ANTIQUe COLLECTORS GROWING IN NUMBERS

by Carolyn Ahrens

Antiques, a popular and often profitable hobby and business, has long been an enjoyable enterprise for thousands of Americans. Whether as priceless collections, antique shops or the personal furnishings of a home, the magic of antiques is found everywhere. Here in Manchester, often described as a quaint old village with sprawling lawns, beautiful old homes, and have a New England atmosphere, antiques are everyday household items. Priceless family possessions such as great-grandmother's flower vase, desks, rocking chairs and clocks are used daily.

Antique shops are numerous everywhere and Manchester is no exception. Recently a third shop was opened by Mrs. Glen Bivins of 117 Division. "It's an ambition I've had for years," she said. A hobby that led to the opening of Vi's Antique Shop in the Bivins' home, the shop is the product of many personal items collected over a number of years, auctions, garage sales and "anywhere I might find reasonable items," she said. Endless hours of refinishing items has also added to her shop inventory. Refinishing a piece of furniture can be done one of several ways such as sanding or with linseed oil then oil rub or varnish, Mrs. Bivins continued. She has refinishing a number of items for area residents and will continue to do so, depending on the item, time involved, etc. "Working full-time and operating the shop part-time will limit my "refinishing time", she said. Her brother, the owner of a large antique shop in Monroe, has been instrumental in her interest and knowledge of antiques. Although her shop is now on a part-time basis she hopes to eventually go into the antique business full-time.

Vi's Antique Shop has such items as old post cards, a 200-year-old picture frame, cut glass, hand-painted china, a condiment set, butter churn, old candy, tea and cigar boxes and more reproduction glassware in the near future. "It takes a lot of time and money to build up an antique shop," Mrs. Bivins added. The shop is somewhat of a family project she pointed out. Her husband enjoys refinishing articles also and daughter Marilyn, 14, takes care of the shop while mom and dad are antique-hunting. The Bivins also have an 8-year old son Butch.

Vi's Antique Shop is open Monday thru Thursday 4 to 7 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 9 to 5.

Supervisor Threatens To Sue Paper

In a conversation Monday afternoon Manchester Township Supervisor Clayton Parr threatened to sue the Manchester Enterprise unless the correct facts were printed concerning the tax paid on the Parr III farm. He also presented the publisher with a letter to the editor stating that all the statements in the story were lies. He demanded a retraction and apology although he would not point out the errors nor offer proof that the paper was wrong.

The paper offered to publish his letter and recheck their figures contained in the story. Mr. Parr also stated that he no longer owned Parr III and therefore didn't want his name connected with it. In the very next sentence he stated that he had tax receipts proving he paid more tax than the Enterprise had stated.

The Editor went to Ann Arbor to recheck the figures for the 1967 and 68 tax roll. To our embarrassment we did make a mistake in figures. Parr III (who ever owns it) paid even less tax than we had stated. We also made sure of the name on those tax rolls, it was Clayton Parr. The correct figures should have been for

1967	$1.52 per acre
1968	$1.83 per acre

After checking our figures the Enterprise saw no proof that it was wrong and did not feel obligated to print a retraction nor to apologize to Mr. Parr.

If their tax receipts are different than those on official record in the county building we would like to see them and also hear the explanation as to why they are different.

If such proof and explanation are forthcoming the Enterprise will be glad to print Mr. Parr's letter and put the correct figure in the paper.

If the tax book in Ann Arbor is false then we can only encourage Mr. Parr to proceed with his threat to sue the paper.

In the meantime the following figures taken from the tax books (which are open to the public) showing what Mr. Parr paid and his neighbor across the road, Mr. Faulhaber paid in taxes since 1960.

We're not tax experts but to our eyes the farms are similar and the total taxes paid by each make interesting reading.

New School Nearly Ready

by Carolyn Ahrens

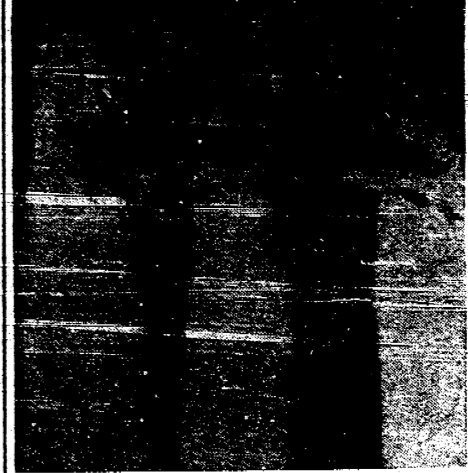

Robert Swartz, Superintendent of Manchester Schools, announced the official opening of the Luther C. Klager Elementary School September 2, 1969 when the classroom doors will open to an estimated 320 kindergarten thru 4th grade pupils.

Mrs. Birdella Flood will be the first principal of the new school located on Ann Arbor Street. The morning session of kindergarten pupils at Klager Elementary School will be all rural children in Manchester and Bridgewater Townships; the afternoon session will accommodate all village kindergarten children living north of Main Street and in Sharon Township, except those notified to attend the Pleasant Lake morning session. An afternoon kindergarten class is also scheduled for the Nellie Ackerson School for all children living in the village south of Main Street. Pleasant Lake Elementary morning kindergarten will be all those in the Pleasant Lake area and those notified in Sharon Township.

