Klager School Class Sizes Remain At Moderate Levels

The Board of Education's decision to discontinue the use of the Pleasant Lake School as an Elementary facility has necessitated the need to re-design class sizes at the Klager School for the coming school year. Student enrollments at the elementary level continue to remain at a size which permits an easy blending of the classes.

At the present time the student population of Freedom township consists of 11 kindergartners, 21 first graders, 14 second graders, 12 third graders, and 24 fourth graders. According to Superintendent Thompson these numbers can easily be blended into the Klager building.

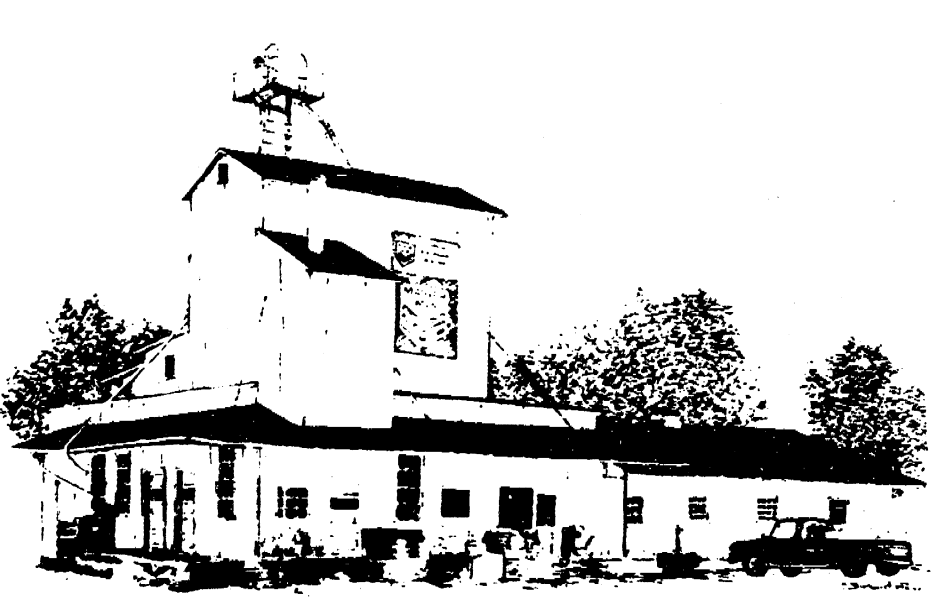

With the Pleasant Lake students included class sizes at Klager in September will be 25 or less in kindergarten through two. In grades three and four, class sizes will be 27 to 29. One section of kindergarten will be housed in the round room at the Nellie Ackerson School.

The portable at Klager will be utilized as a Library facility as had previously been the case. The current library at Klager will be used for special education classes.

No staff reductions are planned as a result of the blending of the two buildings. It will be possible, however, to transfer one elementary teacher to the middle school program. This transfer will eliminate the need to hire an additional teacher in order to reduce class sizes at that level.

Parents will be notified during the month of August regarding the classroom assignments for their children. Plans are currently being developed which will provide for an orientation to the Klager building for all Pleasant Lake students and their parents prior to the beginning of school.

AREA BUSINESS TO MOVE

by Martha Stoner

Customers of Mann's Feed Mill will find themselves in new surroundings when they go shopping late in July. Mann is relocating his business less than a mile away from its current site. The new store will open late in July at the old Veschio building which will provide a larger facility for the expanding business. The Manns are shooting for the week of the 27th as moving time. Though Mann will no longer be custom grinding for farmer's livestock, he will still provide all the feeds that the Mill has carried in the past as well as supplies for homeowners, gardeners, and farmers. The Mill will be expanding several product lines, including farm and pet supplies, and lawn and garden products.

Mann and his family are reluctant to leave the mill. Their departure will signal the end of almost 150 years of operation for the Manchester Mill. The Mill is the third oldest business in the State of Michigan, but is the oldest business that has operated continuously on the same site in this state. 1982 would mark the Mill's 150th anniversary. The land was patented in 1826 when Michigan was still a territory. The first record of a mill on this site dates from 1832, but Ron Mann believes the mill very well could have been in operation at an even earlier date. The present corrugated metal building was built on the site in 1924 after the first two buildings were destroyed by fire. The dam has also been rebuilt twice, the present dam was built in 1908. The Mann family has operated the mill since 1940 when Ron's father, Willard Mann, who still keeps a hand in the business, bought the mill.

