

Wilderness Survival Skills For Adults

Washtenaw County older youths and adults who want to learn more about wilderness survival should take advantage of the opportunity to participate in the 4-H Challenge wilderness adventure training program.

Through the 4-H Challenge program, participants learn a variety of skills, including climbing and mountaineering, hiking and backpacking, canoeing, cross-country skiing, orienteering, and wilderness cooking and survival.

County residents interested in becoming part of the Challenge program and after training serving as group leaders for youth, should sign up now.

The 4-H Challenge leader orientation session will be held September 18-20, 1981 at Kettunen Center, the state's 4-H leader training facility near Cadillac.

Anyone wanting to become a Challenge leader must attend the orientation session and seven additional weekend intensive training sessions, pass a comprehensive written test and take a Red Cross first aid course.

Because Challenge leaders will be involved in high adventure situations and be responsible for youngsters participating in wilderness outings, they must be prepared. "After completing all the training, Challenge leaders become certified and are qualified to take youths on wilderness adventures."

To be eligible for the 4-H Challenge certification program, applicants must be at least 21 years old. Young people aged 16-20 years may become associate leaders, who must be accompanied by a certified adult leader when taking a group of youngsters on a Challenge outing. Training for both leader types is identical.

Washtenaw County residents interested in signing up for the 4-H Challenge leader certification program should contact Bernadette Sietz-Garbe at the Washtenaw County Cooperative Extension Service office, or call 973-9510.

Community Education

The Fall Semester Community Education brochures will be mailed out on Friday, August 28. Registration will be held from Monday, August 31 thru Friday, September 11. Most classes will start the week of September 21. The exceptions are Washtenaw Community College classes which will tentatively start the week of Monday, September 7. (Note: Washtenaw Community College registration will be held in Manchester High School Study Auditorium on Wednesday, August 26 from 7-8:00 p.m.) The other exception is Fitness Fantasia (Aerobic Dance) which will start on Monday, September 14 in the High School Study Auditorium. Registration will still be taken by calling the Community Education Office at 428-7804 between 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. or by sending in the registration form on the back of the brochure.

Inasmuch as Community Education is no longer a full time department of Manchester Community Schools, several changes have been made in class offerings. Several classes in the enrichment sections have been eliminated that had limited enrollment. Super Saturday classes will be discontinued. However, there will be no reduction in Washtenaw Community College classes or High School completion. Also, any group or organization that wish to use school facilities must now make arrangements with the principal of the individual buildings prior to the meeting date.

"The Last Supper"

Gerald M. Wayne was commissioned by Rev. David Harvey of St. John's Church in Fenton, Michigan for the restoration of his church. This included the making of 13 Tiffany style panels, approximately 30 windows, plus extensive repairs and restorations. This was part of a $200,000 restoration project at the church. The work for the project was done at the Wayne Studios and Gallery in Manchester. Jenny Molten was the craft person, designer was Dan Nichols, and Gerald Wayne served as the artist.

"OPEN YOUR HEART - DO YOUR PART"

"OPEN YOUR HEART-DO YOUR PART", Pleasant Lake Road have been active United Way volunteers for several years.

"Your Gift Is Our Gift", the selected runner up slogan in this year's contest, was submitted by Mrs. Lucille Uphaus, 14324 Pleasant Lake Road.

United Way's fair booth space was donated by the Manchester Tool & Die, Inc.

Dr. Glenn C. Lehr, this year's campaign chairman, announced the kick off dinner meeting for all volunteers, which is being sponsored this year by Double A Products, a subsidiary of Brown & Sharpe Mfg. Co., will be held on Wednesday, September 30, at the Sharon United Methodist Church.

When a volunteer calls on you during the month of October
"OPEN YOUR HEART-DO YOUR PART"

Double A Products Company, Manchester, Michigan has announced the appointment of Vincent E. Lysaght, Jr. to the position of Production Manager, Power Unit Department.

