Next the rezoning of 7.3 acres from I-2 to R-3. Limpert said that it would be inconsistent not to change.

Mark Chapin: Is council considering expanding the treatment plant? Will more land be needed? Will it affect an apartment complex? Do you want another apartment complex?

Fitzgerald: Only drying beds. We are looking at other lines and have no need of that property.

Motion by Fitzgerald, supported by Koebbe to rezone I-2 to R-3, General Industrial to Medium density multiple family. DuRussel yes, Koebbe yes, Duncan abstain, Rigg no, Fitzgerald yes, Althouse absent. Motion carried.

The Smiths were married September 7, 1918, at St. Mary's Church in Manchester

Township Hall To Be Built With An Eye To The Future

In the course of advancing requirements, and modern Community development, the people of Manchester Township and surrounding areas are faced with a very pressing problem.

The Manchester Township Fire Department has reached the point of having to find housing for its trucks and equipment--and very, very soon!

The Township Board has long been aware that a fire station of our own will have to be erected in the near future. The Village Hall has housed the fire department ever since its organization. Present day equipment is much too heavy

IN RETROSPECT

I suppose that history must be related in chronological order so this episode should contain some mention of the year 1929...of Black Thursday when the banks closed...when the bottom dropped out of the economic world and the so-called Great Depression began.

We're writing these episodes off the top of our head without research, relying on memory alone for the details of the incidents related, so perhaps there may be minor flaws in our recounting the events but they won't matter a great deal.

After a very prosperous summer and several very prosperous years during which most of us had dreams of affluency, when most everybody was wheeling and dealing in various stocks and mortgage bonds which promised to yield high interest, came the market crash of 1929.

Many of us were buying stocks with our spare dollars on margin and so when the market slid downward our investments rapidly vanished. Many of us can still remember how rapidly our whole world collapsed when the banks were forced to close. But living in small towns such as Manchester at such a time had many advantages. It brought forth the fact that with a bit of cooperation and compassion, the inhabitants could weather most any crisis.

We all woke up that fateful morning to find the banks had closed and we soon found out that we were all in the same boat...nobody had much more than the other fellow, at least temporarily. But with hamburger at ten cents a pound and pork shoulder steak at twelve cents and chickens for a quarter and other food staples at matching prices we managed to survive. In the bigger towns, lines soon formed at the soup kitchens and long lines formed of men trying desperately to find jobs of any kind for in those days there was no unemployment insurance nor other protection for the wage earner.

But here in Manchester, with everyone knowing most everyone, credit was given for most everything. Welfare assistance was given those who really needed it, administered by local folks who knew their applicants, and we all survived and it made most of us realize that our fellow men were, in most cases, fine fellows after all.

Existing conditions at that time brought us closer socially to each other, and as we were all equally--financially--poor--and with business conditions being as they were we had more time to enjoy each other's company.

I do remember however that even in those days problems did develop. Prohibition had reared its ugly head some years previously and those who enjoyed a beer with their nourishment had to make their own, and many of us became very to be supported by the planked floor of the Hall, and through the years more and more needed equipment has been acquired.

The first step toward our goal was made three years ago in June 1975 when a "Fire Site Committee" of township citizens was appointed. The original committee consisted of Eugene Bentschneider, Maynard Blossom, Harold Burch, Robert Chapin, Charles Cresswell, James Kessler, Jeanette Kirk, and Jeanne Morrison. Subsequently Bentschneider resigned and Francis Heckaman was appointed in his place. The committee was taken on a tour of the Village Hall and were thoroughly convinced, and in complete agreement that we had to have larger and sturdier quarters for the trucks.

At present the Jeeps are garaged in the basement with the hoses and other supplies, and the big trucks are housed on the first floor. The method of ranselling this equipment back into the station after a fire is a sight to behold. At first glance it seems an impossibility; give it a little more thought and it becomes an exercise in futility! But gradually with just the right amount of "push and shove" it is all inside, and the doors are quickly closed a little like Fibber McGee's closet.

