Prep Pre-School Offered To 4 Yr. Olds

The Parent Readiness Education Project (PREP) will be available for parents and their pre-schoolers again this year in the Manchester School District.

The program entails one morning per week of classroom activities and individually assigned home activities for the remainder of the week. It is designed to make a smoother and more rewarding kindergarten year for the child in the future.

The PREP teachers, Linda Hiatt and Susan Lovejoy, have sent letters to all the parents of children born between Dec. 2, 1976 and Dec. 1, 1977. If you have not received a letter please call the PREP office at 475-9131, ext. 60, to make an appointment. Screening will take place at Emanuel Church on Sept. 28 and 29. At this time the PREP staff will meet individually with each child to assess the child's learning strengths and weaknesses. The information will be shared with the parents at that time. This free service is offered to parents to learn more about their child's readiness for school activities.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

August 17, 1981

Council met in regular session with the meeting called to order by President Schaffer at 7:05 P.M. Present were: DuRussel, Hinkley, Minick, Petsch, Smith, Steele, Zsenyuk. Absent: Koebbe and Reed.

Minutes of the August 3, 1981 meeting were read, corrected and approved in a motion by Hinkley, supported by Petsch. All yeas, motion carried.

Zsenyuk reported he had contacted Asphalting Firms for asphalt paving in the Village of Manchester. Bids from Cunningham-Gooding and Thompson-McCully were opened and reviewed by President Schaffer. Mr. Gerald Hanks of Thompson-McCully was present to discuss the bid presented by his company and to answer any questions by Council. After discussion it was the decision of Council that the Companies should rebid with set guidelines before a decision is made.

Zsenyuk reported Mr. Charles Steele contacted him about an invoice sent for the repaving of his sidewalk on Riverside Drive (M-52) which was torn up for construction of a catch basin by the State and Village. The contract was reviewed and the sidewalk was to be replaced, cost to be shared by the State and the Village. Zsenyuk recommended the invoice be voided. No objections were voiced by Council.

Zsenyuk presented a letter received from the Department of Labor considering a variance request for the Treatment Plant. The letter stated the procedure to apply for a variance, also that a variance will not be granted for the outside perimeter of the group of tanks. A variance will be considered for the walkways between the tanks.

Council agreed to proceed with the cleaning of the Water Tower Well in September or October. Cost $5,000.00 to $7,000.00.

Zsenyuk reported the 4 Township Supervisors had been contacted by letter about the need to purchase 2 containers for the landfill. Moved by DuRussel, supported by Minick to accept the bid of Hesco Sales, Inc. to purchase 2 - 40 cubic yard Octagonal Compaction containers for a total cost of $7,200.00. All yeas, motion carried.

There was a discussion on finishing Kirk Park. The person who was to do the work at Kirk Park is having trouble with his equipment. Council expressed the opinion that if the work is not completed by second meeting in September a new contractor be contacted.

Smith reported Citizens were concerned about Village burning brush on old railroad bed on Union St. and damaging the trees. Council recommended burning the brush at the Well House or on Union St. railroad bed and a fire truck be available on the property.

It is the decision of Council that the Village Manager be able to relieve a part-time employee of his duties if agreeable to the Department Head. Michael Wurster has been hired to work at the landfill.

Zsenyuk reported residents had requested "No Parking" signs be posted on Territorial St. from Elton St. to Main St. No objections were voiced by Council.

A letter from McNamee, Porter and Seeley, Consulting Engineers was presented concerning W. Main and Adrian St. Stormwater Study. Council members to review for next meeting.

Zsenyuk reported a Fire Inspection in the Village by the Fire Inspector during the week.

The American Legion requested permission to erect a sign on Duncan St. They were to be informed that the procedure was to attend Village Planning Commission meeting on September 15, 1981.

Zsenyuk presented a contingency plan if conditions of County Contract with Fontana Ambulance are not in force with substantial reduction or elimination of $7,000.00.

