THE MANCHESTER ENTERPRISE

106TH YEAR NO. 45 10 CENTS PER COPY THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1973

Community Chest Slogan CARE! -- SHARE!

Mrs. Del Ludwick presenting Mrs. Philip Kern with a check for $5,000.

Care! - Share! is the slogan for the Manchester Area Community Chest Drive of 1973. The winning slogan was submitted by Mrs. Philip Kern of 220 Territorial Street, who received a $5 check from President T.V. Ludwick.

This year there were 51 slogans entered in the contest. The Board Members of the Community Chest selected the winning slogan at their meeting held Wednesday, August 29 at the home of Mrs. James Baker. Runners-up were Jean Ann Wahl and Betty Hough.

Community Chest Budget $17,400

"United, there is little we cannot do". The dynamic force of a community pulling together to help practically all health and welfare agencies can and will be a success.

The 1973-74 Manchester Area Campaign goal of $17,400.00 was arrived at by a local volunteer committee who have carefully analyzed the needs of each agency.

The fair share plan has been designed to provide the contributor with carefully justified cost figures, one fund drive rather than many, and a yardstick to measure each individual part in the program.

"Che-Sara-Sara"

By C. Chapin

It's vacation time! Last bit of summer and cool, crisp Fall coming along. If you have been on the road, driving, camping, or waiting for snow to give you good reason for a winter trip south, then you have probably seen a good bit of the U.S.A.

Getting off the expressways and taking a look at the countryside, mountains, rivers, and small towns alike often is far more fun than the highly touted tourist spots. Everyone has a store of memories of places they have seen and we thought this week we would share with you two of the places we have been. Our first stop, will be a little village in Pennsylvania, Bedford Village, near the southwestern border, just a skip off the turnpike. Rich in history, having been one of the first Forts built on the frontier as it was then. Indian country, where Washington camped and reviewed troops, many of the old stone buildings still stand and historical markers stand on nearly every corner. The river runs through the town, and the forest stretches almost straight up, for this is mountain country. But the ordinary life of the people has its demands and a very serious part of the community life has to do with protection against fire.

The records of the Bedford Volunteer Fire Co. go back to 1833, and show that in May of 1839 a building was erected to house the mechanical pumper. In 1950, one hundred and eleven years later, these volunteers, 72 in all with about 40 very active, have seen erected a new building to house the equipment.

A lovely stone building, and over the doorway hangs a coat of arms, two lions rampant, in red and gold, facing a shield, and with the Spanish motto emblazoned beneath on a banner "Che-Sara-Sara" --- "What's to be will be".

Me, I think I would like the people in Bedford. Our next stop, this time in the deep South, will be in Enterprise, Alabama. An apt name for a town that was prosperous at the turn of the century, for Enterprise was in the heart of 'cotton country'. Alabama is an extraordinarily beautiful state, and the countryside varies from mountains in the North to the Gulf of Mexico in the south, with green pine forest stretching for miles. Enterprise is a busy little town with every appearance of prosperity. But it was not always so, for about 1915 the Mexican Boll Weevil made its appearance north of the border and brought devastation and poverty to the cotton growers. Facing economic disaster, experiments were tried and diversification was preached from the hills and many crops were found to grow in the rich soil. The decision was made to concentrate on peanuts primarily as an agricultural export. This was so successful that the area abandoned cotton forever as a permanent crop. Now if you drive through the wide, tree shaded streets, past the pretty homes and go straight downtown to the central square, you will find a circular fountain, and in the center of the fountain a statue of a graceful lady, arms upraised, and holding a replica of the Boll Weevil.

Advertised as the "Peanut Capital of the World" and maintaining a monument to a pest, the citizens of Enterprise boldly state that this is not a humorous memorial but a sincere appreciation of the insect that forced them to greater prosperity than they had previously known.

Well, there it is. That's what I saw. The interests and attitudes of the local folks, concretely expressed, and the American character in its variations gave me some thought, a laugh, and left me with admiration.

APPLICATIONS ACCEPTED FOR SERVICE ACADEMIES

Congressman Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich.) announced today that he will accept applications until October 1st from young men in the 6th Congressional District who are interested in attending Service Academies beginning July, 1974.

