A Plea For Help

"Just 5 Minutes of Your Time"
by Carolyn Ahrens

"The mentally retarded or brain damaged are children and adults who, as a result of inadequately developed intelligence, are significantly impaired in their ability to adapt to the demands of society."

The degree of brain damage varies from the Educable which are the mildly retarded, the Trainable or moderately retarded and the Dependent or severely retarded. Over 100,000 children born in the United States each year are brain damaged to some degree. At one time a physically or mentally handicapped child was termed "hopeless." Today, however, there is new hope. After years of research and study much has been learned about brain damage. Therapy and treatment has enabled thousands of handicapped children and adults toward a better, more satisfying and often independent life. Brain injury and physical disability may strike any family, any time, at birth or as a young child or adult involved in an accident.

Dawn Ray, 7 year old daughter of Mary and Carter Ray, Manchester, is one such victim of brain damage at birth. She was described by doctors in Philadelphia as Mildly Brain Injured child. Another child, Kathy Bowers, 8 year old daughter of LaDonna and Warren Bowers of Norvell, was born with a cleft palate, club-foot, brain injury and a Cerebral Palsy victim. Two operations were performed to correct Kathy's cleft palate but love and understanding were all that seemed possible for the two blue-eyed, blond-haired little girls. But the parents of these little girls were determined to help them.

Dawn could talk although she often lapsed into baby-talk and loud unexpected noises or confusion often sent her into temper tantrums. As pointed out by her mother, sounds are amplified as much as 5 times in some brain injured children. Dawn made some progress however and attended the Sullivan School in Ann Arbor for a short time.

Then one day her grandmother, Mrs. Crystle Jedele, heard about an institute in Philadelphia for brain injured children on the Mike Douglas Show. Mary Ray wrote asking for more information. A reply, waiting list and eventually a trip to the Institute for the Achievement of Human Potential, founded in 1955 by Glenn Doman, a physiotherapist and Carl Delacato, a reading therapist, brought new hope for Dawn Ray.

Dawn's home treatments and exercise began last August 14. Just a short while under this program, her improvement is evident already. "She's more relaxed, growing up emotionally," her great-grandmother Mrs. Edna Lair said. And her mother, "For some reason, we don't know why, since she's been on this therapy program she hasn't had any temper outbursts. She's more calm now."

Before the program Dawn could walk although her coordination was poor. As an infant she had never crawled or could she creep, a vitally important period of growth for the proper development of all youngsters. According to the Doman-Delacato Theory, "A newborn baby's movements are governed by the spinal cord and medulla; with development of the next higher center, the pons, the infant begins to crawl on his stomach. When the mid-brain matures, he begins to creep on all fours. Finally with the maturation of the cerebral cortex, the child walks and develops speech, perception and intellect." According to this theory, if there is brain injury at any of these levels it will impair performance at a higher brain level. The Doman-Delacato method treats a severely brain injured or physically handicapped child by movement of the arms, legs, and head in patterns appropriate to various levels of brain development.

Dawn's patterning program under the Doman-Delacato method is a 5-minute, 4 times daily Cross Pattern exercise. Similar to basic crawling, it's a rhythmic exercise designated to stimulate the underdeveloped part of the brain. Included in her 12-hour-a-day program are eye exercises, bar exercises, creeping and crawling, somersaults, still very difficult for her, and a special face mask she wears 1 minute each hour according to the Doman-Delacato theory, will allow the rebreathing of expired air which will stimulate blood flow to the brain. The entire procedure is designed to help "depressed" brain cells take over the function of those cells that are irrevocably damaged.

Dawn is also learning to recognize words. Told not to teach her the alphabet but rather complete words, Mary Ray has accomplished within a month, the task of teaching her daughter 50 words such as refrigerator, ice cream and bicycle. "We hope she will soon be able to attend a school for further help," Mrs. Ray added.

School has never been possible for Kathy Bowers but according to Mrs. Hardy in Midland, when she is through with this program she may be able to attend some school. To eventually talk and possibly walk after an operation on her clubfoot last Thursday, is a goal once considered impossible for Kathy to attain. "Perhaps still a long way off but to Kathy's mother, "It's a goal we're going to reach."

The Bowers first heard about the Philadelphia Institute when their daughter Karen brought home a pamphlet from school. A newspaper article created further interest, then a letter and eventually a call to the Midland Satellite of the Philadelphia Institute.

