M-52 Improvements Topic of Meeting Feb. 1

Future improvements to a seven-mile segment of M-52 in Washtenaw County will be discussed at an informal public meeting at the Sharon Township Hall Feb. 1, the Michigan Department of Transportation announced today.

Department representatives will be present at the meeting from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Sharon Township Hall at the corner of Sylvan Road and Pleasant Lake Road.

The segment of M-52 under discussion extends from Interstate 94 Freeway, south to Pleasant Lake Road.

It is the intent of the department to encourage citizen involvement and participation in this earliest phase of the planning study to improve M-52.

Jack Morgan, manager of the department's Public Involvement Section, emphasized that this is not a public hearing on specific improvement proposals, since none has been designed.

"We want the area residents most familiar with the existing road and possible improvements to come in and give us their views on how M-52 can be improved," Morgan said.

he said no formal presentation will be made, and asked area residents to drop in at their convenience any time between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. on Thursday, February 1.

Questions concerning the meeting or M-52 planning study can be submitted to the department's planning information office in Lansing by calling the toll-free number: 1-800-292-9576.

p.m. and friends, relatives and neighbors are cordially invited to join in the celebration.

Bill and Joyce (nee Wright) were married in St. Mary's Catholic Church on January 9, 1964 with Mrs. Robert Huber and Mr. Richard Krzyzaniak attending and Fr. Hennis officiating.

The Merriman daughters are; Beth, Mrs. Joel (Karen) Tobias, and Brenda. Their sons include George, Marty, Brian and Kenny. One son is Christopher, deceased. They also have two grandchildren.

ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR, JANUARY 7

The Victory Baptist Church will hold a special seminar on estate planning Sunday evening, January 7 at 6:00 p.m. The seminar will be conducted by Ralph Machey representing Grand Rapids Baptist College and Seminary. The public is invited.

Melvin Fleckner, of North Baltimore, probably knows Ohio better than any other person.

Mr. Fleckner has been to hundreds of towns that are not even there. Lest this be confusing, his lifetime hobby has been tracing old post offices. These buildings and communities are, for the most part, distant memories.

For example, who in Wood County would remember the hamlet of Paragon? Easy. Paragon was two miles west of Wingham. Wingham? Well, that was one mile north of Rudolph.

Once upon a time, dating back to the "horse-and-buggy" era, Ohio had countless settlements, Mr. Fleckner recalls. Each community had its own post office.

From history books, Mr. Fleckner traced all of them in the sprawling 88 counties of Ohio. He visited these places, taking photographs of where the post office stood. He also collected postmarks wherever he could find them.

Sharing these research trips was his wife, the former Mae Croll of Oak Harbor. She died last August shortly after they returned from a European trip.

Since then Mr. Fleckner sold his extensive collection, some 6,000 items such as postmarks, maps, photos, and stamps, to a former Findlay resident, Loring Ebersole, of 19625 Sharon Valley Road, Manchester, Mich. 48158.

Mr. Fleckner passed on Mr. Ebersole's address should anyone have an inquiry about a community that no longer exists. Mr. Fleckner constantly received inquiries, especially since "Roots" sent many persons into the search for the long ago.

"Our research trips were fun," Mr. Fleckner said. "We found a few older residents still living in or near the community. They were eager to talk about the past."

These excursions into the byways of Ohio were made on weekends by the Fleckners since he had a clothing store in North Baltimore. After the store closed, he joined the former Bowling Green plant of H.J. Heinz Co., and later became the first business manager of the Penta County School system.

Mr. Fleckner's neatly indexed file system listed these old post offices in Hancock County: Beagle, Heucktown, Shawtown, Deweyville, Mortimer, West Independence, Finley, Moffitt, Wineand, New Stark, Oak Ridge, Hassen, and Portage Center.

To continue this memory-stirring venture, we add other counties.

Fulton: Ai, Caragher, Gorham, Lytton, Denson, Elmira, Oakshade, Ottokee, Emery, Seney, Parcher Corners, Winameg, and Tedrow.

Erie: Avery, Axtel, Berlinville, Kimball, Baybridge, Bayview, Ceylon, Florence, Beulah Beach, Mitiwanga, Bloomingville, Bogart, Parkertown, Cedar Point, Prout, Rye Beach, Venice, and State Soldier Home.

Henry: Black Ash (later Standley), Ellery, Naomi, Pleasant Bend, Freedom Mills, Westhope, Florida and Durand.

