

Hello... Remember Me?

Some people call me Old Glory... some call me the Star Spangled Banner. Whatever they call me, I am your flag... the flag of the United States of America! But, something's been bothering me... so I thought I might talk with you... because it is about you and me. I remember, some time ago, people lined up on both sides of the street to watch the parade, and naturally I was leading every parade, waving proudly in the breeze!

When your Daddy saw me coming, he immediately removed his hat, and placed his hand directly over his heart... Remember? And I remember you... standing there straight as a soldier! You didn't have a hat, but you were giving the right salute. Remember little sister? Not to be outdone, she was saluting the same as you... with her right hand over her heart... remember?

What happened? I'm still the same old flag! Oh, I have a few more stars since you were a boy; a lot more blood has been shed since those parades of long ago; but, now I don't feel as proud as I used to...

When I come down the street... you just stand there with your hands in your pockets, and I may get a small glance and then you look away... Then I see the children running around and shouting... They don't seem to know who I am... I saw one man take his hat off, then look around; he didn't see anyone else doing it, so he quickly put his hat back on... Have you forgotten what I stand for... and where I've been?... Anzio, Guadalcanal, Korea, and Vietnam. Take a look at the memorial honor rolls some time... the lists of those who never came back in order to keep this Republic free... one nation under God... When you salute me, you are actually saluting them! Well... it won't be long until I'll be coming down your street again. So, when you see me... Stand straight, place your right hand over your heart... and I'll know that - you remember!

Hit Or Miss by farley

I was looking casually at a book list in one of the papers. They had a long list of children's volumes segregated in age groups and along about the middle of the list was one titled "The Teddy Bear Catalog". This intrigued me no end and so I went to the trouble of hunting one up and it proved to be most interesting.

In it was listed every Teddy Bear that was made from its inception in 1903 until today. They range from the first ones that today go for $300.00 and up to a big growing bear made in Germany that has sold for $1200.

I never had a Teddy Bear. I was just a bit too old to take part in this universal movement that made it almost mandatory for all youngsters to have a Teddy Bear. I never even had, that I can remember, a pillow that I dragged around like Linus.

The Teddy Bear, as you probably remember, was originated by a Brooklyn toy merchant who capitalized on a story about Teddy Roosevelt who, while on a hunting trip, refused to shoot a helpless bear and some newspaper cartoonist depicted the incident for his newspaper. The Teddy Bear as a substitute for dolls caught on both with the boys and the child who did not have one was really underprivileged and this condition still exists. They are now as popular as ever.

I never had one. I was just too old to enjoy having any kind of a Teddy Bear. But the kids just a bit younger than I had their favorite 'Teddy Bears' which they confided in and took to bed with them. My daughter who is a long ways past being a teenager, I find still has hers and worn, threadbare and eyeless, she still has it stashed away in her bedroom. I never knew just what the fascination with them was but they had and have it. When the daughter was young she had stuffed animals of many kinds piled about her room but no one superseded the Teddy. The girls of today, I find, still do this.

But to return to the catalog, I had no idea there were so many kinds of stuffed toy bears. There were Sailor Bear, Roddy Bear, Hungry Bear, Thoughtful Bear, Nosy Bear, Sociable Bear, Literary Bear, Clown Bear, Irish Bear, Frosty Bear, Very Important Bear, Herr Bear, Shaggy Bear, Chubby Bear, Semi-Ferocious Bear and dozens of other varieties.

That's probably why I am somewhat strange. I never had a bear, not even one out of the dozens there are tabulated in the catalog. They include Baggy Bear valued at $200, and Topsy Bear $150, who looks like he is going to fall out of his chair.

The catalog gives a history of the bears, many pictures and tips on buying or selling bears. They tell you how to give Teddy a bath. (First you vacuum the bear, then sew on his ear, fix his paw and replace his shoebutton eye.

Teddy Bears, they say are "good listeners, never critical, always reassuring...they are symbols of nostalgia...that allows a small part of us to remain a child forever."

I hope someone gets me a bear for Christmas. I didn't know what I was missing, did I? It is said that millions of them are sold each year.

The people of Manchester have done it again for the 22nd consecutive year. Dr. Glenn C. Lehr, Jr., campaign Chairman, reported contributions and pledges total $27,425.03 which is 104.3% of this year's $26,286.00 campaign goal.

Dr. Lehr said "The people of Manchester have again shown their spirit and generosity by making the 1981 United Way campaign a very successful one."

