IN RETROSPECT

Way back in President Lincoln's time the government of these United States was referred to as being "by the people, for the people and of the people", but in the light of a great many things that have happened since then, we are wondering if the proper description might not be to say that it was "of the politician, by the politician, and for the politician". For many years we have been lulled into complacency by platitudes of these politicians and by their promises. History reports that after the Civil War, for example, many folks connected with the government (and otherwise) rushed southward to "assist" the natives of that war torn area to recover from its ravages but they took advantage of everyone and everything for their own gain and went down in history as "carpetbaggers" for all their belongings were carried in a valise made of that materials.

They proceeded to take advantage in every way possible and flim flammed the natives out of anything and everything. Not long after this period several of our larger cities suffered from the activities of various groups of politicians who it was reported "stole everything but City Hall". Then some time later came the Teapot Dome affair during Harding's administration when the president and several members of his cabinet were accused of appropriating for their own profit, many many acres of oil rich lands.

In more recent administrations there have been numerous examples of graft and corruption on any hand, from the county or local level to the national administrations, and through the years there have been accusations that several senators, congressmen and governors have been tried and found guilty of various nefarious act which involved stealing large amounts of money in various ways but punishment for these deeds has, in most cases, not been forthcoming—their convictions have been "appealed". It seems that adequate punishment is lacking as long as money for defense is available. The sad part of it is that their fellow office holders have refused to penalize them—they have merely "censured" them whatever that means.

As far as I can see the term means that the accused stands up in front of everyone with the thumb of his left hand firmly gripped by his right hand with a guilty and repentant look on his face, and one of his fellow men reads the list (like twenty-eight counts) of illegally extracting money from his employees, for which he has been sentenced to three years in prison for so doing. When his accuser is through telling him that he has been a bad boy the guilt, one, crestfallen in appearance at least shuffles back to his seat to resume his job as an administrator at his same overpriced salary that he has been getting. This seems to be his entire punishment.

The only solution for this condition I know is the exercise of each individual's right of franchise—for each eligible voter to vote at each election intelligently. Evidently this is the only way we are going to throw the rascals out. I still think that we are basically too intelligent (although many of us haven't acted that way lately) to permit these petty grafters to continue to make us look foolish, and with smiles on their faces too.

Not so many years ago one of Michigan's governors was engaged in the manufacture of wicker furniture, which at that time was much in vogue. He was accused of contracting with prison labor to manufacture it at the ridiculous sum of less than a dollar a day. This practice was stopped after some time but we still remember a story told at that time which ran as follows:

Once upon a time there was a conductor on a track passenger train which was largely patronized, and on which a considerable number of passengers who arrived at the depot just at train time, were allowed to pay their fares in cash instead of getting their tickets at the depot. He was called on the carpet and asked to resign and told that they well knew that he was "knocking down" a percentage of these cash fares. When he asked if they could prove it they said "no but as he had spent lately considerably more during the past few years than he had received as a salary and they were sure that that was where it was coming from."

Whereupon he calmly replied that perhaps all they accused him of was true but if it were, he didn't see why he should quit because he had already "got his and the other fellow would have to get his."

That seems to still be the prevailing idea today, but some seventy-five years ago one of our major poets wrote:

God give us men at a time like this,

Men with a conscience who will not lie,

Men whom the lust for office will not buy.

So may we thank God that these United States are still a Democracy—even if they don't seem to be at times—and we can keep them that way if we care. There are a great many dedicated men and women of intelligence who could take the place of those office holders, in places both high and low, who could help us solve our problems—who could take the place of those office holders who are doing little but lining their pockets and spending most of their time campaigning for re-election.

And so may this be the "land of the free and the home of the brave".

Superintendent Robert Masten Submits Resignation

Robert Masten, Superintendent of the Manchester Community Schools has submitted his resignation to the Board of Education, effective January 1, 1980 or sooner if a replacement is hired before that time.

