Council Passes Tavern License Transfer

With approximately 14 guests present including Don Limpert and Lawrence Bros, the letter from the realtor asking Council to reconsider was read. Don said he had a check for the tax and would give it to council or to the treasurer in the morning. After a discussion in which members of the audience participated, it was moved by Mahony, seconded by Macomber that council change its vote to yes on the application transfer with the letter notifying the liquor control commission being sent upon learning from the treasurer that the tax was paid.

Before voting, councilman Koebe stated that he was changing his vote because of Lawrence Bros and not because of Limpert or what would be said in the paper Thursday if he voted no. Lowery stated he was changing his vote for the same reason. The Roll was called. All years carried.

The controversy started about 2 months ago when Council voted to withhold the transfer until Don paid both the 67 personal tax and the multiple water billings on the apartments. Limpert refused and the matter was at a standstill and the no vote sent to Lansing. Several meetings were held with Don by various members of council. Don felt his character was being questioned by the no vote and he wanted to make it clear that he was not merely refusing to pay, but was protesting something he felt was not right. Council had earlier sent Don a letter stating that if he paid his bills they would approve his application. It appeared to be a hopeless situation until the Realtor stepped into the picture on behalf of his client, Lawrence Bros. Mahony noted that he felt the numerous meetings between Don and Council was the main reason for setting this situation.

On the matter of water billing, Don objected to the method of multiple billing applied to apartments. He maintained that it was illegal to charge a bill for each apartment when he had only one meter for each building. Council felt that it was legal and pointed out that the ordinance had been written like that since the 30's. When the new ordinance was adopted last year, that part on collection was left the same as the old ordinance. On multiple family billings it reads, "For all premises connected to the System occupied by more than one family, water and sewer charges shall be computed by dividing the quantity of water used by the number of families residing in such premises and then applying the foregoing rates. (which are $14.00 if you each use less than 8,000 gallons.) On the subject of premises with out a meter the ordinance states, "Premises without meter. A charge of $3.00 per quarter shall be made against all premises without a village water meter." And of course achieve new school spirit," Captain Koda said.

Practicing all summer and each Tuesday and Thursday after school, the girls are also involved in parades and various school activities and with the Pep Club are responsible for the Mom's Day and Dad's Night assemblies which honor the parents of the varsity players and cheerleaders; they sponsor the homecoming dance and use the proceeds for their expenses such as pompons and uniforms; are honored guests at the Spring Athletic Banquet; set up committees in preparation of the Fall Athletic Boosters Banquet and then act as hostesses at the banquet.

The girls, with the help of their advisor Mrs. Patricia Berry, special education teacher, set up their own cheerleading routines using some past routines along with original ideas worked out during their practice sessions.

The Varsity Cheerleaders have beautiful gold jumpers, made for them by Karen's mother Mrs. Heien Knickerbocker, and maroon turtle-neck sweaters with each girl responsible for the care of her uniform.

And as another new activity this spring, the Manchester cheerleaders will join 45 to 50 cheerleaders from the Lenawee Athletic Association League for a pajama party to be held in the Onsted School gym although definite plans for this party are still in process the girls said.

These young ladies, who must at all times remember they are representing their school and classmates, are chosen because of their pleasant and friendly attitudes, their scholastic achievements and abilities to hold a cheering or down neared crowd of Dutchmen followers. They represent good sportsmanship along with the players and the spectators, no matter which team the scoreboard claims to be the point winner. These girls know there is more to winning than achieving the highest score.

EARLY PAPER NEXT WEEK

The deadline for next weeks paper is Friday night. The paper will be out Monday or Tuesday next week. The New Year issue will be out on Thursday Jan. 2nd.

NATIONAL RACING COMES TO MANCHESTER

As some people might know, Tom Marshall Ford was represented by Jim Harrell in the Sports Car Club of American National RunOffs held at Riverside International Raceway in Riverside California, on November 23.

Jim, who is well known in national racing of the Sports Car Club of America, has campaigned extensively in what is dubbed the "Baby Grand's." These are the high powered, compact that resemble the NASCAR Grand National Stock cars such as Cameros, Mustangs, Falcons, Javelins, Cougars and Barracudas.

