

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS ANNUAL REUNION

Plans are now being completed for the 92nd reunion of the Manchester High School Alumni Association which will take place on Saturday, June 7 at the High School. The executive committee, under the direction of Association president, Alfred Kuhl, has been working since February contacting some 1500 old and new graduates of Manchester High School and making arrangements for this year's get together. It is expected that 200 people from all over the United States will attend. Special recognition will be accorded the classes of 1919, 1944 and 1959. Several other classes are also planning special reunions.

ALL RESERVATIONS MUST BE IN BY JUNE 1 AND MAY BE SECURED BY SENDING $3.25 TO THE TREASURER MRS. MARILYN CLARK, BOX 212, MANCHESTER, MICHIGAN 48158.

The festivities will begin with an open house and tour of high school facilities starting at 5:30 p.m. Members of the class of 1971 will act as guides. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. in the gymnasium followed by a brief business meeting and program. The Reverend Father Raymond R. Schlinkert, pastor of St. Mary's Church and popular television personality will speak and the Varsity Choir will sing.

The Alumni Association of Manchester High School has an interesting and colorful history. In the early years, when only a few students were able to continue their education beyond the eighth grade, a high school diploma was clearly a status symbol and a mark of prestige as well as a sign of personal achievement. Anyone who had one was proud of it and derived great satisfaction from coming back to the old school to reminisce or swap success stories. The Alumni Association flourished and its annual reunion was THE social event of the year. Formal dress was required for the sumptuous banquet and evening of dancing which followed. Crowds grew so large that Manchester could no longer accommodate the gathering and it was held for many years at Nisle's Hotel at Wampler's Lake.

Compulsory education which kept every youngster in school until the age of sixteen and indirectly led more students to complete their secondary education; the second World War, which scattered graduates to the four corners of the world; and the demands of the technological age, all brought a decline in the influence of the small town high school and its alumni association.

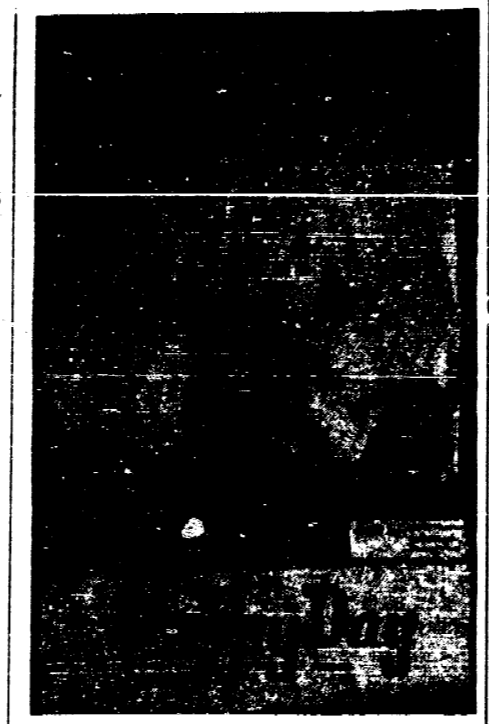

When a committee met to plan the 1968 reunion of Manchester High School Alumni Association, there was serious doubt in regard to the old organization's future. Arrangements were made to hold the affair in the new high school for the first time and provide an open house in an attempt to lure back the "old grads" who hadn't had an opportunity to tour the new building's addition. To everyone's surprise, there seemed to be an enthusiastic revival of interest in the Alumni Association and a very gay evening was enjoyed by all.

The present officers of the organization are much encouraged by this turn of events. They see it as a resurgence of a kind of civic pride that has been too long absent from Manchester. It is easy to be proud of a winning football team. It is something else again to be proud of one's educational background. With larger classes graduating from high school each year, there is hope that the Manchester High School Alumni Association will become an important influence in the cultural growth and development of Manchester.

