CORNERSTONE LAYING CEREMONY Klager School Sells 2439 Cupcakes

On Sunday, November 4, 1979 at 1:30 P.M. the ceremony of laying the cornerstone was held at the new Manchester Township Fire Station.

The invocation, by Father Raymond Schlinkert is as follows:
"O Lord be with us today. Be the cornerstone of our lives, the rock on which we have our firm foundation.

We assemble today as did our forefathers in ages past. As they gathered together in the Guild Halls of Europe, so our American forefathers gathered for their town hall meetings. In Styvessant's village of New York, in William Penn's Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in the House of Burgesses at Williamsburg and at the Continental Congress at Philadelphia's Independence Hall the people and their representatives met.

They forged on the anvil of discussion a charter for a new nation. Government "of the people, by the people and for the people" became a reality. With that reality came a new responsibility. From the people must come those who would be willing to serve their fellow citizens. The great dream of Jefferson and Franklin, of Adams and Washington could be made real only if citizens would be willing to serve in government—and only if those who were thus served would be willing to be responsible citizens.

Today, O God from Whom all authority proceeds, we ask you to reward the men and women who serve us in this village. We are grateful for firemen who, braving the elements and sacrificing their time and comfort, stand ready to come to our aid day and night. We thank you for the generosity of village and township public servants who labor, often un-noticed and sometimes without appreciation, in order that the affairs of this community may proceed smoothly and without interruption.

As the citizens of future years come to open this cornerstone they realize that in it went not only the documents and coins which marked our time. May they know that these men and women of 1979 placed in this cornerstone and in this building their dedication to the best of American ideals—that this day they met in the fond hope and prayer that the Lord would bless this structure and that "government of the people, by the people and for the people might not perish from this earth". Amen."

The Manchester Historical Society, Howard Parr, President, was in charge of the program. Mr. Clayton Parr, Township Supervisor for twenty years, former Justice of the Peace, and lifelong resident of the area, was Honorary Chairman.

The Dedication was attended by more than 200 citizens, the Historical Society, the Fire Department and the Township Board. Following is a list of all the items placed in the box behind the cornerstone, which will be opened 100 years from this date. Information about the new building - Manchester Township, Roster of Township

Pictured are: Joe Ellison, Principal Klager School; Judy Mann, Area Representative for Klager School; Betty Schneider, Chairperson for Schools and Ginny Fielder.

Would you believe that within this last month at Klager School we had 2,439 cupcakes? You CAN believe it! Each Tuesday throughout the month of October a cupcake sale was held during the noon hour to raise money for the United Fund. Each cupcake sold for 10¢. The parents and students in grades 1 thru 4 supported this project and the end result was a TREMENDOUS, GRAND TOTAL contribution of $243.90 to the United Fund.

Many thank you's are necessary: to all you parents - THANKS - without you and your children in the kitchen baking, our project would not have been at all successful; to the children for their support by buying and having to choose from all those "beautiful" cupcakes; to Barbara Kennedy, Sue Lavender, Elaine Creech, and Karen Rodriguez for assisting the days of the sales; and a very special thank you to Ginny Fielder who always has time to help out!

We at Klager School feel we really worked to "Brighten OUR Day the United Way!"

United Way Hits 94% Of Goal

All solicitors and captains are urged to turn in their money, pledges and unused supplies to their Division Chairperson as soon as possible.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WAKE UP, MANCHESTER! Before you know it, your school system will be not only the lowest paid in the county, but the worst also!

Watching the progress of contract negotiations and the steady erosion of the quality of education in Manchester, I just couldn't remain silent any longer. To do so would be a disservice to the many fine students that I had the fortune to teach and coach in my six years in the Manchester Schools, and also to the many excellent teachers that now work in your hospitable community.

The plain and obvious fact in Manchester is that the Superintendent and the school board are trying to take away many benefits and the teachers of Manchester have long enjoyed, and on top of that, offer a pay increase of slightly over 4% each year for two years. The inflation rate is currently 13%, as you are most painfully aware. So, in effect, the board wants the teachers to work for a rather LARGE pay and fringe benefit CUT for the next two years. How many of you would go back to work under those conditions? How many of you would work without a contract?

During my six years teaching in Manchester, I saw many fine teachers leave the system because of the declining student and teacher moral, low salary scale, and lack of sound educational policies, with these factors being the major reasons for my departure also. Don't let it continue!

The most important educational tool is parent encouragement and discipline of their child, and the second most important is a quality teaching staff. I believe that your school administration has lost sight of the latter fact and is strongly encouraging a rapid decline in quality education in your community.

Let your school board and Superintendent know that you are concerned by their heavy-handed negotiation tactics, and that you want a settlement soon.

The most important gift you can give your children besides your love is a good education. Don't sit back and watch your schools decline.

Dear Mr. Wenk:

The Michigan Historical Commission is pleased to inform you that the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church (Old Zion Lutheran Church), Freedom Township, Washtenaw County, has been listed in the State Register of Historic Sites.

