Community Fair Adds More Divisions

As was reported last week the Fair tabloids which include all information about the Fair are in this week's issue of the Enterprise.

As you look through the pamphlet you will find some new exhibitors classes. In previous years people have shown interest in having a division for Creative Writing. Check it out. Write a story. Draw a cartoon either in color or black and white. The division is divided into age groups just as all other categories are.

Another new class this year has been set up for goats. It is open to anyone who wants to enter. Check the premium list for more information. Boys and girls are you a little bored? Need something to do? Decide what you can exhibit in the Fair and start getting it ready now.

Ladies if you check the Premium Lists you may find some new classes you can enter. For instance, there are some new opportunities for exhibiting plants and flowers.

The Manchester Fair Board is very concerned about not wasting food. If you check the division for baked goods you will find the quantities for exhibiting have been changed. We hope to increase the amount of exhibitors we have this year. The quantity change also is true in the classes for fruits and vegetables.

Ladies, young and old, we hope you are thinking seriously about the Homemaker's Award. Reducing quantities should make the contest less expensive for contestants.

When we check through the files we notice there are not to many men who have exhibits in the Fair. Farmers, check your grains and seeds. Let's see how we can increase those displays at the Fair in 1979. Manchester is a real farming community. Let's be proud of it and show it off.

Ann Arbor Bank And Trust Branch Offices Approved

Bruce Benner, president of Ann Arbor Bank and Trust, today announced final approval has been received from both state and federal regulatory authorities to open two new branch bank locations. The new branches will bring to sixteen the number of offices of Ann Arbor Bank and Trust.

A branch was approved in Ypsilanti Township near the intersection of Gulfside and Clark Roads, in the area of the new St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. The bank will locate a temporary facility on the site while plans are completed for a permanent structure. The office will provide both lobby and drive-in services.

The second location is in Manchester Township, just north of the village of Manchester on M-52, Plar, for the type of structure are being finalized. The Manchester branch will be the third office outside the Ann Arbor area for Ann Arbor Bank and Trust. The bank also has offices in Dexter and Whitmore Lake and an application is pending for a branch in the Saline area.

Mr. Benner expressed pleasure with the branch approvals stating, "This provides Ann Arbor Bank and Trust the ability to better locally serve our many existing customers in these areas. We anxiously look forward to these offices opening soon." Max Ziegler, vice president branch administration expects both full-service offices to open early in the fall. Managers of the offices are to be named.

Ann Arbor Bank and Trust is a member of First American Bank Corporation, the sixth largest bank holding company in Michigan, with total assets over $1.6 billion and eighteen affiliated banks with over 112 offices throughout Michigan.

In Retrospect

Every small town has its distinctive personality, each as different as that of an individual. I've always enjoyed Manchester's personality-maybe a bit conservative according to some but most of its people were honest, thrifty, hard working folks, many of them of German origin who had built for themselves a prosperous farm or business. They paid their bills, saved a bit here and there, believed in God and raised children who respected their parents, and in most cases these children were given the advantage of a bit better education than their parents. All in all they were a very nice group of people.

Their pride in their homes extended to cover their pride in their churches, their town, their schools and their environment.

During the years the town had its ups and downs economically along with the rest of the nation. When our country became involved in a war for instance, its native sons were among the first to go to the countries defense.

The town did not undergo any stupendous growth but slogged along in its conservative "pay as you go" manner. But a great sense of loyalty developed along with a great spirit of cooperation. Among the products of this spirit which have prospered are the Community Fair and the annual Chicken Broil, both of which have gained notoriety far and wide and have, with the help of a lot of hard work by the same old group year after year, and additional ones too, grown larger and better.

During these years they have discovered what a valuable asset loyalty can be and how many things it has made possible.

After quite a few year's absence we visited several towns in the northern part of the state and were astounded at the Let's be proud of it and show it off.

All Roads Lead To Annual Manchester Chicken Broil

All roads lead to Manchester next Thursday. Beginning at four P.M., and continuing until all are served, 550 volunteer men and boys will be feverishly busy preparing and serving Manchester's famous charcoal broiled dinners to an estimated 11,000 guests.

It's a great day for Manchester. The now famous Chicken Broil is in its 26th year. This annual event, sponsored by the Optimist Club and Jaycees, is indeed a fine example of community spirit and cooperation-550 volunteers, in a town of 1,800, working together to raise funds for community betterments.

It was 1954 when the late Luther Klager and Dr. Howard C. Zindel, Chairman of the Department of Poultry Science, Michigan State University, conceived the idea of a community chicken broil. The first year was considered a success when some 1,500 dinners were served with a resultant profit of $1,000.00. The fever caught on and every year more and more men and boys have been joining the ranks as hard working volunteers, contributing their time and talents to ensure the continued growth and success of the broil. It's hard work but it is also fun and rewarding.

Last year we reached a milestone. Some 11,000 guests, the biggest turnout ever, helped us celebrate our 25th anniversary. Many celebrities were with us including Governor William Milliken. And it was a good year financially, with a profit of over $6,800.00.