"I would like to thank every volunteer worker and especially the Division leaders for a job well done; Carolyn Sauter, rural; Janice Little, organizations; Ica Schaffer, village; Maria Lehr, business; Clarence Fielder, industry; Dave Little, outside business and Dr. Eugene Thompson,

"A special thanks to Bob Ross for a great job with publicity and to T.V. Ludwick for her guidance and help. T.V. has been doing a great job for the United Way for many years."

"Manchester has traditionally given more than their share to people in need. We can all be proud of our efforts in the face of present economic conditions."

"Indeed you have opened your hearts for a special need and I am very proud to be a part of this community."

President of the United Way, John K. Sauter said "During the past twenty some years the people of Manchester have demonstrated their support for the United Way. Our friends and neighbors have truly "Opened their Hearts" in meeting this year's goal. Many people deserve our thanks for their efforts including Glenn Lehr our campaign chairman, Division chairmen, area captains, solicitors, Double A Products for sponsoring the Kick Off Dinner, members of our Board of Directors and most of all, you the contributors. Thanks for a job well done."

The rooster in Gill's Gamble store window is as proud as a peacock and he's ferociously crowing with glee for the 22nd consecutive year.

Manchester Area Historical Society

The Manchester Area Historical Society is undertaking a project which will benefit the Village of Manchester and the surrounding area. At the regular monthly meeting November 16, the group announced their intention to purchase the John Schneider Black Smith Shop for $24,723. The society announced the appointment of Mr. John B. Swainson as head of the fund-raising committee. Support will be sought from the entire community to make this acquisition possible.

The group was privileged to hear an interesting presentation "Manchester and Henry Ford" by Mr. Robert Ross, Mr. John Swainson and Ms. Lillian Martin. The Sharon Mill history was discussed, as well as a biographical sketch of Henry Ford and description of his land purchases in this area. Several members present, Mr. Mahlon Smith and Mr. Floyd Parr had been employed at the Sharon Mill and Manchester Ford Plant. It proved to be a valuable meeting to learn more about our community.

Look for the next meeting date.

This cost is near the lowest in Washtenaw County. Only the Milan Schools operated at a lower figure. Costs in Milan were $1,708 per student.

The highest cost in the county was in the Ann Arbor Schools at a figure of $2,824 per student. Neighboring school districts operated at the following levels: Chelsea $2,026, Dexter $1,962, Whitmore Lake $1,943, Saline $1,876.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor

So we can be proud again, can't we? We have restored basketball to our kids but we can't give them a decent roof over their heads.

We can give them volleyball but we can't afford to bring the library at Klager into the main building. On cold, rainy or snowy days those kids will still have to go outside to get a book. Books are housed in libraries and books are our chief source of knowledge—but then only "eggheads" need that, don't they?

We can give our kids baseball but Mary Stierle's lament about the sorry state of the music program apparently fell on deaf ears.

We will have football again but when the

The Manchester Enterprise teachers' contract comes up for negotiation again this summer, there won't be enough money to raise their salaries much above the pitiful level they are at now, will there? Those salaries are a joke among their colleagues in this area. Good teachers either leave Manchester or they don't even consider coming here. As for the ones we do have, I don't know why they should correct piles of papers on weekends or why they should bother with parent conferences or why they should give individual attention to their students or why they should try to improve in their own fields? The signs were more than clear—our pride rises and falls with athletics not with academic or artistic or musical achievements.

We can give our kids pep rallies but we can only give them one foreign language. That's at the high school. There are none at the other two. In a world that is inexorably shrinking and in an economy as closely tied to automobiles as Michigan's is, languages are hardly a frill. But Manchester's pride is not in training its kids for the difficult job of living in the future but in giving them baseball and track.

The most beautiful words I think I ever read in the Enterprise were Neil and Sharon Weidmayer's: "We believe in necessary things but not in unnecessary things." Was it really so hard to discern the difference? We graduate kids who don't know a syllogism from a simile, a mole from a molecule or the Caucasus from Cairo, who think Shakespeare is simply a dead English poet and to whom Mozart is less interesting than Marlboros. And all the while we have a superintendent who can get into a public lather about whether or not to allow kids to go off campus at noon.

At least we got the full transportation program back again, didn't we? But then that was tied up with sports, wasn't it?

National Influenza-Pneumonia Alert

A countrywide media drive is under way to get millions of high-risk Americans vaccinated against flu and pneumonia before the infections hit their winter stride. If it works, many more patients will be asking for the shots than got them last year.

Called the National Influenza/Pneumonia Alert, the campaign to highlight the need for immunization through TV, radio, and newspaper coverage was organized by the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases in conjunction with seven other health groups.

