20th Annual Chicken Broil Thursday July 19th

It's "20 years of Hustling" as Manchester makes plans for the 20th annual Chicken Broil, Thursday, July 19, at the High School Athletic Field from 4 to 8 p.m.

This small (1,700 people) Washtenaw County community, 20 miles southwest of Ann Arbor on M-52 gives visitors the red carpet treatment the third Thursday in July. The broil is the largest of its kind in Michigan and plans to serve 11,000 chicken dinners. Its famous for char-coal broiled chicken halves basted with butter and slightly salted.

Men and boys in this rural community help the Jaycees and Optimists with Luther C. Klager and Roland Grossman as general chairmen. It takes 450 to man the Big Broil. All workers and business places have tickets. Save a quarter. They are $2.25 at the gate.

Four hundred-foot-long charcoal pits broil 1,500 chicken halves at a time as twenty-eight pairs of white gloved hands turn the grids 60 times in the hour and a half of broiling. Spraying equipment and a bucket of melted butter move carefully along the rows of chicken.

Dr. Howard Zindel of the Poultry Department at Michigan State will be here to watch and supervise the broiling process which he helped perfect 20 years ago. He hasn't missed a broil and the five checkers will twist the leg bones to be sure the chicken is done.

Loud speakers will herald the arrival of guests from away and those visiting from foreign countries. It's a small world. Family reunions are planned and the hostess has time to spend with her guests. There are two take-out lines which move rapidly as complete dinners are packed in boxes.

Tables and chairs seat 2,500. Guests are served with efficiency. Trimmings for the dinner include 68 gallons of specially prepared dressing which is mixed days earlier. German kraut cutters slither up the two ton of cabbage fresh as it's used. Bags of potato chips, crisp red radishes, buttered rolls and coffee or milk are included. Pop and ice cream are available.

This year the profits will be used to pay the debt on Kirk Park. Equipment is needed for the playground area. The park is converted from a village dump. Through the years the Broil has paid for many improvements, all of which benefit the youth of the community. That was the intention of the first broil and the reason businessmen and farmers give their time to make the broil a success.

Car Park shelter, lights for the Athletic Field, playground equipment of all kinds, new files and shelves for the library, fencing for the Athletic Field and now buying a new park are just some of the improvements made possible by twenty years of Chicken Broils.

At the first broil some 1,500 were served and the workers, with blistered hands and sore feet counted the money and thought the dinner was a huge success. Times have changed. The Broil grew!

The Sheriff's Department's Mounted Division will direct traffic. There's free shuttle bus service to and from the parking areas. Visitors from most of the States have signed the guest books. Many from abroad, visiting in the area have signed in.

People enjoy the scenic route to Manchester away from the hustle and bustle of the city. Manchester has preserved some of the best of the past and moves ahead with an eye on the future. These here for the first time drive around the community. They stop on Main Street and look at the original brick buildings, the Red Mill on the Raisin in the heart of the Village enhanced by a new bridge.

For those who want to linger a while they can go to the bleachers and watch two soft ball games. The broil keeps the community together and when the last person has been served and everything is cleared away once more the workers will set down and talk things over at Carr Park. They'll begin to make plans for another broil next year. They will have seen enough chicken for a while and munch on sandwiches. As the notice was mailed to each of the workers and he looked down the list to see what his duties would be, a familiar paragraph catches his eye. "Workers will relax at Carr Park after the last amber has fled. Please do not relax on the Athletic Field."

HELPERS NEEDED

School age boys who wish to work at the Manchester Chicken Broil on Thursday, July 19, 1973 should meet at the Athletic Field Shelter at 11:00 a.m. on that date for assignment. Approximately sixty boys are needed to help the various committees.

Manchester Fair To Celebrate 30th Year

It's Fair time in Michigan. From now to the end of September, clubs, communities, counties and the State will be putting forth their best at fairs all over our State. In fact, there are 78 fairs held in Michigan this year.

A Fair is one place a community can show off its best in livestock, home economics, and horticulture. In old times it was a week when people met their neighbors to talk about the harvest, engage in friendly competition, and catch up on a year's news. Today's fair is much the same. It's a reflection of the interests and achievements of the community. It's a place where the entire community comes together for one great community exhibit, and visitors can come to see what we're all about.

The Manchester Fair is celebrating its 30th year this year, and we've made many changes to accommodate the new and preserve the old. We hope you will enjoy the Fair, August 21-25. Now is the time to start thinking about what you want to enter for exhibition and get busy working on it.

