One plan retains the electoral votes of the states, abolishes the office of elector and automatically awards the electoral votes of a state to the popular vote in that state. Another plan, the district plan, continues both the office of elector and a state's electoral votes but provides that the electoral votes are to be spread among equipopulous districts (equal in number to the number of Representatives in the House) plus two at-large districts. The winner of each district automatically receives its electoral vote. A third plan abolishes the office of elector but retains the state's electoral votes which are divided among the candidates in proportion to their shares of the total popular vote within the state.

A fourth plan proposes that the President be elected by direct vote of the people. Under this plan, the electoral college system would be abolished. The fundamental and serious defects in the present system require the immediate analysis of proposed reforms and the prompt Congressional consideration of appropriate constitutional amendments. This nation's method of selecting its chief executive must be responsive to the demands of the space age and consistent with our cherished principles of self-government.

Certainly, one of the first things the next Congress must do is solve this serious problem and then, without further delay, present to the American people a workable plan.

FARM NEWS

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION OF PRICE AND POLITICS

Farmers don't know whether to be pleased or unhappy that they were largely ignored at both the Republican and Democratic political conventions.

Having suffered in the past from too much -- rather than too little political attention -- the general feeling may well be one of relief.

Both Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon have their agricultural beliefs on record in major farm speeches -- Humphrey at the 1963 convention of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and Nixon at the same national meeting in 1966.

"Government supply-management has not worked. With farm prices at only 73 per cent of parity, and food prices higher than ever before, it is clear that current government farm programs have not served either the interests of consumers or producers," stated Charles Shuman, President of the American Farm Bureau, in appearances before both the Republican and Democrat platform committees.

"These programs make farmers dependent upon government payments for a substantial part of their net incomes," Shuman said. "We farmers have confidence that a market-directed economy will yield farmers a higher new income than will a government-managed system..."

NATIONAL GRANGE ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS

Herschel D. Newsom, Master of the National Grange, announced recently the appointment of Robert M. Frederick as legislative representative for the National Grange.

Frederick is a graduate of Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in agriculture. He is currently self-employed as a research and development consultant conducting studies in the areas of transportation, labor, packaging and financing for large foliage firms in Florida.

Previously he served as executive secretary of the Vegetable Growers Association of America in Washington, D. C., handling legislation, research projects, marketing and transportation.

He served 32 months in the South Pacific during World War II and is a recipient of Ohio State Farmer's Award. He is married and has two children.

Frederick is a member of the Food Transport Committee in Washington, D. C. and the Florida Agricultural Council. He is also a long-time Grange member.

TIPS FOR TRACTOR OWNERS IN AREA FROM CHAMPION

If you're planning to put your tractor in storage for the winter months, it's best to take some precautions. Champion Spark Plug Company offers some helpful storage hints to assure good performance next year.

1. Start the engine and let it warm up thoroughly. Then drain the oil from the crankcase. Drop the crankcase pan to remove accumulated sludge.

2. Drain all but a little fuel from the tank. Then, start the engine and let it run until all fuel is consumed. This procedure is recommended because fuel left in the tank of an idle tractor can form harmful gum deposits in the carburetor and fuel line.

3. Open all drain cocks, including the cylinder block drain plugs, to drain the cooling system. Flush the radiator with a quality radiator cleaner. Leave the drain cocks and drain plugs open.

4. Check the spark plugs. If they have been used about 250 hours or appear worn, replace them. If they need only service, file the electrodes until they are flat and have sharp edges. Regard the plugs to specifications and clean off any moisture or dirt.

5. Remove debris from the exhaust pipe, crankcase fill pipe and crankcase vent pipe. Seal these openings with tape or household plastic film. Also, remove the air cleaner and seal the carburetor intake opening. Wrap plastic film around such engine components as the generator (alternator), distributor, starter and coil. Secure the film with tape for moisture protection.

CLIP COWS NOW FOR MILK SANITATION

Clean wholesome dairy products is the goal of Michigan's huge dairy industry that last year provided a whopping $241 million milk check to the cattle owner who now is preparing his animals for winter. The cold months present special sanitation problems.

To maintain a clean milk program same dairy herd owners are clipping objectionable hair on a few cows each day. This will continue until the entire herd is ready for winter when animals will spend most of the time in barns.