The targets are people over 50 and those of any age with chronic illnesses, such as diabetes or lung, kidney, or heart disease. Last winter, pneumonia and flu caused 60,000 to 70,000 deaths—more than have occurred during any winter since the Hong Kong flu pandemic of 1968-69. Dr. Edwin D. Kilbourne, microbiology chairman at New York's Mount Sinai School of Medicine, told a press conference held here to launch the drive.

A major flu epidemic hasn't been predicted for this winter, added Dr. Kilbourne, who's an authority on the infections. "But there wasn't one last year, either," he points out. "It was only in retrospect that we saw the high death toll." Dr. Kilbourne estimates that about 50 million Americans are particularly susceptible to severe effects of flu, but less than 15 million of them have been getting annual shots.

Some 60 million Americans are especially vulnerable to pneumococcal pneumonia and meningitis, added Dr. Maurice A. Mufson, chairman of medicine at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., but only five million have received the vaccine, which protects for at least five years. Its wider use would prevent many deaths among the 500,000 patients who get pneumonia and 5,000 pneumococcal-meningitis victims each year, he said. ### Voters Reverse State-Wide Trend

The voters of the Manchester Community School District have reversed the trends noted in recent school elections across the state by approving an additional millage levy.

In a record turnout of approximately 70% of the registered voters in the school district approval was given to levy 1 additional mill for a two year period. The Board of Education had previously stated that the new millage levy would be used to restore a full athletic program and to improve transportation services.

Superintendent Eugene Thompson stated that "We are all extremely pleased that the millage proposal was approved. The additional funds will enable us to immediately restore our extra curricular program and to improve the transportation services. Perhaps the best feature of the election was the evidence of a large number of community groups working together for a common goal."

Two additional propositions were rejected by the voters. The first would have provided funds to renovate and re-equip all district buildings. The second would have provided funds to complete development of an athletic site. The Board of Education has indicated informally that the renovation plans will be brought back to the voters at the next regular school election.

Manchester Village Planning Commission

October 13, 1981

The Regular Meeting of the Manchester Village Planning Commission was called to order by Chairman Hinkley at 7:35 p.m. Members present: Hinkley, Kallewaard, Leeson, Smith, Tracy, Grossman, Walton. Members absent: Alber, Krauss. A quorum was present.

The minutes of the meeting of September 15 were read, and approved with corrections, on a motion by Grossman, seconded by Leeson.

Hinkley read an announcement concerning a series of seminars on industrial development. It was agreed to refer this item to Alber for consideration.

A series of nine amendments to the Village Zoning Ordinance, drafted by the Washtenaw County Metropolitan Planning Commission and designed to bring the Village Zoning Ordinance into compliance with Michigan Public Act 207, was presented for discussion. Leeson made a motion, seconded by Smith, to recommend to Village Council the adoption of all nine amendments. The motion was passed unanimously on a voice vote.

The Commission next heard a report on the review of Village street names. Leeson presented several antique maps and Hinkley presented the current County Assessor's maps of the Village. Leeson proposed that the Commission prepare a document listing all the different names used at different times for the streets in question. This document would be published, and then kept on file, for the assistance of anyone attempting to identify old property descriptions or settle other questions. The Commission approved the project and Leeson agreed to begin the cataloging of street names.

Smith reported on the preparation of the updated Village Zoning Map. He presented the new map with streets drawn and identified. He will proceed with the drawing of zones.

Under "Old Business", Tracy noted that construction has begun on the addition to Pinnacle Engineering. He requested that Hinkley review with Zoning Inspector Knauss the conditions with which Pinnacle must comply.

Under "New Business", Leeson proposed an amendment to the Village Zoning Ordinance, in order to correct an error existing in Section 3.14. It was unanimously agreed to recommend to Village Council the adoption of this amendment along with the others above.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:57 p.m. on a motion by Tracy, seconded by Grossman.

Mary Kallewaard Secretary

Special Olympics Danceation

The largest birthday party this country has seen since the Bicentennial will take place when Aerobic Dancing celebrates its tenth anniversary at DANCEATHON '81 the weekend of November 21 and 22. Over 100,000 students and 4000 instructors, nationwide, will participate in 100 plus Aerobic Dancing marathons to benefit Special Olympics. Locally, DANCEATHON '81 will take place at Pioneer High School in Ann Arbor, on November 22 at 12:00-4:00 p.m.

Jacki Sorensen, creator, choreographer, and Chairman of the Board of Aerobic Dancing, Inc., explained, "We want to reach out to the whole nation and share what we have gained over the past decade—the joy of dance and fitness. The Special Olympics embodies all that Aerobic Dancing represents. They say, 'You can do it. All you need is a chance.' That's exactly what we provide for our students—the chance to dance so everyone can experience the joy of fitness."

