MONTHLY COMMUNITY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Dr. Henry Eames "P.R.R. - How a mistake nearly destroyed Michigan's livestock industry."
Did you know that legislation was almost passed that would have allowed P.R.R. to be used openly? But for the efforts of a few men who knew the truth and spoke out, Michigan could have suffered a disaster. From the beginning to where we are today.

These topics and others will be covered by Dr. Eames in this month's Community Education program sponsored with the Washtenaw County Co-op Extension and the Manchester Agricultural School Advisory Group. The program will be held in the Study Auditorium of Manchester High School at 8:00 p.m. on Thursday, January 13. The program is free and open to the public. All area residents are invited to take advantage of these monthly programs for their own self awareness in living in today's complex society.

DUTCH MEET MORENCI

By Jon Hardenbergh
I mentioned two weeks ago I would have some pictures of the Dutchmen. Unfortunately unusually cold weather and a minor electrical problem have caused these prints. I plan on having them soon. There are 2 up-coming contests scheduled for the Dutch. Friday we trek to Morenci to tangle with the Bulldogs for the second time this season. On Tuesday we again hit the road and end up in Hudson. This is the first meeting of this season for these 2 clubs.

TRACK CLUB OPENS INDOOR SEASON

The 9th Annual Eastern Michigan University Holiday Track Meet last Tuesday at Bowen Fieldhouse has traditionally opened the indoor track season, and several Manchester track club members fared quite well.

In the high school division shot put Manchester High Senior Dan Clark topped the field with 49' 6" put.

Pete Tassie the Dutchmen's top point scorer last spring set a new 60 yard high hurdle record with a 7.9 clocking in the preliminaries, a time he equaled in taking 4th in the finals.

All-State Cross-Countryman Dan Heslip ran a 10:53.1 in the open mile and went unplaced as did Dave Hoover and Dave Meta in their 60 yard dash heats. Hoover and Meta clocked 7.3 and 7.1 respectively. Although Mike Forner also went unplaced in the pole vault he did leap a school indoor record 13'0" in a field dominated by fine college jumpers.

The foursome of Tassie, Meta, Forner, and Coach Larry Steeb ran to a 1:40.3 clocking in the 880 relay, good for a 6th place finish behind Eastern Michigan, Kentucky State, Ann Arbor Track Club

"A", Golden Triangle Track Club and Ann Arbor Track Club "B", all college or post college teams.

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of Emanuel United Church of Christ for their cooperation and support in presenting the Live Nativity scene during the week of Christmas. I have been involved in many projects and programs in eleven years of ministry, but never have I had the experience of a project being completed with such enthusiasm, support, and cooperation as was our Live Nativity this past Christmas season.

In all, more than two hundred people of Emanuel Church made a contribution in some way for a successful and beautiful Live Nativity. Much of the time which was given by so many people, was given at a time which is considered to be the busiest time of the year, Christmas has become for so many people a time of hustle and bustle—a time to buy presents, a time to give parties, a time to do more than the usual amount of baking, and a time to do a lot of celebrating. In all this, we often miss the real meaning of what Christmas is all about—the Word of God becoming flesh among us.

I am sure that for the many people of Emanuel Church, Christmas 1976 will long be remembered as a time when the birth of Christ became much more significant in our lives because we reenacted the Nativity of our Lord. Surely a lot of time and effort were given. But it was more than worthwhile and spiritually enriching. Thanks again to the fine people of Emanuel United Church of Christ.

I would also like to thank Father Schlichtert for his kind letter to the editor of the Manchester Enterprise and the Knights of Columbus for their kind and personal letter of appreciation.

Sincerely,

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

CONGRATULATIONS, GEORGE!

It didn't make the front-page headlines, but on October 11, 1976, Congress took some noteworthy action. Members of the House and Senate authorized and requested the President "to appoint George Washington posthumously to the grade of General of the Armies of the United States, such appointment to take effect on July 4, 1976." They did this because it was "fitting and proper" that no officer of the United States Army should outrank Lieutenant General George Washington on the Army list.

Farmers wish that government would act with this same "speed" when it comes to instituting new regulations that are economically unfeasible and sometimes downright ridiculous. And farmers, it seems, are not alone in their running battle against government over-regulation.

The American Management Association forum on "Government, Business and the Public Interest," held in Washington, D.C. last month, farmers discovered that other businesses share their frustrations. For example, the construction industry came up with a situation which rivals agriculture's portable potty hassle in its absurdity. OSHA mandates back-up alarms on vehicles at construction sites, yet simultaneously—because of its broad regulations covering noise pollution—it requires employees at the sites to wear earplugs to protect them against the noise. Obviously, the alarm bell became difficult to hear when you're wearing earplugs.

