Your Dollar Works Hard

By Carolyn Aizens

"How do I benefit? Where and how is my money spent?" Questions like these are familiar to everyone when the United Fund campaign opens. To briefly summarize the numerous agencies connected with the United Fund will take a little of your time. But because you and your family benefit in many ways both now and in the future, it is your concern, your right to know how and where your donation is being used.

Cystic Fibrosis, a child-killer that brings pain and heartbreak, is gradually being treated and hopefully one day a cure through research, CF, discovered through such research to be a heredity disease, is a respiratory disease similar to the first stages of pneumonia but gradually the lung tissue hardens causing a slow painful death at an early age. The National Cystic Fibrosis research Foundation will perhaps help your child one day. This disease is not a stranger to Manchester either.

The main purposes of the Washtenaw Association for Retarded Children are "to promote the general welfare of the mentally retarded" and thus encourages research related to mental retardation. The WARC advises parents, helping them to better understand the problems of a mentally retarded child. The association helps the mentally retarded to make the important transition into adult living. For the more advanced mentally retarded, training for jobs in workshops and vocational training centers and perhaps competitive employment gives them the opportunity for a more useful and better life.

The Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic also deals with young people and "is the community based psychiatric center for children from birth through seventeen years of age and their parents" in dealing with mental health problems faced by these young people. Four young people from Manchester: received help with a total of 84 psychiatric, clinical and social worker interviews from Jan. 1, 1967 through June 30, 1967.

The Catholic Social Services, involving people of all race, color and religion, provided 36 families from Manchester with various family services in 1967. To name a few of the services provided by the Catholic Social Services are foster and adoption cases, adolescent, parent-child relations, economic problems, personal adjustment, a mothers' club to teach the fundamentals of homemaking especially in the low-income area and a friendship club for low-income multi-problem families. A branch office will soon be opened in Manchester.

To list more closely-related programs involving Manchester is the Manchester Recreation and Pleasant Lake Recreation programs which receives $3,400 for Manchester and $50 for Pleasant Lake if the Manchester United Fund goal is reached. These programs provide various activities for summer playground and recreation facilities for children.

Manchester Student Council benefits through assemblies, films, and school award medals among various others. The Manchester Band is partially dependent on your gift also. The Mom's Club bringing extra services to the young men and women in the service, the Portage Trails Council (Boy Scouts) and the Clavers

ELECTION SPECIAL PART I

Congressional Seat Race

Here are two interviews with candidates running for Congress from our district. We hope these personal comments will help you decide how to vote.

By Karen Kirk

Marvin L. Esch wants to retain his Republican held seat in the House of Representatives.

Asked why he is running for re-election Esch said, "I have been privileged to serve and hope to continue. There are many problems facing this country which are real crises. I feel people can have confidence in government and they can make solutions through their government. We have felt we have done something."

About the Paris peace talks Esch said no one really knows what can happen. "I want to see an end to the military action on both sides and see the people in South Vietnam become able to determine their own destiny."

Esch was asked to comment on the Farmer, his problems and what could be done to improve his program.

"The farmer is worse off now than he was in the 1930's. The farm marketing program has to be built up and developed abroad. We have to recognize the problems of this group, remember they have only six percent of the vote and still are a significant factor part of the economy. Milk prices have been an important problem which this administration has not aided by not moving against dairy imports."

Esch wants to see a fair farm marketing bill become effective. This would entail the farmer working through collective bargaining in the various farm marketing groups.

He said the midwest farmer is neglected because of the dominance Southern Democratic farmers and the large wheat growers. This is coupled with the problem that the Midwest has no seniority in the House.

Esch said he did not support all the bills sponsored by the National Farm Bureau. He said he supported a bill on its merits and listened to all the interest groups.

Esch's voting attendance was 91 percent and he was able to come home on an average of twice a month.

"The Selective Service System does need improvement," he said. "There are great inequities within the local board.

Concerning flood control Esch said more money and better cooperative program with federal, state and local governments are needed. He added that more trained people and innovative programs are needed. Esch said Monroe Community College is working on a pilot project on flood control.

"We need to develop a rural road system which would help the farmer market his goods," Esch said. "The interstate system is creating rather than solving problems. The federal government must come in an aid secondary road systems," he said.

Weston E. Vivian is out to regain his former Democratic seat in the House of Representatives.

