Going Back To Christmas

By Anita Bruder
Tis the season to renew attachments and escape from the cold-fa la la la la... My parents had just returned from a week in the South and I went home to enjoy the look of rested and rejuvenated faces and to hear the tales of the Journey down and back. I was suspended in thought while listening to my mother recall from her mental journal the highlights of the trip. Sam, the family Brittany Spaniel, had her face couched comfortably on my mother's lap. Mom's voice combined with even strokes along the dog's back provided a restful momentum on a lazy afternoon. Occasionally and subconsciously, my Italian mother would stop petting in order to emphasize a highlight with her hands. As though the pauses signified an entrance, Sam would roll her eyes contentedly upward and nudge. This caused Mom to momentarily pause in the storytelling in order to deliver a loving touch of reassurance to the pooch, before continuing on. Attachment.

Almost mystically I was re-acquainted with the sensation of returning home. The smell of the closed house, the re-awakening of the familiar and, later the anticipation of receiving a welcomed, "Where have you been?" from the dog bursting into the vet's waiting room. This warm re-acquaintance with the familiar puts one at ease enough to notice all the things one missed before--the bowl of dog biscuits, the cute pet calendars, the comforting voice of the receptionist in the waiting room. On the pick-up visit and after dog and owner have been re-instated to each other, what's behind the door your dog was physically dragged behind no longer causes wonder--it doesn't matter. You are together again. This season can provide the similar

Ask Cope...

Question: My son will be three years old in two months. He hardly talks at all. Sometimes I don't think he hears too well, but our family doctor says he's ok. I have asked my doctor if he can't do some tests just to be sure. Todd gets colds a lot and runny noses. Sometimes he cries and rubs his ears. Its when he has a bad cold that he doesn't seem to hear well.

I can't spend all day with him because I need to work on an afternoon shift at the plant. I leave him with an older lady down the road. He seems to like her. There just aren't any kids for him to play with out here where we live. I have talked to a couple of girls I work with and they think I should have him checked. What do you think? What can I do?

Answer: By all means insist that your doctor check your son's ears more thoroughly. What you describe could be symptoms of a number of problems, but your doctor needs to diagnose it. If your son isn't hearing well, then his speech and language may not develop well, since he may miss a lot of what would normally be good speech models for him to imitate. Your doctor may refer you to a specialist to check your son's hearing. Either doctor may then make recommendations for your son's hearing and, perhaps, his speech and language development. After you have seen the doctor and have heard the recommendations, contact the special education director in your school district.

(In Chelsea, Manchester, and Whitmore Lake, this individual is Dr. Henry DeYoung at 475-9131, extension 48.) The school speech pathologist, along with the director, can tell you whether or not your child is eligible for speech and language therapy (or other services); make suggestions for ways of helping your son; and possible recommend a pre-school program or nursery school into which he would fit. The special education staff in your school district is ready to answer your questions and help you.

(Project COPE is a federally funded program which is being operated during the current school year by Special Education Region V for Chelsea, Manchester, and Whitmore Lake School Districts. Its aim is to inform the community about the special problems and needs of pre-school children. Those who have questions, concerns, or who wish to refer a child for diagnostic services can contact Ellen Eagan Project COPE Director, at 475-9131, extension 50 or Dr. DeYoung at extension 48.)

Cross-Country Ski Program

Registration is now underway for the County Parks Commission's Fourth Annual Cross-Country Ski program. Instruction clinics will begin Tuesday, January 11, snow permitting.

Alternating between sites in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, the instruction sessions will be held each Tuesday evening through February 22. Participants attend one clinic where they learn basic cross-country ski techniques from qualified instructors. Equipment is brought to the site each evening by Round River Adventures.

The 1 1/2 hour instruction sessions begin at 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. Fuller Recreation Area in Ann Arbor and West Middle School in Ypsilanti are the clinic sites for this year's program.

