From Labels To Audio-Visual

Pictured above is the audio-visual equipment that the Middle School (with the help of many students, parents, and friends of the school) earned last fall for collecting 15,613 Campbell Soup labels.

Each year the Campbell Soup Company sponsors a "Labels for Education" program. Selected schools throughout the country have the opportunity to conduct a drive to collect labels from cans of Campbell Soup and redeem them for various pieces of audio-visual equipment. This year the Middle School responded with enthusiasm to the offer and collected enough labels to get three Panasonic Tape Recorders and an eight station listening center. The 1973 drive ended on December 8.

"We are already looking forward to next year's 'Labels for Education' drive", states Ted Tapping, Middle School Principal, "because there are still items of audio-visual equipment we could really use, but which we can't always afford to buy, and this program gives us an excellent way to get them free."

4-H Compete In Regional Run-Off

Eleven members of the Washtenaw County 4-H horse bowl teams and their coach traveled to Michigan State University in East Lansing on Saturday to compete in the Southern Regional Run-off Contest.

The Junior team successfully out-distanced their opponent, Livingston County, by a score of 275 points to 20 points. Lori Lichlyter of Willis and a member of the Mustangs 4-H Club is the captain of the Junior Team. Other members are Gail Howard and Liz Clark, both of Willis and members of the Mustangs 4-H Club; Tammy Rhoades of Manchester, a member of the Manchester Mavericks 4-H Club and the alternate is a member of the Range Riders 4-H Club, Mary Tyson of Ypsilanti.

The Senior team was not quite as fortunate in their competition. Their opponent, Berrien County, won by a score of 175 points to 120 points. However, the game is never over until the final gun. The Washtenaw County Senior team was the highest scoring losing team and therefore had a chance for a rematch against Cass County as their original opponent did not arrive. In an exciting game between Cass and Washtenaw, Washtenaw County emerged the victor by only ten points, the final score being 135 to 145. The captain of the Senior team is Alene Garlick of Manchester, a member of the Sharon Valley 4-H Saddle Club, Mary Guenther of Bridgewater, a member of the Kossel Equestrians; Bill Oltmanns of Ypsilanti, a Range Rider 4-H Club member and Carolyn Gerganoff of Ypsilanti, a member of the Brand X 4-H Club are the balance of the Senior team. The alternates are Mike Fisk of Manchester, a Sharon Valley 4-H Saddle Club member and Nancy Andrews of Ann Arbor, a Brand X 4-H Club member.

The coach for both teams is Clinton

Fisk of Manchester.

The horse bowl is a fairly new innovation in the 4-H Horse and Pony Project program. The objectives of the 4-H horse bowl are to encourage the 4-H members to obtain more complete knowledge of horses and related subjects, to provide an educational horse program for all horse project members, including those who may not own a horse, and to develop alertness and self-confidence. If anyone has ever watched the College Bowl program on television, then you have some idea of how the horse bowl competition is handled.

More work and study are ahead for these two teams and their coach as they try to ready themselves for the state competition which is scheduled for April 6 at Michigan State University. The horse bowl is only one activity which will be in progress that day. Horse judging, horse demonstrations and public speaking for horse members will provide outlets for many 4-H'ers.

Board of Education Meets With Township Supervisors

Monday evening the Manchester Board of Education met with the township supervisors from Manchester, Freedom and Sharon Townships. In the discussion which ensued the supervisors indicated that growth would certainly occur in the school district. Mr. David Meinhart, supervisor of Freedom Township, cited problems of a growing township and said that growth in the Pleasant Lake Area specifically and in Freedom Township would certainly accelerate in the next decade.

Clarence Fielder, Supervisor of Manchester Township, expressed confidence in his townships ability to grow rapidly. Mr. Fielder said the only thing that could slow it down would be the energy crisis or the shortage of gasoline. Sharon Township Supervisor, Allen Alber, also expressed this opinion.

All three supervisors indicated that their townships were concerned with zoning ordinances which would make growth orderly and desirable.

The Board of Education is proposing a building addition to the Klager Elementary School which will alleviate the crowded conditions in both the Middle School and the Klager Building.

