Saline Hospital Telethon

Saline Community Hospital's fund-raising Telethon concluded successfully with the announcement by Telethon Committee Chairman Harold Gage that more than $100,000 had been raised during the eight-day project.

"I know everyone on the committee has been impressed with the response we have received," said Gage. "We've had a truly fine group of volunteers helping night after night on this project. We all enjoyed it and, of course, it's certainly helping move the total campaign close to the goal."

The Hospital has now received gifts and pledges totalling more than $1,060,000, Hospital officials announced. The $1,250,000 fund-raising drive was launched January 27 to help provide the cost of a new 82-bed Hospital in Saline.

Construction of the new facility, which is being built adjacent to the present building began in February. When the new Hospital opens in about 12 months, the present Hospital will be converted to a medical sciences center housing doctors' offices. Being built next to the Saline Hospital is a separate 154-bed nursing home. To be owned and operated by the Detroit Evangelical Home, the nursing facility and the Hospital were jointly planned and are being built simultaneously using the same contractors.

Hospital Campaign Finance Committee Chairman Kenneth H. Rogens, commented on the campaign status: "We certainly feel we are right on target toward our overall goal at this time. We do still have a number of individual and major corporate prospects from whom we

by Carl P. Austin
MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

As a nation, we have become used to spending a very small portion of our average income for food. Americans, for the most part, have been spoiled by our agricultural productivity and the efficiency and innovativeness of the U.S. food processing and distribution industries.

Most people refuse to recognize that the general pressure of inflation which continues to increase the dollar cost of everything we buy has, of course, influences food prices. In the case of some key food products, available supply is slightly short, while demand is strong. This situation nudges the already inflated price even higher.

For the past few months, as food prices creep upward, some people have been yelling that the only way food prices could be tamed is by rigid controls.

There is no way price ceilings can cure this situation. The cost of supplies needed by a farmer to produce meat is not under a ceiling, so will continue to rise. Ceilings will simply reduce the rate of return to farmers and make it harder to invest money to increase production.

Consider the matter of beef prices which have been much in the limelight. The demand for beef has almost doubled in twenty years, which is the major cause of increased pressure on prices. The price of feed, which accounts for 80 percent of the meat producer's costs, has gone up like an express elevator.

What it all boils down to is that the forces of inflation all along the line, combined with increasing demand for some food items, have finally hit America's grocery bill, just as they have everything else. So, the natural thing to do is yell for controls.

But controls on one segment of the economy will only depress production initiative. If controls are to be the answer, they will have to be imposed all along the line to be effective.

MANCHESTER FAIR BOARD MEETING

The Manchester Fair Board met April 10, 1973 at L. Dean Sodd's home. Thirteen members and two committee chairmen were present.

Bids are being accepted until April 14th for printing of the Fair Book, and advertising in the book is now being solicited. The board would like to promote an antique car day during the Fair to include exhibits and events. We are looking for a chairman for this committee. The Antique Show and Flea Market will be dropped from the Fair this year due to lack of interest last year.

There was a lengthy discussion on the problems of special gate passes being misused and mishandled. The Executive Committee was charged with setting specific rules regarding gate passes. Some rule changes were made in the exhibitor's classes including a fourteen year age limit in the Pet Contest, and other suggestions are being considered regarding a further breakdown in age groups for exhibitors.

The elementary school is being asked to partake in a contest to design a cover for this year's Fair Book. A prize of $5 will be awarded to the child whose picture is selected. The board entertained a suggestion that we have a special art display of projects from school

The last few months we have been telling you of the wonders of Chiropractic and still you have put off coming to see us.

DON'T YOU THINK YOU'VE WAITED LONG ENOUGH????