Advanced registration is required through the WCPARC office, Box 645, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48107. Registration forms are now available and must be returned with a $3.00 payment per skier. The Parks Commission also offers a cross-country ski directory free of charge.

Senior Citizens

A program to assist Seniors, home owners or renters to file for Michigan Property Tax Relief is offered by the Washtenaw County Council on Aging, W. De St. Aubin, project chairman announced today. This free service, available to County residents, who are 65 years or over, will be given by volunteer tax counselors, who have received special training from the Michigan Department of the Treasury. St. Aubin pointed out that to obtain a speaker to acquaint Seniors with the benefits of the Act of 1973, or other information, call 665-3625, Council on Aging office. It is necessary to file a claim to obtain a tax credit or refund. We suggest that meetings be scheduled at senior centers, churches, public buildings and that a speaker be requested. If confined to their home, individual visits can usually be arranged.

Last year more than 1500 persons were aided in this tax counseling service and received more than $500,000.00 in credits or cash refunds. St. Aubin continued. This is the fourth year this service has been offered by the Council on Aging throughout Washtenaw County.

THE MICHIGAN YOUTH BAND AND WIND ENSEMBLE

The University of Michigan Youth Band/Wind Ensemble is a wind and percussion program sponsored by the University of Michigan School of Music and Extension Service. The ensemble was organized in 1973 to provide a broad and stimulating musical experience for musically talented high school aged youth.

The Youth Band Wind Ensemble rehearses every Saturday morning throughout the academic year on the University of Michigan campus under the direction of Professor Thomas L. Dworak. High School students come from approximately 35 schools in over 25 cities throughout Michigan to perform each Saturday.

Membership in the ensemble is open by audition only to students who are recommended by their school music directors and who are currently enrolled in grades 9-12.

Besides playing opportunities in chamber wind groups and large band, youth band members receive group master classes in instrumental performance from graduate students and faculty at the University of Michigan School of Music.

A broad scholarship program involving advanced study at Interlochen and the University of Michigan, is also a part of the growing opportunities for youth in the University of Michigan Youth Band/Wind Ensemble program.

Tammy Rhoades of Manchester is currently in this program.

Our speaker Sunday morning will be Mr. Elmer Mehl, who is a student at one of the Grand Rapids Schools of the Bible. Mr. Mehl will be graduating in the spring and, at that time, plans to join the Galilean Mission Force. He will be speaking in the morning service and may stay over for the evening Christmas program.

Previous to the Sunday services; Wednesday, December 15, after Prayer Meeting, there will be a Sunday School meeting. The main topic of discussion will be the "Earn-Your-Way-To-Camp in '77" project. The manner of earning camp fees will be changed this year and each teacher and bus worker will want to be in on the planning. The project will begin with the first Sunday in January. Remember, parents and students, this is the program whereby any student can earn his or her entire camp fee through the Sunday School.
Sunday, December 18, the Sunday School Christmas Party will be held at the church. All those participating in

A WHOLE NEW CONCEPT IN MICROWAVE COOKING!

No Guesswork No Overcooking No Potwatching

Until recently, microwave cooking was done by time alone. Then, GE introduced the Automatic Chef Temperature Sensor, which automatically cooks accurately by temperature. For many foods, just insert the probe and set the temperature. When the food reaches the proper serving temperature, the oven automatically shuts off and signals the food is ready. Also features three power levels for cooking flexibility, big 1.3 cu. ft. size and digital timer.

You will be especially interested and pleased to learn that early analyses of the results of the Michigan Educational Assessment Test given to every 4th and 7th grader in the State of Michigan at the beginning of the year would indicate that the Manchester Community School student is doing above the average of the youngsters in other areas of the State of Michigan. Once the definitive work is done in more detail, the results will be released and the individual profiles on each youngster will be given to the parents.

