"HIT OR MISS" by farley

I'm a confirmed dog lover and as such the other day I ran across a little tale in the Toledo Blade which tugged a bit at my heartstrings and which seems to me to be well worth repeating.

Seymour Rothman reports that a fellow named Edward Grahas had an eleven year old Sheltie who died several years ago and it was quite some time before he could bring himself to get a new puppy.

Eventually his wife convinced him to get a new puppy but before he could find one she became very ill and he used all his time and energy in taking care of her and despite her urging he didn't get the puppy.

She passed away on April 8 that year.

On the morning of Decoration Day he planted some flowers on her grave in Calvary Cemetery and that afternoon he went back to water them. He climbed out of his car, walked around to the other side to get the watering can and as he opened the door, there was a blur of brown fur and suddenly a miniature Pomeranian was sitting in the driver's seat of his car.

He looked all around to find its owner but there was no one else anywhere about, so he drove all around the cemetery showing the puppy to everyone he could find, but no one recognized it.

So on his way home he bought food and toys for the pup. He knew that it was a valuable dog and figured that in a day or so its owner would be advertising for it and then he would return it.

Sure enough, several days later, an ad appeared in the newspaper and he reluctantly called the owner, and soon a man and his daughter came by to look at the dog and as soon as the girl and the dog saw each other he knew they belonged to each other.

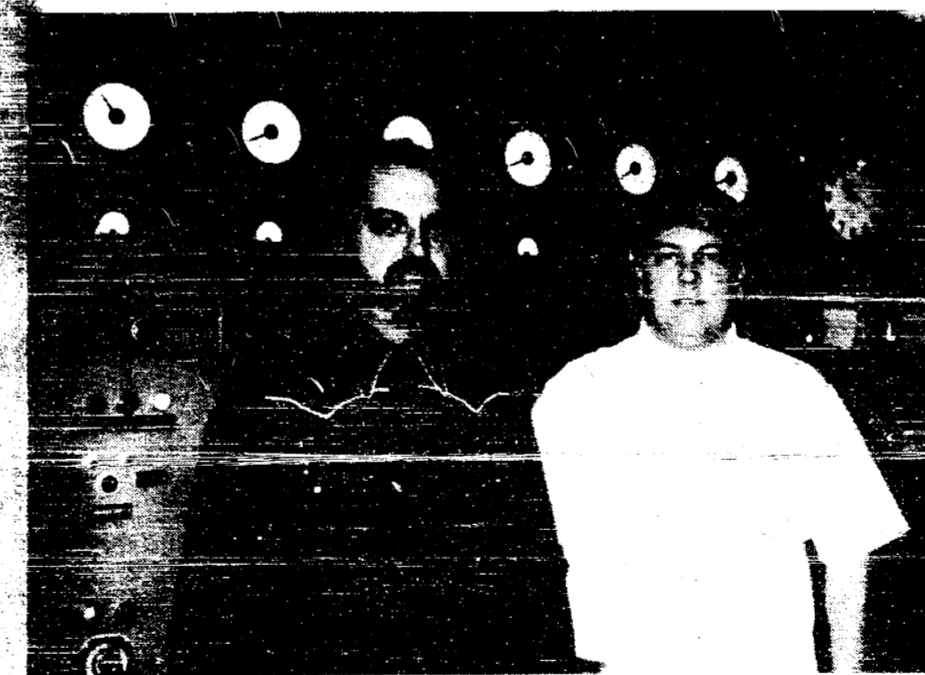

The grateful father said "You know there's a reward for this?"

The idea of a reward was brushed aside and the man insisted that the pleasure of having had the puppy for several days and seeing the joy of the puppy and the girl was reward enough.

Smiling, the girl's father said "You'll accept this reward. I don't think you will turn it down. My daughter was so heartbroken at the loss of her dog that I went out and bought her another just like this one. We don't need two. I'd like you to have this one" and the next day he had the puppy complete with pedigree and papers. The date of the puppy's birth was April 9, the day after his wife's death.

Michigan Gas Storage Over Goal For United Way

The Manchester United Way proudly salutes the Michigan Gas Storage Company and its 20 employees. Not only have they surpassed their goal for the 1980 United Fund Drive but have increased their donation by 78% over last year!

It is this kind of dedication throughout all of the industries in the Manchester Community that have made the past 20 consecutive campaigns a 100% success!