Kathy's program is much more rigorous than Dawn's partly because of her disabilities and also because she's been on the Doman-Delacato program almost a year. For her, the Homolateral Pattern twice daily, 10 minutes each time. Kathy must also wear the mask 18 to 24 times daily, 1 minute each time. Finger work has given her more hand and finger control and a special tongue exercise practiced before a mirror has helped Kathy control her tongue and "maybe someday talk clearly." Kathy has also learned approximately 40 words and can count to 20. Doctors have found Kathy very capable of learning and although she is unable to express herself clearly she depends on sign language and with a keen sense of hearing, has opened a larger, less frightening world.

"The first two months of treatment showed a great improvement but since then it has been more gradual," Mrs. Bowers commented. "Now she can crawl and creep as well as pull herself up on a chair." As with Dawn Ray, Kathy Bowers is allowed 24 oz. of liquid daily.

It appears that only time and research will prove or disprove the Doman-Delacato theory however. With 2,000 children now under treatment at the Institute, thousands of parents are hopeful and can see the beginning results of their efforts through this patterning method. While the Institute claims 35% of the brain injured children "make it all the way into normality," a large part of the medical world is skeptical and the Doman-Delacato method is the object of widespread controversy. Dr. Roger D. Freeman of Temple University Medical School said, "No generally accepted proof exists that either any conventional method of treatment or the patterning or other techniques used by the Institute gives superior results in management of brain damage." Glenn Doman said their goal is "The reproduction of normal activities which would have been the product of the injured brain level had it not been injured."

The parents of Kathy Bowers and Dawn Ray are hopeful. Also, they have found the need for more help. "My real backbone has been my daily helpers," Mrs. Ray said. It requires four people to propel Dawn in her Cross Pattern exercise, a relatively simple movement of arms,

I was trying to explain in as few words as possible that some of us are so greedy to make a few extra dollars that we take advantage or gouge others while we are doing it. Because of this many of us cannot afford to buy the things we should have. If we have to pay a few cents more on each item from the grocery store, a few dollars more for repairs on our car or television set and a few hundred dollars more on our car or hospital bills, then sometimes our paychecks aren't large enough to pay for everything and we are in trouble. Those that sell things must make a profit to stay in business. Some one must set a limit to the amount of this profit. I bought a spool of fish line this year for 49 cents. Since then I have seen it in other stores marked 69 cents, $1.89 and $5.39. The one for $5.39 was in a large discount store. I told the manager that there must be a mistake on the price tags. He just looked at them and walked away. There were over three dozen spools on display. They are still there and marked the same. Maybe you think it isn't unreasonable to pay over $5.00 more including tax for a 49 cent spool of fish line. There is no law that says he can't put a price on this article that is high enough so you will change your mind. You don't have to buy fish line. There are other things that you do buy and they can be marked the same way. That is why I said it isn't what something is worth but what we can be made to pay for it. This is also the reason we see so many price tags with the figure nine on them.

It's not only the letters to the editor that can be hard to understand. Our government pays farmers for not putting in as many acres of grain as they would like. They have been doing this for years.

The Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese have never officially released the names of prisoners they hold. Hundreds of American families are being kept waiting not knowing whether their loved one is alive or dead. Those who are fortunate enough to know that their family member is alive are constantly tortured by the reports of the harsh and cruel treatment they are receiving.

This situation calls for the united action of the people of the United States and the governments of other nations around the world. The North Vietnamese leaders have always been highly influenced by world public opinion and it is quite possible that if public opinion in the U.S. and in other nations expressed outrage at the barbaric and uncivilized treatment our POW's are receiving, then improvements in their treatment would be made by the Communists.

For this reason I have introduced a joint resolution demanding that the North Vietnamese comply with the Geneva Convention provisions relating to the treatment of prisoners. It is hoped that passage of this resolution by the Congress will create an outpouring of indignation which will mobilize world opinion as a tool to secure better treatment of American POW's.

The leadership of the Congress, the Department of Defense, the Department of State and the White House are fully united in their efforts to secure better treatment for and release of American prisoners. It is hoped that the new leadership in North Vietnam will reconsider their policies and respond to the call for humanitarianism.

