WHAT DO YOU THINK OF YOUR TOWN?

by Carolyn Ahrens

"It takes a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home," said the late Edgar A. Guest and to one area resident Manchester might be described as just that when she said "...it's a town you feel-not just see."

To Mrs. Ralph (Myrtle) Roulo of Lemm Road, Manchester has come to mean many things. She sees it through the enthusiasm of her children, the peaceful quiet of the countryside, a small squirrel watching curiously as she passes by and the friendships she and her family have found since moving to Manchester. Members of St. Mary's Church and Mrs. Roulo a member of the Altar Society, she has also become involved in the Iron Creek Extension Club. Members of the Roulo family include sons Bernard and Bradley and two daughters Gay and Joy.

To Mrs. Myrtle Roulo, Manchester means... I am so proud of our Manchester address I write it out in full very carefully on every letter I mail. I've never seen another town like Manchester... it's a town you feel-not just see. (The Kansas State song thrilled me when I was a grade school kid-things like that-and President Ike and knowing Glenn Cunningham-made me proud to be a jayhawk and to have been born in Elkhart, Kansas.)

I liked the towns okay where my childhood was spent such as Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas before coming to Michigan after 12th grade but they didn't affect me as Manchester which I want for my hometown for the next 65 years. For several years I've liked the way it looks--each home has its own personal appearance. The river is a treasure. I like the stores so much better than a "shopping center", all glass and marble. It feels good to open a door that looks like a door not a section of the glass wall!

The "urban renewal" bug hit Wayne a few years ago and it has been a torn-up mess ever since. They removed large trees and big beautiful houses that were people's homes and they had to go find whatever kind of apartment they could to live in. The whole south side of town looks like disaster.

About Manchester...schools, good; interested people, informed people; industrious; they see a need and fill it; they help people when they can; friendliness and genuineness and good cooks! I'm amazed at how many people volunteer for work projects. It makes working with them a pleasure. I really enjoy the Altar Society, the Extension Club and everything I've attended at school. In lots of places it's such a chore to get help on a committee that it's just an ordeal for the poor committee chairman. It's heart-warming to witness how Manchesterites care about each other.

The roots people have here-that's good. Besides being interesting it's a good foundation for your children. I agree with Mr. Earl Koebbe, home is the proper place to teach children about human relations in the natural environment--love each other according to God's plan and many problems will be avoided.

Moving school boys from one school to another can be tricky and upsetting so I was holding my breath. I "let it out" with great relief after two days of school when I could see the boys were really pleased with the schools, the kids and the teachers. Ralph and I certainly enjoyed the Sports Banquet. We saw what makes the boys want to win and Mr. Gulliver has a lot to do with it. Any boy has won a lot (the most) when he learns good sportsmanship.

And that fantastic Chicken Broil! We enjoyed that a few times before moving out here. I envied the people who were a part of it. Now we'll be privileged to help.

I look forward to getting the Manchester Enterprise out of my mailbox -- I read almost every word of it. I could go on and on listing privileges and advantages of Manchester including numerous interesting things for young people to do. Who could prefer the hot grey concrete of Detroit to these roads lined with wild flowers and animals or a chlorine pool at the Y rather than these lakes and rivers? There's horseback riding, trails for bikes, scenes to paint; ice skating in winter and plenty of places to dance.

The business section looks comfortable as it is but if enough people want a change it's okay I guess but the mention of it scares me. There's such a difference between improvement and progress.

COMMUNITY TO HONOR DAN AND MARY BOUTELL

Plans are underway for a community recognition night for Dan and Mary Boutell who have made innumerable contributions to the Manchester area over a period of twenty years. Dan Boutell has been active in many community projects over a period of years, and has been a friend, advisor and confidant to almost everyone in the Manchester community.

