

WASHINGTON REPORT

Now that the 90th Congress has adjourned, it is well to review what has actually taken place with regard to the Federal budget. The question of how much to spend, where to set priorities, and where to get the money was the central issue of the year and an underlying factor in almost all other Congressional action.

In early January President Johnson submitted a proposal for a Federal budget authority of $201 billions. Throughout the year approximately $5 billion was added to the budget request -- primarily to support the war in Vietnam and relate activity.

It was the overwhelming feeling of the Congress that this budget contained little or no effort to set priorities and that billions of dollars could be saved by cutting back on nonessential expenditures. The President's tax proposal which had been before the Congress for several months was stalled in the House Ways and Means Committee by a Member of the President's own Party in an effort to force cutbacks in the budget. At last in mid-summer a compromise was reached and the Revenues and Expenditures Act was approved by a comfortable margin. This legislation raised Federal revenues and at the same time imposed a mandatory cutback of 6 billion on the Federal budget.

In individual appropriations actions throughout the year the Congress cutback budget estimates by $3.9 billion. The remaining portion of the $6 billion cutback is required to be cut by the President and Executive Departments in their administration of Federal programs. A Federal employment ceiling was also imposed. In approving the cutback the Congress was careful to exempt certain vital areas which must receive priority attention of the Nation despite fiscal difficulties. Among these exemptions were education, air traffic control, defense, veterans affairs, and postal operations.

Throughout my term in Congress I have believed that it is essential to set priorities in our spending. We made a good start in the elimination of waste and duplication. At the same time we emphasize a commitment to meet our domestic problems.

More needs to be done both in reorienting priorities and slashing government waste, and it appears that the issue of the budget will continue to play an important part in the year ahead.

ELECT

VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 5th

RODNEY E. HUTCHINSON

(Non-partisan ballot)

Industry surpasses its goal of $6,873,000 by collecting $7,385,000. Mr. Clarence Fielder is Division Chairman.

To date the Manchester United Fund Drive has received in pledges or cash donations slightly over $13,500, but approximately $1,000 of this has been designated by the donor to other communities in the area. This brings the actual amount for the Manchester Community Chest down to about $12,500. Ted Tapping, Campaign Chairman, states that he anticipates at best an additional $1,500 will be forthcoming from businesses that do business in Manchester but have offices in other cities, residents of Manchester who are employed in other communities but designate their gift for Manchester, still unreported village and rural solicitors, and local civic organizations.

"Even with these", Mr. Tapping points out, "the prospect of Manchester reaching its goal this year is not encouraging. It looks like we'll be about $500 or so short of our $14,615 goal, unless the divisions that have not yet concluded their solicitations wind up with a lot more than it currently looks like they will collect."

Except to state that where as some of the contributions this year from individuals, businesses, organizations, etc. were more than last year and thereby did reflect the additional need of the United Funds, still a number of contributions were the same as last year and previous years.

"We can't meet the increasing needs and cost of services of the 51 plus agencies in our drive if the majority of the public doesn't respond to this worthwhile cause by increasing their contributions from previous years", Tapping concluded.

The Drive will remain open with the hope that additional monies will be forthcoming, but unless a small miracle occurs, the odds of reaching the goal are not good, an achievement which is not customary for Manchester.

JAMES G. PRATT OPENS NEW OFFICE

On October 25, James G. Pratt officially opened his new insurance office 101 E. Main Street. The freshly painted red and white building on the corner of Main and Clinton has been completely remodeled with knotty cedar paneling, a dropped ceiling and brown tweed carpeting.

The small square building was estimated to have been built in the 1920's by Carl Toburen and has served as a gas station, a retail sales room for greenhouse plants and flowers by John Neuderfer, the home of the late Mrs. Edna Kline for eighteen years and now Pratt's insurance office. The building is owned by Herb Widmayer.

Pratt has been an agent for casualty insurance such as house, car and fire since 1960 and before his recent move, had office space in Uphaus Drug Store. His wife Ellen does the bookkeeping with Mrs. Marie Knopp on a part-time basis such as vacations and whenever needed. At one time the Pratt's owned a farm in Bridgewater Township before moving to their new home on W. Main.