Since the broil's inception all of the profits of more than $75,000.00 have been allocated to community betterments. Some of the projects financed by the broil have been improvements to the athletic field including fencing, poles and lights, score board, announcer's booth, bleachers, track development and shelters; playground equipment, pavilions, rest rooms and other improvements at Carr Park; filing system and shelving for the Manchester Township Library; purchase of Kirk Park and Char-Bro Park, and currently the financing of a new structure on the athletic field to house a needed concession stand and storage facilities.

Preparing for a broil the magnitude of Manchester's is a year around job. The simmering charcoal coals are still glowing when plans begin to be formulated for the next annual broil which is always scheduled for the third Thursday in July. Gene Bentschneider, General Chairman, and Ron Mann, Co-chairman, along with members of their steering committee, spend untold hours from July to July on the innumerable details, big and little, which must be thought out and programed to insure a smooth running operation when the big day comes.

Volunteers are assigned to the various 34 committees. Many are old timers and many are joining the volunteer team for the first time. The committees are very specialized in their areas of assignment. To name just a few there are committees of ticket takers, chicken take out, hosts, committees for salad and coffee making, for the testing of chickens, for manning the pits, for preparing the radishes, for publicity and on and on. Men and boys, including boy scouts, the football teams and the junior and senior class members all work together as one big happy coordinated team.

Jim Mann's general supplies committee has a big assignment. They are responsible for procuring and purchasing all the needed supplies for the broil including 11,000 chicken halves, five ton charcoal, 60 crates cabbage, 1,000 pounds radishes, 1,000 dozen rolls, 400 pounds butter, 50 pounds coffee, 8,500 cartons milk, 12,000 paper plates and kits, 1,000 pair white cotton gloves, 120 pair rubber gloves and the renting of 2,000 chairs and 250 tables.

Publicity begins in early April and continues until it reaches its peak in a two week period prior to the broil. Brochures and posters are printed and distributed. News releases go out to all newspapers and TV and radio outlets over a wide area.

Cooperation is received from all of the news media who contribute their time and space as a public service. Gill's Gambie Store, 126 East Main Street, is the Broil Head quarters. Over the years Irv and Donna Gill have been staunch broil supporters, spending untold hours on the countless details necessary to keep the program running smoothly.

One of the main secret's to our broil's success lies in the proper preparation of the chicken. Only first grade plump fresh chickens are purchased, each half weighing approximately one and a quarter pounds. The chicken is slowly broiled on charcoal fired pits, buttered and slightly salted, cooked to golden perfection and served hot. For the 26th year Dr. Zindel will be with us to help oversee this important activity.

Over the years the number of "take outs" has been steadily increasing. Garden and lawn parties are more and more becoming

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

We don't know how and no doubt never will be able to thank all of our good friends for all of the wonderful things that have been done for us. Just living and working in this community of Manchester has been a great experience for us. Looking back - the years went by fast - although some days were really "hum dingers" our great friends and fine community has given us many, many fond memories as we go into a slower pace of life. If the Good Lord is kind to us, we will have many more pleasant memories coming up with our friends.

We would be remiss if some of the people we worked with weren't recognized - Red and Gerry Huber - Red was a very good partner and would help out anytime. There have been many who worked with us and we can't remember all of them, who have placed their foot prints at 100 Main Street. They are the ones that made things "tick". There were many events some good - which were many and also some that would 'grind your teeth' and say "Darn", but the bad things were soon forgotten and some humorous situation would happen. It was great working with these people and your efforts to make Grossman-Huber Service "click" and "prosper" will never be forgotten.

One more great big "Thank You" to the people, who made Sunday, July 8th, "Special" to us - the Special Posters that were drawn - they were great. This was a great climax to Forty-one wonderful years at 100 Main Street. THANK YOU ALL for taking time out of your busy lives to come to Carr Park to honor us.

Manchester Coed Named To Dean's List At Adrian

Sharon Voegeding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Voegeding of Bethel Church Road, Manchester, has been named to the Dean's List for the spring semester at Adrian College.

At Adrian, Miss Voegeding is a sophomore majoring in art and business administration. She is a 1977 graduate of Manchester High School and a member of the Sharon United Methodist Church of Manchester.

To be named to the list, a student must maintain a 3.50 or better grade point average (4.0-A) on the basis of, at least 12 credit hours.

Local Residents Return From Trip To Germany

Mrs. Myrtle Green and Miss Betty Cummings recently returned from a trip to Germany where they visited Army SSGT Paul Green and family who are stationed at Heilbronn. Because of the grounding of the DC-10's and the fuel shortage in the United States, they had a six-hour delay in their flight going to Germany and a 15-hour delay coming home.

The weather in Germany was similar to that in Michigan and they saw fields of corn, wheat, oats, alfalfa, and other crops which are grown in Michigan as well as acres of vineyards. They saw many hay stacks of Luzerne grass which is put up loose.