As a token of deep respect and great affection for this couple, the community will hold an appreciation banquet for them on July 28, 1970. The time and place for this event will be announced at a later date. Tickets for "Dan & Mary Night" will be available at Grossman-Huber Gulf Station, Krauss Rexall Drug Store and from the following committee members: Eugene Bentschneider, Clarence Fielder, Rollie Grossman, Ronald Jenter, Luther Klager and Robert Swartz.

Tickets should be purchased prior to July 17, 1970 to help the committee with their plans. Tentative store hours will be 9 to 5 daily including Saturday and Wednesday 9 to 9. WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE & WHY

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

As a member of Students for a Democratic Society I feel it my duty to answer the letter which was published in last week's issue of the Enterprise. As I read the letter I came to doubt that Mr. Price had made a serious study of the new left in America; it seems that he believes that the S. D. S. as a whole is communist oriented. This is completely untrue; if he knew anything at all about the organization he would know that the organization is broken into several faction groups each with their own set goal and means for achieving that goal. The more radical groups such as the Revolutionary Youth Movements are communist oriented, and are for the complete destruction of established society. The more passive groups (such as the one I belong to) are the exact same ones who are out working within the system trying to get support for the peace candidates. Furthermore, there was only one student in that whole list of MHS students which is a member and even he is not a communist bent on the destruction of our society.

Where, also, did you get the idea that all long haired people are radicals. Hair has nothing at all to do with politics on either the right or the left wing. But, on the other hand, if you looked at a picture of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and other leaders of the American Revolution you would find that they wore their hair long! And what possible relationship can you find between the policy of our country in Vietnam and the number of people killed in highway accidents. Human lives are human lives, and there is a difference between accidents on the highway and policies which kill thousands of people in a foreign country.

Ideological and nationalistic differences have brought the two great powers to a stand-off at the negotiation table many times. If you look at the stand-offs even half way objectively, you will find that there is actually no difference in the goals of the U.S. or the U.S.S.R. as far as international foreign policy goes. Both seek to increase their influence in other countries by economic and political forces in accordance to their own political beliefs. The communists have their ideas of how to help the people of underdeveloped countries and so does the U.S.; both are imperialists, and neither wants to give in to the other.

I will agree with you on the people of Manchester not wanting to give up work for a cleaner environment. Certainly, the capitalistic system has made the people only money oriented, a clean environment is everybody's business; not only of the people of Manchester but the whole world, and one day of work wouldn't have made that much difference if everybody would have cooperated. In conclusion I would like to say that I don't think that Mr. Price's letter represented the whole of the young people in town; because I don't really think most young people really care about the situation. I would also say that every American should stride for the truth, and in doing so he should not only think of his country and his town, but he should think of brotherhood and peace amongst all men.

Sincerely,
Scott Brown

THE WHITE HOUSE WASHINGTON

TO THE 1970 GRADUATING CLASS MANCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL

It is traditional on commencement day to congratulate the senior class and to address all of the graduates in terms of what the future holds for them. I am breaking that tradition, and instead of congratulating and addressing the class as a whole, I would prefer to direct my thoughts to each of you individually, through this letter.

If I had the opportunity to greet each of you individually, this is what I would say:

Congratulations -- on being who you are, a unique human being capable of making a special contribution to our nation and the world. Congratulations on being fortunate enough to have parents and teachers and administrators who care deeply about you.

I don't have to tell you what the future holds for you. You know that life has responsibilities as well as rewards, failures as well as successes, tragedies as well as joys. You know that our nation offers splendid opportunity -- and faces grave problems.

On your commencement day, then, the important question is what you hold for the future. I am confident that your special and irreplaceable qualities of mind and heart and spirit will contribute to the building of a strong, free and just nation and a peaceful world. As you go forward you take with you my best wishes and highest hopes.

"Youth, such as Future Homemakers of America, who attempt to strengthen family life and to improve their communities who really work on inter-racial and international understanding are America's best hope for a brighter tomorrow."

Mrs. Graper commended Future Homemakers for parent-youth panel discussions on family communication, youth problems and financial planning; for park and city clean-up; for multi-racial participation and leadership, and for cooperation with international programs, such as youth exchange, UNICEF and CARE.