Assisting Industry Division Chairman Clarence L. Fielder in this year's drive are the following: Irene Wurster and Charles Matloff at Double A Products, Inc., Eugene Bentschneider at Manchester Tool & Die, Inc., Joseph Roberts and Barney Lewis at Michigan Gas Storage Co.,

Eugene Smith at Pinnacle Engineering, Inc., Wayne Hamilton at Manchester Stamping Corp., William Mitchell at Chrysler Proving Grounds, Charles Nickloff at Universal Blow Molding, Inc., and Max Kenyon at Manchester Plastics, Inc.

The Manchester United Way sincerely expresses its gratitude and thanks to Manchester's industries, for they are truly the back-bone of our drive!

As of Saturday, November 8th, 94% of the $25,412 projected goal has been reached. This week will serve as "cleanup" week for all solicitors, and hopefully by next week we will have reached the top for the 21st consecutive year!

glass, baskets, toys, candles, needlework, to name a few, would be welcome additions to the display. Work for "Children's Day" will be needed later. Keep those fingers moving!

If your street is not listed and you are interested, take charge of your side of your street and give me a call. Karen Hinkley 428-9115. You must sign up for your street by November 20th. For those of you who have never seen or heard of the luminaria, I will attempt to explain.

The luminaria is said to have its origin in the sixteenth century, when Mexican Indians set many luminarias (or bonfires) on the patios of their churches and on the flat roofs of their adobe homes on Christmas eve to light the way for the Holy couple. In the cities, these bonfires came to be replaced by an ingenious arrangement in which a paper bag was weighted down with sand and a small candle placed inside. The American version of the luminaria is said to have begun in the southwest when the first wagon trains arrived from St. Louis in the early 1820's.

Today in the southwest, homeowners put out thousands of paper bag lights in front of their homes. Visitors to this area have been so impressed with the luminaria displays, that the custom has spread to many sections of the United States and Canada. For the fourth year in a row Manchester residents will join together in lining their streets with candles on Christmas Eve.

"On Christmas Eve a candle light to shine abroad through Christmas night. That those who pass may see it's glow and strangers may each other know." Hurry! Call and sign up for your street now!

KLAGER SCHOOL CREATIVE WRITING

On Wednesday, October 29th the music room of Klager School was bewitchingly transformed into a Halloween creative writing laboratory. Parents of the Klager P.T.O. and the Manchester Association for Talented Students worked together to design six different writing stations where the Klager students could let their imaginations fly.

The effort was so successful that it will be expanded upon again this school year. Here are some of the results.

Deer Hunter Traffic Heaviest Since '75

Northbound traffic the day before the firearm deer season opens on Saturday (Nov. 15) should be the heaviest in five years, but hunters should encounter few travel problems, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"This is the first season since 1975 that opening day will fall on a Saturday," explained Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

"And despite rising gasoline costs and a trend towards increased pressure in southern Michigan, most of the state's 700,000-plus orange army will be heading for the northern two-thirds of the state on Friday, (Nov. 14)," Ratke said.

State Department of Natural Resources officials predict that approximately 80,000 buck deer will be taken over the 15-day season. That total is about 10 percent below last year's due to population drops caused by the harsh winters of 1977 and 1978. In all, nearly 118,000 buck and antlerless deer should be bagged by Nov. 30.

"The only traffic problem hunters may face is along I-75 near the Zilwaukee Bridge north of Saginaw," Ratke said.

Periodic slowdowns could result both north and south of the span, where three lanes of traffic merge into two. To help cut the possibility of further jams, Saginaw River shippers have been asked to voluntarily restrict movements causing bridge openings during peak traffic hours Nov. 14 and 16.

Auto Club predicts that northbound deer hunter traffic should be heaviest between 2 p.m. and midnight Friday (Nov. 14), and 5 a.m. and 5 p.m. on Saturday (Nov. 15). Southbound hunters on Sunday (Nov. 16) will find heavy traffic between 2 and 11 p.m.

While hunter-vehicle crossings have been dropping in recent years, Mackinac Bridge officials expect volume to nearly equal last year's total of 18,000 before the season ends on Nov. 30.

Auto Club reminds hunters that they must wear either a hat, vest or coat of blaze orange to hunt public lands.

Auto Club will provide traffic bulletins via radio for traveling hunters between 8 a.m. and 11 p.m. on Friday (Nov. 14) and from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday (Nov. 15) in addition to its weekly road condition reports from 2 to 11 p.m. on Sunday (Nov. 16).

