BETTER MARKET PRICES

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, urged corn and soybean farmers to take a careful look at their storage needs for 1968 crops. He pointed out that with corn market prices down and the soybean price declining even before harvest, all producers should benefit if current crops are withheld from the market as much as possible. The price Support Program, he added, was designed to help producers do just this.

Ninty-One Pints

Ninty-one pints of blood were donated to the local Red Cross Blood Club at the Bloodmobile at the Manchester United Methodist Church October 22. One hundred seventeen donors were registered with approximately eighty of this number employed by Double A Products. The latter were shuttle-bussed to the clinic on company time by two volunteer drivers, LeRoy Marx and Harry Sutton. Manchester Tool and Die and Manchester Stamping Corporation also participated. The Manchester Division of Hoover Ball and Bearing were unable to get organized for this clinic but are contemplating membership in the future. The next scheduled clinic is September 12, 1969 unless the club bank becomes depleted and an emergency clinic must be held earlier. After paying the present debt of 16 pints to the Red Cross Regional Bank the balance is barely sufficient for an average year's supply. Twenty four local volunteers assisted the Bloodmobile staff at the clinic. Mrs. Rolland Groesman, Chairman of the Day, reported. The Nurses Aides were Mrs. Rolland Jenter, Mrs. Eugene Bentschneider, Mrs. Earl Koebe, Mrs. Fred Leeman, Mrs. Ralph England and Mrs. James Pratt. The local registered nurses who assisted were Mrs. Stanton Roesch, Mrs. Willard Mann, Mrs. James Dress. Staff Aides included Mrs. Allen Schaffer, Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Mrs. Finn Olsen and Mrs. Ray Tirt. Future Nurses Club at the High School sent a couple of girls to observe, Ethel Kellogg and Mary Wurster. They were put to work, as much needed help, with the canteen. Other Canteen workers with Mrs. Ray Kerr as chairman were Mrs. Charles Gauss, Mrs. Lee Allan, Mrs. William Palmer, Mrs. John Bunney and Mrs. Basil Schwab. Dr. D. M. Petersen was the volunteer doctor for the day.

LEMay NOT ON MICHIGAN BALLOT

If George Wallace were to win the presidency, Curtis LeMay would be his vice president, no doubt about that. But here in Michigan, LeMay's name will not even appear on the ballot. The Wallace-LeMay ticket represents the tandem running for the American Independent Party. But because Wallace waited so long to name his running mate, the Michigan ballots... which had already gone to print... were printed with the names of Wallace and Marvin Griffin. The latter was certified to the Michigan Elections Bureau of the Michigan Department of State sometime ago. "There isn't a thing we can do about this," says Secretary of State James M. Hare. "Griffin's name was submitted by the Wallace party and was printed on our ballots. So he stays. Actually, it has no effect on the ballot anyhow, because Wallace-LeMay ran as a ticket and not as individuals." At the same time, said Hare, votes cast for candidates for president and vice president for the Prohibition Party must be counted in compliance with an attorney general's opinion of September 16. The ruling applies only to the Prohibition Party, the only party which filed names of presidential candidates with the secretary of state, which was not on the ballot. Candidates are E. Harold Munn for president, and Rolland E. Fisher for vice president. There are also a list of presidential electors. Prizes are awarded by the Jaycees. Jr. High Student Council will be assisting with the parade.

INSTRUCTION BALLOT - Washtenaw County Manchester Township - General Election, November 5, 1968

INSTRUCTIONS - To vote a straight party ticket make a cross (X) in the circle under the name of your party. Nothing further need be done. To vote for a candidate not on your party ticket, make a cross (X) in the square before his name. Candidates for president and vice-president must be voted for as a unit, and the vote cannot be split. If two or more candidates are to be elected to the same office, and you desire to vote for candidates not on your party ticket, make a cross (X) in the square before the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote on the other ticket, and make an equal number of names on your party ticket, for that office. If you do not desire to vote any party ticket, do not make a cross (X) in the circle at the head of any ticket, but make a cross (X) in the square before the name of each candidate for whom you desire to vote. If you wish to vote for a candidate not on any ticket, write or place the name of such candidate on your ticket opposite the name of the office. Before leaving the booth, fold the ballot so that the face of the ballot is not exposed and so that the numbered corner is visible.

A POLITICAL MONSTER?

The most numerous statement I have heard in this election and 4 years ago is "There sure isn't much choice, neither man is worth voting the republican and democratic candidates for president."