James Curley, Secretary Manchester Community Schools Manchester, Michigan

Dear Jim,

For the last several months I have been considering my personal future as well as that of the local schools. Recently, I have decided that it is necessary that I leave the field of school administration and hopefully find employment in some other occupation.

During the last few months we have solved some of the immediate problems and have others under control. Long term needs have been identified; however, their solutions may take years.

1. Curriculum and coordinated instruction meeting the needs of all will take several years of community work involving the board, the staff, interested citizens and outside consultants. Special interest groups and advisory councils must be involved. In all probability, extensive remodeling and replacement of equipment will be needed.

2. The establishment of an effective communications system between all facets of the school community. This should be designed so as to build a basic trust and team relationship for all.

3. The development of an effective management team. School administrators, supervisors and directors must be trained, encouraged and supported. Manchester must return to the values of the good old days, to where the Manchester Board and community are proud of their staff and the job they are doing and, in turn, the staff must be proud to be affiliated with the Manchester Board and community. I feel that these projects and others will take an extended period of time which I can not give.

A new chief executive, with a more modern training, a more flexible democratic approach to administration, and a method of developing administrative staff and is more acceptable to a board is in the best interest of all concerned at this time.

I would like to serve you as Superintendent for the next few months. This would allow me to finish the projects underway, help you develop a troubled budget, select and support a professional negotiator, develop a procedure for selecting a new superintendent and get the new year underway.

My decision to leave is firm. I would choose to serve until my replacement is available, but no later than January 1, 1980. I pledge not to ease out but rather to work diligently, keeping Manchester on the move within the framework of the authority you delegate to me.

I have been happy to serve Manchester for a short period. It has been like returning home. I am fairly satisfied with the progress, but have felt frustration in the area of improving human relations. If I were younger and desired to spend four or five more years as a superintendent, my decision may have been different.

Sincerely,
Bob Masten

Congratulations Yankees!

It may have taken a playoff game, but this year's champion for T-Ball is the Yankees. Both the Yankees and White Sox had identical records of 10 and 2. In their play-off it was "nip & tuck" but the final score was 13-12.

News Of Good Things Growing

Thirty-five million pounds of peaches would make a mound of peach sundae or peaches and cream! Good things are growing in Michigan and our state's peach growers are estimating this harvest of peaches this summer, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Due to adverse weather conditions, this year's production is predicted 40 percent less than 1978. Peaches are picked when "firm-ripe". Because of this, they're very perishable and require special handling.

Unlike peaches, Michigan pears are picked when not quite fully ripe and still firm. To ripen pears, store them in a dark place at 60 to 70 degrees for two to three days. Our state's pear production has doubled in the last three years, with an estimated 12,000 ton harvest this summer. Michigan is fifth in the nation for total pear harvest, according to MDA.

Most of our state's pears, primarily Bartletts, go to canners; however, fresh Michigan pears are available mid-August through October.

Prune plum production in Michigan climbed to the second highest in the nation in 1978 with a 65 percent crop increase. Growers harvested 48 million pounds for a total market value of about $3.3 million.

Two-thirds of the prune plum crop goes to processors for making jamaes, jellies, preserves and other products. Michigan plums are also excellent in cakes, tarts, pies, salads or for out-of-hand eating.

All three fruits are excellent for snacks and preserving, but try some new recipes. Michigan plums are great for a plum sauce topping for cheesecake. Boiled or baked peaches complement ham or duckling main courses.

MANCHESTER COMMUNITY SCHOOL NEWS

SCHOOL BEGINS SEPTEMBER 4th

Manchester Community Schools will open the doors to begin the 1979-80 school year on Tuesday, September 4th.

School will be in session for one-half day, Tuesday with school being dismissed at noon. A.M. Kindergarten will meet Tuesday and continue through the week. P.M. Kindergarten will begin Wednesday. School will meet for full days the remainder of the week.