Prior to joining Double A, Mr. Lysaght was with Acco Industries where he was Materials Control Manager.

Mr. Lysaght attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology where he received his degree in Metallurgy. He also has graduate degrees in Metallurgy and Industrial Management from MIT.

Mr. Lysaght, his wife Mary Ann, and two daughters plan to remain in Adrian where they now reside.

Manchester Red Cross volunteers were on duty again the 26th and 27th of August at the Chrysler Corporation Proving Grounds Bloodmobile. Mrs. Ica Schaffer was chairman of the group, Wednesday, the 26th with Registrars, Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Mrs. Dan Boutell and Mrs. Bruce Hunt; Nurses Aides, Miss Amanda Schaible, Mrs. Ralph England and Mrs. Del Ludwick; Escorts, Mr. Ed Galloway, Mr. Norman Mollenkopf, and Mr. Maynard Blossom; Canteen, Mrs. Franklin Reek and Mrs. Alvin Kappler, RN.

On the 27th three of the volunteer staff were from Manchester: Mrs. Ernest Ridge, registration, Mrs. Marvin Oates, escort and Mrs. Alfred Sannes, canteen.

The next Bloodmobile in Manchester will be on Monday, October 19, at Emanuel United Church of Christ. Mark your calendar now for this date. One can give blood every 58 days or five times a year. With the great need for blood at this time, a number of extra clinics have been held in Ann Arbor and the neighboring area. If one has given blood since August 20th they will not be eligible to give at the Manchester clinic on the 19th of October.

HIT OR MISS by farley

A friend of ours recently was complaining that he wanted to always be chivalrous but that so doing entailed many hazards. He claims that his last bout with lumbrosal trouble was when he was taking his wife's Mother's Day present out of the trunk of his car and severely injured his lumbar apparatus. For weeks afterwards he claims, he had to walk by throwing his leg out as though it were wooden, and flopped along.

A few days later he went, on the advice of a friend, to an orthopedist just whatever that is, and he had x-rays made and after examining them carefully said "I am going to put you in a corset for three weeks."

He sent me down the street to be fitted for that there lumbrosal corset, and there I was fitted by a woman.

"Take your shirt off and let your pants down were her opening remarks and she put me into a straightjacket that had four snaps and three hooks down the front and also three hooks. Down the back were three braces and straps and buckles over the hips all of which she drew up tight. I think that she was a bit amused but I felt like a medieval bride being fitted into her chastity belt while her husband marched off to the Crusades.

"That corset was terrible. I don't see how women ever wore them purely out of vanity and the current fashion. I have arthritis a bit in a couple of fingers and I can't close the snaps, so every morning for those three weeks, my wife had to lock me in and although she was careful not to snicker while doing so, I'm sure she was quite amused."

I've been collecting various little ditties that I heard here and there for some time and now is as good as any to get them printed as a part of this column, so here you are:

A spectator at an exhibit of modern art over at Ann Arbor the other day said, "Some of that stuff would make an art thief honest."

Someone is accused of asking a dentist friend what was good for yellow teeth and he replied "A brown tie."

Then there was the banker who said that Noah was vastly underrated. He floated his stock while everyone else was being liquidated.

My real concern is not whether you have failed but whether you are content with your failure. Abraham Lincoln.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

The recent millage defeat was not a vote against the children or against sports. This Community takes pride in both. It was just a vote of helplessness with the overall system. After absorbing large assessment increases year after year, the frustration of the voter was unleashed on this issue. No multiple choices were provided, just yes or no. So the voters said no more tax increases. It isn't the little $12.00 mentioned, it's the big amount generated by the assessment increase that we don't have a chance to vote on. Although the tax rate has not increased in 5 years, the valuation of the District has increased by about 70%, out-running inflation.