This column will run every week until the Fair to inform you of some of the additions we've made in the Fair so that you can anticipate, prepare and enjoy the 1973 Manchester Community Fair.

FREEZE FORCES PLANT SHUTDOWN

Michigan's agricultural spokesman Elton R. Smith said today that the closing of the Crown hog-packing plant in Detroit, and the threatened closing of the Frederick & Herrud Company of Detroit and Grand Rapids, will have a "devastating effect on both farmers and consumers."

Calling the closing of Michigan packing houses a "direct result of the current price freeze," the president of the Michigan Farm Bureau warned that the consequences will be less meat production, less meat on the counter, more unemployment and eventual shortages and rationing of food.

"Livestock producers and packers are caught in the same economic dilemma," he said. "Costs of production, processing and distribution are rapidly increasing—but the price freeze does not allow recovery of these increased costs.

The competitive market system has provided American consumers with an abundant supply of food, and the profit incentive is necessary to bring forth this production of food or any commodity."

Smith explained that the plant closings mean fewer markets for livestock, and that fewer markets and increased transportation costs mean less income to producers. This will result in a further decline in meat production, he said.

"The price freeze is crippling the free enterprise system, and its continuation can only mean less food for the growing number of Americans," he concluded.

What happens when you're offered $20,000 for your $27,000 pile of ashes?

You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation. This is the kind of problem you could face if you bought and insured your home for $20,000 in 1968. See me to find out if your home is insured for its full value. I'll tell you about a low-cost State Farm Homeowners Policy that will insure your home for all its worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lend a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to: Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

I've heard that "old glory" flies over the U.S. Capitol day and night. Yet, I've always been taught that military regulations require the furling of the flag at sunset. What gives?
 —F. I., Bureau

Since the days of World War I, the U.S. flag has been flying day and night over the Nation's Capitol. That came about as the result of a Concurrent Resolution passed by Congress. There are a number of other places where the flag flies day and night as a patriotic gesture by custom. Among them: the grave of Francis Scott Key at Frederick, Md.; the Municipal War Memorial at Worcester, Mass.; and Fort McHenry, Md., where the Star Spangled Banner was written.

Since my return from Vietnam, I've decided to take advantage of educational benefits available to veterans and go to college this fall. So far, I've driven twice to the VA office in Detroit to obtain information, forms and advice. In addition, I've made several long-distance phone calls. This is getting expensive. Can't something be done to make it easier on veterans in this situation?
 —W. V., Bay City

Under a new program which goes into operation on July 12, Michigan veterans will be able to call the Detroit regional VA office toll-free. In some cities veterans will be able to call a local number, which in turn will be tied into a Detroit line. Those cities and local numbers are: Ann Arbor/662-2506; Grand Rapids/456-8511; Bay City/894-4556; Jackson/787-7030; Flint/239-4626; Kalamazoo/344-0156; East Lansing-Lansing 484-7713; Saginaw/754-7425; and Battle Creek/962-7568.

Agriculture in Action

The old theory that writers must suffer in a drafty garret with inadequate nourishment to really produce great works has long ago been disproved. The unknown author of this ode to farming was obviously digesting a satisfying meal when he penned his appreciation.

"The politician talks and talks, the actor plays his part, the soldier glitters on parade, the goldsmith piles his art, The scientist pursues his germ over this terrestrial ball, the sailor navigates his ship, but the farmer feeds them all.

"The preacher pounds his pulpit desk, brokers read their lengthy tape, the tailor cuts and sews his cloth to fit the human shape. The workman wields his shiny tools, the merchant shows his wares, the astronaut above the clouds a dizzy journey dares.

"But art and science soon would fade, and commerce dead would fall, if the farmer ceased to reap and sow, for the farmer feeds them all."

Poets aren't alone in their recognition of the farmer's importance to the scheme of things in our world. Economists indicate that agricultural products are fast becoming, or already are, the only thing which the United States can produce as cheaply as it is produced elsewhere in the world. They call our country's agricultural production a peace factor, too. More than our armaments--our food, and the need for it--are believed by some observers to have kept China and Russia out of the Vietnam War.

Farmers, well aware of the vital importance of foreign markets, have understandably reacted negatively to the recent export restrictions on some agricultural products. They believe that foreign markets cannot be treated as a "dumping ground" and that limitations on exports can seriously affect our country's position in world trade. An important factor, especially now, is that foreign exchange gained from soybean sales allows Americans to purchase needed products, such as petroleum, which is in short supply here.