REVENUES DOWN, WELFARE CASELOADS UP:

Recently-released state tax revenue figures for September indicate that the State of Michigan is in bad financial shape, and getting worse.

To add to the state's woes, welfare caseloads are climbing past the level that would have been anticipated during only the most dire economic circumstances.

The monthly figures for September, which were released a week or so ago, indicate a drop in every source of revenue except liquor sales taxes, a sign, I think, of the times.

If the state's economy does not improve soon, Michigan may be in real trouble.

Dr. Gerald Miller, director of the state Department of Management and Budget, is still hopeful that Michigan can meet the 1980-81 revenue projections of nearly $4.6 billion, despite the current unanticipated decline.

Here's a rundown on declining revenue sources for September:

-income tax withholdings fell 3.6 percent compared to last September. The income tax provides half the state's general fund money.

-income tax refunds, which are based on property tax credits, continue to grow. The 1980-81 estimate was $606 million, but if things continue as they are, $680 million could be more like it.

-sales tax collections, the state's second largest revenue source, were up 1 percent on all items minus automobile sales, but the sales tax on vehicles was down an astonishing 41 percent.

In order to balance the budget to operate through September 30, 1981, the last day of the fiscal year, I'm sure a move will be made when the Legislature reconvenes on November 12 to pass a $100 million (tax hike) package.

The House Republicans have pledged not to raise taxes in 1980, and I doubt if there are 56 to 70 democrats willing to support the proposal.

The other side of the coin is that Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) caseloads increased by 2,900 in September to reach a total of 237,000. Governor Milliken expected 242,000 by the end of the year, but it looks like we'll reach that figure by the end of November.

Community Forums To Be Held

"The 1981 White House Conference on Aging, can have a major impact on government services available to Michigan's senior citizens," according to Alfred James, Director of Michigan Green Thumb, a federally funded senior community employment program. This upcoming conference will provide the opportunity to confront both short term and long range issues of concern to an aging society and make recommendations to provide direction for responsive public actions.

In preparation for this conference and as a way for the rural elderly to make their needs known, a series of community forums to address issues of concern to rural senior citizens will be sponsored by Michigan Green Thumb and held in rural communities across the state.

The opinions and results of these meetings will be reported for discussion at the 1981 White House Conference on Aging.

The community forum in this area will be held on November 18, 1980 from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m. at Vocational Technical Center, 2345 N. Adrian Highway (M-52), Adrian, Michigan.

People of ages and background are urged to attend. "The issues raised at these local forums will no doubt face every person in some way at sometime in their daily lives," said Alfred James. In the past the rural elderly have been the most neglected of the elderly population, according to Mr. Leon Harper, Associate Executive Director, 1981 White House Conference on Aging. These local forums can help insure that all local voices are heard in Washington, when decisions are made regarding services for America's elder citizens.

HIT OR MISS

And then there's the tale about the football coach who instructed his players to "line up alphabetically according to size."

Maybe we should just forget the late election and its unforeseen complications that it caused in many ways, but I have recently heard about several long-time friendships that were ruptured by that event. In a recent story by Bob Yeakum he cites several examples of "morning after" complications which occurred at election night parties, many of which were held, especially in the larger cities. He claims that in one instance the following letter was received by the host and hostess of one of these parties a few days after its occurrence. We can't verify that it is genuine but it is at least amusing.

"Dear Emmy and Ed:

This is a tough letter to write, but we've been friends for so long that I can't let our relationship be ruined by the events of one evening.

To begin with had I known that you were going to invite a group of Reagan supporters I wouldn't have come. As you know I don't like large parties anyway and when I found myself with all those reactionary Republicans I began to drink too much.

Please believe me when I say that the first incident, which ended in the scuffle that knocked over the bar table, was not my fault. I wasn't the one who made the dirty cracks. It started when Joe said that anyone who supports Carter ought to have his head examined. I simply replied that if there were any two-headed people around they were Reagan supporters who needed separate cranial cavities to hold their candidates dozens of contradictory statements.

"I really don't know who pushed who first that time but in the next incident—the one that resulted in the Steuben glasses breaking and the cat's injury (by the way how is Tiny)—the fault was clearly mine. By then I'd switched from whiskey sours to tequila and remember telling Phil that since he'd been stupid enough to vote for Nixon and Agnew he qualified as a supporter of Reagan and Bush. His reply included several obscenities but that didn't justify tripping him. I had no idea he'd fall into the china cabinet.