Jim campaigned a 1965 Mustang, placing it 4th in the National Standings in 1967. In '68 he switched to a '64 Falcon Sprint and finished 2nd in the Central Division Points Standings. After taking second, this entitled him to an exclusive starting position at the national run offs in Riverside. This event, alternating between there and Daytona, brings together the top 21 drivers in the U.S. Being the top owner, Tom Marshall of Tom Marshall Ford, Manchester, was contacted and a new 1968 Mustang was supplied, so that a better chance would be had. In five weeks the car was completely rebuilt into a competition car, ready for the race.

During the third day of qualifying, a clutch exploded just about ending the project. After large quantities of possible. They also reported on their study for a traffic light on main and Ann Arbor street.

The 3rd year of participation in developing a "master plan" was reported. This is being prepared by Vilcan-Lemana and Associates with the planning committee assisting.

EDITORIAL

I should be happy, but I'm not. Don got his tavern, but Council is not 100% with him and I'm very popular, to put it mildly.

If I had it to do over again, I would do the same thing. Why? because I've been in town approximately four years and I've seen to many projects shot down this same way and despite what they say about wanting all the things Don proposes, their voting record or attitude doesn't verify it.

Could it have been done privately at the council chamber? I think not. Don had a lawyer and he knew his position. If the no vote had stood he would never have re-applied for the license. Council would have had to collect their tax and water bills in court. I checked privately with a lawyer and those people in charge of collecting tax and based on what I learned, the village position was quite a bit less than 100% good. This is why I wanted to negotiate instead of the other way. This is why I made issue in the paper by trying to force the two to settle this.

I'm going to be on the "black list" with some council members for sometime. Judging by their attitude, I must have linked them to the mafia. I guess they read over the part where I defended them and I have never questioned their honesty or integrity. I simply felt they made a wrong decision. First in linking the three issues and second in not considering the importance to the town of fixing another building and finishing the parking lot. I could see ten dollars flying out the window in a case we had at best a 50-50 chance of winning.

I think I feel the same way those councilmen feel who changed their vote. If you remember, I stated their would be no winners in this mess and its coming true. The council seems to feel I hurt their reputation and injured their "public image" by criticizing them in the paper. I did no such thing but is that any worse than having people say I'm just a kid who does what Don Limpert tells me. I've been proven wrong in other decisions and I've always learned something. I think they made a good point about my presenting both sides, but I'm certainly not mad because they said it in front of everyone. If I can stand up to being accused of having someone else think for me, they should be able to stand a little criticism.

What about next time? I would like to avoid a next time by having council adopt a goal. That of town improvement and growth. We can argue about how it grows, but just so it grows. If I feel council have not taken into consideration the best interest of the town and are voting only as they personally feel, I will take issue again. We aren't going to grow and prosper by negative thinking. We better set a goal and work toward it. When we encounter someone like Don who is willing to spend his money improving the town we better include him whether he's a social butterfly or not. And if someone questions something we've done, we better be right or change it so it is right and not imply that someone that doesn't go along is a no good trouble maker.

God divided man into men, that they might help each other.

ILLEGAL BOYCOTT

Through its open use of the techniques of an illegal secondary boycott of California table grapes, the AFL-CIO may have aroused an issue it would much prefer to see remain dormant -- the matter of compulsory union membership versus right-to-work laws.

As one direct result of the grape boycott, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Charles B. Shuman, has called upon Congress to outlaw compulsory union membership "Whether it be in a farm, labor or marketing organization."

What chance such a proposal would have in the new Congress under the guidance of the new Administration, is anyone's guess. However during his campaign, Nixon said "The boycott is illegal. It is to be condemned with the same firmness we condemn illegal strikes, illegal lockouts, or any other form of lawbreaking."

In calling upon Congress to outlaw compulsory unionism, Charles Shuman said that strikes against farmers at harvest time and in essential public utilities should also be expressly forbidden. He said that the boycott of California table grapes as instigated by the "United Farm Workers Organizing Committee" of the AFL-CIO, was the first step toward compulsory unionism for all agriculture, unless Congress acts.

