Annual Christmas Bazaar

A season filled with the possibilities of joy and generosity, but so often stifled with chores and duty shopping. A handmade gift represents a warmer thought, a friendlier approach to the giving and sharing.

Leading the way, with good heart and ready hands, are the Manchester women, members of three Village Churches, working together on the Second Annual Combination Christmas Bazaar. To be held Wednesday, December 1, 9-5 p.m., at the Manchester United Methodist Church Hall, the Ecumenical endeavours of the Methodist ladies, the women of Emanuel Church of Christ and of St. Mary's Catholic Church will provide one day of shopping for the Village instead of three separate functions as in past years.

Co-chairwomen of the event are Virginia Fielder, Lucy Roberts and Shirley Roller.

If you have a problem gift or simply wish to offer something a little different, or perhaps to treat the family to unusual baked goods made from old family recipes, then this is your chance. Aprons, tablecloths, baby clothes, knitted and crocheted garments, and of course fruit cake and pretzels. Beginning at 11:30 til 1 p.m. luncheon will be served with delicatessen food for sale.

A good opportunity to have lunch out that day, shop for Christmas and take home goodies for a special treat.

Special Election Tuesday, Nov. 30

For the first time in the history of Washtenaw County voters will have an opportunity to vote on a proposition specifically intended for moderately and severely mentally retarded and multiply handicapped school age children. On November 30th at a special county wide election a proposition will be presented to the voters which if passed will permit the building of a Mental Retardation Service Center.

A specific place of their own for the mentally retarded would be another first in the history of Washtenaw County, because these mentally retarded children have always been in someone else's buildings such as churches or vacated schools and these have never been adequate for their program and service needs.

The proposed Center will be able to serve over 200 children daily and another 200-300 children from the county can receive needed diagnostic and assessment services. The responsibility for building and directing this Center will rest with the Washtenaw Intermediate School District.

The cost of constructing, equipping and furnishing the proposed Center is $2,700,000. A bonding program for this sum would mean a tax increase of .19 mill or 19¢ per $1,000 assessed evaluation. The additional annual cost to a family with a home with a market value of $25,000 and assessed at $12,500 would be $2.37 1/2 for only twelve years or a total of $28,500.

The proposition on the November 30th ballot asks permission for the Washtenaw Intermediate School District to borrow the money to build a place for the moderately and severely mentally retarded children of Washtenaw County.

PLEASE BE SURE TO VOTE!

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. W. James Hone of Manchester announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Richard M. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Davis of Saline.

The bride elect is a 1969 graduate of Manchester, the future groom is a 1968 graduate of Saline.

No date has been set for the wedding.

The Annual Community Thanksgiving Service will be held on Thanksgiving morning beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the Manchester United Methodist Church. Clergy of the community will be participating in the service with Father Schlinkert of the St. Mary's Catholic church bringing the Thanksgiving meditation.

Churches joining together for this meaningful service will be the Bethel United Church of Christ, the Emanuel United Church of Christ, the St. Mary's Catholic Church, the Sharon United Methodist Church and the Manchester United Methodist Church. This service is for the entire community and everyone is welcome.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

The staff of the Manchester Enterprise would like to wish everyone a very happy and safe Thanksgiving Holiday.

Random sequence number 125 has been set as the year-end ceiling for 1971 draft calls, it has been announced by Arthur A. Holmes, state director of Selective Service.

Class I-A registrants who are 20 years of age or older with RSN 125 or below who are not inducted in 1971 will have their liability for induction extended into 1972. They will be subject to induction during 1972 along with other men who are in the extended priority selection group.

Other registrants in Class I-A during 1971 with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to an extended priority group will be transferred to the second priority selection group in 1972 and will not be subject to induction except in a national emergency.

Deferred registrants with RSN 126 and over who have never been assigned to the extended priority group may drop their draft deferments in favor of a I-A classification during the remainder of 1971. By dropping their deferments these men complete their exposure to induction in 1971. They will then be transferred to a lower priority in 1972. They would be liable for induction only in a national emergency.