The new owner of the building, Don Limpert, plans to retain the present structure; he does not intend to alter its appearance, though he will landscape the site and improve the general appearance of the Mill. Limpert is exploring possibilities for the most productive use of the building. He is reviewing numerous suggestions, including the establishment of a restaurant or perhaps a mini-mall. The mall concept would involve the inclusion of individual shops within the current structure. Limpert suggests that local entrepreneurs could be in business for a relatively low cost, "their major output would be a combination of rent and talent," he comments.

Limpert is also seriously considering the use of the mill as a hydro-electric power generating station. Limpert remarks that with the current energy problems, the idea of converting back to hydro power is becoming more and more attractive. "It is a renewable energy source and it is clean," Limpert adds. "Use of the Mill's water power would also maintain the reason for the town being here originally, it grew up around the Mill." Limpert, who has restored several local historic buildings, is concerned with retaining the Mill's historic aspect. He believes that the community's historic image is of great value. "You create the image of the community by utilizing what's already there," he commented, adding, "The mill is the keystone of the community."

HIT OR MISS by farley

There's nothing like being an optimist. A friend of ours tells us that his doctor reports receiving recently the following from a patient of his:

"I have excellent blood pressure, a good heart, a good stomach, my original teeth, good eyesight, good hearing, no sleep problems and a happy disposition. Today I reached the age of 85 and did not acquire all this by a reducing diet and I am very unhappy with my 1,000 calorie diet. I am hungry between meals and when I go to bed. I would like to spend my few remaining years on this earth enjoying myself and as I told you I do not want to be skinny. And last but not least I have lost my bounce."

Have you noticed that most kids can't tell a person who is 30 from one who is 50? When you're young anyone over 25 looks ancient and decrepit. And the 15 year olds and the 30 year olds seem newborn.

Ages are terribly mixed up in our time anyhow. The young men have beards and the old men are clean shaven. Mothers have face lifts and go to exercise classes and look like their daughters, only more tired. Gray haired men jog half naked down the streets at dawn when they should just be turning over in bed. Girls 15 want to be taken for 21 and women of 30 want to be taken for 18. Men in the prime of senility wear shirts unbuttoned down to their navel with medallions bouncing around on their hairy chests - probably with instructions as to where to take them following a heart attack.

It used to be that when you were 22 you were through college and started out on a "Career". Nowadays you are merely a student. Until you reach the mid-thirties you are still "finding yourself".

Shakespeare gave us a beautiful vignette of the seven ages of man but now it's going to have to be revised. The babies are the same and so are the ancients but in between you can't tell the ages without a chronological scorecard, can you?

It's easy to find out how old a woman is...ask her sister-in-law.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To Concerned Citizens:

I don't understand the actions taken by School Board members. On one hand they close a school to "save" money because of a declining enrollment. On the other hand they give the superintendent a 9% raise which includes a leased car and credit card to cover all expenses. Why should the taxpayers of this school district be subject to this kind of action? Why should a small district like Manchester have an administrator drawing in excess of $32,000 a year? Why, if they or we are furnishing a car can't it be an economy compact instead of a mid-sized wagon?

I cannot support a school system that is run in this fashion. Can you?

Military Academy Graduates

Jeffrey Catanese

Stephen Spensley

Two young men from Manchester, were among the 133 members of the Class of 1981 graduating from Culver Military Academy on June 1.

Culver Military Academy is an 87-year-old college-preparatory boarding school whose 1,500-acre campus is located along the shores of northern Indiana's Lake Maxinkuckee. Its sister school, Culver Girls Academy, is on the same campus as CMA.

Honored On 50th Anniversary

Arthur's niece and Leone's bridesmaid, Doris Seckinger North of Jackson, was present as well as Leone's 99 year young aunt, Mrs. F.J. Kirk of Manchester. News Of Good Things Growing

by Margaret G. McCall
It's time to join the robins' chorus, "Cherries are ripe." Cherries are among the good things growing in Michigan, and we have led the nation in production of red tart cherries for many, many years.

We don't do badly in sweet cherry production either, generally ranking fourth among the states. We're expecting a good crop of sweet cherries this year, and they should be available through July, so you can eat your fill.

Last year we harvested 58 million pounds of sweet cherries, 149 million pounds of tart cherries, according to Michigan Department of Agriculture statistics.

Sweet cherries are one of the handiest snack foods, and healthiest, you can find. Kids love 'em, and so do adults. If you're in the Traverse City area or along the southwestern lake shore, you'll find roadside stands with washed sweet cherries that will sweeten your journey.