The new Klager Elementary School will also house all rural and village 1st thru 4th grade pupils; Nellie Ackerson, the 5th and 6th grades; the 7th and 8th grade pupils will attend the Intermediate School; and 9th thru 12th, Manchester High School. New school district residents are asked to pre-register their children before August 25th. Kindergarten thru 4th may contact Mrs. Birdella Flood at 428-8010; 5th thru 8th grades, Ted Tapping at 428-2341; and Chester Kocosiak at 428-9421 for 9th thru 12th grade pupils. Bus transportation may be arranged by calling the Superintendent's Office at 428-9411. Bus service is scheduled within the village limits as in the previous year and with some adjustments and where possible, kindergarten thru 4th grade pupils will be bused to the Klager Elementary School, Mr. Swartz added.

A school survey last spring has also resulted in school hours to be shortened approximately 20 minutes per day, the Board of Education announced. One of 18 schools surveyed, Manchester had one of the longest school days. The new school-day schedule will be Pleasant Lake and Klager Elementary School, 8:45 to 12 and 1:00 to 3:15 p.m.; the Intermediate and Nellie Ackerson Schools, 8:40 to 12 and 12:50 to 3:20 p.m.; and Manchester High school, 8:35 to 12:05 and 12:51 to 3:25.

AND HERE'S THE QUEEN

Miss Vicki Gorney, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gorney of 13990 Sheridan Road, was crowned queen of the 1969 Manchester Fair. Vicki is a senior at Manchester High and her future plans include studying fashion merchandising. She will reign over the next three days of the fair.

First runner up was Candy Stevens, 16, a junior and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Johnson of 15731 Sharon Valley Road. Second runner up was Debbie Beech, 17, a senior, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beech of 11122 Heiber Rd.

In the bike decorating contest, Tom Star's and Sherry Coffee claimed first place, Stephanie was second and Michele Keizer was third.

On July 20, 1969, electric heat was installed on the moon.

It sat smack in a spot called the Sea of Tranquility. Although the information is classified, we assume that electric heat was chosen to ride 240,000 miles into outer space aboard the Apollo 11 because it's compact and unbelievably efficient.

And since the temperature on the moon can dip to

-250° on a clear night, you know the most modern and reliable system our best brains could put together, was needed.

Actually, the electric heat system our men on the moon used to keep warm is very much like the ones you'll find in millions of apartments and homes right here on Mother Earth. Of course, because of the size of the spaceship and the length of time they spent on the moon, we're sure our space agency didn't care that electric heat can save many hours on house cleaning, offers room-to-room temperature control and can actually boost the value of your home. But you probably do.

CHURCH EDITORIAL

At the fair, this week, you saw a booth designated Manchester Area Churches. The theme for this booth is centered around recent flights to the moon itself. There were color pictures from Apollo 10 and 11. There were color slides of the moon landing flight and several closeup pictures of the moon surface. In the very center you saw these words, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth..."

There were pictures of the churches and the pastors. There were schedules of services and free literature from each church. There were several chairs so that people could pause and rest awhile.

Why did the churches go to all this work? We did this because people are so busy they tend to forget some of the things that are most important in life. On Christmas Day, America heard the astronaut read, "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth..." People who hadn't thought about God for months suddenly were thinking deeply and carefully about him. When people forget about God, they want to be reminded. We built this display to remind people again that God is the all powerful creator.

The distress of our times causes people to search for something firm; something more substantial than the insecure society in which we live. The display also emphasizes men's greatest scientific achievement, beyond our fondest achievements, it was God who created us, our world and all the materials we used in this historic achievement. We prepared this display because the unfathomable power of God gives us a calm in a frightened world.

There are many interesting and important things in creation, but none so important as people. We prepared this booth because we care about people.

In this booth we were trying to say some important things. We were trying to say that we affirm our common faith in the creator of the universe. The one who brought a world from nothing can deal with the problems we face.

In this booth, we are saying, in several ways, we have found peace, forgiveness and restoration in God. This is so meaningful to us, we want to share it with all who will hear.

This booth says, dramatically, that the different congregations of the community have in common a faith in the one who created the universe and gave himself to forgive our sins.

Union among the denominations has not come. The booth at the fair is one effort of the churches in the community to share a common witness and discover a sense of unity that makes competition unthinkable. Paul speaks of the church as the body of Christ with many individual parts. It is our hope that in the fair booth the cooperation between the churches will illustrate the working of the body of Christ.

Another expression of this unity is the Annual Park Vesper service to be held this coming Sunday at Carr Park shelter at 4:30 p.m. The people are cordially invited to attend. The community ministers will participate in the service.

ENGLAND TRIP

"England impressed me as a country that is loved by its citizens," Mrs. Malcolm Billings said, "no one seems to abuse it." Mr. and Mrs. Billings returned from their three week stay in England July 31.