As I watch Nixon and Humphrey on TV and read their statements, I can't help but think that we (every voting citizen) have created this crazy political monster called a campaign. Those men running are reflective of our thinking. Just as Hollywood makes dirty movies because that's what people pay to see, so the political candidates fall over themselves trying to tell us what we want to hear.

What we have in this election is a mixture. Two men running on the old "promise" and a man running on what I hope is a new honesty in politics. The Nixon and Humphrey politics are phasing out (Wallace support proves this) Wallace is ahead of his time by 4 to 8 years. Who do I pick?.....lets look at the men.

NIXON: A smart man, a capable man. His fault is trying to promise everything to everyone. Agnew is supposed to pull in the conservatives from Wallace. Nixon's playing it safe. Not to far right, not to far left. He hopes to convince people that he will change things because he is

NOVEMBER 5

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Most people know the history of our gold prospecting, gold rush and Fort Knox. Gold is still being mined. There is more now than ever. Some one has it. We have heard many stories of how we lost ours.

Some are confusing. These stories sound much like a polker player explaining to his wife, after an all night session, when everything went wrong. "They took me for everything I had. I also gave them an I, O, U, for a lot more."

The Almighty Dollar isn't the only thing that has lost its value. When my parents said "no", it meant "no". We didn't hear it often because there was no weekly allowance or anyone asking for the family car.

Our children heard it often and knew what it meant. They weren't sure this was the best way at that time. They do now. If we don't explain to our children what they must do, they will tell us what we can do. Our country also has this problem. When the law, government, or President of the United States tells organized groups not to do this or that, when these groups know that because of their voting power, they can do it and get away with it. This is mob rule.

Some think if their man is elected in November, he will take care of our problems. I think he can. We must have a leader. Let's help him become a great one. We can do this by respecting him enough, something we wish us to do.

Some will think this is a good idea and that they intend to help their man if he is elected. Others don't want to think about our problems. They think it causes ulcers. You can get ulcers by saying "yes, sir" if it is when someone suggests "let's drink to that." This might be a good time to listen to our candidate to hear what he has to say about mob rule. I think I heard him say something about it. I don't remember which group he was referring to. That's funny, now that I think about it, because I have made up my mind twice to support, first Nixon and later Wallace. However, I won't be sure until I step into that booth. As I stand there with pencil in hand, I will either vote for safe, middle of the road, Nixon and walk out to four more years of pussyfooted politics, or I will vote for "give em hell" Wallace and walk out praying.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

On October 7 and October 21 a routine request from the State Liquor Control Commission for approval by the Village Council of a transfer of a tavern license from Lawrence Bros to myself had been tabled. In all fairness to the present owner and myself, I am asking the Village Council to act either for or against this application next Monday, November 4 at their regular public meeting.

Respectfully, D. E. Limpert

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Many reasons can always be found for or against anything proposed. I hope their decision will be based on whether I would be an asset or a liability to the community.

WASHTENAW COMMUNITY COLLEGE CANDIDATES

There are seven members on the Washtenaw Community College Board of Trustees and citizens will again vote for two of the four candidates who are seeking election on the board. The four candidates are Alex L. Haynes, Milan; Richard S. Cogswell, Willis; A. J. (Tony) Procassini and William J. Bott both of Ann Arbor.

Alex L. Haynes feels the area needs a community college to reduce the unrest particularly among those with a high school education and university occupational type education. He believes the community college "prepares you to think" and would help the students by organizations (1) as a quick response for student need by occupational education (2) it would be a meaningful education for all regardless of race, color or religion (3) the college is an effective use of tax dollars as those with training are in demand as well as a responsible citizen able to care for himself and his family.

Haynes added that he has a wide knowledge of the occupational needs of Washtenaw County and because he is interested in the community would be able to help the college with this background of what the government and industry need. He firmly believes the college should remain an occupational school because of the great needs for these trained workers whether it be a plumber, carpenter, semi-professional trainees such as doctors' aides and nurses' aides or the many other vocational programs at the community college.

He is a practicing mechanical engineer at Ford, is a Carnegie Tech and UM graduate, a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Richard S. Cogswell is seeking a position on the board of trustees because he believes the college should remain a vocational school and feels he can help to keep it that way. He added that there is a great demand for vocational schools because there is a need for an understanding between labor organizations and future employees. A trade school or vocational school could do just that he feels.

