

The seventh and eighth grade honor squads were chosen this year from a group of forty girls. These girls have been cheering regularly at each game home and away. The two honor squads will cheer for all tournament games. They were chosen for their ability in cheering, congeniality, poise, and neatness. There is also an award given to the best cheering squad of all the tournament games for which these girls will be striving. The honor squads are as follows: Top row - left to right - Jane Buchheit, Sue Vozel, Vicki Evtisler, Lois Kemmer, Liz Hosmer, Becky Evtisler, Dawn Staele, Shemie McAteer. Bottom row - left to right - Marlene Engelbart, Ruth Cooper, Sharon Pardon, Nancy Stimmus, Debbie Kutscher-becker, and Debbie Hughes.

FIREMEN KEPT BUSY

Six fires in four days including three on Monday have kept Manchester firemen on the go. Last Saturday a fire on Manrie Road was extinguished. Sunday firemen were called to the Duane Beuerle home on Ann Arbor Hill. Monday the whistle blew about 2:00 p.m. and firemen rushed to Wellwood Road where an unattended fire had spread to about 10 acres. While at the scene a fire was reported at Pleasant Lake. This one was extinguished before firemen arrived. As the trucks were being put away, a fire was reported near the cemetery on the edge of the village. Firemen quickly brought it under control. On Tuesday, at about 3:15 p.m. firemen were called to the farm of Mrs. Rollis Hockstetter where a grass fire was put out.

Through the Catholic Relief Services, St. Mary's Altar Society have adopted four year old Nguyen-Thi-Yen. Each month $10.00 is sent to this Vietnamese child to help feed and clothe her. Her parents and two sisters were killed in June by the VC. Since then she and relatives, also refugees, have been living in a temporary camp until they are able to return to Nam Hai.

FEATURES SPORTS EDITORIALS

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Thomas G. Sharpe

Legislation will be introduced at the current session of the Michigan Legislature, requiring university officials to withdraw state-supported scholarships from students who participate in violent demonstrations or otherwise interfere with the right of other students to attend classes and receive an education.

I have long urged the enactment of such legislation, and I was extremely pleased, very recently, to see Governor William Milliken take a firm and responsible position toward the disruptive minority on the university campus.

It is wrong for us to permit our students to live under two standards of conduct—one for the campus and one for the outside world in which they must spend the rest of their lives. I was also pleased to see Michigan State University President John Hannah, in his farewell address, echo many of the very statements made by Governor Milliken. This was one of the few times that a high-ranking official of the university has taken a corrective stand on the issue of disruption.

In another facet of the same problem, I was shocked and deeply concerned after reading the February 12 issue of Michigan State University's newspaper. In this issue of The State News there were verbal atrocities too obnoxious to be repeated. These offensive quotes leave me with just one impression: they were an exhibitionist's attempt at sensationalism.

It's time for those who are paying for higher education to take a stand. No one cares to have their children stopped from going to classes by the radical few. No one wants to live with the fear that their children will be exposed to narcotics and orgies and no responsible parents desire to have their son or daughter subjected to this abusive language.

I sincerely hope that our new Governor will continue his efforts to establish true academic freedom on our campuses.

4-H HORSE JUDGING CONTEST HELD

The annual Washtenaw County 4-H Horse Judging Contest was held on Saturday, February 22. Thirty-four horse members from Washtenaw, Monroe, and Lenawee Counties competed in the contest.

The 4-H'ers left the Rural Activities Center on Saline-Ann Arbor Road at 9:00 a. m. and traveled by car to Hy Crest Farm in Brighton, Michigan where they judged a class of Morgan Arabians. The next stop was Lancer Arabians, also located in Brighton, where a class of Arabian Mares was placed and score cards marked. The third stop was the Everett Riding School back in Ann Arbor. Here a class of Thoroughbred Geldings was carefully studied and judged. Back to the Rural Activities Center for a lunch break and study time. Oral reasons were given and also a written test was taken.

Scoring was done very quickly and the results were as follows: Washtenaw County's Junior Horse Judges were - 1st place Denise Way of Manchester, 2nd place Jennifer Carlton of Manchester, 3rd place, Eileen Hinermann of Ann Arbor, 4th place Lori Smith of Saline and 5th place Amy Creason of Manchester. Denise Way, Jennifer Carlton, and Amy Creason are all members of the Sharon Valley Saddle Club. Other members of the club who participated are Ruth Curtis of Manchester, Anna Tobias of Grass Lake, and Gwyn Teachout of Saline.

The Washtenaw County Senior Horse Judging team is comprised of Richard Nixon of Willis, 1st place; Mike Lewis of Ypsilanti, 2nd place; Maureen McGinn of Ann Arbor 3rd place; Carol Rowe of Willis, 4th place; and Bonnie Besch of Saline 5th place. These members will be representing Washtenaw County at the State 4-H Home Judging Contest in East Lansing on March 29, 1969.