While they were doing it millions of us couldn't afford to buy enough food to eat. I think there is something wrong when this happens. If you or your family were starving and you knew others were paid for not raising food, that stores are allowed to gouge you when trading there, you wouldn't just think there was something wrong. If this country is to survive, someone must change these things. Most of the trouble in our cities where business places are fire-bombed or looted is caused by hatred and hunger. If we are normal and old enough to pray, there wouldn't be one in a thousand of us that wouldn't do a lot of it before we starved to death. That is why I thought it important enough for those responsible for this to get on their knees and ask someone else for help if necessary. Maybe some think our leaders should be the ones to do this. This is everybody's problem. Everyone should try a little harder to help others instead of doing things that will create hatred, even the press.

If we ask our creator for guidance now, it might not get us out of this trouble. If everyone had a habit of doing it, it sure would keep us from getting into more. If you don't understand it this time just try to remember the last part. It's the most important.

Earl Koebbe

WASHINGTON REPORT

Marvin L. Each
The reports issued recently by two American boys released last month from North Vietnamese prison camps are horrifying. They told of inhumane treatment, inadequate medical care, solitary confinement, inadequate food and numerous other barbaric and uncivilized conditions. The North Vietnamese have consistently refused the intervention and inspection of the impartial International Red Cross and have denied American men the right to correspond with their families or receive any news from the free world.

Defense Department officials list 342 servicemen as known prisoners in Communist POW camps. However, more than 1300 servicemen are listed as missing in action and could be captives. Fifty-four Michigan boys are included in this list.

President Klager suspended the regular order of business of meeting for Mr. Barton's presentation. Mr. Barton discussed the June 30, 1969 financial Superintendent Swartz brought out that because of the auditor's schedule and surgery anticipated by one of the Superintendent's clerical staff, it would be desirable to delay the September audit and combine it with the October audit. The Board agreed to this operation.

class. Mrs. Cooper presented information in addition to that in her letter and answered numerous questions presented by members of the Board. After considerable discussion it was moved by Trustees Vogel, Fielder and seconded by Klager that the Board would "sanction" trip to Germany by present and past students of German still in high school. Motion carried.

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not. But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac. Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser. Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming. One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form. By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And this is the way driving's going to be. It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

HARE RETIRING?

There appears to be basis for newspaper speculation that Secretary of State James M. Hare will announce soon that he will bow out of office when his term expires December 31, 1970. By making an early announcement that he will not run again, Hare presumably is allowing time to build up his deputy, William N. Hettiger, 44, for the Democratic party nomination. Hare has had two heart attacks and undergone surgery three times in recent years.

The last hold-over of the "Soapy" Williams administration, Hare has been elected repeatedly for 15 years and for much of that time has been chairman of the State Safety Commission. Since Hare controls the only substantial chunk of political patronage left in state government (the fee license and such offices), Republicans yearn to elect his successor.

SPRING TRIP TO GERMANY SANCTIONED BY BOARD OF EDUCATION

About a week ago, the members of the German classes and the German Club received the exciting news that the Board of Education has sanctioned their proposed trip to Germany in the Spring of 1970. As a group representing the Manchester High School, the students have the opportunity to travel at a much lower rate than ordinary group travel would permit. All arrangements are being made by Mrs. R. Cooper, German instructor at the high school with and through the Conlin Travel Bureau of Ann Arbor. This trip is open to:

Any high school student now taking

German or who has taken at least one year in the past.

Any person employed by the Board of Education, i.e. any member of the Administration, faculty, office or maintenance staff.

Any parent(s) of high school students. Our aim is to get 40 people to travel as a group. Parents who are interested in going on this trip may contact Mrs. R. Cooper at the high school or by calling 428-3101.

All students who are interested to join this group are invited to attend the first briefing session Monday, Sept. 22 at 7:00 p.m. in the Study Auditorium of the high school. Parents of interested students are encouraged to attend also, since this session will deal with probable cost of the trip, passport and immunization information, and insurance. A representative of the Conlin Travel Bureau will be present to answer questions as to flight and ground arrangements, or any questions the group may have. A film on Munich will also be shown.

TESTS TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Manchester area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 10 at Civil Service Room, U.S. Post Office Downtown Station, 220 N. Main Street in Ann Arbor.

BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC THIS SAT.

The Manchester Baptist Church will hold its annual Sunday School Picnic on Saturday, September 20 at Carr Park with dinner at 1:30.

It will be a potluck event with everyone bringing sandwiches and a passing dish. Coffee and Kool-Aid will be furnished.

