LIBRARY NEWS

Wasn't the County Library display at the Fair just great? The small screen with the cartoons had an audience every time I went by. I certainly hope everyone understands how fortunate we are to have the many services of the county library. Our own Township Library, with our limited budget could not hope to provide the depth and variety of books without their resources to draw upon.

This has been a time for getting a little reading done - and if you are not too busy getting the children ready for school, come in and pick out a good book. It's cool and pleasant at the library and you can stay and browse all afternoon if you like.

Anya Seton has written a new novel "Green Darkness" - good.

We have at least half a dozen of Elizabeth Cadell's light, gay romances - an English writer with a sense of humor.

Tom Tryon the movie star has written another book - Harvest Home - maybe you read his first book - The Other.

The Last of the Southern Girls is a story of a Washington Hostess, and is an interesting view of Washington social life.

American Heritage magazine is publishing a new magazine called Americana and it's very good.

Annual Compact Tractor Pull

The fourth annual compact tractor pull at the Manchester Community Fair was held on Friday evening, to avoid competition with the large tractors. In spite of it being a working day, we had the largest number of tractors in the last 3 years, 21 in all.

The 1 was a newcomer to tractor pulling, in the form of 10 year old Carol Dumble, who pulled in the light-weight class, against big brother Ken and a host of more experienced male pullers.

There were 9 tractors in this class, all ready to go at starting time. They pulled until Mark Weidmayer of Ann Arbor, took 5th place, while Tim Schulz of Chelsea, went home with 4th. The top 3 went on for several more pulls, when Gerald Eaton of Tecumseh, was eliminated to take 3rd place. Then came the contest between brother and sister. Young Carol had captured the audience by now, and was really getting the support. At 1550 lbs. Carol pulled through on the first try. Ken had to pull all the way or concede to little sister. He pulled his best, but 42 1/4 ins. was all he could do. One happy little girl went home with her 1st trophy.

The mediumweight class started with 8 entrants. It didn't take very many pulls to find the 4th and 5th place winners. Fifth went to Brian Leisinger of Grass Lake, and 4th went to Dan Eaton of Tecumseh. The top 3 were determined fellows, and gave each other a real run for the money. Finally Ken Gilbert of Britton, met his match at 2100 lbs., his best pull being 52 1/4 ins. He took the 3rd, place ribbon home with him. One more addition of weight gave us the winner. At 2150 lbs., Richard Ball of Grass Lake, pulled the bolt 42 1/4 ins. for 2nd place, while Mike Feldkamp of Dexter, pulled it all the way on his 2nd try, for 1st. These 2 had been pulling extremely well all the way through the match. These were 1100 lb. tractors (including drivers), so they came pretty close to pulling 200%.

The heavyweight class had only 4 entries, but they were 4 very good ones, so it was sure to be a good competition. Brian Farger of Ann Arbor, our last year's champion, had some trouble with a slipping belt, so had the misfortune of being the 1st to be eliminated. He still was in the money with 4th place though. The remaining 3 were also determined to go home with that beautiful trophy. They pulled until finally Dick Busha of Ann Arbor, was eliminated at 2550 lbs., taking 3rd. Ed Bulu of Chelsea, and Ron Dumble of Ann Arbor, went on all the way to 2850 lbs. when Ed pulled the load 25 3/4 ins. Now it was up to Ron. On his 1st pull he went 19 3/4 ins., not quite good enough. Last try. He got the bolt moving and was pulling hard when he sheared a pin. Ed Bulu became this year's heavyweight champion by inches. Last year he lost it by inches, so he was a pretty happy young man.

This year's pull was interesting and exciting, and we would like to thank those who helped make it so. First, of course, those great competitive drivers, with their marvelous sportsmanship. They certainly are a credit to their communities, and we hope they all return next year. Next the sponsors of our trophies, Dumble Feeds, Ann Arbor, Haab Brothers Hardware, Pleasant Lake, and Braun Implement, Bridgewater. Without these fine people we wouldn't have those very nice trophies. They support us, now you please support them. Then come all the hard workers. The head of the tractor pull committee again this year was Mike Rossettie. The line judges, and doing the chain hooking and measuring were Pete Hughes of Manchester, and Brian Van Wagnen of Clark Lake. On the return tractor was Jim Mann. Doing the sweeping were Mickey and Tom Rossettie, and keeping time and score was Alice Rossettie. All of these people have our thanks and appreciation, as does the Union Savings Bank for printing our score sheets. And, of course, the enthused onlookers. Without them there would be no reason for having the pull. We thank you, the people, for your support. Hope to see you all again next year, with an equally fun filled compact tractor pull. The Committee