The DANCEATHON will last four hours with 50 Aerobic Dances performed. Students may come to the Danceathon at any time during the event, dance as few or as many consecutive dances as they wish and stay as long as they wish. They are encouraged to get as many sponsors as they can for each dance.

Each participant will receive a special DANCEATHON '81 T-shirt in which to compete, and which they may keep. Those who "go the distance" will receive a specially embroidered "souvenir" patch.

Special Olympics, Inc. is a non-profit, international program of physical fitness, sports training and athletic competition for mentally retarded children and adults. The Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation created Special Olympics and sponsors the program internationally. Eunice Kennedy Shriver, President of Special Olympics, Inc., applauds the efforts of Jacki Sorensen and DANCEATHON '81. She said, "Aerobic Dancing is providing Special Olympians with something they've never had before—a 'Chance to Dance.' That's what makes this program unique."

For further information about Aerobic Dancing or DANCEATHON '81, contact Sue Huff or Merrie Malerich at 761-6377.

Great American Smokeout

The nationwide Great American Smokeout, now in its fifth year, is an educational campaign to get smokers to give up cigarettes for just one day. This year's theme is "Take the Pledge". For many smokers, even a few hours without a cigarette is difficult.

In connection with this year's Smokeout, the American Cancer Society is looking for former smokers to lead "Quit Smoking" clinics.

"Smokers aren't looking for lectures," said Chuck Gelman, President of Gelman Sciences, Inc., "but they do want encouragement from that tower of credibility—the ex-smoker."

Most smokers concede that cigarettes are dangerous. Every day, in the United States, about 290 people die from lung cancer. At least 80% of these deaths are related to cigarette smoking, the American Cancer Society says. In spite of the weight of the evidence, many smokers find the challenge to quit difficult to meet. That's why the American Cancer Society feels that its person-to-person program is so important.

ACS quit smoking aids include a self-help kit, information hot lines and personal follow-up efforts. The results have been satisfying. "Nobody can be as effective as a former smoker when it comes to showing a smoker that it's possible to quit and to stay off cigarettes," Gelman observed.

To find out more about the Quit Smoking Programs and the Great American Smokeout, contact the American Cancer Society at 668-8857.

Law Enforcement Communications

From the main facility on Hogback Road, Susan Tommelein (left) supervises radio transmissions to law enforcement vehicles and other communications of the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department. At work on the radio is operator Cindy Squires, whose contact with western Washtenaw County will be improved by the Catherine McAuley Health Center's new 220-foot radio tower near Mercywood Hospital on Jackson Road.

Law enforcement communications in Washtenaw County will get a boost this month as a cooperative project between the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department and the Catherine McAuley Health Center comes "on line."

"The project will immediately solve radio problems the Sheriff's Department has been experiencing around Milan, Chelsea and other western parts of the County," said Susan Tommelein, Sheriff's Department Communications Supervisor.

Tommelein reported that police cars in this area have often encountered "dead spots" which have prevented direct radio contact with the Department's communications headquarters on Hogback Road.

The result has been unnecessary—and potentially dangerous—delays for officers and citizens, she said.

To solve the problem, Tommelein said, the Department is switching a primary communication channel from its tower near the intersection of Pontiac Trail and U.S. 23 in Ann Arbor to the 220-foot radio tower recently erected on Catherine McAuley Health Center grounds near Mercywood Hospital on Jackson Road.

Carrying 5 antennas, the tower is the "backbone" of a sophisticated, multi-hospital communications and emergency medical care system expected to be activated sometime in early 1982.

Tommelein said the Sheriff's Department has periodically explored the possibility of purchasing the use of other local towers or building its own, "but the costs were prohibitive." Noting that the Catherine McAuley Health Center is donating use of its $50,000 tower, she said the Mercywood site's natural 1,000-foot ground elevation and central location within the County make it a "more than adequate" communications solution. She reported that the shift to the tower took place November 3 and that the new system is currently undergoing evaluation.

"Our radio coverage will be strengthened to the point that we will now be able to reach cars that must enter Jackson County," she said, adding that 140 vehicles, including "black & whites," unmarked detective cars, animal control trucks, and others carry official police-ban radios.

"On any given day we may have 30 vehicles on the road simultaneously," she said.

The availability of the tower "couldn't come at a better time," Tommelein said.

"The western county situation usually involved repeated radio calls that kept 'breaking up' and ultimately had to be telephoned in," she said. "It has always been a highly undesirable part of our workload."