Be it resolved that the Manchester Village Council and local citizens are concerned over the apparent length of time required for juvenile authorities to make contact with juveniles petitioned to juvenile court on Village of Manchester Complaint No. 6930C, and delivered to Probate Court May 16, 1969. Two juveniles were cited for Assault and Battery and one for Assault with a deadly weapon. Considering the serious nature of these complaints, there is considerable concern that these juveniles are yet uncontacted and a potential threat to local citizens continues to exist. School Election Is Monday

by Carolyn Ahrens

On Monday June 9 Washtenaw County registered voters will go to area voting centers and decide several issues involving public school issues. In Manchester, election headquarters will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the high school library. Here, voters will be asked to renew the present school millage, elect one School Board member and to decide a county issue as well.

The two candidates for the Manchester School Board are Louis Vogel and Robert Clark. Four questions were submitted to the candidates, asking that they answer 3 out of 4. Lou Vogel submitted the following:

I am interested in the Manchester Community and the Manchester Schools. I have been a lifetime resident of this area and a graduate of Manchester High School. Like many others in our community, I am grateful to Dan Boutell for the many years of service that he has given as a member of this important board.

We, as a community, are aware that times are continually changing as well as the educational demands made on our youth. Our first consideration should be to equip all students with the best possible educational background. I urge that we support the millage request for the coming year!

Q. What is your opinion of Sex Education for grade school children?

A. I am conservative enough to believe that the basic sex education should be given by the parents, however, this should be supplemented in a limited way at each grade level, but with separate sessions for boys and girls starting at the Junior High level. It is my impression that the majority of the children know far more about this subject than adults envision, and that they do need guidance which a qualified teacher can give.

Q. What do you think the voter expects of a school board member?

A. I believe that the voters of our community expect each member to work diligently to provide the best education possible for the children of our area. He is expected to use sound judgment in policy.

OPEN HOUSE AT HOOVER BALL SET FOR SATURDAY

An Open House and Flag Dedication Ceremony will be held this Saturday at 11 a.m. at Manchester Division, Hoover Ball and Bearing Company.

Congressman Marvin Esch will be on hand to present a flag that has flown over the Nation's Capital. Congressman Esch will present the flag to Don Stockwell of Legion Post 117. The Legion will then re-dedicate the flag to Hoover Ball and Bearing to be flown at their plant.

a sister, all needing adoptive homes. This is an attractive and healthy trio who are described by their social worker as "real, exceptional children" and "great". Like all teenagers, they have their ups and downs, of course, but they are not problem children and they have a lot of love and loyalty to give.

The youngsters are all Protestant and should go to families where they can continue in this religion.

They are in different foster homes now and could be placed for adoption together or separately—although it would be very nice if they could be together again. All three are sure on one point—they enjoy farm life and very much want to be adopted to a farm family. They also need parents who can understand that they have already had many life experiences and will want to keep in touch with brothers and sisters and perhaps some foster parents from the past, too.

Mike, 16, is living on a small farm now and enjoys lots of responsibility in caring for his dairy herd and putting in his own crops. He enjoys sports—especially football.

Congratulations Grads

Who, What, When, Where & WHY

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The following letter just received from Councilman Mahony. It is in answer to a letter I wrote Mr. Mahony, following the village election. The purpose of my letter to Herb was to point out that I was still an active member of the Chamber of Commerce.

The rest of the letter is self-explanatory.

Dear Harry:

Please accept my apology for the three month delay in answering your letter of February 19, 1969. In this letter you discuss certain aspects of my remarks appearing in a political pamphlet. This pamphlet was distributed throughout the village the day before the past primary election.

You are correct. I could not find any reference to a resignation from the Chamber of Commerce in past issues of the Enterprise. Upon investigation, I find that what I had actually seen was your letter of resignation from the Board of Directors of the Chamber. In further checking, this resignation was not acted upon; you are a paying member of the Chamber, and continue to attend meetings on a regular basis.

I hope you and the community will understand that no deliberate attempt was made to be misleading. I, unfortunately, relied on what has proven to be a less than perfect memory.

I truly regret that you consider my comments in the pamphlet a "character assassination", and are concerned they will have an "adverse effect on your printing business". Certainly people in this community would "see through" my remarks if they consider them too opinionated; but most important, they can and do separate politics from a man's livelihood.

You may wonder why I write after such a delay. Well, last night at the J C Inaugural Ball, I felt quite uncomfortable to find the families of Mahony and Macomber not yet in a position to respond to a hello. I hope this letter helps to clear the air, for although we may not agree on all things, I certainly have never lost my respect for you, your sincerity, ambition, and achievements.