The county contest was co-ordinated by Mrs. Carolyn Little County Extension Youth Agent, and Richard Measel of Hy Crest Farm in Brighton, Mr. Richard Wright of Willis and Mr. Clinton Wright of Manchester. Mr. Wright and Mrs. Flisk are 4-H Horse Leaders in their own area. Mr. Wright is the President of the Washtenaw County 4-H horse board and Mrs. Flisk is the Secretary of the

MINUTE PLATE RUSH

Raincoats and umbrellas are advised for persons waiting until the deadline to buy 1969 auto license plates, point out Automobile Club of Michigan secretaries. They base their advice on the mid-west weather forecast from the "Old Farmer's Almanac" which indicates three inches of rain for February 27-28, the last days for legally driving passenger cars with 1968 license plates. Traditional long lines are expected across the state Thursday and Friday, with the longest lines on Friday. Auto Club secretaries wearing rain dresses also point out that those who wait till the last minute for their plates should be sure they have the following necessary items when they finally reach the window: 57% more money than last year; a certificate showing proof of insurance plus $1 for the uninsured motorist fund; $35 for the fund if no certificate or other acceptable proof of insurance is shown, and either a prepared license application from the Secretary's office or current car registration or title.

Gay Ninties At Black Sheep Tavern

by Carolyn Ahrens

The Black Sheep Tavern, recently remodeled in a turn of the century decor, will revert back to the days when proprietors used symbols instead of printed names to identify their businesses. As pointed out by Don Limpert, new owner of the history laden tavern, years ago many people couldn't read hence the shop owners used pictures to identify their shops. Mr. Limpert intends to use a black sheep as his trademark.

Originally opened as a saloon in 1873, it has survived several owners and a history just short of Manchester itself including a supposedly non-existing saloon during the prohibition days. Before then however, "dry" counties lack son and Lenawee had many thirsty residents traveling by train to Manchester to pack home battered and often dripping suitcases with purchases from the local saloons.

The large double building that houses the Black Sheep Tavern and Village Beautiland was built by Grandpa Kirshgessner and Conrad Lehr (pronounced Lane), great-grandfather of Glen C. Lehr. Mr. Lehr opened the saloon, as it was simply called, almost 100 years ago followed by owners William Duke Lehr, Mr. Lehr's paternal grandfather; in the early 1900's Ada Sloan and Leota Schwab's father and uncle William and Frank Sloat; Bill Hann and Biddie Hahn of Tecumseh; Fritz Schill, late husband of Bertha Schill; then Henry Ahling, Mrs. Richard Britten's father; Morris Malodie, Russ Widmayer, Harry Havalin, Albert Haller, Lawrence "Lum" Ross and original partners Allen Alber then Eugene Culp; and now Don Limpert.

One of the few existing stand-up bars in Michigan, the original brass rail has rested many-a drinker's feet and the chestnut framed mirror, dating back to the 1890's or very likely the opening of the saloon itself, has eyed many early Manchesterites as they stood along the original 21 foot walnut counter-top recently retrieved from the tavern cellar. The base of the front of the bar was found in the L & M Party Store basement. Handmade in either 1887 or 1897, Mr. Limpert also noted the carpenter's pencilled initials although these were not as legible.

With the exposed faded brick and beaming wainscoting; parchment light fixtures; two tables from another old-time Manchester saloon owned by Carl Wuerthner's father in the early 1880's; a brass wooden barrel tap with a patent date of 1873; and a homecollar mirror made by James Prax all add to the general atmosphere of an exciting scene from Manchester history. Mr. Limpert went on to say that he hopes residents will bring in pictures or items to help build a complete history around this quaint old German-style tavern. With pitcher beer, clay mugs, homemade pretzels from Way's Bakery on Wednesday and Saturday, he hopes to preserve a touch of Manchester history for residents and visitors alike.

"It sure looks different," Lunk Ross said about the remodeled Sportsman's Tavern. "I'll miss the people mostly cause I got along good there," he added, "but now I'm going to enjoy myself when the weathers right."

Whereas Mr. Ross depended on several people including Mrs. "Pete" Kirk, Mr. Limpert called Norman Myers his right-hand man with Mr. Myers's wife Rosa to provide coffee and sandwiches and Juanita Jose, waitress. The Black Sheep Tavern will be open daily from 10 a. m. to midnight and Sundays from 1 p. m. to 12 midnight.

RESIDENTS FINED FOR GRASS FIRES

Jim Kensler, Fire Chief announced that bills are being sent to three property owners in Manchester Township. These bills of $50.00 each are a result of those property owners having a fire get out of control on their land.

Last year Manchester Township passed a new ordinance whereby residents burning without a permit are subject to a $50.00 fine if firemen are called to the scene.

Chief Kensler warned residents to be sure and get a permit before burning to avoid the $50.00 fine.

EDITORIAL

Please excuse the different styles of type the past few weeks. We had other problems besides the election.

I've been working on new plans for the Enterprise since Christmas. Sometime in March, a brand new look for the Enterprise will appear.

I wish to thank all those people for their support in the primary and all those who called with "condolences" after reading the "Sunday paper".

Concerning that document, I have only one comment: Are those men who published that character assassination really so concerned about Manchester's future that they ran a planned campaign to protect it from "egotistical, do-nothing men" or were they afraid of the last minute after reading my ad, that if elected I would do exactly as I said?

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

There has been quite a bit of criticism written about Harry Macomber in recent weeks. I for one think Harry is doing a pretty good job.