The State Register, established by Act 10 of the Public Acts of 1955 to recognize historic sites in Michigan, now includes the Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church among its more than 900 sites.

State registration indicates that the Historical Commission has judged the site to be of significant historic interest; such registration also enables the purchase and display of an official marker, approved by the Commission.

Sincerely,

Martha M. Bigelow

Ballantine At Town Hall Meeting

State Representative Mary Keith Ballantine (R-3rd District) will conduct a town hall meeting Thursday, Nov. 15, in Grass Lake.

The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the Grass Lake Township Hall, 575 Lakeside. Refreshments will be served.

"I am looking forward to becoming better acquainted with some of my constituents at the meeting," Mrs. Ballantine said. "I have been quite encouraged by the interest many of them have shown in state government and its workings."

Mrs. Ballantine will briefly address the gathering on several current legislative issues before engaging in an open discussion period.

"The more I know what is on the minds of my constituents," she added, "the better I'll be able to represent their interests in Lansing."

The Nov. 15 meeting is the sixth in a series of town hall meetings Representative Ballantine has scheduled throughout her district since Sept. 12.

Insurance Agent Earns Award

Lawrence Becktel, 109 E. Main Street, Manchester, local agent for Farm Bureau Insurance Group (FBIG), has earned a special production award for his sales and service record during the firm's recent "Billion Dollar Year" promotion.

The sales promotion was part of FBIG's celebration of reaching the billion dollar mark of life insurance in force. Farm Bureau Life, one of the three major insurance companies that comprise FBIG, reached the billion dollar milestone this year, meaning the company is now providing more than $1 billion of life insurance protection for Michigan residents.

Becktel met specific production goals and high service standards to qualify for the "Billion Dollar Celebration" production award.

Backed by a force of more than 350 agents, Farm Bureau Insurance Group serves more than a quarter of a million Michigan policyholders.

PTO Dance And Card Party Arrives

For weeks, articles have been published encouraging you to come to the Annual PTO Dance and Card Party sponsored by the Pleasant Lake PTO. The weeks have passed quickly and the dance and card party will be THIS Friday, November 9, 1979, from 8:00 P.M. to 11:30 P.M. at the Pleasant Lake Elementary School.

For those who have never been to this annual event, a description of it is in order. Simply, it is an event for the whole family to attend and enjoy. All ages are welcome on the dance floor, as Lorenz Wackenhut's Band plays the music of your choice—for fast or slow dancing, square or round dancing. Children of all ages come to this event and have a good time—whether they are 4, 44, or 84. Those who are not interested in dancing often join the card party in the card room where prizes are awarded. A comment heard again and again about the PTO Dance and Card Party is, "Oh, it's a lot of fun!"

Providing an opportunity for family members to participate in activities as a family is one of the purposes of the Pleasant Lake PTO. This event helps to fulfill that purpose. What a great place for a family of 4 or 6 or 8 to go on a Friday night and enjoy 3½ hours of entertainment for only $5—and a piece of homemade cake or a slice of homemade pie costs only 25c. Some of the Manchester merchants have been very generous and have donated lovely door prizes—some to be won by adults and some to be won by children. Dress is casual, and the public is encouraged to come. This event is sponsored by the Pleasant Lake PTO, but it is not limited to the Pleasant Lake area. We invite everyone to come and share the fun.

Since this is also a money-making project, the following donations will be accepted at the door: $5 for a family of 4 or more; $2 for an adult; $1.50 for a student; $.75 for a child 10 or under; $1.25 for a card party participant.

Shangri-La

Step into another world and find a treat for your senses. Come to Shangri-La...the Oriental boutique that is the creation of the Fashion Merchandising class at Eastern Michigan University. Enjoy some homemade Oriental and American taste treats. Do some pre-Christmas shopping, enjoy the displays and demonstrations, or just stop in for some surprises. The non-profit boutique is established for first-hand merchandising experience and the class is aided by display and fashion analysis classes at EMU. The boutique will run from November 5th thru the 16th.

Hours are: Weekdays 9:00 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. except for Nov. 5th & 13th until 7:00 p.m. and Nov. 9th & 16th 9:00 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.

Your search for Shangri-La will lead you to room 112 Roosevelt Hall at the corner of W. Forest and College Place on the EMU campus.

Your presence will be honored. Come...

In Retrospect

Many of our schools seem to be in trouble. Most everyone says that they are not doing a very good job of educating our children. The school boards, however, in many places are trying to rectify their deficiencies, but how well they are succeeding is a question.

We've heard for some time, stories about our school's shortcomings but we've not tried to assess the blame for we know that there is always two sides to every question.

This column was instigated by the fact that we are told that a considerable number of nearby schools are operating without teacher contracts and others are crying poverty and curtailing operations and that, in many places, there is considerable hard feeling between the teachers and administration, including the school boards. In many districts the public is disgusted with the teaching performance of the teachers. They feel that the schools are really the property of the school district, of the taxpayers—that they own them and that they should get better returns for the money expended than they have recently.