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

Q. I received a reminder notice on my estimated tax instead of a bill. How much should I pay?

A. Figure your second installment payment using the estimated tax worksheet you received in February as part of your estimated tax package. Be sure to make your payment using pre-addressed Voucher 2. The filled out voucher should accompany your payment to assure proper crediting to your account.

A schedule on the worksheet can be used for adjusting your estimated tax if there have been changes in your tax situation.

Q. It only took my neighbor 4 weeks to get his refund but mine hasn't come and it's been over a month since I sent in my return. Why should my refund take longer to issue than his?

A. The date the return was filed has a lot to do with how long it takes to issue a refund. Returns filed early can be processed and the check issued much more quickly than returns received just before the April 15 deadline.

If the refund or a letter about it, does not come within ten weeks from the time you filed, write the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed. Give your name, address, social security number and the date you filed to help them trace it.

Q. I lined the property around my home with rose bushes. Can I deduct the cost for tax purposes?

A. Landscaping expenses can be capitalized and added to the cost of your property. Normal maintenance costs of your shrubs and lawn, however, are not deductible.

Q. Is there any difference between alimony and child support payments for tax purposes?

A. Alimony payments are deductible for the payer and are taxable income to the recipient. Child support payments are not deductible for the payer and are not taxable to the recipient.

Q. I'm earning money not covered by withholding. Should I file an estimated tax return now or wait until next year?

A. If you expect your 1969 tax liability to exceed your withholding by $40 or more you may have to file an estimated tax declaration. Forms and filing instructions are available from your local IRS office.

If you first meet the requirement for contd. next page

FROM CONGRESSMAN ESCH

"Education on all levels is facing a crisis," said Congressman Marvin L. Esch. "The way we meet that crisis now is going to determine the future course of our educational system."

The Congressman was keynote speaker at the awards banquet of Phi Delta Kappa, the honorary educational fraternity, at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

Esch, a Member of the Education and Labor Committee in the House of Representatives described the six major crises facing education in the decade of the 70's.

1. Campus unrest: "It is vitally important that we maintain academic freedom on our campuses. We must restructure our campus regulations so that students may have a more clear channel of communication with the faculty and administration."

"There are militant students who are bent on destroying both the educational system and our system of government. We must deal with them very firmly. At the same time, we must give close attention to the legitimate questions and problems of the student majority. Unless we establish communications channels to resolve the legitimate concerns of students we will create a climate in which violence and militancy can thrive."

Esch, a member of the Special Subcommittee on Education which is studying student unrest, has recently been engaged in field research meetings on college campuses with students and administrators.

2. Urban education. "The educational systems of our inner cities are a disgrace. As a nation, we have been derelict in facing our responsibilities to the urban child. By the time an inner city negro reaches the sixth grade, he is already two years behind his suburban contemporary in reading skills."

"Our urban education must be designed to meet the unique problems of disadvantaged students and give them an opportunity to break out of the cycle of poverty and ignorance. Fortunately, Secretary Finch has indicated that this is among the highest priorities of the administration."

3. Lack of funds. "Both in our elementary and secondary schools and in our colleges and universities a financial crisis is building. We must find a means to replace the property tax as the only base for local educational support. We must find a means through which we can utilize the broad revenue resources of the federal government to fund both local school systems and our nation's universities with a minimum of federal control. We must find a way to make better use of our school facilities and improve the efficiency of highly trained educational specialists."

 REPRESENTATIVES

4. Technical and vocational training. "The non-college bound student has too long been a second class citizen in our educational system. We must vastly expand our vocational programs to provide true opportunity for all students no matter what their talents, interests, and abilities. Our experience has shown that the most effective vocational programs have been those which have made use of the expertise and abilities of the industrial-business community. We must increase our cooperative efforts between educators and the private sector."

5. Pre-school education. "Recent studies have shown that the most important aspects of a child's learning abilities are formed before he is 5. We must greatly expand our programs such as Head Start to reach those youngsters whose home environment cannot provide them with an educational base. The President, in his message to the Congress, indicated that the problem of the pre-school child will be the most important educational concentration of his Administration."