How many pills, and shots are you going to take before you try Chiropractic? How many organs are you going to let them cut up and take out before you try Chiropractic?? How many of your friends and loved ones are you going to watch die before you try Chiropractic??? Isn't it about time you started working WITH your body. Don't you know that those pills you are taking are poisons to your body and that they have harmful side effects?? Do you believe that God put us on this earth and then forgot about us and left us to suffer and die? Do you believe that someone who is perfect put useless organs in our body so that when we're 14 years old and have nothing better to do we can have our appendix ripped out; or when we're 30 have our gall bladder removed; or our tonsils; or kidney; or lung; or female organs?

OF COURSE NOT!! you don't believe that any more than I do. But why are we sick, you say? In this world there are laws... no I'm not talking about man-made laws. I'm talking about Universal Laws, laws that apply to everyone and everything. For example, EXCESS, anything in excess is no good and so it is destroyed. Farmers have known this for a long time. They know if they keep taking nutrients out of the soil for a long enough time without replacing them that the soil is soon unproductive. Scientists have known for a long time that the law of Excess also applies to the human body. Whenever we do anything in excess (eating, sleeping, working, accidents, falls, injuries, trauma, etc.) our body "pays the price." In other words, when we interfere with our body it quits working in harmony, and then we get what is called "symptoms", warning signs to us that something is wrong. Many times these warnings are ignored and are not looked after until "it is too late, we didn't catch it in time."

Instead of treating symptoms, why not get to the cause. Chiropractic corrects the CAUSE and allows your body to function normally again, NATURALLY!!

See you soon, don't put it off!

'73 Dutchmen Golf Team

The Manchester High School Golf team has several returning veterans from last year's team. The prospects for a winning team look good with the addition of some new candidates. Two members of last year's team, Pat Fielder, Jeff Wallace along with transfer student Bob Nickels form the nucleus of this year's varsity team. The fourth and fifth man positions are being sought by last year's letter winners Larry Stautz, Dave Benedict and George Olsen.

New first year members who are also seeking starting roles with good first week showings are sophomore Mike Kobrehel, freshmen Craig Fielder and Tom Blossom. Other members are Jim Baker, Ralph Bower, Matt Little, Jeff Schlicht and Terry Walter.

The Dutch have a twelve match league schedule and four non-league matches with Chelsea, Saline, and Sand Creek.

The Varsity golf team began L. C. A. A. competition with an impressive victory over Morenci at the Boondocks Golf Course on Friday, April 13th. The team totals were 172 which was six strokes better than the previous team record. Media-list winner was Jeff Wallace with a 41, followed by Bob Nickels with a 42, Pat Fielder with a 44 and Dave Benedict with a 45. Morenci was paced by Curt Holstein with a 45. Team total for Morenci was a 195.

The Dutch return to the links against Sand Creek on April 25 at the Boondocks. The following day another non-league match will be held at Saline with the J. V. team in competition.

On Friday, April 27, Clinton will be the second league opponent at the Boondocks.

Look Solid In Field Events

"If we're really going to do well this year", stated Manchester High Track Coach Larry Steeb, "we've got to go into the running events with a solid lead from the field events" (high jump, long jump, shot put, long jump).

The leading performer in the field events this year should be last year's L. C. A. A. League pole vault champion, Junior, Scott Gormley. In fact, Gormley might get tired out just from all the running around he'll get as Coach Steeb is planning on using him 3 of the 4 field events. Besides the pole vault, Scott will be entered in the long jump and the shot-put.

Senior Dan Beach is also a fine field event performer, with bests of 5'10" in the high jump and 10 foot in the pole vault and event he took 3rd place in last year's league meet.

The shot-put is a question mark for the Dutchmen this year with the departure of last season's top performer, Scott Limpert. This season the only performer with competitive experience is senior, Doyle Keasal. Keasal has worked hard on his style and looks to be much improved from last season.

The top performer so far this spring has been first year performer Randy Seegert. Seegert, a senior, is definitely well suited to the event, but will need much improvement in style to place high at the league meet.

