

"Good Old Days"

When the Manchester Area Historical Society took a look at the "Good Old Days" at their monthly meeting on March 14, the question proved to be not so much whether there had been better days as when those halcyon days really were. With 38 persons, (fourteen men and twenty-four women), ranging in age from 19 to 85, casting their ballots, only four (all women) were unequivocal in preferring the 1960's, although another five (3 women and 2 men), while disavowing any preference for an earlier period, admitted to a wistfulness for certain aspects of an earlier day.

Five (3 men and 2 women) looked back only ten to twenty years to the 1960's and 70's to find better days - when inflation seemed temporary and the "future looked bright".

Reasons given by 9 voters (5 men and 4 women) for looking with longing at the 1940's and 50's were: prosperity, less government and a "unity of national purpose" during World War II. Three of the number (2 men and one woman) all in their early sixties identified the good old days with a period in their own lives when their families were growing up.

Two men chose the 1930's: one relishing happy days on the farm and the other noting that the period had been characterized by less violence, greater personal ambition, and cooperation between management and labor.

The single decade of the 1920's received 6 votes, from two men and four women. Three mentioned the fact (or necessity) of greater family closeness as an important factor in their choice. Another felt the 20's to have been a time of progress and exciting change, and another found a challenge in the hard work and responsibilities of that period. Two women offered no explanation for their choice.

Two (one man and one woman) chose the decade of WWI but only one gave a reason: it was a time of predominantly rural and uncomplicated society. Another pair chose the period 1900-10, the woman noting that life was simpler and it was "before WWI".

One man and one woman (both in mid-fifties) saw the "Gay Nineties" as a simpler, pleasanter time, particularly if one had "a lot of (domestic) help."

Looking further back in the previous century each of five women found a longed for period. The ones choosing the 1850's and 1870's gave no reasons for their selections. The youngest respondent, a girl of 19, chose the 1860's because it seemed to her a time when both school and family life was free of problems and also she admired the "long pretty dresses they wore" then. The woman choosing the 1880's cited family closeness and the fact that it was "a period between wars" as reasons for her selection.

Finally, one woman would like to have experienced "the many good things happening" throughout the country's whole history from 1776 to 1876, but admits "life must be easier today".

One voter added an obvious but important observation to his ballot: "The good old days are better because it is human nature to remember the pleasant more than the unpleasant."

Thirteen (7 men and 6 women) of those voting were born in the Manchester area with six of that number claiming ancestors who settled here before 1900. Another five were brought here as children by their parents. But almost half (18) of those attending had moved into the area since 1950.

In other business, Mr. John Swainson, Chairman of the fund drive, announced plans for raising money to purchase the John Schneider Blacksmith Shop as well as displaying the new society logo and stationery. A raffle (drawing to be held July 4), bingo night and flea markets are among the events planned. Details will be announced as each affair is begun.

If you are interested in donating to the society, please contact Loring Ebersole, 428-9246, treasurer of the fund drive committee.

The next meeting will be held on Monday, April 19 at 8:00 p.m. at the Blacksmith Shop on Main Street. A look at life was simpler and it was "before WWI".

Good Fortune In Abundance

Good fortune has smiled on Kate and Jack Morganville in abundance this year. Not only did Jack come up a winner of $20,000 in a recent Michigan instant lottery, but the Moranvilles were the lucky ticket-holders who won the Zenith Giant Screen TV Home Entertainment Unit at Saline Community Hospital's recent Casino Night held at Travis Pointe Country Club.

The Moranvilles have graciously shared their good luck with others by giving the giant screen TV to the hospital where it will remain in the lobby for the enjoyment of hospital visitors and patients. Pictured are Jack and Kate Morganville as they receive a certificate of appreciation from Stanton Roesch, President of the Hospital's

Board of Directors and George Anderson, Chairman of the Hospital's Development Committee. A plaque in the couple's honor is also mounted on the set.

The Casino Night party was the latest in a series of special fund-raising events which has now brought the current drive to finance a new Radiographic-Fluoroscopic Unit beyond $75,000. Special appreciation goes to Co-chairpersons Marilyn Koester and John Ivanoff who helped to provide an enjoyable evening for nearly 600 people, which, in turn, boosted the proceeds for the new X-ray equipment. Donations may be sent to the Hospital's Office of Community Services and Development at 400 W. Russell Street, Saline 429-5435, ext. 249.

Every time things get tough and the Government wants more money to balance the budget there arises a clamor for more taxes on booze, gasoline and tobacco. I've been noting in the papers that there is a drive on, fortified with hints here and there, for a "sin tax" on the above.

Somebody announced the other day the results of a poll which indicated most every one was in favor of one or more of these taxes.

Why can't they tax something I don't like, to sort of even out the burden.

Columnist Bob Swift agrees with me in this. He says "You may prefer bowling. If that's your preference then take your ball and roll it."

You may prefer golf. If so take your ball and swing at it.

You may prefer fishing. If so I say to you take your fish and stuff it."

I don't constantly demand an extra tax on bowling, golfing or fishing.

The first thing they think of is more taxes on alcohol or tobacco. I suppose that their hinking is that too much alcohol is bad for you and you don't need it and therefore it is a sinful luxury.

Too much of anything is bad for you.

I know one fellow who would rather eat chocolate than drink Scotch. He eats chocolate cake with chocolate frosting and with a dish of chocolate ice cream, followed by a chocolate bar.

