MANCHESTER OPTIMIST CLUB OUTSTANDING CITIZEN AWARD WINNER FOR MONTH OF DECEMBER

Beth Merriman, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. William Merriman, of 7780 Lamb Road, Manchester, and a freshman at Manchester High School, has been chosen as the Optimist Club Outstanding Citizen Award Winner for the month of December. She is being honored in January because the Optimist Club did not have an official meeting in December.

Beth carries a B to A grade average and participates in class projects. She is a member of the mixed chorus and girls junior varsity basketball team. Beth gets along very well with her teachers and peer group.

Beth lives on a 42 acre farm with her parents and five brothers and two sisters. Being the oldest of the children she has assumed much responsibility as a family helper. As a junior member of the 4-H Club for four years, Beth has earned awards for clothing and foods. Beth likes going to school; she likes to sew, she likes to ride horses, and she enjoys raising lambs. This last summer she came in 11th place in the Lamb Club Contest.

Beth participated in the IGA Store Contest this last summer and won a four day trip to New York City, on which she was accompanied by her mother.

Congratulations for winning this very coveted award.

PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY

The annual Service of Prayer for Christian Unity will be held at the Manchester U. Methodist Church on Sunday, January 26, 1969, at 2:30 P.M. The host pastor, Rev. O. Wm. Cooper, will speak on the topic: WHY BOTHER?

The service will be conducted by ministers from local churches: Rev. C. Fox, Sharon U. Methodist Church; Rev. R. Kuetter, Emanuel U. Church of Christ; Fr. R. Schlinkert, St. Marys Roman Catholic Church; Rev. Wm. Cooper, Manchester U. Methodist Church. The combined Jr. & Sr. choirs of the Manchester U. Methodist Church will sing Ralph Vaughan Williams arrangement of the hymn, FOR ALL SAINTS, by William W. How. The Choirs will be under the direction of Mrs. C. Ingraham. Mrs. P. Kappler will be at the organ.

This is the third observance of this service in Manchester. The congregations of the participating churches are sharing in a Week of Prayer for Christian Unity this week. The week of prayer will culminate in the Service of prayer for Christian Unity next Sunday. All are welcomed.

Whatever is worth doing, is worth doing well.

March of Dimes News

by Carolyn Ahrens

"Be a good scout--help the Boy Scouts fight Birth Defects" when Troops 426 and 436 sponsor a peanut sale for their donation in the Manchester March of Dimes Drive. On Wednesday, January 22 late afternoon and evening Troop 426 under the leadership of Scoutleader Ted Roberts will be at various places on the streets and Saturday, January 25, Lary England's Troop 436 will be located throughout the village.

This is their part in helping others. Won't you be a good scout and help them?

For their contribution to the March of Dimes, The A & B Market is going to give 10¢ of each dollar they receive for one day. This will take place today, January 23rd. Everyone shopping in the store today will also be contributing to the March of Dimes.

The village Mothers' March is scheduled for January 31, Village Chairman Mrs. Ronald Gonyer announced. A short meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, January 29 at the educational section of the United Church of Christ at 7:00 p. m. and all captains and solicitors are urged to be there. It will be brief Mrs. Gonyer said and solicitors will receive their campaign kits at this time.

This year, as in the past, a countless number of people are involved in the annual March of Dimes. The march has already begun in the area townships. Manchester Township Chairman, Mrs. Marvin Kirk; Sharon Township Chairman, Mrs. Leslie Chavey; and Freedom Township Chairman, Mrs. John Bihlmeyer have been working on the drive since January 18 and will continue through the 28th.

The areas are large. Please help them and their solicitors when they stop at your house. A return trip is often difficult to arrange.

Another event designed to add some fun while you help a worthwhile cause, is the Bridgewater March of Dimes Card Party. As announced by Bridgewater Township Chairman, Mrs. Leonard Davis, it's to be held Saturday, January 25 at 8:00 p. m. at the Bridgewater Township Hall. Bring your friends and do your part in the battle against birth defects.

The results of the well-established March of Dimes Coffee Day at the L & M Party Store proved again to be successful. An $18, 15 donation was presented to Mrs. Hugh Sutton, Manchester March of Dimes Chairman.

Winner of the "free coffee for a week" was Conrad Gonyer who guessed closest the amount donated by the customers throughout the day. A special thanks to Larry Gaige for donating the coffee and Dick Way for donuts and sweet rolls.