Also putting the shot this spring will be 3 other first year performers, junior Joe Kress, sophomore Bill Mann, and freshman Dave Clark. All three have shown the strength to place in the event, but as with any new performer they need refinement in their techniques to perform consistently.

The high jump looks to be one of the Dutchmen's strong events this spring, besides Beach who is gunning for the 6 foot mark, the Dutch can look to junior, John Savage (5'7") best in 72) who was the top point scorer in the event for the team last year.

Adding depth to this event will be junior Bruce Cray and sophomore Kurt Kenster, both boys being capable of point gaining performances.

The long jump has gained much need depth this season with 5 boys capable of jumps long enough to gain points for the squad.

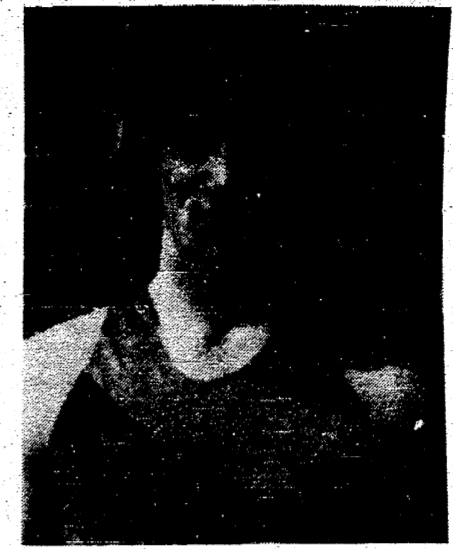

Besides the versatile Scott Gormley the Dutchmen have senior, co-captain Mark Spencer who has already gone over the 18 foot mark indoors this year, as has junior Brad Frey. Both Spencer and Frey look to be solid 18 foot performers with possibilities of jumps 2 feet farther.

Also jumping well this spring in practice have been sophomore Kurt Kosceski, who packs alot of spring in his small frame, and promising freshman Dave Gunther.

The pole vault was the top field event last spring and it looks even stronger this year as both Gormley and Beach look strong enough to top their best performances of last year in their first meet.

Adding depth to go with the high flying duo of Gormley and Beach will be sophomore first year man John Young. Coach Steeb feels Young can be a point getter this year if he can overcome some of his technique faults.

If the Dutchmen Thinclads are to have a winning season this spring, the field events will have to lead the way.

Randy Seegert, much of the Dutchmen's hopes in the shot depend on the strong right arm of Seegert.

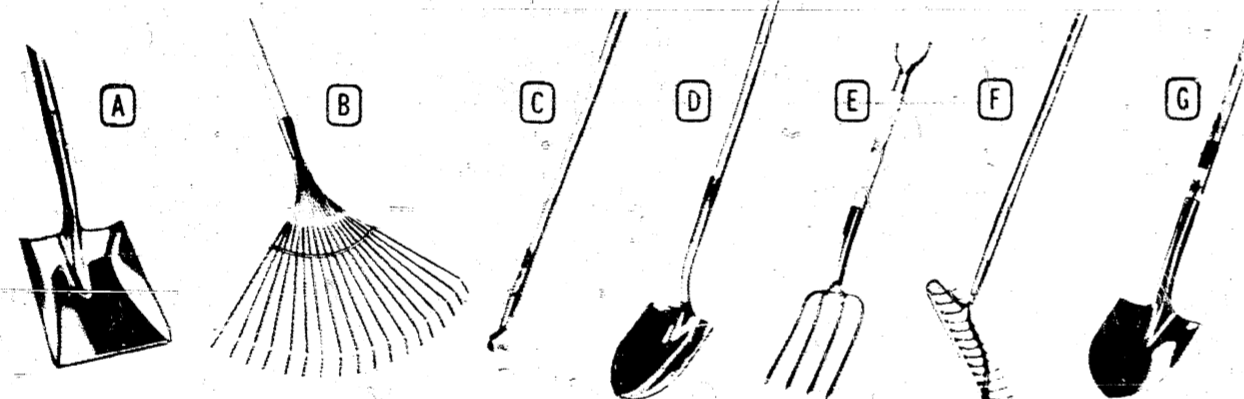

Dan Beach, top performer in both high jump and pole vault.