"The nationwide boycott of California grapes was seized upon by the union to club growers into signing union-shop contracts and to force growers to order their workers to join the AFL-CIO," Shuman said.

"Labor has poured thousands of dollars into this organizing campaign with little if any results. It is estimated that only two or three percent of those who pick grapes have voluntarily joined the union. One reason for this organization failure is that grape pickers are among the highest paid agricultural workers in the nation."

"Similarly, the grape boycott has failed, as the crop has been harvested and sold. But we can expect a continued effort because the boycott is a potent weapon, and if it ever is successful in grapes it can be applied to bread, pork chops, milk, or any farm commodity."

Such action would bring chaos to the food industry," the farm leader said.

AVOID HOME ACCIDENTS WHICH RUIN HOLIDAY

The Christmas season adds a joyous spirit to any home but often a confused one also. Many things such as trees and decorations make the home a little more difficult to get around than normally. Most families are more active in the home in this festive time of year. Be sure to be extra careful to avoid home accidents during the holiday season, advises Liberty Mutual Insurance Companies. A safe holiday can lead to many more happy ones.

Following several inquiries concerning the possible establishment again of rabies vaccination clinics for dogs, Dr. George E. Bowler Public Health Veterinarian for the Washtenaw County Health Department announced that he is now in the process of arranging dates and locations for such clinics.

The Washtenaw County Veterinary Medical Association as in the past, will again staff these clinics, which are provided for the convenience of the public.

Definite times for these clinics, which will be held in January will be published well in advance of the dates.

NEW FEDERAL LAW WILL CONTROL GUN AND AMMUNITION SALE

Sales of guns and ammunition will be controlled under the new Federal gun law which takes effect December 16.

Mr. Rex D. Davis, Assistant Regional Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service's Alcohol & Tobacco Tax Division for the 5-state Central Region, which includes Michigan, said IRS is preparing material to help gun dealers, gun buyers and collectors comply with the new Gun Control Act of 1968 which was enacted by Congress in October.

Mr. Davis said the new law should not place any unreasonable restrictions on the purchase or ownership of ordinary guns used for hunting, target shooting or other lawful purposes.

Persons under 21 will be prohibited from purchasing pistols, revolvers, and ammunition for such weapons and persons under 18 will not be permitted to purchase any firearms or ammunition.

Sales will generally not be permitted to out-of-state residents, Mr. Davis said, although a person from an adjoining state can buy a rifle or shotgun by complying with certain provisions of the new Act. Sales to residents of a state will be prohibited if possession of the firearm is not allowed by local ordinance.

Summaries of pertinent local laws are being compiled in a booklet to be mailed by IRS to Federally licensed gun dealers. The booklet, Publication 603, "Published Ordinances-Firearms," should be in the hands of dealers before Dec. 16, to enable them to check on the gun laws of a locality before selling a gun.

NEW FOOD LAW

A new state food law that ensures added protection to the consumer will become effective on New Year's day as a result of action by the 1968 Legislature, and support of the governor.

Director B. Dale Ball of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, which has charge of enforcement of the act is in the interest of uniformity of food laws throughout the nation.

The new statute replaces the General Food Law of Michigan of 1895, once regarded as the nation's best food law. It was adopted 73 years ago, 25 years ahead of the first federal food legislation. But some sections became outdated.

The new act is nearly identical to the statute in effect in several other states. It was developed by the Association of Food and Drug Officials of the United States in response to the need of uniformity of food laws between states. Much of the model law was taken directly from Michigan's original statute.

The new act among other things placed emphasis on honesty in labeling. An important requirement if the complete listing of ingredients in food products already standardized by state or federal law.

In food products there is increasing prevalence of food additives, preservatives and artificial color. The new law provides for a system of permits for any industry that could become involved in producing a product that might later be found harmful to health. This is an added safeguard.

It also gives the Michigan Department of Agriculture authority to use tolerance set up for the many chemicals used in food crop production. These tolerances have been established by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Food and Drug Administration following exhaustive laboratory tests to determine their safety.

HOLLAND HIGH SCHOOL BAND CHOSEN TO PLAY

The Christian High School Band of Holland has been chosen to represent the State of Michigan in President-elect Richard M. Nixon's inaugural parade in Washington, January 20, Michigan Republican State Chairman Elly M. Peterson announced today.

