The 1970 4-H Spring Achievement for Washtenaw County was held this past weekend at the Dwight Beach School in Chelsea, Michigan. Sewing, knitting, leather and handicraft projects were on display. Over 100 woodworking projects and some fifty leathercraft items filled the library of the school.

Style shows by the Junior Miss, Young Miss and Senior Miss girls were presented on Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Sunday afternoon. The theme for the style shows was, "Snoopy says. Those in the know-sew." All the decorations on the stage were done by the Terrific Tailors 4-H Club of Chelsea, Mrs. Betty Koch, leader.

Music for the style show was furnished by Miss Karen Sullivan of Chelsea on Saturday afternoon. Friday night and Sunday afternoon, Mr. Clinton Fisk of Manchester furnished organ music on the Lowery Organ, courtesy of Apollo Music Company of Ann Arbor.

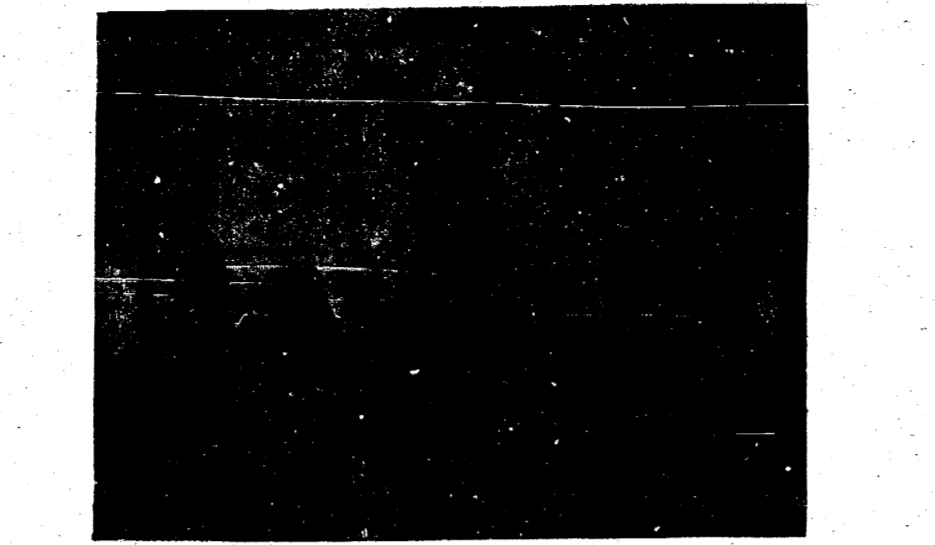

Sixteen of the top clothing projects were selected to be exhibited at the Country Fair competition at Dearborn's Greenfield Village in May. Eight other projects were also chosen to be exhibited at the State 4-H Show and Youth Exploration Days scheduled for this coming August on the campus of Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Looking for the Easter Bunny? He's in the Middle School Kindergarten Room and by the looks of those happy faces, the youngsters are very pleased to have him there. The 8 foot bunny was built by the kindergarten. Last November the children made a snowman from the chicken-wire structure. According to kindergarten teacher Teddy Groeb, the children were so reluctant to part with the giant snowman that they decided to turn it into a big Easter Bunny. Who knows perhaps next month the very special bunny will be turned into a circus clown!

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF YOUR TOWN?

by Carolyn Ahrens

Today it seems is the age of "expression" whether good or bad, constructive or the window-breaking, bottle-throwing, bombing destruction that has sadly become too frequent an expression across this nation. Our nation was built on ideas, opinions and personal expression and it shouldn't stop but today's "front page protest" isn't the way to build a nation. Opinions are a necessity in a democracy, a democracy that we ourselves know could be better in many ways but yet is far better than many other nations. Today we are faced with pollution, over-population and inner unrest, problems faced and eventually lost by many other countries. Will we let it happen to us? Have too many Americans working for the good of their neighbor become carried away with their version of "personal expression?"

We in Manchester have been little affected with the unbelievable problems facing so many of our fellow Americans. Compared to them, our problems are minute but as expressed by one village resident, we do have problems that we could improve upon and fortunately are more easily repaired. In Manchester we have been able to settle our problems peacefully even though not always to the satisfaction of everyone "but (we are) working together to build something better," William Schwab pointed out. Manchester is not a perfect village nor should we think it is. There are many ways of improving a village such as this in appearance, community projects, business and a number of other possibilities. Mr. Schwab's opinions are only the first of what hopefully will be followed by many Manchester area residents from farmer to businessman, young adult to senior citizen.

