Twenty-five members of the Sharon Valley 4-H Saddle Club participated in the four day horse and pony show. Sixteen horses, plus one foal and nine ponies were shown by the members. For a few of the members, it was the first time in the show ring.

Attends Summer Youth Program

Julie Bedrosian of Manchester, Mich., works on a project in the exploration on silk screening in the Summer Youth Program of Michigan Technological University in Houghton.

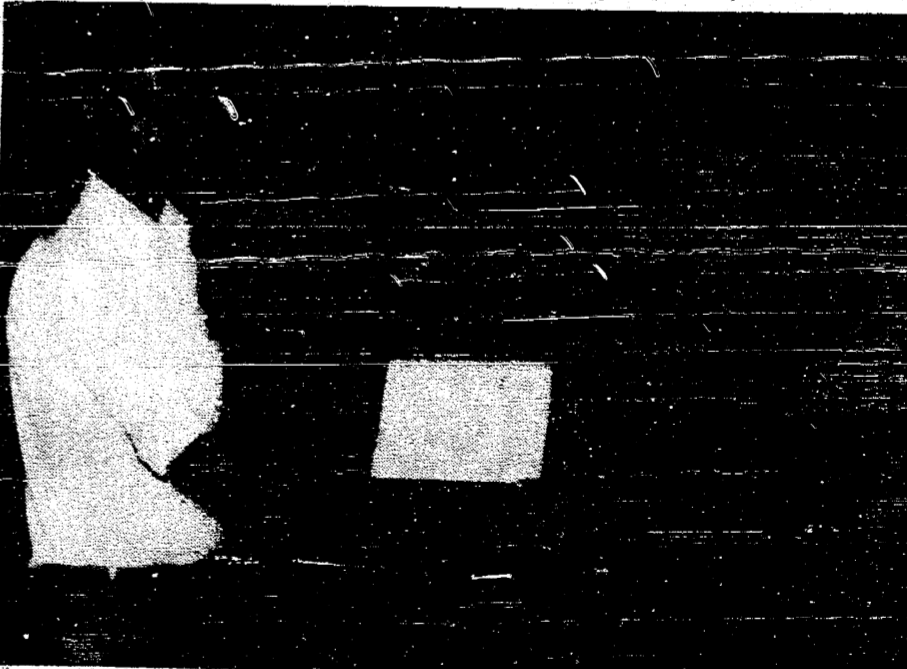

She was among some 1,000 youngsters from four countries who participated in the 47 explorations in careers and knowledge.

Students in silk screening cut stencils, bonded them to a fine-mesh silk-gauze screen, and printed by squeezing liquid oil-base colors through the screen with a squeegee. Many of the project designs were inspired by campus and surrounding Copper Country scenes of forest, Lake Superior, and remnants of the Copper Mining boom days. The students spent time composing and sketching before beginning their printing.

In addition to posters, they produced prints that can be used on lightweight fabric as wall hangings or clothing.

Julie will be a senior at Manchester High School, where she participates in track. Her brother, Daniel, participated in the Summer Youth Program's Computer Science Exploration. He will be a senior next year. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bedrosian, 115 West Main,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Presently, rules and regulations for Family Day Care Homes are being written by the State Dept. of Social Services. Concerned people CAN have an impact on legislation by making their feelings known to the legislators. Following is a letter written to Governor William G. Milliken, State Capitol, Lansing, Michigan:

RE: Department of Social Services proposed Family Day Care Home Rules under Section 2 of Act 116, being Section 722.111 - 722.128.

Dear Governor Milliken:
We are confident that your concern for the welfare of all children will prompt you into requesting a workable revision by the Dept. of Social Services of the above mentioned rules.

The Family Day Care Council has researched and concluded the following:
RULE 400.1303 (1): The maximum number of children who shall be received for care and supervision AT ANY ONE TIME shall not exceed 6.
This rule will force parents to send their school aged children home as "LATCH KEY KIDS" with no supervision as the licensed home will be unable to facilitate these children while caring for full time pre-schoolers.

The Family Day Care Council advocates the following change-EXCLUDING school children who need supervision during lunch and/or before/after school for periods of less than three hours per day.
RULE 400.1303 (2): The maximum number of children for which care is provided, INCLUDING the caregiver's own children under SEVEN years of age, shall not exceed 6.
This will, again, force a large majority of parents to make less than adequate arrangements for their child's care since the day care mother (provider) must include her own children who are under 7 years of age but not even in the home but in school all day.

