Jan was chairman of the committee for the Homecoming float in the 9th grade in which the 9th grade won first place. He was chairman of the committee for the 10th grade homecoming float. Jan was chairman of the freshman car wash and was one of the chairmen of the sophomore magazine sale. As a freshman he participated in football but was forced to quit because of torn ligaments. This year Jan was a member of the wrestling squad. Jan is a good student with a B+ average. Being very much interested in reading, Jan pursues the history of the World War I Air Force and the history movie directors. He likes to swim and play tennis and his hobby is art, especially car-

Jan has traveled to California where he visited Disneyland, San Francisco and Los Angeles. He visited Chicago and also the World's Fair in New York.

Jan plans on going to Interlochen this summer to study film making, if he comes up with the necessary amount of money. Jan plans on majoring in journalism at the U of M, Michigan State or Syracuse, to become a film critic.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

The Manchester and Napoleon Fire Departments were called to the home of Sam Stevens on W. Austin Road at 11:45 p.m. last Saturday night. Fire Chief Jim Kensler said the 3 bedroom brick home had been burning approximately 2 hours before the blaze was seen by a passing motorist and a neighbor. The Gerald Pierces called the Manchester Fire Department just as Eugene Heckaman called the Napoleon De-

"The firemen did a good job as the fire was under control within an hour after we got there," Chief Kensler said. Although the damage is estimated at $25,000 the house is repairable. The blaze is believed to have started in the kitchen but because of the extensive damage the cause remains unknown. Kensler said he did not believe it was caused by faulty wiring as the house is new and the family had only lived there 7 months. He said the family had been away for the evening.

Greeting cards, catalogs, home and garden magazines give china painters many ideas in design and color although the colors usually vary with individthe piece is fired several times. Then the colors are retouched a number of times to bring out the intricate detail. After each retouching the china is refired until the desired results are completed. The firing is very important Mrs. Alber pointed out as overfiring will take out all the color whereas underfiring would not mature the delicate colors. Usually 2 to 3 hours is sufficient to fire most pieces she said.

Recently she has reproduced an antique salt and pepper set which "entails hours of work" to bring out the colors, raised paste which gives the textured effect and then utlined in gold. Also Mrs. Alber has a num ber of items for sale plus several on display for anyone interested in seeing or buying hand-painted china.

The students have a variety of items to select from when entering Mrs. Alber's classes including plates, sugar-creamer sets, penses would be approximately $15 for anyone interested in china painting and Mrs. Alber does have room for a few more ladies. PUBLIC MEETINGS MUST NOW BE TRULY PUBLIC

Every public meeting of state or municipal bodies performing essential functions must now be open to the public by specific provision of a 1968 statute.

Before this statute was adopted, certain meetings of certain municipal governing bodies were open to the public. The generai common law doctrine was that citizens have a right to be present during the official deliberations of any body performing a governmental function. Nevertheless, the absence of specific statutory provisions and the great variety in the customs of various governmental bodies left the individual citizen without clear guidance as to his legal rights with respect to open meetings. Members of governing bodies also were confused:

The new statute clearly provides that every public meeting of a board shall be open to the public

A "board" is defined by the statute to mean a board of supervisors of any county, the council of any city or village, board of but delicious, lunches at noon.

CORRECT MISTAKES ON TAX RETURN

Taxpayers who forgot to include all their income, deductions or credits when they filed their 1968 Federal income tax returns can correct these mistakes by filing Form 1040X.

Mr. A M Stoepler, District Director of Internal Revenue for Michigan said that taxpayers using Form 1040X need only enter the information required to correct the mistake made on the original Form 1040 or 1040A. Another complete tax return does not have to be filed.

Errors in arithmetic will be corrected by Internal Revenue Service and an amended return should not be filed.

About 150,000 taxpayers used Form 1040X last year when it was first introduced. The form makes it easier for taxpayers to amend returns previously filed and speeds the processing of any additional refund that may be due.

Mr. Stoepler said a taxpayer generally has up to three years after the deadline for filing a return claiming a refund.

Copies of Form 1040X and instructions for filling it out are available at local IRS FROM CONGRESSMAN ESCH IN WASHINGTON

FROM SENATOR BURSLEY

Michigan school administrators can expect an 11 per cent increase in state school aid for next year of the House of Representatives accepts a school aid bill totaling more than $845 million that was approved by the state Senate last week.