Vivian is running because he recognizes the disparity in this country resulting in upheavals in the cities and among the poor is very great. He said constructive action is needed to bring hope back into society.

"Experience in Congress," Vivian said, "has shown the Democrats are more capable in producing changes than Republicans. Of the various persons running I felt I had a better chance of winning."

When Vivian was in congress his voting attendance was over 90 percent and his average home visits were one a week.

Asked what would be an acceptable agreement from the Paris peace talks Vivian said nobody really knows.

"There have been many suggestions proposed by the United States but none have been accepted by North Vietnam. The North Vietnamese want South Vietnam to be governed by a program of the National Liberation Front. They won't define this program.

"My proposal made between 1965-66 was the nationwide elections for all candidates who chose to run for office. This was eventually put forth by our government and turned down by them."

Commenting on the Farm problem Vivian said both he and his opponent have voted for farm subsidy programs. "These have prevented farmers from going into bankruptcy overnight but no one is satisfied with these programs. Farmers themselves have no agreement on what should be done."

"Collective marketing is one of the few solutions that exist," he said. One problem concerning price increases on farm products would involve restricting the flow of food or restraining a share of the market. Each time a government proposal get a solid floor on prices the farmers always and naturally resisted on the limitation of output."

"Realistically the government can't set some price without some involvement," he said. "The alternatives seem to be (1) we accept the fact farmers are going broke, (2) use government regulation or (3) have the farmer limit his production himself."

"The preferred alternative is for laws to be created under farmer's collective bargaining. The individual family farmer in Michigan is under severe economic pressure because employees of big corporation farms are organized with labor unions. Eventually they will have to compete with the low wage employees out West," he said.

He answering the accusation that he did not support the Farm Bureau, Vivian hoped they would look at the specific bills which he voted on. Vivian believes the farmer has less say than the individual farm corporation with the Farm Bureau lobby. He said Farm Bureau tends to reflect the interests of the processors and not the farmers.

"With the Selective Service System Vivian said there has been an enormous upheaval with the older men being drafted. "We need a lottery type system concentrating on the 18 year olds being given an equal chance he is rich or poor, black or white. If men are drafted soon after high school their education, job and career opportunities are not left to wondering."

"The recent law preventing mail ordering of guns may do some good, it may reduce a slight number of sales to persons unstable who may obtain guns," Vivian said.

"The law's impact may be (1) rise retail store profits of guns because of less competition, (2) wise step will be minimum year sentence for those convicted using guns and (3) in licensing we do have a law on hand guns but we should extend the law or a closely similar one to rest of the states."

"We have to consider the requirements for registering and licensing of all guns. Provisions should be made that it be done only at a low fee and when there is clear evidence this registering would eliminate persons either with medical histories of mental instability or those who have committed violent crimes. No law that allowed government to capriciously say who should buy guns should exist."

"One problem is doctors don't want to decide the mental instability of persons even with great expense. I am not in a hurry to introduce a licensing law without thorough examination of the effectiveness of it."

"No such law will stop all crime it will only be stopped by having a well trained police force. Also by having an economy in the society in which everyone has equal opportunity and fair consideration of needs," Vivian said.

When discussing the welfare situation, Vivian said, "creating jobs and making them available to everyone is most important providing everyone is willing to work." "There must be skills available where each can learn and earn more than we will be making faster progress. I would rather provide certainty than welfare payments," Vivian added.

"More money should be made available to create jobs rather than welfare payments. I find this comment applies to ADC, make jobs full or part time and training available to such women so they can earn as large a portion of financial needs as practical for the number and age of children one has."

"Presently there have been no incentive for jobs without as much money being taken away. We need a social compact between the taxpayer and the ADC mothers. If the mother agrees to work to extend and give care to her children and the taxpayer agrees to work to extend and give care to her children and the taxpayer agrees to supplement earnings with adequate amounts to care for the family. Yet many don't have skills or time during the day during children's young years to work."

About flood control Vivian said, "rainfall records show there will be floods in this century. If we want to prevent damage from floods we must prevent building contractors from constructing flood planes or for owners to buy damage insurance."

"It is possible to reduce or eliminate the occurrence of typical floods by putting dams large and small on rivers and creeks in the area. The cost is not unreasonable but the cost of dams preventing severe infrequent floods is very high. It would be cheaper to create parks in those areas. Most creeks in the area do have extensive dams. We need to reinforce dams by providing spillways designed so that they don't wash out easily. There is full assistance available in developing these spillways and dams."

