ask

Question: I have a 3 1/2 year old child who stutters. He seems to be talking faster than he is thinking, so I have told him to slow down when he is talking to me. This hasn't helped much, is there anything else I can do?

Answer: It is common for young children to repeat sounds and words when talking. It's very possible your child is progressing normally through his speech development and isn't really stuttering at

There are some things you can do that will help any pre-school (or school age) child who is having trouble "getting his words out." When your child is excited and seems to be having trouble saying words do not tell him to slow down or calm down; instead change the excited conversation to a calm conversation by changing your own speech to be very calm and relaxed. It is also important to focus on what your child is trying to tell you and not how he is saying it, Drawing attention to his manner of speaking by either interrupting him or instructing him to take a deep breath and start over, may cause him to be self conscious about his speech. This could increase his difficulty in talking.

When a child is showing signs of being non-fluent, it is best to direct your full attention to him when he is talking; provide a calm, relaxed environment; eliminate any stress or strain which seems to increase non-fluent speech; and work toward increasing his self confidence. If your pre-school child seems to become more non-fluent, begins to struggle when he speaks, or seems upset about his speech, the special education office should be contacted so that the speech therapist in your school district can advise you, if the problem is still present when he begins school, you should definitely contact the speech therapist so that you - as a team can take appropriate action.

EAST JACKSON DOWNS THE DUTCH

By Jon Hardenbergh

In what turned out to be a rather sloppy, poor shooting contest the Trojans of East Jackson happened to win, 66-54.

We started out slow but Bob Smith hit at 5:36 to give us the lead at 5-4. They took a brief I point edge at 2:23 but Tom Little banged in a 2 pointer to give the lead back 9-8. At 20 seconds they sank 1 of 2 free throws to tie the score 11 all. Both squads ended the period with buckets so the tally remained tied 13-13.

In the second period we couldn't locate the hoop as we shot 19 times and made a mere 4 for 21%. While the Trojans shot 57% in making 8 of 14, they helped us in free throws as they missed all 4. This gave East Jackson a 29-25 advantage at intermission.

Again we began sluggishly as the Trojans went up 8 at 4:28, 37-29. But we caught on fire and in 2 minutes we outscored East Jackson 10-3 to trail by 1. 40-39. But in the last 2:06 they tallied 4 to our 0 so they entered the final 8 minutes up 5, 44-39.

in this period the Trojans were aided by the Dutch mirning the ball over 9 times. The closest we pulled was 6 at 2:55 54-48. The Trojans then hit 5 unanswered points in 26 seconds to take a 60-48 lead. Then both sides added 6 to end the same 66-54.

Tom and Jeff Clark posted 14 points

Statistically: we shot 67 made 23 for 34%, sank 8 of 11 free tosses and had 23 turnovers. East Jackson shot 58 made

REMOVE THE CHESTNUTS AND SHOOT THE SOUIRRELS

Back in 1937, before the Environmental Protection Agency was born, Franklin D. Roosevelt sent a memo to Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace regarding a friend's report that Florida's Okefenoket Swamp was not being kept in its natural state. FDR wrote:

"He tells me that Japanese chestnuts have been planted to replace the native chestnuts, but that it is well-known that no native chestnuts ever grew in the swamp. Further, he tells me that aquatic plants, not native to the swamp, have been introduced as duck food, Further, he says that some kind of Japanese squirrels have been turned loose, apparently to go with the Japanese chestmuts. Please let me have a definite report on these rumors. If they are true, the chestmuts should be removed, the squirrels should be shot and the duck food eliminated."

The squirrels were probably very happy in the swamp with their chestnuts, but with a directive from the President, the Secretary of Agriculture no doubt made certain they were promptly removed. That's just the way it is... As one Secretary of Agriculture once said, "I serve at the pleasure of the President -- and don't you forget it?"