The Family Day Care Council advocates the following change-INCLUDING the caregiver's own children under 5 years of age.
RULE 400.1303 (3): no more than 2 children shall be under the age of 2 1/2 years.
Again, this is so restrictive that the large majority of parents with children under 2 1/2 years will be unable to use licensed day care homes and will be forced to make less than adequate arrangements for their infants.

The Family Day Care Council advocates the following change-no more than 2 children shall be under the age of 12 months.
RULE 400.1305 (2a): The caregiver shall not use any form of physical punishment.
This rule means that the parent of the day care child will lose her/his right to choose how they want their child disciplined. There are no current laws which define physical punishment.

The Family Day Care Council advocates the following change-A caregiver shall not use any method of child handling or discipline that has not been discussed and fully approved in advance by the child's parent (s) and shall not use, regardless, any of the following:

(a) severe corporal punishment (as already defined in courts of law)
(b) mental or emotional cruelty (as already defined in courts of law)
(c) withholding of necessary food, as defined in rule 400.1307, or necessary rest and toilet use.
(d) no child shall be disciplined or punished by confining them in a closet or like cubicle. This also includes binding.
(e) isolation of a child for any purpose other than to help the child regain their self control or the protection of other children, and then only in a suitable (fit for human habitation) area and for a period of time which shall not exceed 15 minutes.
In behalf of all children, we wish to thank you for your immediate attention to this urgent matter.
Advocate for better child care,
Darlene Thorp

I urge everyone who believes as we do to send the governor, immediately, a brief letter urging him to have the above mentioned rules reviewed before the Dept. of Social Services submits them to the legislators. These rules will become effective shortly if they are not forced back into the hands of the State Dept. of Social Services for revision.

For more information feel free to contact the Family Day Care Council, 761-8187 or 484-0978.

Manchester Community Fair Needs Your Cooperation

Due to new State Rules and Regulations all exhibitors that exhibit at your Fair this year have to have an individual Premium Statement that will be sent to the State Audit Office. To help us in this extra work we are asking everyone that intends to exhibit any items this year or in the future to please fill out the blank below and mail to the Fair Secretary. We do not have to know what you intend to bring to the Fair, all we are asking for is your name and address. When we receive that information we will assign you an Exhibitor's Registration Number. This will be a permanent number which will be used year after year, so we do not have to do this every year. You will enter all your exhibits this year or in future years by using this number. We are asking also that if there is more than one member of your family going to exhibit items, please enclose their name on a separate sheet of paper if they have the same address as yours, if not enclose their address too, or if you know of a friend, neighbor or someone that does not have a Manchester address, please enclose that too. You will receive your Registration Card with the number you have been assigned on August 20, 1974 at the Fair Grounds the day you enter your exhibits.

The Fair Board is asking everyone for their cooperation in this new system because it will save you time standing in line and will help us to serve you better.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Newest Trend In Interior Wall Paint

Thinking of painting the interior of your home in the near future? If so, you ought to know about a new type of acrylic latex finish in the trade it's called "egg-shell enamel". This descriptive term does not refer to either the toughness or the color of these paints. In fact, they are offered in a broad range of pleasing hues, and they form tough, tenacious films that provide outstanding service under demanding conditions. Instead, "egg-shell" describes their unique gloss characteristics. Like an egg shell, when seen head on, the paint appears flat; when viewed at an angle, they have a gentle, satiny luster that makes them an attractive wall covering. As is true of conventional enamels, egg-shell finishes are highly resistant to dirt and stains and can be wiped clean without marring the painted surface.

Like all 100 percent acrylic latex paints, egg-shell enamels have a number of outstanding properties. They dry quickly, are easy to apply, have no unpleasant odor, and can be cleaned from brushes and other painting utensils with soap and water. They are also characterized by exceptional leveling and hiding properties, toughness and color retention, and they adhere well even when applied over painted enamel in areas such as bathrooms and kitchens.

With all these advantages, egg-shell enamels—also referred to as satin latex, acrylic velvet and low luster enamel—are a good choice for all interior wall, ceiling and trim surfaces.