"I don't have to remind you that things got worse from then on. I can't now remember who started what arguments. Even so, I'm willing to pay for any damages including Bill's chipped tooth.

"So send me a bill and let's be friends again.

"As always,

Jack"

HOT WATER FOR A SONG.

ABOUT 13 CENTS, IN FACT.

If you've got an electric water heater, a good, 5-minute shower costs you about 13 cents.

And that's about 15 gallons of water.

Enough to give a body something to sing about...at least when you consider what inflation's doing to other current costs.

No, we're not saying electricity is cheap. But the fact of the matter is that electricity uses up less of the average family's spendable income now than it did 20 years ago.

cooking meals, running small appliances, and warming the water for countless baths and showers. Electricity—especially when you use it wisely—is still a very good buy.

Baking a turkey for 5 hours in an electric oven today costs about 72 cents. Doing a load of clothes in an electric dryer runs you about 18 cents.

Yes, the cost of energy as a whole has increased in recent years. But there are still forms of energy that, in relation to all the other costs of living, serve us well and at reasonable expense.

At Consumers Power, we wanted you to know that electricity is one of them. And that we're trying to keep it that way.

ELECTRICITY. It's still a good buy.

Free Diabetic Tests

Free blood tests to detect diabetes will be offered by 166 Michigan hospitals and health centers during Diabetes Detection Week on November 16-22. The statewide testing program is co-sponsored by the American Diabetes Association-Michigan Affiliate (ADA-M) and is open to persons 18 years or older.

According to Dr. Nancy Caputo of Detroit, ADA-M's Detection Chairman, diabetes can produce severe complications if left untreated and yet may be present without symptoms. An estimated 200,000 persons in Michigan are diabetic and don't know it.

Persons who run a high risk of developing diabetes are over forty, overweight, and related to diabetics. They should be checked once a year for diabetes, advises Dr. Caputo.

Diabetes is a serious disease that is a major cause of heart attack, kidney failure, blindness and death. The symptoms of diabetes, when present, may include frequent urination, abnormal thirst, unusual hunger, rapid weight loss, itching, fatigue, blurred vision, and slow healing of cuts and scratches.

Since diabetes is best detected after a meal high in sugars and starches, one of the following suggested meals should be eaten two hours before taking the test, to ensure an accurate reading.

BREAKFAST: Fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, two slices of buttered toast with jam, and coffee or tea.

LUNCH: Bowl of soup, a sandwich, cake or pie, and a glass of milk.

The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period with nothing else taken before the test, except for water.

The Diabetes Association asks that persons being tested bring along the name and address of their physician in the event that follow-up is needed. All persons who test positive will hear from the Association within eight weeks as will their physician.

Man Speaks Out against Poaching

Ray Malace of Saginaw says he first became aware of a crime called "poaching" in April. "I was on my way home from a photographic outing near Tawas when I spotted what appeared to be a car-killed deer off the side of the road," he writes. "I stopped to check it out and upon closer observation saw the deer had been shot. It had three bullet holes in its hip and one near its shoulder. It was partially bled and abandoned. It appeared to be fresh killing as it was still warm, a small pool of blood lay in its exposed interior, but the most upsetting part of the sight was that of a new-born fawn lying next to its mother dead. Had there been the slightest indication of life in the baby, I would have rushed it to the nearest veterinarian, but there was none. I surmised the killing must have taken place either early that morning or late the night before."

This was a selfish, inhumane murder, he says. People can turn in poachers by calling the Department of Natural Resources toll-free 24-hour law enforcement hotline, 1-800-292-7800.

"Remember," Malace says, "poaching is a crime. Please help your wildlife survive. Hunt legally and help stop those who won't."

THE POACHER'S VICTIMS—Conservation Officer Mike Mol (left), stationed at Houghton Lake, helps Department of Natural Resources District Law Supervisor Jay Larson bring a confiscated deer into a cold storage locker at the DNR's Mis office. The deer, taken from poachers who were apprehended by conservation officers, will be held as evidence. Along with this deer, the locker contains 15 others, parts of an elk, beaver furs, wild turkeys, a bear, ducks, bobcat, otter, an owl, a badger, some fish and fish eggs. Larson says poaching is a year-round problem. "We make arrests every month of the year for illegal possession of deer," he says. "The people of Michigan want good law enforcement. Therefore, we urge them to cooperate by reporting violations to our 24-hour toll-free law enforcement hot line, 1-800-292-7800. Or call your local conservation officer or DNR district or regional office."