Clipping dairy cows is urged by Kenneth Van Patten, chief of the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Dairy Division. This division is responsible for enforcing all laws governing wholesomeness of milk from farm to retail outlet.

Mr. Van Patten says clipping hair on cows is not a legal requirement. But it is necessary in order to make the milking process more sanitary, he says. Strict sanitation is essential at all levels in milk production.

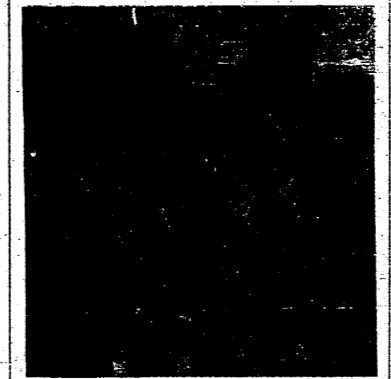

Clipping is usually easy in the autumn, but difficult after cows have been housed indoors for weeks. Clippers may be rented from milk producer associations and dairy plants that are interested in receiving raw milk of the highest possible quality.

Dairy Division inspectors work in all parts of the state and at all levels of milk production to maintain the high standards of dairy product wholesomeness required by Michigan law.

OUTCHMEN OF THE WEEK

The Dutchmen of the week for offense and defense is voted on by the team. For their work last Friday night against Addison, Mike Krzyzaniak was the offense star and Rodney Hoelt was the defense star. Keep up the good work boys.

OUTCHMEN WIN NO. 2 15-0

The Dutchmen showed Addison why they are called the Flying Dutchmen.

Rick Lowery intercepted an Addison pass and went 50 yards for a touchdown. Irv Roberts threw a block on the two yard line for Lowery on his run that took two men out. Quarterback Lowery also threw a pass to Lyle Jacob good for 55 yards and a touchdown. One of the hustling Dutchmen recovered an Addison fumble in the end zone for two points.

If you have not seen the Dutch in action yet, Don't miss the game this Friday at Onsted. The way these boys are playing and hustling we should all be out there cheering them on. Don't forget all games start at 8:00 P.M.

BIG CHANGE IN LICENSING

This is the year of the "big change" in vehicle licensing in Michigan. Not only are license plate fees increased for Michigan's 3.7-million owners of passenger cars, but there will be an entirely new schedule of fees for heavy truck units which now must elect gross vehicle weight based on Act 3 of the Public Act of 1967, passed by the Legislature during the extra session of 1967.

This was a part of the so-called "good roads" legislative package. And if this weren't enough, dates for the start of the sale of all types of plates have been changed, too. Commercial and trailer plates go on sale October 1 at all branches of the Secretary of State. This is one month earlier than usual. On the other hand, passenger car plate sales start 15 days later than normal on November 15. Deadline for purchase of all types of 1969 plates remains

February 28. But that, too, will be changed starting with next licensing year. Passenger and motorcycle plates for 1969 will not expire until March 31, 1970. According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, the "least understood and most complicated aspect of the new licensing program is the elected gross vehicle weight for trucks which includes empty weight of a vehicle or combination of vehicle plus the maximum weight of any load to be carried. "I'm certain the new law is going to cause confusion among the heavy truckers," said Hare. "Fees vary with the gross weight elected by truck owners." There are 16 weight categories set up in the elected vehicle weight system adopted by the Legislature. Heavy haulers' fees will start at $150 for vehicles or combinations up to 24,000 pounds which includes the weight of the load being carried. On the other extreme, heaviest weight category will be for combinations running over 130,001 pounds. These will cost $980 a year.

"Based on categories, stickers indicating the elected gross vehicle weight will be affixed to commercial license plates at all branches of the Secretary of State when owners register these vehicles," said Hare. "The stickers are made of a self-destructing composition and cannot be taken off the plate without ruining them." He urged truckers to register their trucks early and not get caught in the crush of last-minute passenger plate sales.

