MANCHESTER HAD IT'S DAY

Manchester had it's day in the sun last Thursday. And what a day it was. Thanks to our weather committee and the loyalty and cooperation of over 550 volunteer men and boys from our entire community we set a new attendance record at Manchester's 27th Annual Chicken Broil. Although the attendance count is not finalized, and will not be until all volunteers turn in monies from the tickets they sold, Gene Bentschneider, General Chairman, reports a record number of guests, estimated between 12,500 and 13,000, attended this year's Broil.

Gale Koebbe, Firemen Committee Chairman, put a match to the charcoal in the eight 50 foot pits at 12:30 and the first plump butter basted chicken halves were ready to serve the early arrivals at exactly four P.M. From then on, until dusk, the volunteer crews were busy serving our guests at the rate of fifty per minute. There were no long waiting periods at the serving tables or at the "Take Out" area.

Gene Bentschneider said "Things went better and smoother than ever". He had high praise for the hundreds of men and boys who volunteered their time and talents to assure the success of this 27th Annual Broil, and added his special thanks to all of the citizens in the Manchester area who, year after year, support and participate in this now nationally famous community effort to raise funds for projects which benefit our youth.

This year Mayor Jeffrey Schaffer proclaimed the occasion "BUD GUEST DAY". Bud, famed for his many years as host of his own program on WJR, "The Sunnyside Of The Street" and more currently a popular banquet speaker, has, over the years, spread the good word about the hospitality of the people of Manchester and all the good things about our famous Broil.

Bud and his lovely wife Betty were our special guests for the day. By police escort they were transported by horse and wagon to the Athletic field. To the clicks of dozens of cameras and the playing of a lively rendition of the catchy tune "On the sunnyside of the street" by Luke Schabile and his popular band they were welcomed by General Chairman Gene Bentschneider and Co-Chairman Ronald Mann. Red carpet and all. After dinner, and after being greeted by scores of their friends and

Biggest Little Fair In Michigan

The Biggest Little Fair in Michigan is coming to town August 12th - 16th. The official opening is a fantastic parade at 6:30 Tuesday evening. The theme of the parade is Cartoons! The co-ordinating chairmen for the parade are John Savage 428-8907 and Eldon "Dorney" Lamb 428-7734. For information about the parade you may also contact the chairmen at Double A Products 428-8311.

The Parade Committee of the Fair Board would like to encourage organizations of the community to enter floats in the parade. In previous years only school floats have been judged for premium money. This year ALL floats will be judged. If you have a float to enter please call one of the chairmen.

All through the year the Manchester Community Fair Board look for new entertainment ideas and ways to improve our fair.

Some people have asked, "Why is the Fair a week earlier? One reason for that is we have contracted a new carnival. There will be some new rides and more of them as room permits.

In the near future the Fair Premium and Program booklet will be available. You will see that it has a new style, smaller and easier to use, than previous years tabloid.

Many good comments were received about the entertainment provided last year in the school auditorium. The board is going to provide some of the same entertainment again this year plus some new ideas. Weather permitting the entertainment will be on the Fair Ground included in the cost of your season pass.

About this time of summer many of our

Historical Society Sale

In June, the Manchester Area Historical Society asked the readers of the Manchester Enterprise to save collectibles and donate them for the Sale on August 9 to aid the Society's building fund. Now is the time to bring things in for evaluation and pricing.

To make it easy to remember, BRING things to the Old Methodist Church building (corner W. Main and Washington) every Friday and Saturday between 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. through July 25 and 26 and August 1, 2, and 8.

The Sale is on the 9th from 11:00 to 4:00. It will be located in the Wurster Park area in front of the Library. Both the Old Church and Manchester Township Library are stops on the Historic Walk scheduled for the same time and same day.

Collectibles can be hundreds of things - campaign buttons, old buttons, old china, glassware and bottles, old tins that staple foods used to come in, advertising calendars, yard sticks, ash trays, old lace, picture frames and small pieces of odd furniture, etc. The Library has a great deal of information on the subject for the asking.

HIT OR MISS by farley

Art Buchwald, who is not a salesman but somewhat of a columnist, claims to have solved the problem of why folks aren't buying American autos.

He claims that our problems all date to the fact that the big three don't know how to sell cars. They offer rebates and appeal to our patriotism and offer other gimmicks when this is not the way to approach the problem at all. They should play hard to get. It works with other products, why not cars?

If and when a buyer should happen to wander into a showroom and salesman should casually approach him and say rather nonchalantly "Can I help you?" And above all don't get excited.