As you know, the Michigan Educational Assessment Test is a series of criterion-referenced objectives that are minimal objectives that the Department of Education feels each student should know by the time they reach the grade level at which the test is administered. A great deal of emphasis should not be placed on them since they test a minimum of objectives in only reading and math and, as you know, schools teach a great many other things than reading and math. I do hope, though, that you take the same pride that I do in the work of the staff, parents, and all involved in the educational process in this one illustration that we ARE providing good education in the classrooms of this district. Interestingly enough, we score higher in math than in reading which is almost totally true throughout the State. As educators, we believe that this is due to the concrete basis of math, as opposed to the difficulty in testing reading ability by objectives.

To speak to testing in general, we are taking a look at what testing programs might benefit us in better assisting students. We must proceed cautiously since test results, even under optimal testing environments, should be used for what they are...only an indication of what a child can, or cannot, do in terms of academic work. They must not be used to "label" a child since test results can change as often as we administer them. It is my personal philosophy, based upon considerable experience, that the teacher-made and teacher-administered tests, based upon his or her knowledge of their students, are the most valid. Standardized testing can be abused and can damage children. This we want to avoid at all costs. We will be sharing more in this

"On the First Day of Christmas..."

Here are 12 handy hints from the Kitchens of The Quaker Oats Company to help you through the 12 days of Christmas:

Make a delicious cold weather drink. For each serving, heat together 1 cup milk and 3 tablespoons maple-blended syrup. Pour into a mug; sprinkle with a dash of cinnamon or serve with cinnamon sticks.

Warm and wonderful waffles take minds off the holiday rush. Prepare waffles from pancake mix, blending chopped pecans or walnuts into the batter. Top baked waffles with fresh or canned fruit; sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar.

For a quick warmer-upper after shopping, combine 4 cups water, 4 beef or chicken bouillon cubes and 1/2 cup quick barley in saucepan. Bring to boil; simmer 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Makes 6 servings.

When the snowman is finished, treat the children to waffle-y pizzas. Prepare frozen waffles in toaster or oven according to package directions. Top waffles with canned pizza sauce and shredded Mozzarella cheese. Place on cookie sheet; heat in oven until cheese is melted.

Decorate an empty oats or corn meal tube to make an attractive container for Christmas cookies and other gifts from your kitchen.

Here's a cheery cherry crisp just right for the holidays! Pour one 21-oz. can cherry pie filling into 1-1/2 qt. casserole. Combine 1-1/3 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked; 1/3 cup firmly packed brown sugar; and 1/3 cup melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle over filling. Bake in preheated moderate oven (350°F.) about 20 minutes. Serve warm. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Be sure to leave a Christmas Eve treat for Santa. Homebaked oatmeal cookies, made from the new Quaker Oatmeal Cookie Mix, are among his favorites.

On Christmas morning, serve old fashioned, quick or instant oatmeal with a "holiday wreath" garnish. To make wreath on each serving, use green tinted coconut for holly and red candied cherries for berries. To tint coconut, add a few drops green food coloring to small amount of water in a jar. Add shredded or flaked coconut. Cover jar; shake until coconut is tinted. Drain on absorbent paper.

The Christmas season is always a busy time. Save on breakfast preparation time—and please the family—by serving toaster-ready frozen waffles or frozen French toast.

When the days are too cold or snowy to spend outside, bake chocolate chip oatmeal cookies. Serve warm cookies with mugs of hot chocolate or glasses of cold milk.

Frosty winter mornings call for bowls of steaming, hearty oatmeal. For variety, top each serving with brown sugar and applesauce.

On the 12th day of Christmas, when turkey is leftover, prepare a quick supper dish. Make pancakes according to package directions on your favorite pancake mix; adding chives to the batter. Top baked pancakes with creamed turkey. Serve with buttered broccoli or asparagus and a citrus salad.

CHOOSE A FRESH TREE AND KEEP IT FRESH!

The best way to be sure your Christmas tree is fresh is to take care in hand and cut it down yourself at one of Michigan's many choose-and-cut Christmas tree farms.

The next-best way is to follow a few tips on cut tree selection and care from the Washtenaw County Extension Service.