Fielder-Beach Wedding Vows Exchanged

The Emanuel United Church of Christ was the setting for the Saturday afternoon nuptials of Deborah Bernice Beach and Larry Norman Fielder. The Rev. Joseph W. Wise officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. R. Beach and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman H. Fielder.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace featuring a high neckline, and Bishop sleeves. The natural waistline of cascading ruffles swept to a cathedral train and a crown of crystals and pearls secured her elbow length veil of illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature carnations, baby's breath and stephanotis surrounding a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Sharon Lubitz of Union Lake, wore a sleeveless gown of orchid velvety-ray polyester with a matching long sleeve bolero accented by tiny ruffles around the neckline and sleeves. A wide brimmed hat with orchid ribbons and flowers completed her ensemble and she carried white daisies, pink rosebuds and baby's breath with a touch of purple.

The bridesmaids, Miss Nancy Fielder, sister of the groom, Miss Marcia Steele, Miss Cindy Schaller and Mrs. Kenneth Niehaus all of Manchester wore gowns identical to the maid of honor's in yellow.

Stephanie Lynn Hershberger of Archibald, Ohio served as flower girl. Her costume was the same as the maid of honor.

Randy Fielder served as his brothers best man while Daniel and Steven Beach, brothers of the bride, James and Richard Fielder, cousins of the groom, Paul Heinrich and Scott Arnold seated the guests. Edmund Kent Hershberger of Archibald carried the rings.

The reception was held at the Washtenaw County Building Trades Council in Ypsilanti. Assisting were; cutting cake, Mrs. Sue McDonald of Grass Lake and Miss Gloria Crossman of Ypsilanti, punch and coffee, Miss Nancy Davis and Mrs. Cayle Roehm of Manchester, and Mrs. Sandra Carter in charge of the guest book.

After a wedding trip to Colorado the newly weds will reside in Saline.

Ask Senator

GRIFFIN

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lead a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Someone told me a far-fetched yarn that the Washington Monument is gradually sinking into the ground. Is that so?

—P. J., Dansville

Well, just barely. According to the National Geodetic Survey, the Monument, which weighs 81,120 tons and towers 555 feet into the Washington skyline, has settled less than one-half foot since it was completed in 1884.

So, it's estimated that the Monument is not likely to disappear completely from view until the year 113,073—give or take a few thousand years.

I read that we are fast running out of burial sites for veterans in our national cemeteries. Is there anything being done about this?

—D. R., Benton Harbor

Yes. The new National Cemeteries Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-43) transferred jurisdiction over most national cemeteries (except Arlington and those at the service academies, to the Veterans Administration. The VA has been directed to conduct a comprehensive survey and to submit findings and recommendations to Congress by the end of this year.

It is expected that the VA will recommend establishment of a number of additional veterans' cemeteries across the country. At least one of the new cemeteries should be located in Michigan. The need for action is emphasized by the fact that there are 29 million living veterans and only one million grave sites available in government cemeteries.

The new law also provides for an additional burial allowance of $150 when a deceased veteran is not buried in a national cemetery. This is over and above an existing $250 allowance for funeral and burial expenses for a veteran.

EDITORIAL

Almost everyone knows something about Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., because it has been an integral part of the American scene for over 60 years. We take for granted that any girl who wants to can belong. That is true—but only up to a point. The unhappy truth is that, without enough adult leaders and assistant leaders, girls who want and need Girl Scouting have to wait.

Today, Girl Scouting serves one out of every seven girls ages 6-17 in the U.S.A. It could and would serve many thousands more if those adults who care about our youth would volunteer to be leaders.

There is a mistaken tendency to believe you must be a parent of girls in order to be a Girl Scout leader. This of course is nonsense. Thousands of women and men, from young singles to senior citizens, from every ethnic, economic, and educational background are in Girl Scouting.

Right now the Girl Scouts in our area need you. They are ready to provide leadership training and to give you all the help you want, so that you can work in partnership with girls, sharing your skills, your enthusiasm, and some of your time.

Because we know Girl Scouts represent a positive factor in our community, we are glad to lend a hand to their current adult recruitment campaign.

Call or write our local Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at 483-2370 or 19 North Hamilton Street, Ypsilanti, Michigan 48197, and volunteer to be a Girl Scout leader or assistant leader. They will take it from there.

Caramel Pudding—Smooth and Flavorful

Confectioners discovered long ago that burning sugar created a different delicious flavor—caramel. A burnt sugar or caramel flavored homemade pudding is delicious and easy to make. Serve it for guests or at the family table.