Strong supporters of a free and unshackled agriculture, farmers fear that economic controls, such as price freezes and export restrictions, will eventually destroy our free enterprise system. As another poet put it: "Far and wide Old Glory floats, for farmers supply the means....there is no glory without his beans."

NEWS FROM THE SPACE PLACE

Joe Chapin and family of Manchester visited the world's largest space exhibit during a recent trip to Huntsville, Alabama.

The Alabama Space and Rocket Center is designed to let the visitor be the astronaut. The Center contains many educational exhibits that permit involvement in rocketry and space travel.

The Chapins viewed spacecrafts used by astronauts, saw a full-size moon rocket close-up, and walked on a simulated moon crater. They snacked on space food, fired a rocket engine, operated a lunar landing computer, and visited a futuristic space station mock-up.

The Alabama Space and Rocket Center features the world's largest collection of rockets, missiles and space vehicles. The Center is located five miles west of Huntsville, Alabama, on Highway 20, and is open to the public every day.

APPLICATIONS BEING ACCEPTED

Applications and referrals being accepted for the 1973-74 Washtenaw County Head Start Pre-School Program. The program in the Manchester-Saline area will be a home-based program in which a teacher and/or aide makes a once-a-week visit into the home to work with the child and the mother. All of the supportive services available to Head Start children will be available to the child. The program is open to three, four and five year olds from low-income families. Preference is being given to four and five year olds who will be going to kindergarten in Sept. of 1974.

Applications should be returned as soon as possible. Parents of those children accepted before July 16 will be offered an orientation workshop to familiarize them with Home-Based Head Start. Any applications received after July 13, 1973, will be placed on a waiting list unless there are still openings in the program. Applications are available from the Washtenaw Intermediate School District, The O.E.C. Office in Ann Arbor, and from O.E.C. community organizers.

To make referrals, receive applications, or for further information call Essie Calhoun at Washtenaw Intermediate School District (769-6522).

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY GRANT

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program is Federal aid designed to provide financial assistance to those who need it to attend post-high school educational institutions. The funds for the program were approved in late June by Congress.

The maximum award you could receive under this program is $1,400 minus the amount you and your family are expected to contribute toward the cost of your education. (This amount is called your Family Contribution.) Your actual Grant, however, may be less than this maximum award. The amount of your Grant is based on your Family Contribution and two other factors:

- (1) the amount of funds actually available for the Program for the 1973-74 year; and (2) the cost of your education, since the Grant cannot exceed one-half that cost. The amount of the grant would decrease as the Family Contribution increases. In addition, since the minimum grant that can be awarded to an eligible student is $200, you would not receive a grant if your Family Contribution is more than $1,200.

You may be eligible for a grant if you meet three important criteria:

1. You plan to enroll for the first time in a post-high school program at an eligible college, university, vocational or technical school.
2. You will be attending school on a full-time basis.
3. You are a U.S. Citizen or are in the United States for other than a temporary purpose and intend to become a resident.

NOTE: You are not eligible if you have attended a post-high school educational institution at any time before July 1, 1973.

You must also meet certain financial criteria to receive a Grant. Various financial information will be used to determine the amount of your Family Contribution. The main factor used to determine Family Contribution is Family Income. As a general guideline, if your family income in 1972 was $11,000 (for a family of four) or less, you may receive a Grant. Since other factors besides income are used to determine Family Contribution, you may still receive a Grant if your family income is greater than this amount. Among the factors that would reduce the amount your family would be expected to contribute are: family size of more than four persons, more than one member of the family enrolled in post-high school educational programs, both parents work, or unusually large emergency (medical, catastrophe) expenses in 1972. On the other hand, your expected Family Contribution might be increased if you receive Social Security or veterans educational benefits, or if your family has stable assets.

Forms may be picked up at the high school office to apply for this program during the summer.

did you KNOW?

That the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, founded 25 years ago, still is a fundamental element in the building of a lasting world peace, guarding freedom, dignity, and security for all its member nations?

That NATO can be described best as a collective defensive security arrangement of 15 European nations, pledged to bind themselves in a defensive alliance?

That the mission of NATO today is the same as it has been for 24 years—to deter aggression but, if deterrence fails, to defend NATO nations as far forward as possible?