Since he has taken over the Manchester Enterprise, it has become a very good small town paper, and always on time.

For the past few years Harry has been a very good and reliable member of the Manchester Fire Department.

He may not be a life long member of Manchester, but I feel he wants what is best for the community.

So Harry, stay on the Village Council, we need more thinking men and less yes men.

TRIP THROUGH TIME

The Michigan Farm Bureau will celebrate its Golden Anniversary this fall, and the occasion has sparked renewed interest in the changes which have occurred in farming in the past 50 to 100 years.

Old fashioned churns, hair-curling irons, kerosene lamps, and lanterns serve as reminders of how it was in "the good old days."

But few people would care to live now, as it was then—when nearly every housewife baked her own bread, churned butter and scrubbed clothes on a washboard perched in a tub.

Water was hand-carried and heated on a wood stove.

—And, most everybody lived on a farm.

Recently, the chairman of Michigan's important 5 member commission of Agriculture, Walter Lange—who farms near Sebewing in Huron County, acted as master of ceremonies at a community gathering where the group took a "trip back through time" by means of an exhibit of antiques, among them early farming tools.

A threshing flail and an ox-yoke served to illustrate an important point. This flail probably cost the farmer of that time about one or two dollars, if he didn't make the flail himself," Walter explained.

"Now it has been replaced by a complex machine costing today's farmer between $15,000 and $20,000," he said.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Marvin L. Eash

Last year over 165,000 persons complained to the Post Office Department about the smut and pornography which was mailed in to their homes.

Each month I receive numerous indignant and well justified complaints from parents whose young children received filthy mailings. My discussions with postmasters in the Second District indicate that the problem is widespread and that obscene mail is frequently received in homes with small children.

There is no question about it, it is high time that action is taken to put a halt to the use of the mails to distribute such obscenity and pornography. We can no longer tolerate the use of the Post Office to do the work of the smut merchant, and I have introduced legislation which I feel will go a long way in correcting this problem.

My bill will prohibit mail-order sales of obscene materials to children of school age, and it will make the unsolicited mailing of "hard-core" pornography to a family with children under 16 a Federal crime punishable by fine and jail sentence.

The bill does not seek to limit the freedom of speech or expression in the adult world. The legislation is specifically directed at the protection of children. It sets forth specifically the types of materials which cannot be mailed and therefore avoids difficult legal questions about the definition of "obscenity".

It places responsibility for unsolicited offensive mailings to children and families on the obscenity racketeers whose materials have no redeeming social value. In 1968 a decision was reached by the Supreme Court making it clear that offensive materials are not constitutionally protected where the interests of minors are involved.

"Constitutional interpretation has consistently recognized that parents' claim to authority in their own household to direct the rearing of children is basic in the structure of our society."

It is my conviction that this legislation is clearly Constitutional within the reasoning of the courts. It in no way impinges on the rights of legitimate publishers or members of the literary community and is designed to cover only those whose materials are clearly purulent in intent.

I have urged the House Post Office Committee to take prompt action on this legislation. There is no excuse for further delay in fighting back against the despicable elements in our society who make their money from the sale of obscenity.

Until this legislation can be approved, however, I urge residents of the Second District to make use of the legal remedies which are presently available. Under Public Law 90-206, which I strongly supported last year, an individual can require a mailer of offensive material to remove his name from the list and cease such mailings in the future. If you receive an offensive mailing, you should take the mailing, including the envelope, to the local Post Office where the Postmaster will gladly furnish you with a legal complaint there.

Your name and those of your children under 18 must be removed from the list within 30 days or the mailer is liable for federal prosecution. My office will be glad to assist you in making this complaint.

Real Cost of Insurance NEW YORK—In real terms, the cost of basic automobile liability insurance actually has declined, the Insurance Information Institute reports. Based on the median national family income in each of the respective years, the cost was equal to 1.38 per cent of annual income in 1947 and to 1.03 per cent of annual income in 1967.

OBITUARY

Fred V. Fielder, age 75 years, a life long resident of Manchester area, died Saturday, at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

He was born February 11, 1894, in Manchester, the son of William and Emma Hooten Fielder. He had been married to Edith Sutton, Cecelia Eder, and Gertrude Strong. They all preceded him in death.

He was a member of the farm bureau and had been a sheep shearer for many years.

He is survived by 3 sons, Clarence and Norman of Manchester, and Donald of Santa Barbara, California. One daughter Mrs. Keith (Audrey) De Ermia of Milan. One stepson, Michael Rossetti of Manchester, 14 grandchildren, 5 stepgrandchildren. He is also survived by one brother, William of Tecumseh, and two sisters, Mrs. Lottie Cregar of Tecumseh and Mrs. Teresa Northley of Norvell. He was also preceded in death by an infant daughter.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Jenter Funeral Home. Rev. Father Raymond R. Schlunk officiated. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

COAC MEETING The Council on Adoptable Children (COAC) will hold its February open meeting at 8:00 p.m. Friday, February 28, at the Church of the Good Shepherd, 2145 Independence Blvd., Ann Arbor.