HIT OR MISS by farley

Now that the elections are over, we will have a few moments when we are not being bombarded by those running for office with verbal or printed assaults, to reflect on how lucky we were during the past decade.

The 1970's could have been a lot worse. Nobody was killed by being hit by a falling politician. Science did not mate a camel and an elephant and as a result we didn't have to wear coats made of odorous furs, with trunks.

We didn't have to wear a ring in the nose to be chic because the fashion authorities didn't say that's what all the smart people would be wearing. NASA didn't put a locomotive in orbit, so no one had to be afraid of being hit by a falling cow catcher.

God wasn't photographed lounging beside his new swimming pool for People Magazine nor dancing with Margaret Trudeau at Studio 54. The Arabs didn't cut off nor abduct Howard Cosell. The terrorists didn't blow up the ice cap nor did the killer bees attack the Super Bowl.

So you see the 1970's could have been a lot worse. Various states could have passed capital punishment laws authorizing execution by fast food, pizzas or enchiladas. Hugh Hefner might have run for President and Richard Nixon could have posed in the nude for a centerfold for a magazine or Jimmy Carter could have converted to the Hare Krishnas and put on pink sheets and have taken to cadging money from travelers at the airports, but none did. All of these possibilities were reported by Russell Baker, an alleged columnist.

He then goes on to say that he thinks what might have happened if all the men in the country named Reginald had formed a liberation movement to restore the dignity of the name and chastize the people who have oppressed them by laughing at the name. All of these Reginalds could have done that but they didn't. This is good for it means that we can still tell Reggie jokes without being indicted for bigotry.

"We will probably need these jokes to keep us lighthearted during the family competition for control of the TV set. The kids want it to play their electronic games and mom wants it to view the latest chapters of the tear jerking soap operas while poor dad wants to watch the football games live from Goosebark stadium.

The 70's were very kind to us in extending the functions of the TV set but as yet it doesn't come with an attachment with which you can make toast nor scramble eggs. You can still watch your favorite programs without shaking the crumbs off the tube."

As we reread the above quotes from brother Baker's remarks it sounds a bit as though he was still a bit fuzzy or punch drunk from the effects of the recent election and its campaign but if so who can really blame him. Thank God it happens only once in four years. During the intervening three we get promises with not much more action.

"A Homemade Christmas" At The Art Gallery

As daylight draws more quickly to a close and families are drawn close to the sweet smell and warmth of winter wood fires, a quality of nostalgia and simpler times envelopes the home. Thanksgiving traditions are followed quickly by those of Christmas. Another activity, now a tradition by the Manchester Art Guild, is it's Christmas show, this year entitled, "A Homemade Christmas". Outstanding handcrafted arts and crafts will be exhibited and for sale.

Designed as an alternative to mass-produced products, the Manchester Art Gallery will have one-of-a-kind creative gifts for everyone in the family and ranging in price to fit a variety of budgets. Christmas tree decorations and wreaths as well as dolls, wooden toys, pottery, paintings, bells, needlework, gingerbread cookies, stained glass and much more have been made especially for this exhibit.

Opening day, a popular one for the annual Christmas show, will feature refreshments and friendly faces as well as a honey atmosphere for browsing or shopping. Plan on coming to the gallery on Friday, November 28, upstairs at 138 E. Main Street, between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Saturday, November 29, hours will be the same as opening day. For the remainder of the show, the gallery will be open Tuesdays from 1:00-3:00 p.m. Fridays from 6:00-8:00 p.m., and Saturdays from 10:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. Hours for last minute shopping on December 22 and 23 will be from 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

Manchester United At 97% Of Goal

General Chairman, James W. England, stated Monday that 97% of the United Way $25,412 projected goal has been reached!

Final reports from three divisions are still outstanding, but these should be completed within the week. A final tally will be available next week, and we will then know if the Manchester Community has pushed the thermometer over the top for the 21st consecutive year!

Early Deadline

BECAUSE OF THE THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY NEXT WEEK WE WILL BE HAVING AN EARLY DEADLINE FOR ALL NEWS ARTICLES AND ADS. THE DEADLINE FOR DISPLAY ADS WILL BE FRIDAY 5 PM. CLASSIFIED ADS 9 AM MONDAY AND NEWS ARTICLES 10 AM.