Application forms are available at all draft boards for registrants who wish to request termination of present deferments under this policy. Written requests must be received by local boards no later than December 31, 1971.

This policy applies to deferred registrants such as high school students in 1-S, occupational or technical student deferments in 2-A, agricultural deferments in 2-C, college students in 2-S, divinity students in 2-D or 4-D and hardship deferments in 3-A.

NOTICE

The American Legion Junior Auxiliary will meet Friday, November 26, at 1:30 p.m. at the Legion Hall to plan a Christmas program.

Farmers can learn some new ways of taking the uncertainty out of next year's corn prices by enrolling now in a series of hedging workshops sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service.

The workshops will be held December 2, 9 and 16 at the Lenawee Voc-Tech School in Adrian from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. according to Bill Ames, Washtenaw County extension agent.

"They're back by popular demand," Ames says. "Most of the 200 farmers who attended last year and a lot of new fellows, too, have asked that they be held again."

The workshops cover price fluctuations, forward contracting, the futures market, export markets and hedging. But the best parts of the meeting, as far as most farmers are concerned, are the seven actual case studies which workshop participants tackle.

Workshop instructors include members of Michigan State University's Department of Agricultural Economist, commodity brokers, commercial grain marketers, and members of Michigan's extension marketing program.

The workshops concentrate mainly on corn, but other commodities are considered.

"The main thing is that farmers become acquainted with economics, the markets, the terms and so on," comments Ames. "Our basic text is the commodity page of the Wall Street Journal."

How valuable did farmers find last year's workshops? "Well, one participant figured he made $250 an hour by selling four futures contracts (30,000 bushels of corn) last February at $1.54, Ames says.

"Of course, participating in the futures market does not guarantee a profit," Ames cautions. "But those who are better informed have a better chance."

Farmers wishing additional information should contact Bill Ames at the Washtenaw County Extension Office, telephone 663-7511, ext. 227.

ARC CAUTIONS PARENTS OF HAZARDOUS TOYS

As the great Christmas surge to the nation's toy counters gets under way, parents should be particularly careful to select toys for their children that are not potentially dangerous, warns the American Red Cross.
 "Although consumers' groups have publicized the problem of perilous toys and some have been forced off the market, the primary responsibility to insure that a child's playthings will not be injurious is still that of the parents," says Robert M. Oswald, Red Cross director of Safety Programs.
 "Toy construction is of prime importance," he advises. "Kids are rough on toys and frequently misuse them - so they should be durable." Plastics that shatter, metal that bends easily or has sharp edges, and wood that splinters or has unsanded edges should be avoided. The toy should be made so that parts cannot be broken off and swallowed or left with sharp edges exposed.

Although there are thousands of electrical toys now on the market, those with batteries are recommended for younger children. Batteries should be checked frequently for corrosion leakage. If a plug-in type toy using household current is purchased, be sure it carries the UL (Underwriters Laboratories) test label. An electric train or race set should have a circuit breaker on the transformer. If not handled carefully, play stoves, irons, metal moulding and wood burning sets can inflict serious burns.
 "All electrical toys should be inspected frequently and kept in good repair," says Mr. Oswald. "Worn parts or faulty insulation could cause a severe accident, not only to the child, but possibly to the entire household."
 Dolls and stuffed animals can be potentially dangerous, the safety director said. Children have been known to eat the stuffing or hair and have swallowed button eyes that have been glued or stapled to the figure. The Red Cross recommends that detachable eyes on dolls or stuffed figures be removed and replaced by embroidered eyes.

Projectile-type-toys -- bows and arrows, darts, air guns -- can also cause serious injuries. Wheeled toys cause more injuries than any other type. Painted playthings and coloring sets should be checked to be sure the paints are nontoxic. Riding toys and large play equipment should be stabilized so that they cannot be tipped over.