Scully suggested waiting for the Michigan State Police report and Mr. Proglor would be notified of intent by August 5. Fitzgerald received a letter from SL&H Builders agreeing to pay for the plaque for the bridge. Public Works activities have included asphalt placed at the land fill, 100 tons of asphalt laid on Washington Street from Main Street to Duncan, water meters read, parks mowed, water tank painting completed and painting for streets finished. Two rows of blocks for restrooms at Kirk Park have been placed. Beal stated that John Schaible suggested glass blocks be used for windows. Daniels suggested need for a litter ordinance. He was requested to obtain samples of litter ordinances from other communities. Tom Davis, community planner for land use and Bill Lowery, historian, both with the Commonwealth Firm from Jackson were present. The firm engages in conducting historical surveys of buildings; landscapes etc. of a community. Identification, documentation, registering, and reports are made. Such a survey would include the townships at a cost of $2,500.00. Discussion indicated that the Village of Manchester has already been involved with historical preservation and awareness. Zsenyuk reported that he is presently working on a 'Disorderly Persons' Ordinance'. The grant for a Police Cadet Program was denied. Sheriff Postal of Washtenaw County received the program. The outcome for the communication grant is still unknown. Zsenyuk and Little will meet with Sheriff Postal to discuss policing of townships. Zsenyuk recommended that Mrs. Huber be paid a minimum wage for her clerical services to the Police Department and the D.P.W., each department splitting the cost. Moved by Mahony, supported by Scully that the Police Department and D.P.W. discuss with and hire Mrs. Huber for clerical work. All yeas, carried. Beal reported no new permits and left at 9:35. Little stated that the backstop at Carr Park needed repair. Mr. Kappler will be hired to fix it. A letter was received from Paul G. Fouts, Jackson Gospel Hall, requesting permission to conduct an open air meeting. Moved by Scully, supported by Fitzgerald that the request be accepted. All yeas, carried. Mahony suggested that the Council approve payment for check of $3800 to Don Brainer for cleaning and painting of water tank. Moved by Curley, supported by Fitzgerald to pay the bill. All yeas, carried. Moved by Scully, supported by Curley to adjourn at 9:45 P.M. Motion carried unanimously, meeting adjourned. Decia Daniels Acting recorder

July 29, 1974 Council met in special session with the meeting called to order by Pres. Little at 7:35 P.M. Present were Beal, Curley, Fitzgerald, Mahony, Scully and Walton. Moved by Fitzgerald, supported by Walton that the request from Steven Proglor for transfer ownership of 1974 Tavern and SDM licensed business located at 237 E. Main Street, Manchester, from Clare Fisher, be considered for approval with the provision that a letter of intent be filed with the Village Clerk concerning agreement of Mr. Proglor to repair the sidewalk, thoroughly houseclean and paint where required, and perform other maintenance where needed. All yeas, carried. Moved by Fitzgerald, supported by Curley to adjourn at 7:42 P.M. All yeas, Mary H. Wheeler, clerk

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA...

August 4-10 is National Smile Week. What's there to smile about? The impeachment proceedings? Inflation? Will a Week encouraging us to smile be enough to lift Americans out of the "Blue Funk"? Probably not. The grimness of current events are more conducive to frowns than smiles. But by focusing on the value of a smile, perhaps a better perspective can be gained for use in the difficult days that still lie ahead of us.

Granted, our country is not in the best of health, but-as we have in the past-we will survive the crisis; the wounds will heal with only enough scars to remind us to steadfastly protect it against illness and injury. The eternal optimism of the American people-in times of difficulty and during tests of durability-has played a vital role in the building of this great nation and will hold them in good stead now.

An example of this uplifting optimism is an idea two women, 700 miles apart, had almost simultaneously regarding the 200th birthday of our country. A Washington, D.C. writer and an Illinois housewife have suggested that Americans celebrate the occasion by holding hands and forming a human chain from sea to shining sea. "Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could do something to reassure ourselves and each other and the rest of the world that this is a great country and that we love it very, very much? Let's hold hands, because we care about each other and because we've been through a lot lately," one of them wrote. If you have trouble finding something to smile about during National Smile Week—just think of that beautiful idea. Millions of Americans — all ages, all colors, from all walks of life, with all political and religious persuasions — forming one great, handclasped chain from shore to shore.

True, a human chain would only be a symbol — like our flag — and symbols don't solve problems. But it would be a living symbol and serve as an effective reminder that we are truly unique and very, very special. And because we are — we can, and will, meet the challenges our country faces.

That's enough to make everybody smile...

FARM PROGRAM RULES CHANGED

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has further liberalized the requirements for enrolling in the 1974 Wheat and Feed Grain Programs. This statement was released by Walter Wittenbach, Chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The deadline date of July 15 has been extended. The change in policy now provides for what might be termed an open end enrollment period. For those producers who have not yet enrolled and who wish to qualify for a price support loan as their crops are harvested, they have the option of certifying to their crop acreages and enrolling at the time they apply for their loan. Those producers who may qualify for a low yield payment where natural weather conditions may affect their production, have until 15 days following completion of harvest to certify their crop acreage and if it becomes apparent because of substantial reductions in prices received at the market for program crops that deficiency payments may be made, producers with wheat and feed grain allotments would have until November 1 to certify their crop acreages. Wittenbach noted that in spite of the intensive campaign by county offices to inform producers of the features of the new farm program, many still do not understand the significance of signing up and certifying their crop acreages this year. In Michigan as of July 15, 83,327 farms were enrolled out of approximately 85,000 that were eligible. In order to give producers the benefit of any doubt and every opportunity to participate, the final certification date and the rules on preserving allotment history were changed.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Recently, the Michigan Department of Agriculture advised farmers storing grain that, to protect their interests, they should take grain to licensed and bonded warehouses and obtain official warehouse receipts.