Two new, outstanding films or adoption, "Bride to Adoption" and "Run Jimmie Run" will be shown at the meeting. The first is a general recruitment film which explores several families experiences with different types of adoption. The second is concerned with inter-racial adoption. It shares the experiences of two Caucasian families who adopted Negro-Caucasian children. The films are one-half hour each—and well worth seeing. Discussion will follow. Everyone is welcome.

Forward Step For Plastics Processing

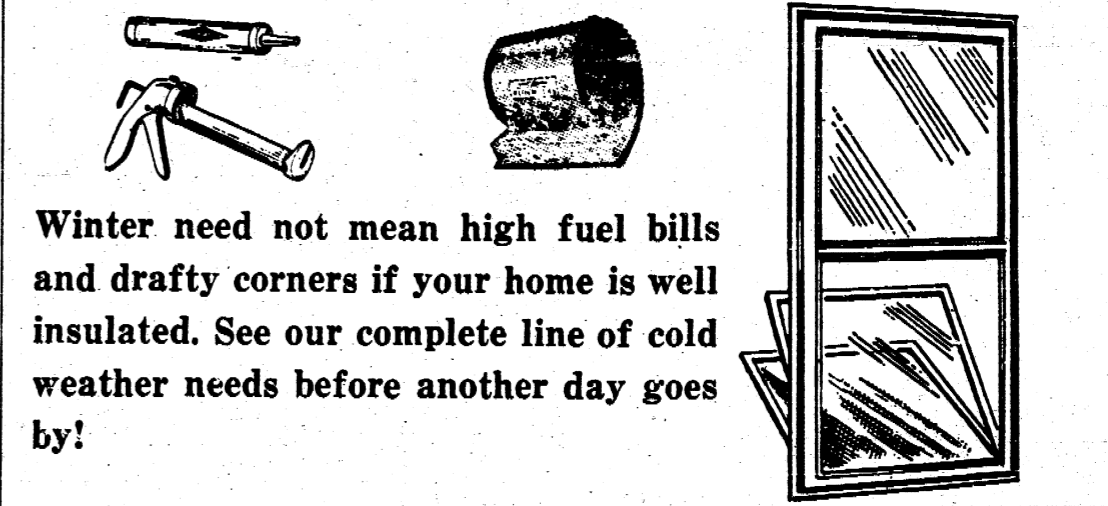

MAJOR TECHNOLOGICAL PLASTICS PROCESSING ADVANCE from Borg-Warner Machines, Borg-Warner Corp., Fremont, Ohio, is rotary shear cone plasticator, indicated by model, which replaces conventional screw in injection molding machinery. Advantages seen are precise processing control of all plastics and rubber compounds to produce more uniform parts with significant raw material and operating cost savings. Plasticator enables processor to make quick changeover in materials or color, also to clean machine in less than 30 minutes compared to hours on conventional molding machinery.

THE INDISPENSABLE SYMBOL

This Lenten season brings one to realize there are eternal truths and facts which must be reconciled, nevertheless realistic as God gave them for our study and edification.

Man continues to wonder why God chose a cross as the way for a perfect son, sinless in every way on which to die.

However, since God in Christ has said, "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me" the fact is that mankind feels this symbol to be indispensable.

might think that its symbol might have been an empty tomb, or a great cathedral, or a figure of the compassionate one. Yet there never seems to have been a question of the symbol, namely the cross, there is Faith, a living faith, Christ, God's only begotten son.

The cross was an open secret to the first disciples, and they climbed the steepest road to heaven by the "Royal way of the Cross", without prayerful consideration, the cross can be glamorized with such simplicity.

cross of Christ has been taken out of his hands and smothered with surface thinking only to leave the depths unknown and a life whirled into despair.

When Jesus presented the cross for the salvation of his disciples, there were not thoughts of sentiment which can disturb no man's life nor redeem any man's soul.

LIBRARY NEWS

You are cordially invited to visit our library. Today we shall tour --

The Manchester Township Library is situated on the Park Grounds overlooking what would have been called in old New England the "Commons".

To the left as one enters, we find the non-fiction room, encompassing the Philosophy, Art, Literature, History, and one section devoted to mysteries.

The large room extending the width of the building has one section for Young Adult readers and another for very young and junior high students.

Several dozen magazines are available at the library, with the current issues on the rack near the front door and on the second floor an entire magazine room with issue dating back several years filed for research for high school students and college students.

The historical room contains a collection of Manchester memorabilia and is a treasure of information for those interested in the history of our town.

Available to music lovers is a selection of records totalling several hundred.

As a member of the library system, if the book you wish is not on our shelves, we will borrow it from another library for you, giving the reader wide access to material.

On Thursday, March 27, Kinder Huche will meet at the home of Mrs. Ted Guenther, 7551 Schneider Road, Manchester.

Monday, March 3, The Domestic Engineers meet at the home of Mrs. S. L. Knepper, 3895 Double Road Ann Arbor.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The Shakespeare club held their annual husband's night, Tuesday, February 18, at the Methodist fellowship hall. A delicious dinner was served from very attractive tables decorated in a patriotic theme, with red and white floral centerpieces and flag decorated napkins and nut cups.