I feel this Community wants and will support a complete program, but somewhere some cutting has to be made. With one less facility, with a lower enrollment, with less offered to the student, renewal of the existing millage should fund a complete program, including sports. Industry and business have absorbed reduced and revised income for over 2 years now, why can't the schools live within a 10% increase? The Assessment increase within the District generates over $200,000 more than last year with renewal of last years millage. I feel the Board can fund sports and transportation without any additional millage. We all expect the Board to take decisive action, and not wait and hope for more millage later. With over 6000 teachers unemployed in Michigan, a raise of 9% for those working is questionable. Let them hold the line for a year like slot of others.

David J. Meinhart

To the Editor
 Manchester Enterprise

We have a real problem here in the Manchester School District. But how are we handling it? By taking it out on our children. By removing the Athletic Program and providing a very inadequate transportation program. Or do we get together as adults and try to organize a program in the best interest for everyone.

What we have done is retaliate - fight back - our taxes are to high - but, who are we hurting? Our child, our neighbors child, the communities children. Do we really want to hurt them?

Athletics is part of school - a very important part. Its boys and girls learning to work together as a team, learning to win and to lose and yes, keeping their beautiful young bodies healthy and strong.

How can we keep this opportunity from them? Something we just took for granted when we were growing up. Are we to punish our children for what we as adults cannot handle.

The answer is not to turn our heads, (perhaps the problem will go away), or to move to another community. Come on folks - we must stay here and fight for what we have had and what we can have.

This could be the beginning of the end for Athletics unless we do something now. Have you had children that were in sports but have now graduated? Great, then you know the thrill. But - don't let us down now, we need your support as your child needed support when he or she was in sports. Do you have a pre-school child or one in an elementary grade and you say to yourself "Who needs sports now." Don't kid yourself. What we are doing now may be your child's future.

Our Athletic Program, over the years, has been one to be very proud of. Much planning, building and hard work has given us the reputation we have today. Are we going to just let it go down the drain.

I don't have the answers - but perhaps together we could find them.

Lets Retaliate!
 Lets Fight Back!
 But not through our children. Lets do it the right way!

Sincerely,
 Barbara Neff

Dear Parents or Adult Students in the Manchester School District:

We are directed by the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 to inform you of your rights to review any and all records, files, and other data relating to you (adult student) or your child. After a review if you conclude that there is any inaccurate, misleading, or inappropriate information in these files, you have the right to request a hearing to challenge that information. The first such request should be to the principal of your school. If you are not satisfied with this decision, you should then direct a request to the superintendent.

 We continue a long standing policy of not releasing any information about you (adult student) or your child without permission from you. The only exception is our reply to a request from another school district. Copies of such reports will be furnished at the cost of production.

Unless we hear from you to the contrary, it will be assumed that you do not object to inclusion in "directory" or "program" listings and publications, such as graduation lists, athletic programs, and the like.

Please feel free to call your principal to arrange a review of any such files we may have. We ask only that you complete a request which allows us to retain records of requests.

Sincerely,
 Eugene W. Thompson, Ed. D.

Academic Honors At Ferris State

Thomas K. Little of Manchester was one of the nearly 570 Ferris State College students included on the academic honors list for the recently completed summer quarter here. Dr. Donald A. Priebe, vice president for academic affairs, has announced.

To be eligible, a Ferris student must have compiled a 3.25 grade point average in at least 14 quarter hours of graded work; a 4.0 is all A's.

The total list of 565 students honored includes 79 who earned all A grades.

Congressman JIM DUNN

Reports from Washington

One of the most important but least talked about features of President Reagan's tax cut package passed by Congress provides for future indexing of tax rates.

 The tax package calls for a five percent across-the-board cut in taxes beginning this October, a ten percent cut as of July, 1982 and another ten percent cut in July of 1983. Indexation provides that after that, the tax rate will be indexed according to the current rate of inflation.