Heilbronn was almost completely destroyed during the war so most of the buildings there are quite new. In the smaller towns, however, they discovered houses that were built before the Pilgrims set sail for Plymouth Rock. One town was observing its 900th year. There were flower boxes in many windows and in the older towns there were pretty designs painted on the outside of the buildings. Instead of having grass in their front yards, many people have flower gardens and there were many rose gardens in and around Heilbronn. Even the Army post has a rose garden which was donated by the people of Heilbronn. The people take pride in keeping things clean and looking nice.

They visited castles at Heidelberg, Neuenstein and Ludwigsburg and saw many other castles, fortresses and out towers as they drove through the countryside. The castle at Ludwigsburg is magnificent with paintings on the ceilings, tapestries on the walls, and a lot of gold trim. Some of the chairs are covered with needlepoint that was done by the queen herself. With all this elegance, the castle was not equipped with indoor plumbing. During their visit to the castle, a band played in the formal gardens and ballerinas performed in honor of a new rose that was being baptized that day. It is a white rose and is named the Ludwigsburg.

One of the highlights of the trip was a drive through the Black Forest area to a black powder meet. Many Germans attend these meets throughout the country dressed like people from the American Old West. They dress as Indians, cavalry men, rebels, cowboys, etc. They have rifles, pistols and cannons that use black powder and they purchase targets and can win medals depending on their scores. The Western Stew one booth was selling with pieces of bacon and wurst cut up in it.

They also visited the medieval town of Rothenburg which is a very large, walled city. People still live and work there and cars rush down its narrow, cobblestone streets. The Criminal Museum houses some items from the "Good old days," such as thumb screws, a stretch ladder, shame masks, and neck violins. It is hard to imagine why anyone would break the law after seeing how these and other items of torture were used.

They also enjoyed boat trips on the Neckar and the Rhine Rivers and a visit to Bad Wimpfen's beerfest. They had the opportunity to attend several of Michael's little league baseball games as well as a birthday party for Paul and Hella's nephew, Jens.

An interesting aspect of the trip for Betty was a visit to the small village where a great-great-great-grandfather lived before moving to Pennsylvania in 1749.

Receives Ph D

Wildred (Bill) Beal, former resident of Adrian, received his Ph. D. degree earlier this month and has accepted an associate professorship at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University in Blacksburg, Va. He and Mrs. Beal will live in Fairfield, Va.

Dr. Beal graduated from Adrian High School in 1970. He received a bachelor's degree in animal science from Michigan State University and a master's degree from Wyoming University at Laramie. His Ph. D. degree is from Cornell University, in physiology.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Beal, who now live in Manchester. His wife Linda Beal, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McCartney of Adrian.

WMU Orientation Program

The first half of almost 2,900 students, from Manchester Stacey Ames and Brenda Eggleston who will be freshmen at Western Michigan University this fall have completed their three-day summer orientation program here.

In groups of about 150, the students visited campus buildings, registered for classes, conferred with faculty advisors and counselors, and took a series of placement tests. Aiding them in the "get acquainted with Western" process were 42 student leaders.

During freshman orientation, special one-day programs were held for over 155 parents to introduce them to the University campus, services, programs and personnel. Fall semester classes begin Wednesday, September 5.

In Retrospect

progress that they have made in recent years. Their natural assets are fewer than ours but in recent years quite a few folks from southern Michigan have migrated to the north country and have found it a far better place to live with a loyal, congenial group of people than the metropolitan area. Their outstanding characteristic seemed to be their outstanding loyalty to and pride in their community.

As we thought about it we discovered that Manchester had this quality. Both socially and economically they have been loyal. For example if their school needed any additional features they, at times, stuttered about the advisability or the cost or both, but after careful consideration they obligated themselves to provide these additions. This I think is the supreme test of the awareness of how to make a prosperous town.

When we look about this part of the state and see, in several nearby towns, what seems to us to be a pitiful lack of this loyalty and cooperation. It makes us rather sad.

True, in this rapidly expanding area all of these nearby towns are growing, in numbers of inhabitants anyway, but the likeable personality of these towns has disintegrated or deteriorated but not Manchester's.

It is looking better than a few years ago; its streets are looking better each day, and even its people, it seems to us, are looking better than they did a few years ago.

Right now, plans for the annual Chicken Broil are being completed and the plans for this year's Community Fair are being made and with the prevailing attitude we're sure that these affairs will be bigger and better than ever.

And now that we've gotten all this off our chest may we add our congratulations to Manchester for its many plus features. After all, it's still a good place in which to live and bring up the kids. Even the dogs and cats we see on the streets look very round, happy and healthy. Nice going folks.

How do you decide which financial institution is to become your bank?

Surveys show convenience is a big factor when a financial institution is selected. Friendliness, hours of doing business and other factors also play important roles in the selection of where to bank.

When selecting a bank have you considered the effect on the community...your community?

Think about it. Dollars you place in your community's bank, like Union Savings Bank, remain in the community. These dollars are the same dollars that provide jobs, provide funds for purchases, homes, businesses and the hundred and one reasons why you and your neighbors need funds from time to time.