Look for a well shaped tree with good color. Where you plan to set the tree should determine how tall and perfectly shaped it must be. A tree for use in front of a picture window, where it will be seen from all sides, must be shaped better than one to be set in a corner.

Check for freshness by bending a needle on the tree. If it springs back to its original shape, the tree is fresh. If it snaps or stays bent out of shape, the tree is probably too dry.

Bump the base of the tree on the ground. A shower of dry, green needles around your feet means the tree is dry.

Feel the bottom of the tree trunk. On a fresh tree, it will feel sticky and moist. When you get your tree home, cut a half-inch slice off the base of the trunk. Removing this resin-clogged wood improves the tree's ability to take up water and slows drying.

Place the tree in a stand that has a container for water. Because the tree will absorb water very rapidly for the first few days, you may have to water it two or three times a day to insure that it has a steady supply of moisture. Do not allow the tree to dry out. Dry evergreens are extremely quick to catch fire. Commercial Christmas tree preservatives are of little value in maintaining freshness and reducing dryness.

Set the tree in a cool spot away from hot lights, heat registers or radiators, fireplaces, TV sets or other sources of heat.

Use only strings of Christmas tree lights that carry the Underwriter's Laboratory (UL) label; and check them carefully for loose connections, empty sockets or other hazards before you place them on the tree.

Following these suggestions will help your tree retain its freshness and contribute to a festive—and safe—holiday season.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MINORITY WITH A MISSION

When a profession which once involved 95 percent of the population dwindles down to less than 5 percent in a short 200-year span--do the members of that profession have to "learn to act" like a minority group? According to the president of the state's largest farm organization, the answer is yes. "I do not mean by this that we become howlers like the dog sitting on a thorn," said Elton R. Smith, dairy farmer who heads the Michigan Farm Bureau. "I mean we must grow to accept and express our responsibilities as individuals."

The farm leader spelled out how he thought farmers should accept and express their responsibilities as members of a minority group--by participating in groups dealing with energy, world food supply, transportation, consumer issues, land use planning and education.

"We are currently going through a time in history when it is the vogue to have symposiums and conferences on many subjects by many groups. Decisions made and government action demanded by these groups concern agriculture and farmers are not having an input. We just can't let this happen!" Smith said.

It won't be easy for farmers to sit in symposiums, especially when there's work to do out in the fields. But when they consider that one decision by lawmakers, brought about by pressures and demands from groups inexperienced and unknowledgeable in agriculture, can create havoc in their industry and perhaps wipe out an entire year's profits--this should be the needed incentive to "get involved."

Unlike some minority groups, farmers don't like being coddled. Convincing Congress of that fact--that they prefer the "risks" of an open market to the "security" of government payments--will be one of their major challenges in 1977. A new farm program is in the offering--and farmers fear a return to higher support prices, production restrictions and government-held reserves. Getting this message across to Washington will be a real challenge. How successful they are in this mission--and in meeting the many other challenges ahead--will depend upon how willing farmers are to temporarily

"leave their plows in the field" to get a job done. Their future, in which consumers have a big stake, depends upon how well farmers learn to "act like a minority."

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The Auxiliary met December 8, 1976 at the Federal Savings Bank in Manchester for our annual Christmas potluck followed with our regular meeting. Sixteen senior members, 2 junior members and 2 guests attended. Instead of gift exchanges we gave non-perishable food for the needy in our area.

Our unit voted to remember some of our members with a Christmas plant. We also voted to give a cash donation to March of Dimes.

Our rehab, chairman reported that our veterans from this area have been remembered with a card and gift. Gold star chairman reported that the gold star mothers have been remembered.

Much discussion took place about our hospital equipment. The need to purchase more was left up to the committee and the officers.

Clare Reck our child welfare chairman asked us to please save stamps, Vet dog food labels and bonus coupons. These are sent in to a committee that buys hearing aids for children that can't afford to buy them.

Membership chairman reported that we have 45 paid members. If you haven't paid please do so soon so we can have our quota by January 1977.