This is an increase of about $86 million

The bill is slightly larger than Governor Milliken's proposed budget for public schools mendation which I made last year for the but it is within the expected revenues for next year. Barring unexpected decreases in income or unforseen increases in other expenditures, it will not require any new taxes

Despite the $86 million increase, many school officials contend that it is not enough to meet increased demands of teachers for higher salaries next year, even f the need for a nutritionally balanced diet. though Michigan teachers salaries are the third highest in the nation.

The bill passed the Senate amid indications that the Legislature will consider the possibility of an overall reform in the method of financing education later in the fall-probably in the month of October.

Recent action by the state tax commis sion requiring reassessment of property values has raised a strong cry from property tax owners that they are being taxed out of property ownership.

Since the largest portion of locally-raised taxes goes to schools, this is likely to lead to a new means of raising money for school

In government at any level, the facts of life are that the word "reform" means more taxes as well as different taxes.

No one should be fooled into thinking that any substantial reduction in property taxes will mean anything other than that ar even larger increase in some other form of taxation will replace them.

The immediate-and handlest-target, of course, is the recently adopted personal and corporate income tax.

Since there are constitutional limitations on the property tax and on the sales tax, virtually the only major tax left that can be used to provide additional money for schools is the income tax, unless some entirely new form of taxation is devised.

The Legislature, of course, could resort to the old "nuisance taxes" and increase levies on cigarettes, beer and liquor and other such items but the amount to be raised on these items-unless the increase were prohibitively high--would not meet the mount school people are talking about.

Governor Milliken has now named the five members of his blue-ribbon committee on education reform, of which he intends to be an active chairman. It is a well-balanced highly-qualified group,

He said this committee would be an 'action committee" and, by next fall, would come up with suggestions for making better use of existing funds for education, and, if necessary, to provide reforms for financing education.

While anything can happen in any legislative session, even the strongest proponents of aid to parochial schools feel chances of passing a meaningful appropriation for non-public schools are dim, at least until

The fact that any substantial appropriation for private schools would require increased taxes has served to cool the ardor of many legislators, who want to wait and see what Governor Milliken's special committee produces in the way of reform.

Force 10 From Navarone - Alastair Mac

The wild and beautiful mountains of Yugoslavia are the setting for this new thriller by Alistair MacLean. The time is World War II and the characters include three members of the celebrated Force 10 team who survived The Guns of Navarone. Suspense, danger, ironic twists of plot, rapid action-the hallmarks of a MacLean suspense adventure novel-are all here in this story of the men of Force 10 who set out to accomplish their objectives by means even more unexpected and thrilling than those employed in silencing Navarone's famous guns.

Meeting Mrs. Jenkins - Richard Burton Richard Burton was born Richard Jenkins. Accordingly, it is the beauteous Elizabeth Taylor Burton of whom he now writes. In three swift scenes, he achieves a remarkable portrait of both her person and her personality. A very small bookquick to read-but uncommonly lovely in its writing for the writer has great talent, and not only in acting but in writing as well.

NOISE POLLUTION TOO

Recently farmers were asked to look around and list the sources of pollution visible within their own communities.

Dozens of serious problem areas were noted and reported to the Michigan Farm Bureau which asked for the survey.

Here is a partial list of pollution sources isted from over 700 Michigan communities: creek, river and roadside trash dumping; mosquito spraying into water by village, city and state departments; trash burners both for home and industrial use; workmen carelessly tapping oil and gasoline lines near areas of flowing water; improperly (shallow) constructed sewage system in resort areas; city sewage and storm outlets.

Oil and gas in a variety of forms were blamed for many pollution problems. Wrote one reporter, "Pollution of air and water in my area is caused by the dumping of many gallons of oil waste and by the sulphurous fumes and black smoke caused by oil and gas-well burnoff . . . " Many persons mentioned the use of highway salt as a major problem, including the observation that salt-laden snow was shoved onto frozen lake beds.