When you bank with financial institutions with main offices away from your community area you are probably committing your dollars to people who live in the community where that financial institution is headquartered.

However, when you bank with Union Savings Bank it's sort of like helping your own first.

We're mentioning this because we thought you should know.

"With This Ring" Moves To Channel 13 Toledo

Father Raymond R. Schlinkert who is the host and the producer of the program "With This Ring" has a message for his Manchester viewers.

The 9:30 Sunday morning presentation has been moved to a rather impossible late hour early Monday morning. For that reason Father Schlinkert suggests that Manchester viewers turn to Channel 13, WSPD-TV, Toledo. There they will find the program each Sunday morning at 7:00 a.m.

Father Schlinkert says "I do appreciate the loyal viewers who have followed the program on Channel 2. I do hope that they will be able to continue as viewers by turning to WSPD-TV, Channel 13 at 7:00 on Sunday mornings".

To The Members Of Victory Baptist Church

It has been a joy to be your Pastor for the time that God has allowed us to be here in Manchester. It was a privilege to work with you for the gospel of Jesus Christ and to have such great unity during our recent building program. We appreciate your love, friendship, and trust that it will last for a life time even though we will be miles apart. I pray that God will send you a new pastor soon to take over the helm at Victory Baptist and lead you to greater heights of glory. You now have a tremendous opportunity to serve Christ in a new building and see many souls led to a personal salvation by the shed blood of our precious Lord. Thank you for your prayers, love and friendship. May God bless each of you, because he lives.

Pastor and Mrs. Nelson

GALLERY SPOTLIGHT

Mary Ann Hunter of Clinton has three beautiful watercolors on display at the Gallery during the month of July. Mary

Ann has shown various paintings in previous months, but these three paintings show a much looser style than we are used to seeing from Mary Ann. She attributes her beautiful blending of colors and looser style to the recent watercolor class offered by the Art Guild. Sherry Rhee of Dexter taught the class, and her watercolor expertise is very evident in Mary Ann's latest works.

Reese Sharai of Manchester has several striking color photographs on display during July at the Gallery. In the past, Reese has supplied us with beautiful notecards, including the cards with the street scene of Manchester. These color photographs show us another side of his creative ability, and are a distinctive compliment to his well developed "photographer's eye".

JULY EXHIBIT

Look for Reese and Mary Ann's work at the Gallery at 138 E. Main Street, just off the lobby of the Black Sheep Repertory Theatre. The current exhibit will be on display through July 29. Gallery hours for July are Friday and Saturday evenings, 7:30-9:30, and Sunday afternoons, 3-6 p.m. Starting July 14, the Gallery will be open on alternate Saturdays from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

June 18, 1979

Council met in regular session with the meeting called to order by President Schaffer at 7:00 P.M. Present: Hinkley, Koebbe, Petsch, Reed, Zsenyuk.

Minutes of the June 4, 1979 meeting were read. Moved by Hinkley, supported by Petsch to approve the minutes as corrected. All yeas, carried.

Enter Minick 7:04 P.M.
Theresa Freed was present to request permission and present proposed plans for the Street Fair to be held Aug. 11, 1979 with a rain date of Aug. 25, 1979 under the sponsorship of the Manchester Village Association and Art Guild. Chief Zsenyuk has been contacted as to parking and the blocking of the Main St. Business District. Chief Zsenyuk reported there were no traffic control problems last year. The clerk is to check with Dillingham-White Insurance as to whether the Village is covered by Liability Insurance. President Schaffer requested that Detour signs be posted to use Duncan St. to W. Austin Road while Main St. is blocked. Koebbe requested that barricades be left up until the Department of Public Works have the streets swept. The sponsors are requested to keep the Police Chief and Department of Public Works informed as to further plans. No objections were voiced concerning the Street Fair.

Public Works activities as reported by Koebbe included: Robinson Asphalt had been awarded contract and work on the streets is completed. W. Main St. had also been asphalted for a price of $16,184.00. Work is to be done on the shoulders to prevent breaking up. The D.P.W. will be doing work on other streets at a later date. Trees that were planted are to be watered during the week. The gray pickup truck is not in service.

Chief Zsenyuk presented a request from Manchester Enterprises, Inc. to pass a resolution for a new Dance Permit to be held in conjunction with 1978 Class C license located at 223 E. Main St., Manchester, Michigan, Washtenaw County. Moved by Koebbe, supported by Reed that the resolution be considered for approval by the Liquor Control Commission and that the application be recommended for issuance. All yeas, carried.

Zsenyuk reported the Village Attorney had reviewed the contract with Dial-A-Ride. He is to contact Clarence Fielder as to whether the Township will still pick up half the cost of $1,500.00. Chief Zsenyuk reported Consumers Power Co. had finished a survey of lights in the Northside Village parking lot. The Manchester Village Association is to absorb the cost of purchasing the fixtures for 4 lights. Village will pay the annual power bill. Three lights were recommended for Riverbend Subdivision. Zsenyuk is to check on poles and the work is to proceed.