The paperwork involved in complying with government regulations is also costly to businesses. Last year, General Motors employed 25,000 people whose sole occupation was to deal with the paperwork required by the government. This cost the company 1.3 billion dollars!

You don't have to be in business to feel the effects of government over-regulation. The high cost of complying with these regulations shows up in the higher cost of certain agricultural commodities just as it shows up in the higher cost of 1977 automobiles. In fact, it costs full-time working person in the United States $1400 for the government to implement its myriad of regulations.

If these working persons don't want to pay more this year, it's up to them to let their Congressmen know that they ought to think about a new regulation for 200 years before they pass it.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

December 20, 1976
 Council met in regular session with the meeting called to order by President Little at 7:03 p.m. Present were Fitzgerald, Scully, Denhoff, Schaffer; absent Duncan and Padley.

Minutes of the December 6, 1976 meeting were read, corrected and approved in a motion by Scully, supported by Fitzgerald. All yeas, carried.

Several methods to update the sewer and water rate schedule were discussed at length. Further work will be done to set up new rates.

Fitzgerald reviewed Public Works activities. A sewer and water service has been tapped in at 356 Schaffer Court. Water meters have been read. Snow has been picked up on Main Street. A broken water main has been repaired. The subject of billing for tap-in fees was discussed. Resolved by Fitzgerald, supported by Denhoff that tap-in fees be paid at the time that the permit is taken out. All yeas, carried. A further resolution was needed for the State Highway Dept. regarding work on M-52. Resolved, that the Supt. of Public Works is hereby authorized to make application to the Michigan Department of State Highways on behalf of the Village of Manchester in the county of Washtenaw Michigan for the necessary permits to construct watermains, sanitary sewers and appurtenances within the right-of-way of State Trunkline M-52, and that the Village of Manchester in the county of Washtenaw Michigan will faithfully fulfill all permit requirements, and will indemnify and save harmless all persons from claims of every kind arising out of operations authorized by such permits as are issued. The foregoing resolution was offered by Scully and supported by Schaffer. All yeas, carried.

Fitzgerald and Daniels reported that at a meeting with Supt. Green, the subject of the Village paying a share of the cost for crossing guards was brought up. Little stated that it has been the policy of Council to pay one-half the cost; however, nothing has been paid in the previous few years because no budget request has been received from the School Board. Such a request should be entered now so it can be included in the budget for the next fiscal year beginning March 1, 1977. Enter Duncan at 8:37 p.m.

Zsenyuk advised Council of the choice of two full time police officers—Donald Steele and Michael Zsenyuk. They will begin full-time work January 2, 1977. Little asked Denhoff to prepare a pie configuration for the Village income, as well as expenses.

Schaffer listed permits: Plumbing: Columbia 316 E. Main St., AAA Plumbing 223 E. Main St.; Repair & Alteration: Robert Lawson 223 E. Main; Electric: Baines Electric 223 E. Main St., Smith Res. 424 Lafayette St., Paul Kemner 216 Grove Street; Water and Sewer: Edward Steele 356 Schaffer Ct.; Alterations: Riggs 316 E. Main St.

The subject of sign violation regarding the Calico Cat was discussed. Prior to any action being taken to have the sign removed the Village attorney was to be consulted regarding the Calico Cat sign and present ordinance. After that steps will be made to clarify the ordinance, so that there can be no misunderstanding. The Planning Commission will be asked to consider setting up certain guidelines for signs in the Central Business District.

Moved by Scully, supported by Denhoff to adjourn at 9:24 p.m. All yeas, carried. Mary H. Wheeler, Clerk

December 27, 1976
 Council met in special session for a Public Hearing. The meeting was called to order by President Pro-tem Denhoff at 8:00 p.m. Present were Denhoff, Schaffer, Fitzgerald, Duncan, Daniels.