LIBRARY NEWS

Summer story hour begins Thursday morning, June 25 at 10:30 a.m.

If you have seen the clever posters around town of a small girl reading a book, with the announcement printed on the cover, you may like to know that Jennie Olney, Amy Creason, and an out-of-town guest, Sherri Ball, did the work and distributed the posters. Very clever and original.

For the adult reader we have three new non-fiction offerings.

Present at the Creation - Dean Acheson. Having joined the Department of State in 1941 as Assistant Secretary of State for Economic Affairs and almost continuously involved until 1953, when he left office as Secretary of State at the end of the Truman years, Mr. Acheson gives us a clear and comprehensive view of the inner workings of the State Department and with slicing wit and crushing logic writes in a fashion to shame professional writers. A clear, forceful mind and sharpened intellect, gives readability and pleasure.

The Kingdom and the Power - Gay Talese. Since 1896, when Adolph Ochs bought it, the New York Times newspaper had been an important factor in the news world. Mr. Talese has done his homework well for he has literally framed the pages with information. This does not read in one evening but will keep you coming back for more.

Mary, Queen of Scots - Fraser. Pen name of Mary Stewart, Miss Fraser has written a fine readable account of this unfortunate Queen, so much misunderstood and maligned.

SCUTTLEBUFT
Mr. & Mrs. Jack Kesby and family of Frederic, Mich. spent Tuesday and Wednesday with her parents Mr. & Mrs. Glenn Bertke.

Mr. & Mrs. Ruben Wolff of Chelsea spent Saturday with Mr. & Mrs. Glen Bertke. Mr. Wolff is Mrs. Bertke's brother.

On Sunday, June 7 an open house was held honoring Richard Hiavka, Jr. a graduate of Manchester High School. About 50 guests attended including relatives from Detroit, Saline and Napoleon. Richard is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Richard Hiavka, Sr.

Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenagers: "What can we do? Where can we go?" I can make some suggestions.

GO HOME!

Put on the storm windows. Paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves. Mow the lawn. Learn to cook. Scrub the floors. Repair the sink. Build a boat. Get a job. Help your Pastor, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Assist the poor. Study your lessons. And when you're through — and not too tired — read a good book.

Your parents do not owe you entertainment. The world does not owe you a living. Your village does not owe you recreational facilities. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy, and your talents, so that no one will be at war or in poverty, or sick, or lonely again.

In plain simple words: Grow up; quit being a cry baby; get out of your dream world; develop a backbone, not a wishbone; and start acting like a man or lady.

I'm a parent. I'm tired of nursing; protecting, helping, appealing, begging, excusing, tolerating, denying myself needed comforts for your every whim and fancy, just because your selfish ego instead of common sense, dominates your personality and thinking.

MANCHESTER SPEEDWAY RACING RESULTS

by Nancy Martin

The races tonight were run under clear, but cool skies. However, one of the largest crowds so far this year was in attendance for all the action.

In the Sportsman Modified class the fastest qualifier, over a good field of cars, was Curt Kelly at 18.84.

In the first heat, Dick Slade took the lead on the eighth lap for the win over Kelly, Dick Carr, and Dick Theide. The second heat saw the red flag out on the second lap, as six cars came together on the second lap. After the restart, five cars were closely bunched all the way through, and took very good driving to avoid trouble. First across the line was Farmer Budwitz, closely followed by Howard Woodman, Jim Martin, and Jim Drumhiller. Buck Lopresto took the checker in the third heat, beating out Bud Elting, Howard Underwood and Tom Lippert.

The pursuit was fast with Carmen passing everyone but Kelly for the win. The finish was Carmen, Kelly, Sam Henson and Jerry Tryon.

In the semi there was one caution flag as Dick Beazley lost a tire in the fourth turn. It was a very close finish, when Jim Martin turned on a surge of power coming out of turn four on the last lap, but Budwitz staved him off to take the win by a tire. Martin settled for second, followed by Elting, Ken Leidel and Roscoe Stetton.