County Contractor Resource.

Council directed that a $1,000.00 deposit be sent to Louis C. Andrews, Jr. for beginning to compile Village Ordinances.

Schaffer presented a notification that a Civil action has been commenced against the Village of Manchester and Pinnacle Engineering Co. by Ronald and Karen Schaffer.

A letter was presented from Pinnacle Engineering requesting a variance to their conditional use permit. It was accompanied by a petition of neighborhood residents, site plans for Pinnacle Engineering, revised drawings and proposed storage area. A Public Hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals was scheduled for September 8, 1981 at 8:00 P.M. at the Village Hall.

Hinkley presented the unapproved minutes of the Manchester Village Planning Commission. A Public Hearing of the Village Planning Commission was scheduled for August 24, 1981 at 7:30 P.M.

On the agenda will be two proposed amendments to the Village of Manchester Zoning Ordinance concerning Mobile Homes.

Married

Paul Eugene Juckno

Jane Ellen Bucholtz

Zion Lutheran Church of Chelsea was the setting for the wedding of Jane Ellen Bucholtz and Paul Eugene Juckno on August 1st. Pastor John R. Morris officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bucholtz of Manchester. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Juckno of Livonia.

Marilyn Schulze of Manchester and William Brown of Florence, Kentucky were the honor attendants.

Bridesmaids included Maribeth Arnett of Tecumseh, Jan Milatz of Livonia and Jill Juckno of Plymouth. Kristin Burton, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid.

Ushers were Tom Niles of Detroit, Lee Wilson of Pontiac, Dr. David Bucholtz of Manchester and Eric Juckno of Livonia.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Roma Hall of Ann Arbor.

The couple now reside in Hamburg Township.

Board Members Honored

At its regular meeting on September 14, 1981 the Manchester Optimist Club, believing that there has been too much negativism about our school system being generated the past few months, particularly relating to the Board of Education, passed the following motion unanimously:

The Manchester Optimist Club wishes to thank: William Broucek, William Bunney, Paul DuFresne, Earl Horning, Larry Krueger, David Little and Ronald Mann, for their time, effort, and dedication to the Community of Manchester as members of the Manchester Board of Education. Further, the Optimist Club wishes to honor these men as "Good Friends Of The Youth" of this school district.

Recorded in the minutes of the Manchester Optimist Club on this date by Theodore H. Tapping, Jr. Secretary/Treasurer

EMERGENCY CALLS

When someone needs an ambulance, there's no time to lose, fumbling for the telephone directory, looking up the emergency number, forgetting the address. Someone having a heart attack, giving birth prematurely, in shock from broken bones or burns or other severe accidents needs help within minutes. The speed and efficiency of the caller could help save a life.

Ambulances try to respond within four to six minutes in most cities. That's called a short response time. But what of the person who makes the call? Precious minutes could be wasted, if a person is not always prepared to make that call.

"Delay is preferable to error." Thomas Jefferson

If the emergency number is posted on or near the telephone, that's a beginning. But are your name and address clearly printed in plain view, as well as the name of your doctor, the medication you take? Is your house number visible from the street, and are your streets marked? If your house or apartment is hard to find, are instructions for locating it written out?

Such basic information is important, because in time of emergency panic can slow reflexes and confuse thinking. What's more, the call could be made by a neighbor or visiting relative, who doesn't know the facts to be relayed to the emergency service. All the basic information should be written out and placed near the telephone. If you live in an area where 911 is the number to call for all emergencies, write that down, too.

When you place an emergency call, don't hang up until the operator tells you to do so. More information might be needed, and if you hang up, they might not be able to get back to you.

Someone unable to unlock the door should tell the emergency operator that the door is locked so police can be contacted to force entry for the emergency team.

Buildings with elevators pose another problem. Someone should be stationed downstairs near the entrance to hold the elevator for the emergency team, and direct them to the proper apartment or office. The person should remain there in case additional help is on the way. If possible, another person should be posted at the elevator on the floor of the office or apartment to have the elevator ready for the patient's departure to the hospital, if that is necessary.