Pratt's office hours are daily, except Thursday when he handles business outside the office, from 8:30 to 12; 1 to 5 and Saturday until noon. He is also available for some evening appointments.

"Moonlight Madness," the sale of sales in Manchester on November 8, promises to be a special occasion for many lucky shoppers. A mystery shopper will hand out a number of gift certificates to unsuspecting shoppers, the certificates compliments of the bank and shops other than merchandise retailers.

As pointed out by Roscoe Lannom, merchants will feature ridiculously low-priced items and the sale of outstanding sharply-priced merchandise. He added that some merchants will also give prizes in their stores in addition to the gift certificates from the mystery shopper.

Donna Gill added that "red tag" items will also be featured with special prices on these items only at the specified time as noted on each red tag item.

To follow on the night shopping theme, merchants will be wearing night attire such as P.J.'s and night caps. They will close the stores at 6 to prepare for the Moonlight Madness Sale at 8 p.m. until 11 p.m.

Special sale items, red tag items, a mystery shopper with gift certificates and surprises for many await those who plan to attend Manchester's first Moonlight Madness Sale, November 8th from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m.

At Monday night Council meeting a request by D. E. Limpert for transfer of the SDM license from Lawrence Bross was turned down by a 4 - 2 vote. It was turned down for the official reason that Don has a tax bill of $12.50 which he has not paid and also some past-due water bills on his apartment at 109, 111, and 115 E. Main. He was notified by letter that if he took care of these obligations, the transfer would be okayed.

I voted to grant the transfer because I felt it had nothing to do with the water and tax which Council has had opportunity and legal right to collect for over a year, but didn't do so. Herb Mahony had his reason for wanting it approved which he can state here if he wants.

Koebbe, Reinhardt, Bauer, and Lowery felt that Don's not paying his taxes and water bill, regardless of the reason, was sufficient grounds for denying the request.

If anyone would like to know why and how this whole mess got started, I will be glad to put it on the front page next week. I was at the meeting where the Council adopted the tax roll which Don contends was illegal, and I was at the meeting where Limpert and Council clashed on water bills when they were first presented to him. I was not on Council at the time, but was present at the meetings. If at least a dozen people aren't interested in knowing why, and request me to print it in the paper, I am dropping the whole subject. I will not fight with fellow Council members if no one really cares whether or not Limpert is allowed to complete his projects (whether he is hard to work with or not). If the people in this town are satisfied with Council's action the past five years in fighting with Limpert, then I'm not

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

This is to acknowledge a mystery package our family received in the mail, Sat. Nov. 2. It contained a goodly amount of crumpled "people paper" and on the wrapping the following message was typed.

Quote - I am sure the Way family needs this more than we do. If that tacky Way boy has money to spend like this why doesn't he buy something to improve the way he looks? end of quote

Of course, it was unsigned. But the point is - What is the point? If they want to come forward with some concrete accusations we can take care of the complaint. Which "tacky Way boy?" We have 5 (I suppose to this person they're all "tacky")

Well, their "tacky" mother happens to believe people (even boys) are innocent until proven guilty. Anyone pulling a stunt like the afore mentioned package has got to be a little "tacky" themselves.

No doubt, you thought my feelings would be too hurt to publicize this matter, but, my friend, you've got me all wrong I believe in honesty and getting involved when something of this nature happens. It's pretty funny the way we adults complain about the younger generation -- this package was sent by an adult.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

It was unfortunate that Mr. Limpert forced a yes or no vote by the council for approval of a SDM & Tavern license transfer rather than negotiate for a decision. The reasoning used in delaying the decision for the past month was to allow negotiating time for Mr. Limpert to resolve or pay his overdue obligations to the village in the form of taxes and water bills.

No attempt was made by Mr. Limpert to contact the council or express any interest in resolving these obligations during the months time.

These obligations were being withheld on a "matter of principle" rather than good judgment which dictated Mr. Limpert's way or no way at all. Although Mr. Limpert and a few others protest overdue obligations being relative to his license transfer approval, it does point-up Mr. Limpert's standing as a good citizen and this does affect consideration for approval.