The purpose of the meeting was to conduct an Environmental Public Hearing on the Wastewater facilities plan submitted by McNamee, Porter and Seelye. The meeting was turned over to John Holland and John Adams of McNamee, Porter and Seelye. Holland briefly described the processes taken to date on the project. Adams explained Map 1-A Plan of Study Area and Service Area Boundaries, which shows projected boundaries for years to come. He then went into further detail regarding Manchester's position and that of the EPA. The sewer system for much of Manchester is a combined system. The two problems of major concern are (1) that the overflow goes into the River Raisin during heavy storms, which must be stopped and (2) the wastewater treatment plant is operated in an overloaded condition during such storms. In the Inflow and Infiltration Analysis three plans were considered. Plan 1, which was building storm sewers rather than combined sewers, was the most cost effective system. The Alternative (1) operation and maintenance of a system designed to also take the storm water, (2) land application of sanitary sewage or (3) do nothing (which we cannot do because we are not meeting the standards for discharge into the River Raisin.) According to the Federal requirements for funding of such a project 2/3 of the land in an area must be occupied prior to October 18, 1972 to be eligible for federal help in funding. If the municipality proposes to do an area which is not eligible they must cover the entire cost for that particular area. Thus the area for sewer expansion on the map displayed do not completely cover areas which need sewer extension. At this point the hearing was opened to comments from the public.

One consideration is buying land, how much land are we talking about? Adams: 240 acres, possibly more. The process actually takes the wastewater, settles out the solids and then sprays the effluent over the soil. You would only be pumping the sanitary to the land application and would use existing plant for settling of solids. The operational costs would be less, by about $10,000 per year. It is possible to purchase more land at the present site and treat both. The storm sewer would be built separately in either case. To build a plant to take care of both would cost more. The present plant would not treat both.

Fitzgerald: What would the flow be with the storm water off it?
 Adams: Right now it requires a capacity of .59 MGD. It can process 450,000 now. The plant will be just slightly undersized with the storm water out; however, the treatment would be improved.

Felder: How do the townships fit into the picture?
 Holland: The DNR assigned an area for study. The village must be willing to serve in the township as well, but the cost for the area in the township would be paid by the township.

Felder: I don't like the study, now how do we get out of it?
 Holland: In Step 2 the Township must adopt a resolution saying you don't wish to accept the Village's offer.

 Felder: If they provide sewer they'll pay us to annex.
 Adams: They can't force you to annex. The project is federally funded.
 Scully: There are areas in town that will not be served on frontage streets. The people's sewage system goes across rural pieces of property.
 Felder: I'll look into the eligibility of the funding.
 Adams: Then you add further costs to the program, and at least those people get sewage service.
 Felder: How long can we do nothing?
 Adams: Doing nothing is not meeting standards of discharge into the River Raisin. In time the State will take you apart and force you to upgrade the plant. I can't weigh how long the process and whether funding will be available.

The State could force a referendum on building until the government unit could afford the treatment program.
 Felder: I've been calculating the cost of a township for the portion of sewer main Road. Of the total cost of $35,000 would come to the township in grant monies and $20,000 would be borne by the township.
 Felder: The State requires that the governing body, after hearing public comments, choose one of the alternatives and then direct their engineers to complete a facility plan on Step 2.

Moved by Fitzgerald, supported by Duncan, that the Manchester Village Council recommend that Engineers McNamee, Porter, and Seelye proceed with the necessary steps related to Alternative I, Treatment and Discharge, which would encompass the improvement and enlargement of the plant at the present site to a designed flow of .59 MGD, and which would be the most cost-effective, least expensive and most acceptable environmentally and socially. All yeas: Duncan, Denhoff, Fitzgerald, Schaffer, Scully, motion carried.

Moved by Scully, supported by Schaffer to adjourn at 9:17 p.m. All yeas, carried. Mary H. Wheeler, Clerk

The secretary then read the minutes of the special meeting of the Board which was held on October 26th, in the library.

Louis Vogel moved that the minutes of both meetings be approved, with the minutes of October 18th being approved as corrected. Supported by Susan Westfall. Motion carried.

President Bunney then asked for a financial statement, which was given by Maxine Frey. Mrs. Frey reported a November 22nd balance of $624.20 in checking, $187,000 in SDR, with a general fund balance of $187,624.20. This was the balance without the bills having been deducted which were to be approved at the November 22nd meeting. Jim Walkows

Manchester Family Service Makes It A Merry Christmas

Happy New Year from Manchester Family Service to all of Manchester Township and portions of Sharon, Bridgewater and Freedom that are in the distribution area of the local agency and The Salvation Army. It is hoped that the blessings of the Christmas Season were enjoyed all as well.

The thirty-six families and individuals listed to the Manchester Family Service Christmas Bureau by the Department of Social Services, the Washtenaw County Health Department and local groups were visited by food or clothing orders, given a choice of free used clothing and at the Christmas Shop and/or received boxes of groceries made up from supplies collected through the Scavenger Hunt conducted by the Girl Scouts of the High School Student Council. Out of 24 persons served 85 were children. As a special feature, indicated by an anonymous donor, 9 plants and 9 boxes of fruit were distributed to 18 Senior citizens in the area who had outstanding needs of service to the community or especially designated for remembrance by the Health Department.