Schedule includes singing, softball, badminton, etc. Prizes will be given for the largest complete family present and for the family who brings the most guests.

Everyone who knows the people of the Manchester Baptist Church is invited to join them in this day of play.

legs and head. "If only more could volunteer even 5 minutes each day or once a week, we would be grateful," both mothers said. Helping Dawn now are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jedele, great-grandmother Mrs. Edna Lair, grandfather Edgar Ray plus many neighbors and friends besides Dawn's parents and 11 year old sister Gail.

For Kathy it requires three people to handle her Homolateral exercises. With her parents, sisters Karen 14 and Lynetta 5 and brother Neil 11, are her grandmother Mrs. Gladys Jones, her aunts Mrs. Donald (Arlene) Wolf and Mrs. Leroy (Delores) Buss, several neighbors of Mrs. Buss' and a "countless number of wonderful family members, friends and neighbors," Mrs. Bowers said.

But there is a need for more volunteers to help these little girls if their improvement is to continue. The exercise program is not difficult nor does it require lifting the child. The Doman-Delecatto method is the rhythmic movement of legs, arms and head in a given pattern. Because of the "no-stopping-whatsoever" routine, Mrs. Bowers has requested that anyone with questions or calls concerning Kathy call her sister Delores Buss at Chelsea 475-5368 or Mrs. Prudy Carpenter at 536-4757 Napoleon. Mrs. Ray also asks that anyone willing to help Dawn, an afternoon call at 428-8176 would be appreciated.

WANT TO SERVE YOUR COMMUNITY?

by Carolyn Ahrens

Are you 21 years of age? Are you interested in police work? Then the Manchester Auxiliary Police would like to give you the chance to learn more about police work and perhaps a future career in city, county or state law enforcement.

One area man joined the Auxiliary and today is working on a part-time basis as a trained policeman. A member of the Auxiliary since its beginning 2½ years ago, Dwight "Ike" Eisenhauer said, "I've always been interested in police work and the Auxiliary gave me the opportunity to learn the basic laws in classroom training and actual experience while on duty. It's interesting work but you've got to like police work to do it."

Chief of Police Lawrence Becktel pointed out the basic duties of the Auxiliary and added that the men are always on duty with an experienced policeman. As the second man in the patrol car, directing traffic at parades, school functions, etc., the Auxiliary are a definite asset to the village, Becktel continued. "And there is a need for more men," he stressed.

The Auxiliary men work on a voluntary basis and at present there is no pay involved. Police Commissioner Jim Scully added that the "no pay" policy is because of the present compensation insurance carried on the men. "But we're hoping to change that soon although the men on the force aren't concerned with the pay part of it," Scully said. They're volunteering their time to the Auxiliary Club as do the Jaycees and Optimists, Becktel added.

To be accepted in the Manchester Auxiliary, there is a required 7-week training program. This year Washtenaw County Sheriff's Dept. Captain Hollis will direct a county auxiliary school in Ann Arbor which will include shooting range practice and provide more complete training with their equipment.

"We hope to have 10 to 15 members of the auxiliary force," Becktel said. John Ashley, head of the club, noted that Saline has 23 members and Chelsea has 22 auxiliary men. Ashley also pointed out that at present, "We ride in the car on the average of once a month and work the school functions during the school year. Depending on the size of our group, this could be set up in various ways." He added that his reasons for joining the force 9 months ago were because he was interested in police work, felt it a civic duty and was a chance to work with the youth. "I got tired of sitting back and complaining about the problem and wanted to see if I could help. A lot of people between the ages of 30 and 45 believe that they're too old to do this kind of work but I don't subscribe to this way of thinking. I feel we have a lot of citizens in town that are letting their community and most important their youth down," Ashley said.

At present the Manchester Auxiliary includes John Ashley, Ike Eisenhauer, Ed Hooten who has been on the force approximately 2 years, and semi-retired after 2½ years Lauren Bertke and Jim Lyon. In addition to compensation insurance coverage, the club provides all uniforms and equipment. Also it was noted that the school donates a set amount to the club each year and there are money-raising functions such as the Policemen's Ball to supplement the uniform, etc. fund.

To learn more about police work, the Manchester Auxiliary Police is an excellent opportunity for on-the-job training. For further information call Chief Becktel at 428-8505, John Ashley at 428-8252 or Jim Scully at 428-8104.