Since fresh sweet cherries are so good they need no embellishment, I almost hesitate to suggest other uses. But here's a favorite classic, Cherries Jubilee.

Prepare two pounds of sweet cherries by washing, pitting and stemming. Combine one cup of sugar, two cups water, and bring to a boil. Add the cherries and cook just until heated through - be sure not to overcook. Keep warm. In a small saucepan, heat 6 tablespoons of kirsch, cognac or brandy, ignite and pour over the warm cherries. Serve at once over vanilla ice cream.

You can poach the cherries ahead of time, then reheat and finish the procedure at the dinner table, using a chafing dish, to impress your guests with a flaming finale to dinner.

A Land Bank loan... for more than just buying land

Many people think of the Federal Land Bank only when buying land. Truth is, there are many other ways to use long-term Land Bank loans. You can refinance debts. Pay estate taxes. Improve land. Build or remodel a home or other buildings.

Long-term Land Bank loans keep payments manageable so that these and other farm needs can be handled more easily. So stop by and see how the Land Bank can help.

Quarterly Report From National Bank Of Jackson

Robert L. Condon, President and Chief Executive Officer of The National Bank of Jackson, announced that net income for the second quarter was $638,657, or 66¢ per share. This compares to second quarter 1980 results of $947,332, or 99¢ per share. Six month net income was $1,432,844, or $1.50 per share, in contrast to 1980 results of $1,989,739, or $2.08 per share.

Income before income taxes and securities gains and losses was down 14% in the second quarter compared to a 33% reduction in net income. The 14% reduction was due to a $32,000 reduction in net interest income and $101,000 net increase in non-interest expense over non-interest income. Condon stated that "the difference between the pretax income and income reduction was due to the completion of a program involving the selling of municipal securities and reinvesting the proceeds in higher-yielding taxable securities. The effect of this and income tax considerations was to cause a reduction in net income of $180,000".

Income before income taxes and securities gains and losses was down 17% in the first half compared to a 28% drop in net income. The 17% reduction was due to a $376,000 reduction in net interest income, which was partially offset by a $36,000 net increase in non-interest income over non-interest expense. The difference between the pretax income and net income reduction was due to the previously-mentioned securities switch program and income tax considerations in the amount of $217,000.

Condon anticipated that "all losses taken in the securities switch program will be fully recouped by year end. On a comparative basis, it is anticipated that net income for the remainder of 1981 should be more favorable due to the restructuring of NBJ's earning assets and the forthcoming acquisition of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester".

The Bank's total assets at June 30, 1981, were $255,247,000, an increase of $8,917,000 over last year. Net loans totaled $114,543,000. This is a decrease of $4,486,000 from the previous year's level of $119,029,000. However, other earning assets - short term and security investments - increased $16,305,000 to a total of $110,164,000.

Total deposits continued to grow from $203,000,000, reported at June 30, 1980, to $210,928,000, an increase of $7,928,000. Of greater significance was the change in the composition of the total deposits. Demand deposits decreased $11,868,000, while interest-bearing deposits grew by $19,795,000.

Condon reported that "interest expense, for the first six months of the year, totaled $8,081,000, a 28.3% increase over the comparable period in 1980. This was brought about, primarily, by the introduction of the NOW accounts and the continued shifting of funds into higher-costing instruments, such as money market certificates of deposit, negotiated certificates and repurchase agreements. While interest rates on deposits remain at historically-high levels, the Michigan legislature still has not removed the ceilings on consumer loans, which is having a negative effect on the banking industry within the state".

The adjourned Annual Shareholders' Meeting will be reconvened Wednesday, July 15, 1981, at 9:45 a.m. at the Bank's Main Office for the purpose of receiving the report that the merger of the Union Savings Bank of Manchester into The National Bank of Jackson has been approved by the Comptroller of the Currency and that the Department of Justice thirty-day comment period ended July 8. No further action will be taken. It is anticipated that the merger will be consummated July 31, 1981.

2 Local Farms On MSU Management Tour

Two Michigan Milk Producers Association-member farms will be among operations featured in this year's farm management tour in Wayne and Washtenaw counties Thursday, July 16.

Other farms highlighted will be sheep, beef and cash crop.

Michigan Milk Producers Association members featured on the tour are Leo-Bur Farms, 5575 Steinbach Rd., Ann Arbor; and Earl and Diane Horning, 11834 Pleasant Lake Road, Manchester.

Principals of Leo-Bur Farms are Leonard and Mary Burmeister. The operation consists of 340 acres (280 tillable) and a milking herd of 60 cows, averaging 16,000 pounds of milk.