For the entertainment after the dinner, the Varsity choir under the direction of Mr. Marston sang several selections, which were very much enjoyed. Our thanks to them. Mrs. Roscoe Lannom and Mrs. Ralph Kuehner each gave some comedy readings, which were most entertaining.

For the meeting Tuesday, March 4 at 2 p.m. in the Emanuel Church lounge, Mrs. Charles Carlton and Mrs. Philip Kem, will have the program, "Flowers and their Arrangement."

Manners are stronger than laws.

Farm Fires Soar

NEW YORK--Fires on the nation's farms cost an average of more than $300,000 a day. The Insurance Information Institute reports that farm fire losses in 1967 totaled a record $208 million.

YM-YWCA

The Big-Little Brother program of the Ann Arbor YWCA has been in operation since late in 1967 and since that time has steadily progressed. The idea of the program originated with the Ann Arbor Jaycees and other citizen groups in the community. Through the meetings of representatives of a number of service organizations and institutions in Ann Arbor, ideas were formalized into a program under the direction of the "Y" Youth Committee.

Since that time the Big-Little Brother Program has grown to twenty-eight matches. Big Brothers are men of any age, race, religion, occupation who have the patience and understanding to help a father-less boy in need.

Of the twenty-eight matches, about 80% of the existing pairings are sound, i.e. both the mother and Big Brother are very satisfied with the progress. The other 20% reflect, in many instances, the problems of the mother in a one-parent family. It is the view of the "Y" staff and Youth Committee that 80% is a high success percentage when dealing with sensitive family problems. Our goal has been to maintain the highest quality program possible. Greater time commitments and increased funding, of course, will aid in expanding the program.

Boys and girls compete in separate divisions. The overall winner in each division receives a $4,000 college scholarship, while second and third place contestants receive $2,000 and $1,000 scholarships, respectively. The six finalists also have the use of a new Montego for one year and will travel throughout the country as Youth Safety Spokesmen for Lincoln-Mercury Division.

Local driving competitions begin in March and are supervised by Jaycee members in the community. The competition consists of a comprehensive written examination on rules of the road and a series of behind-the-wheel tests over a difficult obstacle course.

The high-scoring boy and girl drivers will win plaques and the right to compete against other local contest winners at the state finals. Winners at the state level are flown to Ann Arbor, Michigan, to compete with boy and girl winners from every state and the District of Columbia for the national championship, August 2-6.

Last year's Teen Driving Championship attracted some 400,000 contestants and was won by Fanita Russell, a 17-year-old high school student from San Antonio, Texas, and David Hunter, 17 of Olympia, Washington. More than four million teenagers have competed in the program since it was begun in 1952.

Entry forms and further information about the competition are available at local Jaycee headquarters or at any Lincoln-Mercury dealership.

The lure of college scholarships, travel throughout the United States and the use of a 1970 Montego for one year are expected to attract a record number of entrants in the 18th Annual Teen Driving Championship this year.

FARMERS' WEEK MARCH 17-21

The several thousand Michigan dairymen who will attend Michigan State University's Farmers' Week, March 17-21, will find a variety of programs and opportunities never seen at Farmers' Week before.

Annual meetings of three of Michigan's largest dairy organizations will be tied in with educational meetings with MSU dairy scientists.

Educational exhibits at the Dairy Cattle Research and Teaching Center on South College Road, will open at noon Monday and continue all day Tuesday through Friday.

Michigan's Dairy Herd Improvement Association will hold its annual meeting during the morning on the opening day, Monday, March 17.

All day Tuesday, March 18, has been set aside for the annual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

The Michigan Animal Breeders Cooperative will hold its annual meeting on Thursday, March 20. These three groups will attract a total of 2,000 dairymen for their annual meeting alone.

Monday afternoon, the five dairy cattle breed associations will hold business and educational meetings. At noon that day, the Dairy Breeds and Awards Luncheon will be held in Kellogg Center, at which time the "Dairymen of the Year," will be named by the MSU dairy department.

Variety will be offered during Wednesday's dairy educational program. Dairy, agricultural economics, and agricultural engineering experts will team up to offer a "Systems Approach to Dairy Farm Analysis."

John Speicher, extension dairyman; James Boyd, extension engineer; Ray Hoglund, research agricultural economist; and L.H. (Hi) Brown, extension agricultural economist, will discuss and answer questions on housing, feeding, milking and waste disposal.

Another session for dairymen will offer short presentations on many dairy topics by researchers in dairy, agricultural economics and veterinary medicine. Dairy scientists are calling this their "Dairy Hot Line," since it will offer many of the latest findings in dairy cattle feeding, breeding, herd selection, farm labor and the use of records.

Wednesday noon, the Michigan Professional Dairy Farmers' Association will hold its annual meeting starting with a luncheon in the MSU Union Building. J.W. Crowley, dairy specialist from the University of Wisconsin and an authority on dairy cattle feeding and management, will tell these large herd operators how to produce "Milk for Profit."

In addition to the MABC annual meeting on Thursday.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG DAIRY COUPLE

The outstanding dairy couple of Michigan for 1969 are from the western upper peninsula--nearly Wisconsin.