SCHOOL TO BEGIN ONE-HALF HOUR LATER

Students will spend less time in the dark this school year as school starting time has been advanced one-half hour.

The school day will begin at the High School and Pleasant Lake at 8:50, the Middle School at 9:55 and at Klager School at 9:00.

This shift in time will also provide some other benefits. The fifty vocational students attending Saine will be able to receive their full hours of instruction here at Manchester. During prior years the conflict in schedules provided them with only one-half of a class

ATTENDANCE AREAS CHANGED

Pleasant Lake will again have a definite attendance area. A reduction in the number of students entering school from the area has made it possible to eliminate the practice of transferring students back and forth to balance class loads.

This year ten first grade students at the Lake will be combined with eight second grade students. This will allow a second grade section of approximately twenty. The large kindergarten two years ago had created the necessity of bringing some Freedom Township children to town.

The Pleasant Lake attendance area for

It is hoped we can minimize the confusion the first day that could be created by the change in time of beginning school and the new bus routes and stops. Try to estimate the time your bus will be arriving and have the children at the stop a few minutes ahead of time.

We need a day of good weather coupled with a lot of cooperation. After the first week it will be possible to post a bus time schedule.

period, while other students who didn't go to Saine received twice as much teaching to accomplish the same goals.

The noon hour will now be nearer 12:00 o'clock as will the division time between kindergarten sessions.

The two disadvantages of this change are the problems created for working parents who could send their children to school when they left for work and a possible traffic problem in the village as school will be dismissed just prior to the time that factory workers leave for home.

kindergarten through fourth grade will be everything east of M-52 with the exception of Peckins Road and the south boundary will be the students on Bethel Church, south on Kothe and on Bemis Road.

Sharon Township kindergarten-children will attend Klager Elementary in the morning section together with Bridgewater and Manchester Township children. The children in the Village and within close proximity of the Village will attend P.M. kindergarten. Those students on the border line will be notified as to which section their child is assigned.

FUEL IN SHORT SUPPLY

The following is the text of a letter received from the State Department early in July.

This is the last official notification, however there is reason to believe the reduction may not be quite this severe. There is no doubt but what fuel will be allocated in some amount less than used previously. This coupled with the fact that gasoline cost has increased 60% since last fall will necessitate future board action that will limit transportation services.

Dear Superintendent:

During the past few weeks numerous requests have been received by our Department concerning the Federal Mandatory Allocation and State Set-Aside Programs as they relate to gasoline. I am enclosing an Energy Emergency Center Bulletin dated June 28, 1979 which we hope will answer some of these questions.

I would ask that you direct your attention to the Priority Classification for Gasoline, the section on Certifying Requirements, and the Procedure for Obtaining State Set-Aside.

Our discussions with the State Energy Office indicate that the allocation fraction will continue to be somewhere between 70% and 80% for some time. What this means is that school districts will receive approximately 70%-80% of the gasoline needed to operate their transportation program. This will necessitate careful planning for school districts to conserve that 20% or 30% reduction in supply.

The State Set-Aside Program will have approximately 5% of the total supply available for distribution to emergency cases. These emergency cases are when a school district is having problems obtaining their requirements minus the allocation fraction. It is not to be used to make-up the difference between the allocation and the requirements.

- In the planning for the 1979-80 school year, the following measures should seriously be considered in school districts' operational plans:
1. Elimination of all field trips.
 2. Elimination of all spectator buses.
 3. Purposeful scheduling of athletic contests so that more than one athletic team can use the same bus on a given trip.
 4. Provide transportation to only those students who live a mile and a half or more from the school they attend.
 5. Encourage conservation measures with the bus drivers, including the elimination of the 30-minute warm-up prior to driving the bus.
 6. Utilize school buses only in those instances which are necessary in performing required functions.

I recognize that some of these measures appear drastic and will be unpopular. However, I feel that we should take the initiative and provide the leadership in dealing with this emergency before the situation becomes more critical.