A bonding election will be held on Tuesday, March 26, 1974 for this purpose. Several open meetings are being planned by the Board of Education for the purpose of informing the citizens as to the need of these facilities.

Village Primary Election Results

The Primary Election which was held Monday resulted in the following: Republican ticket for mayor, David Little 142 votes and Democratic ticket for mayor; Joseph Catalana, 10 votes. trustee, 122 votes; Sam Deal trustee, 118 votes; Herbert Mahoney trustee, 100 votes; Richard Boatwright trustee, 76 votes. A total of 177 voters out of 456 registered.

Dutch 10-1 Eye Championship

by Jon Roger Hardenbergh

I'm sure Friday's showdown between League leading Manchester and second place Clinton was witnessed by more spectators than ever before, never has anyone been refused entrance, until now. These faithful Clinton and Manchester fans watched amidst crowded conditions as the Dutchmen escaped with an overtime 44-40 win over the Redskins.

The pressure hit the players as soon as Manchester controlled the opening jump, as if someone had put lids on the baskets. The first period ended with Clinton having a narrow 9-8 advantage. Scott Gormley and Dean Decker both posted 4 points. The second began with Manchester again controlling the tip, with the terrible field shooting continuing. Gormley pumped in 4 points, while John Savage and Bruce Cray added 2 points each. Both teams scored 8 points so Clinton's lead was still 1, 17-16. The first half saw the Dutch in foul trouble early but Clinton's inability to capitalize on 1 & 1 shots kept the Dutch in the game. The third period started with Clinton gaining the tip but the Dutchmen's shooting eye seemed to be coming back. Savage and Steve Beach (welcome back Steve) dumped in 4 points each as Decker, Gormley and Rich Kennedy offered 2 points apiece. This showed the contest deadlocked at 30-30. Cold shooting came back for the fourth period with Gormley scoring 6 points while Savage and Cray helped with 2 points each. A 40-40 score sent this game into overtime (this was Manchester's first overtime). The Dutch got the tip but the poor shooting continued. With 1:04 left, Clinton's center, Tom Sharpe, fouled out giving Manchester control of the inside. Kennedy sank the 2 shots from the charity stripe as Decker previously had added a basket to give the Dutch a 44-40 win. Dan Jurasek, the Clinton gunner who killed the Dutch before with 32 points was held to a mere 7 points. Field shooting was 30% for the Redskins and 35% for the Dutchmen. Manchester actually lost in turnovers, 19-16. For scores, rebounds and fouls consult boxscore below.

Two students from Manchester attended and performed solos. They were Brad Frey and Cathy Moore. Brad received a 2nd for his performance of a baritone saxophone solo, a minuetto by Mozart, and Cathy a 1st for her rendition of Fantasy Piece by Schumann for clarinet. They were judged on performance, musicianship and interpretation.

Saturday, February 23 approximately 15 seventh, eighth and ninth graders will travel to the same College to perform solos at the Junior High Solo and Ensemble Festival.

Coming up on March 19 will be the Manchester Festival of Bands concert. Circle this date on your calendar now.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:
I am shocked that students in the Manchester High School are now allowed to smoke between classes and that they receive permission from their parents that they may actually receive a pass from the school authorities to go out from study hall for a smoke break!...

footsteps.

Smoking is known to contribute to 360,000 deaths a year. An average of 1,000 a day that is 7 times as many as die in automobile wrecks. In two months more die from smoking than died in seven years in Vietnam. All the great epidemics of thyphoid, in western Europe since the beginning of the 16th century has caused fever deaths than cigaretttes caused in just one year in the United States alone!

I cannot believe that the people of Manchester School District want this policy in our schools. What should we do? I have personally wrote to the Principal, Superintendent, and each Board member and the President of the Chamber of Commerce. I suggest that all who feel as I do, do the same. Also if many of you would call up the school and express your desire asthis matter, it would be resolved. The school officials do not really want this policy but they have lacked the courage to stand up to the students with our standing behind them and urging them to take action, maybe something can be done. We send our children to school to learn not to set school policy.