More old-time post offices, by counties. Ottawas: Danbury, Locust Point, Catawba Island, Marblehead, Frenchtown, Peachton, Camp Perry, Rocky Rodge, Limestone, Velliquette.

Faulding: Arthur, Broughton, Royal Oak, Charloe, Hedges, Tipton, Reids, and Roselms.

This tale of Mr. Ebersole's interest in Ohio place names reminds us that his hobby is a very interesting one and we wish him success in completing his project.

Until the early 1900's there was no "rural free delivery" of mail. All mail was distributed only from post offices and there were quite a number of these that, with the advent of R.F.D. vanished as did, over a period of time, many railroad depots that served rural areas.

A few years ago Walter Ronig, of Grosse Pointe finished compiling a book of "Michigan Place Names" which is now in most libraries and which contains over 5,000 names of places, railroad stations and post offices that existed in Michigan at one time or another. Truly a fascinating volume for the local history bug.

Listed therein, for example, are the following from the immediate vicinity: Bridgewater—Settled in 1829 by Col. Daniel Hixon, Township organized in 1838. Post office Columbia Lake, in 1838. John Poucher first postmaster. Post office named Bridgewater in 1843. Closed in 1869, opened

THE PENDULUM OF PROGRESS

As the President and the Democratic party seem to be re-thinking their economic policies, so does there seem to be a turn toward conservatism as a political philosophy across the nation.

Edwin Feulner, writing in the San Diego Union, says "...we have now reached the point where the policies of those who have preached more and bigger government as the solution to our national problems are publicly discredited." He goes on to say, "In the intellectual community, especially, we are seeing a new realization that the liberal philosophy is bankrupt. It has had its chance and failed. Big government only leads to bigger problems," concludes Mr. Feulner.

Signs of the so-called New Right are multiplying as evidenced by a new crop of conservative public policy journals taking their place alongside the long-established liberal journals.

Campuses such as UCLA and the University of Miami's Law and Economics Center, once thought to be liberal dominated, are now turning out what are described as some of the brightest and most articulate free-market economists and papers.

More visible have been the promises by seekers of public office. Suddenly the key seems to be cutting back rather than adding on. In the recent general elections, U.S. Senator John Tower's liberal opponent charged that not a single significant piece of legislation was authored by Tower. Someone commented that's not a bad recommendation. Tower, the conservative, won re-election.

The growing conservative trend is a sign of the times; and marking the time is that invisible, but omnipresent pendulum, having swung to the extreme in one direction, is returning from whence it came.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary was held December 13 at the American Legion Home with the annual Christmas potluck dinner.

Each member brought non-perishable food to help the needy at holiday time.

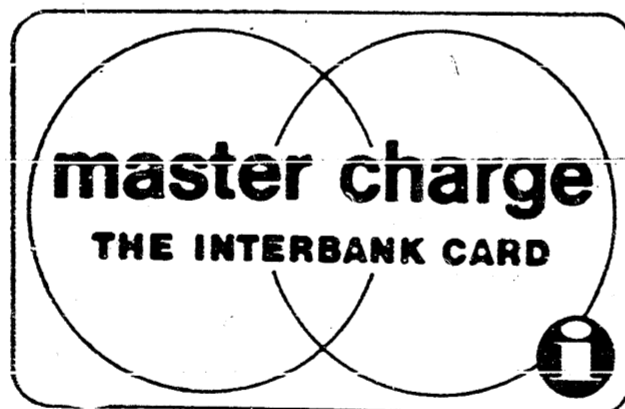

Cards and gifts of money were sent to 26 of our local men, now in service.

Plants and cards have been sent to many local shut-ins, or people who are not able to get out very often. We hope this will help to cheer them at this Christmas season.

Good Cheer for the coming month will be Dawna Stockwell.

TV Ludwig, Ethel Weir, and Barbara James are the refreshment committee for the next meeting, which will be held January 10, 7:30 P.M. at the American Legion Home.

NEW EYES FOR THE NEEDY

Ten-year-old Timmy S. of Waco, Texas, loved to play baseball, but his friends teased him and called him Casey because he always struck out. He could not see the ball. Every game ended in humiliation and near tears for him.

Because Timmy's father had long been out of work, glasses were simply out of the question—until this year.

The boy's glasses were paid for by a volunteer organization, hundreds of miles away, called New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., in Short Hills, New Jersey.