In my opinion the village, Mr. Limpert, and Mr. Bross lost as a result of this decision. Historically, with few exceptions, similar worth-while endeavors of Mr. Limpert have met with council disapproval resulting in similar losses, due to relevant

Marvin L. Esch

The question of how to manage the Government and its many activities is an extremely important, though undramatic, one. It must be our constant aim to assure that Government functions are run in the most efficient and effective manner possible.

It was with this thought in mind that I joined in proposing the establishment of the National Commission on Public Management.

This commission would examine the "systems approach" developed by private industry for use in National defense and space exploration and its application to the many domestic public problems facing our Nation. This approach makes use of sophisticated computer technology for the analysis of every part of any given problem.

All too often the Government divides responsibilities for one program among many different departments and agencies -- with little or no central coordination. This not only wastes Government funds through duplication, it frequently leads to widely diverse approaches to the same central problem. In the confusion which results problems remain unsolved.

The systems approach is designed to coordinate and analyze such problems and recommend comprehensive solutions. It is not limited to the knowledge that one mind can comprehend but to the vast knowledge on the given problem which is available.

This technique at the present seems most applicable to technological problems -- the correction of air and water pollution, development of mass transportation, the planning of cities and the building of more and better housing. In each of these areas the advantage of a comprehensive overview of the entire problem and all possible solutions is obvious in producing concrete results. Important advances have been made in California where the systems technique has been experimentally applied to just such problems.

Private industry has shown the way to problem solving. It makes little or no sense to me to operate the Government on a less efficient scale. The Public Management Commission which I have proposed would be an asset, I believe, in bringing back efficiency to public problem solving.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Senator Bursley

Although your Legislature adjourned in mid-August, this has been a very busy period for legislators. House members are involved in campaigning and we in the Senate, having four-year terms, have been carrying an extra load of interim study committee activity.

The Joint Senate-House Committee on Pesticide Control, which I chair, has had meetings at Michigan State University's Pesticide Control Center in East Lansing; with the Dow Chemical Company in Midland; and at a public hearing in South Haven. We plan further public hearings in the Detroit inner city and in Lansing. We will have a report and recommendations for the 1969 Legislature.

The Senate Committee on Abortion Law Reform, which I chair, has recently had an all-day public hearing in Ann Arbor. We have partially subsidized a survey of all Michigan physicians and osteopaths and preliminary information has been received on survey findings. Proceedings of the public hearing will soon be available for anyone sending me a written request.

The Joint Legislative Committee on Urban Mass Transportation, which I chair, has just concluded an eight-day visit to the mass transit systems in Toronto, Montreal, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. We were fully briefed at all points and met with the Undersecretary of Transportation in Washington. This is one of the most important areas on which I have been working and we are anxious to see plans for mass transportation in Southeastern Michigan stressed in Governor Romney's program for next year. You may recall that I was the sponsor of the bill creating the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMATA).

I am also chairman of committees concerned with a new stadium in Detroit and with educational television and radio. We have meetings scheduled on both of these activities.

As sponsor of Senate Bill

520 which kept local port districts from regulating and licensing port employee's functions which are already adequately performed by federal agencies - I have been active on a House-Senate Committee set up to review the entire subject of port laws. We recently had meetings at the Detroit Board of Commerce and in my office in the State Capitol in Lansing.

I am also on a committee reviewing the question of

CHURCH EDITORIAL

It is not too early to be thinking about Thanksgiving. Indeed we ought to be thinking at all times for we have been blessed with so much of God's goodness - more than we really deserve.

It is said that one of the first things the Pilgrims did when they got off their ship in the new land was to kneel down under the open sky and thank God. They had had a safe journey and they were thankful for that - tho they knew little of what lay ahead of them in the winter months.

They had come to a "new" land to meet God in the way that they thought right. It was a simple way in which they met Him - each man seeking His presence, reading His Word, listening to His voice, trying to understand His way and to live in it. Each man knew he was a free man - yet also in his freedom he knew he was responsible to God.

The Pilgrims took their responsibility to God seriously in deed as well as in word. This new land they had found was not theirs to exploit for selfish gain - it was God's land - He had walked there before - and He was still there watching over it, and them.

Surely the God whom the Pilgrims found when they reached these shores is still the God who preserves these land in peace and gives His children such wonderful blessing as we enjoy. Let us prove our worthiness of a fine free land and of its many blessings by proving our words of Thanksgiving by a life of Thanksgiving.