They visited their son in Stokepogies, England, where he lives at Tyde Farms, a 300 year old Georgian Manor. The estate holds a bit of history because the poet Edward Gray wrote his "Elogy of the Graveyard," there.

Both were impressed with the beauty and neatness of the country. Mrs. Billings commented that they never saw any trash and every road regardless of the location, was paved.

Mrs. Billings was born in Kent County but this return trip was only to Buckinghamshire. There they saw Windsor Castle, Christ Church, Oxford University with its immense dining hall with its huge dining table of oak planks. Mrs. Billings said the hall paintings of great people were hung. The attende the university were hung. The pasura of the room reminded her of the pasage, "oh what greets leave behind, the footprints of the sands of time."

They also attended a service at Westminster Abby where an organ recital was played. In the country they viewed the Cotswalds Hills, Tilton Hill and the Chiltons Hills. In the Cotswalds all the century old houses were built of soft, honey colored stone and everyone was surrounded by neatly trimmed hedges. In the villages the houses are built very close to the street or the lawns are completely planted with flowers and surrounded with a brick wall hedge.

In London, Mrs. Billings wished she could have spent many more days in the world's largest store, Harrod's. Directions on how to find an item in the store are obtained by pushing a button on a huge computer like bulletin board. The store also contains its own post office and bank.

Entertainment in terms of television and radio was also a thrill with no commercials. Everyone is expected to pay a tax on their honor. No one collects it everyone pays it on their own. The pubs were also interesting because they were family style. "Everyone seems to have a good time sitting and talking, no one ever got rowdy," Mrs. Billings commented about the odd but quaintly named taverns.

"The people," Mrs. Billings said, "impressed me as being very happy, especially the children." School age children only have the month of July off for summer vacation. The British are very conscientious about education. At age 11 children are required to take an examination to determine whether they are fit for college, if the child passes the exam he is assured a college education whether he can finance it or not.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Billings said they appreciated the 700 to 800 year old homes that are perfectly functional today and the nice big farm lands of barley, hay, cabbage, fruit. They were most impressed with the beauty and neatness of England.

SPEEDWAY RESULTS by Nancy Martin

We had a very good field of cars for our Tri-State Championship races tonight with 62 cars qualifying. Louie J. Stemen picked up a trophy for fastest time of 19:12. This being his very first night back since suffering burns here on July 20. We are glad to have him back with us.

The first heat was very fast with John Luderman jumping into the lead and holding on for the win over Don Taylor, Jack Sharp and Jim Stemen.

In the second heat the red flag was thrown as several cars spun out in the fourth turn. On the restart, Don Macey started on the pole and took the checkered flag followed by Ray Barnard, Dennis Carrier and Bill Kepka.

The winner of the third heat was Howard Woodman, chased by Jr. Gary, Larry Gray and Butch Moull. The fourth heat had one caution flag, but Mike Shaw held on to first place with Dick Slagle 2nd, Farmer Budwick 3rd, and Jim Shook 4th. Bob Kash took the fifth heat over Clarence Swan, Leonard Hale, and Jack Wirth.

The pursuit was good racing with Jack Sharp staying just ahead of Taylor all the way 3rd and 4th going to Luderman and Bill Younkin.

The coney and semi both were run straight through tonight with no trouble. The coney saw Dick Slagle come from the back of the pack to pick up the checker over Art Call, Kash, and Gary Rhoades. Howard Woodman took the win in the semi, his second of the night, Paul Whitaker was second followed by Moull, Gary, and Allen Teubert.

In the 50 lap feature, Don Taylor had a big lead and looked like he had it in the bag when on the 40th lap he and Valentine tangled, with Taylor spinning out. Dick Crup took the lead for two laps, but had to drop out leaving the way clear for Jack Sharp to take his second win for the night. Younkin finished second over Valentine, Taylor, and Carrier.

All winners were presented with trophies after the feature race.

Friday night we will have another Destruction Derby after our regular program. Men drivers this time. Come on out and see them "tear them up"!!

year he attends manufacturer's school where the latest up-to-date knowledge enables him to service today's highly technical equipment. "Maybe some of today's college students have time for demonstrations but there's a lot more you never hear about that are responsible for the tools, equipment and knowledge I use to service my customer's sets."

"And," Mr. Brown continues, "I couldn't do business without my wife Stella who takes care of the store or my sons who are a very important part of the business." Doug, a junior in high school, and Donald a sophomore are learning some of the trade although neither has decided what their future careers will be.

"This is a business that has a good future for a young man but he must like the work and have a dedicated interest in it," Mr. Brown pointed out. "The hours are long, it's frustrating at times when all the parts fit but still the set doesn't work properly. It's not hard work but patience and interest are most important."

Brown's TV & Radio Sales & Service serves the Manchester area mainly "because traveling too far only costs the customer more and is time-consuming for me," he said. His inventory includes Zenith and Voice of Music radio, TV, hi-fi and stereo in console and portable models.

A life-long resident of the Manchester area, Mr. Brown is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Moose of K of C and he and his family are members of St. Mary's Catholic Church.