The 1979 Final Budget Hearing for the Village of Manchester was held to accept the following decisions made in a motion by Reed, supported by Minick. All yeas, carried. General Fund Millage 10.75-$188,393.38; General Highway 2.0-$31,329.00; Bridge Bond .85-$13,314.82; G.O. Bond 1.4-$21,930.30; total 15.0-$234,967.50.

1979 SEV total of $15,664,500 equals $12,998,600. Real plus $2,665,900. Personal. The estimated Revenue Sharing Funds of $18,301.00 with the following proposed uses approved in the above motion also: Library $1,200.00; Health & Safety $13,101.00; Tennis Courts $4,000.00; $18,301.00 General Fund.

The estimated Anti-Recession Funds depend on the unemployment rate in the County. I.T.F. $1,122,100. at .075.

Petsch who is Council Representative for the Recreation Board reviewed the Manchester Summer Recreation Budget for 1979. Petsch also reported the Jaycees would be sponsoring a Circus which will be held back of the High School on June 21, 1979. The Jaycees are to control parking and are to delegate as many Jaycee members as possible to supplement the Police Dept. as it was short notice for Chief Zsenyuk to reschedule his Patrolmen as his schedules are made a month in advance. Petsch will contact the Chief by June 19, 1979 as to how many Jaycee members can help.

Moved by Koebbe, supported by Minick to approve Ordinance No. 108, AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE USE OF PUBLIC PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS WITHIN THE VILLAGE OF MANCHESTER. All yeas, carried. It is the purpose of this Ordinance to regulate the use of all persons organizations, and groups thereof, all public parks and playgrounds, within the confines of the Village of Manchester.

It was decided to leave the greens off the posts this year, to have all lights in working order and ask the Manchester Jaycees to consider the putting up and taking down of the decoration for a fee of $100.00 per year.

The Manchester Jaycees issued a formal challenge to the Village Council to meet at Carr Park on the Fourth of July to engage in two out of three rounds of Waterball. The challenge was declined as some members of the Village Council will be on vacation.

A letter was presented commending Bruce Daniels and his men for a job well done during the recent Clean-up on May 24th from Sue Bond, Chairperson of New Projects, Manchester Village Association.

A request was made to close a portion of Vernon St. during the Manchester Community Fair, Aug. 14-18, as in past years. No objections were voiced.

the vogue. To minimize waiting at the "take out" line a second conveyor has been built and another line will be in operation.

Ample parking space is available at the high school grounds. Wendell Reinhart is arranging free transportation from the parking lot to the athletic field via stage coaches, wagons and surreys with fringe on top, all drawn by teams of horses - a reminder of Greenfield Village. To conserve gasoline, bus transportation has been eliminated.

And more good news. We have held the price line. There is no price increase for this year's broil. The take out price is $3.00. The price at the gate on July 19 will be $3.50. Pre sale tickets are available from the volunteers and from merchants and banks in Manchester and in eleven outlying communities.