The Committee was a very enthusiastic group, and within a month had examined four available sites:

Alber's Garage, Ann Arbor Hill at the old Stand Pipe, Schaffer Lumber site, and the J.C. Rose home on W. Main and Elton.

Through extensive study and discussion all of the suggested sites had to be eliminated except the Lumber yard site, and even that site came under deep scrutiny because the asking price was $35,000.00. All of the above activity and more, took up the entire summer of 1975.

The townships of Bridgewater, Freedom, Sharon and Norvell are participating members of the use of the fire services, and pay their fair share toward it's expense.

Manchester Community Education Registration Underway

All Manchester area residents should have received a copy of the Fall Community Education schedule of classes and programs, if not, you should be able to get a copy from most Manchester businesses or stop by the Community Education Office. Just a reminder, when registering for a class, please pick and alternate class in case your first choice does not have sufficient enrollment to start this semester. If you have any questions about the programs call the Community Education Office at 428-7804. Because of space limitations in the Fall Schedule we were unable to get the description of last years successful S.T.E.P. program included.

Another session of the S.T.E.P. program will be starting on Tuesday, September 19 and Friday, September 22. The program is Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (STEP). The STEP program is widely recognized and accepted for creating an effective, parent-child relationship that can grow and grow in an atmosphere of love, understanding, cooperation, and mutual respect. Parents and grandparents alike often refer to "the good old days" when life seemed more simple and everyone's role was more clearly defined...there was an atmosphere of peace and order in the era of "Father knows best" and "do what your Mother says." But times have changed, and people have changed. Relationships have changed between women and men, employees and employers, children and adults. Concerned and sometimes bewildered by the effects which these and other social changes have had on family relationships, today's parents have an increasing interest in finding more effective ways of relating to their children. Parents can admit that they, too, have the right to make mistakes and learn from them; that they, too, have rights as well as responsibilities. Effective parents are kind but firm. They provide opportunities for children to make decisions, within limits, and to be accountable for these decisions. They freely give encouragement. They show confidence in their children's ability to handle difficult tasks without parental "snoopingervision", and they help their children to develop the courage to be imperfect in a society that holds unrealistic expectations of its members. Step participants are helped toward realizing the goal parents want most: to raise responsible children who will grow into responsible men and women, capable of living meaningful, happy adult lives.

Learning more effective ways of relating to your children takes courage, practice, and patience...the courage to be open to, and accept, new ideas and attitudes, in our modern society, we have come to expect "instant" results, "instant" success, "instant" everything! But anything of value takes time...the STEP program usually takes nine weekly sessions to complete. Take the very first step now Begin... STEP 1. Understanding your child's behavior and misbehavior. STEP 2. Understanding more about your child's emotions and yourself as a parent; recognizing the differences between "good" parents and responsible parents. STEP 3. Learning to use encouragement, instead of praise, to build your child's confidence and feelings of self-worth. STEP 4. Improving communication by becoming an effective listener.

Girl Scout Recruitment Drive

Men, working women and college students, as well as mothers, are being actively recruited as Girl Scout volunteers in a special drive launched today by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council.

The drive, which begins August 28 and runs through September 15, is using local media appeals, church service announcements, and speeches to service clubs to enroll volunteers to work with Girl Scouts, ages 6 to 17, in Washtenaw, Livingston, western Wayne, and Monroe counties. In this Council area, nearly 15,000 girls are served.

In addition to troop and assistant leaders, the Council is enlisting volunteer troop services directors, who recruit and assist troop leaders. Resource people who share expertise of any kind from kite-making to metallurgy with Girl Scout troops at just one or two meetings are also being sought.

In announcing the drive, Council president Fran Esser said, "There is a job for every kind of person who is sincerely interested in joining our World of Girl Scouting. Although mothers are the foundation of our organization, we are actively seeking fathers, college students, young adults, and retirees, who are interested in volunteering some time to our girl members."

Volunteers in the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council enjoy certain benefits, she added. They are included in seminars and training sessions relating to group behavior, child development, and human relations through Council programs. They can also attend national conferences.