However, she pointed out that recent reassignments and hiring freezes necessitated by budget restraints have reduced the communications staff from 21 last year to 15, "so the problem has been even more difficult the last few months."

"Our high speed data terminal at the Washtenaw County connection to the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) of the Michigan State Police," she continued.

"For example, when an officer pulls a driver over and radios in the vehicle's license number, our terminal operator sends that number to LEIN and instantaneously discovers whether the vehicle is stolen, whether the driver to whom it's registered is wanted, and whether that registrant has an expired or revoked driver's license," she said.

"Obviously, having this information before approaching a vehicle forwarns an officer of a potentially life-threatening situation," she said.

She noted that Washtenaw County alone has about 8,000 outstanding "wants and warrants," and that LEIN, which is located in Lansing, has pooled similar data from all Michigan counties.

Tommelein said the 34,000 annual radio calls from law enforcement vehicles represent only a part of the Department's communications responsibilities. In addition, it also handles the LEIN information requests of the police departments of Chelsea, Manchester,

News Of Good Things Growing

Ah, the smell of turkey roasting all morning for Thanksgiving festivities! Since our Pilgrim fathers enjoyed turkeys at the original Thanksgiving, turkey has become a symbol of thanks for a bountiful harvest.
 In the state where good things are growing, an estimated 1,200,000 turkeys are marketed each year, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Last year farmers received about $14 million for the "crop."
 Many modern turkey farms have become complete turkey processing plants. Indoor controlled houses, where temperatures are maintained for raising turkeys, also keep them less susceptible to diseases spread by wild animals and other birds.
 In the last 15 years, turkey consumption has more than doubled, with more varieties of products available, such as boneless roasts, steaks, rolls, and frozen turkey dinners. An estimated 40% of Michigan's turkey production goes into processed convenience foods. Facilities to readily freeze turkeys make the birds available year-round, while improved

CAR CARE TIPS

TAKING THE BUGS OUT OF CAR CARE
 The bugs cars run into on the highway (or is it vice versa?) can do serious damage to a painted automobile surface. Bugs have a high level of body acid that can stain a car's finish.
 That's why it's important to be extremely meticulous about cleaning bugs off with a commercially available bug remover, particularly after a car has been driven a long distance at high speeds. Be doubly vigilant about removing bugs when the weather is hot, because heat can actually bake bug acid into a car's paint.
 Another important way to protect against the adverse effects of bug acid is to have a protective paint sealant professionally applied. This will put a thin, protective coating on a car that will shield it until the bugs are removed.
 For a free, 24-page Guide to Longer Lasting Cars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents for handling to Gary Goranson, Tidy Car Inc., 3918 Broadway, Cheektowaga, NY 14227.

story of thirty recently reformed adults whose five homes in the area are known as Kinship is fascinating. From dehumanized, institutionalized inmates to becoming self supporting individuals is a brave true story of love of mankind and devotion to the principle of "can do". It is a constant, continuing challenge.

A second part of the program was given by our guest Mrs. Dorothy Hamilton who depicted the joys and emotions of being a volunteer helper in one of the homes for a few hours each week. She invited anyone from the group who felt equal to the task to come with her on a visit and to perhaps find a new interest that is very rewarding to say the least.

December 8 will be the Christmas Party for members and guests with a dinner at the Bauernstube at 6:30. There will be a gift exchange with $2.00 limit. Call Mrs. Gerald Post for further information or questions.

Mrs. Paul Alber assisted the hostess with refreshments for the evening meeting.

HOUSE CALL

THANKSGIVING TURKEY

Despite Thanksgiving nostalgia for "over the river and through the woods to Grandmother's house we go," most people would admit that today's frozen turkey fits our schedules better than the butcher-fresh turkey of earlier times. The fresh bird had to be prepared almost immediately to avoid spoilage. The frozen turkey can be purchased early and prepared at our convenience.

Of course, the first word of advice for preparing a frozen turkey is to read the directions attached to the wrapper. Most directions include the proper procedure for preparation.

The Manchester Enterprise, Page 9

Wash the bird thoroughly inside and out with cold, running water. Drain it, and do the same thing with the giblets.

If you detect any stickiness under the wings where the legs and body join, and on the upper surface of the tail, you have a bird that's beginning to spoil. If the wing tips are turning a darker color and have a bad odor, throw away your turkey. The threat of food poisoning is too serious to disregard. "When in doubt, throw it out!"

Once the turkey is roasted, it should be kept hot in the oven, or cold in the refrigerator. There is no half-way temperature for poultry. Never let the turkey stand out for nibbling for more than two hours. After dinner cover what's left with waxed paper and refrigerate it.