A balanced American force contribution in Europe—one not substantially less than we have today—is essential to the continued existence of a strong collective force; it is essential to the continued effectiveness of NATO, and, therefore, it is essential to our security interests in the United States.

This Is A Peachy Dessert

It's a new version of an old fashioned dessert — a peach crumble. What's new about it is the addition of peanut butter to the crumble mixture, a good blend of flavors that should appeal not only to the youngsters but to everyone in the family. The peaches are canned halves filled with currant jelly and topped with pecans. The dessert is baked for a short 20 minutes and served with a peach sauce made from the peach syrup.

The addition of peanut butter to an old fashioned crumble adds flavor and also adds nutrients. Peanut butter, no matter how it is used, is a good source of protein, polyunsaturated oil and B vitamins.

Peach Crumble: Drain and reserve syrup from a (1-pound 13-ounce) can of peach halves. Arrange the peach halves in a shallow 1 1/2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 2 tablespoons of the reserved peach syrup. Fill centers of peach halves with currant jelly and top with pecan half. Mix 3/4 cup flour with 1/2 cup sugar. Cut in 1/4 cup Skippy creamy or chunk style peanut butter and 1/2 cup margarine with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle over and around fruit. Bake in a 350° F. oven about 20 minutes or until thoroughly heated. While dessert bakes, prepare Peach Sauce. Serve with Peach Crumble. Makes 6 servings.

Peach Sauce: Add water to reserved peach syrup, if necessary, to make 1 1/2 cups liquid. Measure 1 tablespoon corn starch into small saucepan. Gradually stir in the peach syrup. Add 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind. Stirring constantly, bring mixture to a boil over medium heat and boil 2 minutes or until sauce thickens slightly and clears. Serve hot over Peach Crumble.

Free moon light at NBJ!

The light that went to the moon.
NASA never takes chances. So when they wanted a foolproof flashlight for the astronauts to take to the moon, they went to ACR Electronics and said, "Build us a foolproof flashlight." And ACR did.

Astronauts need it because the totally new and revolutionary Moon Light works equally well in space, on the surface of the moon or back here on earth. It's small (3 1/2 in. long), light (6 1/2 oz.), neat and has no external switches to corrode or break.

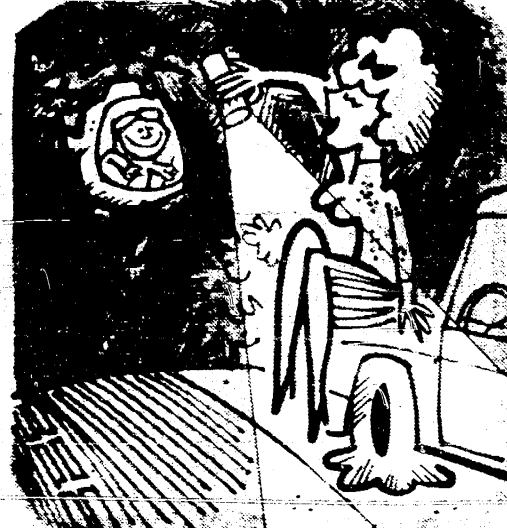

Husbands need it when they go fishing early in the morning; look for tools and parts behind the workbench or to rattle around in their tackle box, tool box or briefcase.

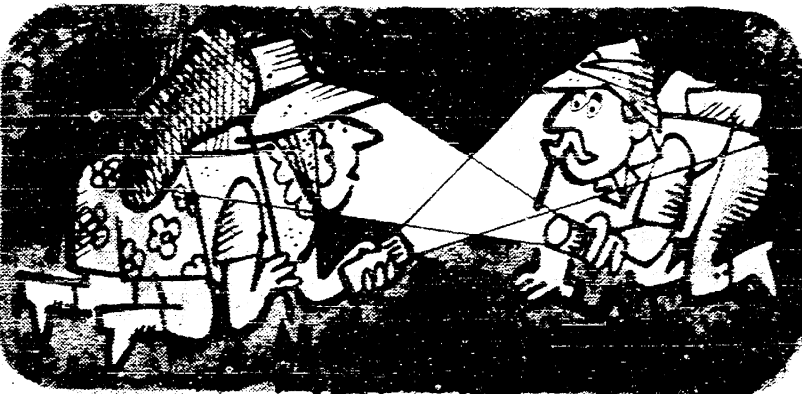

Mothers need it to put in the drawer next to the silverware in the kitchen since the flashlight in there now doesn't have any batteries, and the bulb's burned out anyway.