Gordon and Fay Philbeck, of Menominee, were chosen from among 12 couples representing geographic areas of the entire state. A panel of three judges chose the Philbecks, who farm more than 700 acres, milk 76 registered Holstein cows and have six children, as tops among the under-35 members of the statewide Michigan Milk Producers Association (MMPA).

The Philbeck farm, operated in partnership with Gordon's brother is about 225 miles from the magnificent Mackinac Bridge, which links Michigan's two peninsulas. Most of Michigan's population--and most of MMPA's $140 million annual milk sales--is in the lower peninsula.

As the state's largest milk marketing and price bargaining cooperative, however, Michigan Milk Producers Association represents dairy farmers in all areas of the state. MMPA has sponsored the Outstanding Young Dairy Couple contest for the past 20 years. Besides representing Michigan dairy farmers at numerous in-state functions, the winning couple will travel to Washington D. C., this fall for the annual convention of the National Milk Producers Federation.

Runner-up Outstanding Young Dairy Couple for 1969 are Mr. and Mrs. John Tunison, of Lapeer. They will attend the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation in Louisville, Ky., in August.

Gordon Philbeck has been a top leader of MMPA activities, helped organize and has served as president of the Upper Peninsula Holstein-Friesian Association, was a founder of the Upper Peninsula Black and White (Holstein cattle) Show in Norway, serves on the Upper Peninsula advisory council of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, is a 4-H leader and ushers in his church.

Now 34, he attended Michigan State University and later studied basics of veterinary medicine to enable him to tend his cows. Fay Philbeck, besides being mother to sons Terry 14, Neal 10, and Alan 3, and daughters Linda 13, Lisa 6, and Lori 6 months, is an active church member and on recreation programs for mentally handicapped patients in a nearby hospital.

She is active in Farm Bureau and is a hair stylist. During the judging process for the MMPA Outstanding Young Dairy Couple program she was also more active than usual in helping milk cows because her husband was recuperating from a broken leg.

He suffered the injury when struck by a cow. The Philbecks will be formally recognized as 1969 Outstanding

FARMERS-IN TUNE WITH NATURE

"Just a few years ago, everyone understood farming and farm problems. Now, with only about six percent of the people on the land, farmers have done such a good production job that it seems few people care . . ."

Speaking was Elton Smith, dairy farmer from near the village of Caledonia (Kent County) on the western side of the state. That morning, Smith had spent hours in the milking parlor on his modern Guernsey dairy farm. Now, he was speaking as President of the Michigan Farm Bureau--before a local Kiwanis club in cooperation with area farmers. Many such farm-city sessions are held throughout Michigan in winter when farm work is usually lighter and farmers feel more free to visit their city friends.

"Maybe it's part of the 'new morality'--that farmers seem to be more often condemned than praised these days," Smith said. "But we are surprised and hurt when people suggest that farm chemicals are poisoning the soil, water, and air. We eat the same food, drink the same water. We see how American life-spans are lengthening. We know that our 70-and-more years have been gained by good nutrition and the banishment of disease. . . ." the farm leader said.

"We use sprays to kill the worms that would crawl through your food. We use modern rodent killers to keep the mice and rats from living on--and in, your food. We spray our livestock to keep them from being eaten alive by sucking and chewing insects. For this we are condemned by emotional people who do not think," Smith said.

He asserted that farm pesticides are not contaminating soil and water. "We have seen research studies which show how the amateur gardener and week-end lawn enthusiasts are a far greater source of chemical misuse. Those are the chemicals which move over onto the hard street surfaces and are swept down the sewers and out into streams. Farm chemicals are costly and precious. We use them professionally and according to need. We are in tune with our environment and must be allowed freedom to move in time with our needs," Smith said.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Q. I will earn over $1680.00, and I am receiving social security benefits this year. Do I have to report this to social security?

A. Yes. Anyone who earns over $1680.00 in a calendar year and received social security benefits, must report their earnings to the social security administration.

Q. How do I report my earnings to social security?

A. In one of two ways. You may request an annual report form (SSA-777) from your payment center, complete the form and return it; or you may go into your nearest social security office and they will assist you in completing the form.

Q. I was 18 in June of this year. My Social Security benefits were stopped then. I plan to attend the university starting in January of next year. Will I be eligible for Social Security next year?

A. You will be eligible for Social Security benefits providing you are a full-time student and have not married.

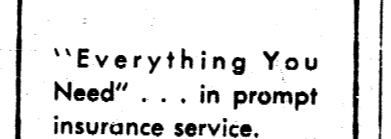

Q. I am planning my insurance and need to know if my children would be eligible for social security if my wife died. She worked before we were married and has only worked a little since then.

A. If your wife worked long enough to be insured, your children will be eligible for monthly benefits if your wife dies, reaches retirement age or becomes disabled before the children are 18. They would also be eligible if they were disabled before 18 or if they are under 22 and attending school full time.

SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

Robert A. Kehoe, Social Security District Manager in Ann Arbor announced today that late filing for social security benefits based on last years changes in the law could result in loss of benefits because of the twelve-month limit on retroactive payments.

Kehoe said that starting with February 1968 changes and improvements in the insured status or work requirement rule made it possible for almost 350,000 people in the following three groups to qualify for benefits: Severely disabled widows and widowers between the age of 50 and retirement age; young workers under age 31 and disabled; and children of deceased women workers. However, Kehoe continued, February 28, 1968, is the latest date for filing claims that could be fully retroactive.