Baby toys should be capable of being sterilized. Don't give a baby anything small enough to put in its mouth. Toys with long cords or that are strung across cribs have been the cause of strangulation of tots.
 "Selecting toys is largely a matter of common sense," said Mr. Oswald. "Don't buy toys on impulse. Try to match the toy to the interests and capabilities of the child."

The Red Cross Safety Director suggests you ask yourself the following questions before purchasing toys:
 1. How will the child use it?
 2. What are the possibilities of misuse?
 3. Is it durable enough to stand up to ordinary play and misuse?
 4. Will younger sisters and brothers have access to the toy?
 5. Are you willing to take time to teach the child the proper method of using the toy?
 6. Will safe use of the toy require constant supervision?

"Cooks in minutes -- not hours"

Anyone unfamiliar with the sport of curling might call it the "Fun with Brooms" game, but an experienced curler knows it requires skill and strategy. Curling originated over five centuries ago in Scotland and gets its name from the stone, which is always given a slight turn that causes it to rotate or "curl" as it slides across the ice. In a match, teams take turns sliding the stones over a stretch of ice toward the target circle. Two energetic players "sweep" the ice in front of the stone with brooms to influence the path of the stone as it moves across the curling sheet toward the target circles. The center of the circles, "the house" is the tee and stones are measured from the tee to determine the score.
 Of course, food is part of the fun of a "bonspiel", and these snacks are Curling Club specialties. They can be easily prepared for a crowd of starving curlers after a match.

Peppermint Ginger Bars

Sugar and spice — and everything nice — make a welcome holiday appearance in a tasty bar cookie.

Peppermint Ginger Bars incorporate two seasonal favorites — gingerbread and gaily-striped candy canes. Rich in fragrant spices and sweet molasses, each chewy cookie is laced with crushed peppermint candy. To emphasize the flavor, mint is blended into and sprinkled on top of the smooth cream cheese icing.

Send Peppermint Ginger Bars off to school with the children, to work with the grown-ups or to wish the best of the season to friends and neighbors. They're moist, long-lasting and nutritious because they're made with enriched flour. "Enriched" on the label promises essential B-vitamins, thiamine, niacin and riboflavin, plus the mineral, iron — nutrients needed daily for good health.

PEPPERMINT GINGER BARS

- 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/2 cup light molasses
 - 1 1/2 cups enriched flour*
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1/2 teaspoon ginger
 - 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
 - 1/2 cup crushed peppermint candy
 - Peppermint Icing
 - 2 tablespoons crushed peppermint candy
- 3 1/2 cups confectioners' sugar
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons water
- 1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract
Red food coloring
- Cream together 2 cups confectioners' sugar and cream cheese until light and fluffy. Add water, peppermint extract and a few drops food coloring. Blend in remaining sugar.
- *Spoon flour into dry measuring cup. Level. Do not scoop.
- NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit salt.

"THE HONEST CUSTOMER"

"The honest customer pays a higher price for everything he buys because shoplifters increase the cost of running a business. He does not steal himself, but he pays for those who do. And in the same manner, the individual worker will pay for pollution control whether it affects him personally or not. He will pay because as the basic producer he is the only source, regardless if the cost is passed onto him through the agency of government or business."

SAME LAWS

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission reminds motorists that bicycles are governed by the same laws as motor vehicles. When you're passing or meeting a bike rider, treat him with care and courtesy... he has every right to be on the road, too.

"DID YOU KNOW?"

"Did You Know?," queries Commerce magazine, that "Salmon P. Chase, President Lincoln's treasury secretary, first came up with the idea of decorating currency with pictures of famous people. Chase, who later became chief justice of the Supreme Court and namesake of the Chase Manhattan Bank, had in mind to run for president. He thought he could boost his image by appearing on the dollar bill. Washington replaced him there, but Chase is on the $10,000 bill."

FEDERAL AID

"The more free federal aid becomes, the less free will Americans be. If only because they'll be forced to spend more time working to pay taxes and have less time free to work for their own needs."