This condition was brought about by the many discussions heard on the subject and only recently we were informed that the Tecumseh schools had, beginning with grade nine this year, raised the required number of subjects from four to five with twenty credits necessary for graduation. Perhaps this is an answer to one problem. There seems to be a lack of teaching fundamentals in our high schools.

A generation ago our schools were a very prominent part of our lives—especially for those who had children of school age, but nowadays our schools have more competition from other interests. We are a very mobile people and our interests extend beyond their former limits. We tried to cooperate with our teachers in their efforts to instill into our youngsters the basic knowledge; the three R's—reading, ritin' and rithmetic, plus a basic knowledge of history, literature, biology, etc.

The most of us were too, interested in our hometown's football, baseball and basketball teams (and we still are) and most of us attended at least the home games and cheered the boys on.

Our teachers—most of them at least—looked well and happy. I can't remember that I ever knew one that wasn't well dressed and well fed. I can't remember that I ever knew what their salaries were but remember that they seemed content. Quite a number of them had taught in our school for many years and they were a part of our community. They attended our churches, they took part in community activities and they even, in many instances, spent many hours rehearsing the youngsters in their plays and in supervising their Future Farmer activities and band activities and other extra curricular activities, all without pay. Too, they were Girl and Boy Scout workers—and seemed to enjoy it all. I admit that it was unfair to expect that they should do all this, but I don't remember that any of them felt downtrodden. Most of them were proud to be teachers—to inspire their children to learn, and as they progressed, to be proud of their part in their accomplishments, and now and then, as one of them went on to college and later became outstanding members of their profession, these teachers were very proud of their accomplishments as were their parents.

Now and then, one of these teachers went on to bigger and better things but once in a while too, a teacher turned out to be incompetent to teach the subjects to which they were assigned and had to be eliminated at the end of the school year and replaced. Once in a while it was unfortunately true that a teacher was the victim of internal petty politics but in most every instance a teacher was judged by their ability to teach.

In those days we heard a gripe or two about the cost of education, but not very often. But nowadays things are different. Most everyone gripes about the cost of education but then we gripe about most everything and it has been increasingly hard to sell any community on the basic needs for education—just what is needed for the nitty gritty things—like the three R's.

It seems at times that we are bogged down in a morass of non essentials. I suggest that this mess is not all generated by the teachers but by governmental regulations as well. No governments edict can fairly apply to all schools for the circumstances are so very different in different localities. For example, how many children are there in this district who need to be furnished with proper breakfasts? This is not the inner city. This condition, however, is worsened by the lack of caring by the parents of the pupils and by their indifference.

The schools of today are supposed to use a great deal of psychology, applied by the teachers to a great extent but it is not done by hand and in the right place.

Our teachers used to valiantly try to instruct the students in the subjects they had to learn about but in some instances, of course, it was a lost cause, no matter how hard they tried. In that case the student simply failed that year and had to repeat the grade, and if we remember correctly, most of them became at least fairly knowledgeable the second time around and progressed to the next grade. This was true through all twelve grades and then if one didn't deserve to graduate one just didn't. It was that simple. But nowadays things are different. Evidently no one fails. Some, when they become old enough, drop out of school but some of the others appear to wander through high school and appear with the graduates at the end of the senior year. I wonder if, in some cases, the diplomas they are given, are blank.

So year by year the average person has become more and more disgusted with our schools—not particularly the one in our community—I feel that it is rather better than the average—but when stories and surveys from national sources tell us that 27 percent of our high school graduates from senior high schools can't read nor write, add nor subtract, cannot fill out a job application, cannot make change, cannot read the assembly instructions for a simple machine part well enough to do as it says, and many other equally simple feats, we wonder what we are getting for our education dollar and rightfully so. Something in our educational system needs an overhaul.

Perhaps we have a cluttered curriculum. Perhaps we should eliminate the frilly subjects and concentrate on the basics.

True, a computer can, to some extent, do our math for us and TV and other audio sources can supplant our ability to read but we become lost at times when we do not have a solid knowledge of fundamentals. Nowadays our children do not seem to be getting them, to they? But these faults do not tell the whole story.

Anyone will admit that any competent teacher should be paid more than an unskilled worker—considerably more—but they work only nine months a year and just because a teacher has a degree doesn't automatically mean that he or she is a good teacher. In order to teach, one must know their subjects and also to be able to communicate with the student. Not all teachers can do this. I can write this sentence without any prejudice for I do not know personally even one of the teachers in the local school and I'm not being personal.

A teacher should surely have a salary that would enable them to live comfortably but their progress as a teacher and their increases in salary should depend on a lot more than the number of years that they have taught. That should be a factor but it takes more than tenure to produce a competent teacher. At times I think that tenure is more of a curse than a blessing.

