I Am (Still) Tony's Tonsils

Hi there. I am Tony's tonsils. I have been with Tony all his life. I have an important job to do to keep Tony healthy. In a way, I guess I'm lucky to still be around. I am situated here in the back of the mouth toward the sides. I guard the entrance to the digestive and respiratory systems, so if I'm not on the job, all types of poisons can enter the body unchecked. I am the primary defense mechanism of the body. I trap foreign poisons, identify them, produce antibodies against them, neutralize them, and then filter and remove them. I was especially busy when Tony was a child, because there were always so many new poisons to identify and make patterns of antibodies for. Naturally, I was larger. As a teenager, I had identified most of the foreign poisons that attack the body, so I can do my work a lot faster, easier, and better, so my size reduced.

I am somewhat almond shaped and sized. I have a rough outside with deep recesses. If the recesses were magnified, they would look like rough mountains with deep ravines. It is in these ravine-like areas that I trap many bacteria and foreign elements that are poisonous. I am mostly lymph tissue underlying the mucous membrane. The lymphatic tissues detoxify and neutralize poisons. There are a great number of White Blood Cells in me also, which attack and destroy harmful bacteria. So you can see why I am so important.

Now, like every other organ and area of Tony's body, I work by directions. My work can be compared to a gigantic factory making hundreds of thousands of different parts. Every time I make a new antibody, I identify and pattern it and send the pattern up to the main filing office in the brain for future reference. Then, whenever I encounter the same poison again, I immediately ask the computer office up in the brain for the pattern, and if it is there, I can start production right away. (If it is not there, I have to make a pattern. This takes time and space. This is why children's tonsils are comparatively so much larger, naturally.) The communications network for directions between me and the Master Control Office in the brain is the Nervous System which passes through the spine. Which brings me to the rest of my story.

Some 50 years ago, when Tony was a small boy, he and his cousin Tommy went to Grandpa's farm. They were playing in the hayloft, got too close to the edge, and fell down. I'd lost contact with the Master Control Office from about 50% of me. I heard Tommy's tonsils say the same. (We landed on our backs and hit our heads.) About an hour later, both boys felt better and forgot about us—even though we had not restored contact yet. Since only about 50% of me was getting communications from the Master Control Center as to what to do, I began having troubles. The poisons were coming in faster than I could identify them. I of the body through it. (I was back here calling HEAR, HEAR. I knew from experience what was going on.) He mentioned the importance of a good nerve supply to me so that I could do my work right. (I was elated.) Tony's folks were a little skeptical, but they decided to go along with it to straighten out Tony's neck. Once I got back my communications with the Master Control, I could do my work again. I worked at maximum capacity to prove my worth. I really cleaned out the poisons. It took a couple of adjustments to straighten out Tony's neck. Then the guy that wanted to get rid of me had an accident and that gave me a longer could not communicate what I needed, and the Control Center couldn't communicate what it had. It was a real mess. I was trying the best I could to protect Tony, but I was really overworked. The poisons built up, and when I finally produced some antibodies to neutralize some of them, the eliminating channel didn't get its message to open up. The neutralized substance began backing up and I began to swell. I was so embarrassed, I turned red and got hot. Then is when real trouble almost developed. They took me to a doctor who said I should be destroyed.

Fortunately for me, Tony had another fall when he got home. He fell off his bicycle and landed on his head. It twisted his neck, and he couldn't straighten it. A neighbor who got well from asthma under Chiropractic care urged Tony's folks to take him to her family Chiropractor.

When we got there, the Chiropractor examined Tony's neck and then explained Chiropractic to us. He told us the importance of the spine and Nervous System and how an Inborn Intelligence regulates every action and function to relieve to prove my value and worth. By the time that guy got better, Tony's folks knew a lot more, and were convinced that I was a valuable and trusted friend of Tony. Since then, Tony has continued to get spinal adjustments on a regular basis to prevent sickness, and I've never had any more problems, and I've been able to protect Tony. The other parts of Tony's body have also been able to function properly and keep Tony healthy.