KNOW YOUR LAW by Attorney General Frank Kelly

Michigan's new district court system, which replaces certain lower courts abolished by the present State Constitution, comes into existence on January 1, 1969. The system divides the state into judicial districts based on population and existing political boundaries. There will be three types of districts composed of: 1) one or more counties; 2) small cities, townships and villages within a county; and 3) large cities. The district courts will hear lesser criminal offenses -- misdemeanors -- and civil actions involving alleged damages of $3,000 or less. They will also have the power to arraign persons charged with felonies -- more serious crimes -- but may not try felony offenses.

The jury in a district court will consist of six persons rather than the traditional twelve found in a circuit court. This affords easier impaneling and saves jury fees. Criminal convictions will require a unanimous vote; in a civil case, five of the six jurors will constitute a majority. Perhaps the most unique aspect of the new system is the small claims division of each district court. This division hears only civil cases started to recover money when the amount claimed does not exceed $300. A lawyer cannot represent anyone in this court -- even if he is an employee of a corporation being sued there -- nor can he prepare and file papers on behalf of a client. No juries are utilized in this court. The district court judge also sits as the small claims court judge. Right to counsel, right to trial by jury, and right of appeal -- rights which can be constitutionally waived by persons who understand the effect of the waiver -- must specifically be waived before a matter can be heard in the small claims court. The purpose of the waiver is to insure quick disposal of claims without time-consuming technical delays.

Each district will also have at least one magistrate -- a type of lesser judge empowered to hear minor traffic offenses, to arraign persons accused of crime, and to issue arrest warrants upon the written authorization of a city attorney or county prosecutor. A district control unit will administer each of the new court districts. These control units will be the county governments of districts which are either county-wide or composed of small towns within a county, and will be city governments in single-city districts. The legislature has provided that certain cities which now have a municipal court may exempt themselves from the operation of the district court system. Not all 116 cities in Michigan presently having municipal courts were afforded the opportunity to retain them; in 49 of these cities, the municipal courts were automatically abolished because their size was insufficient to constitute a district. Judges of the district courts -- who will be elected in the general election in November -- will all be lawyers and must live and be registered to vote in the district in which they serve. The state will provide a basic salary of $18,000 a year which can be supplemented by the district control unit up to $27,500 a year.

SNOWMOBILES TO BE REGISTERED

Starting sometime in October, registrations for Michigan snowmobiles will become available at all branch offices of the Secretary of State.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose Department of State will handle the brand new registration program for the winter vehicles, all snowmobiles... except those used on the owner's property exclusively... will be subject to the new law.

"Registration will be on a three-year cycle, the same as for motorboats," said Hare. "Fee for the three-year registration will be $5.00, and will be scaled down to $3.00 next year and $2.00 the final year of the current registration in 1971."

The new snowmobile registration law is based on legislation passed during the 1968 session by the Legislature, now Act 74, 1968.

When they register their snowmobiles, owners will be assigned numbers for them. Owners, according to the new law, shall paint or attach in a permanent manner to each side of the forward half of the snowmobile the identification number in block characters of good proportion, not less than three inches in height, reading from left to right.

Hare said he could not estimate the number of snowmobiles in Michigan but indicated his department was gearing up to handle from 50,000 to 100,000 of these winter vehicles the first year of the registration.

"Growing popularity of snowmobiles is unquestioned and the number of owners has grown quite dramatically just in the past year or two," he said.

Welfare System

By Karen Kirk Last year our taxes paid 233,445 dollars and 41 cents to 707 cases on direct relief in Washtenaw county. There were 1,128,194 dollars given to 491 cases receiving aid for dependent children. Now there are 586 cases getting ADC. Since June of 1967 June of this year there have been 95 new cases added.

The average allotment per family has increased from June 1967 ($182) to June of 1968 ($192) or about 10 dollars per month. Recently a group of mothers on ADC demanded and were given more money.

The question is can we afford to allow this budget to increase every year without analyzing how this money is distributed and spent. "The ADC program is designed to help families who are deprived of parental support," Catherine Mudie county ADC program director said. "It is part of the state social services and is financed with state and federal funds," she added.

"Families eligible for ADC get an allotment according to how many children they have and how much rent they must pay. The maximum rent payable is $135 dollars per month, however some allowances have to be made for the campus community where students could live in the same house and pay more."