Our district president reminded us that the Tree of America in Lansing still needs funds to pay for that bicentennial project by the Legion and Auxiliary of Michigan.

Helen Hosmer will be the good cheer chairman for the coming month.

Two names were drawn for the door prize, neither were present.

January refreshment committee is T.V. Ludwick, Ethel Weir, and Barbara James.

The American Legion Auxiliary would like to thank the Ann Arbor Federal Bank for allowing us to use their building throughout this year for some of our meetings.

Also to the members who opened their homes for our meetings. Thanks too, to the community for the support of our poppy program and to the Manchester Enterprise for publishing our articles.

Merry Christmas & Happy New Year to all.

CHOOSING CHRISTMAS TOYS

Choosing Christmas toys carefully can help prevent injury to children, says B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

MDA's Consumer Protection Bureau enforces the toy safety law which is part of Michigan's Hazardous Substances Act, but consumers are the final watchdogs and should be alert when shopping.

MDA inspectors make random checks of electrical, thermal or mechanical toys, examining labels to see if warning statements appear. Spot checks are made to assure that toys banned by the U.S. Product Safety Commission are not being offered for sale.

However, MDA doesn't have the manpower to examine many toys, and it's up to the consumer to select toys appropriate for the child's age and development. He advised parents or others who have bought toys they suspect might cause injury to keep the receipt and name of the store where purchased, and call MDA to investigate.

JOLLY FARMERETTES

The December meeting of the Jolly Farmerettes was called to order by Julie England, president. Flag pledges were led by Lori England. Roll call was taken with 25 members, 5 leaders and 2 visitors present. Treasurer's and secretary's reports were given. There was no old or new business. Elaine Feldkamp gave the leaders report. Spring Achievement will be held on March 19, at the Saline High School. Sunshine boxes for the shut-ins will be distributed on December 18.

A song was led by Jenny Feldkamp. Demonstrations were given by Jenny Feldkamp and Dawn England. A game was played. The meeting was adjourned.

HOME ENERGY

UP THE CHIMNEY

A fire in the fireplace, glowing with friendliness . . .

A home decorated with cheery lights, symbolizing the spirit of the season . . .

Two of the many nice things about the nicest of all seasons. One saves energy and the other is wasteful. Right?

Wrong on both counts.

It is generally thought that a fireplace fire adds warmth to a room and saves on fuel bills. But fireplaces as heating sources are very deceptive. The flue draws a large amount of air through the hearth and up the chimney. That air comes from inside the home and has already been heated by the furnace, which means that although the fireplace is heating the immediate area, it is also cooling the rest of the house by expelling warm air up the chimney. This heat loss can be reduced by lowering the thermostat or closing off the room in which the fireplace is located. Glass fireplace doors in place of screens can help also. Still better is a fireplace with an air duct from the floor of the fireplace to the outside. This allows air for combustion to be drawn from the outside, doing away with the reheating of indoor air.

Franklin and other stand-up type stoves may offer a bit more heating efficiency because of their construction and because they radiate heat from all sides and the stovepipes. Also, the amount of air going up the pipe can be controlled. Fireplaces can also be improved as heaters by installing adapters that will blow the hot air out toward the living space.

Whether it's a fireplace or a stove, the damper should always be closed when the stove is not in use but only after the fire has been put out. Even a tiny crack of an opening in the damper will let warm air escape.