It's going to take more than strikes for more money, or walkouts, pickets or harsh words on the part of the teachers or blanket condemnations on the part of school board, the administration and the public to settle anything. Sooner or later we are going to have to get together and to understand each other's viewpoint. I don't think we do now. Our teachers should be a part of our community which most of them are not nowadays. We used to, for example, have an open house for the new teachers each year to introduce them to the local folks and welcome them to our school and let them meet and know the parents of our children but in most places even that is not done any more. We don't invite our teachers to take part in our community life. We used to have, it seems to us, to have more community spirit than we now have. There is no substitute for getting to know each other personally and to be able to discuss our problems with each other. If there are problems in our schools that need rectifying let's get them out in the light of day and settle them. Let's straighten out our schools. I know we are somewhat handicapped by certain unnecessary rules and regulations thrust upon us by state and national governments but we can live with these if we must and have a school of which we can be proud, if we want to.

I suppose this is repeating, but there are three factors involved in these problems—teachers salaries and teaching conditions, the school board and the administration—operating conditions, efficiency of operation, and guidelines for teachers, etc.; and the attitude of the public, to show that good use is being made of tax money and that waste has been eliminated with a business like operation. Then too we need better public relations between these units.

By who and when is the first step to be taken.

Who sez that Native ingenuity is dead? I was greatly amused the other day when the garbage and rubbish truck which comes by every Wednesday in the fall and winter and is usually manned by two fellows one of whom takes one side of the street and the other, but several times lately we noted that there was only one fellow on the truck and we were tempted to feel sorry for him as he dashed madly back and forth from one side of the street to the other and jumped in and out of the truck starting and stopping it. And then this morning the truck came rumbling past and after it had gone by we looked out and observed that the bags had been picked up from one side of the street but not the other. We wondered about this but soon afterwards we again heard the truck going by and went to the window and glanced out. Sure nuff the truck was going by headed the other way and the one occupant was cheerfully picking up the bags from the other side of the street saving at least 40 percent of his energy. He will, I am sure, end up doing better things than driving a garbage truck.

Dutch Over-Power Stockbridge In Third Overtime 19-16

by Jon Hardenbergh

Anyone in or around the town, who are into Manchester sports know that this big match between the Panthers and the Dutch would probably end with the winner going on to the State playoffs. The majority of you fans witnessed the battle and read ensuing articles about the game. For those people who don't know what happened—here goes.

We kicked to Stockbridge and Jeff Geiger's toe sailed the leather high and deep. They grabbed the ball and took it to their own 15 where they jumped offside so went back to the 10. The next dow, which actually was their first play, their back flew up the middle for a 20 yd. gain. Three runs moved them 9 yds. so they dropped back to punt with our first control in great shape at our 42. Our beginning hand-off went to John Mooneyham for 4 yds. and next it went to Gary Daniels who blasted for 6 yds. and the first down at the Panther 48. We were penalized and on third and long our quarterback, Brian Bruceek got sacked so Troy Walden punted. They set up on their 27 and ran but we stonewalled them in their backfield for 4 yds. They again punted and the first big break occurred—we fumbled and they recovered at our 43. Our defense roared and on third and six we threw their back for -10 to the mid-field stripe. Following their kick we drove from our 16 to the 25 so kicked back—the snap was bobbled but Troy just got it off so Stockbridge controlled. Our break came as they coughed it up and we possessed on the 46. In 6 thrusts we sat at their 27 but we turned it over on downs. After their next punt we took the pigskin to their 26 where Jeff attempted to put 3 pts. on the board but failed. Once again they punted and we controlled in beautiful shape at their 47 with haltime near. Brian handed to John who went left—turned the corner and scampered down the sidelines. A Panther tried a desperation tackle but John kept his balance to score. Next Brian took the snap and calmly threw to Todd Quayle for the 2 pointer so at 2:37 we led undefeated Stockbridge 8-0. Soon time ran out leaving us up 8-0. Except for this run by John, the defenses controlled the half.

The second half proved to be somewhat different in that Stockbridge got the offense rolling while we moved very little on them. We did receive the kick but an offside stalled us so we punted. They set up deep at their 16 but in six plays they were threatening at our 25 yd. line but here they went to the air and Todd snatched it. Yes, we were back at our 7 but we had the ball when we gave to Gary who blasted us to the 30. The next play took us -15 for holding so we kicked. The Panthers started in good shape and soon were knocking at our goal with a left sweep taking them to our 7. But wait—I spotted a yellow flag—the Panthers were caught for holding so that 15 sure helped. Remember time was running out as it was mid fourth quarter already with the Dutch still atop 8-0. Although several minutes is all that remained, Stockbridge punted and we possessed on our 20 but here disaster struck as the sphere went to Gary who was really popped and the ball came out only to fall in a Panthers paw at the 27. The clock showed about 1:40 when their pass went for 12 when Dan Burch knocked the Panther out of bounds. The zebra didn't like Dan's tackle so tossed his handkerchief—this moved it to the 7. They now ran for 2 then -1 so stood 6 yds. away when they passed complete for the TD. All we needed was to fail their extra 2 point attempt but their runner beat our defender to the goal line so the tally was knotted at 1:24. We then took the kick and ran the clock out to take our chances in the tie-breaker.