BURSLEY REPORT . . .

public funds going to parochial schools. This promises to be one of the most controversial subjects in the coming session.

As chairman of the Senate Committee on International Commerce, I was recently criticized by the Detroit Free Press for having spent public funds to take the committee to Europe in 1965 and to the Far East in 1966. As the Free Press has not yet published my letter to the editor defending the objectives and tangible benefits resulting from this committee's activities, if anyone wishes a copy of "Michigan in the International Market Place" or "Michigan in World Trade", please send me your request to Lansing.

The United States Secretary of Commerce, Mr. C. R. Smith, has invited me to participate in a U.S. Trade and Investment Mission to the Ivory Coast and the Camerouns. There will be seven on this trip officially approved and paid for by the Federal government. We have 280 business proposals from American firms that we will try to market to foreign buyers. On the way back I will be joining, for a few days, the Detroit Board of Commerce Mission trying to sell the port of Detroit to Western European shippers. None of this travel will be at state expense.

I now have available summaries of all bills passed in 1968 (40 single-spaced typewritten pages) and bound reports on the final status of 1968 bills. They will be available to those writing for them as long as the limited supply lasts. Only one status per person, please.

see you

MANCHESTER FFA TO VISIT LOCAL FARMERS

What are your chances of being hurt while operating mechanical corn picking equipment? That says, Rodney Hoelt, depends on you. Hoelt is Safety Chairman of the Manchester Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

According to a study made by the University of Illinois, a safe operator has only about one chance in a million of being hurt on a picker or combine in the next five years. The average operators, says

Hoelt, stands one chance in 25 of being hurt during that same period, and careless operator has a 50/50 chance of being seriously injured.

The Manchester Chapter of the FFA has joined the Safe Corn Harvest Program. The Program -- sponsored by the Farm and Industrial Equipment Institute and the National Safety Council -- is aimed at increasing harvest-time safety.

As part of the program, members of the chapter will visit farm families to review the safety precautions required for the safe operation of corn pickers and other harvest equipment. Safety reminders will be left with each family.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB HOLD MEETING

The Shakespeare Club met Tuesday Oct. 29th at 2PM at the United Methodist Church Hall.

After Roll call, giving the name of "A noted Scotsman", and the Business meeting, Mrs. Don Mackintosh took the club on an interesting trip with pictures and commentary of a vacation they took to Scotland this past summer. The cities for the most part have all stone buildings, and the countryside with its rolling terrain and lakes and rivers is so beautiful. On display were many samples of Scottish-plain, pictures, books, and other articles of Scottish origin. A very enjoyable program.

The next meeting will be Tuesday Nov. 12th at 10AM to work on articles for the Washtenaw County Hospital to be at the home of Mrs. Don Mackintosh. Members to bring a sack lunch.

TWENTIETH CENTURY HOLD EVENING MEETING

The Twentieth Century Club met Tuesday evening, October 29, at the home of Mrs. Tom Marshall, with 18 members and 3 guests present. Mrs. Maynard Blossom assisted as co-hostess.

After the business meeting a very interesting, and informative talk was given on "Loch Rio" Girls Town, by the Director, Esther Baines.

Loch Rio is a social agency, located in Belleville, Michigan that cares for nine girls with emotional problems, who have been discharged from the various hospitals and institutions, but need a period of adjustment before taking their place in society.

Since its organization, ten years ago, the home has helped eighty girls.

The Twentieth Century Club is one of many state and county Federated clubs, which help to sponsor Loch Rio.

LOCAL YOUTHS ATTEND STATE MARCH OF DIMES BIRTH DEFECTS CONFERENCE

Becky Feiakamp, Jean Feldkamp, Valerie Vogel, Mary Ellen Simmons, Margaret Kemner, Merrick Burch, David Keizer and Laura Sutton, were among 600 teenagers attending the First Annual Young Adult Conference held at Lansing on Saturday, November 2nd. This program, sponsored by the National Foundation - March of Dimes, is an effort to alert high school students to the problems of birth defects to fit in with school courses in Family Living and Biology.