The Jolly Farmerettes and Cloverettes outdid themselves in their annual Balloon Sale for the March of Dimes. A grand total of $123.55 was presented to Mrs. Hugh Sutton toward the Manchester goal. A number of young ladies were responsible for this and as Mothers' March Village Chairman, Mrs. Ronald Gonyer said, "It's wonderful. The Simmons scheduled the sale and did a wonderful job. We thank each and every girl who helped in this project."

LICENSE PLATES SALES WILL BE HERE

Again this year the Chelsea Branch of the Secretary of State will travel to the neighboring communities of Manchester and Dexter, for the purpose of issuing license plates for those area residents. The schedule this year will be as follows: January 25, 1969 Tibb Chev. Sales, 131 Adrian St., Manchester.

February 15, 1969 Tom Marshall Ford, 512 W. Main, Manchester. The hours will be from 1PM to 4:30 PM on each date. Wallace Wood, Chelsea Branch Manager, says that delays in issuing the 1969 plates can be avoided by following a few simple rules.

- 1-Sign the new registration on the reverse side, especially in the center of the right hand section.
- 2-If the vehicle is insured, be sure that you have the CURRENT certificate of insurance, showing an expiration date sometime in the future.
- 3-If you do have a new registration that was mailed to you from Lansing, be sure it is complete, including the expiration date of your insurance coverages.
- 4-The drivers license number of the first named owner of the vehicle should be written at the bottom of the left hand section, as indicated.
- 5-Bring your 1968 registration for verification.

BOY SCOUTS PLAN DERBY

Over 1,000 members of the Portage Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America are expected to participate in a Klondike Derby to be held starting at 8 a. m. at Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park north-west of Dexter on Saturday, January 25.

One of the main projects of the boy scouts is making a sled and participating in a sled race over a 2 mile course with eight activity stations along the route. Activities will also include a snowmobile safety demonstration and water rescue procedures.

Members of the Portage Trails Council reside in communities through Livingston and Washtenaw Counties. For additional information persons

AUXILIARY POLICE BIG HELP TO COMMUNITY; NEED MORE MEN

by Carolyn Ahrens

The Manchester Auxiliary Police have been active in Manchester a relatively short time. Their primary function is to assist in night patrols, parades, school dances, ball games and a number of routine functions and as such man knows, are subject to emergency calls. As pointed out by Wendell Reinhart, Village Councilman and Chairman of the Health and Safety Council, "This is a non-paying volunteer basis job."

"We want to publicly thank these men, the citizens and the council for their fine support. The Auxiliary Police are contributing a great deal in this often thankless job," Mr. Reinhart said. The Auxiliary now consists of Jim Lyon, Dwight Eisenhauer, Lawren Bertke, Karl Gebhardt, Bill Dettling, Ed Hooten, Paul MacIure and John Ashley. So far these men have contributed over 1,000 hours of donated time per year toward the safety and welfare of Manchester.

A program established in several area towns, the Auxiliary is proving to be of great assistance to law officials in smaller towns where often, as is the case in Manchester, the Chief of Police does not have a full-time officer.

Working together, Mr. Reinhart and Chief of Police Larry Becktel are urging area men to support this program by seriously considering the possibility of donating some time toward their town. "We hope to have enough men on the force to schedule each man two nightly patrols per month and with these extra men, add to the number of nights we could assist Chief Becktel," Mr. Reinhart said.

A question and answer meeting for anyone interested in joining the Auxiliary was held last Tuesday at the high school. A second meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday, Jan. 28 in room 104, 7:30 pm at the high school, and individuals who were unable to attend the first meeting but are interested are urged to attend. Mr. Reinhart and Chief Becktel are also available if anyone wishes to contact them.

The future training program for the Auxiliary Police will include gun handling, how to stop and approach cars, car searching, individual frisking, tests on laws and full training of police work. These men will be trained by Chief Becktel and the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

In times of emergency the Manchester Police may be reached by calling 428-8505; the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department at 662-2504 and asking for car 38 will bring the Manchester Police to your home within moments; or the State Police in Clinton are within a few miles of Manchester by dialing Operator and asking for Enterprise 7248, a non-charge number.

These men, whether full-time or donated time, are working for you. Your consideration, as in many jobs, bring better results for everyone.

NO SHORT CUTS TO TRACTOR SAFETY

Constructing a tractor roll-bar or crush-resistant cab is no job for a home workshop, warns Dr. Richard Pfister, Michigan State University agricultural engineer.

"Crush resistant cabs and protective frames are needed, but we do not recommend home-made protective frames, nor do we distribute plans," he comments. "A farmer might construct the most durable frame possible, and it would still be subject to failure because of improper positioning of the frame and the fastening hardware."