In other words, if the consumer price index for fiscal year 1985 shows an inflation rate of eight percent, income tax brackets will be adjusted upward to reflect that increase. This will eliminate the problem of families being pushed into higher brackets after receiving cost-of-living raises - a phenomenon called "bracket creep" that has wiped out any tax breaks made in previous tax cut programs.

Indexation, however, makes the Reagan package different. Not only are the tax cuts the largest in the history of our country, but the indexation provision makes the tax cut permanent instead of only temporary until inflation once again takes over.

The indexing provision, ironically, was opposed by many more liberal members of Congress who publicly expressed great concern over the inflationary effects of the tax cuts. I find it somewhat hypocritical that many of these same members who opposed indexing of tax rates have vehemently supported the indexing of government support programs like food stamps.

Another big plus for Michiganians in the tax package is the estate tax provisions which will mean tremendous changes for owners of small businesses and family farms.

Under the new package, if an individual dies, his or her entire estate can pass to the spouse with no taxes. In addition, the tax exemptions have been raised from $150,000 to $600,000.

Small businesses making $50,000 or less will benefit significantly with meaningful cuts in the corporate income tax.

I am very optimistic about the positive changes in our economy produced by this package, but the tax cuts can work only if we continue to hold the line on federal spending. The spending cuts passed by Congress this year are only the first round. More spending cuts will be necessary to move us toward the balanced budget that will truly put our economy on sound footing once again.

protection each trip down the street or onto the highway carries a threat.
 Automobile accidents kill more children than any other type of accident or disease. Yet, the probability of fatality could be reduced by 90 percent by use of child auto restraints.

So strongly do the Michigan legislature and the Governor feel about protecting children's lives with auto restraints that they have passed legislation making child auto restraints mandatory. The law will go into effect next April.

Under the provisions of the law, children under one year of age must be secured in a crashworthy child restraint, and children between the ages of one and four will be required to be in a safe child seat, or be restrained by a seat belt, if they are riding in the rear seat.

The only exceptions will be for children and infants whose body size or disability would make such restraint impractical.

Your infant should ride backward in a semi-reclining auto child restraint. The car beds and infant carriers used by some people in their cars are not designed to protect infants in automobiles.

If your child is old enough to sit alone, he or she should be placed in a forward facing seat or harness. If no seat restraint is available, the child should be held by the seat belt tightened across the thighs and hips, but not across the stomach.

Holding a child on your lap is dangerous. In a 20-mile per hour crash, a 15-pound baby would be thrown forward with a force of 300 pounds, and the force of the crash would tear the child from your grasp. If you're not buckled in, you could be thrown against the child, crushing or injuring it.

Now that summer is here and more cars are on the road, protect yourself and your children with seat belts and child auto restraints.

Some of the best parents play Russian roulette with their children's safety. They may lavish love and care upon them, but many neglect to install the proper kind of child auto restraints in the car. Without

NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM

Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, FEMA.
 ACTION: Proposed rule.
 SUMMARY: Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the nation. These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).
 DATES: The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in each community.
 FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:
 Mr. Robert G. Chappell
 National Flood Insurance Program
 (202) 755-5585
 Federal Emergency Management Agency
 Washington, D.C. 20472.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations in the nation, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 960, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 67.4 (a).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State or Regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the (proposes) flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the flood plain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts flood plain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standards, the elevations prescribe how high to build in the flood plain and do not proscribe development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

State	City/Town/County	Source of Flooding	Location	#Depth in feet above ground. *Elevation in feet (NGVD)
Michigan	(V) Manchester Washtenaw County	River Raisin	About 1200 feet downstream of Manchester Ford Dam	861*

			Just upstream of Manchester-Ford Dam	880*

"Operation C.A.R.E."

The Michigan State Police are again requesting the cooperation and support of holiday travelers in making the highways safe this upcoming Labor Day weekend, Friday, September 4 through Monday, September 7.

"Operation C.A.R.E." will be providing over 4,000 hours of extra traffic patrol which will be concentrated on 2,210 miles of the state's major trunklines.