Freddie Saitenright and Dick Slade were early leaders in the feature, with Slade dropping out. The last five laps were a battle between Thiede and Carmen. Thiede held on to a slight lead to take the checkered flag over Carmen, Saitenright, Drumhiller and Henson.

In the Stockers, Brian Satterington came over from Ontario, Canada for the first time on this track and made a clean sweep of it, as he was fastest qualifier, won the heat, pursuit, and feature. Following him in the heat were Dale Brenner, Norman May and Paul McNamera.

Dale Moor had a big lead in the pursuit but Satterington caught and passed him just at the finish line for the win. Moor finished second over Brenner and McNamera. The feature saw several minor mishaps, losing several cars, with only three left at the finish, Satterington, Ed LaRoe, and May, in that order. Fourth and fifth places went to Lincoln Hall, and Harold Heilser.

Fifteen cars entered the action packed Destruction Derby. It was a real crowd, pleaser with trophies going to the first five places. The last one running for first place was Rick Bennett. The other trophy winners were Louie Freeman, Donald Romand, Butch Eady and Gary Lewis. There will be several more special events through out the year, so keep watch for them.

NON-PROPERTY OWNERS VOTING RIGHTS ON BONDING ISSUES

by Carolyn Ahrens

On June 23, 1970 the U. S. Supreme Court issued a surprising decision concerning the voting rights of non-property owners on bonding issues. Based on a Phoenix, Arizona case in a 5-3 decision, the court said, "The difference between the interests of property owners and non-property owners are not sufficiently substantial to justify excluding the latter from the franchise."

In a copy of the Supreme Court decision furnished by the office of State Representative Marvin Esch, the question was phrased, "Does the Federal Constitution permit a State to restrict to real property taxpayers the vote in elections to approve the issuance of general obligation bonds?" The U. S. Supreme Court decided non-property owners could also vote on such issues because "restricting the franchise to property taxpayers in elections on revenue bonds violated the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment." There were several reasons why that decision was reached.

According to the pamphlet Associate Judge Byron R. White delivered the opinion with Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Associate Judges Potter Stewart and John M. Harlan dissenting and Harry Blackmun taking no part in the consideration or decision of this case presumably because he has just taken office and was unfamiliar with the case.

Based on the Arizona case the decision was reached that would affect the entire United States. (At present there are 14 states who still have a non-property voter restriction law.) "First," it was stated, "It is unquestioned that all residents of Phoenix, property owners and non-property owners alike, have a substantial interest in the public facilities and the services available in the city and will be substantially affected by the ultimate outcome of the bond election at issue in this case." Further it said that when all citizens are affected in important ways by a governmental decision, the Constitution does not permit "weighted voting or the exclusion of otherwise qualified citizens from the franchise."

Secondly, Arizona laws call for more than half the debt service requirements to be "satisfied not from real property taxes but from revenues from other local taxes paid by non-property owners as well as those who own real property. Not only do those persons excluded from the franchise have a great interest in approving or disapproving municipal improvements, but they will also contribute, as directly as property owners, to the servicing of the bonds by the payment of taxes to be used for this purpose." (It does not go into detail just how this is accomplished.)

Third, the landlord will undoubtedly pass his tax obligation onto his tenants in the form of higher rent. Further, "the property tax on commercial property, much of which is owned by corporations having no vote, will be treated as a cost of doing business and will normally be reflected in the prices of goods and services purchased by non-property and property owners alike." They added that although property owners and non-property owners have different interests in the issuance of general obligation bonds all are interested, involved and will pay for the bonding acceptance in various ways. (Most of the States without the restriction find it possible to protect property owners from excessive property tax burdens but here again do not outline how or in what ways it is done.)

Further, " . . . our decision will apply only to authorizations for general obligation bonds which are not final as of June 23, 1970, the date of our decision." Accordingly the recent Washtenaw County June 8 election whereby non-property owners could vote on the bonding issue would not be valid.