What about Tommy? We saw him the other day -- may he rest in peace. (Tony said he looked as though he were sleeping.) Tommy's tonsils were in trouble too. Some guy who claimed he was an authority on the body and health destroyed them. After that, with no defense mechanism, Tommy started getting severe colds. He also got stomach infections. He also got the Flu every time. He also got pneumonia several times. He had artificial antibiotics introduced, but they began reacting against him. Finally his health ran down, and he just couldn't protect himself anymore against sore throats and pneumonia. I'm glad I'm (still) Tony's tonsils.

Germ Proof

One time the charming Widow Wise was feeling all run down. So she went to Dr. Antigerm, the best M. D. in town. "A wondrous microbe specialist," they said, "and handsome too. Who knows, my dear, but he might prove a splendid match for you?" The Widow found the doctor in his germ proof office, where He listened to her symptoms, seated in a germ proof chair; And as she told her fancied ills the doctor, for his part, Began accumulating an affection of the heart.

Said he, "You know bacteria abounds in every place; I really must be watchful in so serious a case. You need most careful treatment, so I'll call each day or two And take you for a little drive to see what good 'twill do."

So their acquaintance ripened, and the Widow liked the way He watched her case so carefully and kept the germs away. Why, when she'd go to dine with him, in hopes 'twould do her good, They'd go to special restaurants which served but germ proof food!

One day he sent her roses, and she said, "How odd they smell!" "Ah, yes," said he, "I've had them boiled and nicely smoked as well. For microbes lurk in roses and you must take care, you see." "Ah," thought the silly widow, "how my doctor thinks of me!"

And then he started hinting of how much he'd like a wife. For whom he'd build a germ proof house and lead a germ proof life. "Now," thought the Widow with a thrill, "he'll next propose, I guess. He'll offer me his germ proof heart and I shall answer 'yes.'"

He did, and she accepted him; then raised her blushing face. Her ruby lips all ready for the kiss and fond embrace. "Back! Back!" he cried in wild alarm. "There's suicide in this! No microbes are so fatal as those lurking in a kiss! 'Ere we enjoy that labial tract advance your lips, my dear; I'll spray them with the contents of this atomizer here!" "Away!" cried she, and glared at him with anger in her eyes. "TRUE LOVE IS NOT AFRAID OF GERMS!" exclaimed the Widow Wise.

March of Dimes

America was founded on the ideal of equal opportunity. But what kind of equality is there for those who are born less than whole in body or mind? At the National Foundation-March of Dimes, we fight for a special kind of freedom for tomorrow's children: freedom from the blight of birth defects.

Millions of volunteers who support the March of Dimes are working to make this ideal a reality. They know that giving is not just a question of dimes or dollars, but of their time, their energies, and their most heartfelt feelings.

Their cause is nothing less than the health of America's children, particularly her unborn and newborn babies. We care about them. We care about what happens to them. And we take action to help them.

We have been taking action since 1938, when we began our long, sometimes discouraging, but eventually successful campaign to conquer infantile paralysis.

And we are still going strong. With polio conquered, the March of Dimes is in the thick of the fight against America's No. 1 child health problem—birth defects. Every year thousands are born with physical or mental handicaps. Over them looms the shadow cast by deformity, mental retardation, or disorders of metabolism. Other thousands enter the world too soon or too small.

Such birth defects don't happen just to other children and grandchildren. Every year thousands of children are born prematurely, too small, or with a serious defect. The problem is everywhere. There are some 15 million Americans alive today who are affected by birth defects. Millions more are affected indirectly as members of their families, their communities, and society as a whole, which must bear most of the burden of their care.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes wants to bring an end to all that. Our long-range goal is to prevent birth defects, premature birth, and low birth-weight entirely. It's not going to be easy, but it's not impossible.