Women receiving aid may take a job. Anything they make is budgeted with their allotment. "Next July the legislature may approve more work incentives with a larger appropriation for the mother's own use," Miss Mudie said. "Presently 20 dollars per month is appropriated for the mother who works."

"ADC mothers have found it difficult to gain jobs especially in factories that would take them off the aid program," Miss Mudie said. "They must have their own transportation. They must be able to work odd shifts. Some factories would rather hire men and the woman's education may not be adequate," she said. Every six months the social workers review their cases to determine if they are still eligible to receive aid. The social worker among many great trees, it's a brick house completely paneled inside with a variety of paneling for easy care and is of early American design. This new home was built in a woods with the aim of disturbing as few trees as possible. In the kitchen is an unusual window treatment and Mrs. John has used an interesting piece of sculpture to support her ceiling-lung cupboard. An old hanging lamp is a focal point of the living room with the highly polished wood floor partially covered by a braided rug of outstanding colors. The heirloom desk in daughter, Susy's room is another point of interest. House tour guests will also find the main bath a bit unusual. It features a fiberglass tub and wall, all of one-piece.

Also in the area known as Iron Creek, is the home of Mrs. Mina Trolz of 16421 English Road. Her son, LoRen and wife Margaret, also live here but on any day you may expect to find any number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren in this gracious home. In the basement is the must follow up cases receiving extra services every three months. Extra services would be for health problem potential for employment within a family or counseling when a father deserts a family. "ADC is given with the assumption the mother will manage the money the best she can," Miss Mudie said. "We work with many people who are bad managers."

"A budget is suggested which is determined for 1961 prices," she added. One Manchester mother receiving ADC said her case worker did not give or suggest a budget; she planned her own. She said her case worker has not seen her in quite some time.

Another ADC Manchester mother said she does not follow any budget nor was the given one. Her case worker visits her every two or three months regularly. Miss Mudie said the mothers did not have to account for how the aid was spent. "We assume we can not show them how to spend their money unless we ourselves had an income as small as theirs. Even then it would be difficult to show each case how we think the money should be spent."

Miss Mudie also notes there is a high turn over of case workers in this county. Many women are married to students attending the University. The workers do check up on their cases but they are not usually here long enough to follow them for a long period of time. Lately the clothing allowance has posed a serious problem to aid recipients. "Money is usually taken from the clothing and is used to pay for rent and for food," Miss Mudie said. "The mother's claim they usually are starting to buy the cheapest clothing which falls apart after 10 or 12 washings."

One Manchester ADC mother said the reason many women's children's clothes fall apart in 10 or 12 washings is because they do not wash them until they are extremely dirty. The same mother said she buys many clothes for her children second hand and keeps all the clothes mended. She said she can not understand why

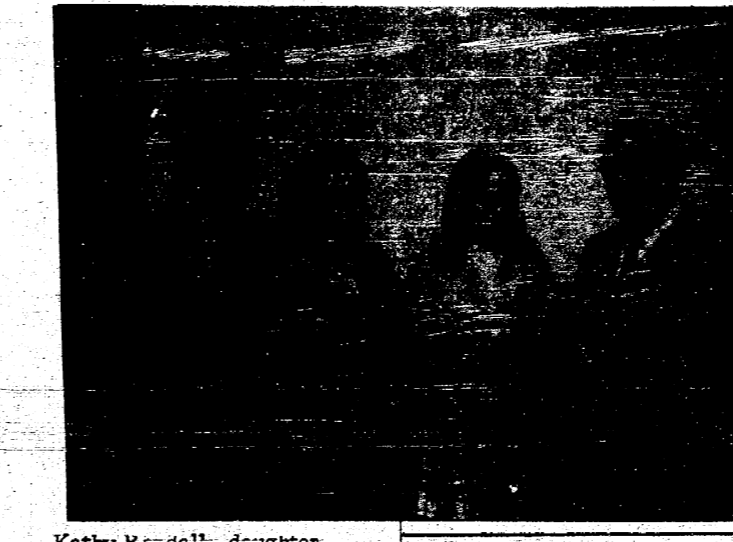

"Public assistance reflect the increasing number of marriage breakdowns, it is not the cause of them," Miss Mudie added. "Concerned citizens should report to the welfare department when they think a family receiving aid is not properly caring for their children," Miss Mudie said. "If a mother is not assuming her responsibility a petition must be signed by neighbors and other concerned citizens, then court action will follow. Usually people do not want to get involved," she added.