GRIFFIN

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lend a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to: Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

I grew up on a farm and have no college degree. But I would like to join the Peace Corps. Has the program been cut to a state of virtual non-existence?
—A. C., Holland

No. In fact, in some ways it is being expanded. Under the new ACTION agency, the Peace Corps is putting even greater emphasis on the utilization of people with practical experience and technical skills, rather than on generalists with college degrees. There are about 900 Peace Corps projects going on in about 60 countries throughout the world. So, if you have the interest and dedication to put your farming background to work for others, more power to you. Enclosed is an application form.

I am a junior high school teacher, and I am concerned about drug abuse among young people. I would like to do more to alert my students and their parents to the dangers of drugs. Can you help?
—H. A., Saginaw

Enclosed is an "Educational Packet" prepared and distributed by the National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information. You will be interested in the index to all government publications on drug abuse as well as the guide to educational materials listing available TV and radio spots, films of personal stories of drug users and their treatments, and research materials for teachers. The packet includes a White House report outlining steps being taken by the Federal government to fight drug abuse, as well as literature on heroin, LSD, marijuana, alcohol and other drugs. Others who wish to receive this packet should write: National Clearinghouse for Drug Abuse Information, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, Maryland 20852.

TRY GULFTANE,
THE LOW COST GASOLINE
FOR NEW CARS.

Each year since 1971 more new American-made cars have been designed to operate on lower octane gasoline. This year most new car manuals recommend a low octane fuel. Like Gulftane.

Gulftane not only meets most manufacturers' recommendations, but it has the kind of performance additive package you'd expect from Gulf.

All this may sound like Gulftane costs more. Wrong. It costs less than our regular.

So try a tankful of Gulftane. The low cost gasoline for new cars.

*Because the condition of an engine as well as atmospheric factors affect the way an engine performs, there is no way to guarantee that any single car will give knock-free performance on a particular gasoline. To find out if your car will perform satisfactorily on Gulftane, try a tankful and see.

If it were so easy to sell houses, Realtors would have been out of business long ago. Realtors earn their commissions, because they are professionals. With their help, you can avoid the pitfalls of do-it-yourself transactions, whether you're buying or selling. See your Realtor.

- A Realtor advises as to a realistic price for the property. He knows the market and does the comparison shopping for you.
- A Realtor shows a house to prospective purchasers only when it meets their requirements and they can meet the seller's terms. And he shows it only at the purchaser's and seller's convenience.

- A Realtor can answer technical questions on all types of financing.
- A Realtor, as a third party, can negotiate the transaction diplomatically. The purchaser can (and is encouraged to) express his objections and gets estimates on what the necessary changes will involve. A Realtor suggests how the seller can put his home into prime condition for selling but not make needless outlays for improvements.
- A Realtor works with your attorney so that all documents are handled properly—and legally. The purchaser and the seller understand the terms of the agreement and are assured that the contract is valid.

CASE HISTORIES OF CHILD AND FAMILY SERVICES OF MICHIGAN

Marriage Counseling

Mr. and Mrs. Miller had been married for 17 years and had three youngsters. Mrs. Miller was depressed and worn down with the responsibilities of home and children, and Mr. Miller was experiencing pressures in his job that he felt no one understood. One child was truant and each parent saw this as the other's fault.

Communication, except in a hostile way, had ground to a halt and there were resultant difficulties in financial, sexual and health areas.

In the first interview, they sat at opposite sides of the office and talked only to the counselor. With the aid of an understanding caseworker, Mr. and Mrs. Miller became able to examine their destructive behavior and at the same time to assess the very real strengths of their marriage.