Mrs. Peterson, who also is State Coordinator of Michigan activity in the inauguration ceremonies, said that each State is limited to only one band entry in the parade and that the Holland group was selected because of its outstanding record in competition. The band has placed first in all categories of competition in Michigan for the last 11 years, she said.

The band of approximately 100 young musicians is directed by Henry Vander Linde.

A committee of four top Republican leaders of Ottawa County has been formed to arrange for the band's trip to Washington. Donald Stoltz, Ottawa County GOP Finance Chairman and Congressional staff aide to Representative Guy Vander Jagt, heads the arrangements group. Other members are Mrs. Julian Hatton of Grand Haven, Ottawa County GOP Chairman; State Senator Gary Byker of Hudsonville; and State Representative Melvin De Stigter of Hudsonville.

TO BE OR TO DO?

Historically... West has tended to throw its chief emphasis upon doing and the East upon being. What we are has always seemed more important to the Oriental; the Occidental has been willing to settle for what we do. So, one has glorified the verb to be; the other, the verb to do.

UNCONSCIOUS HARMONY

Unconscious harmony are often isolated from each other wholly or in part and tend to become actually hostile to each other. For this reason symmetry of character is "extremely difficult" to achieve.

TO KNOW THE TRUTH

To know the truth, most of us are still slow to learn. The tendency to accept without question and follow without knowing why, is very strong in us. For this reason we are in the majority of Christians hold at any given time is sure to be accepted as true and right for the time being, safer to fall into step without asking too many questions about where the parade is headed.

in Liberty... "A magazine of religious freedom," May it refresh and reaffirm your faith in America... and the future.

"America, to me, is gently rolling hills, wide, shimmering lakes, and giant modern cities-cities with tall majestic buildings reaching to the sky. It is vast stretches of desert and jagged mountain peaks.

"But more than this, America is freedom - freedom from want and fear, freedom of religion, freedom to work where we want to work, to do what we want to do, and say what we want to say, within reason. It is liberty for everyone, from the richest millionaire to the poorest citizen. America is the 'mixing bowl' of the world. Each year thousands of immigrants from all over the world come to America to enjoy its opportunities and freedoms.

"Sometimes we forget that our men are fighting and dying on foreign soil for the very opportunities and freedoms that we take for granted every day. But already we have a danger of losing our independence. That old-fashioned, han-over-heart patritism that has been so strong through America's history is slowly fading.

"Our enemies know it. Their new plan is - 'Don't attack America; it will gradually fall under the weight of its own corruption.' They see crime sweeping over our country. They observe riots within our cities and the destruction caused.

"Yet, in spite of these problems, as long as there is a will for independence in the minds of men, America will hold fast, a stronghold of freedom and independence against the oncoming tide of tyranny and dictatorship. It is up to us, the youth of America, to keep this fortress strong and stable. We should strive to preserve the freedoms that have been passed down from generation to generation since the men of Colonial America. These men fought and won the War of Independence, so that their children and others to come could have a strong and free nation in which to live." GROUP GATHERS TO HONOR CHAIRMEN

More than 700 united fund volunteers from every Michigan community gathered in the Kellogg Center, Michigan State University, East Lansing, Monday Noon, Dec. 16, to honor the campaign chairmen of every local united fund, community chest, red feather, and torch drive in Michigan.

The occasion was the annual Campaign Achievement Celebration of the Michigan United Fund, held each year to recognize the achievement of the united fund volunteers throughout Michigan.

Michigan United Fund President Richard A. Schroter, Detroit, told the audience, "I think we are all proud of the good we have been able to accomplish through our united effort in Michigan. But we must continually remind ourselves of the absolute necessity of keeping alive and flourishing, the ideal of united campaigning which is the great reward of our free society and something which none of us wants to lose."

W. Earl Prosser, Executive Vice President of the MUF pointed out, "In the early days of the United Way, it was known as the Community Chest when the supporters worked for and believed in the dignity and worth of the individual. Sometimes we have sought this idea imperfectly, but we have continued to strive for it and have led the way and shown the direction to many a government program that was to come after." He added, "Voluntarism and its kindred spirit, the dignity and worth of all men, is essential to the spirit of American life and to all Americans."