The Department has convened a Task Force to look at the long-range problems and solutions that may be necessary as the gasoline and fuel oil problem worsens. I will keep you posted on the developments of this Task Force.

School Budget Tight

This year's school budget is going to be tighter than the past two years.

School finance is complicated to say the least, so a technical explanation will not be attempted.

Basically, a school's income comes from local taxes, state aid and a small portion of federal aid for special programs.

When property valuation increases, state aid decreases. This will be the first year that Manchester will receive no state aid because of the valuation increase.

On the other hand because of this increase we will have to cut the millage available by one mill to be in compliance with the Headlee Amendment. Along with this we expect to have seventy-five less students in school this year. We have not been able to cut teaching staff to offset this loss in revenues.

On the expenditures side the Master Agreement is being negotiated this year and the continued inflation has the teachers requesting more than before. Utilities are increasing at a rapid pace as is the cost of teaching supplies and text books.

The major portion of a school budget is salaries and utilities.

There will be a strong effort to plan for reducing staff in the future to compensate for the diminishing enrollment. This will result in some combination classes in the elementary and the elimination of some classes with small enrollments in the Middle School and High School.

Basically, this year's income will be the same as last years and the costs are going to increase and this will necessitate a belt tightening effort this year.

RECENT RETIREMENTS AND RESIGNATIONS

Chester Koceski who has served the Manchester School for 18 years announced his retirement this summer. Chet was High School Principal for almost sixteen years and has been reassigned to classroom teaching for the past two years. The Board acknowledged Mr. Koceski's long, dedicated service at a recent meeting and wished him well in his retirement.

Jim Fielder has chosen to resign from his position of Athletic Director, Assistant Principal and Football coach to return to the classroom position vacated by Mr. Koceski. He will continue to be Head Football Coach.

Bob Masten has resigned his position as Superintendent of Schools and plans to leave the position as soon as a new Superintendent is employed. He states that he plans to leave the profession of school administration to pursue some other occupational interest. Bob has been a school administrator since 1949.

The Board of Education has secured the help of Dr. Ewart Ardis, Director of Career Planning at the University of Michigan to help them with the task of selecting a new chief administrator. Applications will be received from August 15th through September 20th. The Board expects to complete interviews late in October with the selection being made before the first of November.

TRANSPORTATION NEWS

Elsewhere in this news letter is a bus schedule indicating the routes and the planned stops. There has been a considerable amount of work done on transportation during the last several months.

The board has developed a new policy which has been published in the paper and is available at the various schools.

Service has not been reduced to state standards but fuel costs, time on the road and providing only legal stops will give something less than door to door service. Buses will not stop at every driveway. In no case will stops be closer than five hundred feet apart and in some cases where young children are not involved the distance will be further than the five hundred feet. Buses will no longer drive short distances off the route and turn around. When the distance is not prohibitive the children will be asked to walk to the corner. There has been an effort to eliminate transfer of students between buses and the practice of traveling the same roads with two or more buses has been reduced but not completely eliminated.

NEW TEACHERS

Donna K. Vehar has been employed as High School English Teacher to replace Charmaign Stangl who resigned the position late this Spring. Mrs. Vehar has her bachelors degree from Eastern Illinois University and has earned graduate credits from Bradley University and Illinois State University. She has five years of experience in the area of English instruction, Dramatic productions and forensics.

Susan Marie Koskela has been employed as High School and Middle School Art Teacher.

Miss Koskela has a bachelors degree from Central Michigan and is pursuing a Masters degree in Art education from Wayne State University.

She has been teaching Art and Physical Education at the Algonac Public School for the past two years. She replaces Margot Eiseaman who requested a leave of absence this last spring.

Two new teachers have been employed for the special education department. They replace Anne Shain who retired and Diane Friese who resigned. The area of assignment will be to work with children with learning disabilities and emotional impairments.

Joanne Olney graduated from Western Michigan University in December of 1978.

