40% OF UNITED FUND GOAL IS REACHED

Ted Stautz, campaign chairman for the Manchester United Community Fund and Red Cross Drive, announces 40% of goal reached by October 19 on the $16,322 goal for 1970. This report includes about 50% of the Businessmen's Division quota as reported by Harry Krauss; 40% of the Industrial Division goal reported by Clarence Fielder; 56% of organizations quota announced by Mrs. Allen Schaffer; Mrs. Robert Kirk reported the Manchester System at 60% and 100% of Special Gifts reported by Robert Ross, chairman.

Several house-to-house solicitors have completed their areas and the village chairman, Mrs. Herbert Mahony, reports 20% of their quota to date. The rural division chairman, Mrs. Lynn Voegeding, announces 30% of the rural quota. Both chairmen urge their house-to-house solicitors to finish their areas by this week and leaving the last week of the month for the necessary follow-ups and call-backs.

FOURTH GRADE TEACHERS SEEING DOUBLE

by Carolyn Ahrens

Luther C. Klager Elementary School has approximately 360 students ranging from kindergarten to 4th grade. This in itself is not unusual but what is a bit of a phenomenon is that out of the 88 fourth grade students, there are four sets of twins, two identical and two fraternal. Statistics for such a combination were not available. Ann Arbor Public Library Statistical Department reported, but it must be some kind of record for a community the size of Manchester, they remarked.

Kevin and Kathy Dixon, the fraternal twins of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dixon of 14340 Schleiweis Road, were born August 6, 1960 and are newcomers to the area as are Lori and Julie England, identical twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James England of 10950 Chelsea Road, who moved to Manchester last August. The England twins were born January 29, 1961.

Carol and Cheryl Brokaw, identical twin daughters of the Gary Brokaws of 636 W. Main, and who one fourth grade teacher finds impossible to tell apart, were born June 9, 1961. Exactly three months and two days later on September 11, Tom and Bonnie Brady became Manchester's second set of twins born within a year, and are the fraternal twins of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brady fo 6910 Hashley Rd.

Records of individual township births per year are no longer available (as of 15 years ago township births were no longer recorded separately but rather listed only as county births) but the Manchester births announced so far this year in the Manchester Enterprise are nine. According to the American Peoples Encyclopedia, twin births occur in about 1.15% of the total births or about one twin birth to 86 single births.

Identical twins, the encyclopedia describes, are genetically equivalent and thus are of the same sex. They tend to have similar blood type, finger-print patterns, eye and hair coloration, left or right handedness and many other similar characteristics while fraternal twins are no more closely related than are other siblings, the reference book states. Some parents however, find a special closeness between fraternal twins. Mrs. Birdella Flood, Principal of Klager School, pointed out that twins are not placed in the same classroom for many reasons but mainly to help a set of twins develop individual personalities which is often especially important for identical twins.

Miss Ethel Brown, Mrs. Phyllis Hamilton and Mrs. Jane Raus are the fourth grade teachers of the four sets of twins.

WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE A WHY

EDITORIAL REPRINT

The editorial below comes from pages of the Lapeer County Press. It deals with a problem which is not unique there.

PUBLIC HAS RIGHT TO BE SUSPICIOUS

How well are the widows and the children of this county being served by the lawyers? Are the estates of the deceased being promptly handled? Are the fees reasonable? Can a husband and father file a will in Probate Court in the secure knowledge that it will be efficiently and promptly administered?

The lawyers and judges know. But you don't know. The County Press doesn't know. The lawyers and judges won't tell us. They say they are protecting the private affairs of the deceased. Are they? Or are they protecting themselves? Who knows?

We hear stories. There is the recently verified case of the heirs still waiting for their first cent 5 years after the death. This is the rumor of a Lapeer County estate still unsettled after 22 years. There are telephone complaints from people who won't give their names because they fear the angered lawyers will further delay their case.

There is also the hushed-up case of the local lawyers who are passing the hat among themselves to reimburse some heirs who were somehow shorted by one of their fellow attorneys. Whether the lawyers should be lauded for their generosity or condemned for concealing a scandal cannot be said because only the barest facts are known.

As a spot check, the County Press wanted to submit to Probate Court names of 50 people who had died in the past 5 years. No names would be published without the consent of the heirs. We simply wanted to know how long it took to settle these estates and what was holding up any estates delayed for unusual periods.

We felt this type of check would at least give a rough indication of how speedily estates are being handled. It would show whether unusual delays are traceable to any particular lawyers. It would show Lapeer County people what they might expect if they should become involved in an estate.