Interviews are held with all prospective volunteers to determine their interests and abilities. For further information, call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at 483-2570 or write the Council at 19 North Hamilton, P.O. Box 539, Ypsilanti, Michigan 48197.

housing and equipment. A very agreeable working contract has been in force for several years.

We now come to the reason for this lengthy article—the final choice in the matter of fire protection lies with the people who use the service. All of the residents of the Village and Manchester Township will vote on this issue on November 7th.

Can we afford to spend approximately 90¢ of every $1,000 valuation for fire protection? This amount is roughly the difference in property taxes. Can we afford not to?

And now, "They Say". They say that the people are tired of higher and higher taxation. Well, WE ARE! What we are REALLY tired of, are taxes going higher, with no visible improvement in benefits. At least, a new fire station will give proof that we are getting SOMETHING for our tax money.

Before this begins to sound like a million old cliches you've all heard before, let us re-cap our position:

1. We've GOT to move the fire trucks—the Village needs the space as soon as possible.
2. We own the ground. It is all paid for except $3800.00, payable in one more payment.
3. Prices are not getting lower. We have found that out by waiting this long. (A very expensive lesson, by the way.)
4. 90¢ per $1,000 or $9.00 per $10,000 is very cheap insurance if you need the fire service.
5. The plans are all ready to go. See them in the Union Savings Bank or the Manchester Township Office.

6. A YES vote in November, for Fire Housing, is all it will take to get going.

Through an over-sight, above, we neglected to mention that the final negotiated price for the one acre of ground in the Village was $31,500. Also, and this is a very important part of the picture, we hope you will study the architectural sketches which are placed in the Union Savings Bank. The Architects for this project, Hobbs & Black of Ann Arbor, have been retained by the Township Board. One corner, on the southwest side of the new building, will contain Township Offices and a good sized meeting room, all at walk-in level. There will be ample parking space so that the citizens of the township, and visitors, may freely attend and participate in the Township Board meetings, giving their own thoughts and ideas to the governing of the Township.

We anticipate that future residents of the township and village will take the same kind of pleasure and pride in our choice of architecture that we feel when we look around us, and admire what our grandfathers built. We hope that our children may feel that this, too, must be preserved for at least a hundred years.

Labor leaders currently are out with a propaganda effort designed to make labor appear to be the victim of a grand conspiracy to destroy the union movement and the right of working people to organize

With George Meany's announcement recently that the Labor Law Reform Bill is dead for the year, we can all take a collective sigh of relief. But, we should not fool ourselves that the struggle against

SPIESS-DENEFF NUPTIALS

Kathryn Ann DeNeff and Timothy Glen Spiess exchanged wedding vows in St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church on August 12.

The Rev. Robert D. Lunsford officiated at the ceremony uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne H. DeNeff of Ann Arbor with the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spiess of Manchester.

Honor attendants were Roberta Grams of Ann Arbor and Michael Spiess of Manchester.

Bridesmaids included Joyce Spiess of Manchester; Stephanie DeNeff of South Bend, Indiana, sister of the bride; and Ann Rickard and Darlene Linder, both of Ann Arbor.

Ushers were Wayne S. DeNeff, brother of the bride; and Max Gormley, Brad Widmayer and Barry Dettling, all of Manchester.

Ringbearer was Christopher Perdue of Sallsburg, Md., while Donna Spiess of Manchester attended as flowergirl.

A luncheon buffet at Holiday Inn East followed the ceremony.

After a honeymoon at the East Coast, the newlyweds are residing on Wagner Road.

IN RETROSPECT

proficient at so doing. We remember that we spent a lot of time in accumulating some thirty or forty quart pop bottles and a group of ten or so of us formed a cooperative and purchased a bottle capper which was of course a necessity. We took turns buying the cans of malt, the sugar and the yeast and bottle caps and every time the bottles were filled with one batch from the crock in which it had fermented, another was put to "work." Instead of going bowling, which was at that time an unknown sport, we held capping parties.