6. Professional associations. "Critics are fearful of a tendency toward self-interest on the part of educational associations. These associations are reaching a turning point at which they must decide whether to move in the direction of self-improvement or improvement in the educational system as a whole."

In a similar vein, our Colleges of Education must adjust to the tremendous sociological and technological changes in our society.

"BAA, BAA BLACK SHEEP; HAVE YOU ANY WOOL?" Sing along Wednesday and Saturday nights at the Black Sheep Tavern. adv.

FROM SENATOR BURSLEY

Passage of bills in that house of the Legislature in which they originated is our next pressing deadline. This means some 200 bills in the Senate and 300 in the House are to be voted on during the week ending June 6. Both houses could by joint resolution extend this deadline and this may happen if some bills require an inordinate amount of debate.

To handle the workload sessions are being held in the morning, in the afternoon and again in the evening. Only a minimum of committee meetings are being scheduled.

An urgent agenda item is final passage of a school aid bill. Presently a conference committee is trying to work out differences between the Senate and House versions. Ultimately the state will be appropriating about $850 million to public schools.

Parochial, to which I repeat for the umpteenth time my opposition, may face us again during the week. I believe chances for a sizable appropriation are minimal but I would hate to see language inserted in a bill approving the principle of parochial with a hundred million dollar bite on taxpayers following a year or so later.

Abortion law reform which I have been championing depends on my getting 20 votes to take S B 287 "off the table". In such an event it would be considered at the end of the list of bills presently on the calendar.

Major banking law reform has been one of my main responsibilities as chairman of the Senate Corporations Committee. We have passed in the Senate bills recodifying Michigan's bank laws and raising interest rates ceiling on conventional mortgages. Pending is a controversial bill regulating bank holding companies. The problem is that banking legislation by constitutional mandate requires a 2/3 vote-which is mighty hard to attain.

During the past month and in keeping with the spirit of Michigan Week I have presented State of Michigan flags at many school assemblies throughout the area including Manchester. This included elementary, junior high and high schools. It is with genuine pleasure that I have welcomed these opportunities to talk with so many students and teachers.

Self-respect, that corner-stone of all virtue. Sir John Herschel.

STATE FAIR DEADLINE SET

If you are going to be an exhibitor at the Michigan State Fair this year, then you must return your entry form on or before August 1.

Under a new policy announced by E J Keirns, State Fair general manager, August 1 will be the deadline for all departments without exception.

He said the decision was made to allow State Fair personnel sufficient time to prepare for the 20,000 or more entries expected for this year's fair; Friday, August 22, through Monday, September 1. He said a better fair will result for both the exhibitors and fair patrons.

Premium books, which will be distributed in June, are automatically sent to former exhibitors. Requests from new exhibitors should be addressed to the Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Michigan 48203. Exhibitors should indicate which section of the entry book they desire: agriculture, livestock, horse shows, and community arts.

TAX QUESTIONS

filing after April 1 and before June 2, the declaration should be filed by June 16.

Q. Does an extension of time to file excuse a taxpayer of interest charges on late payments?

A. No, interest at the rate of six percent a year must be added to taxes that are not paid by the filing deadline. However, no delinquent filing charge is added when the taxpayer has been granted an extension of time to file.

what's a funny place for a phone?

That depends on your sense of humor. If interrupting your washing or ironing to rush upstairs to answer the telephone leaves you breathless, then an extension telephone makes good sense.

An extension telephone saves steps and lets you do your telephoning from where you are. You can select from many smart styles and decorative colors.

Call your Michigan Bell Business Office or ask your telephone man. For as little as ninety-five cents a month (plus tax) you can have an extension telephone in any funny old place you'd like.

and basketball--and comes home from basketball practice to help with the chores. Mike is in the ninth grade now and is an average student who should graduate from high school. He is the kind of boy who is liked by everyone and makes friends easily. Like all teenage boys, he can be a bit boisterous at times and enjoys being with the group. Mike is about five feet tall now, has dark hair and dark brown eyes. Like his brother and sister, Mike is a good looking youngster.