Another note of caution refers to preparation. When you serve the cooked turkey, do not use the cutting board and knife used for the raw bird. Wash all utensils and the cutting board with hot soapy water after you prepare the raw turkey. This rule applies to all poultry.

We like to keep alive the sentiment of "over the river and through the woods," but the odds are that even Grandmother serves a crusty, juicy, once-frozen turkey, properly prepared.

American Legion Auxillary

Regular meeting of the American Legion Auxillary was held on Wednesday, November 11 at the Legion Home. A prayer for all veterans was given by Chaplain Edna Knauss.

Treasurer Baker reported 71 paid members for 1982. Two year planning calendars are still for sale by Unit members.

President Middlemiss introduced guests: Doris and Hattie Carson, Elizabeth Clouse and Julia Demetri.

A special flag report was given by Americanism Chairman, Edna Knauss. She urged all to fly their flags. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Townsend for displaying the flag at Wurster Park for the Veteran's Day Parade.

Reservation for delegate from the Junior Class for Michigan Girl's State will be sent on December 1. Girl's State will be held at Central Michigan University from June 12 through 20, 1982.

Joyce Stein has prepared a list of servicemen and women to receive cards for Christmas. Mrs. Stein and Helen Rigg will soon be purchasing gifts for the Christmas Gift Shop at the Ann Arbor V.A. Hospital on December 7 & 8. Helen Hosmer, Ruth Oates, Edna Knauss and T.V. Ludwick plan to help the hospitalized veterans choose gifts for their families, wrap and prepare these for mailing. This is a service provided by the American Legion Auxillary using poppy funds.

Two copies of the Legislative Bulletin were ordered. One of these will be offered to the Manchester Township Library.

The Auxillary wishes to commend Jay Clouse and men of the Post for the excellent Veteran's Day Parade on Sunday, November 8.

A potluck dinner will begin at 6:30 P.M. for our December 9 meeting. Committee of Helen Hosmer and Vivian Middlemiss will furnish rolls and coffee. Guests will be 2nd District President and Secretary. Members are asked to bring canned or packaged goods for the needy in lieu of gift exchange.

Ruth Oates won the $2 door prize. Good Cheer Chairman for this month is Mrs. Oates.

Homemade pretzels were served by Helen Popkey, Helen Rigg and Marsha Chartrand. Indian corn, candles and colorful turkeys decorated the tables. Chaplain Knauss led us in a prayer of Thanksgiving.

Secretary, T.V. Ludwick

Utility Deduction Increased

The higher, winter rates for standard utility deductions used to figure net income for food stamp eligibility and benefits was put into effect November 1.

The standard deduction amount is changed twice yearly - November 1 and May 1 - to account for different seasonal utility costs experienced by most Michigan households. Food stamp recipients who are already using the standard deduction will have their rates changed automatically by the Department of Social Services.

The winter rates to be used this year have been raised to reflect an increase in heat and utility costs since last winter. For many food stamp households the change in deduction rates may mean they will receive higher allotments of food stamps this winter.

Food stamp recipients may choose to use either the standard utility deduction rates or their actual utility costs to figure net income.

Those with questions are urged to contact their local DSS office for more information.

Pioneer Christmas

Pioneer Christmas at Waterloo Farm Museum - a gentle reminiscence of the quietness and simplicity of early Christmases - will be held Saturday and Sunday, December 5 and 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. at the museum on Waterloo-Munith Road, two miles from Waterloo.

The Realty house will be decorated for Christmas with garlands of pine boughs dotted with red velvet ribbons draped throughout the house. Pine swags will hang at the windows with cored apple candle holders sitting on the window sills.

White familiar carols are sung to the accompaniment of the malodian in the parlour, the Christmas guests can gaze at the black spruce encircled with strings of cranberries and popcorn. Antique ornaments and flickering candles cling to the tree's branches. Antique toys and dolls, a delight for visitors of all ages to see, rest beneath the spruce.

The dining room table offers a tempting display of cookies, nut breads, spiced apples and Christmas stollen.

The warmth of the log house, decorated as it might have been for the first Michigan Christmas, is a perfect place for a cup of mulled cider and some Christmas cookies. A welcoming fire in the massive fireplace makes the log house a tempting place to spend the entire afternoon.

A free will offering can be made when you share with your memories of past Christmases at the Waterloo Farm Museum's Pioneer Christmas.