Now Timmy is one of the top batters in his class and ends every baseball game with a grin. He wrote to New Eyes: "My Dad says there won't be any gifts under our tree this Christmas, but I have my present, the best ever, my new glasses. Thank you, New Eyes."

Timmy is just one of the more than 10,000 grateful people in this country who received eyeglasses from New Eyes in the past year.

New Eyes has earned the reputation of being one of the most effective sight-saving charities in the world. It has helped many thousands of needy people obtain glasses—here and abroad—and it has never asked for a penny in donations.

Since its inception 47 years ago, New Eyes has asked only for used eyeglasses and precious metal articles such as old watches, jewelry (real, costume and antique), good or damaged silver and dentures.

The eyeglasses and glittering clutter are sent to New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., Short Hills, New Jersey 07078. Thousands of packages from all over the United States arrive in the neat stucco headquarters every year. There, volunteers, mostly housewives, sort out the glasses, separating those in plastic frames from those in metal frames.

Many of the 250 workers have learned to operate complex optical grading and testing equipment. They help fill specific orders from missions and hospitals in foreign countries where plastic framed glasses and sunglasses are sent.

The metal framed glasses have their uses, too. Through refining, they yield precious metals that are sold, along with the jewelry, to finance New Eyes funds in over 100 hospitals and health agencies throughout the United States. The money in these funds buys glasses for people who have nowhere else to turn.

In addition to these funds, arrangements have also been made in 48 states through health and welfare agencies whereby New Eyes purchases glasses for carefully screened persons, to whom no other private or public funds are available.

But, as public response has grown throughout the years, so has the volume of requests. Therefore, New Eyes needs more discarded jewelry and eyeglasses to do its job.

These gifts can bring vision to a little boy, like Timmy.

Will There Be A Blizzard of '79?

The question in the minds of most Michiganders as winter approaches is: Will there be a Blizzard of '79? Will this winter be a repeat of '77 and '78?

While Michigan's annual snowfall doesn't equal that of some other areas—such as Buffalo, New York—it is enough to create hazards for area residents for several months each year.

"Not the least of these is snow shoveling," says Dr. Richard Antell, Flint internist who is president of the Michigan Heart Association. "Every winter we see an increase in heart attacks as people try to dig out from under."

"So as winter approaches" Dr. Antell said, "we would like to remind everyone of a few basic rules which we hope will prevent needless tragedy."

First, if you have heart disease, don't shovel without your doctor's permission. If you are over 40 and don't get regular exercise, you should still think twice about shoveling.

Don't shovel within an hour after eating. Don't smoke during the period you're shoveling. Cold weather itself is a strain on the heart, as the body constricts the blood vessels in an attempt to conserve heat. Smoking, too, constricts the blood vessels.

Don't shovel to the point of exhaustion. Dress warmly—wear a hat, muffle your ears and throat, and keep your hands and feet dry.

When you shovel, lift your entire body. A shovelful of dry snow weighs about four pounds, and wet snow is much heavier.

The following are symptoms of a heart attack. If you experience any of them, quit immediately: a prolonged heavy pressure or squeezing pain in the center of the chest, behind the breastbone; pain which may spread to shoulder, arm, neck or jaw. Sweating or nausea, vomiting or shortness of breath may also occur. Symptoms may subside and then return.

"If you should experience these signs, don't panic—but get help immediately. Calling your community emergency medical service is usually the best way, or have someone drive you to a hospital emergency room if it is quicker to do so."

SMALL FARM FORUM

A Marketplace for Ideas

Through this program, farmers will be able to get together in small groups and "talk shop" with the aid of discussion leaders experienced in the study area. Some leaders will utilize resource persons to add to the subjects under discussion, while others will seek to find resources within the group. It is hoped that all participants will engage in the learning/teaching process. The sharing of knowledge is an opportunity for everyone.

Beginning Wednesday, January 24, the following discussion groups will begin meeting:

Sheep for the Small Flock Owner - Charles Botero, purebred sheep breeder, will be the discussion leader. Tentative topics include: breeding, gestation, housing and fleece.

Organic Methods - Cecily Sheff, an organic livestock raiser, is the discussion leader. Possible topics are: livestock feeds and nutrition, fertilizers, pest management, and rotation - depending on the emphasis the group desires.

Goats - Bob Beaudoin, small farmer and goat breeder, will be the discussion leader.