Anne has just turned 15 and is a lovely girl with a happy and vivacious personality to match. Anne is active in school activities and in community activities with her foster family. She is an intelligent girl on the honor roll in 8th grade. Anne enjoys cherry picking and other farm chores and likes to be doing something and be "on the go". She needs a family that can give and receive a great deal of warmth, encourage her to use her ability in school and maybe get some advanced training after high school. Anne is also on the short side with a fair complexion and a ready smile which is striking in its beauty.

The youngest in this trio is Randy who, at 13, Randy is small but solidly built, has curly hair and is the picture of health. He had a hearing loss when he was younger but surgery corrected this so that the hearing loss is now less than 10% in each ear and his hearing is considered normal. Due to the hearing difficulty and attending different schools, Randy has never been a strong student although his ability is average. His grades have improved recently and he is now doing average work in the 6th grade but Randy is still not too enthused about school. He is quite mechanically inclined, however and enjoys working on an old truck in the back yard, tinkering with farm machinery and learning woodworking. He would love an adoptive father who would share these interests with him. Not a shy boy, Randy also enjoys sports and can amuse himself with puzzles, model cars and other projects. He gets along well with most youngsters and is happy and pleasant to be with.

Although already in their teens, these youngsters need the love and permanence of an adopted family of their own. Families who can share their love should call Mrs. Vlach at the Department of Social Services in Ann Arbor, 665-4121.

CANDIDATES COMMENTS
making and administration of school programming, and that his interest be for all our citizens.

Q. Are you satisfied with the intellectual level of present day high school graduates?

A. The statistics printed in a recent school news letter indicated that we have a fine percentage of our MHS grads going on to college and that they are "holding their own". We know competition is great and we should not lower our standards? On the other hand, there would be a high percentage of students who would profit from a good variety and quality of vocational courses as part of their high school level preparation.

Q. In what way do you feel qualified to be a member of the school board?

A. Having children in school and attending many of the school functions, I do feel that I can hear and understand the concerns of the youth for their school. Then too, I feel that my experience in management over the past years which included operating, personnel, and merchandising for one of the largest retail companies in the country has given me a broad-on-the-job experience which would be applicable in any school system. Also, I am presently chairman of the Washtenaw Advisory Planning Council which brings me in contact with all areas of the county and many branches of county government and social agencies which are striving to serve the citizens of this county.

Mr. Vogel is a member of the Bethel United Church of Christ and President of the Ann Arbor Jackson Association of Men's Brotherhood; Treasurer of the Manchester Community Chest; a member of the Fair Board and partner of Lodi Furniture.

He and his wife Elvira have 3 daughters, Virginia Valorie, and Sue Eilyn and live at Pleasant Lake.

Second candidate Robert Clark and his wife Carol have 3 children, Charlene, Doug and Lynette. The Clarks live on W Main and attend Emanuel United Church of Christ. Mr. Clark is a member of the Masons; former vice and past councilman; is currently Secretary of the Planning Commission and is an employee of the Ford Motor Co. Mr. Clark did not wish to comment on questions at this time.

CEREAL BEETLE IN COUNTY

Adult cereal leaf beetles are very numerous in many parts of Washtenaw County. Field checks in oats on May 28 and 29, showed cereal leaf beetle larvae present, however, very small indicating they had just hatched out. Recent warm weather will encourage insect activity and result in large numbers of larvae appearing in wheat and oat fields.

Because oat planting was delayed by weather conditions, farmers can expect severe damage to the oats early in their stage of growth. Wheat may also be damaged more severely than experienced in 1968. Spraying should be done as soon as the larvae become numerous in the field. The larvae is a small black slimy snail like mass appearing in the leaves of oats, wheat, barley and other grasses.

Fields should be inspected daily because severe damage can be done to the crop in a very few days when weather conditions favor insect activity.

Recommended materials and rates are in the Extension Bulletin No. 443 entitled, "Cereal Leaf Beetle Control." All farmers growing cereal grains should have this bulletin. If not it can be obtained from the Cooperative Extension Service Office.

Particular attention should be paid to the limitations of materials used considering safety of the applicator, toxicity to bees and drift on to other crops in the vicinity.