In this statement the department indicated that farmers obtaining only "price later agreements" ran the risk of loss of their grain should a warehouse go bankrupt.

However, Director B. Dale Bell said, the department in its earlier release also indicated that farmers obtaining "price later agreements" get no guarantee of the price of the grain when the operator sells it. Director Bell said this is usually true at the time of delivery of the grain, but under the price later agreement farmers have an opportunity to agree on the sale price before it is sold from the elevator. This could be several months after delivery of the grain, but the price later agreement does provide for an agreement on sale price between the owner and the elevator.

However, Bell said, the earlier caution that farmers obtain official warehouse receipts from licensed and bonded elevator operators still stands if they want protection afforded under the Michigan Farm Produce Storage Act.

PROTECTIVE EQUIPMENT NECESSARY IN AN UNSAFE ENVIRONMENT

When it is not possible to make the environment completely safe where you work, it may be necessary to protect yourself from the environment.

The Michigan Department of Labor urges you to use personal protective equipment whenever necessary. Three of the most common types of protective equipment are: eye and face protection, ear protection, and protective clothing.

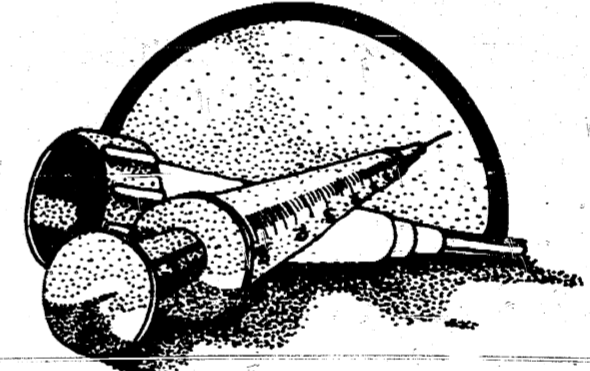

Eye and face protection include safety glasses, goggles, face shields, and similar items used to protect against corrosive solids, liquids, and vapors, and foreign bodies. Shaded lenses are used to screen out ultraviolet and infrared radiations. Of the many types of eye and face protection available, there is a correct type for each job and it should be worn at all times on that job, the department states.

Ear protection against noise-induced hearing impairment may often present special difficulties. The real answer is to reduce the noise exposure. But this problem may be difficult to solve and the wearing of ear plugs or ear muffs would then be mandatory.

Protective clothing—gloves, aprons, boots, coveralls, and other items made of materials that can't be penetrated—should be worn to control or eliminate prolonged or repeated contact with solvents that cause inflammation of the skin or chemicals that may cause a general poisoning of the body through skin absorption.

When The Group Wants Burgers

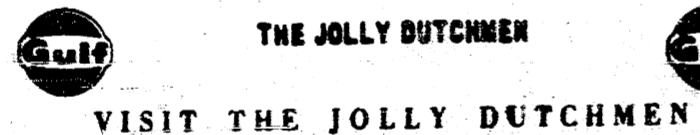

Cucumburgers is just a fancy name for a thick, juicy hamburger patty served on a toasted buttered bun topped with a crunchy cucumber and mayonnaise mixture. This recipe stretches one and one-half pounds of ground meat to serve eight by including fortified high protein cereal. Cucumburgers is Kay Kellogg's "best to you" at luncheon, back yard picnic time, midnight suppertime and anytime the group wants burgers.