Already, thanks to research, science is unlocking the secrets of those microscopic blueprints in every living cell called genes. Other researchers are beginning to find ways of detecting, even in advance of birth, when something is wrong.

defects happen or do not happen. What a mother eats, what medicines she takes, what illnesses she gets during pregnancy can have a far-reaching effect on her unborn child. So, besides knowing about nature, we want to know about nurture.

In our more than 2,000 chapters is where the action is: volunteers organizing community support to improve prenatal care; youth getting the message of preventive health care into their schools; retired people giving their skills and experience to safeguard the well-being of the next generation.

Pericles said that courage is freedom and freedom is happiness. We have the courage to believe in our cause and that gives us the freedom to fight for it. You can help. Join us in behalf of tomorrow's Americans.

MANCHESTER VILLAGE PLANNING COMMISSION

November 6, 1975

The regular meeting of the M.V.P.C. was held at the Village Hall, with members present: Whittington, Leeson, Daniels, Krauss, Althouse, Tracy, Chapin, and Mann.

The meeting was called to order at 7:40 pm, by Vice-Chairman Whittington. Minutes of the last meeting were read, and on the motion by Tracy, seconded by Althouse, were approved.

Chairman Whittington acknowledged with regret the resignation of Mr. Charles Cresswell as member and erstwhile Chairman.

Council representative Mann conveyed the wish of the Village Council for this Commission to suggest a person to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Cresswell. Several names were suggested, and on the motion by Daniels, seconded by Althouse, were unanimously approved for submission to the Council as candidates for the appointment.

Member Mann outlined a possible expansion plan being considered by Tom Marshall Ford Co., which would require a zoning change for a small parcel of property. Part of the anticipated expansion would be for a body shop and car-wash adjacent to the existing garage parking lot, and facing on Elton Street. In that some of this property is presently zoned R-1B (Single Family Urban Residential District), the Commission will wish to know if the Company is prepared to request a zoning change; is there room for proper setbacks per the new Ordinance; what type of lighting is planned; hours of operation; and if the car-wash stalls will be open to the public.

Adjournment was moved by Daniels, seconded by Tracy.

The meeting was declared adjourned at 8:40 pm.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU EDITORIAL

FOOD STAMP OR STOMP?

Do we give one of our largest government doles the stamp of approval or the stomp of doom? It's pretty apparent something has to be done about the Food Stamp program before the U.S. has to do what New York City is doing—appeal to somebody to guarantee our credit. Who does Uncle Sam call on? OPEC?

Of course the Food Stamp program is only one of many federal programs that could use some severe belt tightening, and the original purpose of food stamps is hard to dispute—to improve the nutrition of low income families. But, did you realize that the cost of running the program has risen from a mere $300 million in 1969 to 5 billion the past fiscal year?

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon has referred to the federal food stamp program as a "haven for the chiselers and rip-off artists" and cited the program as an example of a function people should be performing for themselves.

The food stamp program has a long history. From 1939 to 1943 an experimental federal food stamp program assisted 11 million Americans at a 4-year cost of about $260 million. Emphasis was on distribution of "surplus" food stocks which the federal government had acquired in its agricultural support program. This program was dropped during World War II when there were jobs for everyone and the economy was at a wartime peak.

In 1961 a new "experimental" program was authorized. By 1964, about 350,000 people in 22 states were receiving food stamps under the program.

One of the reasons American Agriculture is in economic trouble is that government social and economic planners, backed by politicians looking for votes, continue to foster the idea that food must be cheap so that more and more of the family income can be spent on all the modern trappings of an affluent society. The food stamp program is being used, not to provide food for hungry families as it was intended, but to supplement the income of millions of Americans who have other priorities for their spending.

If the food stamp program and the economic health of the country are to be saved, then some changes must be made and sooner than most people realize.