Farmers are well aware of this fact of life and they will be watching with interest and concern the actions of Minnesota Congressman Bob Bergland when he takes over the most controversial of all cabinet seats-Secretary of Agriculture. They fear a return to the old, discredited program of controls, government-held reserves and dependency on government payments for a large share of their income. They hope the new Secretary will consider the success of the market-oriented farm program of recent years before any drastic changes · Bergland came to Michigan to speak at the Farm Bureau annual meeting just before he was selected by President-elect Carter to be the Secretary of Agriculture. At a press conference in Grand Rapids, he expressed opposition to governmentheld grain reserves. Yet, after he was named Secretary, his answer to a question on the same topic was that he would have to consult with President-elect Carter.

Farmers aren't passing judgement yet on the new Secretary of Agriculture. In fact, they've pledged their cooperation to him. But they know that if the President tells the Secretary of Agriculture to "remove the chestnuts and shoot the squirrels." he will likely do just that....

fact that your community is served by a Jaycee chapter. It is one of over 320 Jaycce chapters in the state of Michigan, and the members are part of the nearly 15,000 Jaycees in Michigan. But I am not sure that you are aware of the amount of time, money, and effort that these young men invest in your community. As a state Jaycee officer, it is my job to assist the eight Jaycee chapters in my District. In working with these chapters (Adrian, Blissfield, Brooklyn, Clinton, Grass Lake, Hudson, Manchester, and Tecumseh), I have never ceased being amazed at what these guys are willing to do. You have probably heard about, participated in, or supported a Jaycee project sometime in the past, and I thank you for it on behalf of your local Jaycees. But the scope of the Jaycee program goes far beyond what appears on tioop leaders who will direct the efforts the surface. The number of different projects for various causes that have been conducted would astound you. Space does not permit me to give but a couple of examples. During the past three years, the Jaycees in Michigan have raised nearly $500,000 for the National Institute for Burn Medicine in Ann Arbor. Nationwide programs on Alcohol Abuse, V.D. Awareness, and other social health and community-minded programs have been offered by the U.S. Jaycees to those local chapters who have felt a need to conduct such a project. Locally, the list of projects would be endless. But I'm positive you've heard of at least one of them. What it all boils down to is this--at one time or another Way agency, is authorized by the State you, someone in your family, or someone you know have DIRECTLY BENEFITED

If you see a Jaycee, thank him for his efforts. I know he thanks you for your support. If you need assistance, for whatever the reason, let them know. They would be glad to help.

DUTCH WRESTLERS TAKE 6TH PLACE

by Jon Hardenbergh

Manchester's matmen trekked to Clinton on Saturday for the Clinton Invitational. In this 14 school event we took 7 wrestlers and 4 came home with medals with the team capturing 6th position.

Each man fought 4 times (excluding byes) and according to State Wrestling Rules, a wrestler may fight no more than 4 times in 1 day, therefore, we had 3 young men tied for third place. Joe Roberts, Tom Fitzgerald and Lester Janish each tied for third place as Dan Jordan took first place. Dan won the "Quick Pin Trophy" for being on the mat for less time than anyone else because he pinned everyone he faced How these results came about:

Joe Roberts (119 lbs.) 1st round-won b pin over Ida in 4:48, 2nd round-won by decision over Stockbridge by 17 to 3, 3rd round-won by decision over Adrian Madison 2-1, 4th round lost to Concord 10-0 in overtime. Concord man was 3rd in state last year.

JANUARY ''BLOOD DONORS MONTH

We have just received the White House issued statement relating to January 1977 as National Blood Donor Month.

"Blood Donor Month gives all Americans an annual opportunity to honor the fellow citizens who have voluntarily given blood so that others might live. Their gift is easy and painless. Yet it represents one of the supreme acts of human compassion and generosity. It has earned them, the thanks of many grateful recipients and of a Nation whose well-being they have

I urge every American to join in building an all-voluntary system of blood donation. It is in the finest American tradition of humanitarian concern for those in need. /s/ Gerald R. Ford