Caramel Pudding

- 1/2 cup sugar 1/4 cup water 2 3/4 cups milk 1/4 cup corn starch 2 tablespoons sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt 2 tablespoons margarine 1 teaspoon vanilla

Heat 1/2 cup sugar and 2 tablespoons water in a heavy 2-quart saucepan over medium-high heat, stirring occasionally, about 5 minutes or until bubbly and caramel colored. Remove from heat. Carefully add remaining 2 tablespoons water. After mixture stops foaming, add 2 cups of the milk. Mix together remaining milk, corn starch, 2 tablespoons sugar and salt until smooth. Stir into caramel milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in margarine and vanilla. Turn into serving dishes. Chill. Makes 3 cups or 6 (1/2-cup) servings.

For Mocha Pudding: Increase sugar to 3 tablespoons and add 1 1/2 teaspoons instant coffee to caramel milk.

Notice To Middle School Students

All Middle School students will begin classes on Tuesday September 4. Fifth and sixth graders should report to Nellie Ackerson building, locate their name on one of the room lists posted in the hall, and then report to that room. Seventh and eighth graders should report to the gym by 8:30 A.M. for a short assembly and further registration information.

Students new to the school district this year are urged to pre-register either by phone or in person at the Middle School office as soon as possible before the opening of school.

All students are advised to come to school on the first day with the basic necessities—notebook, paper, pencil, etc.

Neither Stewart hot sandwiches or hot dogs will be available for purchase during noon hour on the first day of school, so bring a sack lunch. Students that live within the established noon hour boundaries of the school are again reminded that the school expects them to eat their lunch at home during the year, because of the even more crowded conditions than has existed in previous years. For the rural students, beginning on Wednesday, Stewart sandwiches will be sold every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and on every Tuesday and Thursday (except Tuesday September 4) when the Field and Stream Club will sell hot dogs. Prices for the sandwiches and hot dogs have not been set yet, but will be more than they were when school closed in June. Milk and pop will be sold each noon hour.

The Middle School Student Council is again selling school calendars for $1.00, having absorbed the increased printing costs. These may be obtained at Gambles Store, at any of the schools, and at the Merchants Tent during Fair Week during the evening hours only. Proceeds from the sale of the calendars in previous years has been used to purchase such things as ping pong tables, the lettering on the front of the Middle School building, awards for field day winners, pins and certificates for students that are consistently on the academic or effort recognition honor roll during the year, cheerleader sweaters and vests, record players, etc. Next year the calendar will be enlarged from its present size to 11 by 14 inches so that there will be more room for people to make notations of their particular appointments on any particular day of the month. There will be a price increase then of course.

As in the past, each Middle School student will receive a revised copy of the Student Guide which contains all the important rules and regulations.

Parents are encouraged to become familiar with these items so that they will be knowledgeable of the kinds of responsibilities and behaviors the students are held accountable for.

The Middle School faculty and administration are looking forward to a good year and sincerely hope each parent will feel free to contact us early if a problem with their child develops. Frequent and frank communication between home and school is the key to eliminating mis-understandings that after detract from the positive way we both hope your child will approach each day in school.

Their heads are bursting with questions

The Columbia is bursting with answers.

Start their college education now with the encyclopedia created right on a college campus.

It's the most important gift you can give your children today. In this complicated, competitive world, education is the only sure road to success. Yet statistics show that only 7 of every 10 grade schoolers will finish high school. Only 2 finish college.

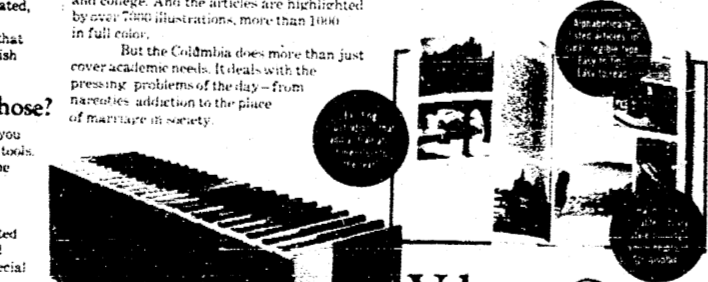

Will your child be one of those?

Yes, if you take positive steps. If you instill the right habits, provide the right books. A first-rate encyclopedia right in the home is one of the best possible tools. And the Illustrated Columbia Encyclopedia in 22 volumes is a first-rate encyclopedia.