Burmeisters have a 50 x 162, freestall dairy barn for 64 cows, scrape liquid manure system, 50 x 50 milkhouse and parlor, and maternity and treatment pens.

Farm shop and machinery storage area includes overhead crane and below-floor grease pit.

Hornings farm 400 acres (350 tillable), and milk about 70 cows, averaging 16,000 pounds of milk. Eighty acres are irrigated.

They have a freestall dairy barn and a new 40 x 88 Virginia-style heifer barn. They recently began using calf hutches. A lagoon waste management system is under construction. The irrigation system will be used to empty the lagoon.

Farm management tour is sponsored each year by Michigan State University's cooperative extension service.

Details of the tour may be obtained by contacting your county extension office.

Spur Of The Moment

The hearty souls that competed at the Spur Of The Moment, Inc. at Whites Arena, on July 12th, are to be heartily commended, along with the judge, Peggy Lynn Friday, and her ringmaster, Cathy Friday, who had to stand out in the arena, with the heat coming from all directions, including up through the feet. We give them our thanks, for all the time, and the discomfort. Also the great people that helped to set up the area, and to judge the speed events, they have our gratitude, too.

MOSQUITOES

Now is the time to declare a red alert against mosquitoes. Most of them are harmless, but some can carry a virus that can cause encephalitis, a sometimes fatal form of sleeping sickness.

For three months last summer, you may recall, seven counties in the southwestern part of the state were plagued by virus-carrying mosquitoes. As a result, there were 94 cases of Eastern Equine Encephalitis in horses, and one in a child who still remains in a coma. A second person was found with Jamestown Canyon virus, and she recovered. The onslaught by mosquitoes was caused by their increased numbers resulting from excessively warm weather, rainfall, and poor drainage in those areas.

Mosquitoes thrive in standing water. They deposit their eggs on surface water. The eggs hatch into larvae and several days later change into pupae. In about two days the adult mosquito emerges fully developed, ready to feed in just a few hours. Only the females bite. The males feed on plant juices.

Mosquitoes contract the virus from wild birds, and sometimes transmit the disease to horses and humans. The disease is not passed from human to human.

Encephalitis is marked by the acute onset of headache, high fever, stupor, disorientation, coma, spasticity, tremors, occasionally convulsions, and paralysis. The fatality rate is high. There is no cure, only supportive treatment of the symptoms of encephalitis.

In addition to the Eastern Equine Encephalitis that struck here last summer, there are Western Equine Encephalitis, St. Louis Encephalitis, and California Encephalitis. All are carried by infected mosquitoes.

However, there are things you can do to keep mosquitoes under control on your property. Keep your lawn and bushes trimmed. Empty the standing water in stored boats, wading pools, toys or debris that might be lying around. Repair outdoor leaking faucets, and empty overflowing flower pots. In short, get rid of the standing water where mosquitoes breed.

Most mosquitoes are harmless, but even they should be discouraged from making your home their summer camp. You can't do it alone, so rally the neighbors to rid their property, too, of standing water. Together you can declare a red alert against mosquitoes.

Common Council Of Church Women United

The Common Council of Church Women United in the U.S.A. met for the first time in its new quadrennium in Estes Park, Colorado. The meeting was for the purpose of deliberation and decision making on major issues of mutual concern; program planning for the 1981-1984 quadrennium; and strategizing for the launching of a major three-year fund drive - the Fund for the Fifth Decade.

Dr. Thelma C. Adair, national president of Church Women United, convened the Common Council, a body of 140 women of faith which included CWU state unit presidents, presidents and staff liaison officers of cooperating denominational women's groups, members of the CWU Executive Council and national staff. The Council of Presidents was chaired by JoAnn Herrick, Lutheran Church in America and CWU state president of Pennsylvania. The Council of Denominational Representatives and Staff was chaired by Ruth Zimmerman, Associate for United Presbyterian Women, United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A.

Church Women United in the U.S.A. is a national, ecumenical Movement of more than half a million Protestant, Roman Catholic, Orthodox and other Christian women who function through some 2000 local and 51 state units (including Washington, D.C.). The national Movement will mark its fortieth anniversary in December, 1981.

Attending from this area was Mrs. Louis Vogel (Elvira) of Manchester. She is a member of the Executive Council and of CWU's Personnel Committee.

Counties To Receive Reimbursements From The State

State Representative Mary Keith Ballantine (Republican Jackson) announced that the Department of Natural Resources has authorized reimbursement to counties for their Marine Safety Program.