Her major area of preparation was to teach the emotionally impaired.

Susan Levy LaFere earned her bachelors degree from the University of Detroit and a Masters Degree from Eastern Michigan University. Her main area of graduate preparation is learning disabilities. She has six years of prior teaching experience.

There remains three positions to be filled, High School Math and Physics is a difficult position as there are few candidates available, we are still seeking a teacher for this assignment. This position was temporarily closed but the selected candidate withdrew his application.

A position of elementary vocal music and reading still remains unfilled. This position may be filled by two part-time teachers. This position became available when Judy Mann was assigned to full-time Kindergarten and Mary Korican was granted her request to teach in the sixth grade. The vocal music program is not going to be reduced as teachers presently on the staff have part-time availability for elementary school assignment.

The Board is taking applications at this time for the position of Assistant-Principal and Athletic Director. This position became available only recently when Jim Fielder resigned to return to the classroom.

PRACTICALLY PAINLESS PATIO PARTY

Some parties are precisely planned, weeks in advance. Others happen more casually, beginning during the course of a back fence conversation with a good neighbor, burgeoning as one meets an old friend at the supermarket and another at the gas pumps, swelling to a full-fledged patio party by the time the errands are run. In either case, a reliable, minimum-preparation party menu can make life more pleasant. Something festive, yes...but virtually fuss-free.

Start with everyone's favorite, fried chicken. Now it's as deliciously fuss-free as can be, thanks to Swanson's Take-Out Style Chicken also baked at 375° and in just one half hour it emerges ready to eat. Just tuck it into the oven when the potatoes have baked for 45 minutes.

Tips for Scene Setting

Throw a brightly colored cloth over the table—oil cloth comes in vivid colors, cleans with a swipe of a damp cloth.

Let there be light—empty soup cans, half-filled with sand, make excellent candle holders for the out-of-doors. Sturdy and stable, they protect the flame from an evening's breeze.

Insure against insects—avoid watering the lawn for 24 hours before the party and use insect spray or smoke bomb not more than one hour before the food goes on the table (but not much less, either).

Cheesy Scalloped Potatoes—at least 10 meaty pieces per package. Blend 1 can (10-3/4 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup with 1/2 cup milk. Add a dash of pepper. Prepare 4 cups thinly sliced potatoes, 1/2 cup thinly sliced onion, 1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese. In a 1-1/2 quart casserole, arrange alternate layers of potatoes, onion, sauce and cheese. Dot the top with 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; sprinkle with paprika. Cover; bake at 375° for one hour. Uncover; bake 15 minutes more or until done.

Fried Chicken—10 meaty pieces per package. Swanson's Take-Out Style Chicken also baked at 375° and in just one half hour it emerges ready to eat. Just tuck it into the oven when the potatoes have baked for 45 minutes.

Tomato French Dressing—Makes about 2 cups. In a jar with cover, combine 1 can (10-3/4 oz.) condensed tomato soup, 1/2 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Shake well, and pour over your super summer salad. Any night can be party night when you can rely on foods like these.

Moved by Bunney that the Superintendent be authorized to pay bills prior to the next board meeting for repairing and refinishing the Middle School gym floor and 90% of the bill for recarpeting Klager School. Supported by Curley. All yeas. Motion carried.

Mr. Masten explained we will have to borrow more money than usual to pay obligations the first half of the year. The two main reasons are that for the first time we receive no state aid for the educational programs and a new regulation mandates we escrow the initial tax collection to pay back any monies borrowed.

Moved by Curley that the board resolve to borrow $970,000 in tax anticipation notes to pay for the operations of the School District. Supported by Bunney. All yeas. Motion carried.

(Official resolution required by State in supplementary files and official school minute book).

Moved by Curley that the board resolve to publish the official Notice of Sale in the Michigan Investor and Manchester Enterprise requesting bids on the $970,000 of tax

Peerless Pink Mold Hard to Match

"It looks too good to eat," they say. But eat it they will, when you place Peerless Pink Mold on your table. Molded salads have always provided an attractive, delicious way to serve fruit. And because they're refrigerated they are ideal for cool, summer desserts.