We asked the Attorney General if we (and our readers) were entitled to this information. He said, of course we were. That's why, he explained, we have a law requiring estates to be overseen by the courts and filed in public buildings. It's so the public can look at the records and know what's going on.

But we were denied this right. Sure, we can sue - although finding a lawyer who will sue a fellow member of the bar is as tough as finding a doctor who will testify against another medic in a malpractice suit.

The point is, we shouldn't have to sue. What's gone wrong with this country? Why did we have to sue a township to get the names of people granted building permits? Why do we have to sue the courts to find out whether the estates of our fellow citizens are being promptly handled?

Do our officials feel Old Joe Taxpayer is too dumb to care? Do our officials feel they know what's best for Old Joe and it's no longer necessary to open the records to him?

Or do they have something to hide? The County Press has no reason to believe Lapeer County lawyers are up to any skull-duggery. But we also know that skull-duggery, even among lawyers, is not unheard of. The recent scandals of Livingston County (which is about the same size as Lapeer County) prove that the courts and the bar can be corrupt.

We would be truly surprised if a complete investigation here showed anything more than normal delay and carelessness among our local lawyers. We do not even hint that anything is rotten.

But the public has a right to be shown the records. The public has a right to more than a newspaperman's opinion (or a lawyer's reassurance) that everything is all right with our system of justice in Lapeer County.

The public also has the right to its suspicions whenever the records are covered up. Every lawyer and every judge in the county must live under that suspicion until the records are once again made open to the public.

This year's Field and Stream Club is comprised of about 25 seventh and eighth graders. The club's officers in the picture are: to r. Mark Feickema, club president; Marty Mentman, president; Bryan Eckerhauser, treasurer; and (back row) Kurt Kenser, secretary.

The activities of the club are varied and the enthusiasm the club generates is high. The club has 6 trap-shoots scheduled

They can check out at their leisure a 2-man tent, two 4-man tents, an electronic game table, an automatic skeet thrower, and any one of a number of books in a rapidly growing library. During the winter months the boys receive traps from the club for fox trapping.

To top off the club's activities the 8th grade boys take a 5-day fishing trip to Chapleau, Canada in May. All in all this is a very active club.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

by Gary A. Kleinhen

People think the English economist Malthus may have been a little loony when he promoted the idea that eventually the world's population would starve itself to death as folks would become too numerous and food would become too scarce. That was more than a hundred and fifty years ago. Modern philosophers have discounted Malthusian theories because we're pretty sure we won't eat ourselves out of existence. On the other hand . . . we could build ourselves out of existence if we don't protect the land.

It may sound a little farfetched until we consider that in Michigan alone more than 50,000 acres of the good earth each year is sealed under a coffin lid of buildings and highways. Nationally, more than one million acres a year is the estimate of newly entrapped land. Combined with this fact, the bystanding land and water which bears the brunt of resulting soil erosion and water pollution also becomes the victim of the nation's growth. With this "progress" perhaps the Malthusian theory could come true - not because of man's inability to produce adequate supplies of healthy foods, but because of his ability to fortify the earth from nature's gifts.

Man began farming thousands of years ago. The difference today is that the fast pace of destruction we now live gives man the foresight to see that we don't have thousands of more years left - but understanding the problem is no guarantee that action will be taken.

So protection of agriculture as a natural resource, just like the forests, waterways and wildlife, becomes an issue of serious magnitude.

A root cause of this waste is the value of the dollar. Simply stated, geographic location determines a land's desirability, therefore, property tax on farm land sky-rocket as the city sprawl draws nearer. Meanwhile, farmers, through economic pressures are forced to sell and more fertile land becomes buried.

A proposal to solve this dilemma is now in the Michigan Legislature. House Bill 2533 is designed to duly retard the disappearance of land by a reduction of high property taxes on agriculture land. At any time of voluntary sale, a special roll-back tax to make the sale equitable to non-farm land sales would be imposed. The action would permit the farmer to continue his food supply to the nation and would promote positive maintenance of one of our priceless natural resources.

Authorized Emergency Vehicle. (MSA

"If you're unhappy with the phone company, we'll get you action."

"It happens. Sometimes people have a legitimate complaint against the phone company.

"But too often they go to someone else for an answer. When we should be the first to hear about it.

"We're service and repair representatives at Michigan Bell, and if you need an answer for a slip up, call one of us first.

"We have a new way to handle complaints and unusual service requests much faster. Now if you should ever have a question for the phone company, you don't have to contact someone else.

"To take care of these hang ups, Michigan Bell has set up 'Special Action

Forces' in its local offices.

"Our 'Special Action Forces' are made up of specially trained people.