Potential topics are: feeding and nutrition, gestation, breeding and milking.

All groups will meet four times from 7:30 - 9:30 on Wednesday evenings. Rescheduling will be done in the event of blizzards. Group size will be limited to twelve persons; the cost to be $8.00 per person, which will include materials.

Registration will begin on January 2, 1979 on a "First Come" basis, by mail or in person at Chelsea School District, Community Education Department, Washington St., Chelsea, Michigan 48118

SURVIVAL KIT FOR WINTER MONTHS

Disasters on the highways during snow storms and blizzards can be alleviated if the traveller will carry a survival kit with him during the winter months.

The American Red Cross Disaster Co-chairmen for Washtenaw County, Dale Richards and Jack Gray, have recommended that travellers carry the following items in their survival kit when travelling the highways during the winter season:

1. Emergency drinking water in a plastic jug.
2. Canned foods which can be easily opened and eaten and a can opener should be carried at all times.
3. Instant coffee and instant soups as well as candy bars, should be carried for each member of the family who is travelling.
4. It is also suggested that a small stove with matches and a small pan or kettle be carried for heating water.
5. Blankets or sleeping bags should also be carried if the trip is to be an extended one.
6. A flashlight and emergency flares, toilet paper and a disposable emergency container for waste material should be carried.
7. If individuals are going to be travelling for any length of time, they should carry prescriptions for drugs which they might need.
8. And, last but not least, every automobile should have an emergency first aid kit.

Snow mobilers and four-wheel drivers for Washtenaw County, who serve under the chairmanship of Daniel Winkler, meet the needs of stranded travellers and residents of Washtenaw County who might be isolated on back roads during heavy winter storms.

The county is divided into fifteen emergency zones each of which has as its center a shelter in a public school building or major church in the area. Each zone has a team of snow mobilers and four-wheel drivers, as well as a shelter management team to which individuals may go in the event of a disaster whether it be blizzard snow conditions, tornado or other disaster.

MICHIGAN CHEESES FOR SNACKS

After a busy holiday season, a quiet evening by the fireside with friends is a welcome change of pace. Tasty snacks from fine Michigan cheeses can be easily prepared for such an occasion.

More than 34 million pounds of cheese was produced in our state last year, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, including cheddar, Colby, Monterey, Italian, Muenster, brick, cream and farmer cheeses.

Michigan has 15 cheese factories, with major cheese production in Arenac, Bay, Clare, Menominee and Wayne counties. Our state also ranks fifth in the nation in cottage cheese production.

There are more than 400 varieties of natural cheeses, each distinctive in flavor, body and texture. Method of coagulating milk, kind of milk used, type of culture and ripening conditions determine the kind of cheese.

Cheese contains many of milk's nutrients including protein, calcium and vitamin A. To make one pound of cheddar requires 10 pounds of milk. Three ounces of cheddar has about the same protein as three large eggs or three ounces of cooked beef. Five ounces of cheddar has the same amount of calcium as 3½ cups of milk.

To work, to play, to school...

let's pool together, America!

All across the country, folks are finding that carpooling pays. By making driving more fun. And putting fewer cars on the road. And whether you're going to work, play or school, a pool is better for all of us. It saves effort. It saves fuel. And it sure saves money, too. So carpool America! Share a ride with a friend.

Cake For Conversation

Talk about a versatile cake. Bake it in a variety of pans - tube pan, loaf or square pans. No frosting needed for this moist pound cake, just a sprinkling of confectioners sugar over a cake which combines Baker's German's sweet chocolate and flaked coconut in a taste to remember. Ideal to bake in a loaf pan and wrap as a gift from your kitchen.

Chocolate-Coconut Pound Cake

2 cups unsifted cake flour
1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vinegar
1/4 cup milk
1 cup butter or margarine
1-1/4 cups sugar
1-1/4 teaspoons vanilla
4 eggs
1 package (4 oz.) sweet cooking chocolate, chopped
3/4 cup flaked coconut
1/4 cup raisins*

*Or use 2 tablespoons finely chopped maraschino cherries.

Mix flour with baking powder and salt. Add vinegar to milk; set aside. Cream butter until very light and fluffy. Gradually add sugar, beating thoroughly after each addition; add vanilla. Add eggs, one at a time, beating after each until thoroughly blended. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Stir in chocolate, coconut and raisins.