THANKSGIVING

The "thaw" in the nation's wage price freeze is now under way. President Nixon's extraordinary measures to stabilize wages and prices and reduce unemployment have drawn mixed reactions. Most Americans agree on his goals. More jobs and less inflation add up to economic progress.

Inflation is one of the top problems plaguing the nation's farmers according to William J. Kuhfuss, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

In a speech given in Ohio Kuhfuss said, "Farm production costs, which have been at record highs, rose slightly in the month period ending October 15, the second month of the 90-day wage-price freeze and partially offset gains for hogs, milk, oranges, cotton and wheat.

"As a result, the parity ratio on October 15 was 69, only one point higher than September, one of the lowest levels since December, 1933. In December, last year, the parity ratio fell to 67 equaling a 37-year low," the national farm leader said.

The parity ratio generally is considered as a measure of how well off farmers are in relation to the rest of the country. Inflation is taking a big bite at the nation's farmers.

It's hard to believe the U.S. House Labor Committee has reported a bill which many people believe would cut employment and add to inflationary pressures. The Committee approved a bill to raise the minimum wage and extend coverage to more people.

The industrial minimum wage would be increased only to two dollars an hour, which certainly is not very high. But it's probably high enough to keep some teenagers and elderly people, as well as many of the physically and mentally handicapped from getting jobs. It can also cause higher paid workers to want the same proportionate increases in their wages as the unskilled would be getting under the law.

The Labor Committee's bill would increase the agricultural minimum wage too. Here again the minimum wage would cause a problem, because of low farm prices, and give further impetus to mechanization of farm work.

If Congress wants to, it can raise the wages for all of us, but it can't make employers hire us. They can also slow down inflation if they want to by cutting federal deficit spending by government.

FAA GENERAL AVIATION EDUCATION CLINIC

Pilots from Jackson and surrounding areas will be attending an FAA General Aviation Education Clinic, Tuesday, December 7, 1971 at 7:30 p.m. The program will be co-sponsored by the National Aero Club together with Fox Flying Enterprises, Lake Aviation and Maule Flight all of whom are actively promoting aviation safety.

Volunteers from the audience will be able to experience, and demonstrate the effects of vertigo, or spatial disorientation. Short films of general interest will be presented by Carl Borchen, the FAA Accident Prevention Specialist for this district. A short presentation on stalls and a discussion of safety services available through the sponsoring operators will be offered.

All pilots, student through Airline Transport are welcome, there is no charge and plenty of parking space is available. The meeting will be held at the Ulmer Spatz Restaurant at Bel-ford Maule Field, Napoleon, Michigan. Seating will be available for approximately 100 people.

HURON VALLEY GIRL SCOUT COUNCIL

The Kresge Foundation of Detroit has awarded a grant of $50,000 to the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, it was announced today by Mrs. James A. Kennedy, President of the Council. The grant is to be applied toward the purchase of new administrative office facilities for the council.

The office of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council has been located at 310 South Huron in Ypsilanti for ten years. According to Mrs. Kennedy the number of Girl Scouts served by the council has nearly doubled in ten years from 6,000 girls to 12,000 girls. "We've simply outgrown our present office and need to find new facilities," she said. "The over-crowding makes council services much less efficient."

One professional staff member even has her office in a hallway.

"We're elated and encouraged by the generosity of the Kresge Foundation," she said. "It will serve as an incentive for us to do what is necessary to get a new building soon." No definite plans have been made yet regarding purchase of a new office for the Girl Scouts, she said, but she expects a decision will be made within a few weeks.

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council includes Scouts in Washtenaw and Livingston Counties, Monroe County, and Western Wayne County including the towns of Plymouth, Northville, Westland, Wayne, Belleville, Romulus, and Flat Rock. Council operations are partially financed by twelve United Funds and Community Chests in this area.

The Answer

"If you have a problem, we believe that in the Word of God can be found the answer." Write "The Answer", Manchester, Michigan 48158.

Question: I know a boy who is nineteen who says he doesn't believe in God. He says the Bible is a fairy tale. I don't understand this because he has had a Christian home life. What can I do to change his thinking?