This recipe from the Kraft Kitchens highlights one of the most popular small dessert fruits, raspberries. They are ripe throughout the summer months, depending on variety, but you can get them frozen all year round. In a two-tiered mold, raspberries peek through the top layer of the berry-flavored gelatin. The bottom layer combines the gelatin with Miracle Whip salad dressing and whipped cream. This Bavarian cream base gives the salad a fluffy complement to its tangy, raspberry crown.

A few tips can make unmolding easy: First, brush the empty mold with a bit of salad oil. Just before serving, loosen the mold by running the tip of a knife around the edge. Then, dip the mold quickly into warm water, almost to the rim, and invert. Moistening the serving plate lightly with water helps to center the mold once it's on the plate, too.

Surrounded by fresh fruits in season, Peerless Pink Mold offers a salad idea that's hard to match.

PEERLESS PINK MOLD

- 1 10-oz. pkg. frozen raspberries, thawed
- 1 3-oz. pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 3-oz. pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 3-oz. pkg. raspberry flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup Miracle Whip salad dressing
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Drain raspberries, reserving liquid. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water; add reserved liquid and enough cold water to measure 3/4 cup. Chill until partially set; fold in fruit. Pour into lightly oiled 2-quart mold; chill until almost set.

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Cool. Gradually add to salad dressing, mixing until blended. Fold in whipped cream; pour over molded layer. Chill until firm. Unmold; garnish as desired.

A Jazzed-Up Combo of Old Summer Salads

Ham'n eggs, peanut butter'n jelly, macaroni'n cheese...many of today's incredible culinary teams got their start as unsung heroes working alone. One day, someone discovers what beautiful music they can make together and the rest is history.

Now, a new culinary combo promises to expand the salad repertoire. After solo engagements year after year on the picnic scene, kidney bean salad and coleslaw have joined flavors in Kidney Bean Coleslaw. Developed in the Kraft Kitchens, this recipe is a quick combination of cabbage, kidney beans, sweet pickle relish and onion with Kraft real mayonnaise to add creamy body. Garnished with green pepper rings, Kidney Bean Coleslaw will bring a healthful crunch to outdoor eating in the good old summertime.

KIDNEY BEAN COLESLAW

- 4 cups shredded cabbage
- 1 15-oz. can kidney beans, drained
- 1/2 cup sweet pickle relish
- 1/2 cup green onion slices
- Kraft real mayonnaise
- Green pepper rings

Combine cabbage, kidney beans, relish, onion and enough mayonnaise to moisten; toss lightly. Garnish with green pepper rings.