Most every Saturday night after the stores closed, eight or ten or so of us used to gather at someone's house where the womenfolk had prepared a bounteous lunch—there was always available a chicken or two from someone's henhouse and oftentimes homemade bread and rolls and the other fixin's for a feast. Cards and games were played and oftentimes most of Saturday night was spent enjoying ourselves. As I said the "home brew" added to the gaiety and it was good too, but I honestly can't remember that anyone became inebriated. We merely relaxed and had fun.

Most of us worked hard for rather long hours and didn't make a lot of money but we had a lot of fun—I'm sure more than many of us do today.

Eventually the banks reopened and industry recovered from its paralysis and the menfolk went back to work, but those who lived through the 1929-32 period found out that the world was quite a nice place after all and that people, especially in small town America, would survive most any crisis by being charitable, cooperative and willing to go just a bit out of their way to help each other.

Vacation Bible School
The public is invited to attend Vacation Bible School this week at Manchester Baptist Church. Our Bible School is being conducted this year by Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Marquardt. The Marquardt's reside in Battle Creek, Michigan. They come from a varied background of experience and ministry. Until nine years ago Mr. "M" served the Lord in several capacities.

God called them into full-time evangelistic work. In the summer they serve in youth ministries such as Vacation Bible School and Camp work. During the rest of the year, their ministry centers in family evangelistic meetings in local churches.

Since going into full-time evangelistic work, the Marquardt's have traveled to many foreign countries as short-term missionaries. They recently returned from a four month missionary supply ministry to Papua, New Guinea. They have also been to the Orient and South America.

Their ministry this week August 28 - September 1, 6:30 - 8:30 p.m. Includes puppets, film strips, and Bible stories. Parents' night is Thursday, August 30, at 6:30. Our theme for the week is: "Frontiers of Faith", so saddle up and hit the trail with us.

More "In Retrospect"

Manchester's post office ever since rural routes were established, has served a large area and at one time there were five routes, but as the automobile replaced the horse the five were made into four and the fifth carrier was transferred to Chelsea. The four carriers at that time were Merrick Burch, "Bill" Cramer, Walter Vogt and Harry Sutton.

In those days there was a very small floating population and the carriers knew most of their patrons personally. Although it was forbidden by the postal rules and regulations, these carriers sometimes performed personal favors for their folks on the routes when they felt that they needed them; when they were ill and needed a few groceries or one of the elderly gals needed a spool of thread or a yeast cake and had no convenient way of getting them.

There are, of course, postal inspectors who, like bank examiners, showed up at unwanted times and proceeded to accompany the carriers on their routes for a day to check the carriers and see that they were doing a good job and to check the condition of the mail boxes, etc.

We became acquainted with one of these inspectors who lived in Jackson, and after we came to know him quite well, he told us the following tale.

He was, one day, sent to Manchester to make a routine check and one day, early in spring he arrived to ride around one of the routes with one of the carriers. The day was rather stormy when they set out and when the inspector climbed into the car he noted, a loaf of bread and a couple of other small parcels on the seat and asked what they were and the carrier rather defiantly replied that they were for certain immobilized customers on his route who had left notes in their mail boxes the day before asking that he get these items and drop them off the next day, which he proceeded to do.

The inspector delivered quite a lecture on the subject that such actions could not be tolerated and that they must cease or they would be reported.

Then they proceeded on their way and when they reached the first stop where one of the front seat items was to be delivered, the carrier stopped at the mail box and honked his horn.

Out from the house shuffled an old man with a smile on his face and a cup in his hand. He took the package from the carrier and proffered the cup to the carrier.

Like this and it's little enough to pay you for your trouble."

The carrier replied that he thanked him but that he was well bundled up but that maybe his partner could use it, that he seemed to be feeling the cold.

The inspector, his curiosity aroused, accepted the cup and drained its contents without thought of regulations regarding such matters. The fluid tasted good and seemed to thaw his arteries a bit, so he thanked the donor and they proceeded down the road.

To make this story short, similar procedures were encountered regarding a couple of the other packages and each pause seemed to eradicate the chill from his bones. When the route was completed, the "carriers" returned to the office and the inspector seemed to stumble slightly when he got out of the car. He walked rather stiff legged, probably because he had been sitting so long in the car.