Young men, ages 17 through 21, from Ingham, Jackson, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties, as well as Bath Township in Clinton County, may apply for appointments which are allotted to the Sixth District to fill vacancies at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, the Military Academy at West Point, and the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Congressman Chamberlain will also nominate ten candidates to the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point who will compete on a state wide basis for a number of vacancies. While there are no Congressional appointments to the Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, Chamberlain stated he would be glad to send catalogs and information to anyone interested in the Coast Guard. Congressman Chamberlain indicated that he bases his nominations primarily upon a civil service competitive examination, the College Entrance examination and the applicant's high school academic record.

Said Chamberlain, "I have already received a number of applications, and these young men do not have to apply again. All others who would like to attend an Academy, entering in the classes beginning next July, must advise me of their interest by October 1st, in order to be considered."

Letters should be addressed to Congressman Chamberlain at the U.S. House of Representatives, Rayburn Building, Washington, D.C. 20515. Catalogs and full information about procedures will be furnished promptly. Young men born between July 1, 1952 and July 1, 1957 are eligible to apply.

Fresh Peach Pudding — a Favorite

Peaches grow in many parts of the world. And wherever they are found they are an inspiration to dessert cooks. This Peach Pudding with Custard Sauce is easier than pie. Fresh figs baked in a lightly spiced syrup are also popular when figs are plentiful.

Peach Pudding with Custard Sauce
1/2 cup sugar 1/4 cup water
3 tablespoons corn starch 2 cups peeled fresh peaches, cut into wedges

Mix together sugar and corn starch in top of double boiler. Add water and stir into corn starch mixture. Then add peaches. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Cover and cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Chill. If a softer pudding is desired, stir in a little lemon juice. Makes 4 servings. Serve with Custard Sauce.
Custard Sauce: Mix together in a double boiler top, 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon corn starch and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Then mix in 2 egg yolks or 1 whole egg, slightly beaten. With a spoon, gradually blend in two cups of milk. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture is slightly thickened, about 5 minutes. Do not overcook. Remove from heat. Cool. Mix in vanilla. Chill. Makes 2 cups.

What happens when you're offered $20,000 for your $27,000 pile of ashes?

You take it if you haven't increased your home insurance to keep pace with inflation. This is the kind of problem you could face if you bought and insured your home for $20,000 in 1968. See me to find out if your home is insured for its full value. I'll tell you about a low-cost State Farm Homeowners Policy that will insure your home for all its worth... and keep it that way with automatic inflation coverage.

HOW GENEROUS ARE YOU?

You needn't be a wealthy philanthropist to give generously of yourself. Even if you're in the low-income category, you can develop a gift-giving which will be particularly appreciated by recipients. This test will give you a good idea of how generous you really are.

1. When policemen or firemen stop by at your home seeking to sell tickets to a ball, you should (A) Present them with a donation, even if you can't attend the affair. (B) Explain to them that you'll be out of town on the date in question and make no contribution, or (C) Buy a couple of tickets, even though you can't attend?

2. If you've taken a short ride in a taxi, you should (A) Give the driver 15 percent of the fare, even though the fare was less than a dollar. (B) Give a minimum tip of 25 cents, or (C) Tell him you've run out of change and give no tip?

3. If a business or personal associate of yours has lost a loved one, the first thing to do is (A) Send a condolence card. (B) Make a telephone call telling him of your regrets, or (C) Send flowers to the chapel or the home of the bereaved?

4. When you're invited to spend a weekend at the home of a friend, you should (A) Present your host or hostess with a gift. (B) Express your appreciation verbally, or (C) Offer to pay for your keep?

ANSWERS: 1. (A) Buying tickets you can't use may deprive others who want to attend from going to the ball. So, if you can't attend, make a small contribution, anyway, even though you can't use the tickets. 2. (B) Give him a minimum of 25 cents. For higher fares, give a tip of 15 percent. 3. (C) Send flowers. Flowers are a universal symbol of sharing sorrow and will be especially appreciated by mourners. A condolence card and phone call, if possible, would also be kind. 4. (A) Present the host or hostess with a gift. Offering to pay for your keep is a poor reflection on their hospitality. 5. (B) Tip 25 cents for each bag carried, although the sum may run up to more than a dollar.