When the client says "No, I'm just looking, say OK go right ahead, none of these models is for sale anyhow, there is a six month waiting period for any of these models you see here in the showroom."

"Don't try to make me believe that."
"Haven't you heard about the big shortage there's gonna be in automobiles during the next three years. We're lucky if we can take care of our regular customers."

"If you need a new car right now I don't believe that I can help you right now. There are you know, gonna be only just so many to go around. If you are in that big a rush perhaps you can get one from a foreign car dealer, have you tried that?"

"I'm a loyal American and I demand that I have a right to own an American car. I don't want a cheap import."

"Well don't get hard nosed about it. We have folks who have been waiting a year for a particular color or model and they haven't gotten it yet. Even if Nader himself came in and begged for a car we would give him one."

"But I gotta have one in my business. Maybe if I gave you a $500 rebate you could find me something."

"My dear fellow we don't accept bribes, get that straight, but if you are really a hardship case we might be able to make an exception in your case but you will have to bring a letter from your employer

Getting Ready For Lamb Sale

Members of the Jaycee Lamb Club had their lambs sheared recently in preparation for the Manchester Fair, August 12-16. The reduction of wool will make it easier for the judge to determine where to place each lamb. This is because the judge places more emphasis on the quality of the meat than they do on the quality of the wool. They are looking for a lean well-finished animal and a "good leg-of-lamb". These lambs will be auctioned off at a public sale on the fairgrounds on Thursday night, August 14th. The Steer Club, sponsored by the Optimist Club, will also have 30 steers to auction off that same evening. The public is welcome to participate.

Children's Theater

The M.A.T.S. and the Manchester Art Guild sponsored the Children's Theatre week which had their performance on Saturday, July 19, 1980. Noah's Ark (children ages 4-6) performed first. All the actors enjoyed their part immensely. The Purple Tiger Who Ate Pancakes had one unique feature. In addition to being played by children, two teen-age assistant directors (Matt Sporzynski, and Arthur Anderson) were utilized. This made the show truly a children's performance. The actors (ages 7-10) performed their parts excellently.

In spite of the heat, both plays were a refreshing dip into fantasy. Refreshments were served after the performance. Many thanks to the adult volunteers who dedicated the entire week for the success of these shows.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Recently an article appeared in an area newspaper about a local Manchester restaurant. The article made this restaurant appear, to the reader, to be unfit for preparing food.

I can personally say from personal observation that there is probably not a cleaner, more sanitary restaurant in our county.

Our County Health Department, without a doubt, is giving this restaurant undue harassment. This harassment has caused the owner great expense and personal agony.

I have always felt that this community possessed something found only in a few other places on earth (UNITY). If you feel that the Bauernstube Restaurant has suffered undue harassment please stop by and tell them of your support in their efforts against our County Health Department.

Sincerely,
Village President
Jeffrey K. Schaffer

Dear Editor:

It was a cold and wet day when I last visited Manchester...and despite the damp breeze and dull gray skies of July 9th, something quite heart-warming was happening at Carr Park. It was Manchester's Girl Scout Day Camp.

Directed by Diane Schwab, volunteer Troop Services Director, the four day event brought fun and learning to the forty-some girls who participated. And, through rain and shine, the adults who volunteered their time with Mrs. Schwab, brought relentless enthusiasm with them.

As I already mentioned, the day I visited the day camp, the weather was bad enough to dampen anyone's spirits...but not the women of Manchester! Their dedication to the young girls of the community was obvious.

The community of Manchester is lucky to have such fine women in their community. We, at the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council, are proud of them, and I'm sure you are too.

Sincerely,
Susan Bairley
Field Director

GALLERY

Next week, July 27-31, marks the end of the Guild's first summer offering of arts and crafts classes for kids and grownups. It seems that this area has been in need of such vacation activity. Don't be surprised if you hear about another month of creative opportunity next summer! Response to the first day of classes was encouraging, with seventeen children in attendance. Children's Theater Week was enjoyed by a whopping thirty-five enthusiastic youngsters. Their Saturday presentation was delightful.

August 9, during the Third Annual Manchester Street Fair, an exhibit of student work will be open to the public. Take a look at what your friends and kids have been doing. Gallery walls should be full of fine examples of the month's fare. Each participant will have at least one piece of work on display.

This gathering will follow a board meeting at 6:30 p.m. Come for a discussion of guild activities and the Heritage-Harvest Show during September and October. Consumers Power News

Attaching political or other signs to poles that carry electricity violates laws in many communities and endangers electric linemen, W.E. Mason, Manager of the Jackson District of Consumers Power Company, said.