AND ON WITH THE LIGHTS

Lighting up the season is a tradition that predates the thrilling escapade of Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer. The tradition, unlike Rudolph, has been somewhat maligned in recent years because of the energy crisis. However, before you utter a "humbug," remember that only about one percent of the energy used in the United States is needed to light homes, and only a fraction of that is used for holiday lighting. So instead of discarding tradition, why not follow some of these energy-saving practices:

1. Use "midget" type lights on the Christmas tree. Midget light sets use only 18 watts regardless of the number of bulbs in the set, be it 20, 35 or 50. Five 50-light sets of midgets — that's 250 lights — use less electricity than a single 100-watt bulb. Using five 50-light sets of midgets for four hours daily would add only about 1-1/2¢ a day to your electric bill.
2. "Cool" type bulbs, which use 6 watts per bulb, can be substituted for the normal bulb, which uses 7 watts per bulb. On a large Christmas tree, this can save considerable energy. Even when lit, the bulbs are cool enough to touch. As a result, they can be used on plastic as well as live trees.
3. Use a generous proportion of white or clear bulbs. This will help light the room and may allow you to turn off some or all of the room lighting.
4. Space the tree lights farther apart and use tinsel to reflect and amplify the effect of the lights.

5. The use of "twinkle" type bulbs will reduce energy use by about one-half. They are available in midget as well as the normal size Christmas lights.
6. Turning off the tree lights when there is no one home to see them is a good energy-saving and safety practice.

MORENCI RIPS DUTCH

By Jon Hardenbergh
Manchester no longer is undefeated as the Morenci Bulldogs got 26 points from Steve Ledesma to down the Dutch, 71-51. The Bulldogs are now 3 and 1, while we are 2 and 1.
Morenci jumped out to the early advantage but the Dutch came firing back to recapture the lead to enter the second period of play up 5, 21-16. In the second period Morenci's offense posted 19 points as their defense shut us down to only 7 points to assume control at intermission, 35-28.
The remaining 2 periods belonged to Morenci as they kept putting the points on the board to leave victorious, 71-51. The Dutchmen aided Morenci somewhat as they hit a mere 11 of 26 from the charity stripe.
Curt Fielder was high scorer as he popped for 16 points. Greg Daniels and Jeff Clark helped, tallying 11 and 10 points respectively.
Although the Little Dutch did come up shore, they fought back from a huge (22) point deficit to trail by 5 in the closing minutes. Unfortunately Morenci ran off 6 unanswered points to win, 61-50.

ADDISON HANDS DUTCH SECOND DEFEAT

By Jon Hardenbergh
It was the second half again that was Manchester's downfall. The Panthers showed constant shooting over the Dutch zone while, when they did miss, they got the rebound to score. We really were limited at the free toss line as we sank 2 of 4 in the first half and never trekked to the line in the second. All this gave Addison, now 4-0, a 88-58 victory.
Curt Fielder was high ag'n (Curt's been high scorer in all 4 "tch contests) by banging in 20 points as Bob Smith and Dan Turvey hit 12 each.
On the happy side the Little Dutch posted their first season win by edging Addison, 54-52. Steve Melcher and Craig Rogers led the JV's with 14 points each.
There is no contest Friday, December 17 but Tuesday, December 21 we travel to Adrian to tangle with Madison.
Sports Trivia-High score honors this week go to Midland who tallied 108 points to their opponents 62. Honorable mention goes to last week's high score champs who posted 102 points-Harbor Springs. Also a small honor too, to Flushing who put 101 points on the board. The largest span of victory goes to Detroit Lutheran West who out-scored their opponent by 62 points, 81-19.

If you paid taxes on a lump sum pension check received anytime since July 4, 1974, you may be able to get your tax money back!

You may have paid thousands of dollars in taxes which you may now get back and place in your own tax-deferred pension account at Ann Arbor Federal Savings.
You may be eligible if you had a pension plan with an employer who has gone out of business or who decided to terminate his plan for any reason, and gave you a lump sum pension check.
That money would have been added to your yearly income and heavily taxed in the year in which you received it. Now you may be able to get those taxes back.

CONGRESS ACTS TO CORRECT UNFAIR TAX PROBLEM
Under prior law, a person receiving a pension check when his employer terminated a pension plan had to add the lump sum payment to his yearly income and pay taxes on it. On April 15, 1976, Congress passed a new law that permits an individual to deposit or "roll over" the lump sum payment into a tax deferred IRA pension plan, and to recover the taxes.