Cogswell and his family live in Willis and he is self employed. A. J. (Tony) Procassini, incumbent, is seeking re-election "because I believe it is to be essential to the continued success of the college to have experienced representation of all facets of our community-- education, business, industry-- that I have decided to seek re-election." He continues, "Much of the curriculum of the college is geared to help train and develop, for careers in industry, the greatest natural resource available to us--the human resources of our young people." He believes it is essential, now more than ever, that we close the "educational gap". He believes community colleges can play a large part in doing this.

At present Procassini is the only board member from industry and has had over 20 years experience in finding and developing jobs in industry for young people. For six years he assisted in researching community colleges, particularly in technical and vocational areas, in setting up a program-fitted to this community.

A UM graduate, he is now Director of Industrial Relations at the Bendix Aerospace Systems Division in Ann Arbor, has taught adult education courses in the UM-Wayne State University program, and among numerous other activities and organizations, is presently serving on the C. of C. Human Resources Development Committee dealing with the training of "Hard Core" and under employed. He feels this background will be an important asset in his association with Washtenaw Community College. As the father of ten children, he has a very personal interest in the community.

William J. Bott, President of the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce, has a "long-abiding" interest in Washtenaw Community College. For various reasons, Bott is one of the original boosters of the college since its original idea in 1959. He was involved in the background all the first year and a half when the idea was studied and proposed, then presented to the citizens and its final completion.

Bott fully believes and is dedicated in keeping the college at least 50% vocational. He feels this type of college will become an important step between high school and degree-granting institutions. He pointed out that it would also be less expensive for the students to take his prep courses at such a school before the final studies of his chosen field. Bott added that his son is enrolled at WCC, another reason for his interest.

All of the candidates are qualified and interested in the Washtenaw Community College, it is up to you, the voters, to decide which two of the four candidates will best serve on the board of trustees.

Karen Ann Lindemann became Mrs. Gary Alvin Weidmayer, October 26, 7:30 PM at the Bethel United Church of Christ. Rev. T. W. Menzel performed the ceremony. Mrs. Weidmayer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lindemann of 4830 Pleasant Lake. Mr. Weidmayer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Armin Weidmayer 13360 Austin Rd., Manchester.

The bride chose a silk organza gown of empire bodice and a A-line floor length skirt appliqued with Peau D Ange lace and a detachable cathedral train.

Petals of matching lace organza and crystals and pearls secured the triple veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a white bouquet of mums completing her ensemble. Mrs. Weidmayer had twin Maids of Honor, Adra and Karla Hoffman of Saline. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Lindemann of Ann Arbor and Miss Terry Hough of Manchester.

Milton Weidmayer of Manchester was best man. The guests were seated by Mr. William Lindemann, brother of the bride, Mr. Loren Blumensatter of Manchester, and Mr. Elden Weidmayer of Taylor, Mich., brother of the groom.

Ringbearer was Russell Hough of Manchester, cousin of the bride. Miss Nancy Egler of Manchester, cousin of the bride, was the Flower Girl.

A reception was held in the church parlor and a dance at Manchester Sportsman Club. The couple plan a one week trip to Canada. They will make their home in Manchester.

Webster says, to be empty means to be with out content; with out content; without substance, without effects. Let us remember, when life deals with God. He deals with us on spiritual basis. Contents and substances spiritually speaking are lasting and satisfying and eternal. The real person whom God created is a living soul. The Soul survives on that which we call "Heavenly Manna" For this reason we read in Luke 1:53 "He hath filled the hungry with good things." By the hungry we are to understand mainly those who hunger and thirst after righteousness.

Therefore, this person is us the soul, our life, experiences deep dissatisfaction, frustration in that life is empty of heavenly manna because we chose things consisting of Materialism as a priority to feed our soul.

The Scripture reads "And the rich he hath sent away empty." The rich were endowed with this worlds goods, and they became soley satisfied, worldly minded, possessed with self independence, a feeling of power, which said to them "I am a voice of authority; others must look to me."

Prosperity is indeed a gift of God; but if it leads to forgetfulness of Him, and if the sense of dependence upon Him is weakened, it becomes a snare. This ciphens from one's life that which brings deep satisfaction and that which promotes effectiveness in what you do for the Kingdom of God. After this it matters little how much we seemingly have in our Being, our life in God's eye is that of emptiness.

'Tis the snare that robs one of their love for God, and their fellowman. As love leaves, it brings many heartache. Like a bomb the real feeling of emptiness strikes. Then we fall back on one who loves without fail, but gives meaning and a high standard to judge our love by. The life that lacks loves is indeed empty.