CUB SCOUTS PACK 453

Prizes were presented to Larry Lee Wright, Mike Waldron, Brian Olmstead, and Chris Olmstead for being top salesmen in the money earning project which was held in October. The Christmas party will be December 8 at 7:00 at Pleasant Lake School.

JOLLY FARMERETTES

The November meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes 4-H Club was called to order by President Joyce Schwab. Flag pledges were led by Jenny Feldkamp. Roll call was your favorite Christmas cookie, 38 members, 4 leaders and 1 guest were present. Programs were handed out during roll.

Under committee reports Sharon Voegeding reported on the sunshine boxes for shut-ins. We are to meet at the Sharon Town Hall at 1:00, December 13 and bring something to put in the boxes, cookies, fruit, or candy. After caroling we will go to the town hall for refreshments. Parents can pick us up at 4:00.

During the leaders report completion certificates and 1,3,5 year pins were distributed.

Demonstrations were given by Jodi Huber, Terresa Ames, Pam Martin and Terri Scully.

Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

WHAT'S COOKING IN MICHIGAN

Bring the true spirit of Christmas into your home with the stately presence of a natural evergreen tree. Its brightness will enliven the appearance of any room and fill the air with a fresh, balmy fragrance.

You can choose from several varieties when selecting your tree. Among leading ones are Scotch pine, white spruce, Douglas fir and balsam fir. Scotch pine is apt to be most plentiful. It's a fast grower and has excellent needle retention. Pines have long needles, while spruce and fir needles are short.

If you're ecology-minded, a natural tree is your best bet. It can be recycled as firewood, compost or mulch, and it is a renewable crop grown on the land. Artificial trees, on the other hand, use non-renewable resources such as petroleum for plastics, and metal. Some dealers offer live trees, which come with roots and soil attached, ready to beautify your landscaping after Christmas. These should not be kept indoors for long.

Michigan growers will harvest about five million trees this season. Most of them will be shipped to other states, even as far as Hawaii. It's a $25 million industry in our state, and after trees are harvested, the next crop is started in the spring.

It takes six to 12 years to produce a plantation Christmas tree in Michigan, and a lot of tender loving care by growers who shear for symmetry, fertilize and protect from fires and insects. Millions of replacement seedlings are now ready in the Christmas tree nurseries. In early spring, they'll be planted afield to start another crop. Then, for many years before harvest, the developing trees will provide green cover on the land, a home for wildlife, and jobs for those who culture them for harvest.

Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture leads the nation in production of plantation-grown Christmas trees. Shipping of trees starts about mid-November for those going to distant places like California, Florida and Texas. Then, in December, trees are trucked to neighborhoods sales lot throughout Michigan.

SECURITY SPECIALISTS SOUGHT

A critical shortage of men qualified to serve as security specialists in the United States Air Force has incited local Air Force recruiters to seek individuals interested in wearing the gleaming Air Force security badge.

According to Sergeant William T. Hughes of the Air Force recruiting office here, persons between the ages of 17-27 who otherwise meet all the qualifications for entry into the Air Force, can receive guaranteed training in this important career area.

Just what does a security specialist do? "After the young man completes six weeks basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, he receives five weeks basic security police training at the Air Force Security Police Academy, also located at Lackland," says Sergeant William T. Hughes. "The (the) pretty much tells it like it is," he continues. "Each man assigned to the career area is given specialized training in preserving the security of Air Force aircraft and missiles. This training includes the use of weapons, such as the M-16 rifle and M-60 machine gun."

"The security specialist course is tough and demanding," Sergeant William T. Hughes advises. "It includes counter-insurgency warfare training, repelling realistically simulated terrorist ambushes and attacks, and long, rugged forced marches in the hills of Camp Bullis, Texas."

"When the training is complete, the security specialist will be placed at an Air Force installation--and it could be anywhere! Wherever the Air Force exists, the need for security is paramount."