"ROLLOVER" YOUR MONEY INTO YOUR OWN PENSION PLAN
If you received a lump sum pension payment anytime since July 4, 1974, you may qualify to place that money into your own "roll over" IRA account. If you paid a portion of that lump sum in taxes you may also be eligible to recover those taxes for your retirement account. Withdrawals from your retirement account can be made anytime after you reach age 59½.

CHRISTMAS in Another Land

Add a wee bit o' Scotland to your Christmas! Bake Christmas Shortbread Cookies and Scotch Toffee Bars this year. They're both thrifty because they call for rolled oats to substitute for or to extend chopped nuts. Oats grant baked goods a special hearty appeal that the Scots have known for centuries. Join these hardy people in the spirit of good eating over the holidays.

Christmas Shortbread Cookies are rich, buttery ones, cut from strips of rolled dough. A sprinkling of red and green colored sugar makes them most attractive. Scotch Toffee Bars are equally delicious but very different: crispy, crunchy chocolate-covered bars.

Christmas Shortbread Cookies and Scotch Toffee Bars are truly oats at their best—that is, with a Scottish accent!

SCOTCH TOFFEE BARS

|-----------------------------------|--|
| 1 cup butter or margarine | 3/4 teaspoon baking powder |
| 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1/2 cup granulated sugar | 1-1/4 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked |
| 1 egg | One 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla | |
| 1-1/4 cups all-purpose flour | 1/3 cup chopped nuts |

Beat together butter and sugars until light and fluffy. Blend in egg and vanilla. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually add to butter mixture; mix well. Stir in oats. Spread into greased 15-1/2 x 10-1/2-inch jelly roll pan. Bake in preheated slow oven (275°F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool. Melt chocolate in heavy saucepan over low heat, stirring until smooth. Spread over top of cooled toffee bars; sprinkle with nuts. Chill until chocolate is set. Cut into bars. Makes 15-1/2 x 10-1/2-inch pan of bars.

From the thrifty Scots come Christmas Shortbread Cookies and Scotch Toffee Bars.

A "FROSTY" REMINDER

Motorists who ignore routine maintenance steps recommended in owner's manuals are most likely to discover cars won't start the first morning temperatures drop to five degrees below zero or lower. Automobile Club of Michigan Emergency Road Service records indicate that 85 percent of the cars failing to start the first sub-zero morning suffer from vehicle neglect—not vehicle failure. Motorists who follow maintenance recommendations in their owner's manual can forget about a seasonal tune-up and still have summer starts all winter. Auto Club recommends seasonal tune-ups for cars not properly maintained year-round. With a growing number of service stations converting to gas-and-go operations, Auto Club reminds motorists who fail to start cars the first sub-zero morning that lines and delays at repair facilities will be longer than ever.

Holiday Hors D'oeuvres

Hors d'oeuvres for holiday entertaining can be as easy to make as they are fun to eat with these Cocktail Surprises. A tender and luscious Cheddar cheese flavored crust (begun with a dependable pie crust mix) wraps around your favorite fillings. For variety, sprinkle some with dill weed, sesame or poppy seeds and bake 'til golden brown. One bite will surprise and delight your party guests and have them reaching for more!

COCKTAIL SURPRISES

- | | |
|---|--|
| One 10-oz. pkg. Flako Pie Crust Mix | Pitted dates |
| 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded sharp Cheddar cheese | Pitted prunes |
| Dash of cayenne or dry mustard | Frankfurters, sliced 1/2-inch thick |
| 1/4 cup cold water | Smoked pork sausage links, sliced 1/2-inch thick |
| Pecan halves | Cooked ham, cut into 1/2-inch cubes |
| Stuffed green olives | |

Combine mix, cheese, cayenne and water; mix until well blended. Shape to form ball; knead on lightly floured surface about 1 minute or until smooth. Shape rounded teaspoonfuls of dough around pecans, olives, dates, prunes, frankfurters, sausage or ham to form ball. Sprinkle with dill weed, sesame or poppy seed, if desired. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in preheated hot oven (400° F.) 15 to 18 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm. Makes about 3 1/2 dozen appetizers.