Of those dissenting and upon the case the Arizona case decision was based it was stated, "The case before us bears only a superficial resemblance to Cipriano, for we deal here not with income-producing utilities that can pay for themselves, but with municipal improvements that must be paid for by the taxpayers. Under Arizona law a city's general bonded indebtedness effectively operates as a lien on all taxable real estate located within the city's borders." It further states that "privately owned real property in the city is burdened by the city's pledge -- and statutory obligation -- to use its real estate taxing power for the purpose of repaying both interest and principal under the bond obligation." It seems that one law says the property owners will not be overburdened and yet another states that they are legally responsible.

The decision is still apparently under study and may be questionable. The decisions reached in such a case are not the results of a congressional vote but rather of the Supreme Court Judges. However, public opinion is important and as advised by the Ann Arbor office of Mr. Esch, letters to our representatives are important and often make a vital difference in a final decision.

The following questions have been submitted by us to Rep. Roy Smith

1. Why should non-property owners be allowed to vote on bonding issues when property owners must be taxed and pay for it?
2. What would the State of Michigan do to provide for or in what way would property owners be protected from over-taxation?
3. What do some of these other states who have non-restricted voting on bonding issues do to protect property owners or provide a more fair-share tax base?
4. Would Michigan stipulate a special tax for non-property owners to carry more of the tax burden than they do through rent since most of these individuals have family members using the facilities property for in bonding issues? (When the non-property owners in Ann Arbor were allowed to vote on the recent bonding issues, the "yes" vote was a vast majority over the "no" vote.)

FAREWELL DINNER

Last Thursday late afternoon and evening the employees of the Union Savings Bank, their wives and husbands feted Dan and Mary Boutell at a cocktail hour and dinner party. The cocktail hour was held at the home of Dorothy and Ed Kirk. The Boutells were presented an outdoor gas grill; Mrs. Boutell received an orchid and Mr. Boutell a boutonniere. Following the cocktail hour the party then went to Bill Cones in Jackson for dinner.

"It was a very enjoyable but sad evening," one employee said. "The employees say farewell but not goodbye to someone we all respect and will greatly miss."

"It was a very nice party and Mary and I really enjoyed it and certainly appreciated it," Mr. Boutell said.

SIDEWALK SALE COMING JULY 22 IN MANCHESTER

The annual Manchester Sidewalk Sale is all set this year for Wednesday all day and night, July 22. This sales promotion is a joint effort of all the stores and most of the professional people in town; sponsored by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

This is the one everybody enjoys; the buyers as well as the sellers. You'll see brand new merchandise not offered for sale before. You'll find goods from all four seasons, and you may find something from the store room which you do not recognize any more. But all goods are new and unused and offered at ridiculously low prices. One half off is a standard quote for this sale and a lot of goods will go for 25% of their original prices. Some stores will sell with no sales tax. One store plans a price reduction on everything inside the store.

We can't say now what every store or shop will do but we can guarantee that you will find it very interesting. Watch for our ads and for more details in future editions of the Enterprise.

HURON VALLEY GIRL SCOUT HOLDING CAMP DEVELOPMENT FUND DRIVE IN MANCHESTER

Currently in our area, the Huron Valley Girl Scouts are in the midst of a Camp Development Fund Drive. Not another fund drive you say - this is the first one that the Girl Scout Council has had. Who will participate? Solicitation will be restricted to citizens who are considered to have an interest in Girl Scouting. Doesn't the Council receive money from the United Fund and Community Chest you ask. Yes, the Council receives allocations from both for operating expenses, but none can be used for building purposes.

Camping is great fun and provides an opportunity not only to catch frogs, burn sushers and make new friends, but also to learn moral values, responsibility and good citizenship. Present camp facilities can't handle all of the girls that want to go camping during the school year or summer so, that is the reason for their first capital fund campaign to raise