A life-long resident of Manchester, Mr. Schwab is active in community and church affairs. He is a Cost Accountant at Double A Products, a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus. He and his wife Diane have five children, Philip 12, Kenny 11, Laurie 10, Carolyn 8 and 3-year-old Mark.

What does Manchester mean to me
by William Schwab

Manchester is a town of generally quiet people, organizations, churches and businesses. As in any community of our size, there are many things that could be better. We could have better roads, sidewalks, curbs and gutters, separate storm and sanitary sewers, more and better stores with articles or services that would be the desired size, style, color, or other specification including price that would fit our needs at the time we need them. We could have more industry so that there would be more jobs. We could have more recreational facilities, especially for our young people. The list of things that this town needs goes on and on but the thing that I wonder is whether there is any town anywhere that doesn't have a similar list. The cities certainly have the same problems but they are compounded many times over . . . traffic, air and water pollution, crowded living and working areas where your next-door-neighbor might be your acquaintance but only possibly your friend. Crime and lack of respect for any authority in the streets, schools, churches and even at home so far exceeds what is true of Manchester that we can be very thankful that we are here.

Constructive discussion of problems can be what makes a town, a university, or any group of people strong, but I say constructive - not tearing down but working together to build something better.

Most of the things I have mentioned require money and effort to fix but whose money and effort will it be? Mine and yours. The same people that complain about all these things and want them changed right now are also complaining about every increase in taxes or demand on their time and efforts. Let each person examine his own record and see whether he helped the community or his neighbor by cleaning up his property, cleaning the river, helping on some church committee, civic organization, did he contribute to the United Fund and other charities just as important and did he use their services.

My children enjoyed the ice rink at the athletic field pavilion this winter, they attended the summer recreation program and learned to swim and play ball. They participate in Scouting, attend school activities for their age group. For all this I'm thankful and very glad that I can send them out with reasonable confidence that they will get to their destination and back home in safety.

If anyone feels they have need to complain, let him be the first to join a group and make it a large group, so large a group that it encompasses every person in Manchester so that together we can strive to correct the wrongs.

WHAT DO YOU THINK OF YOUR TOWN?

by Carolyn Ahrens

A village, city or metropolis means something different to every man, woman and child living within its boundaries. Each will express a personal opinion, often based on his involvement in the community. A man will see job opportunities, industry and politics, a woman the schools, churches and social aspects and to a child it will simply be "home."

To Carl Pedersen, an area resident since 1955, Manchester is the community he sought. Formerly of Erie, Pennsylvania then Ann Arbor, Mr. Pedersen and his family moved to Manchester "because we liked the location, the property we'd decided to buy and the small-town atmosphere." Since then his activities in the community have varied and presently includes a member of the School Board, Emanuel Church and the Masonic Lodge. He and his wife Jane have two daughters, Susan of Rochester and Mrs. Carol McGannon of Detroit and one granddaughter.

To Carl Pedersen, Manchester means:

Obviously, as with all other citizens of the community, Manchester must mean many, many things to me. So many, in fact, that difficulty arose in deciding what direction to take in presenting this. That was somewhat alleviated because after Mrs. Ahrens called to invite me to contribute to her column, I received Mr. Schwab's article in last week's Enterprise. Congratulations, Bill, on your very good, comprehensive, and thought-provoking article. I want to thank you for leaving me an opening, and on my pet subject, too -- the Manchester Public School System.

The primary goal of elementary and secondary education is to help prepare youngsters, step by step, over the years, to be competitive in our society. Upon completion of this education our young people should be prepared to go on to institutions of higher learning or enter the work force, depending on their interests, needs, or desires.

Over the years increases in technology, complexities of society, and enrollment have called for many improvements. Through the efforts and sacrifices of the school district citizenry these improvements have been made. Surveys of our graduates enrolled in institutions of higher learning reveal that, while they have suggestions for improvement, for the most part they feel the Manchester Schools adequately prepare them. Likewise, the graduates who do not enter a college or university are by and large equipped to compete. This must be maintained and hopefully, improved upon. Some of the needs that are apparent to maintain the calibre of our schools (not necessarily in priority order) are:

- Renovation of Middle School (old high school) building to preserve it for continued use.
- Enlargement of Vocational Training. A County Vocational School is being proposed to serve this purpose.
- Additions to foreign languages.
- Enlargement of music program, both instrumental and vocal.
- Greater variety in Arts and Crafts.
- Additional classrooms and teachers to staff them (enrollment has been increasing about 30-40 per year, about 1 1/2 classrooms).
- When we came to Manchester, one of the things that impressed us was the modern clean and orderly school our then fourth (Carol) and second (Susan) graders entered. Now some 15 years later after progressing through the grades of the Manchester schools, the fourth grader has graduated from the Henry Ford School of Nursing and the second grader from Oakland University. This is one thing Manchester means to me. I hope many other children will have the same opportunity.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO RECOMMEND REMODELING OF INTERMEDIATE BUILDING

After an extensive study of the physical features of the Manchester Intermediate Building, the Board of Education has obtained permission from the State Department of Education to hold a bonding election on Monday, May 4, 1970 for the purpose of remodeling the aforementioned building.