Under state law, each county that participates in an authorized Marine Safety Program is entitled to a two-thirds reimbursement from the state through the DNR budget. The reimbursements approved in Lansing this week cover the 1980 calendar year operations of the programs. Reimbursements will be received by the county treasurers by August 1.

The counties in Representative Ballantine's district that will receive reimbursements, and their amounts are as follows: Jackson, $33,441.52 and Washtenaw $40,112.03.

"The reimbursement program for Marine Safety is vitally important not only to the county that receives it, but to the people all over the state who travel to our lakeshores and inland lakes for recreation and fishing," Ballantine said.

"Water and boating safety is an integral part of Michigan's tourist trade, upon which much of my district depends, and this DNR program is a big boost to the counties involved," Ballantine concluded.

Friends Of The Manchester Township Library

The first project of the Friends group will be a used book sale, which will take place in front of the Library on Saturday, August 8th during the Manchester Street Fair. If you have any books that you would like to donate for the sale they can be taken to the Library during regular hours, or you may call Charlotte Major at 428-8451 to arrange for pick up. Look forward to seeing you at the library and the book sale.

The annual picnic of the American Legion Auxiliary was held on Wednesday, July 8, at the Legion Home. Committee was Geraldine Huber and Marilyn Minick. Potluck was enjoyed by members and guests: Carol and Mrs. Loretta Widmayer, Kelly and Mrs. Diana Gotts.

President Helen Hosmer conducted the business meeting which followed. Treasurer Baker reminded the members that 1982 dues are now payable.

Our Girl's State Representative, Carol Widmayer, gave a delightful report on her activities at Michigan Girl's State in June. By placing the girls in city and county government positions, holding campaigns and elections, they were able to more fully understand the procedure. A lot of fun went along with the hard work. The experiences and many new friends that she and Kelly Gotts made will always be with them. President Hosmer thanked Carol for her fine report.

the hottest hours of the day. Don't overdo exercise, especially on extra hot days. The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense, and you can beat the heat -- at least somewhat.

Tool & Die Win Tourney

The Manchester Tool and Die Women's Softball team captured the Iott Invitational July 4th at Clinton. Townsends from Temperance and Davis from Leslie won second and Third respectively. The Manchester team won the first place trophy in the Clinton tourney a year ago also. The past weekend, July 10, 11 and 12, the Tool and Die girls took second place in the 4th Annual Manchester Classic. John Hancock from Lansing was awarded the first place trophy. Jenny McCarthy earned most valuable. JDW from Vandercook Lake was acknowledged with the Sportsmanship trophy. Alicia Seeger from Tool and Die won the Home Run Derby. Manchester Tool and Die plays in the Saline League and presently share first place with Gross Farm Equipment.

Beat The Summer Heat

Some people say: It's not the heat, it's the humidity. This is true to some extent, but, humid or dry, most of the United States is hot in July and August. Okay, what can we do about it? Some of us can get into air conditioned areas to help cope with the problem, but the millions of Americans who must survive the hot summer without this convenience must be particularly cautious. The Michigan State Medical Society points out several ways for individuals to be more comfortable. Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less the better. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on advice of your physician. Take a shower or dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet. Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden, or work at dusk. Try to avoid heavy exertion during

Summer Activities At Child Care Center

Children from 2 1/2 to 8 years old are enjoying a variety of interesting activities and learning experiences this summer at the Chelsea Community Hospital Child Care Center. The older children (ages 5-8) are responsible for weeding and watering the vegetable garden; pumpkins, tomatoes, peas, and sweet corn that have been planted. The sprinkler is going strong on the hottest days, helping to keep everyone as cool as possible. Several new equipment items such as giant cardboard puppet figures, have opened new avenues of learning for the children. "Occupations" was the theme for discussion and activities the first week in July. Following that, the children will learn about "Outer Space". The solar system, including planets, stars, and asteroids will be discussed. Art projects, science experiments, and songs are a few of the methods used to present this theme to the children.

The third week in July brings the topics of "Machines". The children will learn about a wide variety of machines and how they are used to help people in day-to-day living. They will construct several small, simple machines in the classroom.

During the last week of July "People From Other Lands" will be discussed. The children will learn about how children and families in other lands live each day; their customs, clothes, homes and foods. Several cooking projects are planned with the kids so they can experience new tastes and flavors.

The Chelsea Community Hospital Child Care Center offers an educational program with the basic philosophy that each child is a unique human being with special talents and interests. It strives toward the healthy development of the total child; his or her social, emotional, intellectual, and physical development.