Basically how this works is a coin is tossed to see who gets the ball at the 10. You then have 4 tries to score—if by TD then you can kick a PAT or run a 2 pointer. Remember your opponent always has a chance—it's not sudden death. You may decide to kick a field goal but if they score a TD it's over.

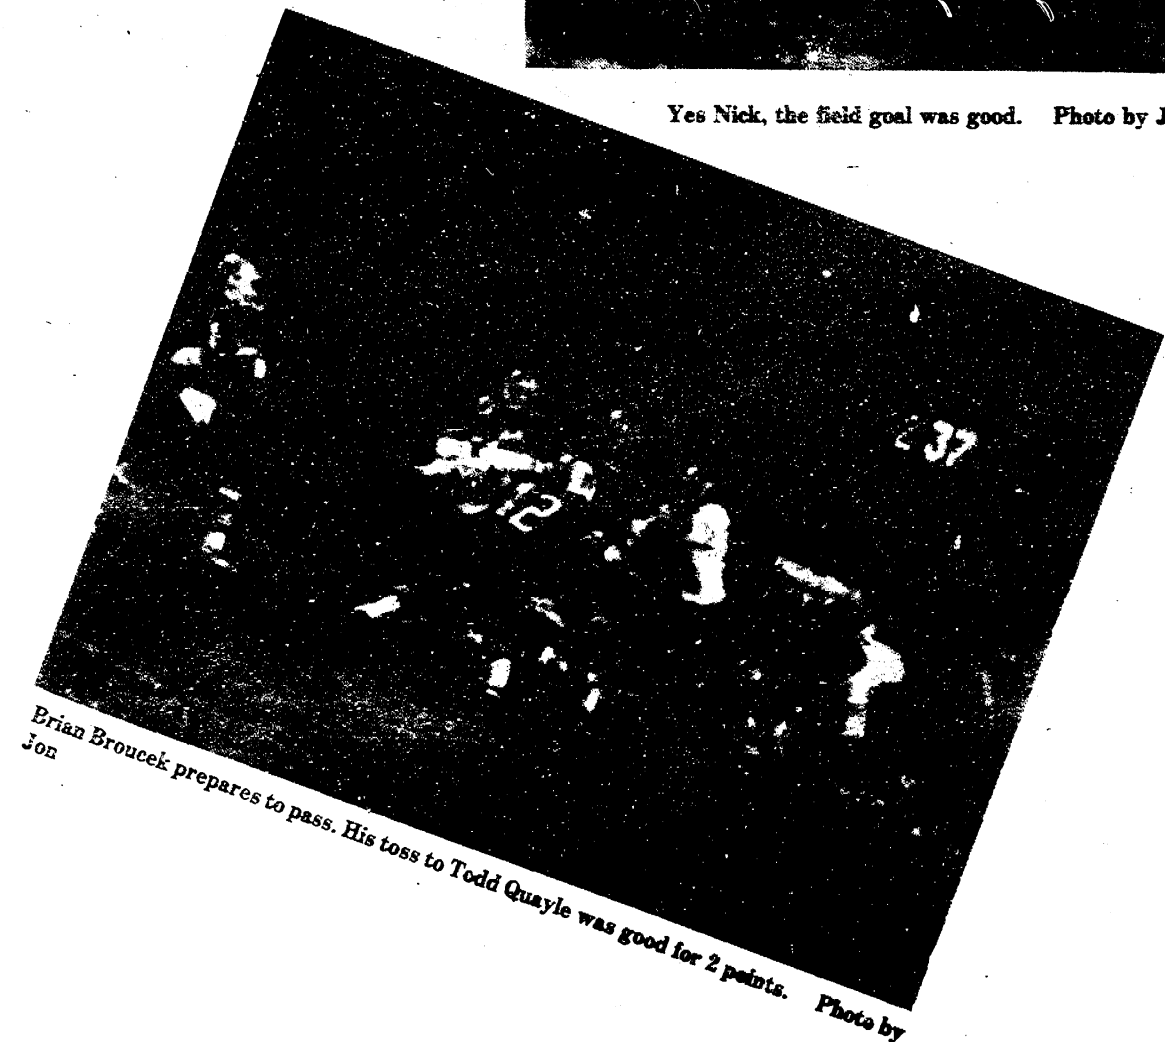

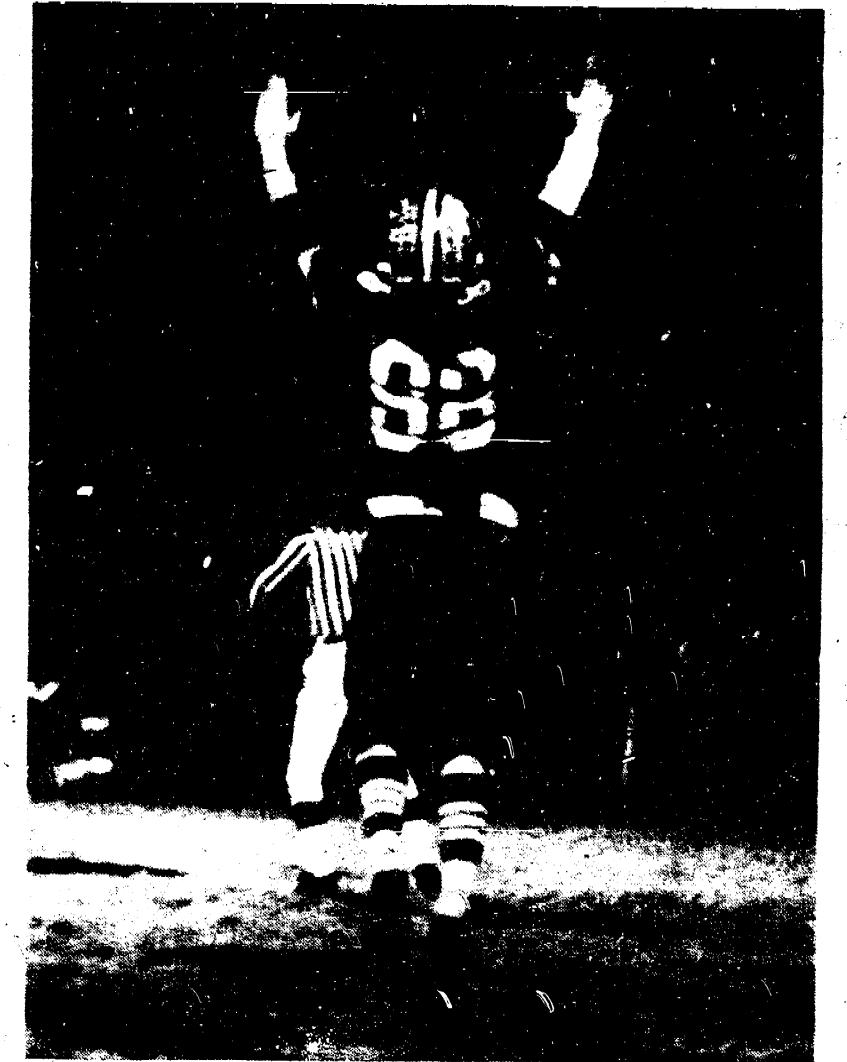

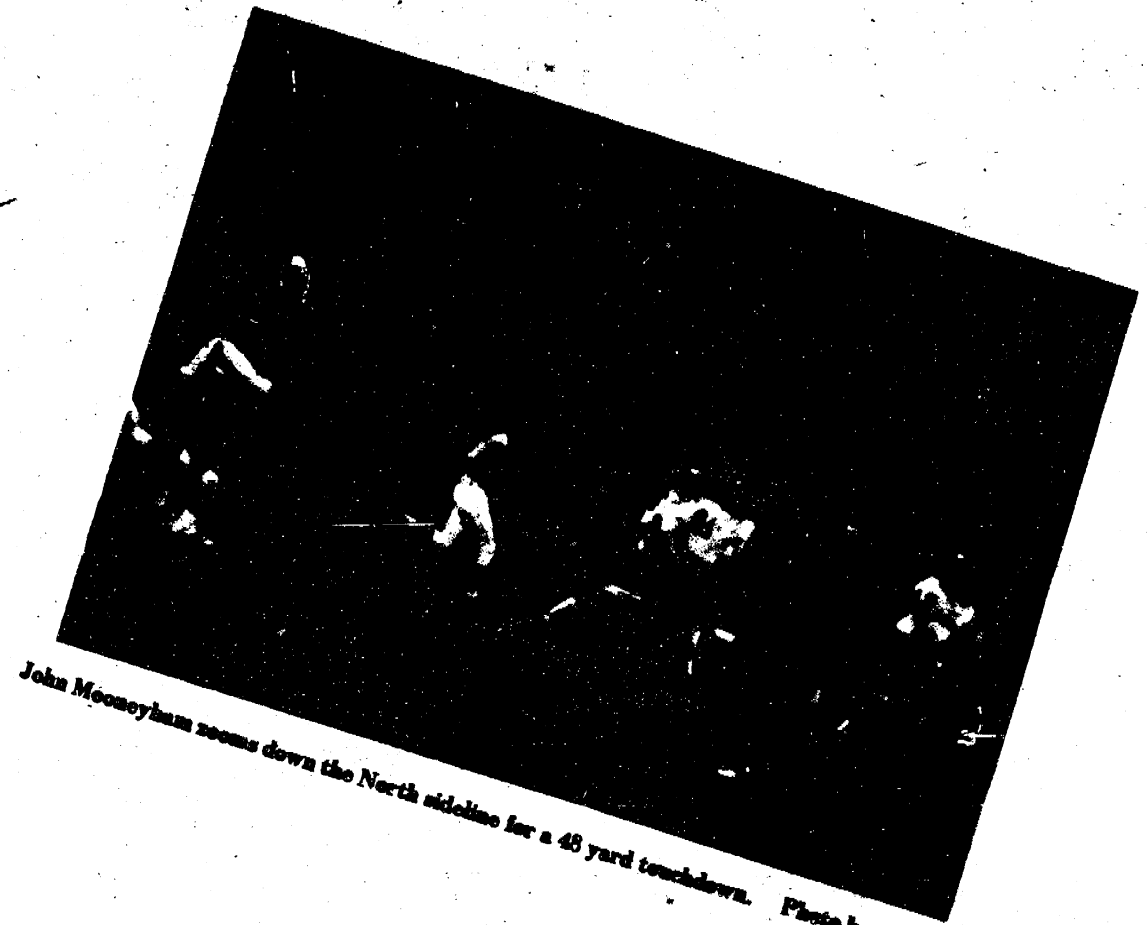

Anyway we touched first and on the second play Gary fell across the goal from 7 and Brian fired to Jeff for 2 to up our score 16-8. Now here comes Stockbridge—they threw twice incomplete but their next 2 hit for paydirt. They had to tie to prolong this and their 2 pointer was good so we go again, 16-16. This, the second over-time. Stockbridge went first and in 3 drives they sat at the 4 yard line—their fourth run moved 1 yd. short so we took over at the 10. Three runs took us to the 4 where Troy knelt to hold for Jeff's field goal attempt (recall, they had failed at their chance so this 3 pointer could win it for us) Troy caught the snap, set it down and Jeff kicked it—the ball looked funny but who cared. Fans flooded the field as the ref signaled good—but he or hundreds of people didn't see the yellow flag on the ground. Offsides was the call so after -5 Jeff tried again but it was no good. The third overtime came with the Dutch starting, on first we jumped so back we went to the 15. Again we moved so we now sat 20 away when Brian bombed to Nick