"As the political campaigns of 1980 heat up, we have noticed that more and more political signs are being fastened to our electric distribution poles," Mason said. "Some communities in this area have ordinances making that illegal. But beyond that, attaching signs poses a threat to the safety of our linemen."

"We use bucket trucks more now to work on lines, but we still must climb poles under certain circumstances. If a lineman's climbing gear strikes a nail or other piece of metal that was used to attach a sign, he can be misled into thinking his spike is set firmly into the pole. This could result in what we call a 'cutout' and the lineman might fall, with serious injury a possible result," Mason said.

The same danger exists from the posting of signs for garage sales, auctions or other purposes, he added.

"Please remember that our poles are private property and that they serve the general public," Mason said. "Using them for political purposes violates company policy and could result in a fine if the community has a law against this. But beyond that, the danger to our linemen is of greater concern."

State law also prohibits posting of signs on utility poles within state highway rights of way, he said.

Phan Family Welcomed To Manchester

The Manchester Refugee Resettlement Committee hosted a welcoming party Monday evening, July 21, at St. Mary's Church, for our town's Southeast Asian Refugee family.

The Phan Van Nhon family arrived in Manchester on Sunday and are settling into their apartment in town.

Mr. Phan, formerly a high school teacher, and his wife, Do Haynh Thai Minh Ngoc, have told committee members that they would be happy to be known by the American names of Paul and Mary, if their new neighbors would find those easier to pronounce.

They have two sons, Phan Do Hoang Nha (also known as Dominic), age 4, and Phan Do Chiou Van (also called Peter), age 2.

Also living with the family is a nephew, Phan Van Tu, who is 17 years old. He has chosen the American name of Simon.

The Committee extends a hearty "thank you" to the dozens of families who have donated household items, clothing and toys. A much-appreciated "extra" for the hot summer months would be a few items of outdoor furniture, and anyone with used porch furniture to donate should call Elvira Vogel at 428-8436.

Also needed, of course, are financial contributions to help the family meet immediate expenses. Donations can be made at any of the Manchester-area banks.

The Resettlement Committee was proud to extend a warm welcome to the Phan family, and hopes that many more Manchester folks will have the opportunity to meet this delightful family, either at church or around town in the weeks and months to come.

Summer Orientation

Half of the 2,800 freshmen who will attend Western Michigan University this fall have completed their summer orientation, according to the director, Norman K. Russell, assistant to the vice president for student services here.

From the Manchester area attending were: Sherri Cleland, Tracy Fuller, Sula Jeffers, Pamela Knickerbocker, Sara Meinhardt, and Julie Moore.

In groups of 190 to 200, the incoming students spend three days on campus registering for classes, taking placement tests and meeting with academic advisors. They are housed in a university residence hall and shown about the campus area by a group of 42 student leaders.

In addition to the freshmen, approximately 1,800 transfer students have intensive one-day orientation sessions during the summer. The first group was here Friday, July 11, and the second is due Friday, July 18.

Full semester classes at Western begin September 4.

State Buys RR Track To Salvage Service

The state will acquire 114 miles of railroad right-of-way and the dock and car-ferry facilities at Frankfort-Elberta for $6 million under an agreement approved by the State Transportation Commission.

The purchase from the trustee for the bankrupt Ann Arbor Railway Co. will make the state owner of all but 32.5 miles of the 299-mile railroad, which runs from Toledo north and west to Frankfort. It is operated under contract with the state by the Michigan Interstate Railway Co., which also runs the railroad car-ferry service from Frankfort across Lake Michigan to Kewauunee and Manitowac, Wis.

The purchase does not include the car ferries "Viking" and "Arthur K. Atkinson."

Funds for the acquisition of the right-of-way and ferry facilities will come from $106.25 million in state transportation bonds sold last year.

"This is part of the state's program to preserve important segments of rail freight lines which were marked for abandonment several years ago," said Commission Chairman Hannes Meyers Jr. of Zeeland.

"This acquisition," he said, "actually will mean a net savings to the state in lease payments to the railroad trustee."

The Michigan Department of Transportation estimates the cost of leasing the property to be acquired under the new agreement would have been $6.8 million in the five-year period ending in March, 1984. The right-of-way to be acquired is in two segments - one running 49 miles from Ann Arbor to Durand and the other 65 miles from Cadillac to Frankfort.