Pour into a 9x5-inch loaf pan which has been lined on bottom with paper. Bake at 325° for 1 hour and 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 15 minutes; then remove from pan and finish cooling on rack.

Note: Cake may be baked in a 9-inch tube pan for 1 hour and 15 minutes, two 8x4-inch loaf pans for 65 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 15 minutes; then remove from pan and finish cooling on rack.

Next-Day Turkey Meals

Planning holiday menus and still keeping food budgets in line is a big problem this year, so it makes sense to buy a bird large enough to last for several more dinners. A new day-after idea from Mueller's test kitchens, Polynesian Turkey 'n' Noodles is sure to please both family and guests!

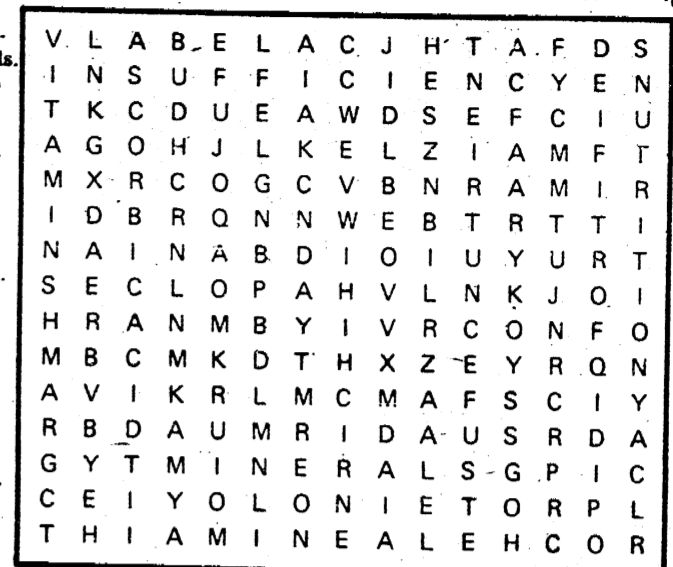

POLYNESIAN TURKEY 'N' NOODLES

2 cups cubed cooked turkey
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/2 cup cornstarch
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 can (13 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks, drained (reserve juice)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup cider vinegar
1 medium green pepper, cut in strips
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon soy sauce
4 large carrots, cooked and cut in 1-inch pieces
8 ounces (5 cups) Klops egg noodles

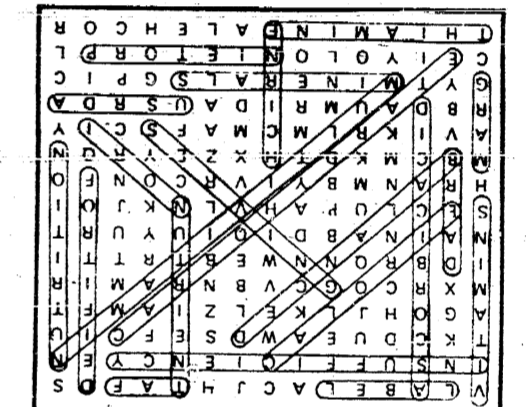

Dip turkey pieces in egg; roll in 1/2 cup cornstarch until coated. In skillet, brown turkey pieces in oil; remove and set aside. Add enough water to reserved pineapple juice to make 1 cup; add to skillet along with sugar, vinegar and green pepper. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 2 minutes. Blend 2 tablespoons cornstarch and 1/2 cup water; stir into skillet. Heat, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and boils; cook 1 minute. Stir in pineapple chunks, soy sauce, carrots and turkey pieces; heat. Meanwhile, cook noodles as directed on package; drain in colander. Serve turkey over noodles. 4 to 6 servings.

Ski Bindings — Convenient, Functional, Durable

New models, new materials, and improved designs mark this season's offerings on ski bindings.

There are, however, no revolutionary designs this season. Most manufacturers have filled out their lines with familiar designs based on proven principles.

Minor changes in existing models have been made, with the intent to increase both convenience and durability.

Most new models this season have been tailored for the recreational skier between 70 and 150 pounds, a range that covers the bulk of the skiing population.

Most distributors have purged themselves of obsolete merchandise. There will be very little cheap close-out equipment available, and close-outs should not be confused with good economy sets.

Practically all manufacturers are offering ski brakes this season, but only a few have made them as an integral part of the binding package. Other manufacturers have chosen to wait and see what restrictions ski areas and state legislatures will put on the ski brakes.