Any adaptations that might weaken the fastening hardware should be avoided, he says.

A farmer can purchase a frame or cab designed to fit the particular tractor make and model he drives, notes Pfister. Manufacturers maintain a list of tractors that their frames or cabs fit.

MORE TAXES

Michigan taxpayers will be required to pay approximately $9,374,400,000 in Federal taxes as their share of the cost of the Federal spending budget of $195.3 billion proposed by President Johnson for the Federal fiscal year beginning January 1, 1969, it was announced today by Harry R. Hall, President of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce. "This estimate," said Hall, "is based on the State Chamber's calculations that Michigan taxpayers bear 4.80% of all Federal taxes. This figure in turn is determined by a formula developed by the Tax Foundation, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and the Council of State Chamber of Commerce that includes all Federal taxes paid."

This $9,374,400,000 share that will be assumed by Michigan taxpayers, if Congress approves the proposed budget, is over five times the amount of State Taxes collected last year to finance State operations. According to the Michigan Department of Administration, Michigan taxes collected amounted to $1,841,948,191, excluding license fees for autos, hunting, fishing, etc.

This $195.3 billion spending estimate represents $11.6 billion over the current estimate of $183.7 billion for fiscal 1969. Despite substantial increases in Vietnam costs and certain uncontrollable outlays, the revised 1969 estimate is less than the original 1969 budget estimate of $186.1 billion because of spending restraints imposed by Congress last year.

Hall said, "the money paid by Michigan citizens in Federal taxes and the 4.80% share of the national Federal budget is a good illustration of why State and local governments have great difficulty in meeting expanding costs of services."

We require individualism which does not wall man off from community, we require community which sustains but does not suffocate the individual.

TO SPEAK

Edgar A. Guest, Jr., the popular WJR radio personality, and son of the famous poet, has been appointed General Chairman for a testimonial luncheon to be given to honor outgoing Governor George Romney and incoming Governor William G. Milliken.

The luncheon, a non-partisan affair, is the outgrowth of many citizen requests to honor Governor Romney for his many outstanding contributions to Michigan during the six years he served as its Governor, and to pay tribute to the outstanding young man who will now fill this important position, William G. Milliken, who has served as Lt. Governor for the past four years.

The luncheon will be held in the Lansing Civic Center on Saturday, February 1, 1969, at 12:00 noon. People from all over the state are being sent invitations and are expected to attend. Those who don't receive an invitation are not excluded, however. If anyone desires to come and honor these outstanding leaders, they can participate by writing to Barbara Myers, 1022 Michigan National Tower, Lansing, Michigan or call 485-5437. Tickets are $10.00 per person. Tickets will also be available at the door.

DON'T MIX BOOZE AND SNOWMOBILES

Snowmobile operators have been warned that it's just as much an infraction of law to operate a snowmobile while under the influence of alcohol as it is to operate a car. A spokesman for the Michigan Department of State says, "Nix on the booze." The same holds for operating a snowmobile after taking barbiturates or any derivative of barbital.

The pleasantest things in the world are pleasant thoughts, and the greatest art in life is to have as many of them as possible.

GOD'S EXPECTATION FROM HIS VINEYARD

God has invested more than we can tell in the people who call themselves "Christian." We are the Vineyard of the Lord. He expects good grapes or good fruit from His people. Vines that do not bear fruit are cut off and burned.
Jesus said in John 15:5, "I am the Vine, ye are the branches," also, "Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away, and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit."

Because of God's investment in the true Church, He has a right to expect a good yield at harvest time. As a husband man finds a poor harvest, he gets a little taste of the disappointment which God, the Great Husbandman must experience when He finds little or no fruit from His people.

NEW LAW AIMS AT 'TICKET JUGGLER'