The state acquired 152 miles of the line running from Toledo to Ann Arbor and from Ashley in Branch Line County to Cadillac as well as a grant line from Pittsfield to Saline in 1976. The acquisition also included 15 engines and about 400 freight cars.

The Grand Trunk Western Railroad purchased 32.5 miles of the Ann Arbor's right-of-way extending from Durand to Ashley as well as the railroad's yards and facilities at Owosso.

Michigan Interstate also operates a branch line running from Owosso to St. Charles in Saginaw County under contract with the state. It was owned by the bankrupt Penn Central Railroad.

Registration for Summer Session

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council is accepting registrations for summer sessions at Gril Scout Camp Linden, a 400 acre site of rolling hills and lakes, located near Linden, Michigan in Livingston County, Michigan.

Registration is open to girls who have completed the fourth grade through age 17, whether or not they are members of the Girl Scouts. Camp Linden is owned and operated by the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council and offers activities such as swimming, hiking, biking, canoeing, sailing, outdoor cooking and much more. The sessions are July 13-26, July 27-August 9, and August 10-23.

The cost for the camp is $95 per child for two weeks. (An additional $10 fee for non-Scouts.) Special Scholarships are available to Girl Scouts and non-Scouts alike.

Girls, take advantage of this opportunity to experience living in the out-of-doors this summer. For more information about Camp Linden and how to apply, call the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council at 483-2370.

Camp Linden is accredited by the American Camping Association.

Weight Reduction Classes Offered

Disaster Declaration

Gov. William G. Milliken Friday asked for a Small Business Administration Disaster Declaration for southern Michigan counties which were struck by severe thunderstorms Wednesday morning.

Milliken said the Michigan Department of Agriculture also is compiling damage assessments for crop and livestock losses in the southern tier of counties so that U.S. Department of Agriculture disaster assistance can be requested.

Milliken sought the SBA disaster declaration for Berrien, Cass, Calhoun, Jackson, Wayne and Washtenaw counties. Such a declaration automatically includes adjacent counties.

In a letter to Mrs. Donna Harrigan, Small Business Administration (SBA) regional director, Milliken said:

"During the early morning hours of Wednesday, July 16, 1980, a severe thunderstorm with winds over 100 miles per hour struck across the southern tier of counties in the lower peninsula of Michigan.

"Local officials reported many downed utility lines, destroyed trees and damage to homes and businesses. A detailed breakdown of the damage sustained in the storm will be forwarded under separate cover. While claims against insurance may cover much of the loss due to damage, it is anticipated that uninsured casualty losses will be high."

The disaster declaration will make low-interest federal loans available to homeowners, renters and businesses.

Attention Class of '83

There will be a meeting Friday, July 25 at Carr Park at 7 o'clock concerning our fair float. Please attend.

The Nature Center provides a glimpse of Michigan's early history, as in this picture of a mammoth caught in a bog.

There's something for everyone at Waterloo Recreation Area northeast of Jackson near Chelsea. Only seven miles from Jackson and 15 miles from Ann Arbor, it can be reached easily from I-94. Whether it's camping at one of over 400 campsites, swimming at Portage Lake, or fishing in any of 20 lakes, the recreational choices are numerous enough to please just about anyone. That's probably why more than 725,000 people visited Waterloo last year, making it the fifth most popular park in the state. A horseback camp area, five nature trails, a variety of picnic sites, a nature center, two outdoor centers, and frontier cabins for youth groups are also available. "Sun Dollars"

Michigan residents interested in solar energy installations for their homes can get free information on financing from a new publication of the Michigan Department of Commerce/Energy Administration.

Peter S. Walters, Energy Administration director, said the free directory, entitled "Sun Dollars," describes programs that offer financial incentives to buyers of solar and other renewable energy systems.

Sun Dollars lists government-related sources for loans and grants and describes state and federal tax credits available to help offset the cost of system installation, Walters said.

"For example, many homeowners may not realize that the combined effect of present Michigan and U.S. tax credits could reimburse them for up to 65 percent of the cost of their residential solar system," he said.

More than 400 Michigan residents who installed solar, wind or hydro power systems in 1979 qualified for such tax credits, Walters said. The Energy Administration issues certificates of eligibility that are required to file for the credits.

Single copies of Sun Dollars are available by writing to the Michigan Department of Commerce/Energy Administration, P.O. Box 30228, Lansing, Mich. 48909, or by telephoning the state's toll-free Energy Hotline at 1-800-292-4704.

The Energy Administration's Energy Clearinghouse also has a variety of other materials on solar and renewable energy systems and energy conservation, Walters said.