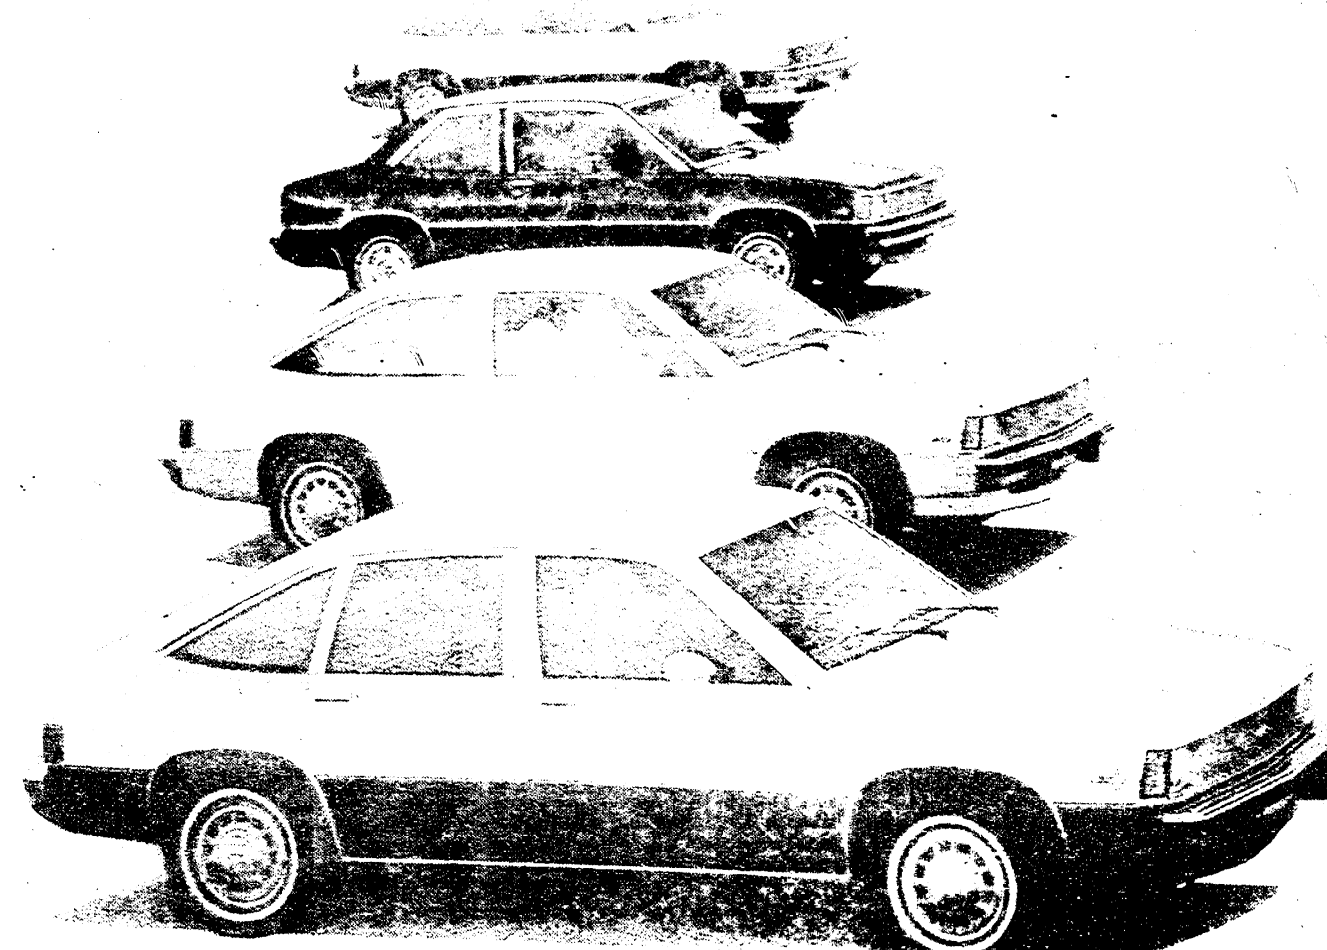

8 to 10 servings

Usually when someone wishes us to grant a loan they seldom bother to show us how the item they intend financing will, in effect, pay for itself.

One of the exceptions was in my office the other day.

Not only did this borrower ask for a loan to finance the purchase of one of those fuel saving cars, he had it all charted out to where the savings in fuel costs would pay for the car.

Now, not everyone drives enough to pile up sufficient miles to pay for a new car through fuel savings, but this fellow did.

Try as I might, and I did try for the fun of it, I couldn't dispute his figures.

On top of the exact amounts he had on paper, as fuel costs continue to climb, his savings climbs, too, in direct proportion.

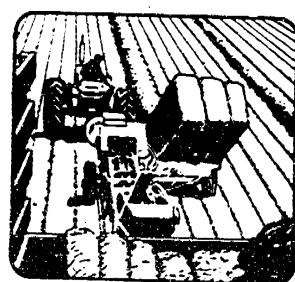

Perhaps you had better take another look at what increased fuel savings could mean to you.