The Center is licensed by the State of Michigan to care for children ages 2 1/2 to 8 years. The hours of operation are 6:30 A.M. - 5:30 P.M. Monday through Friday. There are current openings for the fall program. Please contact Corinne Childs or Kathy Youmans 475-1920 if you are interested.

The Center is located in the west wing of St. Paul's Church, 14600 Old U.S. 12.

U.S. Marines and 14,000 Guest Conquer Manchester

Manchester's 28th Annual Chicken Broil, sponsored by the Optimist Club, sets a new attendance record.

For one gala day Manchester's population exploded. The welcome mat was out for the United States Marines and the 14,000 guests who came from all parts of Michigan and from 25 other states and five foreign countries to partake of a delicious broiled dinner, to enjoy our hospitality and to be treated by great entertainment by the United States Marine Band.

It was noon when Gale Koebbe and the members of his firemen committee lit the charcoal fires in the four 100 foot pits. From then until ten P.M. there was no rest for the dedicated 550 volunteers who year after year contribute their time and skills and work as a smooth running team to assure the success of this nationally famous event.

Cars streamed into Manchester throughout the day and evening, from north, south, east and west and filled the many parking areas in the village. Efficient control of traffic by Police Chief William Zsenyuk and members of his staff eliminated any possible traffic jams.

The horse drawn hay racks, prairie schooners and buggies which furnished free transportation to our out of town visiting guests from the high school parking lot to the Broil site at the athletic field and return were extremely popular. Wendell Reinhart had arranged to have eight vehicles, driven by their owners, available for this service but the demand overtaxed their carrying capacity. Next year he plans to expand this service.

The 35 member United States Marine Corps Band, from Parris Island, South Carolina, under the direction of William M. Clemons, thrilled spectators as they marched down flag decked Main Street to the athletic field. After enjoying their chicken dinner the band members treated the thousands of guests on the field to an hour long inspiring and entertaining concert.

The program opened with the presentation of the colors by the Marine Corps Color Guard. Band Director Clemons led the pledge of allegiance to the flag and Robert "Fat Bob" Taylor, the singing plumber from radio station WAAM, captured the audience with his rendition of our national anthem. For the next hour the band held the thousands of onlookers spellbound as they entertained with patriotic renditions, including John Phillip Sousa's marches, and modern numbers. Tears, chills, goose pimples and smiles were commonplace.

The appearance of the Marine Band was made possible through the efforts and cooperation of Dr. Eugene Thompson.

Gene Bentschneider, General Chairman of our Annual Broil, extends his sincere thanks to all of the citizens in the Manchester area who are so generous in exhibiting their hospitality to the thousands of visiting guests, and he especially commends the hundreds of volunteers, office and factory workers, doctors and lawyers, merchants and bankers, farmers, retirees and boys who turn out year after year to serve on over thirty working committees.

Let's not forget the efficient weather committee. Again they gave us a perfect Broil day - not too hot, but especially no rain as usual. The Red Cross first aid station, manned over the years by volunteer registered nurse Mrs. Stanton "Kay" Roesch, had a slow day.

Where do we go from here? The strategists, under the direction of Gene Bentschneider, are already in session, scratching their heads and laying plans for Manchester's big day next year on the third Thursday in July.

While looking the other day for an item which had been stored carefully away for so many years, we came across a newspaper, the Bear Lake Beacon dated January 29, 1926, in which there appeared my first attempt at being a columnist. It's tale of combating with a winter storm might be rather appropriate reading for a hot summer day and so we are reprinting it.

Too, this tale points out the vast difference in life in northern Michigan 55 years ago and now. Then there were no rotary snow plows to keep the roads clear and as we remember it, most of them north of Ludington and Manistee were then snowed in for some time after a severe snow storm, several of which occurred each winter.

Then too there were not then very many automobiles on the roads at that time. Horse drawn cutters and bob sleds were the main sources of transportation and they could serve only after a severe storm when the roads were plowed out with teams and the old fashioned V-type plows and a lot of horsepower. Some folks put their autos up for the winter and those left were mostly model T Fords.

How many of you have driven a Model T Ford with its three pedals on the floor, the left one the clutch, the middle one the reverse and the right one the brake with the hand emergency brake way over on the left, which when pulled back and engaged in its notch, put the car in neutral. When you proceeded to start the car forward down the road you put your left foot on the clutch and held it in position while you released the brake, then pushed in on it and as you did so, the car moved forward.