Loans For Storm Damaged Areas

The Small Business Administration (SBA) has designated 10 southeastern Michigan counties disaster areas because of damage from heavy rains and floods September 30 and October 1, U.S. Senator Carl Levin (D-Michigan) announced.

This permits owners of homes and businesses damaged by the severe weather to apply for low interest loans, Senator Levin said.

The counties of Genesee and Oakland and its adjacent counties of Lapeer, Livingston, Macomb, Saginaw, Shiawassee, Tuscola, Washtenaw and Wayne will be eligible for SBA disaster assistance.

Homeowners and businesses damaged by the storms are eligible to apply for loans at an 8 percent annual interest rate if credit cannot be obtained elsewhere, Senator Levin said.

Homeowners may apply for up to $55,000 to cover structural and content damage. Businesses may apply for up to $500,000 to cover losses due to the storms. Loan applications and further information can be obtained by calling SBA in Detroit at (313) 228-4030, 228-6961 or 228-7961.

T-Shirt Day At Klager

Showing off their T-Shirts with words are: Mrs. Scully, Heather Struble, Nicki Bigelow, Tim Fenelon, Melanie Ball, Lance Fielder, and Linda Devulder.

Last Wednesday, Klager Elementary's students and the staff wore T-shirts with words written on them. The idea, presented by Klager's Reading Teacher, Marge Scully provided a fun way to practice reading. Everyone read each other's shirts all day. In Mrs. Lowrey's third grade class the children discussed which shirts had names with complete sentences, and with advertised things. Mrs. Henry wore a shirt with her first grade reading words on it. A favorite was a little girl wearing: "No way first lady I want to be President".

Development Committee at Saline Hospital

The Board of Directors of Saline Community Hospital has announced the appointment of a Development Committee comprised of community leaders who will act as ambassadors of the hospital and make recommendations to the board in the areas of community relations, special events and annual support. Committee members are: George A. Anderson, Chairman, Bill Dabbs, Wesley Exelby, Leon Eisemann, Mary Ann Fogie, Ernest Girbach, Edward Hagopian, Elaine Heiserman, Ethan Jones, George Kempf, Jeanne Learman, Dorothy Leidheiser, Robert Merchant II, Robert Redies, Stanton Roesch, Kay Roesch, Paul Tull, Lyle Wahl, W.C. Vander Yacht, M.D., and Donald Fyall.

The first project the committee has undertaken is this year's annual appeal. The current appeal will give the community the opportunity to help support the hospital. Among the present needs of the hospital is new X-ray equipment at a cost of $150,000. The hospital's present equipment was purchased in 1974 and has an estimated lifespan of 5 to 7 years. The new equipment will have the same capabilities as presently provided as well as a new technique in fluoroscopy. The result is an improved diagnostic system.

According to Dr. Whiteman, Chief of Staff at Saline Community Hospital, "This equipment is appropriate for Saline Community Hospital whose philosophy and mission are grounded in the health care needs of the men, women and children who created the hospital to serve them. These people represent the ultimate authority for the institution and shall always be the main source for determination of services needed and provided. They shall be the measure of its adequacy and its success." "For this reason," states Dr. Whiteman, "the new X-ray - Fluoroscopic unit is a necessity."

Senior Citizens Call-A-Ride

In case you have not been informed, Call-A-Ride is a local volunteer service for Senior Citizens who live in Manchester or Manchester Township for medical related transportation to local doctors or to doctors, hospitals or clinics in any of the surrounding towns. The free service has been in use, Mondays through Fridays, since last March but is still available only to Manchester or Manchester Township residents because those two governments are the sole supporters of the project which is run by Manchester Area Senior Citizens Council, Inc.

In order to obtain service one must be 55 or older, live in the above mentioned area and be able to ride in a car (with an assistant if one is needed to help). People who have daily trips for medical treatment can be served two or three days a week to relieve the family problem.

Appointments for rides should be made a day or two in advance, more if possible by calling any of the following numbers: Linda Hartmann, between 9 A.M. and 3 P.M., 428-8369; Ray Gonyer, president of the Council, 428-7613 or Claire Reek, Manchester Family Service, Inc. 428-8862.

HIT OP. MISS by farley

Now, seeing that we haven't yet gotten used to paying 20 cents to mail what was formerly for many years a 2 or 3 cent letter, is a good time to call attention to the following:

The U.S. Postal Service is going to build a resort training site in Potomac, Md., which cost $6 million for the site. They have an Olympic sized pool and will build a cocktail lounge, eight tennis courts, jogging trail, and a par three golf course.

The price of the resort is $28,370,000, totaling 50 million including construction costs. Our stamp increases are to pay the bill.