AGRICULTURE IN ACTION

MICHIGAN FARM BUREAU

EAGLES, HAWKS AND OIL

We thought we'd heard everything...until the recent story about eagles holding up exploration of a whole new oil field in Wyoming. The story came from Texas Congressman Charles Wilson, who told of the Bureau of Land Management (BLM) stopping the drilling at the Wyoming site because of a "suspected" eagle's nest approximately 400 yards away.

It seems that ever since the eagle won out over the wild turkey as the American symbol, we have been programmed to loveagles and the BLM takes the protection of the bird very seriously. The Bureau insisted on an intensive study and on-site observation of the suspected nest. In the meantime, the drilling crew and officials of the company just stood around and watched the biologist studying the nest. Of course, the drilling rig stood idle.

Two months later, during which time no bird was observed occupying the nest, the biologist concluded that the nest was empty and further concluded that it wasn't an eagle's nest after all since it had been built by a hawk! All right...they lost two months and now the drilling could commence, right? Wrong! It took another month to complete the necessary evaluation and conclusion paperwork. Three months and the oil company hadn't pumped a pint.

Now, this isn't the end of this sad tale. During the three months the Bureau held up drilling, the rig was no longer available and there wasn't another one even close and so the company lost the lease. Someone will eventually drill for oil there, one who will probably have to pay an increased lease rate—another expense that can be passed along to the public.

The American public is critical of oil companies—but let's assume for just a moment that they didn't dream up the oil shortage. Suppose that they, like everyone else, have been stymied at every turn by costly, unreasonable, ridiculous regulatory roadblocks, perpetrated by unelected and, therefore, unaccountable bureaucrats.

So the next time you are waiting in line for gasoline with your twenty-dollar bill clutched tightly in your hand, maybe you'll see an eagle soaring overhead. He is undoubtedly looking for one of those "unoccupied eagles' nests" that hawks built...

IN RETROSPECT

Several of the older residents were talking the other day about Manchester in the time period from 1925 to 1945, and they became involved in a discussion about the many changes that had occurred on Main Street since then, so I said I would enumerate those during that time period and pinpoint where they were located and it will be very evident that forty years have brought many, many changes.

Let us start at the southwest corner of Exchange Place (as it was then) - on this corner of Clinton Street at that time was the large garage owned and operated by Jack Cathey and later by H.J. Meyer, who sold Dodge and Plymouth cars and Allis-Chalmers farm implements. "Buff" Brown moved in with him and ran a radio shop in part of the office area, and later Earl Alber moved there from his job as a mechanic at the Chevy garage.

Eastward across the street on the southeast corner was the filling station operated by Carl Toburen who, if you can remember, had a large dog who use to be provided with a small basket and a note and sent to the grocery or meat market, and who would go there, present his note and after the order had been filled, return to his master with the contents of the basket untouched.

Back of this station on Clinton Street at this time was located a garage operated by

"Stub" Blythe who sold Willys-Overland cats, and for whom Arch Kirk worked for some time.

Next to the east on Main Street was a frame building where Russ Widmayer ran a tavern until the building was torn down and the present hardware building erected. Russell then moved down the street to the building where the Black Sheep Tavern is now located. At this time Widmayer's hardware which was located on the north side of the street moved across into the new building.

Next door to the east was the Red and White store owned by Walter Luckhardt for many years, and next to this was the meat market which was owned by Clarence Haarer, then Kieblers and for many years by Herman Hanewald. He was a butcher of the old school who made all of his wieners, sausages, etc. which were a far cry from today's synthetic productions.

Then on down the street was a grocery operated at various times by Charlie Seckinger (who later moved down the street and around the corner on Adrian Street), the A & P Co., and Charlie Eisenhower.

Next was the tavern owned by Fritz Schill and later by Russ Widmayer.

Then, for years, was the hardware and implement store of Dresselhouse & David.