Vaccines A Problem

Like the pressures on physicians and others, vaccine manufacturers are dropping by the wayside in the face of the liability and rigid governmental regulations facing them. In fact, only one manufacturer each of measles and polio vaccines remain today! They claim society needs the vaccines to protect it, but in order to have them, "society, through its" government must share some of the risk, the manufacturers state.

Despite current efforts, there are more than 19 million children NOT immunized against polio, 12 million NOT protected from measles and rubella. And, 16 million haven't received the full course of DPT!

Our free "Old Fashioned" transportation system from the high school parking lot to the athletic field and return has become very popular. The horse and wagon convey was assembled by Wendell Reinhardt. The drivers who donated their time and equipment were George Macomber, Lloyd Hughes, Jim Hone, Denver Eicker, Dave Ery, Andy Post, the McCall brothers and Edwin Kuebler.

Sometime after dark, when the last embers in the pits finally died out, the weary but happy army of volunteers retreated to the American Legion Hall for their well deserved "After Glow".

Once again it was a great day for Manchester. Gene Bentschneider urges all volunteers who have not turned in the monies from the tickets they have sold, plus any unsold tickets, to do so now. He emphasizes the importance of finalizing the Broil's financial position to determine the amount of money which will be available for designation to future youth projects.

The couple are planning an October 17th wedding.

Early American Crafts

During the Historic Walk co-sponsored by Manchester Historical Society and M.A.S.T. on August 9, children will demonstrate Early American Crafts on "The Green" in front of the library in historic costume. Some of the crafts demonstrated will be: cross stitch, needlepoint, broom making, pressed flowers, wood chopping, muzzle loading and bread dough flowers.

A preparation workshop will be held at Emanuel Church on August 4th. Children are needed to participate. People are also needed to help teach children with learning the crafts. Anyone who is interested in helping please call Marley Pagel at 428-7781 or Joyce Anderson at 428-8154.

HISTORIC WALK

A Historic Walk is scheduled in Manchester on Saturday, August 9 by the Manchester Area Historical Society and Manchester Association for Talented Students, from 11:00 a.m. to 4 p.m. The nineteenth century flavor of this village whose roots go back to 1826 when Major John Gilbert of the U.S. Army was granted 400 acres of land along the Raisin River, has been preserved in buildings and atmosphere. Unfortunately, some buildings have been razed and others altered beyond recognition as so-called progress took its toll. However, in general, the village exudes a feeling of antiquity which is obvious to the most casual visitor.

The Society wishes visitors to know why they are attracted to the village and The Walk of six or seven blocks with a ticket-brochure will give them this information. Hostesses at each "open" structure will elaborate on the history for those who wish to know. The Society is also conducting a Collectible Sale on the Park in front of the Library as a fund raising event for the new building fund.

The Historic Walk begins at the Thomas Walton home at 102 W. Main where refreshments are served and ticket-brochures are sold at a nineteenth century lawn party setting. A tour of the first level of this handsome Greek Revival, ca. 1842, house is on the schedule. There are thumbnail sketches of the Van Dyne - Watkins house at 112 W. Main, the Old Methodist Church at 122 W. Main, The Park and the Manchester Township Library. The latter is the oldest Township Library in the State, dating from 1838. A tour of the present structure holds a score of surprises.

Next two historic churches offer their special features with the story of their history. St. Mary's Catholic Church, the Cobblestone structure, was built in 1911 from field stones gathered by parishioner from their farms. Emanuel United Church of Christ, when built in 1882 as the German Church, boasted the most beautiful steeple of any church in the County. Ramps, both front and rear, give easy access to the facilities at the Emanuel Church for the handicapped.

Returning on W. Main to Washington Street the Cash-Armstrong House survived condemnation to become a restored show piece. The square brick structure across the street known as the Fargo House was built in 1835, and now houses two apartments. Neither home is open to visitors at this time.

A block to the south on Washington Street is the Waters House, lovingly called "The Castle" for it was in fact, inspired by a castle on the Rhine when Mr. A.J. Waters visited England, France and Germany in 1902. At the present time, it is owned by a grandson, Arthur Cathey, and is divided into apartments making it closed to visitors.

Across the street is the Blosser House, Vernacular ca. 1832, where Matt D. Blosser, the famed editor-owner of the Manchester Enterprise for 67 years lived out his entire 97 years. It is a delight to be able to visit the lower level of this historic home.

A block and a half away, the Old Town Hall at 210 S. Clinton Street tells a story all its own - from fire hall for 93 years to its present remodeling for village offices.