However, there is little doubt that well-designed ski brakes will make skiing safer and more convenient for the user.

SKIING Magazine has tested ski brakes for three seasons and concludes that most of the new designs will stop skis effectively under most recreational conditions, but only a few are effective under extreme conditions of ice and steepness, and none will restrain an airborne skier. The last condition has worried area operators because of the risk of skis falling from lifts which cross ski slopes. Rules are pending which may require the use of an attachment while traveling on the lift.

Price should not be the primary consideration in selecting a binding. In fact, a higher priced binding is not always a guarantee or even an indication of quality.

To select the binding that is right for you, you will usually have to compromise among convenience, durability, versatility and performance. One factor you cannot compromise, however, is safety. Safety cannot be bought; it can only be attained through careful selection and retained by regular care and an understanding of the binding's proper function.

THE ROAD TO THE OLYMPIC

Alison Owen Spencer was 13 when she won a place on the Pacific Northwest Ski Ass'n's junior national cross-country team, competing against Canada. She was the first female X-C competitor in this country. Now Alison is 25, and she is eyeing the 1980 Olympics from a strong and experienced position at the top of the U.S. women's team, to which she returned in 1977 after a two-year retirement. "I don't think about the Olympics every day," she says, "but by 1980 I'd like to feel I was at my best."

Alison had proved that a girl could race for ten kilometers without keeling over, the U.S. formed its first women's X-C team, and Alison was on it. In those days, she remembers, femininity and strength didn't go together as easily as they do now. "I grew up feeling unaccepted as an athlete," she says, "but I started to accept myself when I went to high school."

In 1974, after five years on the team, Alison retired. She went to college in Alaska where she met and married another X-C racer, John Spencer. Although she had retired for good, Alison found in her commitment to skiing was stronger than ever, and she continued to train during the two years before her comeback.

Of her return to the team, she says, "I'm stronger now than I was when I left. I enjoy skiing and training now more than I ever have, and I am 100 percent more committed to it."

In a tour of Scandinavia last spring, Alison tested her experience and confidence to achieve her best results ever. Racing against the international elite at the Holmenkollen in Oslo, she finished tenth in the 5 km and seventh in the 10 km. She was tenth in the 10 km at the Swedish Games in Falun, and fifth in a 5 km in Kiruna.

For Alison Spencer and the other U.S. Ski Team members, total commitment is the only way to travel the road to the Olympics. Your commitment can help. Send a tax-deductible contribution to the U.S. Ski Team Fund, Box 100, M. Park City, Utah 84060.

The banking business, like all businesses is constantly changing.

We, like our counterparts in other types of financial institutions, are constantly striving to bring to our customers more advanced techniques and more services.

Not so long ago banks had a regular savings program and one time certificate. Now it is not unusual for a bank to have eight or more types of savings programs.

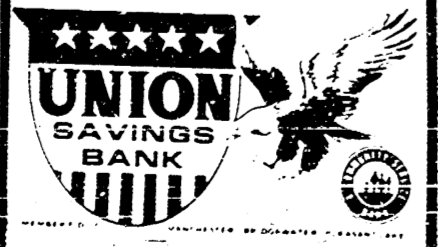

Look how checking has changed. If formerly cost a bundle to have a checking account. Now the cost is minor compared to what other services cost.

Credit cards, retirement programs, loans for a hundred needs. I could go on and on.

It is true, though, when you select a bank as your financial center, you receive far more services than any other financial institution offers.

A bank, like ours, is not too bad a basket to put all your eggs in.

1 If weak battery has caps, remove them and place cloth over openings.

2 Connect the second cable to negative terminal of good battery. Attach the last clamp to a metal ground point on the engine block as far from battery as possible.

3 Clamp positive booster cable to positive post of good battery, and attach other end of that cable to positive post of disabled battery.

4 Attempt to start disabled car. (Engine on other car should be kept running throughout 4 steps.)

NOTE: To remove battery cables, reverse the procedure for connecting them.

Motorists can use jumper cables to boost weak batteries following the steps shown. Automobile Club of Michigan advises motorists to check their car owner's manual for more detailed information. Improper jumper cable use can result in battery explosions or damage to a car's electrical system. Persons attempting to boost a battery should be sure both vehicles are in park, with bumpers not touching and all accessories off. Both batteries must be the same voltage. Check the battery to insure it has a proper water level and that battery terminals are clean.