It became apparent that both had lost the trust of their earlier years, and were so hurt that they could no longer meet each other's needs. Both longed to have the trust back, and after several meetings with their caseworker, they each began to reach out to one another and to find mutual satisfaction in supporting one another in decisions and plans for their family.

The Millers left their last interview laughing together—something they had almost forgotten how to do.

Adoption

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers were a warm, friendly young couple in their early 30's, who applied to the agency for adoption. They had been married almost ten years and were not able to have children of their own.

They had delayed adoption proceedings because of educational commitments and at the time of their application both were qualified professional persons. Their marriage was, in addition to being financially secure, a particularly stable and happy one. Both had had experience with children. Because of this, they asked to adopt an older child and after full discussions with their caseworker, they were brought together with Jane and Mark, siblings of 7 and 9, who had become available for adoption.

Mrs. Rogers described her meeting with the two youngsters as a moment of "instant love" and she and Mr. Rogers have come to find deep happiness in their roles of loving parents to Mark and Jane.

And the children? Grooving.

Problem Pregnancy

Marjorie was 19, pregnant, unmarried and scared.

She turned to the agency for help in planning for herself and the child. A referral was made to a local clinic for medical treatment, and since Marjorie had no place to live during the pregnancy, she was placed in an agency mutual-help home.

Here, in return for room and board and a small wage, Marjorie was a mother's helper in a warm, supportive family environment.

During this time, the caseworker saw Marjorie regularly and, in addition to helping her with the practical arrangements around her pregnancy and delivery counseled with her. Marjorie was often confused and depressed and found in her caseworker someone always willing to listen and ready to help her come to fuller understanding of herself.

After the child was born, the agency provided foster care for the child so that Marjorie might have time, with the caseworker's help, to come to the final decision she thought was best for herself and the child.

When Marjorie decided to place her child for adoption, the caseworker made the necessary appointment at the Court and was with Marjorie when the legal release was signed. Following this, the caseworker maintained supportive contacts with Marjorie until she was able again to find work for herself and rejoin her family and friends.

Mahony reported that several merchants are very concerned about B & E's and would like to see all night coverage. They intend to bring the matter up at the next Chamber of Commerce meeting and then consult with Council. Fitzgerald advised Council that the Public Works Committee has applied for reimbursement, at least in part, from the County Civil Defense Dept. for the St. Patrick's Day storm. With repairs for breakdown of equipment, rental costs, extra help and overtime costs the total cost was $2,378.42. A meeting has been set up with the townships on the landfill-transfer station. It will be held April 4 at 7:00 pm in the Village Hall. The Public Works crew has placed 29,83T. of cold patch, read water meters, finished painting the sewage treatment plant, and flushed hydrants. Consumers Power has donated the posts which were set at the landfill site. Conservation Officer Robert Like checked on the oil discharge in the River Raisin and met with Manchester Plastics on the matter. The Madison Street sewer situation was checked. An amount of silt is in the drainage tile and will have to be cleaned out; however, the amount should not hinder the flow, except in the case of a severe storm.

Just outside the walls of the old city of Jerusalem is an eroded hill that bears a resemblance to a skull, and is called Golgotha. It is said that upon this hill stood three crosses the day that Jesus was crucified. That agonizing day that Christ died is referred to today as "Good Friday".

EASTER APRIL 22, 1973

Matthew 28:1-9 & Mark 16:14-20 from The LIVING BIBLE

Early on Sunday morning, as the new day was dawning, Mary Magdalene and the other Mary went out to Jesus' tomb.

Suddenly there was a great earthquake; for an angel of the Lord came down from heaven and rolled aside the stone and sat on it. His face shone like lightning and his clothing was a brilliant white. The guards shook with fear when they saw him, and fell into a dead faint.