"C.A.R.E.," an acronym for "Combined Accident Reduction Effort," was initiated by Michigan and Indiana in 1977 and has since developed into a nationwide summer holiday traffic accident reduction program. Since the start of "C.A.R.E.," traffic fatalities over the summer holiday weekends have decreased a total of 21%.

This Labor Day weekend troopers will be especially watchful for accident-causing violations such as drinking and driving, following too closely, improper passing, and excessive speed. During the 1980 Labor Day weekend in Michigan, over which 26 persons lost their lives, troopers removed 204 drinking drivers, assisted 2,128 troubled motorists and issued 9,512 traffic citations.

About 60 organizations, mostly citizen band radio clubs, will be working with "Operation C.A.R.E." by volunteering their time and resources to serve refreshments and distribute traffic safety literature at rest areas and roadside parks throughout Michigan. The State Police encourage motorists to take a break from the stresses of driving and stop at a "C.A.R.E." break.

The State Police remind motorists that the 33 persons who lost their lives during the Memorial Day and July 4th weekends this year all had one thing in common—not one was wearing a safety belt!

Gun Safety Class

The Manchester Sportsman Club will be holding Gun Safety Class on September 15, 17, 22, and 26. Attendance at all 4 classes is required. Sign up sheets will be available at school and Gambles.

Resident Reminder

The Manchester Police Department would like to remind the village residents that it is unlawful to ride bicycles on the sidewalks between MS2 and Clinton Street. Bicycles may be walked, but not ridden according to Village Ordinance No. 12.

ELLA SHARP

A few hearty souls braved impending showers last Thursday: meeting at the Emanuel Church parking lot to car pool to the Ella Sharp Museum in Jackson. The 35th Annual Michigan Watercolor Society Exhibition displayed forty of its best works at the Museum. The annual competition has the reputation of being one of the strongest in the United States.

The variety of styles and media (realistic, abstract, collage, acrylic, watercolor) was surprising. Works seemed to appeal to very specific tastes, but all could be appreciated for the skill and creativity of the artist.

Raindrops paused long enough for an enjoyable tour through the small village of yesteryear, as well as for a picnic lunch. Then it was time for returning to Manchester with lots of friendly conversation along the way!

Waterloo Farm Museum's Fall Workshops

The quiet, rustic grounds of the Waterloo Farm Museum on Waterloo-Munith Road provides an ideal setting for the following workshops this fall:

Wheat weaving, a workshop teaching the old, traditional folk craft of weaving wheat into harvest symbols and Christmas ornaments, will be held from 10 to 2 on September 19. The instructor is Blanche Pav.

Indian Crafts and Games, taught by Phil Radant, a member of the American Indian Community Leadership Council, will provide an opportunity to make and play traditional Indian games and crafts. The history behind the games and crafts will be given. This will be a useful workshop for teachers since it provides information on Indian heritage. The workshop will be September 19 from 10 to 2.

Nature's Gifts, a two day workshop, September 26 and October 3 from 10 to 4 offers an opportunity to walk the trails of the outdoor center and identify native Michigan trees and shrubs. The workshop will demonstrate how to use various trees and shrubs for dyeing or as edibles, plus much more. Annelisa Gray-Lion will teach this.

Hand dipped candles using bee's wax and tallow will be taught by Pat Roth on October 3 from 10 to 3. The participants will dip 4 pairs of candles to create a beautiful and functional item.