Sincerely
Bill Enslin, Pastor

Dear Editor:

In an effort to bring clarification to people who apparently are misinformed about a condition in the high school, I submit the following explanation.
The school administration does not condone or approve of young people smoking, nor does it encourage them to do so. As a matter of fact, the administration has consistently tried to enforce the Michigan law which states that young people under the age of eighteen cannot legally smoke in public places and specifically in school. Unfortunately, a few students who are eighteen years of age or who have parental approval have been smoking just off the school grounds for years. While we do not approve of this, we cannot stop it. To do so would require police action and a great deal of wasted effort. If our courts do not have the time or the facilities to deal adequately with hard core recalcitrants, how in the world can we expect them to deal with children who smoke with parental consent. These young people do not warrant this kind of treatment anyway. They are fine, decent young people who unfortunately have a cigarette habit. Now we can pause a moment and reflect on why they would have such a habit, but the reasons are many and obvious. Suffice it to say that cigaretttes are available to young people anywhere in any community despite a state law which specifically prohibits the sale of cigaretttes to minors and is actually a crime punishable by a fine and a jail sentence. I have no personal knowledge of this law ever being enforced. On the contrary, you can see young people buying cigaretttes every day with complete freedom to do so. Also, more parents are tolerating smoking by young people and allowing their own children to smoke. These two conditions are very difficult for school personnel to combat. It is impossible for our staff members to constantly check lavatories and/or students to see if the no smoking regulation is being complied with. Their job is to teach academic subjects to their students and they are doing an excellent job. We, in Manchester, have one of the finest high school faculties found anywhere, and we are not going to waste their talents by taking them out of the classroom to police toilets and outside smoking areas. We, as teachers, certainly help to teach moral and health values, but this is not our primary task. These and other values should be taught elsewhere outside the school environment. Unfortunately in many instances they are not being taught. Yes, we are allowing students who are eighteen years of age or who have the consent of their parents to smoke in their free time off school property. No, we do not approve of young people smoking, nor do we approve a society that makes smoking attractive to them and a society that makes it convenient for them to do so. If this is a problem that should be remedied, perhaps the whole community should work at it.
Robert D. Swartz
Superintendent

Agriculture in Action

Michigan Farm Bureau

Politicians dedicated to government price controls, who are calling for fuel and gasoline price rollbacks seem to forget that an excess of controls and regulations was a major contributor to the current shortages.

Some of these Congressmen are making demagogic statements on the energy crisis as part of their early presidential campaign efforts, but generally they reflect the basic belief that government controls are the best answer to all problems.

It would seem that the price control activists would realize that the American public learned its lesson from the chaotic results of the beef price freeze of 1973. Consumers faced shortages and the cattle industry has not fully recovered from the disruption of markets and general confusion generated by this foolish action.

But is quite likely that the price control advocates—once they have exhausted the publicity possibilities of the gasoline shortage—will once again direct their attention to rising food prices.

They will seize upon the recent increase in the farm price index, which climbed 9 percent from mid-December to mid-January. This should be related to the fact that the farm price index declined for three consecutive months prior to December, 1973.

The index of prices paid by farmers continued to rise with a gain of 1.5 percent from mid-December to mid-January.

Beef cattle at $44.40 per hundred pounds in mid-January certainly do not spell any bonanza for cattle feeders who purchased high-priced replacements for their feed lots. And if consumers want a good supply of beef, they had better hope that cattle prices continue to move upward. The profit system represents an alien doctrine to the political price controllers, but they should be aware by now that government price controls do not produce one pound of beef or one gallon of gasoline.

Bids Taken For Road Improvement

Bids will be taken February 20 in Lansing on more than a half-million dollars worth of highway improvement projects in Chelsea and Manchester, Senator William S. Ballenger (R-Lansing) said today.

Ballenger said one of the projects includes resurfacing of 6.4 miles of M-52 from north of US-12 north to near Duncan Street in Manchester. Completion is scheduled for June and estimated cost of the project is $260,000.

Bids also will be taken on resurfacing six miles of M-52 from the Pen Central Railroad crossing in Chelsea north to Roepke Road. Estimated cost of the project is $240,000 and completion is scheduled by June, Ballenger said.

Ruth Rachel Barber and Daniel Jacob Smith were united in marriage at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Tecumseh on Saturday.