WHEAT PROGRAM CHANGES FOR 1974

Major provisions of the 1974 Wheat Program have been released by the Secretary of Agriculture, Earl L. Butz. This announcement was made by Don Diehl, State Executive Director of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

With wheat producers getting ready to plant their 1974 crop, Diehl emphasized the importance of their becoming familiar with the new provisions of the 1974 Wheat Program. Of primary importance is the target price concept in the new farm bill recently passed by Congress. The bill provides a target price of $2.05 per bushel for 1974 and 1975 wheat. What this means specifically is that is the average market price during the first five months of the 1974 marketing year for all wheat farmers is $2.05 or more, there will be no Government payments. If the market falls below $2.05, the difference will be made up with a Government payment. The payment, if any, will be determined on the basis of the size of the farm allotment and farm wheat yield times the market and target price difference.

Diehl noted that no acreage will be set-aside in 1974 and the conserving base requirement has also been eliminated. Also, there will be no limit on the acreage of wheat that can be planted but, he emphasized again, payments, if any, will be based on the farm allotment and not the planted acreage.

County ASCS offices will soon notify wheat producers of their 1974 allotments. These allotments will be larger than last year as they now will reflect the acreage needed to produce enough wheat for both domestic and export markets.

You may have a wonderful excuse for your failure but the world pays cash for success.

ASK THE CHIROPRACTOR

B-A-C-K-A-C-H-E

Q. Nearly every night my back aches so badly that I can't sleep. Aspirin and other pain killers do not help at all. It's only after my husband gives me a back rub am I able to fall asleep. Why does my back ache every night?

A. If backache is frequent or of long duration, it is cause for deep concern and immediate action. In almost every instance, backache is trouble. It means you are suffering from one or more of these conditions: (1) muscle pain (2) pinched nerves (3) disease in another part of the body (4) disease of the spine.

Regardless of the condition, X-rays reveal subluxations (misalignments in the spinal column.)

No two cases are precisely alike, but names are given your backache pains originating in the back according to location. For instance, pain down the leg is called sciatica, low back pain is usually referred to as lumbago or sacroiliac disease, and people often speak of neck pain as a crick in the neck.

We emphasize that seldom is there one reason and one reason alone for backache. That's why it is imperative that you consult your chiropractor, a specialist of the spine and nerves, when backache occurs.

SAFETY RULES FOR INSTALLING A TV ANTENNA

- 1. Most important of all -- place your antenna mast so that no part of it can come closer than ten feet to electric power lines.
2. Install the antenna when weather conditions are clear and winds calm.
3. If the mast is fastened to a house or other structure, make sure that the structure is strong enough to carry the added weight -- allowing for wind, ice and vibration.
4. The mast should be securely anchored and should not lean in any direction.

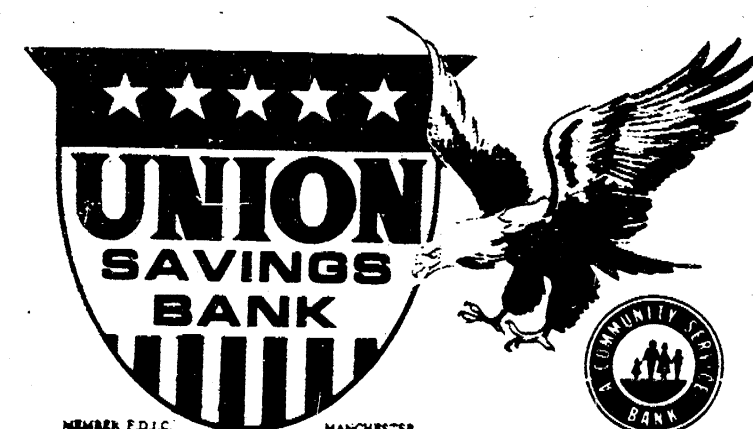

- 5. If your antenna mast is more than ten feet high, strengthen it with at least three equally spaced guy wires made of rust-resistant cable, such as stranded, galvanized steel. Add a set of guy wires every ten feet on taller masts.
6. To prevent lightning accidents, place a lightning arrester -- one approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories for TV leads -- on each conductor of a ribbon lead.
7. Have your entire TV installation checked once a year by a qualified serviceman. That's the best way to get good reception on all channels and to protect yourself and your family against accidents.