"They know the best ways to track down misplaced orders. To answer uncommon questions. To process even the most complicated service and repair requests.

"So if you ever have a telephone repair problem, just dial repair service; for any other service requests, call your service representative at your local Michigan Bell business office. If we can't solve your problem through regular channels, we'll turn it over to our 'Special Action Forces'.

"Now, if you contact us first, you'll get faster action."

COACHES CORNER

This week's game with No. 2 ranked Hudson should be a thriller. Hudson led by All-State Back John Wollet, will be hard to contain. In last year's game, Wollet had four T.D.'s and over 200 yards rushing, and played a fine defensive game. This will also be Hudson's Homecoming game.

Running back, Phil Nickerson has a total of 500 yards rushing and 765 total offense which includes interceptions. Mark Roberts who picked by a Dave Bucholtz fumble and scored, has 6 interceptions for the season.

Coach's Pick - John Kress

DUTCHMEN READY FOR HUDSON AFTER 28-8 WIN

The Dutchmen beat Morenci with their powerful offense and defense play. Phil Nickerson playing both ways. Rush for 116 yards and scored one T.D. plus intercepted one of Morenci's passes. Phil will go into the Hudson game with over 500 yards rushing. Mark Lentz went 5 yards for a T.D. and ran one conversion. Mark Roberts picked up a Dave Bucholtz fumble and went 5 yards for a T.D. Mark also intercepted a pass. Dave Bucholtz went 1 yard for a T.D. and then ran for the two point conversion.

Dave Tapping and Ken Tindall also recovered Morenci fumbles. The Dutchmen are working hard this week for their game with Hudson Friday. Head Coach John Korican said he will be missing only one Dutchmen for the big game and that one is John Weidmayer who was hurt two weeks ago. Coach Korican says his boys are ready to go; so, Friday night is going to be a big night for the Dutch.

LIBRARY BOARD WRITENS NECESSARY NOV. 3

Since 1938, one hundred thirty-two years, the Manchester Township Library Board has been appointed by the Township Board at the annual meeting in April. For the last 23 years, two members of the six member board have been appointed each year for a three year term. With the new Michigan Constitution, the term of office and the election procedure were not clear and at that time a ruling was requested from the Attorney General. This past July the ruling was given but too late for the August primary election, stating that library board members should be elected with the other Township officers and for six year terms. Manchester is the only Township in Washtenaw County with a Township Library, so the ruling is strictly Manchester's problem. Therefore, two library trustees must be elected at the November third election by write-ins. The two whose terms expire in March, 1971 are Mrs. Roland Grossman and Mrs. Franklin Reek. They hereby announce that they are willing to run for the offices which are open on the Library Board. Anyone else wishing to run for the position should announce his intentions so that the public will be able to write in its choice. Instructions for the use of the voting machines will be given again before Nov. 3 so that people can be alerted on how to proceed with write-ins as well as the regular machine voting techniques.

OUR RESOLUTIONS

A little less impatient with those we deem too slow; A little less of arrogance because of all we know; A little more humility, seeing our worth is slight; We are such trivial candles compared to stars at night!

A little more forgiving and swifter to be kind; A little more desirous the word of praise to find; The word of praise to utter and make a heart rejoice; A little bit more careful to speak with gentle voice.

A little more true eagerness to understand each other; A little more real striving to help a shipwrecked brother; A little more high courage to each task that must be done; These are our resolutions -- and God help everyone! -- Author Unknown

PROPOSAL "C" NO

"Vote 'no' on Proposal 'C'", public officials, private citizens and organized groups throughout Michigan urge voters on the November 3 ballot. Proposal "C", if accepted Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said, would bar the $22 million Parochial aid section that the Legislature included in a $969.3 million school aid appropriation; State aid in the form of specific tax benefits or payments to parents of children in parochial schools or their teachers; most auxiliary services such as speech correction, visiting teachers for delinquent and disturbed children, school diagnostic services, teacher counseling for physically, emotionally or mentally handicapped children, remedial reading and shared-time programs that some parochial and public schools have for teaching math, industrial arts or other vocational subjects such as drivers training.

Thomas B. Adams, Chairman of the Board of Campbell-Ewald Co. and a member of the Citizens Against Proposal "C" (MCAC) said, "In addition to the effect Proposal "C" would have on thousands of school children in Michigan, it would have an equally strong impact on millions of Michigan taxpayers. There are 280,000 children enrolled in 800 non-public schools in Michigan. These schools each year in state and local taxes. This figure does not include $1.2 billion in building replacement costs. I don't think our citizens realize at the moment what a real tax-saver's bargain our 800 non-public schools are for the people of Michigan."