Choctaw Indian Basket workshop, taught by Grace Kabel, teaches the participants to create a heart basket

Girl Scout News

Manchester Area Girl Scouts had a very interesting and successful 1980-81 year. Leaders and girls worked together and had news experiences together while they took part in the many program activities that are possible in the Girl Scout Program. During the summer, girls 6 thru 11 had the opportunity to attend the Manchester

Day Camp. Junior Girl Scout troops #888 and #448 had a week's camping experience at Camp Linden. Cadette Troop #186 organized the building of the float for the Manchester Fair Parade. Adults and girls of all ages worked together to build the float on a tractor provided by Mr. Paul Wackenhut. Last and very important was a successful Girl Scout booth at the Fair. Winning first prize in the Organizational Division the booth was sponsored by Mann's Feed Mill and the display booth was built by Mr. Richard Buss. Bridgewater Lumber Co. and Haab's Hardware and Mr. Buss donated many supplies that were used to build the display.

School is in session and Girl Scout meetings are about to begin. Junior age girls, 4th, 5th and 6th, graders are invited to the K of C Hall Tuesday evening September 8th at 6:30. Girls and parents need to be present for about an hour to sign permissions and pay $3.00 registration.

Cadette Girl Scouts, 7th and 8th grade are holding an organizational meeting in the basement of Dr. Lehr's office 6:30 p.m., September 10th. All interested girls are invited to attend.

An announcement about Brownie Scout registration will be made in the near future.

Content is when your yearning power equals your earning power.

And I'll have to add this one:

"It had never occurred to me that a toilet seat-a fancy one might make a good gift, but Sophia Loren received one from her husband Carlo Ponti it is told. It was form fitted. You might expect that from some show business personalities, but Great Britain's Prince Charles received one too-from his crewmates in the Royal Navy when he left active duty. Don't believe it was formfitted but it had their names all over it.

HIT OR MISS by farley

Sometimes I think we are living in some sort of what one critic has called the "booby hatch", when we note some of the things that our government and others are doing to us.

As the late Will Rogers used to say "I see by the papers that the Air Force has been putting up a very large building which required a lot of pipes and plumbing, only evidently the folks who designed the building and the folks in charge of installing the plumbing and air conditioning, etc. never got around to being introduced to each other so when they arrived, none of the pipes fit the building for which they had been designed so then everything had to be done all over again, but then nobody's perfect and this booboo merely adds $138 million to the cost of the building, but then why worry, it's only money.

I don't know how much $138 million is, I can't even comprehend how much hard cash one million is or for that matter any other sum above a few thousand dollars, but perhaps it's better that way. The loss.

Con Games Succeed In Area

On Wednesday, September 2 an elderly Manchester woman was swindled out of $1,500.00 cash. This was done by two white males. One of the suspects went to the victims door and stated he was from "Roy's Roofing Co." The suspect also told the victim that his grandfather had put the shingles on the house, and he was back to inspect the work before Fall set in. The victim was told by the suspects, they had just opened an office in the Village. The victim told police "since they said they were from Manchester I thought everything was OK." The victim told the suspects to go ahead and look at the job. One of the suspects went up on to the roof, a short time later he came down and told the victim there were several spots that needed attention.

The suspect told the victim that he had a silicon spray he could put on and wouldn't cost very much. The victim advised the suspect to go ahead and do the job. One of the suspects got onto the roof while the other stayed on the ground and ran some type of machine. Approximately 10 minutes later the suspect came into the house and advised the victim they were done.

The victim was advised at this time it would cost $1,000.00. The victim began to write out a check when she was advised by the suspects another $800.00 was needed to cover labor. The suspects then told the victim if she paid cash she would get a 10% discount. The victim was then transported by the suspects to a local bank where she got $1,500.00 cash from her checking account.

The suspects waited outside in their truck. The victim came back out and got back into the truck, at this time she turned the $1,500.00 over to the suspects. The suspects then took the victim home, they served as fire chief for 17 years from 1946-1963. He did just what the plaque says: He built and moided the Fire Department what it is today. He always dreamed of more modern equipment and a new building for the fire department. He lived to see the building of his dream, but passed away before moving day.

The plaque was placed on the south wall of the firemen's meeting room, in the Township Fire Hall at 275 South Macomb Street.

The Scheid family and several firemen and their wives were present at the dedication.