Emptiness can be debated. One group or person takes the "position" of being full, having no needs. Another group or person shows how the first group is really not so full as they believe because of the temporary nature of their "Fullness."

The "Full" group makes a typical American comfortable presentation, telling of all their conveniences of living. Thus the debates goes on and on. While these debates can be heard, a thought comes pressing its way into our thinking, "People can be full of things and very busy but still be quite empty when it comes to the things that really last."

Again the 1 chapter of Luke and the fifty third verse calls for our prayerful consideration. "He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent away empty."

Eternal truth bears witness once again. We may have everything of this worlds goods, but in the eyes of God our life is one of emptiness.

State Representative Race

by Karen Kirk

Democratic candidate Joseph W. Kolbe wants to professionalize the office of the State House of Representatives.

"It's about time a qualified man should be elected," Kolbe said.

"I don't feel my opponent is responsive. He did not vote on any of the recent education proposals. I am concerned about education," Kolbe added.

Kolbe earned his bachelors and masters degrees in business from Michigan State University and is presently working on a law degree from the Detroit College of Law. He is a stockbroker for Dempsey Tegeler in Detroit.

While in school he worked for the conservation department and he is very concerned about the present problems with pollution. Kolbe has also worked as a supervisor for the social welfare department in a half-way house.

"We have to gear up monies available for education," Kolbe said. He favors a graduated income tax and believes there is a dire need for fiscal reform.

"The present system is hitting people in the low income bracket disproportionately," he said.

"There is a definite need for vocational training." We have a low spot for education," he said. "The day is gone when the boy just matriculates into the farm, the day of the farmer is dying, which I wish wasn't."

"We are lax in our position if we can't train these young people for jobs."

Kolbe favors giving relief on taxation for the aged. He believes it is unfair that people should save for retirement only to use that savings to pay taxes.

Kolbe commented on the road situation. "The roads are a joke." "There is no need for county signs, you can tell when you cross county lines by the condition of the road," he said. "The money hasn't been channeled through here," he said.

Thomas G. Sharpe, the Republican incumbent candidate, says his job as a member of the State House of Representatives is "like riding in a boat, once you get in and ride around you don't want to get out."

Asked why he is running, Sharpe said "It is an intriguing business, there are so many areas where people can't help themselves which we have access to like speeding up adoptions or getting persons into mental hospitals. "I like it," Sharpe said, "there are a lot of long hours and not always a lot of thanks but it is gratifying to contribute to the welfare of the state and the district." Sharpe has been a representative for the past six years during which he has missed six days while Congress was in session. He was able to visit the district about every week-end.

His duties as a legislator have been to be certain there is enough money in the treasury to pay contractual obligations. "We conceive the need for new legislation through out areas in the state, we can introduce and amend bills for others," he said. "Our office is a liaison between the people out in the district and state and federal agencies."

"I try to keep constituents in the area informed on bills and proposals through the news media," he said. "I try to do it once a week while we are in session and I also send questionnaires to people," he added.

Sharpe commented on the school appropriation situation. He said it is presently based on a state equalized valuation of property within the district and also the amount of mills people have voted on. Sharpe believes the system is not equalized because highly valued income districts usually have more representatives. Sharpe and a colleague have proposed a new system of appropriating state funds for schools. They want to reduce the property tax on school operations to not more than 12 mills. They would then institute an educational income tax at about one and one-half percent to replace the money taken from the property taxation. Sharpe believes this program is more equalizing and is confident that it would pass. "For the first time," Sharpe said, "Michigan would have equal opportunity of education." About the road problem Sharpe said, "The counties and townships will have more money from the state income increase, they may be able to divert a way to allocate money into roads." "Every time people buy gas in an area other than their own they are helping that area to improve their roads through the gas tax," he said.

CHRISTMAS PACKAGES TO VIETNAM

Tons of St. Nick's gifts will be going to members of the Armed Forces in Vietnam by special ship this year, thanks to a joint Pentagon-Post Office venture.

A fast US cargo ship will be designated the "1968 SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL," sailing from Oakland, California next month with Christmas parcels.

To meet the sailing deadline and assure pre-holiday delivery of gifts sent with surface postage, items should be mailed during October 14- November 9 period.

They should be marked "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" just below the stamps.

The "SANTA CLAUS SPECIAL" will sail during the latter half of November and stop at Da Nang, Qui Nhon, Cam Rahn Bay and Saigon, Vietnam. It takes approximately three weeks for a fast ship to cross the ocean.

All gifts should be packed in strong containers with adequate cushioning and correctly addressed, including APO and FPO numbers.