The Japanese and Japanese Auxiliary visited their youngsters from the school district, five through ten years of age, their annual Shopping Spree.

Members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority accomplished the major feat of the project by "setting-up and taking-down" the Christmas Shop at its location furnished by the Emanuel United Church of Christ. A half dozen Christmas trees were donated and distributed by Mr. Glenn Lehr, Sr.

Fourteen dolls were dressed by Mrs. Carl Schwab, Manchester's top doll restorer. (Let us remind you now that if there are dolls in your family about to be discarded, send them to Mrs. Reck or Mrs. William Schwab for "recycling" for next Christmas.) And of course eleven lovely new dolls from the Ann Arbor Federal Savings Bank collection were donated to the toy shop. Ten more of these were delivered to Spaulding for Children by Manchester Family Service.

All of this was possible because of the United Way of Manchester, and gifts from the following sources: Bethel United Church of Christ Women's Fellowship and their Adult Fellowship, Manchester United Methodist Church Women's Association, Emanuel United Church of Christ Women's Fellowship, Sharon United Methodist Church Women's Association, Mrs. Joseph E. Moore, an anonymous donor and $200 from the Hanson Valley High School Bicycle Club.

MARCH OF DIMES EVENTS CONTINUE

The Mothers March will continue in some of the areas not covered in December. East Sharon Township, under the direction of Sharon Jarve, and East Manchester, under the direction of Doris Bersuder, will be marched during the week of the 15th. Due to a lack of affirmative responses to hours of calling in Bridgewater Township and West Sharon Township, these areas will be covered by a mailing campaign. It is hoped that the people of these areas will respond with their usual generosity, in the envelopes that they receive in the mail.

Optimist Club Oratorical Contest

The Manchester Optimist Club has announced plans for its 1977 oratorical contest. The annual contest is open to all boys and girls under 16.

The contest subject is "Together We Will." Contestants must speak on the subject for not less than four minutes and not more than five minutes. Complete rules will be sent to all contestants.

Trophies will be awarded to first, second, and third place winners. There is a separate contest for boys and girls. First place winners will be eligible for further statewide competition.