Speakers at this conference were Dr. David G. Dickinson, Assistant Director of the Department of Pediatrics at the University of Michigan, who spoke on the medical miracle of the development of the fetus; Dr. John P. Harm, neonatologist of the Department of Pediatrics at Hutzel Hospital, who informed the students on the environmental aspects of pregnancy, including the danger to the fetus of the use of drugs and infections; The final speaker was Dr. John M. Oplitz of the University of Wisconsin, a pediatrician and a research grantee of The National Foundation, who spoke on the hereditary factors involving unborn children.

The highlight of the conference was the attendance by Miss Kathy Garver of Los Angeles, who is the National March of Dimes TAP Chairman, and who plays Cissy on Family Affair.

Miss Louise Roy, Director of Youth Activities from the National Foundation headquarters in New York, closed the meeting with a charge to the delegates to inform other students on the ways and means of preventing birth defective children. She pointed out that because there are approximately 250,000 children born every year with a serious birth defect, it is highly necessary that every effort be made to correct this situation.

EQUIPMENT LOANS

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, stated today that farm storage and dryer equipment loans are available to eligible producers. At the present time it appears that most of the approved farm storage space is filled and many producers are in need of additional space to store their 1968 corn and bean crops.

Light pointed out that county ASC committees can loan to producers 85% of the net cost of storage, drying and operating equipment. By constructing on-the-farm storage, farmers will be in a position to hold their crops off the market during the harvesting season, thus providing a more stabilized market and price condition. At the same time producers may obtain CCC loans on the stored crops. This will give the farmer an immediate return for his crop and possibly a higher price in the future when supplies being marketed have leveled off from the seasonal peaks.

Producers needing storage space and in need of a CCC loan to help finance it should immediately contact their local county ASC office

NATIONAL CHRISTMAS CLUB SAVINGS TOP $2 BILLION

Over 10,000 banks and savings institutions are in process of mailing checks totaling $2,113,624,000 to 15,725,000 members of America's largest club -- Christmas Club. This record amount is an average of $134.00 per member -- the highest ever recorded according to Christmas Club a Corporation, the organization that originated the plan in 1910. The $2 billion figure is doubled that of the 1953 Christmas Club a scant 15 years ago.

Based on their survey, Christmas Club a Corporation projects that $592,000,000, or 28% of the total, will go right back into savings while the remainder will be used for such expenses as taxes, insurance, college tuition and winter vacations. The new record in both membership and dollars saved demonstrates that thrifty Americans prepare in advance for the year's biggest holiday.

The Union Savings Bank of Manchester announced the Christmas Club checks in the amount of $56,000 were mailed this week to the 420 members of the local club. The average amount was almost identical to the national average. The local bank announces that the 1969 Christmas Club is about to start and members are welcome to start saving now for the troublesome year-end expenses of next year.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW SCHOOL

Satisfactory progress is now being made on the new Luther C. Klager Elementary School being constructed on the Ann Arbor Street site. Most of the perimeter walls of the building have been completed and interior supporting walls have been started in some sections of the building. The brick being used on the exterior walls is a textured, antique brick that will blend nicely with the overall site. Floors have been poured in approximately six classrooms and in some of the corridor areas. The underground mechanical and electrical work has been completed for the most part. Heavy concrete curbing has been installed in the entrance of the building and on the perimeter of the faculty parking lot. This will be black topped at a later date along with the driveway from the street to the building. Services to the building are complete except for connections. When the interior walls are completed the steel for the roof deck will be put in place and the roof area installed. It is hoped that with the present rate of progress a substantial part of the building will be under cover by the time severe weather sets in.

SPAULDING FOR CHILDREN TOPIC FOR COAC MEETING

The November Council on Adoptable Children meeting will host the executive director of a unique and exciting adoption agency called Spaulding For Children. Mrs. Kay Haar Donley will speak about the agency's innovative policies and process on November 22, 1968 at 8:00 PM at Church of the Good Shepherd, 2145 Independence Blvd., Ann Arbor, Mich.