The block of business district was originally called Exchange Place, while the west end of the street was Jackson Road and the east end was Jefferson Road. It was therefore appropriate that the beautifully built 1880 structure at 104 E. Main Street be named Exchange Place when Don E. Limpert rehabilitated the building. The hosts or hostesses at this stop will try to answer questions about the whole business district history, a chore which is still being researched for posterity.

The hub of Manchester has always been the Mill which is the last stop on the Walk at 201 E. Main. Mann's Feed Mill, owned by Ron and Judy Mann, has the honor of being the oldest operating business on its original site in the State of Michigan, was built in 1832. It is worth the whole trip to see the Mill from grinding stones to viewing balcony.

The ticket-brochures are priced at $3.00 per individual and the hours for the Walk as stated are from 11:00 a.m. to 4 p.m. on August 9 the day of Manchester's Third Annual Street Fair which is sponsored by the Manchester Art Guild and the Village Association.

36th Annual Manchester Fair

36th Annual Manchester Community Fair, "Michigan's Biggest Little Fair" August 12-13-14-15-16, Manchester, Michigan, along with some very appropriate pictures, is the cover of the new Fair Booklet.

On the inside of the cover we see that Alice Rossettie is responsible for the photography in the booklet.

By now the Fair Board hopes that all the people who received their booklets by mail will have taken time to look them over. Many of the businesses in town, Pleasant Lake, and surrounding communities provide a spot for the fair booklets also. If you do not have one yet you can pick one up the next time you are in the area.

As we take a quick glance thru the book we find many attractive ads that were solicited by, Mary Cousino, treasurer of the board. The booklet would be impossible without the support of many people who purchase a spot for advertising in it.

On page 5, you will find a list of the board members. You may contact anyone of them for information about the Fair. Page 6 thru 20, lists rules, regulations and requirements necessary for people to participate in various areas of the Manchester Community Fair.

After you read rules and regulations, let's check out the premium list beginning on page 21. This would be a good time to point out the Divisions where we could use more exhibits. The first is Dept. 5, Grains and Seeds. Farmers, we believe the competition could be a little tougher. How about checking your grain bins for 1/2 peck of your best grain or soy beans. Those quality seeds would also have a place in our exhibit tent. Dept. 6 could use more fresh fruit, however for some of them the fair time is too early.

Many gardeners in the community provide Garden Produce for our exhibit, however, some chasses have very few entries, such as cauliflower, broccoli, egg plant, lima beans, brussel sprouts and okra. Don't forget to check the entries out for largest and heaviest. If you check last years harvest you might find some different kinds of nuts.

One of the best exhibits at the Fair is Dept. 7, Poultry and Waterfowl. Francis Cousino does a fine job organizing those

New Physician In Manchester

Dr. Virginia Johnson, a Family Practice Physician, has opened an office at 500 Galloway Drive and is now accepting appointments.

Dr. Johnson, in conjunction with the Chelsea Community Hospital and University of Michigan Family Service, will have 24 hour emergency care available through the Chelsea facility.

Dr. Johnson explains that a Family Practice Physician focuses on the entire family, from grandparents through the infant, and emphasizes communication between the physician and family members. She will see patients on an out-patient basis and in hospital care such as heart attacks, pneumonia, etc. If a specialist is required she will refer the patient to the proper doctor and follow-up the patients care program.

Virginia, a native of Detroit, is the daughter of Mac Locker and the late Mrs. Locker and has three brothers. While still in high school she decided on medicine as a profession, attending the University of Michigan undergrad school and Michigan State University College of Human Medicine. She completed her Family Practice residency at St. John Hospital in Detroit this June and passed her state boards in July.

Dr. Johnson and her husband, who is a chemist with Parke Davis in Ann Arbor, have purchased a home and are now residing in Manchester.

Their hobbies include travel, camping and hiking. Virginia enjoys sewing, knitting and crocheting while her husband does woodworking and mechanics.

HIT OR MISS by farley

At last the truth is out. Left-handers make better architects and designers than their right handed counterparts reports a study at Mount Union, Ohio College.

An assistant professor of psychology at the college says that when it comes to special relationships, left-handers are more creative.

The professor says that in most left-handers and right-handers are basically similar but there are some differences. Left-handers are less specialized in brain function he says and so have an advantage in several areas. He also says that left-handers are more creative.

They were able to expand and devise new ideas. The right-handers assumed that the same possibilities were closed and could not be expanded at all and that the lefties would excel as architects. de-