Mr. Vivian shares Manchester's sentiments about our roads especially stretches of M52 which he considers very dangerous and parts of US 12. A number of times he has approached the state highway commission about rebuilding or straightening US 12. "We have a good deal of highway building to do in this area," he said. "One of our problems is do we have the right balance of slum rebuilding to do but not as high a pace as in most suburbs." A decision has to be made where funds are more vitally needed.

SHERIFF DOUGLAS J. HARVEY

Here are interviews with the Sheriff Candidates.

By Karen Kirk

Washtenaw County's Democratic Sheriff Douglas L. Harvey like the Republican Congressman Marvin Esch wants to keep his post a little longer.

Harvey was asked why he is running for re-election.

"I feel I have got a job I only have half done and I need four more years to complete the job for Washtenaw County. I would like to see the office expanded, better road controls and more training for our officers in the investigative vein."

His duties are enforcing the law within Washtenaw County, serving all civil process and maintaining peace and order for circuit courts, the county jail and its prisoners and establishing adequate police protection."

Harvey said, "I have 100 percent department loyalty. 'Sixty-nine out of 72 of my men recently signed a petition supporting me and two were on vacation," he said. "We have the only department in the state with a waiting list."

"Of course we will always have a turnover for various reasons including wages," he added. Asked to comment on the scandal within the department, Harvey said, "Wouldn't they have prosecuted by now if they knew I was guilty of anything. The attorney general examined the case and threw it back at the County Supervisors when he could find nothing to prosecute," he said.

About the gun control issue Harvey does not want to take a stand. "I'm a policeman, not a politician, I hate politics and this issue is only a political move. The only good thing that developed was the mail order gun control. With the gun registration only the responsible people will register."

"I have had no problems with police brutality," Harvey said. He added that during the ADC demonstrations in Ann Arbor no night sticks were used by his men.

Harvey's theory on crime prevention involves getting more men out on patrol and having them retrace their beats frequently. The FBI and other crime prevention agencies are always at their assistance. Harvey said he has never had a vacation during his four years as sheriff and has been present at every fatal accident, suicide and murder scenes.

Republican candidate and former Washtenaw County Sheriff George A. Petersen wants to see some changes made.

Asked why he was running, Petersen said, "I have 24 years experience, six years were as sheriff. I would like to get back in there and straighten that department up the way it was before the scandal occurred."

said his incumbent opponent did not keep good books nor had he kept traffic receipts when he went after prisoners in other states.

Prior to his election as sheriff, Petersen had been a policeman advancing to the rank of captain. He is presently a supervisor on shipping and receiving for the University Press at the University of Michigan.

Petersen was asked what his duties were as sheriff.

"I am responsible for all prisoners in jail and all civil matters. I am also responsible to all courts in the county and serve all legal papers in the county."

When he was in office Petersen said he had 100 percent loyalty from his men some left for better jobs and some were dismissed.

About gun control Petersen said, "I think it is man as good as it could be. More should be done about mail order house sales. I think it would be better to buy guns through local businesses. We would probably find cases in bootlegging and if guns were controlled then there would be the problem of knives."

Petersen was asked to comment on police brutality.

FOR SHERIFF

"I don't believe officers should stand there and take a beating nor do I believe they should strike an individual without reason."

Petersen said he did not have a theory on crime prevention. "Crimes are different from day to day. We have to increase our forces according to our needs. We accept assistance from the FBI and maintain good relations with all surrounding police agencies in other towns."

Five Seek Judgeship

By Carolyn Ahrens

On November 5, citizens will go to the polls and among the numerous candidates involved in a nation-wide election, will vote for three of the five candidates within our area who are seeking the positions of District Judge. This newly created Fourteenth Judicial District includes all of Washtenaw County except the City of Ann Arbor. This change is required as Justice of the Peace offices will be eliminated soon.

The five candidates are Robert V. Fink, Rodney E. Hutchinson, Edward D. Deake, Tom Shae and Pat Conlin. When asked, "If you are elected, will you hold court in the outlying communities if there are facilities available and will you for instance, travel to Manchester as readily?" all stated they would travel throughout the area holding court regularly if facilities were available. This is important because unless the elected officials held court in the various communities, residents would have to travel to wherever there was a court for any court proceedings now handled by a justice of the peace.