The property was purchased October 2, 1980 without any public hearings of consent, says a recent article in a nearby daily.

Columnist Sidney Harris likes to refer to the "human condition" and a reader recently wrote him asking what the "human condition" that he so often referred was, how it was different from any other condition, to which he replied:

"Not only does man love in a way that no other creature does but man alone knows about loss and death. We must love and be loved and we must feel that we fill a need in return.

"We, however know this is a precarious investment. Accident, catastrophe and death come to us all at any time in many ways. The ones we love may perish in a moment but we are designed to be aware that life ends in loss-of a parent, a mate or sometimes of a child. The anguish of such loss is almost unbearable, yet we are driven to forget these bonds of affection. Without them we are very incomplete.

"This is the 'human condition' as we know it.

The giving of love exposes us to suffering but the withholding of love keeps us from being our human selves. There can be no unity, no delight of love where there is but one. At least two are needed for oneness. It can be husband and wife, friend and friend, parent and child, whatever the combination unlike other creatures we are not ourselves as long as we are alone.

Despite the perils of this condition if the gamble isn't taken, we don't become what we were meant to be. Our knowledge of death takes on an added dimension of meaning that no other creature knows.

"Who else would make a child's heaven says Mr. Harris, "one where we join our loved ones again? Such a myth soothes the pangs of mortality at the heart of the human condition."

The strange noise that remains silent when the mechanic is listening is related to the symptom that disappears while you are sitting in the doctor's waiting room.

A team of doctors believes that making lengthy emotional speeches over a long period may lead to heart trouble. (another mark against long political campaigns.)

After a 20-year study, researchers find that women retain their overall intelligence longer than men in their later years.

It's Bazaar Time Again

As you traveled through the village these past few weeks, you surely have smelled the delectable aromas wafting from the kitchens of Emanuel United Church of Christ, Manchester United Methodist and St. Mary's Catholic Church. For the women of the respective churches have been busily preparing many savory surprises in anticipation of the fourth coming Tri-Church Christmas Bazaar.

The Bazaar will be held Saturday, December 5th, from 9:00 A.M. - 3:00 P.M. at Emanuel United Church of Christ. Luncheon will be served from 11:30 till 1:00 and will feature much chop suey, cole slaw, cherry tarts, rolls, and beverage - all for a modest price of $3.50.

Not only will you find scrumptious baked goods at the Bazaar, but also a variety of handcrafted items and holiday decorations. In addition, each church is contributing items for raffle. From St. Mary's comes a hand hooked rug, a latch hook wall hanging, a Paddington Bear, and Mr. and Mrs. Claus dolls, from Manchester United Methodist a tree skirt, two afghans, and a macrame baby quilt; and from Emanuel a double Irish chain quilt in shades of brown, a tree skirt (nativity scene), a baby quilt, and a doll.

The Tri-Church Bazaar, by now a tradition in Manchester offers a wide selection of unique Christmas gifts and is a popular community event. So-mark your calendar, invite your neighbor, and plan to stay for lunch!

Mr. Bartels 4th Grade Class at Klager School did writings on "What Thanksgiving Means". Here are a few of the writings:

by Laura Meade

What does Thanksgiving mean? Thanksgiving all started out when the pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock in 1620. Their first winter was cold. The food was scarce so many people died. The Pilgrims had met the Indians by then and that helped. And that's how Thanksgiving started.

When Thanksgiving rolls around each year we usually invite Grandma and Aunt Chris over for a turkey dinner. We set the table real nice with a red table cloth and our best china and silverware. We all enjoy that very much. But it takes a long time because my Grandma lives in Monroe and my Aunt Chris lives in Hudson so my father goes to get Aunt Chris and my mother or sister goes to get Grandma in Monroe. And that works out pretty well.

I celebrate Thanksgiving by just plain Thanking God for everything our family has got to be thankful for. I also celebrate Thanksgiving by eating a big, fat, juicy delicious mouthwatering scrumptious Turkey Dinner!

by Annette Schook

It all began October 26, 1621 when the pilgrims landed on America. The pilgrims met the Indians and had a feast. They ate turkeys, corn, roast duck, corn rye bread and wine from wild grapes. They celebrated it because they were thankful to be there.

I'm thankful for having a family and my friends. It's a day that I'm thankful for the pilgrims and Indians because they started Thanksgiving. It's a day to thank God for having everything you have.

We celebrate Thanksgiving by having Grandma, and Uncle Elwyn over for dinner. My dad puts a turkey on the grill and my mom makes the rest of the food. We go to church and come home and watch the parade, we spend the whole day at home with each other and talk. Then we