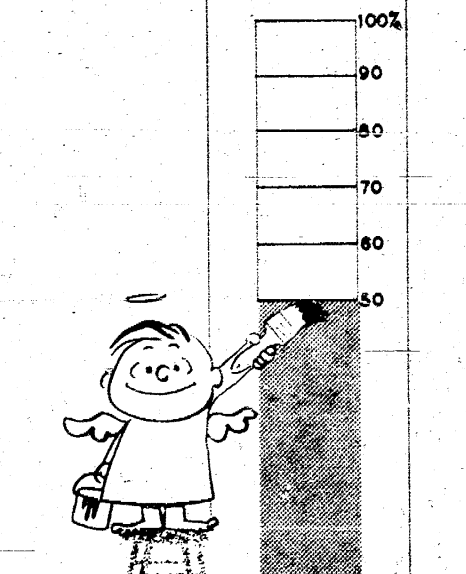

The State School Aid Bill, passed last July and which seems to have caused some confusion, did in no way effect public school monies. The State School Aid Bill allotted $22 million in State aid for Michigan's 280,000 non-public school students out of the $969.3 million approved in that State aid bill. The non-public school section of that bill allows the state to pay up to 50% of the salaries of non-public school lay teachers who teach secular subjects (those subjects not under religious control) and the bill also stipulates that state aid for non-public school children may not exceed 2% of the total expenditures for public education from state and local sources. About 85% of Michigan's 280,000 non-public school students attend Catholic schools, 14% attend Christian Reformed and Lutheran schools and the remaining students attend other non-public schools.

As pointed out by one area individual, "Parochial is not taking away from the public schools, but if help is not given the private and parochial schools, the taxpayers will find themselves with an even bigger tax burden." He added that under the State School Aid Bill, the state does have some control over non-public schools as it very well should have. "The state has a right to see that non-public schools keep a high standard of education with accredited teachers and subjects for both the protection of the state-allotted monies as well as the education standards of our children." He further pointed out that if anyone really wanted to get down to a priority basis, private schools were actually the first schools in this country and religious-oriented schools aren't new either. The University of Michigan was founded in Detroit by a Catholic priest and Brown University was founded under Baptist affiliation, both with the original intention of teaching theology students. He also pointed out the high scholastic standards evident in private and parochial schools.

Several individuals and groups are united in opposition to Proposal "C" including the State Board of Education, Gov. Wm. G. Milliken, Lenore Romney, Philip A. Hart, State Senator Sander M. Levin, Democratic candidate for governor and many others.

The outcome of Proposal "C" will indeed be one of the most important decisions ever made in Michigan.

PROPOSAL "C" YES

the thermometer in the Union Savings Bank window. A year ago it was at 75%. In an election year things always go more slowly and this year is no exception even though there is no increase in the amount to be collected for 1970 and pledges are running as usual or better individually.

Ted Stautz, campaign chairman, reports that by this Saturday, Oct. 31, reports will have to be in so that the follow-ups can be done by captains and division chairmen as soon in November as possible. Solicitors in the house-to-house divisions had a deadline of the 29th for their reports. Remember the slogan, "Helping Is Happiness."

COMING - A NIGHT WEAR FASHION SHOW

This is it - our annual MANCHESTER MOONLIGHT SALE - with store personnel dressed ready for bed. The date is Friday, Nov. 27, the day following Thanksgiving.

This novel sales event has been a lot of fun for both customers and store people in past years, and merchants are making careful and extensive plans for this one to be the most interesting ever.

