Lent and Easter is coming. The paradox of present fashions seems to be reflected in the footwear - the young sters in the past few years have pulled away so many non-essentials, the lines are cleaner, the color barriers have been broken and combinations of shades are now used which were unthinkable a generation ago. Lighter materials, functional and delightful, designed for comfort and easy movement. Then to finish all this the shoes are great, heavy, cloddish, and the total effect is one of light airiness

Jaycee Auxiliary Scholarship Fund

Again this year the Manchester Jaycee Auxiliary is offering a scholarship to a high school graduate or any adult age 18 and over who needs financial aid to further his or her education. Applications are available at the high school or contact any Jayce Auxiliary member. Completed applications may be left at the high school or mailed to P.O. Box 314, Manchester. Please be sure to mark envelopes "Attention-Scholarship." Deadline for all applications is May 15. All information will be kept confidential.

The community Good Friday Service, will sing two anthems during the service, onsored by Emanuel and Bethel United "Darkness Was Over All" by C.H. Biber, and "As On The Cross" an American Folk Hymn arranged by Lloyd Pfautsch. Everyone is invited to join in this community Good Friday Observance.

Red Cross Tornado Relief Fund

Tornado relief can be shared by every one who wishes to help. Giving money is the easiest and quickest way. The Red Cross, your church or organization will see that your gift is used wisely. For the Red Cross, make out your check to American Red Cross Tornado Relief Fund and mail it to 2729 Packard Road, Ann Arbor, Michigan, 48104. Your church or organization will give you specific instructions. Clothing has poured in so fast at the Ann Arbor Red Cross headquarters it would be best to call 971-5300 before taking any in to be sure they can process more at this time. They can also tell you how to pack clothing for the most efficient handling. The Washtenaw Chapter of the Red Cross has depleated its supply of Comfor Kits. Those who wish to sew can make up ditty bags, 18 inches square with draw-string tops, using sturdy but not too bulky material. The bags may be filled or sent to the Red Cross to be filled. The contents are items that are needed in an emergency --- tooth paste and brush, wash cloth, soap and hand towel, small packs of tissue, safety pins, small sewing kits, little games for adults and children, puzzles, etc. This type of kit is kept on hand for burn-out victims and other emergencies.

Congratulations Scott! County 4-H Horse Jamboree

and wants to become a baseball coach.

Washtenaw County 4-H'ers have done it again. After a very hectic Saturday at the 4-H Horse Jamboree Day in East Lansing, the eight team members and the alternates of the horse bowl division can relax. The Washtenaw County Junior Team captured first place in the state, even after losing one round during the day. Before a packed house, the fourth and final round of the horse bowl contest was played Saturday evening between Washtenaw and Ottawa counties. It was first thought that Washtenaw had won by five points; however the official score showed a tie. The tie was broken by seven additional questions with Washtenaw being down by thirty points after the first three questions. They ribbons and gold olympic type medals. The team members were Lori Lichlyter, captain: Gail Howard and Liz Clark, all of Willis and members of the Mustangs 4-H Club; Tammy Rhoades of Manchester and a member of the Manchester Mavericks 4-H Club with Mary Tyson of Ypsilanti, a Range Rider 4-H Club member as the alternate. There were fifteen junior teams competing in the contest.

The senior team from Washtenaw County finished in sixth place after three rounds of very stiff competition and even stiffer questions. Even after losing one round during the day, the team made it to round three and were topped by Allegan County who won fifth place. Members of the senior team were Alene Garlick of Manchester. captain; Mary Guenther of Bridgewater, a member of the Kossell Equestrians 4-H Club: Mike Fisk of Manchester and Nancy Andrews of Ann Arbor, a Brand X 4-H Club member. Alene and Mike are members of the Sharon Valley 4-H Saddle Club. There were sixteen teams competing in the senior division.

Forty questions are read to the two teams that are competing in each round. Ten points are scored for each correct answer and five points are deducted from the score for each incorrect answer. Final scores are not available at this

DRAFT REGISTRATION BY MAIL PLAN STARTED IN AREA

Young men reaching the age of 18 can now register for the draft by mail in the Manchester area, according to Harold Cross, supervisor of the Ann Arbor Selective Service System Area office covering Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe Counties.

The "Mailers" are now available in the Manchester post office, high school and police station, and in all high schools and post offices in Washtenaw County.

Instructions are included with the 'mailer". It can be completed at home, then folded and mailed. It is pre-addressed and needs no postage. Federal law still required the registration of young men at age 18 even though inductions have stopped. Failure to register is a violation of the law and could result in prosecution by the Department of Justice. Individuals may also request a mail registration form by writing to the Ann Arbor Selective Service System Area office at Room 210, First National Building, 201 South Main Street, Ann Arbor, 48108, or telephoning 665-3766.