Then the angel spoke to the women. "Don't be frightened!" he said. "I know you are looking for Jesus, who was crucified, but he isn't here! For he has come back to life again, just as he said he would. Come in and see where his body was lying . . . And now go quickly and tell his disciples that he has risen from the dead, and that he is going to Galilee to meet them there. That is my message to them."

The women ran from the tomb, badly frightened, but also filled with joy, and rushed to find the disciples to give them the angel's message. And as they were running, suddenly Jesus was there in front of them!

"Good morning!" he said. And they fell to the ground before him, holding his feet and worshipping him.

Still later he appeared to the eleven disciples as they were eating together. He rebuked them for their unbelief—their stubborn refusal to believe those who had seen him alive from the dead.

And then he told them. "You are to go into all the world and preach the Good News to everyone, everywhere. Those who believe and are baptized will be saved. But those who refuse to believe will be condemned."

When the Lord Jesus had finished talking with them, he was taken up into heaven and sat down at God's right hand.

And the disciples went everywhere preaching, and the Lord was with them and confirmed what they said by the miracles that followed their messages.

Japanese Posters On Display

Early this year Dr. Glenn Lehr and Dr. Toshiyuki Kawamura of Osaka, Japan began a correspondence which resulted in a poster exchange between school children in Japan and the school children of Manchester, Michigan. A poster contest in connection with Children's Dental Health Week has already been held in the Manchester schools and a list of the winners was previously published in the Enterprise.

One hundred posters have been sent to the Osaka Dental Association from our school children and Dr. Kawamura tells us they will be used to further the cause of good dental health among the people of Japan during their Dental Health Week in June.

We have recently received many fine posters from the Japanese children. Some of them are presently on display at Krauss Pharmacy and Dr. Lehr thinks he may have enough so that each child who sent a poster to Japan may have a Japanese Poster.

Dr. Kawamura has expressed the Association's pleasure with the posters our children have sent and they are anxious to exchange them again next year.

Dr. Lehr hopes that more people will become aware of the concepts of preventive and modern dentistry by means of the poster exchange.

Following is the correspondence between the two dentists.

Toshiyuki Kawamura, D.D.S.

How To Recycle Your Bedsprings

By C. Chapin

Mountains may fall and floods may rise, the future of governments sway in the balance, but the single largest piece of good news to come my way this spring season is in the announcement that we are to have a dump! At any rate a twentieth century version of one. After more than a year without full facilities, we very likely will be in operation during this summer.

When we acquired a new bed and decided to dismantle the old carved Walnut monster we had no trouble giving the lovely frame away, for antiquers are forever looking for such good-fies. The spring, an old affair of large coil springs connected with small tight springs, was another matter. In our Village, the ordinary course would be to have it hauled to the town landfill, or as we say - the dump.

Where it stood leaning on the bedroom wall was out of the family traffic and even lent itself to some interesting lights and shadows when only the small bedroom lamp was lit. Bumping it in the dark soon got it moved to the hallway where everyone bumped it day and night, and the wifely grumbling increased in tempo.

Now the second floor landing has a fair amount of space and of course it next came to rest there, not without some low-toned complaints, attended by frustration, for when the large men children were approached, they simply said "But there isn't any dump".

Well, with a complaining woman, and no place to put it - we moved that ugly square of springs around the house for three weeks. The grumbling getting more audible and irritable each day, till finally the Head of the House put his mind to the problem and stated "Not another word, I will remove the problem". (You must realize that statement has been carefully edited).

Now - arriving home one evening I was pleased to note - no monster greeting me at the head of the stairway. Just a large plastic trash bag, bulging with knobs. The problem was solved - he has simply cut the silly thing up in pieces and bagged them. Now for the next step.

Enroute to business the next day the bag rests securely on the back seat of the car, for everyone knows that in the city, there are large trash bins behind every building. The moral principles involved get a little sticky at this point. But after all there must be someplace they can dump in the city and craftiness is born of necessity.

Confidently stepping out of the