Principal speaker at the meeting, Dr. Reuben Gornitzka, nationally known radio and television personality, is a human relations consultant. He has learned from his work that even successful people who have reached the top are often very lonely. In feeling they cannot reveal their true feelings, they fall prey to insecurity, in decision, fear. In his talk, Dr. Gornitzka described ways and means to overcome these weaknesses. He said, "I try to reintroduce people to life around them... to look for ways of helping others."

Campaign Chairmen from 64 local united funds and community chests were awarded with certificates recognizing their community contributions.

The meeting was sponsored by The Dow Chemical Company as a tribute to Michigan's United volunteers.

HELP FOR SMALL FARMERS

Frank Light, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, states that the Agricultural Conservation Program has helped small farmers establish soil, water and woodland practice on their farms since 1936.

These practices include establishing and maintaining permanent vegetative cover, sod waterways, spreading liming materials, planting trees and shrubs for forestry purposes, winbreaks and erosion control.

Many small farmers have carried out timber stand improvement practices during the winter months.

Farmers qualifying for the low-income provision under the 1969 program may receive up to 80 percent of the cost for timber stand improvement practices, planting trees for future Christmas tree production and home gardens for the farm family.

Detailed information is available from your local county ASCS office.

Act upon your impulses, but pray that they may be directed by God.

SEASON PRESSURES DEMAND MANAGEMENT

Trying to play Santa Claus to 15 different relatives and friends may result in a frustrated and very unjolly Christmas season for many conscientious mothers. But many of these pressures and tensions can be eliminated by smart Christmas management, says home management specialist Anne Field of the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University.

"Often, most of the work of Christmas falls to MOM," Miss Field says. "And with all the hectic festivities and activities, she may feel that she has little choice in the affairs and even less enjoyment." Speaking directly to busy mothers, Miss Field says that "Choice" is the key to avoiding holiday headaches.

"Certainly, there are some choices you can't make... like whether or not to send Christmas cards. But you can choose to whom you send them and how much you spend on them.

"As the years have passed by, perhaps your Christmas has become crowded with various family traditions. As a family, choose which traditions you wish to observe this year, and which you'll save for next.

"You may not be able to attend all the organized festivities you've been invited to, so here again, make a choice.

"By thoughtfully choosing what you do, what you give and what you pay, you can skip being too pressured, too broke and too tired to enjoy Christmas," Miss Field says.

PROPER DIET FOR DAIRY CATTLE

Too much calcium in the diet of a dry cow can lead to milk fever, warns Don Hillman, Michigan State University dairy scientist.

"We have found that susceptibility to milk fever increases as the level of calcium relative to phosphorus in the diet increases," Hillman reports.

"A lower intake of calcium, and/or a higher level of phosphorus, so that the ratio of these minerals is as close as possible to a 1:1, and not higher than 2.5:1, is most effective in controlling milk fever."

Excess calcium usually is caused by too much alfalfa hay and haylage in the diet just before and after freshening, he explains. Alfalfa hay contains about 1.5 percent calcium and .25 percent phosphorus, a ratio of 6:1.

"Milk fever is not limited to cows fed alfalfa," Hillman points out. "Herds fed alfalfa hay or haylage as the chief forage have incidence of milk fever."

"Likewise, mineral and protein supplements with a calcium-phosphorus ratio greater than 2.33:1 should be avoided," the MSU dairy specialist advises.

He recommends feeding monosodium phosphate, which contains no calcium but about 22 percent phosphorus, instead of mineral supplements containing calcium, bonerol and dicalcium phosphate.

Hillman also recommends feeding grass hay and corn silage instead of alfalfa hay with the low-calcium grain ration during the dry period for herds with a high incidence of milk fever.

Several feeding programs are offered in a new MSU Farm Science Series bulletin, "Feeding to Prevent Milk Fever." Available through county extension offices, the two-page bulletin contains more information about the often fatal disease, and offers recommendations for control through Vitamin D feeding.