There are several options available for mailing to the military which can save money. Post offices across the nation have free pamphlets available which outline the mailing programs for servicemen and women overseas.

EX-KENNEDY AIDE RAPS POLITICS OF SILENCE

American voters who remain silent at the polls in this Presidential election will do their country a disservice, warned a former aide to both John F. and Robert Kennedy.

Theodore Sorenson, chief speech-writer for the late President and a supporter of the late Senator Kennedy, said that "many of us feel like keeping silent" because the Presidential candidates have decided to maintain silence on the war in Vietnam.

Many thousands of others have also completed the course which has been offered in many locations throughout the world.

The presentations have been carefully planned to help each driver learn how he can best avoid accidents, and thus drive safely.

The school bus drivers who have completed the course in other areas of Michigan have given the project a hearty approval, saying that the lessons are right to the point, giving them vitally important information which they say is helping them to continue, and improve, their excellent safety record.

The meetings are a part of the State-sponsored Michigan School Bus Driver Education Program, which is provided for each county by the Washtenaw Intermediate School District. Instructors come from Eastern and Western Michigan Universities. Homer Earl, Director for the programs supplied by the Universities, says that these meetings will involve nearly all of the bus drivers in this area. Central Michigan University and Northern Michigan University are also conducting bus drivers education projects in their service areas. It is all part of a state-sponsored effort to maintain and improve safe school bus operation in this State, with special emphasis on a comfortable ride for the school children.

JUDGE DEAKE'S STATEMENT

Judge Edward D. Deake, candidate for District Judge for the 14th District, voiced concern over disposition of several cases that would be heard in the Justice of the Peace Courts in the several townships, cities and villages of Washtenaw County. Under the new District Court act, there will be three district judges who will sit in cities over 3,250 population (based on the 1960 census). Judge Deake is concerned over the townships and villages that were previously served under the old justice of the peace system.

Under the new district court act, at least one magistrate will be provided when recommended by the judge of the district court. Additional magistrates may be provided upon recommendation of the judges.

If elected, I will promise to work for one magistrate in every township and village and city now served by a Justice of the Peace Court. The Magistrates are important because they handle arraignments, issue warrants, set bail and accept bond and issue search warrants. Their acts are subject to review by the district judge. With sufficient magistrates, every person in every township will have the opportunity to appear in a local court near his residence.

Justice should be available to all, conveniently and inexpensively.

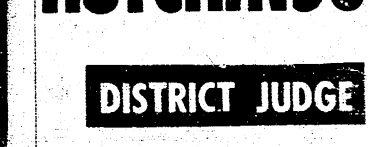

CHILDREN COLLECT FOR UNICEF

Hundreds of "trick or treaters" in Washtenaw County will be collecting money for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) for the week beginning October 27 and culminating on Halloween, October 31. Participating will be persons ranging from elementary school pupils to University students.

Residents are asked to donate only to those collection cartons bearing UNICEF'S symbol of a mother and a child.

Last year the amount of $3,340.83 was collected in this effort, and increase of 1,223 over 1966.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Now that the 90th Congress has adjourned, it is well to review what has actually taken place with regard to the Federal budget. The question of how much to spend, where to set priorities, and where to get the money was the central issue of the year and an underlying factor in almost all other Congressional action.

In early January President Johnson submitted a proposal for a Federal budget authority of $201 billions. Throughout the year approximately $5 billion was added to the budget request -- primarily to support the war in Vietnam and relate activity.

It was the overwhelming feeling of the Congress that this budget contained little or no effort to set priorities and that billions of dollars could be saved by cutting back on nonessential expenditures. The President's tax proposal which had been before the Congress for several months was stalled in the House Ways and Means Committee by a Member of the President's own Party in an effort to force cutbacks in the budget. At last in mid-summer a compromise was reached and the Revenues and Expenditures Act was approved by a comfortable margin. This legislation raised Federal revenues and at the same time imposed a mandatory cutback of 6 billion on the Federal budget.

In individual appropriations actions throughout the year the Congress cutback budget estimates by $3.9 billion. The remaining portion of the $6 billion cutback is required to be cut by the President and Executive Departments in their administration of Federal programs. A Federal employment ceiling was also imposed. In approving the cutback the Congress was careful to exempt certain vital areas which must receive priority attention of the Nation despite fiscal difficulties. Among these exemptions were education, air traffic control, defense, veterans affairs, and postal operations.

Throughout my term in Congress I have believed that it is essential to set priorities in our spending. We made a good start in the elimination of waste and duplication. At the same time we emphasize a commitment to meet our domestic problems.