THE OX IN THE DITCH

"The day I need a lawyer to advise me in my daily operations-is the day I quit farming..." such is the opinion of a Kent County, Michigan farmer, who is unhappy about new rules and regulations proposed for farmers.

The man was not making light of lawyers and their advice (which he recognizes as necessary and valuable)-rather he was protesting the complicated legalistic book-keeping, the nightmare of red tape necessary for compliance with a growing list of farm labor laws and hiring regulations.

He has a point, for a bushel of "farm" bills have been introduced in the state legislature. All appear to have one thing in common-a larger bookkeeping burden for Michigan farmers. Some of the proposals are impractical in other ways as well, such as House Bill 2310-which would limit farm hired labor to six days per week, ten hours in one day, and 48 hours in any week.

Ask any farmer-such a schedule is completely unrealistic in terms of weather, ripening crops and daily "emergencies" which play havoc with even the most carefully prepared work schedules.

Farmers have traditionally followed the Biblical illustration of helping the ox which has fallen in the ditch (Luke 14:5)-but were H-2310 to pass, the farmer would first have to check the hour records of his employees before asking their help-and if their work limits had been reached under the law, the ox could well lie injured in the ditch until it became "proper time" to lift him out.

While H-2310 has provisions for deviations from prescribed work schedules, it would require extensive bookkeeping to comply with its provisions. Records would have to be kept for three years, and they are subject to labor department review.

Time spent on meeting new legalistic rules and in keeping books, is unproductive time. It is not under such conditions that the American farmer's output per man-hour has increased 80 per cent in the past ten years!

American consumers have greatly benefited, with the cost of food during the same period of time taking only 17 instead of 21 cents out of each dollar. Obviously, it is to the best interest of everyone to free the farmer of red-tape burdens instead of tying his hands with even more.

WEEVIL THREATENS ALFALFA

Recent field checks conducted by Extension Agents show alfalfa weevil to be present in large numbers in most alfalfa fields. In one field check agents found as high as eight weevil larvae feeding on one small spear of alfalfa.

Most of the weevil larvae are still very small and hard to see in the plant. Farmers checking their fields should look for feeding on the leaves. Shaking the leaves or growing tips over a piece of paper will enable one to count the larvae.

The larvae is a small green worm with a white stripe down the back and a black head. The insect remains in the larvae stage for 4 to 6 weeks all this time feeding on the leaves of the alfalfa. When they are full grown they will be approximately three eighths of an inch long.

The hot weather we are experiencing in recent days will speed up insect egg laying, hatching of eggs and feeding of the larvae. Fields that are infested with the insect should be harvested as soon as possible. If harvest must be delayed, spraying should be considered. All farmers growing alfalfa should have Extension Bulletin E639 entitled "Alfalfa Weevil."

DEVOTED TO A MORE PROGRESSIVE MANCHESTER

101st Year No. 34

June 12, 1969

"The Bank on the Corner where you feel at home."

75 Years of Service

by Carolyn Ahrens

On June 30, 1894, the Union Savings Bank officially opened with a paid-in capital of $12,500.00 due to the courage and determination of Arthur J. Waters and Walter C. Mack. In the midst of nationwide panic, bread lines and a scarcity of money today's generation would find unbelievable, the original directors and officials held their first board meeting with Benjamin G. English, President; George Helmerding, 1st Vice-President, Dr. C.F. Kepp, 2nd Vice-President and Edwin E. Root, Cashier, who later became one of the most prominent men in the bank's development. Other directors were Arthur J. Waters, Walter C. Mack, John Wuerthner, John M. Horning, Fred Breitenwischer and Arnold H. Kuhl.

At this time it was decided to purchase Union Hall on the corner of Main and Adrian Streets for $1,800.00 and replace it with a modern 3-story building. Perhaps on that fateful day on the third floor of Arbeiter Hall (located above the L & M Party Store) it was decided to name the new bank, the Union Savings Bank.

The Union Savings Bank, upon completion of the new building early that following winter, was a one-man bank. Edwin E. Root stoked up the coal stove, swept the floor, greeted customers and was responsible for all the bookkeeping. Then in the early 1900's Elwin English began working on a part-time basis and a few years later Eben F. Horning who eventually became the fifth president of the struggling young bank.