STAMPS CAN HELP FEED HUNGRY CHILDREN

Cancelled stamps, foreign or domestic, saved from all your letters can help feed hungry children in orphanages here and overseas. All you need to do is save the stamps, being sure you leave 1/4 of an inch of paper on which the stamp has been cancelled all around the stamp as nearly as possible, put them in a bag or envelope and see that they get to Miss Lydia Kulenkamp or Mrs. Franklin M. Reck. Miss Kulenkamp, is collecting the stamps for the Emanuel Church of Christ Senior Citizens' project and Mrs Reck is sending them to the American Legion Auxiliary Child Welfare Department for the local Legion Auxiliary Child Welfare Department for the local Legion Auxiliary Child Welfare Committee. Trading stamps which are received at some stores and gas stations and coupons off of food and cigarettes (ones that have a premium value) may also be sent. If you haven't time to cut or tear the stamps out, send the whole envelope for the committee to process. Leave your collections at Marx & Marx store or Al Gaige's Plumbing in Manchester. In three years, 1965-66 and 67, the American Legion Auxiliary cancelled stamp collection sent checks totaling $28,197.09 to provide high protein concentrates and U.S.

Government Surplus Food to needy families and orphanages here and overseas. Save your stamps and save the children who are in need. Homes Prime Fire Target NEW YORK—Although fires in public and industrial buildings frequently are the headline makers, fires in residences cause nearly twice as much damage as fires in any other category of building, reports the Insurance Information Institute.

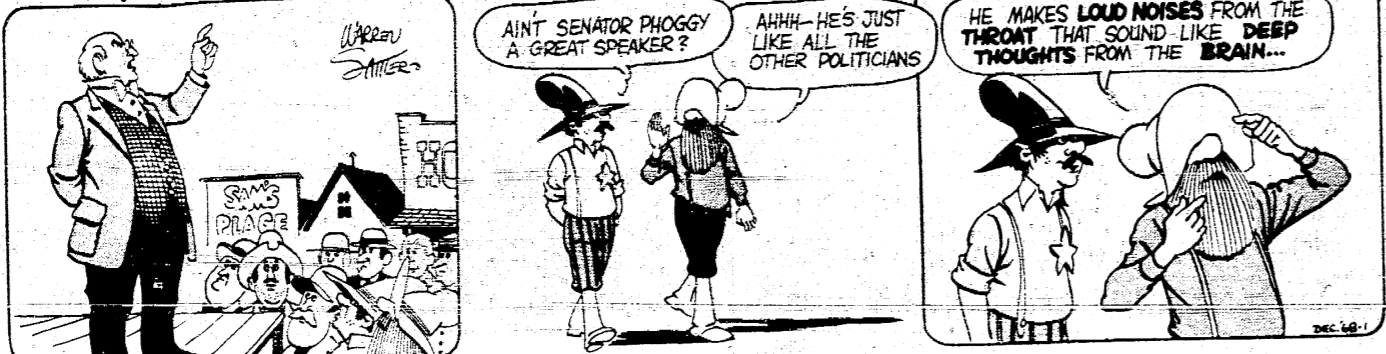

Sharing the Risk NEW YORK—People who buy property and liability insurance actually are participating in a risk-sharing venture, the Insurance Information Institute notes. In other words, many persons make small contributions in the form of premiums to protect themselves against severe loss or financial hardship in the event of misfortune.

LOOKING AROUND

A jail cell in Copenhagen, Denmark, is a rather comfortable place to spend a few weeks and the food is excellent. In fact, a prisoner is permitted to order special meals brought in to him. But Danish prisoners are billed four to six kroner a day for the time they serve. The Danes figure that a man who gets himself in trouble should not receive free board and room while he is in jail.

In Liverpool, England, listeners to the local radio station were informed that the station was off the air because of "technical difficulties" after 15 minutes of silence. The embarrassed manager, Michael Hancock, explained confidentially to friends that a new cleaning woman had unplugged the station to plug in her vacuum cleaner.