more ADC mothers can't do the same. Miss Mudie also described two other programs which many ADC recipients qualify for. The food stamp program replaces the surplus commodities program. It is a help to farmers because families must buy only U.S.-grown products with the exception of coffee, tea and bananas. The families can get a better diet because they buy what they want. It is administratively better because there is no limit to foodstuffs. It requires less work, no food distribution or storage. Families who are eligible are those receiving public assistance and those with specified low incomes. The eligible families exchange the money they have allotted for food for coupons of higher monetary value at one of the participating banks in the county.

Medicaid (M.A.) assists qualifying persons in paying medical expenses. Families eligible are those receiving public assistance and those with a specified low income. M.A. pays for most hospitalization, doctor fees and lab work. It does not pay for immunizations or pay to prevent you from being sick. Alfred E. Brose county director of social services said he believed the number of ADC cases in the Manchester area is not great. "The majority of cases are around the Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor areas," he said. "The legislature must review the ADC appropriation and approve an increase," Miss Mudie said. "Allotted funds have increased yearly since the program began. As the grant increases more people get on it."

History dates back to 1834 when Royal Watkins built a log home on the site. Later a frame house was built, followed by the brick home which is now over 100 years old. Before the Civil War, this house was a station for the underground railroad with a secret room built into the basement. In 1872 Lucius D. Watkins, son of Royal, signed an agreement with the Detroit, Hillsdale and Indiana Railroad establishing Watkins Station. So the family could travel on the railroad just by signaling the train. L. D. Watkins was a great farmer and traveled throughout the world building his stock. He collected many trees and shrubs and his journeys including a fan tree given to him by a Japanese student. This fan tree is now 30 feet tall and sets among the many large trees surrounding the house.

There will be many interesting things to see in the beautiful home that has been restored by Mr. Trolz. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Hobe R. M. John of Sharon Hollow Road has a pleasant setting

A Village Council meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 7 at 7:00 p. m. at the Council Chambers on Clinton Street.

A Manchester Planning Commission meeting will be held Oct. 10 starting at 7:30 at the Village Hall on Clinton St.

St. Mary's annual fall house tour is scheduled for Thursday, October 10th between 1:00 and 5:30 p. m. Tickets, a $1.00 donation is asked, and maps will be available at any of the homes on tour or in the church basement. Coffee and cookies will be served in the church hall. For further information or transportation call Mrs. William Schwab at 428-4363.

There are five homes scheduled for the tour and include the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kraus and family of 708 Vernon Street. Their ranch style home is attractive on the outside with colorful landscaping as well as inside with the decorative talents of Mrs. Kraus. A breezeway connects the garage and house which includes a kitchen, dining and family rooms, three bedrooms and bath. An interesting and unusual bathroom plan makes it possible for three to accommodate this busy part of a family home.

The living room has a beautiful fireplace with bookshelves on both sides. The mantle is adorned with a Japanese teapot, a tin-framed picture and other antique pieces. Antique paintings have been used in refinishing much of the furniture and home-made drapes and bedspreads add a cheerful and colorful atmosphere to this home. Another ranch style home on tour is the Larry Kouba home on Sharon Hollow Road. This home is also designed with three bedrooms, a kitchen-dining area, a spacious living room with a cut-stone fireplace and a bath and a half. The master bedroom is in red and pink and large bathroom off the room with double mirrors and sinks. The kitchen is designed with countertop grove, dishwasher and a dropped snack bar. A pantry closet is an intricate part of the kitchen. Featured also are the poured floors in the kitchen and baths for easy care and cleaning. The home with the most interesting history is owned by Glenn Trolz and is located at 14950 Homing Road. Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Kemerer reside in this lovely old brick home that sits on a high hill overlooking Watkins Lake. The farm, known as the Watkins Farm, has approximately 1,200 acres and is a bird sanctuary where hundreds of wild geese and other birds can be seen from the house.

Not Guilty

The Manchester boy accused in the slaying death of Tom Miller was found not guilty by a jury of six last Wednesday.