One person reported the illegal use of a well-hidden gravel pit for the dumping of septic tank materials by a commericial tank cleaning company. Another told of the illegal disposal of offal on a back road by a local butcher. The erosion of topsoil caused by highway and subdivision building projects was of heavily silted streams and dust-laden room at 8 p.m. on May 16 and 17. fields of grain and vegetables)--while the open burning of rejected industrial rubber were other pollution sources listed. Many of those reporting cited local industries by name with almost every type of industry involved. A partial list includes

DISAGREEABLE AGREEMENT

There is a direct tie between foreign trade and the amount of money found in pockets of Michigan farmers. In any given year, our farmers join those of the nation n producing 25 per cent more than Americans can consume. Other markets must be found for the rest

Recently one of the strongest supporters of enlarged foreigh trade for US farm products visited Michigan. He is Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation-and outspoken critic of several trade policies which he says have severely handicapped the American farmer in meeting world competition.

in an appearance_before the board of directors of the Michigan Farm Bureau, Shuman described two years of decreasing farm exports which he attributed to "a price-fixing pact on world wheat prices, to which the U.S. is a party."

"February wheat prices for farmers were the lowest reported for that month in 26 years" Shuman said, adding that the downward trend in U S farm exports "reveals the folly of international commodity agreements.

He called the Grains Agreement a complete fiasco leading to international bickering instead of unity with American farmers caught in the middle. "Soon after the agreement was approved by the U S Senate," he said, "signers of the pact were accusing each other of price-cutting, while the US sat back and stuck to the agreement U S wheat exports declined while Canadian, Australian and French wheat exports in creased." "Recently Canada publicly announced that it was going to sell wheat on the world countries were already cutting prices and Canada was 'going to meet the compension of the market place"."

Shuman said that the failure of the International Grains Agreement reveals the folly of all such international commodity agreements. "The present downward trend n U S farm exports is an immediate direct challenge to the Nixon Administration which has the task of reversing the trend within the next year. . . .

Keep it Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts.

VILLAGE TO

VOTE ON NEW BRIDGE

On June 23, the village council will ask voters for approval to issue bonds in a special election. The issuance of bonds is necessary for financing the rebuilding of the Duncan Street bridge and repairing the Main Street Bridge. A clear-span, cement pre-cast bridge with Il new pillars will replace the present one which has been out of use since last spring. The new bridge will be 39 feet long with a 24 foot wide, two lane roadway. It will also have five foot wide sidewalks.

The estimated cost of the new bridge is $65,000. If the bridge were replaced with the same one lane style or the present one given minimum repairs the cost would be $30,000. The council believes another two lane bridge is necessary with Manchester's future growth.

Presently the village has 10 major streets for which it receives state funds for upkeep. When the new bridge is finished all of Duncan Street will be a major street.

"I like my work and it is important that Herbert F. Mahony, village council member and Bruce T. Daniels, superintenpatience and the understanding to put up dent of public works determined the village with many long hours, phone calls and all spends $4000 per mile on major streets and the problems, emergencies and work involv-$890 per mile on local streets in a year. The village received $17,296 for mejor streets and $6,906 from state aid this past fiscal year. With the completion of the Duncan Street project, the village will get 4% times more money from the state for W. Duncan Street annually.

The Main Street bridge has places where rusting is occurring. Selt leakage from past winters has developed some cracks. The steel structure is in good condition but it needs to be sandblasted to protect the beams from erosion. A new decking, sidewelks and railings are also needed. This will be the first major repair for this bridge. The total cost for both bridges is estim ated at $120,000. The council is asking fo approval to issue bonds for $125,000, in order to pay off interest in the first year.

"For the past 10 years," Mahony said, Manchester has been at the same tax rate and the village has been able to expand public works and the police force and make road improvements. At the most it would not cost any taxpayer more than two mills or between $15 to $25 to repair and rebuild

Mahony indicated that the village charter states if money over the amount of the budget is needed, a three-fifths approval o the voters is necessary for the issuance of bonds. State law, he said, requires that the village can not enter into any project on streets over $2000 without a civil engineer.

The council wants to continue their present program for the upkeep of the village without infringing on the budget for the bridge project. They want to start a storm sewer program this year. When the council meets June 16, the public is urged to attend and obtain more information about these two projects. At that time the council expects to have the final bids. The public is welcome to attend any earlier council meetings.

THANK YOU FROM JAYCEES

Letter to the citizens of Manchester and Manchester Township:
The Manchester Jaycees wish to express their thanks and gratitude to the people of the area who have contributed to the success of the Jaycee projects during the past year. The two basic purposes of the Jaycees are service and leadership training; neither of which can be fulfilled without the support of the community in which they exist. Manchester has provided both the support and enthusiasm during the past year to make it one of the most rewarding for the Jaycees. The individuals who have supported us are too numerous to mention; but we hope they receive this as our gratitude to them for their interest in the Jaycees and the community.