The set of the Columbia was created right on a college campus. It was conceived by over 200 experts and published by special arrangements with the Columbia University Press. It has been acclaimed by educational leaders everywhere.

More than 25,000 accurate, lively articles cover everything your children will need to know for school assignments, from the elementary level right through high school and college. And the articles are highlighted by color. The illustrations, more than 100 in full color.

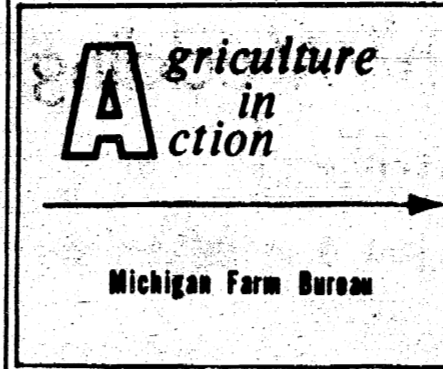

But the Columbia does more than just cover academic needs. It deals with the pressing problems of the day—from famines, addiction to the pill, to the threat of war.

Optimism is a great virtue. It keeps a man struggling forward, pushing toward his goal, even when the odds seem stacked against him. It keeps a man in business even when the past year has been unsuccessful, for success may be just around the corner if he will keep going one more year.

Farmers have historically been eternal optimists--and gamblers; they have to be. Of course, there's an element of risk in every business, but the year-in, year-out hazards which farmers face have got to be something special. Providing beef for America's tables is a particularly precarious business, as a look at the past year's events shows.

First, there was a worldwide spell of bad weather that cut grain crops almost everywhere and sent overseas demand for U.S. grain sky-high; result--higher feed prices for cattle feeders. Then came a winter that killed thousands of beef cattle that would have gone to market and set back the weight of thousands more; result--600 million pounds of beef lost. Later, spring floods delayed or prevented grain planting, driving feed prices still higher. A current off South America shifted strangely and cut the catch of protein-rich sea foods that go into livestock feeds; result--more feed shortages and higher prices.

Farmers accept the unpredictability of Mother Nature as a part of the gamble involved in their profession, but it's the unnatural risks--like artificial price ceilings--that really test their eternal optimism. It takes three years from the decision to expand a breeding herd until more beef reaches the retail market, three years of unpredictable risks. The feedlot operator and the packer are caught in the same disastrous cost-price squeeze and have curtailed their cattle buying. So the beef stays where it is--on the ranch and in the feedlot instead of on the consumer's table. Everybody loses in a game where beef producers cannot recover their costs, let alone earn a modest profit.

Unfortunately for the American consumer, it's becoming harder for the farmer to retain his optimism for one more year. The joy of living and working on a farm or ranch cannot continually offset economic disasters. He's willing to gamble against nature and the law of supply and demand, but when he's dealt a hand from the stacked deck of government-fed inflation, controls and restrictions--how long will he be willing to stay in the game?

Sylvester Murray, Ann Arbor's City Administrator, will be the guest speaker at the Fall Membership Meeting of the Washtenaw County Council on Aging. Mr. Murray, a member of the Michigan Commission on Aging, will discuss the effect of new legislation on the Commission. The program also includes a slide presentation, "Washtenaw County - A Land of Contrasts," prepared by the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission.

Featured at the meeting are presentations of the three projects of the local Council on Aging - Information and Referral Service for Seniors operated jointly with the Social Security Administration, Planning Project for the Aging, and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. The meeting will be held on Thursday, September 20, from 4:30 - 7:30 P.M. at the Michigan League, 227 S. Ingalls, Ann Arbor. Dinner will be available in the League Cafeteria from 5:30 - 6:30 P.M. The public is invited.

Scotch Apple Crisp

This is one way to treat your family (and perhaps friends) to a change of pace dessert when you're counting the pennies just a little bit.

Filled with canned pie-sliced apples and Nestle's Butterscotch Morsels, the pudding is a tasty dessert for these fall days ahead.

- Scotch Apple Crisp
1 20-oz. can pie-sliced apples, drained
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) Nestle's Butterscotch Morsels
1 cup quick-cook oatmeal
1/2 cup butter
Preheat oven to 375°F. Arrange apple slices in bottom of 1 1/2 qt. baking dish. Sprinkle lemon juice over apples. Heat over hot (not boiling) water butterscotch morsels, oats, and butter until morsels melt and mixture is well-blended. Spoon over apple slices. Bake: 375°F. Time: 25 minutes. Serve warm topped with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

UNITED WAY OF MICHIGAN

Just a few years ago, the life expectancy of a child with leukemia was from two weeks to six months. Today, it's not unusual for a youngster with leukemia to live for five, or ten years, or even longer. Research is the reason for the improvement, the kind of research supported by the Childrens Leukemia Foundation with the funds provided through the United Way. The Foundation is there to help you and yours if you ever need it, and that's a good reason to give when you're asked. The United Way, thanks to you, it's working.