The study, done by KMM & Associates, an architectural firm from Ann Arbor, was prompted by the Manchester Citizen's Committee a year ago after they examined the condition of the Intermediate Building along with other school studies. The Committee, at that time, recommended that the Board of Education consider the possibility of refurbishing this structure at an early date in order to maintain the building as a school facility.

The study indicated that immediate steps should be taken to remedy certain conditions in and about the building if the building is to continue to serve the school district as an educational unit. Citing the age of the building as a factor and noting that it was in its thirty-fifth year of a forty year life expectancy, the study also pointed out that a remodeling and refurbishing project would add an additional twenty to thirty years of school use to the present structure. In addition to the maintenance value of the project, the remodeling would also eliminate some potential danger areas that are inherent in the present building and bring it up in its entirety to present day safety standards. One area of concern has been and is the unusually thick plastered ceilings. These should be replaced with acoustical tile ceilings.

The Board of Education has made some notable maintenance improvements over the past dozen years including brick repair and painting, the installation of unit ventilators, new lighting fixtures in some areas, some ceiling work and sporadic roof repairs. Despite these efforts to maintain the building, it is now necessary to consider major improvements to update the building to present educational and safety standards. The proposed improvements as recommended by the architects and engineers are listed below:

- Ceilings - remove existing plaster ceilings and install new acoustical tile ceilings there and also in corridors.
- Lighting - install new lighting in classrooms and corridors (including exit lights).
- Windows - install new aluminum sash and windows throughout.
- Doors - install new exterior and interior doors, frames, and hardware.
- Floors - repair classroom floors, install underlayment and carpeting and new thresholds.
- Roofing - install new roof.
- Corridor Lockers - install new lockers.
- Toilet Ventilation - install ventilating equipment in all toilets.
- Canopy - install a new canopy over northwest entrance.
- Clinic - develop a space into an adequate clinic.

Locker Rooms - develop existing band and home economics rooms into new locker rooms, towel room, and table storage.

Connecting Corridor - install a new unheated corridor connecting the two buildings at the south.

Equipment - purchase and install some new classroom furniture and equipment.

The remodeling project encompassing the items listed above would require a bonding issue of $160,000.00. A millage levy of less than one (1) mill would be necessary to satisfy the debt retirement payments. The exact amount would be .82 of a mill. The issue would run for 16 years. Because the 1958 debt on the Nellie Ackerson Building is being retired this year, and because the 1966 debt on the high school addition can be decreased by .25 of a mill, the total increase on debt retirement levies will be only .07 of a mill. This would amount to just seven cents (7¢) per $1,000.00 of equalized valuation. Therefore, if the district were to approve the remodeling bond issue the overall debt retirement millage would be just .07 of a mill more on the 1970-71 levy than it was on the 1969-70 levy.

If the proposed remodeling project becomes a reality by virtue of a positive vote on May 4, 1970, the oldest building in the Manchester Public School System would be updated to current standards and would be comparable to the newest buildings.

ECOLOGY - NOW OR NEVER!

Our world of today is being threatened by many things. Pollution of air, water and earth may be altering the basic ecological balance, which could result in an environment that is uninhabitable for human life. Who has caused this terrifying mess? To quote author Murray Bookchin, "We have met the enemy, and he is us."

We have been too willing to accept changes, and technological advances. We have not paid much attention to the effect these inventions have on old Mother Earth. But we had better start caring. Scientists estimate that we have ten years to clean her up, or it will be too late.

What can we do? What can one person, as a citizen of Manchester, do against this gigantic problem?

First of all, realize that you are not one person. Thousands upon thousands really care, as illustrated by the ENACT teach-in at the University of Michigan.

Next, commit yourself to action! This need not be much -- a few letters to influential congressmen, or businesses guilty of pollution. You could stop burning trash, or littering the streets, as a personal effort against pollution.

A committee of teachers and students has been formed at Manchester High School for the purpose of organizing and informing the students and residents of Manchester. One immediate goal of this group is to plan an "Earth Day" program, tentatively set for April 22. We have contacted several speakers from many areas, including Mr. Harlan Fisher. This program would be a watch for more information.