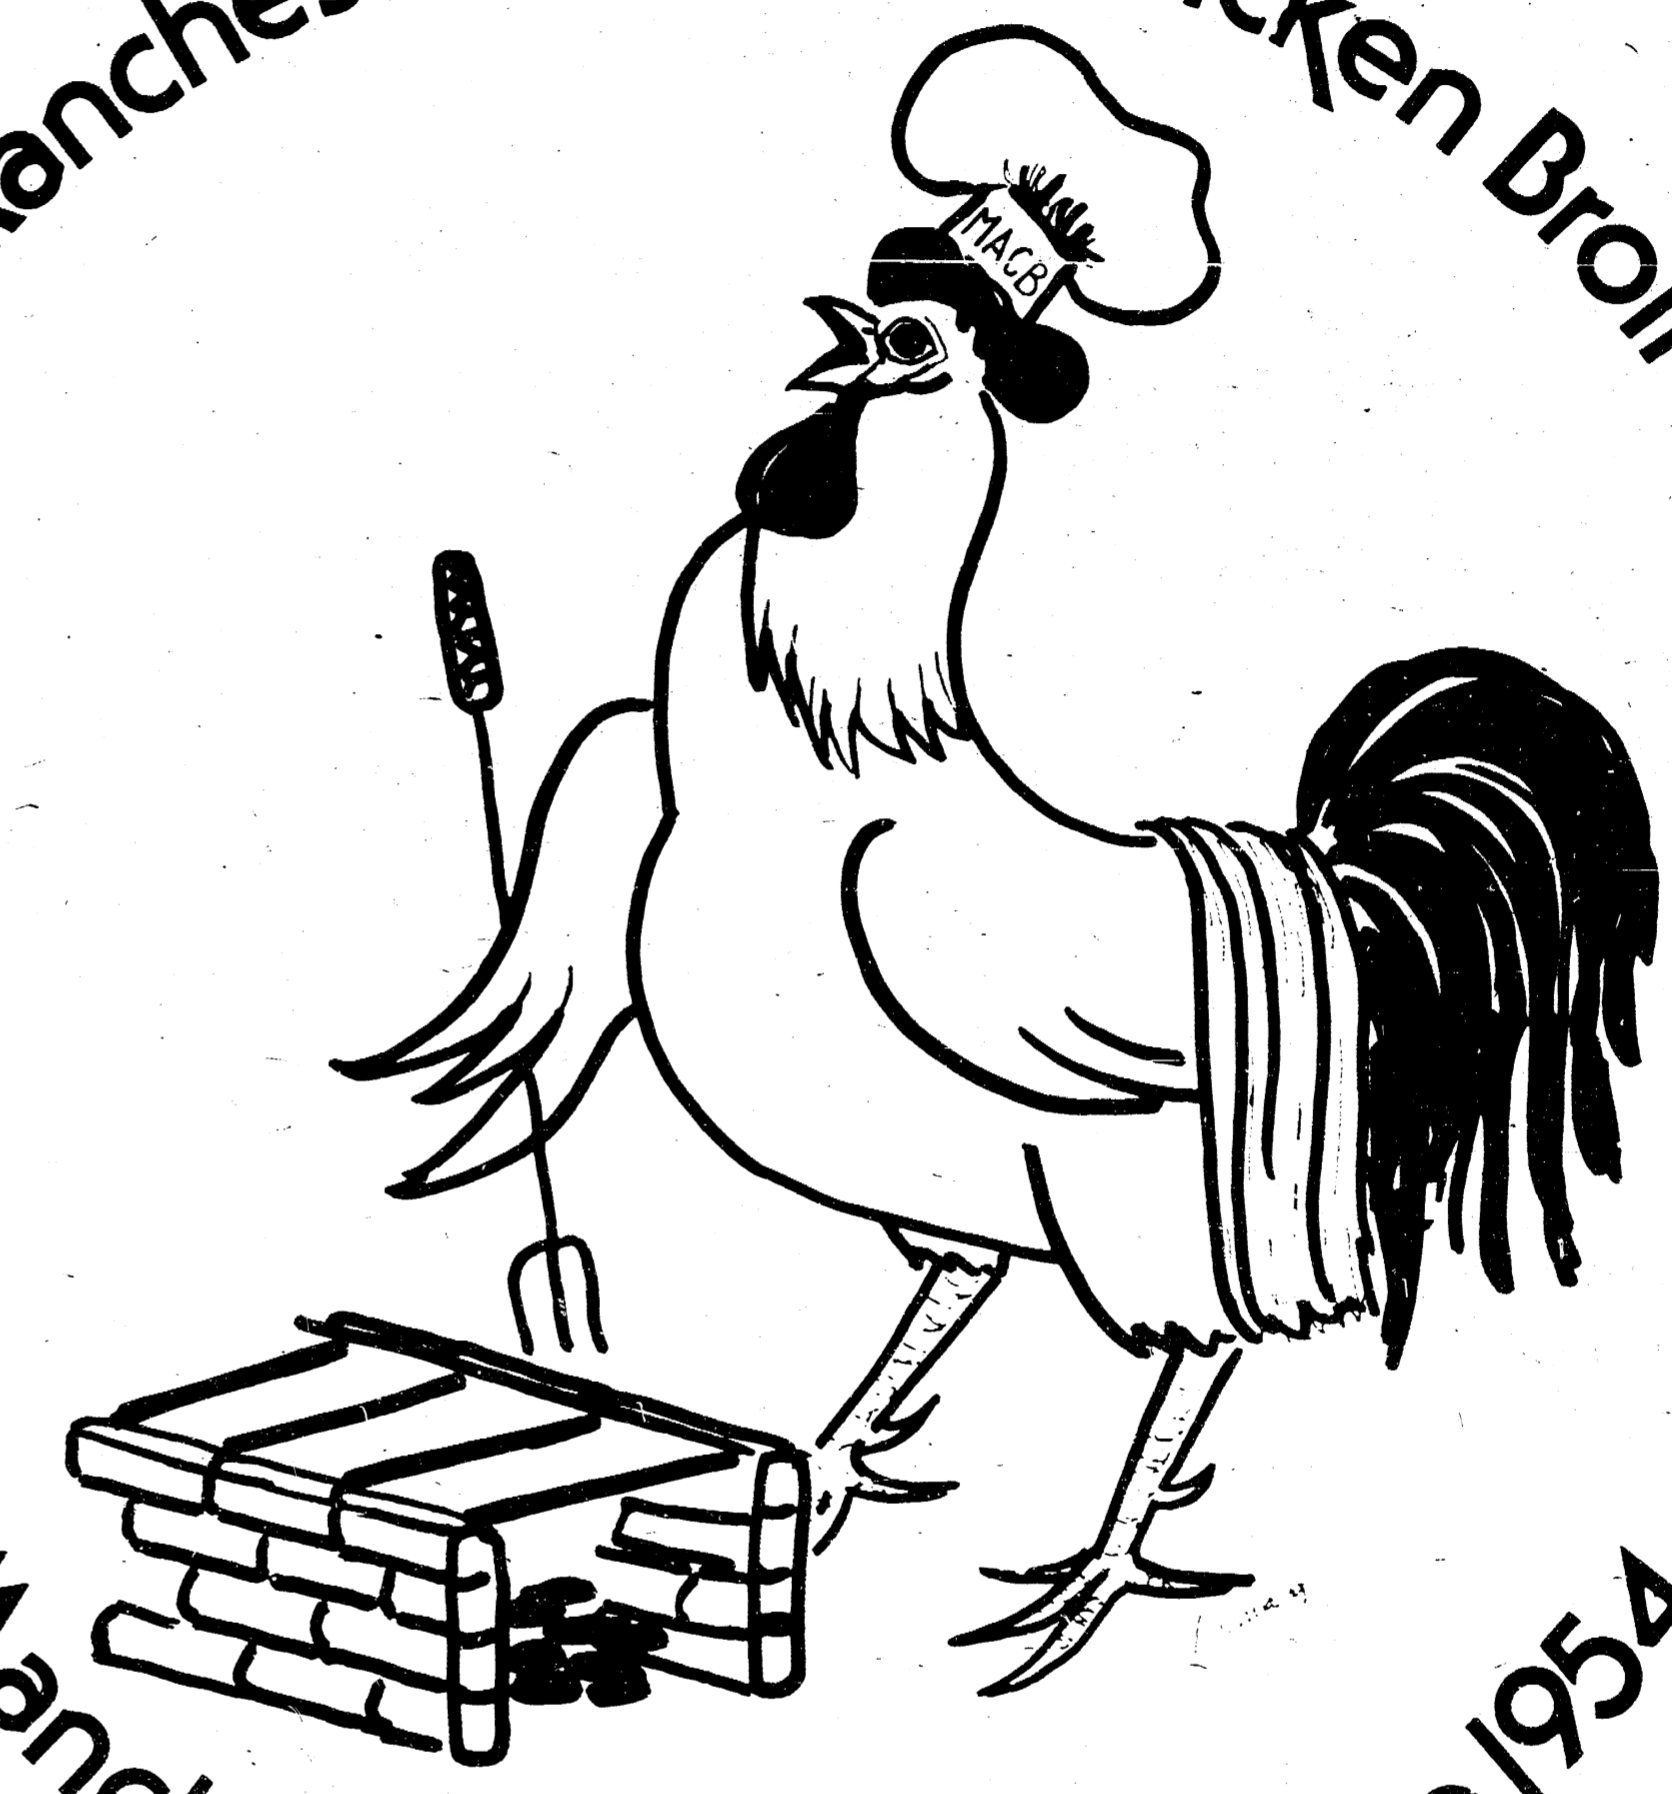

A bee hive of preparation activity begins on the athletic field the night before the broil and continues in a frenzied pace until exactly four P.M. the day of the broil when the first guest is served. The pits are fired. In come trucks loaded with chairs and tables, ice cream trucks, a refrigerated semi loaded with chicken, the Red Cross first aid trailer courtesy of the Washtenaw Chapter, the ambulance and Howard Heath's WPAG broadcasting trailer. A reminder of the bye gone days when the big circus came to town.

Exactly at four P.M. the giant 10 X 20 foot American flag is hoisted, and to the strains of music by Luke Schaible and his popular band everything is in readiness for the white aproned and capped volunteers to serve their first eager guest - and it never ends until all are served as dusk falls.

Just had to say, "No", to a young fellow wanting a loan for a motorcycle.

It's not that I have anything against motorcycles and, true, our business is lending money, but this was one loan I knew I shouldn't make.

Oh, the young fellow will find someone to loan him the money. There are financial institutions that would loan the devil a buck and take over Hades if the old fellow didn't pay it back.

Not this bank. We quite often fail to make a loan only to find someone else advanced the funds.

So be it. We'll still make the loans that are right for our customers. We'll still look out for the interests of those who apply here for a loan.

This is the practice that built this bank. And, you can bet your hat, if we don't believe you should incur the indebtedness, we will say, "No, to you, too.

Isn't that the way you want us to be...looking out for you all the way?