Spaulding For Children is concerned about the children

WORK STARTED ON NEW ATHLETIC FACILITY

Through the generosity of the Manchester Jaycees and the Manchester Optimists, co-sponsor of the Manchester Chicken Bowl, a sum of money was granted to start the initial work on a new outdoor athletic complex. The two organizations have pledged $7,000.00 to construct a new running track and develop a future football field in the center of the track. The new track and football field are located on the north side of the new elementary school site on Ann Arbor Street. This project has been under consideration for several years by these two organizations and the Board of Education. Some few months ago interested officials from the three groups met with a representative of the Kingscott Architectural Association and asked that plans be drawn up for such a project. The plans furnished by the architectural firm encompass a complete athletic facility, including in addition tennis courts. At the present time only the track and the future football field will be developed with the funds that are available for this purpose. Later, as additional funds are available and as interest in the project develops, the rest of the new outdoor facility will be developed.

CRAFT SALE NOV. 15

The Ann Arbor Art Association is again sponsoring the Annual One Day Craft Sale. The date is November 15; the place is the YW-YMCA; the hours are 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

The Annual Craft Sale contains original work in ceramics, enamels, jewelry, textiles and Christmas Cards. The work is juried and is attended by the craftsman who created it.

Last Friday evening the first Fall Fun Festival was held at the Nellie Ackerson Elementary School and termed by observers as a "success." Miss Birdella Flood, elementary school principal, said, "It was a wonderful success beyond all our expectations". She added that the festival went smoothly; the halls were crowded from the moment the doors were opened; the refreshment area tables were continually filled and everyone enjoyed themselves as teachers, parents and pupils had an opportunity to become better acquainted. Miss Flood added that the gross amount was over $800.00.

AN OPEN INVITATION

At present, Council has stated they intend to do nothing. The tax isn't paid, the water bills aren't collected and Mr. Ross still owns the tavern. In an attempt to get things going I am inviting Don Limpert and the mayor or anyone of the councilmen to express their viewpoints here on the front page next week. From Don I would like an explanation of why he has not paid his tax and what there is about the water bill which he finds objectionable. From council I would like an explanation of the tax situation and why they charge the water rates they do. Maybe this way we can let air on this mess without an angry confrontation erupting. I would like these statements in writing by Tuesday noon of next week. I think this would be a better approach than my putting in my opinion in an effort to force a settlement. If I do not receive any cooperation on either side, then I will go ahead as planned and put my version in, and let the chips fall where they may.

The number thirteen is sometimes thought of as an unlucky number. According to the members of the Manchester Day Care Center, Inc., thirteen is a delightful number. There are 13 happy pre-school children enrolled in the co-operative nursery.