There are many benefits of being an Air Force security specialist, some of which are regular promotions, annual pay increases and the chance to wear the security policeman's unique uniform with the recently authorized "blue beret." More details are now available from Sergeant William T. Hughes, 3003 Washtenaw Avenue at Suite 3, Ann Arbor, Michigan or by telephone at (313) 973-1830.

voter registrations will be processed in Michigan before the 1976 election, according to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin. "The number of voter registration applications being received in Secretary of State field offices is exceeding our expectations," Austin said. "The people statewide appear to welcome the ease and convenience with which they can update their voter registrations or apply for new registrations at our driver license offices throughout Michigan."

A total of 35,678 voter applications, in close proportion to population distribution, were received in the first month of the program which began October 1, 1975. Of these, about half (17,449) were for new voters and half (18,229) were for changes of address. These registrations do not include regular year around registration activities of election clerks in their own offices.

Another major element of the program involves providing election clerks with the names of persons of voting age who have moved out of the state. Since the new system has gone into operation, the Secretary of State's office has identified more than 45,000 such individuals whose voter registrations should be cancelled in Michigan.

The new system complements the tasks of the clerks by providing additional convenient registration application facilities, while continuing their full responsibilities for the voter registration process.

This new addition to Michigan's voter registration system is an important step toward encouraging greater citizen participation in the political process.

Family Service Makes It A Merry Christmas

When Manchester Family Service asked for worn and unused dolls last November, little did we realize that nineteen of them would be "ready for circulation" again by Christmas. The original owners would never believe the miracles that talented seamstresses in the area have accomplished.

The champion doll recycler is Mrs. Karl Schwab. Along with her regular doll making, she has restyled and dressed fourteen of the outcasts for Family Service this year. Mrs. Clyde Gieske returned five of the orphans, one of which she had reclaimed. The others were done by Mrs. Robert Pratt, Mrs. David Lowery, Mrs. Oren Wellhoff and Mrs. Reno Feldkamp. Recycling dolls is more than designing and making clothes. It is restyling hair and enlivening bodies, making shoes, jewelry and hats and sometimes whole extra wardrobes. It is a test of ingenuity combined with a special know-how.

Manchester Family Service not only thanks these women, but also the many people who liberally gave canned and packaged goods and money to the Scouts and FHA members (along with loyal drivers) who covered as much of the village and area as they could during the December 10th Scavenger Hunt.

The families in the school district and township whose names have come to the agency through the Department of Social Services, Washtenaw County Health Department, The Salvation Army, local churches, organization and individuals will receive their gifts on Friday, December 19 at St. Mary's Church Hall. Letters have been sent to the recorded recipients telling them of the time and place. Lambda Nu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi has assisted the agency with the setting up of the Christmas Shop.

Manchester Family Service takes this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year and to thank the many individuals and groups that have assisted this community chest agency with additional funds - Bethel United Church of Christ Women's Fellowship and also their Adult Fellowship, Manchester United Methodist Women's Society, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Mr. Glen Lehr Sr., Mrs. F.C. Huber and the Huron Valley Night Hawks Motorcycle Club.

Bicentennial Elects Officers
It has been called to the attention of the Commission, that many of the people who read our articles are interested in helping with projects that are being planned to celebrate the Bicentennial. However, not many people know who the people are that are involved. Therefore, we will announce our officers and board.

The Corporation Officers for the Manchester Area Bicentennial Commission are: Mrs. Leonard (Carolyn) Ahrens, President; Mr. Jim Mann, Vice President; Mr. Bob Lawson, Secretary-Treasurer. The Advisory Board consists of Mrs. Irv (Donna) Gill, Mr. Irv Gill, Mrs. James (Gail) Drake, Mrs. Robert (Cecil) Chapin, Mr. Harold Bersuder, Mrs. Robert (Jean) Little, Mrs. Robert (Rita) Burkhardt, Mr. Gilbert Luckhardt, Mrs. Pete (Rosemary) Hughes. The people in charge of our headquarters, which is the Spear & Associates Real Estate Office are Jim Mann, Active General Chairman; Del Ludwick, Treasurer; Mrs. Bob (Rita) Burkhardt, Secretary; Mrs. James (Gail) Drake, Store Chairman; Mrs. Pete (Rosemary) Hughes, Student Activities Coordinator.