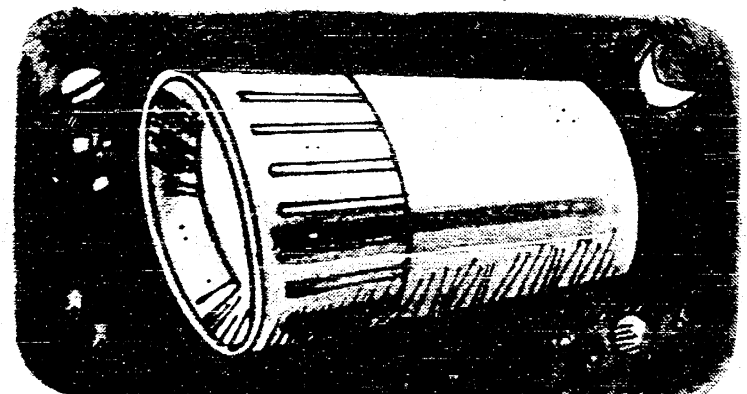

Kids need it for safe bicycle riding in the evening, reading comic books under the bed covers and finding their way to the bathroom after midnight.

Glove compartments need it for a portable trouble light, map light or roadside emergency signal.

Everybody in the dark needs it. If you're not in the dark now, store it away somewhere and forget about it until you are. The space age battery has a five-year shelf life and ten times the staying power of an ordinary flashlight.

Just $200 and it's yours free! Open a new NBJ checking or savings account for $200 or purchase a $200 Certificate of Deposit at either of our Brooklyn or Napoleon area offices. Or you can get one free by adding $200 to your present NBJ savings account.

FARM BUREAU FILES SUIT

Farmers followed through today on their threat to take legal action against the U.S. Department of Labor, to prevent the enforcement of what they term a "totally unnecessary" emergency re-entry pesticide standard. Elton R. Smith, president of the Michigan Farm Bureau, announced in Lansing today that the American Farm Bureau Federation has filed a motion in the U.S. Court of Appeals for a temporary stay of the standard due to become effective on July 13.

The original emergency pesticide standard was due to go into effect June 18, but the Farm Bureau waged a successful legal battle to have it delayed. The Secretary of Labor issued an amended version on June 29, and it was then that the farm organization announced that it would oppose the enforcement of any emergency standard.

"Food production should not be stymied and strangled by unnecessary emergency orders," Smith said. "A task group on occupational exposure to pesticides, and the Labor Department subcommittee on pesticides have reported that no emergency exists. Poison control centers, noted scientists, and farmers have not found any evidence that an emergency exists."

Public hearings regarding the pesticide standard, which would affect Michigan producers of apples, grapes and peaches, are scheduled to begin July 31, and the Farm Bureau maintains that no emergency exists.

Smith said that farmers will continue to show the same concern they have in the past for the safety and health of their employees. "They will do so without the imposition of costly, unnecessary standards which will only have the effect of reducing the efficiency of agricultural production," he said.

PITTSBURGH, PA., MOUNT WASHINGTON NEWS: "As every local housewife knows the battle of the budget gets higher and tighter. Making ends meet gets as tough as the cheap grade of meat that many are forced to buy to keep the items on the family table. And, the toughest part of the whole thing is that even the government admits the situation's not going to get any better in the near future."

President Theodore Roosevelt set what may be the world's record for hand shaking on January 1, 1907 when he greeted 8,513 people. He wasn't even campaigning.

FAMILY CAMPING DO'S & DONT'S

Whether or not you've ever gone camping before, having on hand the basic camping gear—plus the tips in this article—may make it a lot easier for you to take off for a weekend, or weeks, of outdoor fun.

DO mark up route maps early. The service station may be out of them on the day you plan to leave.

DON'T arrive at night and expect to set up camp in the dark.

DO make sure your tent is long enough for the tallest member of your group.

DON'T expect to find a babbling brook for drinking and washing water wherever you go. Be prepared—carry water with you.

DO bring along a complete first-aid kit, and know how to use it. One good item to include is a can of Rhuil spray, a highly effective treatment for poison ivy and poison oak as well as insect bites, mild sunburn and other minor skin irritations.

DON'T take your complete wardrobe with you. Make a list—then leave half the items behind. Drip-dry synthetic fabrics perform best for most camping purposes, but cotton knit shirts and blouses are cooler for hot spells.