MANCHESTER DAY CAMP

Tuesday morning, June 12th was very exciting. Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts checked in at the big pavilion at Carr Park for a busy day at camp. Then on to the Paint Shop for the stenciling of T-shirts. The stencil, made by Webb Seegert read "Manchester Brownie Day Camp, 1979".
From about 9:15 to 10:00 the girls met with their leaders, in their assigned pavilion, to discuss camp rules, pick camp names and elect 2 girls from each troop to the Camp Council. The Camp Council met each day to gather information for their troops. At 10:00 the first Camp Flag Ceremony was conducted. Mrs. Schwab (Pidgeon) the Camp Director and a camper from each troop led the ceremony. Then the girls had time to make name tags. Camp was in full swing. Supplies had to be picked up and water jars filled.
First day lunch was a Brown Bagger. The girls hiked to a favorite spot after talking about rules of hiking and to "Watch Out" for poison ivy. About 1:00 all were ready for a "Quiet Time" under the Singing Tree at the big pavilion. Senior Scout Carolyn Schwab taught us some new songs while Pidgeon had a staff meeting with the leaders. The big project for the afternoon was for each girl to make a situation she could use all week. Newspapers were covered with wallpaper samples and visqueen was sewn on with yarn to make a portable cushion. Before everyone realized, it was 2:30 and time to clean up for the day. The Flag closing ceremony was at 2:45 and parents picked the girls up at 3:00.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday were filled with fun things to do. Crafts included plaster crafts using things from nature, molding with clay, shingle plaques, stone doodles and brochures made from pop can rings. The girls learned new games and tossed water balloons.
The meals for the rest of the week were cooked at camp. The menus included hot dogs on a stick, hobo dinners, sloppy joes, doughboys and roasted marshmallows. Each troop prepared their own meals at their campsite except for Friday when the whole group had one "big picnic at the large pavilion".
Each day followed about the same schedule with Senior Scout Kathy Gotts joining Carolyn under the Singing Tree on Wednesday. Jan Waldron, a troop leader and Kay Miller, a camp registrar taught us some action songs on Thursday and Mr. Rod

We read where the state is gonna provide breakfasts now for the "needy" children in our schools. There has been appropriated some fifty million dollars of taxpayers money for this purpose which will be added to the money now spent on the "hot lunch" program.
Reading about this makes me think back to the days when the children walked to school carrying a lunch box containing their "not hot" lunch. Those were the days when many of us in our town were what nowadays would be classified as "needy". Many families had what now would be called marginal incomes, but we didn't even know it. We had sufficient clothing to wear and plenty to eat-sometimes the home grown pork had buttons on it after it was fried, but it and the boiled or baked potatoes and sometimes the fried corn meal mush with home grown vegetables and fruit were plentiful, and it seems to us that it tasted better than the carefully prepared canned or frozen stuff that comes out of the markets today. You don't suppose our taste buds have deteriorated do you? However it made most of us strong and healthy without our having any knowledge of a "balanced diet". Even our dogs did well on table scraps and didn't even know what a can of dog food looked like. We also got enough exercise to keep us healthy during "recess"-there's an obsolete word-and by walking to and from school. We played various games that we organized ourselves. This was true of both the village and city schools and also of the "country" schools which dotted the landscape every few miles, to which all the students walked.
Our mother, all during our school years, rose early and helped get us ready for school and always had ready for us a breakfast of rolled oats, or fried mush or "flannel" pancakes (in the wintertime) accompanied by homemade sausage, or bacon.
In our lunch boxes when we left for school, there were such goodies as a hard boiled egg or two, a bread and butter sandwich, and a small glass jar containing some homemade canned fruit and maybe a banana and a pickle and a small chunk of "rat trap" cheese. At our school we could purchase a half pint of milk which came in a glass bottle which was kept fresh after its daily delivery, in the refrigerator in the "domestic science" room.
During our seventh and eighth grades and during high school we walked a block and a mile each day (we lived in a city of 50,000 at that time) and we (most of us anyway) walked or rode a bicycle to school and home for lunch and then hurried back to school-all in 50 minutes. This kept us in good physical condition.
I suppose I'm just a crotchety old man but I do think that we learned a great deal more about self reliance and self dependence than the kids do now. Maybe the day is not far off when our children will be born and then shortly be turned over to "Big brother" and he will feed and cloth him, give him his breakfast and lunch and probably by then, dinner. He will then have also to provide clothing and a barracks for them to sleep in and by so doing absolve us of all responsibility for the future generation.
By then we probably won't even bother to name our children. We'll just assign to them numbers-we now have our social security number, our zip code, our medicare number, our auto license number, our driver's license number, our credit card number, our checking account number and others-so why bother with such things as names.
Maybe in another generation or so we can all turn into live robots with identical thoughts and actions, and with the advan-

Manchester is a village alive with activity carried on by a wide range of civic, cultural, religious, educational, and social groups. As indicated by the Village Association's motto of "Cooperation through communication" it is in the best interest of the community as a whole for each of these smaller groups to prosper and do well. It is with this in mind that the Manchester Village Association is organizing a Community Clearing House to aid community organizations in planning and publicizing meetings and special events.

The Manchester Village Association's Clearing House may be contacted by calling Kathy Aiuto at 428-9202 or coming into Odds and Ends Business Service located in Exchange Place at 104 E. Main. Groups will be assisted in selecting times for their activities that do not conflict with those of other groups. Once a date is selected by an organization it will be recorded and published in the Manchester Enterprise. The only way that this will be successful is if groups take advantage of the service offered. If you are in a group please make sure that the Community Clearing House is advised of your regularly scheduled meetings as well as special events. Representatives of groups, as well as individuals, interested in the Village, are invited to participate directly in the activities of the Manchester Village Association through attending meetings held on the second Wednesday of the month at 7:30 in the lower level of the Baurenstube Restaurant on Main Street.