Answer: This sort of rebellion at this age is not unusual. Many young people today are "defecting" from their early upbringing. The reasons are many. Sometimes this is because of the influence of an unbelieving high school teacher or college professor who has had a great influence on their lives. Perhaps this has come about because the young man finds it easier, when faced with questions concerning his faith, to claim that he doesn't believe than to search for the truth. Then too, this may be a cover-up for questions which are seriously troubling him.

Whatever the reason, you can find hope in the fact that many Christians have had periods in their lives when they questioned and doubted the Bible and God. Upon searching more deeply for the truth they eventually came to the conclusion that only "the fool hath said in his heart, there is no God." (Psalm 14:1). This is often the case with many of our young people today. Upon searching further they return to their early upbringing and become useful and productive followers of Jesus Christ.

As for what you can do. If there is to be a change in his thinking it will be God's doing. However, you may be used of God to bring about a change in this young man. Do not cease to pray for him, and reason with him. But, whatever you do, don't argue with him and thus further alienate him. Your example is more important than are your words.

MANCHESTER WRESTLING TEAM

The 1971-72 version of the Manchester wrestling team has started practice with a turnout of over 30 boys, freshmen thru seniors. The team is again being coached by Mr. Ted Gulliver and he is being assisted by Tim Preston and Dave Roberts.

The team has eight returning lettermen and have a more balanced team than past years. Hugh Haeussler, last years conference heavy weight champ and Bob Preston second at 105 pounds are the co captains and are expected to lead the team. Mark Chapin is the only other returning Senior, but should get some support from Doug Flint, Scott Limpert, and Mike Brady who are Seniors in their first year. Rounding out the returning lettermen are Juniors Delius Wolfe, and Mike Johnson and sophomores Steve Cross, John Roberts, and Greg Bertke. Some other experienced boys who should really help the team this year are Tim Ahrens, Dave Benedict, Randy Seegert, George Merriam and Doyle Keasal. Add to these a fine turnout of Freshman and it could be an outstanding year.

The wrestlers face a tougher schedule than last year, but would still like to improve on last years 10 win, 2 loss record and second place league finish.

The first wrestling match will be December 2 at Stockbridge and the home opener will be with arch rival and defending league champions, Clinton on December 9 at 7:00 p.m. with exhibitions starting at 6:30 p.m.

SIGNUP SET WITH NO EXTENSION

Signup period for the 1972 Grain Program will be January 17 through February 25, and there will be no extension, Raymond Girbach Chairman of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee announced today.

According to Mr. Girbach, the 1972 Feed Grain Program is designed to achieve a feed grain set-aside of at least 35 million acres, compared with 18.2 million acres this year.

With new options presented to farmers for 1972 the Secretary of Agriculture must have set-aside commitments by February 25 to enable him to determine whether to accept farmer offers of optional set-aside if sign-up is short of the desired 35 million acres.

To do this, he said, it is imperative that we have an early sign-up. Farmers have from now until January 17 to make their plans and to sign up within the allotted period.

Mr. Girbach indicated it is necessary to set-aside at least 35 million acres this coming year to help offset the record corn production of 1971. Also, he said, the basic goals of the 1972 Feed Grain Program are to give farmers more opportunity for decision making on their farms, and to protect and improve their incomes.

"The 1972 Feed Grain Program will reduce carryover stocks, help our agricultural production in line with anticipated needs, and will encourage farmers to put greater reliance on the marketplace as the principal source of farm income," he said.

ATTENTION SENIOR CITIZENS

Attention Senior Citizens of Manchester! Note the change of date from November 25th to November 30th at 2 o'clock at the Emanuel Church Hall.