The Rev. Russel Cooper officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin G. Barber and the son of Mrs. Russell Smith and the late Mr. Smith.

For her wedding the bride chose a princess style gown of ivory bridal satin and cluny lace with full sleeves. Cluny lace accents enhanced the bodice and hemline and the long ivory silk veil was secured to a wreath of imported flowers. Honor attendants were Miss Charmaine

Earling of Minneapolis, Minn., and Jon Barber, a brother of the bride.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Bob Rigg of Manchester and Miss Julie Smith, both sisters of the bridegroom.

Serving as ushers were Mr. Rigg, Scott Barber, a brother of the bride, and Paul Grothe of Manchester.

Sara Rigg of Manchester attended as flower girl.

A reception followed at the Freedom Township Hall.

After a wedding trip to Aruba, the newlyweds will reside in Clinton.

Herbs Work Muffin Magic

Herbs have long been valued for their almost magical properties. And two herbs — dill weed and thyme — work a bit of flavor magic in this recipe for corn muffins.

Herbed Corn Muffins begin with another type of kitchen magic: corn muffin mix. This dependable mix boasts unsurpassed convenience, and it bakes up into tender, golden muffins with full, fresh corn flavor. That home baked taste is merely enhanced by the addition of a touch of herbs.

HERBED CORN MUFFINS

Makes 1 dozen
One 12-oz. pkg. Flako' Corn Muffin Mix
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
Heat oven to hot (400° F.). Empty corn muffin mix into a bowl. Stir in dill weed and thyme. Add egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. (Batter should be slightly lumpy.) Fill greased muffin cups half full. Bake in preheated oven (400° F.) about 15 minutes or until golden brown.

Dutch 10-1 Eye Championship

hind Gary Voegeding's 21 points, 74-43. Their League record is now 7-4 with 3 games left.

This week my insight is on co-captain Scott Gormley. Scott is a 6'3" senior forward. He sometimes faces taller counterparts but Scott has great leaping ability and his ball handling is superb. He scores on the average 14 points per game with his best showing against Morenci in which he burned the nets for 26 points. Friday he shot 50% from the field canning 8 of 16. He shot only once from the free throw line and this he missed. He grabbed 5 defensive rebounds and 3 offensive rebounds. Scott was assessed with his fourth foul late in the third period but played a tough fourth period and overtime without getting number 5. In Saturdays contest he injured his left ankle in the closing seconds of the first half. Monday shows good improvement. How many games he'll miss is questionable.

LUCK OF THE IRISH

by Jon Roger Haroenbergh
Saturday the Dutchmen traveled to Ann Arbor seeking revenge against the state's second ranked Irish of St. Thomas. The first meeting saw Manchester fall short to a 62-60 tally. The Little Dutch were defeated also.

The Junior Varsity game was very exciting with the score deadlocked at 64-64 at the end of regulation time.

The Little Irish sneaked by with a 70-68 overtime victory.

The Varsity started out slow for Manchester but fast for the Irish. Behind Scott Gormley's 7 point contribution and Dean Decker's 4 points, the Dutch closed the first period down 20-15. The second period saw the Dutch fight back and go ahead at half, 33-32. Rich Kennedy's hot outside shooting paced the Dutch men with 8 points while Gormley added 6 points. In the final seconds of second period play, Gormley went high for a rebound and fell to the floor in pain with a twisted ankle. This terminated this evening performance for Gormley. At this point he had 13 points, 3 rebounds and 2 fouls. The ankle should be strong with a week's rest. Coach Shick stated we might have won but for Scott's injury. The Dutch had the Irish rattled early in the third period up by 6 points. The Irish called time out and brought in a guard, Anbut, who has been a starter all season but broke a toe in Friday's game and was a doubtful player. He got the Irish back together as they ran off 10 unanswered points to end the period in front, 48-44. That was it for the Flying Dutchmen as the Irish coasted to a 67-54 win. Kennedy was high man for the Dutch, canning 19 points. Bruce Cray and Decker offered 8 points and 6 points respectively. John Savage was held to only 4 points (well below his average of 17 points) but he swept the boards 10 times. Steve Beach helped with 4 points. The Dutch won in the turnover department, 23-14.