Robert V. Fink has had 20 years of judicial experience as Circuit Court Commissioner and over 22 years as a practicing lawyer. He maintains that "all are equal under the law" and believes the disorder of today stems from a disregard of the basic Christian beliefs and Ten Commandments. He added that he feels we should go back to the standards we once had instead of over-indulging our reasoning and not insisting on obedience. Our laws must be made to realize the hurt they cause others when they do wrong, he added.

Mr. Fink, his wife and seven children live in Ypsilanti. Fink is 1941 graduate of the Detroit College of Law.

Rodney E. Hutchinson and his wife have two married daughters and also live in Ypsilanti. He is a graduate of the UM law school and has 18 years of experience in law, served as mayor of Ypsilanti for four years and the only person in his community to win two top service awards, "Outstanding Young Man" from the Jaycees in 1955 and the Chamber of Commerce Service Award in 1964.

Hutchinson feels the problems of today are very difficult but he also feels the courts are handling the cases in an orderly fashion. When asked, "If you had been judging the case..." answered, "We are all interested in law and order but for me to attempt to pre-judge a case is not possible." He added that it is easy to say "I'd do this" but without all the facts a fair decision would not be possible.

If elected, one of his most important concerns will be personal assault and personal liberty cases and offenders will find his approach stronger and more firm when judging such cases. He added that he believes the courts can play an important part in bringing back safety to the streets.

Another candidate from Ypsilanti is Edward D. Deake, a UM law school graduate and Municipal Court Judge in Ypsilanti since 1950. He and his family live in Ypsilanti and Deake feels he understands the community quite well and the problems and needs of this area. He also believes in a strict attitude toward violence and the need for prompt police and court action. He is working for ways to strengthen the present laws, which he thinks are good, but must be made more workable for today's problems. He feels we have the tools in the police and courts but need stronger citizen support in cooperating with the law officials.

Mr. Deake has suggested, as a citizen, to his state representative to sponsor an amendment requiring juveniles involved in felonies such as armed robbery or murder to be tried in an open court as an adult. He also worked on the amended criminal psychopathic law.

Pat Conlin with his wife and two children live in Scio Township, has practiced law since 1961 when he joined Conlin, Conlin's Parker. His family have lived in the area since 1840. A UM law school graduate, Mr. Conlin has always been a trial lawyer involving the type of cases a District Judge would be required to handle. He feels the courts can teach young people more responsibility although juvenile problems and relating cases are not handled by district courts. As a trial lawyer, Conlin feels his experience will be a great asset, if elected, as a District Judge. He also feels there is a need for more severe punishment for law breakers.

Tom Shae, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney in Ann Arbor, lives with his wife and four children in Dexter. Shae, a UM law school graduate in 1955 has served in the Army, Counter-Intelligence Core, represented defendants on appeal to the U.S. Court of Military Appeals, was Prosecutor and Defense Council in Army Court Marshal cases. After leaving the service and finishing school he worked for a large Detroit law firm until he was selected to assist the Honorable Ralph M. Freeman, U.S. District Judge in Detroit where he feels he learned first-hand a great deal about the position he is now seeking. Shae has represented both the defense and plaintiff. He worked with DeVine and DeVine, Ann Arbor attorneys until January 1, 1966 when he entered the prosecuting attorney's office.

Remember, you will be voting for three of these five candidates on November 5th. They will appear on a separate non-partisan ballot.

LOCAL HOLSTEIN EXCELS IN PRODUCTION

A four-year-old Registered Holstein cow owned by Lowell Spike, Manchester, has produced a noteworthy record of 19,170 lbs. of milk and 663 lbs. of butterfat in 335 days.

Michigan State University supervised the production, weighing, and testing operations, in cooperation with Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This level of production may be compared to the average U. S. dairy cow's estimated annual output of 8,513 lbs. (3,959 quarts) of milk containing 315 lbs. of butterfat. Participation in the testing program allows dairymen to more accurately select and develop the most profitable cows in the herd.

DISRUPTIONS FEARED

Michigan law enforcement officials were warned today that radical militant groups may try to disrupt the state election process November 5.

Col. Fredrick E. Davis, Director of State Police, said that the recent meeting of members of the Students for a Democratic Society, held at Boulder, Colorado, makes it clear that "Every precaution must be taken to insure an orderly voting process in next month's general election."