Krzyzaniak who was interfered with so the penalty went half the distance (20 to 10). We went backwards, so on fourth down Jeff attempted to put us ahead by 3 and did, 19-16 from 22 out. Stockbridge came up for 4 plays and it was 4th and 3 when they called time—I am sure their discussion was shall we tie with a field goal or try for a TD to win. In they came and lined up for a TD—the center snapped it and our Doug Drouare knifed thru to grab their quarterback's jersey. This hampered their quarterback so in desperation he passed—the ball fell into Brian's hands so it was all over, 19-16.

This win over #4 Stockbridge shot us into the State playoffs. We play Watervliet on Saturday, November 10 at 1:30 in the afternoon. Unfortunately directions were not available but I can tell you it will be played at C.W. Post Stadium in Battle Creek.

GOOD LUCK DUTCH—JON

HOLLISTER-HAAB WEDDING

St. Thomas Evangelical Lutheran Church was the setting for the wedding of Aletha A. Haab of Manchester and Harold A. Hollister, Jr. of Pinckney on October 20, 1979.

The evening ceremony was officiated by the Rev. Paul Puffe.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Haab, was attired in a white polyester A-line gown featuring an empire waist and long train. Insets of lace enhanced the long sleeves and bodice, and lace daisies trimmed the hem line and train. She wore a lace trimmed chapel veil and carried a bouquet of white roses, and dark-pink roses surrounded by baby's breath and ivy.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Hollister of Pinckney. Honor attendants were Miss Carolyn M. Haab of Lansing, sister of the bride, and Thomas Ritter of Pinckney.

Miss Sharon E. Haab of Lakewood, Ohio, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid while David Hollister of Lakewood, Ohio, brother of the groom, James Haab of Chelsea and Brad Hollister of Pinckney, seated the guests.

"Miss Autumn"

The maid of honor and the bridesmaid wore A-line gowns of rose polyester with empire waists and white lace capes. Their bouquets were dark and light pink carnations, dark pink roses and baby's breath.

Richard Hollister, son of the groom, carried the rings. Kevin and Harry Hollister, also sons of the groom, presented roses to the bride and groom.

A reception followed at the Freedom Township Hall.

The newlyweds have returned from a trip to northern Michigan and are residing in Pinckney.

This speaker is being presented in cooperation with the Klager School Book Fair which will be held on November 7 and 8. After the meeting there will be an opportunity to purchase children's books.

All members of the Manchester Community are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Amy Hainstock, daughter of the William Hainstocks of Saline, formerly of Manchester, was selected "Miss Autumn", in her age group, during the Saline Baton Competition Contest, held Saturday, November 3, at the Saline Middle School.

MANCHESTER TOWNSHIP LIBRARY P. O.