People tend to forget that farmers are consumers as well as producers. In fact, in Michigan, they are the largest consumer group in the state, buyers of huge quantities of steel, rubber and other products needed for their farm businesses. There are few industries which have to buy their raw materials, machinery and supplies at retail prices and then turn around and sell their finished products at wholesale. Farmers do. Food is no exception. Among the women at the supermarket check-out counter who gasp when the weekly grocery bill is totalled are farm wives. The farm wife may gasp with a little more understanding than her city counterpart, but nevertheless, she agrees that food prices are high.

She's familiar with the statistics: food price rises are modest compared with wages, housing, transportation, health care, etc. She knows that American housewives pay a smaller percentage of their families' income for food than any other housewife in the world. Still, she has a hard time saving with conviction, food is a bargain, when she pays the bill.

When she compares the price of an item in the supermarket with the price she and her family received for the raw product raised on their farm, she's amazed at the spread. Yet, when you consider that an orange is handled 17 separate times from tree to table, with a cost added each time, no wonder the farm price and consumer price are poles apart.

Between the farm and consumer stand soaring union labor costs in the food industry, a troubled railway system which has necessitated shipping food by more expensive truck transportation, and ridiculous government regulations in labeling, packaging and inspection -- all of which add millions of dollars to food costs.

The farmer is receiving higher prices for his products and for this there are no apologies. A fairer share of the total income of this nation's prosperity for the farmer was long

There are two ways to help bring food prices down. One, of course, is to curb inflation caused by excessive government spending. Another is high farm production, encouraged by fair returns, a free market system, and expanded markets.

The goals of moderate food prices for consumers and decent incomes for farmers are not inconsistent. FARM

"Before the season began I was certain be much improved this season are quarterthan 3rd in the L.C.A.A. and have the first winning team in the history of Manchester track, but now I just don't know." greatly from last season and become the This statement by Manchester High track coach Larry Steeb reflects some of the frustration any coach would feel after he finds out that he has lost one fine sprinter can contribute greatly to this years team to "Senioritis," and has lost his top point man and League champion pole vaulter to an apprentice plumbing program.

So the 1974 edition of the Dutchmen thinclads will probably be taking part in a rebuilding program but at least there are many underclassmen to rebuild with.

Top Juniors on this years team are sprinter Kurt Kensler, middle distance runner Phil Krzyzaniak and hurdler Paul Tassie. Kensler excels in the quartermile where he has a chance to break Mark Spencer's one year old record of 52.9.

Krzyzaniak will be counted on to gain points in the 440, 880 and mile runs. Phil too has a strong chance to break a school record as he will be shooting for the 2:03.1 mark in the 880. Hundler Paul Tassie should be much

Two excellent middle distance runners should also be top point getters from the sophomore class. Dan Schaible and Tom

Dutch Trackmen Crush Britton

The 1974 edition of the Manchester High Track Team got off to a rousing start last Wednesday as the Flying Dutch-men crushed Britton-Macon 85-34 on Ypsilanti High's track.

Although Coach Larry Steeb would caution that Britton is not one of their stronger opponents this season, he would agree that the early season performances were especially good.

Top point getters for Manchester were Kurt Kensler, 1st 440 (54.5), 2nd 220 24.4), anchor leg on winning 880 relay, and Sophomore Dave Guenther, 2nd in long jump with an excellent 19'2" jump, 2nd 100 (11.4) and legs on the winning 880 and mile relays.

Although top individual performances abounded, Senior Tri-Captain Tom Guenther's 2 mile school record of 10:29. had to be the best, Tom passed the mile mark on the way to his school record at 5:07 faster than the winning time in the shorter event.

The Dutch thinclads put together a 27-5 edge over Britton in the field events and never tooked back.

In the shot put Freshman Dan Clark topped everyone in his first varsity meet with a winning heave of 41'9". Second and third went to his teammates Bill Mann 40' 81/2" and his brother Dave ones scoring points this spring as the senior 39' 9".

The long jump went to Britton's Dan Exelby but Dave Guenther was 2nd and Brad Frey was third 18'9". In the pole vault only Dutchman Freshman Mike Forner could clear the opening height as he won with an 8 foot vault. The 880 relay foursome of Dave Guenther, Pete Tassie, Brad Frey and Kensler reached the tape 1st (1:40.9) as did the mile relay guartet of Dean Decker, Rich Janish, Phil Krzyzaniak and Dave Guenther (3:57.7).

All in all it was the best opening day performance in the 3 years Coach Steeb has been guiding the team and he was quite pleased.