There are still some people who are not aware of these changes in the law, Kehoe concluded, and anyone who might qualify should get in touch with their social security office before February deadline.

LOOKING AROUND

Their wedding was scheduled for 11 o'clock at St. Mary's Church in Warren, R.I. but the bridegroom, David Allen McPeake, waited on the church steps for the Columbus Day parade to pass before the bride, Barbara Huriaux, could get through the parade route. While the band paraded by playing "Get Me to the Church on Time."

British highways are becoming so congested on holidays that it is sometimes quicker to go from cities to the beach resorts by boat than by car, provided of course that there is a waterway. Recently a Jaguar raced a cabin cruiser the 120 miles from Plymouth to Torquay, Caught in traffic most of the way the car arrived only 13 minutes before the boat.

DUTCHMEN WIN IN OVERTIME 66-64

The Flying Dutchmen showed their power again in a come-from-behind victory against Adrian Madison. The Dutchmen were led by Rick Lowery who had 24 points. Four of those points Rick will remember for a long, long time. Jeff Stevens had 12 points for the Dutchmen.

The Dutchmen play their last scheduled game Friday night against Clinton here. Don't miss it, it could be one of the biggest nights of the year, for the Flying Dutchmen. The Junior Varsity also won their game 71-49.

INSURERS ASSURE SAFETY

NEW YORK - Safety engineers of the American Insurance Association check the fire defenses of more than 1,000 cities every year, the Insurance Information Institute says. To make cities safer, these insurance engineers observe fire departments in action, examine their equipment and city water supplies, and check for fire hazards in built-up areas.

Let's keep it up!

PRESENTS LECTURE

The Theosophical Society of Ann Arbor is presenting as their guest speaker, Dr. Richard W. Brooks, Assistant Professor of Philosophy at Oakland University, in Rochester, New York.

The lecture will be held on Sunday, March 2 at 3 p.m., at the Michigan League, in the Michigan Room on the second floor. The topic will be "Image of Man, East and West." It will be presented by Theosophical Federation.

You cannot weld cake-dough to cast iron, nor a girl to an old man.

Our Flag - Show It Proudly!

We Americans cherish our Stars and Stripes. It has given us heart and hope and strength ever since this nation was born.

American flag decal inserted in every one of its 18 million copies. The Digest will offer additional copies at cost to individuals and organizations.

When we fly the flag each day, we salute the blessings we enjoy in this great country. We express our support of the American credo: one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

Whether you have a full-sized flag or a small reproduction, display it proudly. If we all "show our colors" we shall also show that we know what a privilege it is to be an American.

JAYCEES HOLD SNOWMOBILE RACE

Despite the fact that there was no snow a week ago Sunday, the Manchester Jaycees went ahead and held their First Annual Snowmobile Race.

President Bob Rhee pointed out that the main reason for holding it was to get practice for next year. Jaycees worked Saturday spreading hay and straw completely around the track. Racers said it worked well and the speeds by racers prove this.

Twenty-eight snowmobiles entered and trophies were awarded to the winner. Both oval and drag racing events were held.

Everyone seemed glad the race was held and many of the racers promised to return next year. President Rhee said that the Jaycees learned a lot this year. They found they could hold the race snow or not and very good tips were offered by those competing in this year's race.

Doug Higgins in Underground Construction

by Carolyn Ahrens

Doug Higgins, Inc., dealing in underground construction is a relatively little known business in the sense that the work is done underground and usually prior to any ground-level construction, clearly seen by passers-by.

A type of work Mr. Higgins became involved in four years ago when he worked on an hourly basis digging footings with his one piece of equipment, a backhoe. A year later he established his own company with a 6 man crew—today a crew that varies between 20 and 25 men, several backhoes, bulldozers and endloaders plus other relating equipment.

Such equipment includes two laser beams, fairly new on the market, but which will speed up the pipe laying process as well as making it more accurate in the degree of slant necessary in drainage. It's a small beam of light similar to a transit which will set up an accurate target for the men.

It is hard work Mr. Higgins said and usually a lot of "not knowing what is underground" type of work. You think it may be sand and bid accordingly only to find more clay than sand or water to contend with. A business that involves sealed bids, it's often a risky business because of the ground conditions, he continued.

A year ago his company was contracted to do the underground work for the Earhart Subdivision in Ann Arbor. This led to acceptance of his sealed bid for work in Kalkaska, Saginaw and more work in the Ann Arbor area. With a better knowledge in bidding through experience, he is rapidly doing bigger jobs besides receiving a number of repeat calls from satisfied contractors.

The time involved for each helping mother is one hour (Monday through Thursday), 4 days a week every 3rd week thus over a 6 week period one will have contributed 8 hours of time. As pointed out by one mother, in a program such as this there is always a need for more mothers—for anyone interested in helping children. There will be a need for more mothers and if you feel you have the time and would like to help you may receive further information by calling Mary Munson at 429-7108 or Genevieve Lemon at 428-5836, Kelly.