B 'N' B's were founded in 1949 by Carole Green of California and now have three regions there and are a coast to coast organization with chapters in Washington, D.C., Phoenix, Arizona and Adrian, Michigan. They once had a chapter in Mexico City.

Ask Senator GRIFFIN

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lend a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to: Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

I've been reading a great deal lately about the Environmental Protection Agency. Where did that "know-it-all" agency come from anyway? Or has it been around all the time?

—B. S., Highland Park

In 1970, President Nixon submitted a reorganization plan which proposed to abolish 15 different bureaus and offices in various departments and to establish instead one new agency to protect the environment.

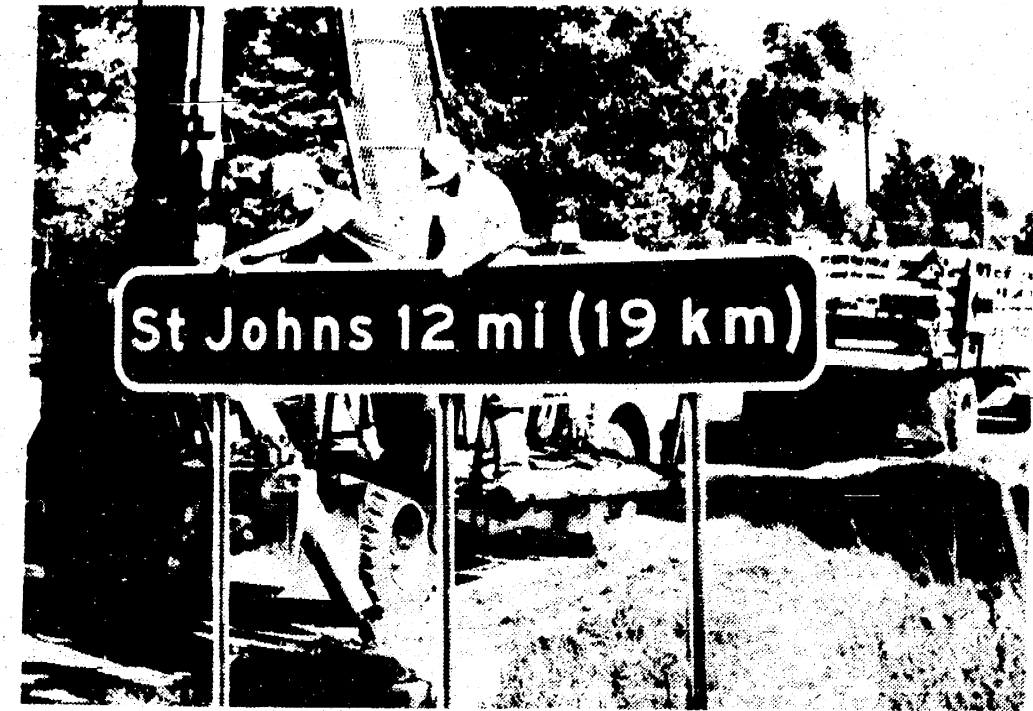

This reorganization became effective December 2, 1970, and the new Environmental Protection Agency opened its doors. EPA brings under one roof all the federal efforts to control air, water and noise pollution. This independent agency was not established to promote agriculture, commerce, industry or labor. It has only one mission—to protect the environment. If you'd like more information, you may want to order a publication entitled: The Challenge of the Environment: A Primer on EPA's Statutory Authority. It's available from the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402, for 45 cents.

I'm a 24-year-old Vietnam veteran and I want to attend college. I need information about GI benefits. But even more important, I need to know what colleges have academic programs geared to veterans of my generation.