DO pack for convenience. Pack so that when you reach a campsite, first things come out first—the tent and sleeping gear, then the camping equipment, then clothing, etc.

DON'T forget to observe camping etiquette. Open fires should be kept low to avoid sending sparks all over. When you leave the campsite, the fire should be doused with water and every spark extinguished.

DO let someone of authority in the area, like the police or forest ranger, know where you'll be camping out. And know where the nearest physician is in case of an emergency.

DON'T carry clothes in the airtight and potentially dangerous thin film bags that dry cleaners use, especially if you have playful and curious small children. Instead, use heavy transparent plastic zipper bags, which you can see through at a glance.

Do end your vacation on the same note it began—a note pitched for family fun!

106TH YEAR NO. 38 10 CENTS PER COPY THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1973

Sunday July 22nd will be another historic day for the 106 year old Zion Lutheran Congregation of Chelsea. Having continuously worshipped in its present church structure erected in 1867, the congregation will break ground on the same corner for its new church and remodeled educational unit to meet its present and future needs. At a special congregational meeting on June 12th, members gave final approval for the construction which includes nave seating for 280 with ample overflow areas, provision for 14 classrooms in the full basement and 8 other classrooms in the restyled existing parish hall to which the new church attaches. Other areas will provide rooms for offices, choirs, sewing activities, program and fellowship. Cost of the construction project is set at approximately $363,000 and when completely finished and furnished with full equipment will approach $390,000. Construction will take about one year. The firm of Hahn and Hayes, Architects & Engineers, Toledo, Ohio have furnished the drawings and will oversee the construction. The General Contractor, Bridgewater Lumber, together with Luchhardt Plumbing and Heating, Saline, and Heller Electric, Chelsea are to do the work. Mr. Alton Horming is chairman of the Building Committee. The ground breaking service is to be the conclusion of the morning worship at 9:30 AM when the congregation and guests assembled will process to the site and form the outline of the building and together pull a plow which will break the ground. The public is invited to worship on this occasion.

Roscoe Lannom Retires After 28 Years In Business

By C. Chapin
Florida has been a pleasant place to visit for vacations and Roscoe and Walli hope to find and purchase a place on the Isles of Capri near Naples on the Gulf Coast. The region is below the fruit belt and has a gentle breeze blowing, making an ideal place to live. Six months in Michigan and six months in Florida will be the nicest way to spend retirement years, for they don't want to permanently leave this area. Roscoe says that Manchester has been very good to him. He feels he has had a good mutual agreement with the people here, he has always tried to run a good store and the residents have always generously shopped here with him. He has been blessed, he says, with good employees and is grateful to everyone for his success. Mr. Robert McDonnell of Ypsilanti and his son-in-law Richard Ehrenberg Continued on page 6

Manchester Fair Adds New Classes

There are many new classes added to the Fair Book this year. We hope that the selection of classes will do more to represent our community's interests and achievements. Next year we will completely revise the book, and your comments and suggestions will be greatly appreciated. In the Livestock tent we have limited the height of ponies to 50" and excluded stallions from competition. A meat pen class has been added to the rabbit division. In the Home Economics department we have added several pickled products to the Canned Goods division, and we will greatly revise this division in the next Fair Book. Handicraft have more defined classes for Afghans (knitted, crocheted, and loomed) and a latched rug class. We have also added a section specifically for handicapped children including classes for hoplads and mats, hooked rugs, and miscellaneous handicrafts. In the sewing division we have defined the age groups to 15 years and older, 9 - 14 years, and eight and under. The Hobbies and Collections has had the most changes and additions to it. In collections we have added several more classes and decided the age competition to 14 years and under and 15 years and older. In crafts we have changed the ages to 9 years and under, 10 - 15 years and 16 years and older. We've also added two sections for picture crafts such as paper toling, beaded string, etc. In the Painting Division we have defined classes as water color, drawings, oil or acrylic, paint by number, sculpture and misc., in age groupings of 12 years and under, 13 - 18 years, and 19 years and older. Photography is a new Division for the Fair this year with class subjects of nature, animals, people, scenery and misc. There will be sections for black and white pictures and color prints. The Fair book will be out the first part of August, and more detailed information will be available then. One rule change made for the exhibit tent will be enforced without exception. No exhibit may be removed before 10 pm, Saturday, August 25, 1973. The reason for this rule change is so that everyone can enjoy the Fair, for the entire time the fair is open.