Wedding Vows Spoken

St. Mary's Catholic Church was the setting for the marriage of Renee Marie Kirk and James Owen Marks. Father Raymond Schlinkert officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a princess line gown of candlelight ivory crepe. Cluny lace trimmed the front of the dress from the neckline to the hem and the back of the dress to the chapel train. The lace also trims the bell sleeves. The jewel neckline was accented by a diamond lavaliers belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. John

P. Cook of Chelsea. Her Juliet cap secured her silk illusion veil which covered her train. She carried a colonial bouquet of bridal roses and baby mums.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Allan Jaworski of Ann Arbor and Mr. James E. Kabel of Taylor. Seating the guests were Mr. Gerald A. Dewaters from Kalamazoo and Mr. Randolph J. Helms from Riverdale, Illinois.

The matron of honor wore a gown with lilac crepe bodice with leg of mutton sleeves. The skirt was a deep purple panne velvet. She carried a bouquet of pink miniature carnations and white mums.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kirk chose a plum panne velvet dress and wore a rose cymbidium corsage.

Parents of the newly weds are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin J. Kirk of Manchester and Mrs. Isabelle Pepe and the late Mr. Robert S. Marks of Lake Worth, Florida.

The couple will honeymoon in West Palm Beach, Florida. They will reside at 13236 Schleweis Road, Manchester when they return.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD BY FATHER FISHER COUNCIL

A memorial mass, celebrated by Father Raymond Schlinkert, council chaplain, was held Thursday, November 18, at 7:00 p.m. for the following deceased members: George Swank, Fred Binder, Robert Kirk, William Kramer, Archie O'Conner, Hugh Walsh, Father Kalonowski, Lawrence Wurster, Elmer Below and Walter Schaible. Assisting at the mass were William Schwab, Lehman Wahl, Larry Benedict, Danny and Ted Roberts, Joe Kastl, Allen Benedict and Edward Galoway.

A Social Hour, following the memorial service, was held at the K of C Hall.

VOICES FROM HOME TO BE MADE IN A

If your serviceman is unable to be at home during the holidays, you can send him a record "Voices from Home" by contacting the Red Cross headquarters in Ann Arbor --- just call 971-5300 and ask for the Service to Military Families Department.

Relatives and friends of the serviceman or woman can come to the Red Cross and record, by appointment, a private message, songs or a planned program including all the family. The recording is then sent directly to the individual who is in the armed services. Over the years "Voices from Home" have brought a special Christmas to thousands away from home.

BROWNIES INVESTURE

Forty Brownies from Troops 649, 650, and 651 were invested on Thursday, November 18th, at 7:30 at Emanuel Church Hall.

Their leaders are Mrs. Jack Rafelli, Mrs. Clare Knickerbocker, Mrs. Larry Wright, and Mrs. Ruth Burch. Mrs. George Dobner was the Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening.

BROWNIE HAYRIDE

Forty happy Brownies went on a Hayride from 11:00 - 2:00 on Saturday November 13th. We left from Carr Park and rode to the Larry Hasen farm. All the girls took a sack lunch.

week. Residents of the village should be receiving their March of Dimes "mailers" very soon.

The mail campaign, although it has recently been abandoned in the rural areas, is still considered to be the best method of distributing educational material about The National Foundation - March of Dimes and its comprehensive programs against birth defects.

Once again, the Kulenkamp family, formerly of Manchester and now residents of Hillside Terrace in Ann Arbor, prepared the "mailers" for distribution. The Kulenkamps look upon their work for the March of Dimes as an additional tie to their friends and neighbors in Manchester.

Co-Op Nursery News

Do you know how gravel is made? The children attending the Manchester Co Op Nursery School do! One of their two field trips this month was to the gravel pit in Manchester where they watched the heavy equipment process gravel from chunks of rock and earth.

This process seemed to amaze the children and most of them especially enjoyed watching the heavy equipment in action.

Their second trip was to Webster's Turkey Farm in Saline where they saw live white turkeys. Afterwards, they stopped at the Saline park and had a picnic.

Besides their other Thanksgiving projects, like making hand print turkeys, the children made cranberry-orange relish for their Thanksgiving dinners--and I heard from a very reliable source that it was delicious!