The ambulance personnel will give you short response time. Contribute to their life support efforts by saving time with a call that's clear and concise, and gives all the essential facts.

Of all of the Seven Wonders of the ancient world, only the three Pyramids of Egypt survive.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Community College to MSU & U of M, and several out of state.

Congratulations to all these hard-working young adults, and others whose accomplishments weren't published.

Jane Talcott

Editor:

In response to C.J. Auldhauser's letter I would like to say, "Thank you very much for your beautiful, non-hypocritical, and Christian view of what is happening in our school system."

You briefly stated that the Arts are no longer emphasized in the Manchester Schools. I can see this already happening in a "large" twenty-three students in the High School Band. When I was in sixth grade, we had a band larger than this comprised of only one class. Out of the various sections, only two trumpet players remain (one of which came from Saline in 7th grade). There was a one hundred percent drop-out rate in the clarinet and percussion sections. None of the original flutists remain (there is one, myself, but I was not one of the original flutists). We have only one saxophone player left, of which we should be thankful for, as God in His Infinite Wisdom took the other in a tragic accident last May.

As you can plainly see, the Arts as far as instrumental music is concerned are as close to deceased as they can possibly be in Manchester High School. In fact, no one, except for the few band members that remain seem to think that we need a band. They say, "If there's no sports, what do we need a band for? Well, there are many things in our society which are a part of life which have to do with instrumental music. You rock-fans out there who like REO Speedwagon for example, would you honestly like to hear them without a back up band or guitar? Chuck Magione plays a band instrument, and this musician wrote the theme song for the 1980 Winter Olympics: "Give It All You Got". These musicians may not have learned everything they know about music in band class, but they had to start somewhere.

Why is it that Manchester students don't appreciate the Arts anymore? Even in other places musical excellence does not prevail. In the National Flute Association's "Young Artist's Competition" the judges came very close to not picking a winner.

Edward Richards

They said that excellence did not prevail anymore.

At last year's Solo & Ensemble Festival, I sat in on a flute duet apparently from Michigan Center. When these two finished a very well done, and musical performance (this must have been the judges opinion also, as they received a first division rating) they both, in a very spirited manner yelled "Yeah Michigan Center!!! Hurrah for M.C.!!!" Ever since then I have imagined what the band program in Manchester would be like with this type of an attitude. I know that Mr. Rodenbeck many times has said that he had worked with groups that had much less talent than Manchester, but he could do more with them because they made up for their talent with hard work, and devotion.

I guess what I really want to say is that if there is a band program in Manchester, I really wish students would show some interest and loyalty. With an almost one hundred percent drop-out rate, I really would not refer to this as loyalty. There are so many wonderful things that can be done with a good general attitude in a band program. What it really comes down to though, is what you get out of a program, you have to put into a program. We may value a good director, we have had one and at present we have another, but the director cannot change the attitude of his or her students no matter how much effort goes into it.

Sincerely,
Mary Stierle

News Of Good Things Growing

by Margaret G. McCall

Potatoes are among the good things growing in Michigan, but this versatile vegetable is often taken for granted. In Ben Franklin's time, one French chef served a dinner comprised entirely of potatoes, prepared in 20 different ways. Now that's versatile!

Michigan farmers marketed more than 900 million pounds of potatoes in 1980 to rank our state eleventh in the nation, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Growers received about $93 million for the crop.

Primarily four types of potatoes are grown in Michigan. Russet Burbanks, known for fine baking qualities, are long with thick skins and a lower moisture content. Round whites have a waxy texture ideal for creaming, scalloping, frying and salads. Round red and long white potatoes are great for potato salads and general cooking use.