Can you afford to expand?

Herd expansion means land expansion. For the best analysis of your financial needs at a time when land prices are doubling, see your Federal Land Bank representative. Today's capital expenditures run high for expansion. That's why the Land Bank offers large amounts of capital that's truly long-term at reasonable rates. When you think expansion, think Land Bank.

FREWAY MOTORISTS GET WEATHER INFO

Motorists traveling all interstate freeways in Michigan this winter can obtain up-to-the-minute weather information on their car radios as the result of a cooperative program involving the Michigan Association of Broadcasters, the State Police, and the Department of State Highways and Transportation.

The Highways and Transportation Department has completed erection of 35 large blue and white signs headed by the legend: WEATHER INFO. Each sign will carry up to four frequencies of cooperating radio stations. Motorists can turn their car radio to one of the four frequencies and be assured of getting current weather information every 15 to 30 minutes during periods of severe weather.

State Police will feed information on driving conditions to radio stations involved in the new reporting service. The service was inaugurated as a pilot program on three freeways last winter and has now been extended to all interstate freeways in Michigan. The Federal Highway Administration, which is encouraging freeway weather information signing, paid 90 per cent of the cost. The Michigan Association of Broadcasters emphasized that "this is a service to the public and not an advertisement for radio stations--hence, call letters will not be shown."

Most radio stations participating in the service operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and have transmitting strength to cover up to 70 miles of the particular freeway.

WEATHER INFO signs are now in place, intermittently, along I-75 from the Ohio border to the Canadian border at Sault Ste. Marie; I-94 across the southern part of the Lower Peninsula; I-96 from Muskegon to Detroit; I-196 from Benton Harbor to Grand Rapids; and I-69 from the Indiana border near Coldwater to near Lansing.

SAVE-A-LIFE SUNDAY, DECEMBER 26

Give the greatest gift of all this holiday season - the gift of life. From 10-4 p.m., December 26th, the Red Cross is sponsoring "Save-A-Life Sunday." Every chapter in southeastern Michigan will be open in an effort to collect the blood so badly needed during the winter months. It takes less than an hour to give a pint of blood and donating is one of the quickest and easiest ways to "do your part."

If it has been eight weeks or more since your last donation, please call the Red Cross at 971-5300 and make an appointment for Save-A-Life Sunday. What better way to start the New Year than by saving life.

(M) won by forfeit.

The Dutchmen next meet is in January as they open the league against Addison.

C.P.R. COURSE CERTIFIES 36 PEOPLE

The citizens of Manchester are fortunate to have in their midst 95 certified Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation persons. The recent class certified 36 persons. A pilot program was held at Manchester High School for high school students. It was a success. Twenty seven students that took the class were certified.

C.P.R. is a combination of artificial respiration and artificial circulation. This emergency procedure, used to sustain life when cardiac arrest occurs and used successfully for some time by doctors and nurses and other health personnel, is now recommended for training to as many members of the general public as possible.

Special thanks must go to Mr. William Lavery, Saline Hospital Administrator, who permitted us to use some equipment and assisted in finding some very fine instructors and to Ms. Stephanie Mills of the American Red Cross. The corps of instructors, headed by Paul Lemon who was ably assisted by Reuben L. Torres, Sharon Levellie, Larry Radkiewicz, Dale Chrisinske and Manchester's own Kay Roesch and Rita Burkhardt.

A special thanks must go to Pastor Joseph Wise of the Emanuel United Church of Christ for the use of the church hall. Mr. William Green has to be complimented for allowing the pilot program at the Manchester High School.

Because the safety of everyone in the community improves as more people are trained in this procedure, it is recommended that one or more individuals from each family learn C.P.R. Some day someone's life may be in your hands. Will you know what to do?

Merry Christmas

Joy to the world—and to all our friends, a full share of Christmas peace and happiness.