The schedule now for the Dutch is a busy one with games Friday, Saturday and the following Tuesday. On Friday the Dutchmen host the Panthers from the Dutchmen host the Panthers from Addison (Dutch won the first meeting by 13 points). Saturday the Manchester squad travels to Britton Macon. The Torries are a class D school with a 1-3 League record. Tuesday, February 26, the Dutch play host to the Aggies from Sand Creek. The Aggies threw a scare at the Dutch 1 1/2 weeks past but Savage, sinking a basket with 25 seconds left, gave the Dutchmen a 42-40 win.

DUTCH GET BLASTED

Last Tuesday night the Manchester matmen went against the powerful Vikings of Dundee and came away another victim of the undefeated untied Vikings 38-15. Manchester was in the lead only once during the match 9-8 after the first four matches, with John Roberts and Joel Tobias winning with a pin and 7-0 respectively. Ross Haussler was the only other winner in the match with a pin at 1:13.

Clancy, a rookie cop, caught a thief breaking into a jewelry store one dark night. "Ha," Clancy said. "Caught in the act. You'll do plenty time for this, me boy!" "Look," said the thief. "I know my rights. I want to call my lawyer. Let me go into that cigar store and call him and have him meet me at the nation house!"

So Clancy let the thief go into the cigar store and the thief kept right on going out the back window. Clancy didn't see him until six months later when he met the little crook coming out of a jewelry store with his hands full of rings and bracelets. Clancy grabbed the loot and the looter. "Ha," Clancy smiled. "I've got you with the goods this time. Come along with me." "I got to call my lawyer," the crook protested as they passed a cigar store. "You won't fool me this time," said Clancy. "Here. Hold these rings and bracelets and give me your lawyer's phone number. I'll call him!"

7TH GRADERS FINISH 4-3

The 7th grade basketball team finished the season last week with losses to a strong Morenci team and to Clinton, a team they had previously beaten twice. The losses lowered the Dutchmen record to 4-3. Morenci's towering all-star center proved to be much for the much shorter Dutchmen as Morenci topped the Junior Dutchmen 30-22. Bob Weirich played his second outstanding game of the tournament bagging 6 points and 11 rebounds. Rick Krzyzaniak and Brian Evans also bagged 6 points apiece for the Dutchmen. The Clinton game is one the Dutchmen would just as soon forget as they outshot Clinton 60 shots to 20 but the Manchester team could only bag 7 field goals and their cold shooting cost them the game.

Only four Dutchmen could enter the scoring column with Rick Krzyzaniak leading the way with 6 points.

Mike Lentz played a fine game and added 5 points, while Brian Evans scored twice and Mike Lehr once to complete the lowest total the team has had all season.

Rick Krzyzaniak was named to the Tournament All-Star team for his fine play in the games.

Recently there was a real tragedy in our neighborhood when a friend's home caught fire. She panicked and couldn't remember the phone number of the fire department. After wasting a lot of time trying to look up the number, she finally ran next door for help. By the time the fire trucks arrived, most of her home was destroyed. I understand that some cities have one special number to call for all emergencies. Can a small community set up such a system? If so, I'd like to try and get our community to do it.

Any community in the United States, large or small, can adopt the so-called "911" emergency telephone number system for reporting emergencies and requesting assistance. It requires some modification in the community's central telephone office.

Chances are, if this system had been in operation in your community, your friend would have remembered the three-digit number 911—and it would have been prominently displayed on her telephone instrument. After dialing 911, the answering center would contact the fire department.

Not only does this system speed the response to an emergency, but in many cities it has increased citizen participation in the reporting of crime.

Each local community that adopts the system can decide which emergency services will be included. Generally, a system includes at least the police and fire departments, but other possibilities are ambulance service, drug abuse control and the suicide prevention office, to name a few.

In March, the Federal government's Office of Telecommunications Policy endorsed this emergency number program and urged its nation-wide implementation.

Since June, 1972, more than 300 such systems have been established throughout the country, with 62 more planned for 1974.

Some local officials have indicated concern about the cost of the system. But OTP claims the cost is minimal unless many extras are put into the system.