'New' potatoes mature in spring and summer and maintain a delicate fresh flavor by being sent directly to market. They contain more moisture than fall potatoes so cooking time is shorter. The summer crop, grown mostly in the Bay-Thumb area, increased about five percent last year.

Store potatoes in a cool, dry, dark place. They may turn green and sprout when stored in lighted areas. Temperatures for storage should be between 45 and 50 degrees to protect from spoilage but, since cold temperatures turn potato starch to sugar, making them taste sweet, potatoes should not be refrigerated.

Here's an unusual recipe, from the Unabridged Vegetable cookbook, which utilizes potatoes, cucumbers, onions, milk and cream, all good things growing in Michigan.

Peel and dice 8 medium potatoes, put in heavy saucepan with 4 cups chicken broth. Bring to boil and simmer until potatoes are soft. Puree in blender, in batches. Return to heat, stir in 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup heavy cream, salt and freshly ground pepper to taste. Add 1 tablespoon finely grated onion, and two large cucumbers, peeled, seeded and finely diced. Simmer uncovered about 5 minutes, until cucumbers are tender but not mushy. Check seasoning and stir in 2 tablespoons of minced fresh dill. Serves six.

Raffle Proceeds Presented To Senior Citizens

Employees and management of Plastics Machinery Division of Hoover Universal gave a big boost to Manchester Area Senior Citizens, Inc. when they donated the $555.00 proceeds from their Fair-Beef-Raffle to the Council.

Theodore Hanss, Division Industrial Relations Manager, and Bob Stirling, Sales Service Specialist, were mentors of this civic project which began with the purchase of Deborah Alber's steer at the Manchester Community Fair Auction. The raffle was completed when Ray Gonyer and Millard Uphaus drew the five winning names for the beef prizes from the basket of entries. The two officers of the Council were then presented with the check for the proceeds from the raffle, which they gratefully accepted for the Senior Citizens Council.

HIT OR MISS by farley

Grandchildren are a blessing most of the time but then they can cause problems now and then.

One of ours who is I think, entering the fourth grade, came to me the other day and out of a clear blue sky asked "What is success?"

Now that stopped me in my tracks so I went to the dictionary and found that success is the accomplishment of a project or achieving a goal.

This I conveyed to my grandchild, and she went away, not much wiser or more satisfied than before she asked.

"But what do I do to be a success and why should I" she asked an hour or so later when we met again. She had evidently been still pondering on the word "success" and wasn't satisfied with my answer. This got my curiosity going and I asked myself the same question and discovered that the answer wasn't too easy, after all.

I thought of one chap that I know who is supposed to be very successful but I wonder if he is. He has most of the conveniences that money will buy, a beautiful home and a charming wife and four children, two of each, so I suppose he is successful but I don't think he is in all ways. Monetary-wise he is a success but not otherwise. He has discovered that he was so busy accumulating his money that he had no time for his family and all at once he realized that while he had always been there when his wife needed him in many ways, his children had all grown up without knowing their father and now that they were adults they were living their own lives and their father knew them not at all and they had nothing in common, so surely he could not be called a success.

On the other hand, down the street from the chap with the money there lives a

The juried exhibition includes high quality hand-crafted gifts suitable for every member of the family, from cornhusk wreaths, and printed note cards to braided rugs and

Large Attendance At Open House

Kindergarten through fourth grade students brought their families to school on the evening of September 15. The Open House began with parents attending "class" to hear their child's teacher talk about the year's program. All of the children viewed a special movie in the gym while their parents were in class.

Later the children joined their parents in the classrooms to show off their work and give their families a tour of the school. At the end of the evening refreshments were served by the PTO Board. The PTO Board also distributed a very useful booklet they wrote which lists teachers, room mothers, and important school dates.

Many families also attended Open House at the Middle School where Mrs. Hankamp discussed the kindergarten program.

Principal Dr. Janice Hammond remarked "The Open House was a huge success. It was wonderful to see so many families attending, donating refreshments, and involved in planning this event. That made the evening very special for the children."