Things are getting tougher on Michigan's traffic ticket "juggler." A new law which tightened up some of the existing loopholes for failure to answer traffic violation summons went into effect the start of this year. The new law is P. A. 332, the so-called "Naher Bill" named for former traffic judge Richard M. Naher of Detroit who proposed the legislation. Although it is not the legislation he favored for passage, Secretary of State James M. Hare describes the new law as "moving in the right direction." The new law encompasses other controls over drivers and realigns points for certain types of infractions. Under P. A. 332, the court of jurisdiction must send to the Michigan Department of State a notice of failure to appear in court within 40 days have elapsed from the court hearing date. At that time, said Hare, the Department suspends driving privileges for an indefinite period until all matters pertaining to the failure to answer summons citations have been resolved. The offending driver must also pay a penalty fee of $2.00 for the reissuance of his license, said Hare. In addition, the driver who does not show in court also gets assessed one point on his traffic violation record. "It was our Department's appraisal that the 'Illinois' type plan would have provided more effective control of the ticket evader and manipulator. "As I see it, the one big problem with the new law is getting the driver's license away from him after he is suspended." Under the "Illinois" plan, a driver's license would be confiscated on the scene when apprehended on a moving traffic violation. He either appeared on the appointed date in court or made other arrangements. He would have a valid driver permit issued to him by the arresting officer good only until the court date for his appearance. It lieu of giving up his license, the driver had the option of posting a bond to be surrendered if he failed to appear. It's Hare's impression that the new law may cause the "book work in keeping track of all the summons for the period of 40 days instead of forwarding them to the Michigan Department of State in Lansing for filing." There is also the added correspondence under the new law which provides that after a mandatory wait of 30 days the offending driver must be notified within 10 days of his impending suspension. "Many courts may find it administratively infeasible to handle the volume of summons and perhaps changes in the new law will have to be worked out," Hare said. The new law also gives stronger powers of suspension and revocation after re-examination if they are involved in an accident causing the death of one or more persons, or in cases where they have been involved in three accidents within a 24-month period each resulting in either personal injury or property damage of $200 or more. It also allows the Department of State to take action against a driver with 12 or more points within two years through special examination and subsequent suspension or revocation. Persons convicted of careless driving will also find the offense more heavily weighted on points than ever before. Hare notes that the offense will be a four-point one as opposed to two-points in the past. ROBERT J. BRAUN 14521 Schleweis Rd. Manchester Robert J. Braun age 41 years a life long Manchester area resident died suddenly at his home Monday afternoon. He was born April 22, 1927 in Bridgewater Twp. the son of William and Edna Schill Braun. A YOUNG CHILD LOOKS AT OTHER CHILDREN

Unfriendly words often represent a child's attempt to become friendly, says Margaret Jacobson, family life specialist at Michigan State University. Children are not born with social know-how, Dr. Jacobson points out. They learn on their own level by using whatever skills they may possess. A recent MSU study sought to classify the different approaches children use in making friends. They included: affectionate-patting, holding hands, friendly-smiling, helping, offering something; neutral -- looking at or watching; unfriendly -- teasing, interfering with play, and hostile -- hitting, biting, kicking. The study showed that children used friendly approaches about half of the time, "Dr. Jacobson says. "Next in order they used unfriendly and neutral approaches. They used affectionate and hostile approaches only a small percent of the time." In this learning process, children need to be with other children to practice and to improve their social skills. Dr. Jacobson explains. Brothers and sisters growing up together provide this need, although there may be much quarrelling in the meantime. "Brothers and sisters often quarrel because of the natural competition and rivalry present," the specialist adds. "They are in a very real sense competing for the time, attention and affection of their parents. A child receiving his share of affection is less likely to struggle against others and be resentful when affection is given to a brother or sister." A child may beg for the company of other children and then act silly, unsocial or even rude when he receives it. If parents do some "behind the scenes" planning, the experience may be more profitable to the youngster. When children occasionally "gang up" on one child in the neighborhood, indirect methods rather than direct interference are best, Dr. Jacobson contends. It may help to invite the "outcast" and one or more other children to your home where play can be supervised. "Parents should be careful to avoid personal adult feuds that may filter into the play of little children. It is so easy to plant a seed of prejudice in the minds of children simply by what adults do or say about their neighbors," Dr. Jacobson cautions.

PROFESSIONAL IMPROVEMENT

Businessmen in almost all professions spend increasing amounts of their time in what might be called "continuing education." This is the time, effort and considerable case poured into keeping up with the constant changes and advances in their professions. Doctors make every attempt to read an outpouring of research reports which describe new medicines and surgical procedures. They attend seminars and sometimes drop out of sight for months or years to further develop their specialties. In like fashion-- most attorneys plow through stacks of case histories and court proceedings in keeping abreast of new rulings and changing laws. What about farmers? How do they keep up with new technology and properly interpret political and sociological pressures? Obviously, farmers do keep abreast, and most modern farmers spend more time that is apparent in their own "continuing education." Sometimes this is done through farm and trade associations to which they belong. New farming information reaches them through machinery and chemical firms. Agricultural Extension Agents (so named because their work represents an "extension" of the state agricultural college and experiment stations) are another prime source. A good example of how farmers seek opportunities for self-education is seen in the popularity of an annual series of "legislative seminars" held in Lansing each year as a project of the Public Affairs Division of the Michigan Farm Bureau. In spite of busy farmwork schedules, each seminar is well attended by farm people driving from all parts of the state. They lunch with their Representatives and visit the Capitol to attend sessions of the House and Senate. Each rural participant expends a full day of time, the cost of driving and the expense of their own dinner. Loss of the day's farm work is by far the greatest "cost". In return the alert farmers get a complete briefing on pending the potential farm legislation, gain important knowledge of the legislative processes and deal with their education so necessary in any business for personal professional improvement.