ST. MARY'S CHRISTMAS BAZAAR SCHEDULED

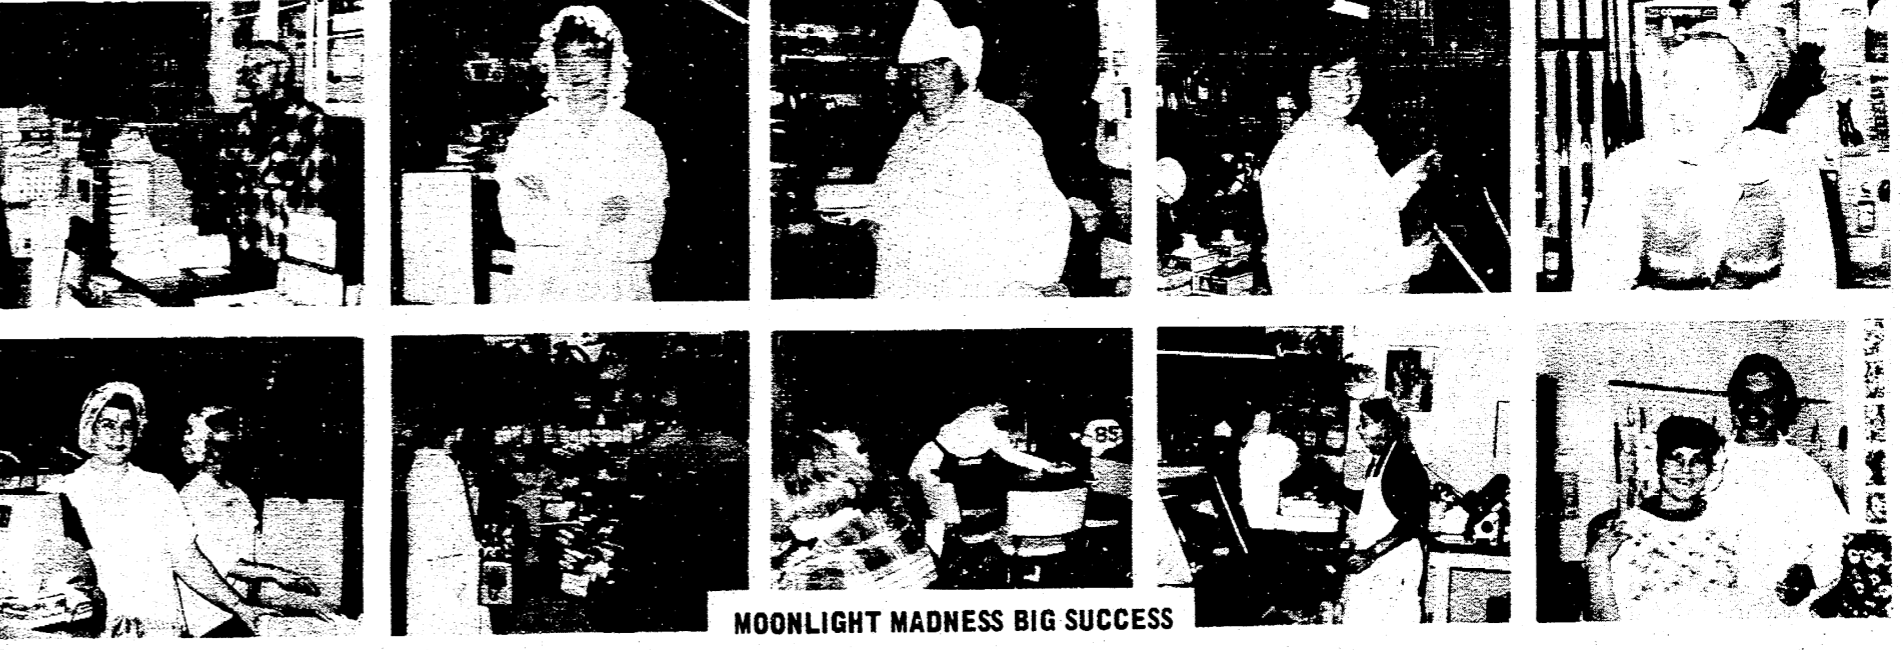

St. Mary's Annual Christmas Bazaar will be held Wednesday, November 20 at the K of C Hall from 9:00 am to 8:30 pm. Free coffee and cookies will be served throughout the day as shoppers enjoy St. Mary's hospitality and a large selection of Christmas and everyday household items. Mrs. Marvin Kirk is handling the food section and featured items include homemade jams, jellies, baked goods, candies and a variety of such delicacies. General Chairman Mrs. Richard Way noted there will be handmade aprons, children's clothing, toys, dolls and Christmas decorations as well as many other items.

And as a special feature for the children this year, Mrs. Way has contacted Santa Claus. Provided a name and address is included in each letter brought to the special "chimney mail box" at the Bazaar, Santa will answer each child's letter. St. Mary's Christmas Bazaar, November 20 from 9-8:30 at the K of C Hall. The ladies of St. Mary's extend an invitation to join them for some pre-holiday Christmas shopping.

The month of October was a busy one. The children took a trip to the Albee Cider Mill on Bethel Church Road. They picked their very own apples from the trees and had a tour of the cider mill. They took the apples back to the school so they could make apple sauce. Time did not allow for them to do it that same day. On Thursday, they were successful at making the apple sauce and enjoyed eating it during their snack time.

The Manchester Co-Operative Nursery is a member of the Huron Valley Council of Cooperative Nurseries. On October 19, 1968, the HVCCN held their third fall conference in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Mrs. Herbert Mahony and Mrs. Larry Hazen attended this all day conference which was in a form of a workshop.

Tuesday morning the "13" children had their pictures taken along with the Manchester Public School. Then they hurried back to their room so that they could bake their Halloween cookies. The Halloween Party was held on Thursday, Oct. 31.