DUTCHMEN WIN THEIR FOURTH STRAIGHT 66-55

The Dutchmen showed Adrian Catholic Central that they had a string of victories going to, when they met Friday night. When it was all over the Dutchmen still had their string going, they ended Adrian Catholic Central's 25 game winning streak. Rick Lowery played another one of his fine games. He lead all scorers with 23 points, Jeff Stevens had 13 points, and Lyle Jacobs added 11 points. The Dutchmen have showed a lot of hustle and team work. If they keep this up they are going to be hard to beat. The Dutchmen's next game is Friday night at Morenci. The JV's lost there game 57-27.

Here we have a couple shots of our big man Lynn Niehaus showing the boys how it is done. Lynn has had a big hand in the Dutchmen four straight win.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

THE CHRISTMAS TREE

I am a little Christmas tree, Standing out in the forest alone, And when the people come to chop us down, They never take me home.

But one year they came and chopped me down, And took me out of the mean cold air. They took me in their house, And decorated me, oh, so fair!

The little children hung candy on my branches, And other people put hot lights on me. They would light me up at night, And that is when I was the happiest tree.

One night very late, A jolly old man came. He left many boxes, With many tags and names.

Jane got a dolly And don got a gun. Mom and Dad got presents too, And we all had lots of fun.

Christmas Day I was lit all the time, And I was always warm. But when company would come, Don would blow his horn.

But then one day, They took all my decorations off. Then they put me back out in the cold air, And I started to cough.

I really got sick, And coughed quite a bit. But then I died, And I wasn't a bit.

WINTER

Winter is full of fun and joy For every girl and boy. Although it is very cold It is still fun for young and old.

The snowman out the window looks so bright But even more, in the morning light. The night is very still But it will still give me a chill.

Down the hill I will go so fast Because the snow has come at last. Out on the lake the ice is slick And thank heaven that it is thick.

On Christmas Day I will feel so gay Because all I'll do is play, play, play. Out of all the toys I will get The one that is the best is the baseball mit.

Out of doors I go out to play Because I got a brand new sleigh. Now Christmas has come and gone But it is not gone for very long.

Seasons Greetings to all the customers who patronize our print shop from Brian Ahern and his family. Brian is manager of Rymack Printing.

Those children haven't anyone. Nor really that much to eat. But you yourself eat almost a ton And throw the rest away.

We hope you enjoy this years Christmas issue. We wanted to do something different and here it is. We thank the merchants and businessmen with their advertisements who make possible a paper in a small town like ours. Pat and I are having a special Christmas this year. For the first time we're having to answer all kinds of questions; Like, how does Santa get down the small chimney, and how does he keep from getting all dirty? We get the added pleasure of watching two children who, until a year ago in their foster home, didn't know what Christmas was. Our family wishes you and your family a very Merry Christmas and we thank all those who help make possible our dream of publishing a newspaper.

NEWS DEADLINE

The next paper will be published on January 2, 1969. Deadline for this paper will be Monday, December 30, 1968.

THE ORPHANAGE CHILDREN

It was cold and wet that starless night, I went to the orphanage. I thought I knew what was right, On how to help those kids.

They knew that they would never quite, Have a Christmas like me and you With all the gifts and lights so bright And the Christmas tree so green.

Can't you ever see, How lucky you and me Are to have a place to be And a bright green Christmas tree.

Those children haven't anyone. Nor really that much to eat. But you yourself eat almost a ton And throw the rest away.

I wish that I could hear you say, That you understand how I feel About letting these children have a day That they could call Christmas.

A day like that to them would be A day of joy and happiness. A day with gifts and a Christmas tree But that's not what we have Christmas for.

It's to celebrate the day that Christ was born, The most famous man of all. And he was born on that Sunday morn, That we celebrate as Christmas.

MY LITTLE PINE

I have a little pine tree; It seems to grow and grow. I love to smell the little pine And play around it in the snow.

In December, when it starts to get cold And the skies bring only snow. I wonder if the little pine Knows that it will have to go.

It seems like that would ruin it all When the little pine knows it must die. But all of a sudden, there came a wind And it was though, he looked to the sky.

The family went to chop it down On a cold windy morn. The deer were there as if to help But the little pine was not forlorn.

The family dragged it through the fields And the dog even helped. The dog, as if to say, It's Christmas time, he yelped.