More needs to be done both in reorienting priorities and slashing government waste, and it appears that the issue of the budget will continue to play an important part in the year ahead.

ELECT VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5th

RODNEY E. HUTCHINSON

(Non-partisan ballot)

Industry surpasses its goal of $6,873,000 by collecting $7,385,000. Mr. Clarence Fielder is Division Chairman.

To date the Manchester United Fund Drive has received in pledges or cash donations slightly over $13,500, but approximately $1,000 of this has been designated by the donor to other communities in the area. This brings the actual amount for the Manchester Community Chest down to about $12,500. Ted Tapping, Campaign Chairman, states that he anticipates at best an additional $1,500 will be forthcoming from businesses that do business in Manchester but have offices in other cities, residents of Manchester who are employed in other communities but designate their gift for Manchester, still unreported village and rural solicitors, and local civic organizations.

"Even with these", Mr. Tapping points out, "the prospect of Manchester reaching its goal this year is not encouraging. It looks like we'll be about $500 or so short of our $14,615 goal, unless the divisions that have not yet concluded their solicitations wind up with a lot more than it currently looks like they will collect."

Except to state that where as some of the contributions this year from individuals, businesses, organizations, etc. were more than last year and thereby did reflect the additional need of the United Funds, still a number of contributions were the same as last year and previous years.

"We can't meet the increasing needs and cost of services of the 51 plus agencies in our drive if the majority of the public doesn't respond to this worthwhile cause by increasing their contributions from previous years", Tapping concluded.

The Drive will remain open with the hope that additional monies will be forthcoming, but unless a small miracle occurs, the odds of reaching the goal are not good, an achievement which is not customary for Manchester.

JAMES G. PRATT OPENS NEW OFFICE

On October 25, James G. Pratt officially opened his new insurance office 101 E. Main Street. The freshly painted red and white building on the corner of Main and Clinton has been completely remodeled with knotty cedar paneling, a dropped ceiling and brown tweed carpeting.

The small square building was estimated to have been built in the 1920's by Carl Toburen and has served as a gas station, a retail sales room for greenhouse plants and flowers by John Neuderfer, the home of the late Mrs. Edna Kline for eighteen years and now Pratt's insurance office. The building is owned by Herb Widmayer.

Pratt has been an agent for casualty insurance such as house, car and fire since 1960 and before his recent move, had office space in Uphaus Drug Store. His wife Ellen does the bookkeeping with Mrs. Marie Knopp on a part-time basis such as vacations and whenever needed. At one time the Pratt's owned a farm in Bridgewater Township before moving to their new home on W. Main.

Pratt's office hours are daily, except Thursday when he handles business outside the office, from 8:30 to 12; 1 to 5 and Saturday until noon. He is also available for some evening appointments.

MOONLIGHT MADNESS FRIDAY NIGHT

GOD, GIVE US MEN

God, give us men! A time like this demands: strong minds, great hearts, true faith and ready hands; Men whom the lust of office does not kill; men whom the spoils of office cannot buy; Men who possess opinions and a will; men who have honor; men who will not lie; Men who can stand before a demagogue, and shame his treacherous flatteries without winking! Tall men, sun-crowned, who live above the fog, in public duty and private thinking; For while the rabble, with their thumb-worn creeds, their large professions, and their little deeds. Mingle in selfish strife, lo! Freedom weeps, wrong rules the land, and waiting Justice sleeps.—J. G. Holland

Mr. Pratt welcomes you to stop by anytime or call for an appointment at 428-8215.

"Moonlight Madness," the sale of sales in Manchester on November 8, promises to be a special occasion for many lucky shoppers. A mystery shopper will hand out a number of gift certificates to unsuspecting shoppers, the certificates compliments of the bank and shops other than merchandise retailers.

As pointed out by Roscoe Lannom, merchants will feature ridiculously low-priced items and the sale of outstanding sharply-priced merchandise. He added that some merchants will also give prizes in their stores in addition to the gift certificates from the mystery shopper.

Donna Gill added that "red tag" items will also be featured with special prices on these items only at the specified time as noted on each red tag item.

To follow on the night shopping theme, merchants will be wearing night attire such as P.J.'s and night caps. They will close the stores at 6 to prepare for the Moonlight Madness Sale at 8 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Special sale items, red tag items, a mystery shopper with gift certificates and surprises for many await those who plan to attend Manchester's first Moonlight Madness Sale, November 8th from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m.