Community Chest Slogan CARE! -- SHARE!

Mrs. Del Ludwick presenting Mrs. Philip Kern with a check for $5,000.

Care! - Share! is the slogan for the Manchester Area Community Chest Drive of 1973. The winning slogan was submitted by Mrs. Philip Kern of 220 Territorial Street, who received a $5 check from President T.V. Ludwick. This year there were 51 slogans entered in the contest. The Board Members of the Community Chest selected the winning slogan at their meeting held Wednesday, August 29 at the home of Mrs. James Baker. Runners-up were Jean Ann Wahl and Betty Hough.

The Board wishes to thank everyone who participated in the Slogan Contest and hopes that everyone in the community will Care! - Share!

Community Chest Budget $17,400

"United, there is little we cannot do".

The dynamic force of a community pulling together to help practically all health and welfare agencies can and will be a success.

The united approach makes sense and the fair share plan has proved its worth.

The 1973-74 Manchester Area Campaign goal of $17,400.00 was arrived at by a local volunteer committee who have carefully analyzed the needs of each agency.

The fair share plan has been designed to provide the contributor with carefully justified cost figures, one fund drive rather than many, and a yardstick to measure each individual part in the program.

My best wishes to all concerned for a successful campaign.
Francis W. Smith
Campaign Chairman

"Che-Sara-Sara"

By C. Chapin

It's vacation time! Last bit of summer and cool, crisp Fall coming along. If you have been on the road, driving, camping, or waiting for snow to give you good reason for a winter trip south, then you have probably seen a good bit of the U.S.A.

Getting off the expressways and taking a look at the countryside, mountains, rivers, and small towns alike often is far more fun than the highly touted tourist spots.

Everyone has a store of memories of places they have seen and we thought this week we would share with you two of the places we have seen.

Our first stop, will be a little village in Pennsylvania, Bedford Village, near the southwestern border, just a skip off the turnpike. Rich in history, having been one of the first Forts built on the frontier as it was then. Indian country, where Washington camped and reviewed troops, many of the old stone buildings still stand and historical markers stand on nearly every corner. The river runs through the town, and the forest stretches almost straight up, for this is mountain country. But the ordinary life of the people has its demands and a very serious part of the community life has to do with protection against fire.

The records of the Bedford Volunteer Fire Co. go back to 1833, and show that in May of 1839 a building was erected to house the mechanical pumper. In 1950, one hundred and eleven years later, these volunteers, 72 in all with about 40 very active, have seen erected a new building to house the equipment.

A lovely stone building, and over the doorway hangs a coat of arms, two lions rampant, in red and gold, facing a shield, and with the Spanish motto emblazoned beneath on a banner "Che-Sara-Sara" --- "What's to be will be".

Me, I think I would like the people in Bedford.

Our next stop, this time in the deep South, will be in Enterprise, Alabama. An apt name for a town that was prosperous at the turn of the century, for Enterprise was in the heart of 'cotton country'.
Alabama is an extraordinarily beautiful state, and the countryside varies from mountains in the North to the Gulf of Mexico in the south, with green pine forest stretching for miles. Enterprise is a busy little town with every appearance of prosperity.

But it was not always so, for about 1915 the Mexican Boll Weevil made its appearance north of the border and brought devastation and poverty to the cotton growers. Facing economic disaster, experiments were tried and diversification was preached from the hills and many crops were found to grow in the rich soil. The decision was made to concentrate on peanuts primarily as an agricultural export. This was so successful that the area abandoned cotton forever as a permanent crop. Now if you drive through the wide, tree shaded streets, past the pretty homes and go straight downtown to the central square, you will find a circular fountain, and in the center of the fountain a statue of a graceful lady, arms upraised, and holding a replica of the Boll Weevil.

Advertised as the "Peanut Capital of the World" and maintaining a monument to a pest, the citizens of Enterprise boldly state that this is not a humorous memorial but a sincere appreciation of the insect that forced them to greater prosperity than they had previously known.

Well, there it is. That's what I saw. The interests and attitudes of the local folks, concretely expressed, and the American character in its variations gave me some thought, a laugh, and left me with admiration.