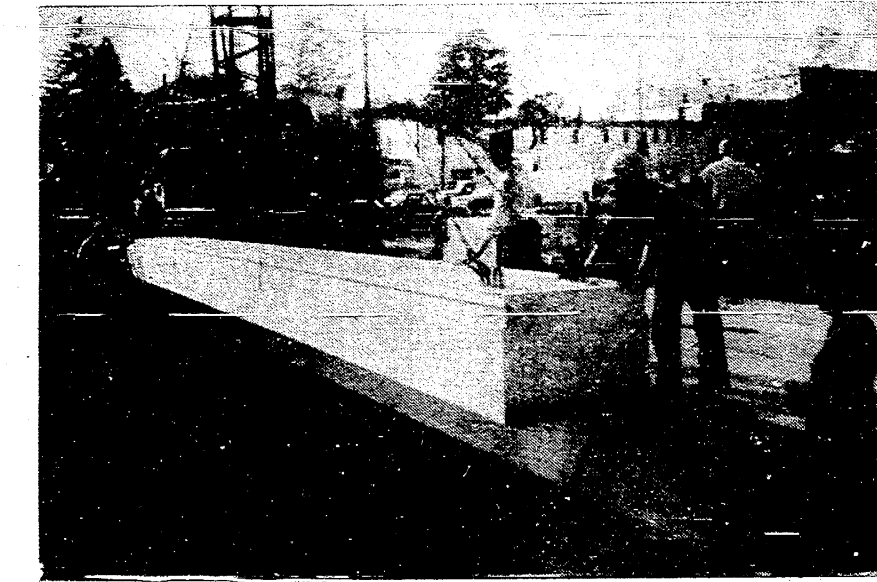

Stores are busy now getting night-shirts fashioned, and lining up a good stock of attractively priced merchandise for the sale. You will find substantial stocks of new goods ordered especially for this sale.

The event will be made more attractive by in-store prizes offered by some merchants and by the appearance of a "Mystery Shopper" with gifts to shoppers at random. Stores will close at 6:00 to make final adjustments and re-open at 8:00 to remain open until eleven.

Watch in future editions of the paper for a listing of goods offered by merchants for this sale.

Prizes will be awarded for best costumes, and customers are invited to compete for them.

This promotion is sponsored by the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

Wendell Reinhart, Chairman of the Public Works Committee of Manchester, reports that the Duncan Street bridge is nearing completion. Approximately 165 tons of concrete was used in the footings and wing walls for the pre-cast beams which were laid across the bridge surface last Friday. There were eleven beams used each weighing over 14 tons. These beams will now be pinned to the foundation and the joints grouted. Sidewalks will then be poured on each side and the bridge surface and approach to the 2-lane bridge will be asphalted. Aluminum railings will then be placed on each side. Reinhart added that repair on the Main St. bridge will get underway early next spring. Duncan St. bridge is under contract of Union Construction Company.

PROPOSAL "C" YES

The Michigan Association of School Administrators has been an active member of the Council Against Parochial aid and has given its support to efforts to place the parochial issue on the ballot November 3, 1970. M.A.S.A. continues its support and recommends a "YES" vote on Proposal "C".

Rational evaluation of this proposal has been clouded by references that the amendment goes too far. Based upon the opinion of their attorneys, it is the contention of M.A.S.A. that the amendment does not go too far.

In answer to the allegation that the proposed amendment would outlaw property tax exemption, their attorneys point out that Article IX, Section 4, of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 specifically allows for the exemption and that the U.S. Supreme Court recently upheld the exemption of churches from property tax. Furthermore, their legal counsel states that the Michigan Court of Appeals held on September 2 that the proposed amendment will not abrogate or repeal any existing provisions of the Michigan Constitution.

Nonpublic school pupils would not be barred from attending public schools to receive instruction in certain secular courses. Article VIII, Section 2, of the Michigan Constitution obligates the legislature to maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools for pupils without discrimination as to religion, creed, race, color or national origin.

Likewise, the proposed amendment would not deprive nonpublic school students of any auxiliary services such as speech correction and remedial reading programs and health and nursing services. It would simply require that such services be rendered, as the M.A.S.A. believe was originally intended, at public expense under public auspices and at public institutions.

In response to the contention that the proposed amendment will keep nonpublic school students from football fields, cut off fire and police protection from non-public schools, and stop public services and sanitation services, M.A.S.A.'s legal counsel states, "In case after case, the U.S. Supreme Court has made it perfectly clear that the kind of aid to nonpublic schools which presents constitutional problems has nothing to do with nondiscriminatory furnishing of police and fire protection and other customary services available to all, every individual homeowner regardless of creed, or profit and nonprofit institutions, public and private, on a non-discriminatory basis." Last week the Attorney General indicated agreement with this interpretation.

M.A.S.A. attorneys point out that Federal funds would not be in jeopardy with passage of the proposed amendment. Several states have similar restrictive anti-parochial amendments in their constitutions, and in none of these states have federal funds become unavailable.

The basic issue is that of direct aid to nonpublic schools. It is the $22,000,000 appropriated in 1970-71, an estimate of $50,000,000 in 1971-72, and no doubt full funding in the future, according to M.A.S.A. It is the fact that one-half of the cost of teachers' salaries which non-public schools receive in 1970-71 and three-fourths of teachers' salaries in the future will provide more state aid for a nonpublic school than for many public schools.

Let's not be fooled by the threat of closing all nonpublic schools and the scare of taking services away, says M.A.S.A. All will not close; services will still be available at public schools. This may be the last opportunity to stop mushrooming aid to nonpublic schools and to preserve the heritage of separation of Church and State as it relates to education. The people must sneak out!