To help in setting up such a system, OTP has published a booklet "911—A Handbook for Community Planning." It includes details about the history, benefits, proposed state and federal legislation and cost of the system as well as some of the possible problems that may be encountered.

You can get OTP's booklet by writing to Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. The price is $1.35.

50th Wedding Anniversary MORE THIS and THAT!

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Buss, natives of Freedom Township will hold open house on Sunday, March 3 from 1 to 5 at Moose Lodge, 390 S. Maple St., Ann Arbor to celebrate their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary.

Laura went to school at Pleasant Lake School, her first teacher was Ezra Koebbe. Clarence went to school at Rogers Corners, first teacher was Julius Schmid.

Laura was born in a log house on a farm which has been in the family over 100 years. Clarence grew up in the farm next to where they now live.

Their first date was on a Sunday the 1st of May 1921, to Young People League at Salem's Church, west of Saline when Rev. Papsdorf was minister there. They courted mostly with horse and buggy although on their first date they had Dad's Willsknight.

They were married March 1st, 1924 at Bethel's Church by Rev. Lenckhof. Attendants were Walter Buss and Clara Feldkamp. After a short honeymoon to Detroit, they settled on the farm where they still live.

They are members of Emanuel United Church of Christ of Manchester, members of Tri County Sportsman's League, members of Pittsfield Union Grange, charter members of Pleasant Lake Grange organized in 1919 by George English of Chelsea. They have been grange members ever since they have taken all 7

By C. Chapin
Feeling the need to get away from it all? The gas shortage really makes planning a vacation difficult. Well we gave it a little thought, took a look at the winter sunshine coming through the dirty windows, listened to the children bickering, and made a decision. We would escape. Florida was out of the question, they have no gas at all and we could spare only three days anyhow. One of the college sons came home for the weekend to supervise the bickering and away we went.

With enough gas to get to Windsor we carefully checked to see if Canada had plenty of gas. Never mind the weather. The sun shone and the roads were clear. Plenty of gas we were assured. The price a little high I thought, and asking about this got confusing. "Isn't sixty cents a gallon alot?" I said.

There is a certain sort of condescending look on a husbands face when he knows about things that women don't understand. "You have to remember, that there are five quarts to a gallon here, so it isn't really that bad" he says.

Down the expressway we went, prepared for freedom and lovely peace. Found it too. Miles and miles of it. Flat land with snow glaring and so cold. Having made this trip in the summertime we had pleasant memories and it was surprising to find the same land looking so desolate.

Hoping to find a pleasant small town to have lunch we chose one called Rodney, which seemed to hold some promise and finding a restaurant which housed a marble soda fountain with the old high stools and a Scotsman, MacDonald by name to give us food we ordered fish and chips. The chips turned out to be french fries.

Onward to Niagara Falls, which we had not seen in wintertime. It's beautiful and breathtaking. And so cold. The shops are open and imports are available, making shopping fun, even if you are not buying alot. Korean and Japanese dolls, cunningly fashioned of wood. Steel and hammered brasswork from countries with exotically oriental names. Italian painted wood with muted pastel colors combined with gilt. Lots of delti were in the Holland shop, bracelets and china, with that special blue they are so famous for. Lots and lots of Eskimo and Indian products from Northern Canada. Woolen clothing from Scotland. The Waterford glassware and Royal Doulton China.

Plenty of gas too. So I said (having been doing some thinking meantime) "Listen, I don't understand this. If we have four quarts to a gallon and they have five quarts to a gallon, then it's still a gallon and it's the same gallon and the same amount then the price is still sort of high".

With that same sort of look on his face I was told "You just don't understand."

The American side of the falls has collapsed rather badly and while pretty in it's way there is no doubt that the Canadian falls have been favored by Nature and only become more impressive as the years go by. The mist rising, spreads over the immediate area and each tree and twig has a coating of thick frost, so heavy one is amazed to think that the spring will find them alive and blooming.

Back indoors to get a view from warmth. Let's try the Skyline, the tower with the revolving restaurant at top. The elevator is on the outside and a very smooth quick trip it is too! I know, because I held my breath the whole way. While husband is hearing about the suicides from this tower, and be-