Referring to an Associated Press article covering the SDS meeting, Davis warned, "these people have resolved to enlist high school and college students in demonstrations planned to coincide with the presidential election. We ought to be prepared for any overt action by any group that seeks to impede normal election day activity."

The State Police have advised local intelligence representatives to be particularly alert for attempted sabotage of voting machines and manual balloting equipment. They have called for tight security measures on stored machines prior to election day and have suggested precautionary security at polling places November 5.

"We're not begging trouble," Davis said. "We simply want local jurisdictions to be alert and prepared."

Here is fleet footed Bob Pratt leaving two Hudson players talking to themselves. After taking a pass from Rick Lowery, Bob went 58 yards on this play for the Dutchmen first touchdown.

Well here he is again Bob Pratt as offense player of the week and hard hitting Jeff Stevens as defense player of the week.

Rich Sutton had his man beat on this play to, but the ball just slipped through his hands. Jim Underwood hauling in one of Bucholtz passes in the JV game against Hudson.

HUDSON DOWN DUTCHMEN 20-12

Rick Lowery showed Hudson some fine passing skill, all Rick did was pass for 203 yards. He hit Bob Pratt on passes of 58 and 32 yards for touchdowns. You just can't beat that Lowery and Pratt on passing and catching. Mike Stockwell played another fine game. He caught two of Lowery's passes for good gains. The Dutchmen's defense was on its toes to. Gary Stautz picked off one of Hudson's passes. From the fourth quarter on, several fans wanted to know why we were not passing more. I couldn't answer them. I didn't know.

Saturday morning I ran into Head Coach John Korican and I asked him why we didn't pass more and he said, "I thought we had passed enough." The Dutchmen play Adrian-Madison here Friday night. This will be DAD'S night.

JV'S FIRST LOSS

The JV's had to play their game with Hudson, without the service of Dave Tapping who was hurt in the first quarter, Mark Lentz who had a sprained ankle, John Weidmayer and Jim Tindall who were up on the Varsity team. So for the rest of the team I think they did a good job in holding Hudson to just 33 points. The next game is Thursday at Adrian-Madison, time 4:30 P.M.

POSTAL RATE INCREASE

Postmaster Marvin Kirk reminded postal customers that higher parcel post and catalog rates went into effect Saturday, October 19.

The rate increase will average 10.5 per cent and in most cases will mean an additional ten cents postage per parcel. The higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for local parcel delivery will go from 40 to 50 cents. The minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 cents to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels that are charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This accounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post, Postmaster Kirk pointed out.

There will be a 15-cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20-cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Parcel post rates are based on the weight of the package and the distance it is mailed.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs, as required by law, Postmaster Kirk explained. The higher rates are designed to put parcels and catalogs, which are fourth-class mail, on a break-even basis.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post and catalogs to offset higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for postal employees.

The "establishment" strikes terror in the heart of the teenager.

MAIL GIFTS SOON

Congressman Marvin L. Esh urges families and friends of soldiers stationed overseas to mail Christmas cards and gifts soon in order that they are received in time for the holidays.

Each reported that a recent Defense Department release suggested the following dates: October 14 to November 9 for mailing parcels weighing more than five pounds at regular postage rates.

October 21 to November 23 for greeting cards and parcels weighing less than five pounds and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth at regular postage rates.

November 30 to December 11 for parcels and greeting cards sent by airmail postage.

For an extra fee of one dollar, parcels weighing 30 pounds or less will be airlifted, space available, from the place of mailing to overseas areas. These parcels should be mailed from October 28 to November 30.

The Congressman also emphasized the need for packages to be bound securely.

BETTER MARKET PRICES

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, urged corn and soybean farmers to take a careful look at their storage needs for 1968 crops. He pointed out that with corn market prices down and the soybean price declining even before harvest, all producers should benefit if current crops are withheld from the market as much as possible. The price Support Program, he added, was designed to help producers do just this.

LEMay NOT ON MICHIGAN BALLOT

If George Wallace were to win the presidency, Curtis LeMay would be his vice president, no doubt about that. But here in Michigan, LeMay's name will not even appear on the ballot. The Wallace-LeMay ticket represents the tandem running for the American Independent Party. But because Wallace waited so long to name his running mate, the Michigan ballots, which had already gone to print, were printed with the names of Wallace and Marvin Griffin. The latter was certified to the Michigan Elections Bureau of the Michigan Department of State sometime ago.