—R. M., Grand Rapids

Michigan's own Macomb County Community College has published two booklets that are just made for you. One, entitled A National Directory of Post-Secondary Veteran Programs, contains basic information about federal and other assistance programs available to help Vietnam veterans. It includes useful information about tutoring, counseling and other pre-college programs. The second booklet, entitled Veterans Back to School: A Handy Regional Guide, lists all the colleges and universities by states with detailed information of special interest to veterans.

These publications are available by writing to Dr. Alan Gross, South Campus, Macomb County Community College, 14500 Twelve Mile Road, Warren, Michigan 48093.

SIGNS OF THE FUTURE are these new experimental highway signs showing distance in both miles and kilometers. The Department of State Highways is installing them on US-27 between Lansing and Grayling and at selected other sites as an early step in an expected nationwide conversion to the metric system of measurement over the next 10 years. This sign shows the distance from DeWitt to the Clinton County city of St. Johns (Department of State Highways photo).

Agriculture in action

Michigan Farm Bureau

Agriculture is front-page news in Russia. Nearly every day, major newspapers carry stories on the Soviet grain harvest and urge workers to bring in the crop efficiently and quickly. Despite recent heavy rains, the Russian news media report optimistic predictions of a good crop.

Rain isn't the only problem, however. The Communist party organ, Pravda, acknowledges frustrating equipment breakdowns, a common concern for the Soviets year after year. Reports in mid-August indicated that in the central Asian republic of Kazakhstan--14,100 combines and 9,500 trucks were out of order. In Movoelbisk in Central Siberia, the newspaper reported that 27 percent of the harvesting machines and 32 percent of the grain winnowers were not in working condition. Here in America, farmers have empathy with the Russian's weather problems—but they can't comprehend the chronic, widespread equipment breakdowns. A combine, to a U.S. farmer, represents a tough $30,000 investment, made possible through the hard work and sacrifices of him and his entire family, and the big "monster" receives tender, loving care and special attention to its intricate mechanism. In Russia, the caretakers of such government-owned equipment, which is moved from one region to another as the harvest progresses, don't have the personal investment that results in careful upkeep and repair.

A few years ago, it looked like Soviet leaders had learned a hard lesson that government cannot farm. Collective farm operators were allowed to farm little one or two acre plots for themselves and these tiny patches were well-tended and productive compared to the poor condition of the collective farms. This evidence encouraged Russia to decentralize some controls and grant more authority to the managers. Perhaps someday they'll recognize that government-owned farm equipment will never be blessed with ownership-care.

The fantastic efficiency of a free American agriculture is what keeps farmers fighting against controls which would squelch their productivity. They're concerned that while Communist countries, which suffered bitterly from lack of food and fiber, seem to be moving away from totalitarian control—our country seems to be moving in the direction of more controls. To them, that's a disastrous step in the wrong direction. They already know that governments can't farm.

Reorganization of Michigan's draft boards for a standby operations has been completed according to Harold F. Cross, supervisor of the Ann Arbor Selective Service System area office.

During the past year draft boards from Lenawee and Monroe counties have been grouped with the two Washtenaw county draft boards at Room 210, First National Building, 201 South Main Street, in Ann Arbor.

The total number of local board offices in the state has been reduced from 97 to 27.

Local boards will continue to register and classify registrants to maintain an available manpower pool for preparation of any emergency resumption of the draft.

All young men continue to be subject to registration within 30 days before or after their 18th birthday. Registration can be accomplished at the local board offices in Ann Arbor or with volunteer registrars who have been appointed in most high schools and youth centers.

Many young men have the opinion that registration is not required since inductions have been suspended. This is definitely not true as a conviction for failure to register for the draft is punishable by imprisonment for not more than five years and a $10,000 fine.

The Ann Arbor local board offices are open between the hours of 8:00 AM and 4:30 PM, Monday through Friday. Young men who have any questions may write or call the draft board at 665-3766.

The Army is looking for people with an interest in law enforcement. The demands of the new volunteer Army have intensified the need for military police and consequently those who qualify find themselves in not the buyer's market they encounter in civilian life, but a seller's market.

That means a greater variety of benefits, options and travel opportunities. An enlistee in Today's Army now commands a starting salary of $307 a month and that increases quickly as he demonstrates capability and self-reliance.