In the next issue of the Manchester Enterprise we will list the individual Committee chairmen and a brief explanation of what their committee is responsible for.

March of Dimes Scholarships

The Washtenaw County Chapter of the National Foundation March of Dimes is offering qualified senior high school students three $800 scholarships.

The annual scholarships will be awarded to selected students who plan to study either nursing, pre-medicine, social work, medical technology, occupational therapy, physical therapy or special education in college.

Application forms may be obtained from Phillip Surratt, March of Dimes scholarship chairman, 3750 Elizabeth Road, Ann Arbor, 48103 or from high school counselors. Interested persons may contact Mr. Surratt at 665-4216 for additional information.

All applications must be completed and returned to the chapter's scholarship chairman by March 1, 1976.

March of Dimes

Birth defects are the No. 1 child health problem in our country. Every year more than 200,000 American babies are born with some type of defect, mental or physical. That's one in 14, or about 600 babies a day. Of those born alive, more than 60,000 die each year in infancy, childhood, or in adult life, as a direct result of birth defects.

Birth defects affect the daily lives of some 15 million people in the United States alone. Each year some 1,200,000 infants, children, and adults are hospitalized for treatment of birth defects.

One family in ten knows the tragedy of a child born less than perfect. A birth defect doesn't happen to just one person - it happens to a whole family, creating severe emotional, social, and financial strains. It becomes a family with a handicap.

In 1973, there were 140,731 births in the state of Michigan. Of these, there were 9,850 born with birth defects. There were 11,120 born with low birth weight. Some low-weight infants also have birth defects. How many more will not know of their defects until later?

The National Foundation - March of Dimes sponsors a network of some 159 Medical-Service Programs throughout the country. Through these services, children with birth defects receive diagnosis and treatment by teams of medical experts. Grants are made to initiate creative programs which might not otherwise be available in the community. The aim is to achieve one or more of the following objectives: To attain optimal use of measures for the primary prevention of birth defects. To overcome shortages of medical and allied health personnel who are involved in prevention or treatment of birth defects.

The University of Michigan Medical Center, Ann Arbor, received such a grant for $30,401.00 in July 1974. In all, $153,829.00 in grants were made to Michigan hospitals and universities. In addition there were $56,225.00 in Research Grants allocated for Michigan thru the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

Research has already produced results. There are vaccines available against rubella and Rh blood disease. Screening of populations is now possible for sickle cell disease, and for carriers of Tay-Sachs disease, and for a number of other inborn errors of metabolism. Newborns and even unborn, can be tested for rare, but serious metabolic errors.

You can help to make more grants possible. Join your local March of Dimes and a birth defective child's dream can come true.

Drama Class To Present "Joy"

On December 20, 1975, the drama classes of Manchester High School will produce the Rock Musical "Joy" by Perry, Leslie and Rogers. It will take place at the auditorium of the Emanuel Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m.

This is the story of a drama class that arrives at a rehearsal to find the director and scripts are not there. The students, therefore, put together their own version of the nativity story with their own kind of music. It is a very moving performance.

Major parts in the play are: Mary by Kristi Kuntz; Joseph by Herb Mahony; the Kings by Mike Molnar, Scott Barber, Joe Chapin; Shepherds by Bob Kellogg, Judy Luckhardt; Karen Kennedy; Herod by Gary Joseph; Angie by Cheryl Whittington. Piano is played by Jane Schaible, drums by Jim Duncan, and guitar by Patti Boyd.

Tickets are on sale at the high school. Prices are $1.00 for adults, and $50 for students. Get your tickets early as there is limited seating.