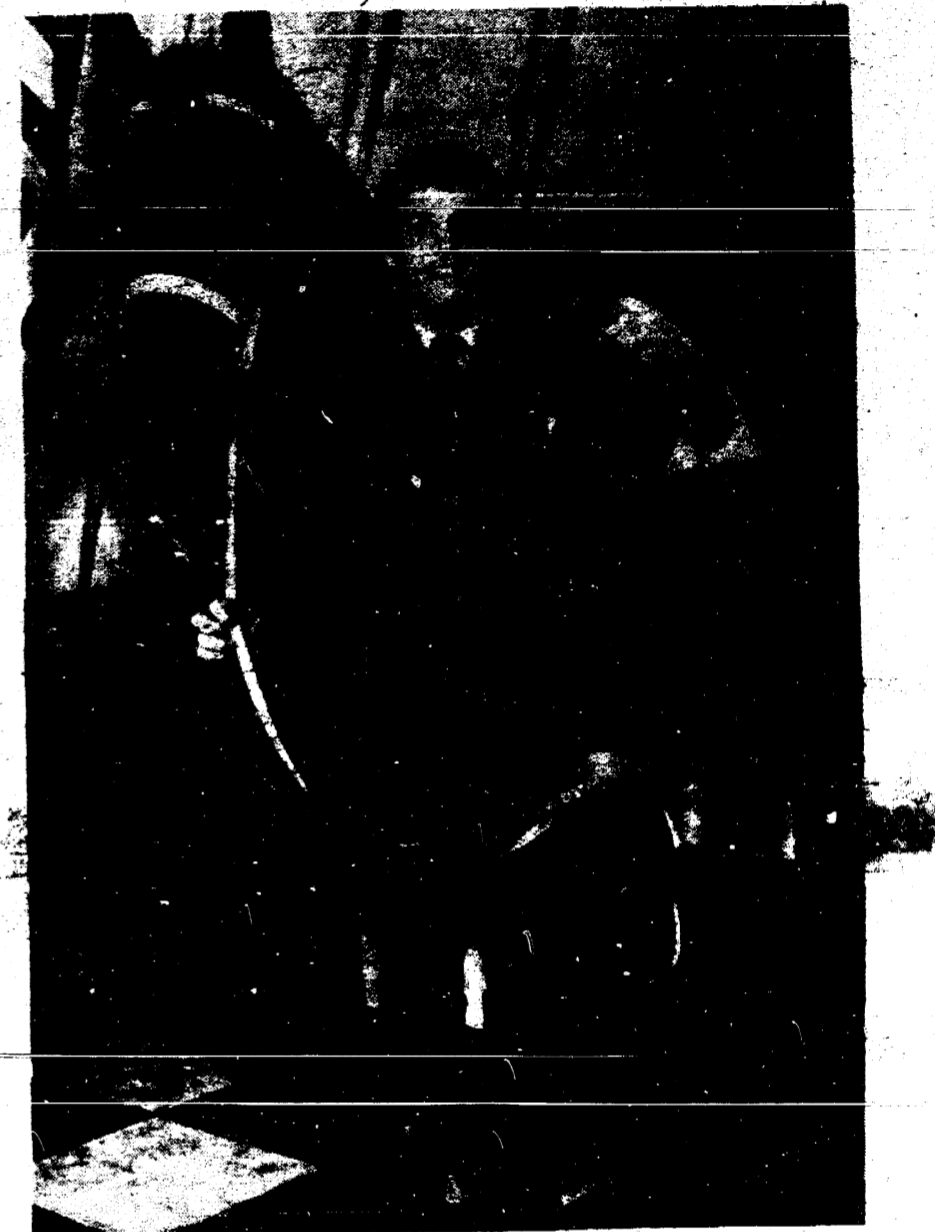

The contest will be held on March 7th at a regular club meeting. For further information contact Ted Tapping, contest chairman, during evenings at 428-8478.

Ball and Tractor Drawing Winners

The Manchester Jaycee Auxiliary would like to announce the winners of the Doll Tractor Drawing. Winner of the Barbie Ken dolls and accessories was Amy Stock, daughter of William Hainstock; winner of the Tractor was Mrs. Martha Masler; and the winner of the Manchester Dutchman Flag was Mrs. Denise Sch.

Manchester Jaycee Auxiliary would like to thank the Union Savings Bank and Bakers Dozen for their cooperation and support with this project. A special thank you goes to K & W Equipment Inc. for donating the tractor set. We would also like to thank all the people who supported this project and helped to make it successful.

Presidential Inaugural Parade

John William Spensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Spensley of 19800 Sharon Valley Road, Manchester, Michigan, will be one of the 90 cadets from Culver Military Academy who will be riding with Culver's famous Black Horse Troop in the 1977 Presidential Inaugural Parade January 20 in Washington, D.C. This will be the eighth presidential inaugural for the Black Horse Troop, which has a tradition dating to 1897.

ask COPE

Question: I have a 3 1/2 year old child who stutters. He seems to be talking faster than he is thinking, so I have told him to slow down when he is talking to me. This hasn't helped much, is there anything else I can do?

Answer: It is common for young children to repeat sounds and words when talking. It's very possible your child is progressing normally through his speech development and isn't really stuttering at all.

There are some things you can do that will help any pre-school (or school age) child who is having trouble "getting his words out." When your child is excited and seems to be having trouble saying words do not tell him to slow down or calm down; instead change the excited conversation to a calm conversation by changing your own speech to be very calm and relaxed. It is also important to focus on what your child is trying to tell you and not how he is saying it. Drawing attention to his manner of speaking by either interrupting him or instructing him to take a deep breath and start over, may cause him to be self-conscious about his speech. This could increase his difficulty in talking.

When a child is showing signs of being non-fluent, it is best to direct your full attention to him when he is talking; provide a calm, relaxed environment; eliminate any stress or strain which seems to increase non-fluent speech; and work toward increasing his self-confidence. If your pre-school child seems to become more non-fluent, begins to struggle when he speaks, or seems upset about his speech, the special education office should be contacted so that the speech therapist in your school district can advise you. If the problem is still present when he begins school, you should definitely contact the speech therapist so that you - as a team - can take appropriate action.

(Project COPE is a federally funded program which is being operated during the current school year by Special Education Region V for Chelsea, Manchester, and Whitmore Lake School Districts. Its aim is to inform the community about the special problems and needs of pre-school children. Those who have questions, concerns, or who wish to refer a child for diagnostic services can contact Ellen Eagan Project COPE Director, at 475-9131, ext. 50 or Dr. DeYoung at ext. 48.