DUTCH WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Here we have Coach Cal Poppink and his Dutchmen just after they had won the Lenawee County Athletic Association championship. The very first thing they did was put Coach Poppink in the shower, and he enjoyed every bit of it from the look on his face and that of his championship team.

ARNOLD'S GAS STATION ROBBED

Last Sunday evening the Texaco station at 500 Ann Arbor Street Cecil Arnold owner, was broken into and robbed at approximately 8:00 p.m. Neighboring witnesses reported the theft when a light colored Volkswagen with a large daisy on the driver's side of the car caused a disturbance near their home. At first they believed it was someone taken ill and signaling for help and were about to go to their aid when two young white men were seen running from the station toward the car with a large cardboard box and tire. The Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department was notified as the second witness ran outside in an attempt to identify the car through the license number.

Within minutes the two men on duty in Manchester were at the scene and called Chief of Police Larry Becktel and an investigation roadblocks and fingerprinting was started. The thieves had obtained entry into the station by breaking a window in the back door. Mr. Arnold reported a loss of approximately $75.00 in cigarettes, lighters, a number of small items and the used tire.

Investigation is continuing and anyone seeing the car involved or any information are asked to call Chief Becktel or the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department.

ANNUAL ELECTION NEXT MONDAY

Voters will choose three councilmen from the four seeking office. There are three Republican candidates running, Joe Fitzgerald, Tom Walton, and Jim Scully. On the Democratic ticket is Don "Lefty" Ross. Voters may split their ticket in this election.

For mayor is John Althouse, unopposed as are Clerk, Conrad Gonyer, Treasurer, Ed Kirk, and Assessor Russell Wildmayer.

A turnout of about 100 voters is expected.

MOTHERS HELP SCHOOL CHILDREN

by Carolyn Ahrens

Three years ago several mothers and teachers in and around Pleasant Lake School area set up a special program to help a number of children who needed extra help in their school work. This soon involved reading, drill work in numbers, alphabet and vocabulary. A program designed with no more than 4 children in each section, the mothers were able to work closely with each child using the teachers guideline with an evaluation at the end of each 6 weeks period for several reasons including whether the program would be continued. This program has continued the past three years and with the help of interested mothers has more than proved its value.

The time involved for each helping mother is one hour (Monday through Thursday), 4 days a week every 3rd week thus over a 6 week period one will have contributed 8 hours of time. As pointed out by one mother, in a program such as this there is always a need for more mothers—for anyone interested in helping children. There will be a need for more mothers and if you feel you have the time and would like to help you may receive further information by calling Mary Munson at 429-7108 or Genevieve Lemon at 428-5836, Kelly.

FIREMEN AGAIN BUSY ON WEEKEND

Last Saturday, firemen were called to the Fred Grossman farm on Grossman Road where flames were spreading across a field. Before they could get it under control, approximately 25 acres had burned. Two fire trucks became mired in the field while trying to follow the flames. Wind kept the flames high enough to make it impossible to beat out the fire with brooms.

As firemen were snuffing out the last of the stubborn flames in a corn field, the fire whistle blew again. The No. 1 truck was rushed to the Waster farm on Austin Road and other firemen had taken the No. 4 truck which is kept in the barn for such emergencies, to the scene and had the fire under control.

Sunday firemen were called to Madison Street to extinguish a small grass fire which was set by children with matches.

Fire Chief Jim Kensler expressed thanks to all those young men who helped extinguish the Saturday fire on Grossman Road.

Chief Kensler also reminds residents that all burning permits have been cancelled until some damp conditions reduce the fire hazard.

NOTICE

Mayor Althouse reports that last Friday he was in contact with the Layne Northern Company, under contract to install the filter system in Manchester Village. A spokesman said that the company has been delayed for several reasons but have assured Mr. Althouse they will make every effort to send a crew within a short time.

STATE 4-H LEADER MEET

The thirteenth annual Leadership meet was held Saturday and Sunday, March 1 and 2, at Kellogg Center, Michigan State University in East Lansing. The Leadership is sponsored by the State 4-H Council, the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University and the 4-H Club Foundation

BREAK-INS REPORTED

On January 26, Mrs. Harold Arnet of 207 S. Clinton called the State Police in Clinton to report a broken picture window. Investigation showed that a stone had been thrown through the window and the guilty party apparently had cut his hand before or during the incident. The incident occurred at approximately 12:30 a.m.

That following morning Mrs. Eleanor Gumper of 208 S. Clinton reported a broken blood spattered window in her kitchen. She had called the Manchester Police although she did not know when the damage was done. Until a few days later the two departments were not aware of the closely related incidents. It was first believed Mrs. Gumper's window had been broken by a bird because of the blood and the height of the window.

Further investigation is continuing and Chief Becktel reports they do have a suspect.

IT ISN'T THE TOWN -- IT'S YOU!!

If you want to live in the kind of a town like the kind of town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip and start on a long, long hike. You'll only find what you left behind, for there's nothing that's really new; It's a knock at yourself when you knock the town, it isn't the town -- it's you!! Real towns are not made by men afraid lest someone else gets ahead; When everyone works and nobody shirks, you can raise a town from dead, And if while you make your personal stake your neighbor can make one, too. Your town will be what you want it to be. It isn't the town -- it's you!!