1906 brought several changes when the first president, Benjamin G. English, passed away and John M. Horning became the second president of the Union Savings Bank. At this time also a high school graduate Bennett C. Root joined the staff. When Mr. Horning passed away in 1920, he was succeeded by Dr. C. F. Kepp and in 1924 Edwin E. Root became the fourth president and under his direction the greatest and most trying years of growth for the bank.

In 1907 the second national panic only gently nudged the new bank but with determination, a unity among area residents, merchants and bank officials, the Union Savings Bank held its own throughout the stormy depression years. By 1919 it had proven its strength when the first 25 years of growth saw an expansion from a total resource value of $33,705.08 in 1894 to $851,072.19. During the 1920's the bank grew rapidly and in 1925 Bennett Root was promoted to cashier. 1927 found another young man behind the counter, Edward R. Kirk and two years later LeRoy A. Marx.

Mr. Kirk is with the bank yet today and Mr. Marx retired in 1961 after 32 years of service with the bank on the corner. November, 1929, another depression crossed the nation but with the same determination and common sense that led the young bank through past national disaster, once again the Union Savings Bank remained intact.

In 1937 the Union Savings Bank and the people of Manchester had great cause for sorrow when Arthur J. Waters passed away shortly before the 50th anniversary of the proud young business he had founded. Several years later another prominent figure in the bank's history with 49 years of banking service behind him, Edwin E. Root, then 88 years old, retired as president and died a year later, Eben F. Horning, a part of the banking staff since the early 1900's then became the fifth president with the 1944 50th anniversary just two years away. With a $33,705.08 resource and $12,500.00 paid-in capital in 1894 compared to $1,950,491.61 in 1944, the Union Savings Bank could well be proud of its accomplishments.

The 50th anniversary found Mr. Horning, President; Frank Tirb, 1st Vice-President; Theodore J. Kuhl, 2nd Vice-President; Bennett C. Root, Cashier; and Assistant Cashiers LeRoy A. Marx and Edward R. Kirk. Of the 1944 Directors, only James C. Hendley remains an active member of today's board, presiding as Chairman of the Board. Although Herbert H. Upton, Sr. was also a board member then, he now served with Carl Wuerthner as Directors Emeritus or members who may voice an opinion but have no voting power.

Upon Mr. Horning's death in 1949, Bennett Root became the sixth president and in 1950 Chairman of the Board until his death in 1963. James Hendley then picked up the reins of president in 1950 until January, 1969 when he became Chairman of the Board and Dan J. Boutell, eighth president of the Union Savings Bank. Mr. Boutell, as with several of his predecessors, began as a cashier in 1950, then held the post of executive vice-president cashier and finally president.

In 1958 the present Union Savings Bank underwent major remodeling. With a bit of the past as displayed near the vault entrance are several items and pictures of times gone by. Among these are Edwin Root's sleeve guards and inside the vault area, Manchester's old jail bars - pictures and memories which none can nor would dare erase.

Today's officers are James C. Hendley, Chairman; Dan J. Boutell, President; Carl F. Wuerthner, Vice-President; Kenneth Wolf, Cashier; and Assistant Cashiers Edward R. Kirk, Harold Burch, Ethel Fahay and Marilyn Clark. Directors include James Hendley, Dan Boutell, Henry P. Eames, Alton Horning, Ira E. Johnson, Willard Mann, Donald A. Roach, Stanton G. Roesch and Herbert H. Upton, Jr.; Directors Emeritus, Herbert H. Upton, Sr. and Carl Wuerthner. These men and women, together with the present banking staff, will celebrate with Manchester residents the 75th Anniversary of the Union Savings Bank, with current total resources over the $10 million mark.

In an opening letter written by Eben F. Horning on the 50th Anniversary of the Union Savings Bank in 1944, perhaps best describes both past, present and future thoughts of many involved in the celebration today. "A span of fifty years (now seventy-five) absorbs the greater part of a man's activity, while fifty years measures only a short period of time in the life of an institution. It is a milestone in its period of growth, a time for reflection of the past, and an occasion to plan for the future."