Manchester schools remained closed through Wednesday, November 14, as the week long teacher strike by members of the Manchester Education Association continued.

A bargaining session between the School Board and the teachers was set for 2:00 p.m., Wednesday, November 14, with mediator Ed Phillips in Detroit. A tentative agreement at that session could bring the teachers back to work today.

Manchester teachers went on strike Wednesday morning, November 7, closing schools indefinitely. The teachers had been working since the beginning of the school year without a contract. The Manchester Education Association voted 59-6 for the strike after a ten-hour bargaining session broke down at 2:30 a.m. Wednesday. The Washtenaw-Livingston Education Association (WLEA) voted 86% to support the strike, guaranteeing that if any Manchester teacher is fired because of the strike, all 1,848 teachers in 10 participating school districts will go out on strike.

The striking teachers agreed to continue sports, band and club activities, which was accepted by the school board at an emergency meeting on Thursday night, allowing the band concert and Saturday afternoon game to go on as scheduled.

Ed Phillips, the state mediator, dismissed the teachers and the school board from the bargaining table because the two sides were at an impasse. There were major differences in the areas of salary and health benefits.

In a statement for the board, Eugene Thompson, Superintendent of Schools, said, "By law, a school district must have a balanced budget. With the passage of the Headlee Amendment, and a large decline in student enrollment this year, the district lost $75,000 in revenue. Very simply, the District does not have the money to meet the teacher's demands."

Bill Symons, President, Manchester Education Association, countered that "We know budgets are tight, but we have a problem with that. We hate to be the lowest paid teachers in Washtenaw County." He also said that the teachers would be willing to settle for less in the first year of the contract, if the school board does not have the money this year, in exchange for a better second and third year agreement.

The last official salary offer from the board was an increase over last year's salary of 7.25%, plus increments in the first year of the contract; 7.50%, plus increments, the second year, and 7.75% plus increments, the third year. (An increment is the additional money paid for each added year of teaching experience, up to a maximum of ten years - approximately a 2.7% increase each year.) The teachers asked for a 10% increase for the first two years of the contract plus increments, with the 3rd year salary negotiable.

Bill Symons said that the teachers just want to protect themselves against the increases in the cost of living. With this year's cost of living increase running at 15%, he said, then accepting the board's offer would mean his salary would buy 7% less than it did last year. Thompson said the salary offer compared favorably with other school districts of similar size in the area.

Options in the current health package were another obstacle facing the teachers and the board. In last year's contract, full family health benefits are offered to all teachers. Any teacher electing not to take full family health can apply the amount that would go to the health plan, to other options. The single teacher, for instance, Continued on page 9

In Retrospect

A dozen Cass County residents, angry at conditions in Michigan, want their county to secede and become a part of Indiana.

The Citizens For Secession have announced that they will initiate proceedings to legally place the issue on the November, 1980 ballot.

"We've talked to the legislative branch, the judicial branch, the State Chamber of Commerce which is our lobby group, and the local politicians. We've gotten nowhere. You would think that they would know that outside of Detroit, Grand Rapids and Lansing there is a state called Michigan," say the group.

If their effort succeeds Cass County, Michigan with 40,000 people would become a part of Indiana called Michiana County.

The economic climate in Michigan has deteriorated because of high workers' compensation costs, a state income tax twice as high as Indiana's, a total reliance on property taxes for schools and a tenure law, these hurt the most, they say.

"The committee is totally discouraged with the economic conditions in the State of Michigan and is intent on secession to the state of Indiana" says the resolution passed at a recent meeting.

A Cassopolis lawyer says four steps are needed for secession: the county must approve a referendum seeking to secede, the Michigan Legislature must vote to release the county from the state, the General Assembly must accept the new county, and Congress must finally approve it.

It is expected that a majority of the county commissioners will vote to put the issue on the ballot as a referendum and if that fails the group voted to launch a petition drive seeking a referendum.

There is precedent from a state though it has never been done by a single county. A group of West Virginia counties seceded from Virginia after the Civil War and Maine once seceded from Massachusetts.

In 1976 a group of Upper Peninsula counties asked Attorney General Frank Kelley about forming a new state of Superior and he said that a county could instigate secession proceedings.

If you will recall in June, 1977 Ralph Russell of the Blissfield Die and Stamping, Inc., moved his factory to Ohio, to a site west of Metamora where he is alive, well and happy. He says that he saves at least $32,000 a year with his 20 employees in Ohio and figures at that rate that in 13 years he will have his new factory for free.

Russell said when he moved that his corporation taxes were 42 per cent less in Ohio and that his unemployment comp. in Michigan is $15.36 per $100 of payroll compared with $5.01 in Ohio.

Businessmen in Michigan haven't taken much interest in labor bills and it is said that the Big 3 don't care as they can pass their costs on to the consumer but the little fellow finds this impossible. Then too many Michigan folks think that our school financing system needs some major overhauling, nobody's doing much about it.

Maybe the Cass County boys have