In addition, he is provided with free room and board, complete medical and dental care, 30 paid vacation days annually and, under the new Station of Choice option, a chance to pick the installation at which he would like to work.

It is a package that is truly unprecedented in Army history and one high school young people find difficult to uncover anywhere else. Nearly every municipal police department requires that its applicants be 21, which makes it impossible for young people just out of high school to get any kind of experience.

The policeman today must be better educated, not only in a formal sense-- though many with baccalaureate degrees are being attracted--but in an informal, community awareness sense. Communities have changed because the people within the communities have changed and subsequently the methods and techniques for enforcing laws within those communities have had to change.

Today's policeman understands and accepts this and has reacted accordingly. He performs with more tolerance, less insensitivity and shares with members of the community he serves a deeply rooted commitment to the purpose and direction of the American dream.

And for this he is now well paid, with a professional status and a genuine respect from community officials that will help to alleviate some of the difficulties he encounters in the job he has been trained to do.

Many policemen in large urban areas start at over $10,000 annually. With the proper motivation and skill, many actually earn quite a bit more than that. Much of a policeman's earnings are in direct proportion to the respect and the rank he has earned and, of course, to the experience he has gained.

400 Mile Trip Ends In Manchester

Four hundred miles in a week, Buffalo, New York to Manchester, Michigan on bicycles. Gary Neuderfer of 128 Greystone Lane, Rochester, New York, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Neuderfer of Manchester and wife Judi Neuderfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amleto Simmons of Manchester, together with Robert and Cathy Bauer of Lima, New York planned vacations together this year and decided on a bike trip home.

Gary is a biologist and Robert a chemist with the New York State Fisheries Dept., and working together they became good friends. Judi, Gary's wife is a Public Health Nurse in Rochester and when all four became interested in biking and camping the trip was laid out and routed to stay as close to Lake Erie as possible, using all secondary roads through Canada.

Beginning at Buffalo they crossed the Peace Bridge and following as nearly as possible the shoreline, they began each day on the road by 7 A.M. and rode till 3 P.M. Cooiking out was a problem because of the weight of the food and utensils, so they simply ate at whatever lunchroom was available.

Bob pulled a small trailer behind his bike, called a bugger and the only casualty on the trip came when it flipped over on a rainy day. The two couples carried repair equipment but did not have any flat tires. Each bike could carry only 20 lbs., so the wardrobe was limited, spare jeans and shirts.

Arriving in Windsor, they biked across the Ambassador Bridge, a real thrill, and when they reached Ann Arbor, got a Motel Room, the first of the trip, for they had used Mountain tents and sleeping bags, then after a bath and cleanup, came into town.

The bikes were taken apart and crated and the two couples flew home with the bikes as baggage. The primary topic of conversation before leaving had to do with plans for biking to Nova Scotia next year.

The Manchester Community Chest Board will meet with the Campaign Chairman and the Chairmen of the Divisions at 7:30 PM at the High School Library.

Two year letter winners Tom Popkey and Dennis Keizer will man the end positions. Seniors will make up the rest of the offensive line; C, Joe Kress; G, Ross Haeussler; G, Dan Osburn; G, George Merriman; T, Bill Sordt; T, Keith Alber; T, Eric Bentschneider; Juniors: Paul Tassie at guard and Bill Mann at tackle will see lots of action. Senior backs, Scott Gormley, Bruce Cray, Cory Althouse, along with Jr. Ron Steele, Scott Evisizer and Sophomore Craig Fielder, will handle the backfield.

Defense will again be backed as a major Dutch stronghold, as a solid group of Veterans are back. Defensive Back: Kennedy, Cray, and Althouse. Defensive Line Backers: Gormley, Osburn, Steele, Merriman, will be helped by Sophomore Dave Reineck. Defensive Line: Sordt, Bentschneider, Alber, Kress, Haeussler, and Keizer will help make up a strong front line.

A reminder that the J.V. will open their season at home Sept. 15, 10:00 am with the Tecumseh 9th. The admission price is Adults - $1.50, Students (5th and above) - .75 on a pre-sale basis.