- CUCUMBURGERS
|------------------------|--------------------------|
| 1 medium-size cucumber | 1/2 cup mayonnaise |
| | 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt |
- 1 egg
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 3 cups fortified high protein cereal
1 1/2 lb. ground beef
8 hamburger buns, buttered and toasted
- Scrub cucumber; do not peel. Cut into quarters lengthwise; remove seedy portion. Grate cucumber coarsely; press in strainer or in paper toweling to remove excess liquid. Stir mayonnaise and garlic salt together in small mixing bowl. Set cucumber and mayonnaise mixture aside for topping.
 - In large mixing bowl, beat egg until foamy. Add milk, onion, salt, pepper and fortified high protein cereal; beat well. Add ground beef; mix only until combined. Shape into 8 patties, about 3/4-inch thick.
 - Grill patties 5 inches from source of heat about 5 minutes on each side. Or cook in frypan over medium heat about 5 minutes on each side. Shorten or lengthen cooking time according to preference.
 - Just before serving, combine cucumber and mayonnaise mixture. Place patties on buns. Top each with 2 table-spoons cucumber mixture.
- Yield: 8 servings

Ask Senator GRIFFIN

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lend a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to: Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

At age 62, I applied for early retirement and began receiving reduced Social Security retirement checks last year. Now I am 63, and recently I suffered a disabling illness. I would like to know if I can apply for disability benefits.

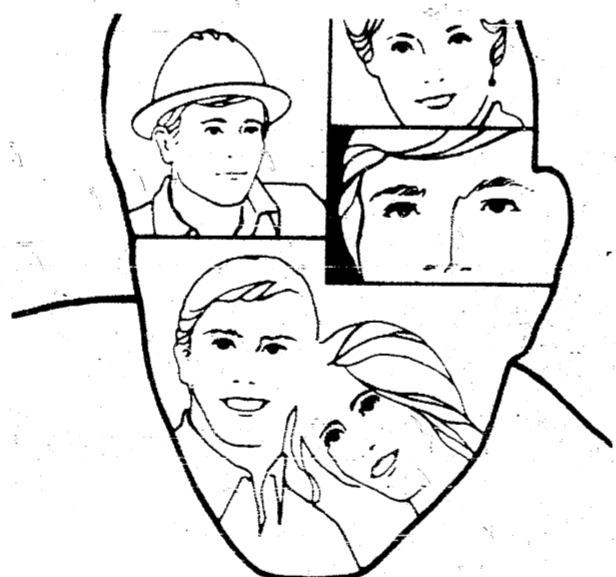

—F. P., Grand Rapids

Yes, you can. If you are disabled, you may apply for benefits on that basis. Of course, you cannot collect benefits under both the disability and retirement programs at the same time. Since your monthly disability payments would be higher than those you receive under the retirement program, I suggest you contact your local Social Security office as soon as possible.

My wife and I plan to take a fall vacation by traveling in our camp trailer through New England and then down to Washington, D.C. While in the Washington area, we would like to spend a few days near the ocean camping and fishing. Can you suggest a place?

—D. L., Flint

If you like to hike, camp and fish in an unspoiled place of beauty, Assateague Island—located off the shores of Maryland and Virginia—is the place for you. The National Park Service maintains two campgrounds there, but facilities are rather primitive. The National Park Service will be glad to provide information about hunting and fishing regulations in addition to details about other recreation facilities and programs available for visitors. You may also want to obtain a handy pamphlet entitled ASSATEAGUE ISLAND for 10¢ by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

We represent several firms, but we work for only one boss — you. That way we can always place you with a company which we think is best for each line of insurance you need. Naturally, we prefer companies like Auto-Owners who look at a loss and take care of it right away, without haggling or delays. That's one of the reasons we're part of the Altogether Family. THIS and THAT!

By C. Chapin

Heaving a great relieved sigh - and pausing for thought this week we have a short time to relax and hope for better days.

The system that was no longer workable actually worked - the checks and balances we have always heard about seem to have checked and balanced. Those people we elected and whom we so seldom believe in have shown that they are responsive to deep needs and beliefs of the people back home. It seems to us that one very deep need, present for at least a dozen years, since Dallas, was the inarticulate but strong urge to believe in something or someone - our childish immaturity and unsophisticated notions about our natural technological capacity, to an ability to feed the whole world was shattered again and again.

These ideas were all founded on fact and hold a great deal of truth - so when we found ourselves living with assassination, riots, and corruption a sort of sad despair crept upon us. A heavy burden for a people to bear. Truly it has been a time of depression.

And the answer to despair is Hope. Be assured that the people today have hope. Sadder and wiser as they used to say - but they have hope. Because it happened. Our best wishes go to our new President and with patience perhaps we can be once again proud and happy.

Open House

An Open House, in celebration of the 40th Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dresselhouse, will be held on Sunday, August 18, at the Manchester United Methodist Church in Hoffer Hall from 3 to 5 p.m.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Melvin (Joyce) Sroufe of Manchester, and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Dresselhouse is a retired school teacher, having taught in the Manchester school system at Pleasant Lake.

Mr. Dresselhouse is a retired parts manager from Naylor Motors in Ann Arbor.

They enjoy collecting antiques and traveling.