CELEBRATES 50th ANNIVERSARY LET ME BE YOUR BABY

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Garlick were honored at an Open House in celebration of their golden wedding anniversary on Saturday, January 6 at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Garlick.

In Retrospect

There are a considerable number of places and things about Manchester that happened here during the twenties and thirties which could bear retelling but about which we cannot remember all the names and details connected with those occurrences. As we said before we are writing these vignettes "off the top of our head" with no research nor checking up. I don't think it's the technical details that count, just the salient facts.

Among the organizations which existed in Manchester was the "Young Men's Club". When I first knew the town it was a very lively group and it had quite a large membership of the men of the area. At this time there were no Jaycees, Optimists nor Chamber of Commerce, but this club filled the community's need for a service club.

It was located in the rooms on the second floor of the buildings which housed the tavern of Mery Kern and the meat market of Trolz and Eschelbach on East Main Street east of the river. In the club rooms were card tables, a pool table, a kitchen, etc., and there each evening gathered various of the fellows who had no families or who had perhaps been chased out of their homes. The club's heyday, however, was the annual feather parties held by the group before Thanksgiving and Christmas. They were looked forward to by most everyone and provided the funds with which the group did its good deeds during the year and they did many charitable deeds. Most everyone planned on attending both these events and a great deal of the holiday poultry was accumulated at these times. The tickets were very reasonably priced and the refreshments were excellent and the poultry first class.

As time went by other organizations were formed and seemed to take over the functions of the club and its prominence gradually faded and the club faded from the community.

I have a rather nebulous memory of several other incidents which happened during the twenties and thirties which were quite humorous and which should be chronicled so they won't be forgotten. About some of these I can't recall all of the facts but I shall report them as I can remember them and maybe our readers can fill in the blanks.

For instance, there was for years, perched on the west bank of the river, a

Jean and Wayne were married on January 9, 1929 at the Methodist parsonage in Wayne, Michigan, attended by Sophie and Martin Allen.

They resided in Westland for 46 years, moving to Manchester in 1975. They are both retired from Wayne County General Hospital, Wayne serving 40 years as a stationary engineer and Jean 23 years as a licensed practical nurse.

The Garlick's were both active in the 4-H and Boy Scouts and Mr. Garlick served as a neighborhood commissioner for 11 years. Besides their son Emory, they have two grandchildren, Alene and Bruce.

Their hobbies include gardening, reading and fishing.

FAMILY SERVICE

Happy New Year from Manchester Family Service, Inc. to Manchester School District—to all the people who helped make Christmas happier for thirty-eight families (128 individuals, including 61 children) in this area. The Christmas Bureau Project in cooperation with the Department of Social Services, The Salvation Army, the Washtenaw County Health Department and local area churches.

These families received a choice of food or clothing order (the amount based on the Ann Arbor Salvation Army criteria for assistance), a box of groceries from the Scavenger Hunt and free choice of used clothing, toys and household items from the Christmas Shop. Twenty-five lovely dolls were distributed (7 of them from Great Lakes Federal—the rest of theirs went to Spaulding for Children). Mrs. Carl Schwab "recycled" five of the dolls which were donated to Manchester Family Service earlier in the fall and made and donated ten more baby-toy rag dolls and animals. Mrs. Minz Ammerman and Miss Lee Huber donated many newly knitted slippers and scarves in all sizes. The Sharon United Methodist Church Women's Association made a bag full of baby toys (safe noise makers).

Beta Sigma Phi sorority members set up and repacked the left overs from the Christmas Shop. They also supplied new mittens and socks for many children. We have St. Mary's Church to thank for the location of the Shop again this year.

The Scavenger Hunt, which was made on December 12 under the guidance of Mrs.

Middle School Says Thank You and Please

The staff and students of Manchester Middle School would like to thank all of the people who have saved Campbell's labels for us during the last five years. We have received many pieces of valuable audiovisual equipment such as tape recorders, listening centers, and a film strip projector from the Campbell Soup Company in return for these labels.

We are saving labels again this year and are asking you to help us. Labels from all Campbell's soups, beans, and tomato juice as well as V-8 Juice and Franco-American products are needed. Notice the addition of V-8 Juice and Campbell's Tomato Juice this year.

The collection period runs until February 23, 1979. If you don't have a middle school student in your family or neighborhood send the labels into any of the Manchester Schools and they will be sent to the Middle School. There is also a box at the Manchester I.G.A. to put them in. Thank you again!