APPLICATION FOR NEW FARM FEED BASES

A feed grain base may be established under the 1969 Feed Grain Program for farms which did not plant feed grains in 1959 and/or 1960 that meet eligibility requirements, Mr. Earl Dolezky, Chairman of the Washtenaw County ASC Committee announced today. Interested producers should contact the ASCS county office not later than February 28, 1969 and file an application, Mr. Dolezky said. To be eligible for a new feed grain base, Mr. Dolezky said the operator must expect to receive 50 percent or more of his livelihood in the current year from the production of agricultural commodities on the farm; must have had at least two years' experience in the production of feed grains in the last five years; must have adequate equipment for the production of feed grains; the land must be suitable for the production of feed grains; and neither the owner nor the operator may have an interest in any other farm for which a feed grain base has been established. A farm for which a new farm base is established may qualify for price support payments and price support loans. They are not eligible for any diversion payment.

People are lonely because they build walls instead of bridges.

It is a beautiful necessity of our nature to love something.

Here we have Mike Stockwell saying it can't be true I have just scored my thirty-first point of the night. Mike went down to the Jr. Varsity team just last week with Scott Sloat. From the look on Scott's face he just don't believe it. The Jr. Varsity beat Clinton 75 to 66.

Here are a couple of shots of the wrestling team, who lost to Clinton last Thursday 25 to 19. They boys will go at it again this Thursday at home against Addison. Exhibition matches start at 7:00 p.m.

Dimes March This Friday

by Carolyn Ahrens

The 1969 March of Dimes Mothers' March will begin at 7:00 p.m., Friday, January 31, village Chairman Mrs. Ronald Gonyer announced. This year thirty-four solicitors will canvas the Manchester village area and residents are asked to turn on their porch lights Friday evening for their benefit.

A voluntary health organization founded in January, 1938, The National Foundation-March of Dimes are in their 31st year in their battle against crippling disease. After an unprecedented victory over polio, this disease-fighting organization turned its attention to another crippling birth defects. Now, eleven years after the Foundation expanded their goal against this Great Destroyer, as birth defects are called, over 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers have been established across the nation. This, in addition to the countless number of schools with facilities for birth defects children are making remarkable progress toward the care and treatment of these children.

Birth defects, described as "a structural or metabolic disorder present at birth" does not include birth injuries. However, as pointed out by March of Dimes captain and solicitor Mrs. William Bunnay, a child born with a defect or an injury suffered at birth still benefits from the research, diagnosis, care and treatment made possible through the March of Dimes.

Although her daughter Karen is not considered a birth defects child but rather a cerebral palsy victim, she is enrolled at a school that gives special help to these children as are several others from the Manchester area. Mrs. Bunnay went on to say that the purpose of these special schools is to educate. First teach these children to learn and live with their handicap so they are able to go into a regular school and eventually lead as normal a life as possible.

In Karen's room for instance, the teacher began teaching the children a few words of Spanish more as a fun thing but which the children picked up enthusiastically and are now rapidly learning the basic words of a foreign language.

As so often misunderstood Mrs. Bunnay said, we tend to consider a physically handicapped child as also a mentally retarded child. This is far from the truth in many cases including her five-year-old daughter. Instead they should be treated as an individual no different than their brothers or sisters and encouraged to live a normal life. These children are fully aware of adult questions and their own question, "Why am I different?" Mrs. Bunnay continued.

"Most of the children in Karen's class are birth defects and I've gotten to know them and their parents. The progress through physical therapy is wonderful and although Karen is not a birth defects child she has greatly benefited through the care and treatment at this school. Not only do these schools help the child but the parents also," Mrs. Bunnay added, "And by seeing children such as them selves, helps them to know they are not alone."

Great achievements have been made although the end is not near enough in the battle against birth defects. Without the generosity of the American public, polio would not have been conquered. Your support is still needed against another crippling. Won't you join the fight against birth defects?"