I don't think that much chocolate is good for anyone—they don't need it—it's a luxury but I don't hear anyone wanting a tax on chocolate. I would suggest more taxes on things that I don't like or have no interest, such as:

Designer jeans, raquetball, skis, jogging shoes, jelly beans, diet food, Twinkies, diet soft drinks, Barbara Cartland novels, most TV game shows, Chicken wings, most food that is "good for you", three Stooges, soap operas, hang gliders, lace doilies, cooked

226 Donors Donate
To Bloodmobile

Another successful Bloodmobile was accomplished by the Manchester Area, Monday, when 226 donors each gave a pint of blood to the Red Cross Southeastern Michigan Blood Center for use in nearby hospitals. Twenty-three others were deferred to another time for medical reasons and a sudden virus in the district caused 49 who had planned to give to renege.

The Manchester United Methodist Church was host to the clinic and United Methodist Women furnished the canteen refreshments. Alber Orchards supplied the cider and the American Legion Auxiliary the orange juice.

Gallon donor records went to Elizabeth Gonyer and Reverend John Morris who received their four-gallon pins. Three-gallon pins were presented to Mary Frances Cleland, Harry Johnson and Rex Winchell. Jane Korth and Pat Wallace received two-gallon pins while nine others gave their eighth pint of blood at the clinic and received their one-gallon pins: Roger Kappler, Eleanor Martin, Annette Phillips, Kevin Handy, Daniel Marceau, Albert Esmades, Daniel Bauer and Kathleen Richards.

Double A Products broke their donor record by sending 82 employees to the Bloodmobile resulting in 72 pints toward the quota.

Volunteers who assisted Chairman-of-the-Day, Mrs. Robert Little were: prescreener, Annetta Breitenwischer; registrars, Mrs. Jesse Walker, Mrs. LeRoy Knickerbocker, Mrs. Norman MacLeod and Mrs. Ernest Ridge; pack table, Mrs. Ray Uphaus and Amanda Schaible; escorts, Mrs. Guy Little, Mrs. Larry Kouba, Mrs. Alfred Strang, and Linda Weston; observers, Mrs. Aaron Nathan, Mrs. Alvin Kappler and Mrs. Willard Mann. RN's: canteen, Mrs. Wilda Esch, Mrs. Ruth Oates, Mrs. Golda Bertke, Mrs. William

Recall Quashed in Bridgewater

By a 5-to-1 margin, Bridgewater voters decided Tuesday not to recall three Township Board members.

Supervisor Doug Parr, Treasurer Harold Brusafer and Trustee Andrew Post will all be retained in office.

The recall drive was led by the "Bridgewater Action Committee," a group dedicated to removing the officials because they reportedly voted for a new zoning ordinance which would promote development in Bridgewater.

Unofficial tallies of the recall election show that Parr received 99 yes votes and 296 no votes; Brusafer received 96 yes votes and 305 no votes; and Post received 112 yes votes and 303 no votes.

A "yes" was in favor of the recall. Of 784 registered voters, 421 went to the polls.

The BAC also claimed that the officials refused to listen to residents who presented the Board with a referendum petition calling for amendments to the zoning ordinance; voted to reappoint Roger Hardenbergh to the Planning Commission, "a person who refused to follow the Open Meetings Act"; and refused to listen to the requests of the public made at Township meetings and through correspondence.

Of special concern to the BAC was the zoning ordinance's provision for a two-acre minimum on lot sizes. The group wanted a 10-acre minimum which they said would protect agriculture.

Parr argued that a 10-acre requirement would tend to take more farmland out of production.

New Typewriters For High School

The Manchester Community High School recently took delivery of 17 new typewriters for use in the Business Education Department. The typewriters which had been on order since last fall are a welcome replacement in the classrooms.

The instruments which are replacements for equipment which had been in use in the school district for over 20 years will provide students with experience on modern equipment before they enter the world of work. Typing teachers Sheri Hall and Tim Strang expressed their pleasure at being able to provide their students with improved educational experiences.

Eugene Thompson, Superintendent of Schools, observed that, "by trimming our overhead expenses and reductions in the labor force whenever possible we have been able to make several equipment acquisitions through this budget year. These typewriters are replacements for equipment that was sadly out of date and beyond repair in many cases. Our goal is to continue to work with the Board of Education and to make the necessary and often hard decisions which will ultimately provide for an improved educational program in the Manchester Schools."

My First Grade Teacher

The First Grade year is the time when children grow from learning letters to reading whole books and writing stories by themselves. First Graders' impressions of their teachers are very special. First Grader Danny Bihmeyer wrote out this poem for his teacher Mrs. Savage this week. Klinger Principal Janice Hammond brought the poem to our attention.

Mrs. Carol Savage
First Grade Teacher

Who cares if
Two and two
Are four or five
Or red or blue?
Who cares whether
Six or seven
Come before or after
Ten or eleven?
Who cares if
C - A - T
Spells cat or rat
Or tit or tat
Or ball or bat?
Well, I do

But I didn't
Used to—
Until Mrs. Carol Savage!
She's terribly old
As people go
Twenty-one-or-five-or-six
Or so
But she makes a person
Want to KNOW!

County Craft Cooperative Shop

A Washtenaw County Craft Cooperative shop in which to market the arts and crafts of our county's Senior Citizens has been under discussion by representatives of various agencies working with Seniors and some Seniors themselves for more than two months.

Many Seniors "do crafts" of many kinds and would be glad to market their products but find it hard to find an outlet. A shop handling crafts would give additional purpose to their creative activities as well as a welcome addition to their income. Such a center could offer instruction by older people to younger ones, preserving some of the older crafts as well as bridging the generation gap to a small degree.

A craft cooperative could involve Seniors in many ways. Good business procedures needed to operate such a center might involve managers, accountants, secretaries, journalists, clerks and others. The crafts to be sold would be as varied as the craftsmen themselves. Surely there would be examples of photography, painting, sculpture, print making, calligraphy, wood working, metal work, quilting, weaving, tatting, needlework even kite-making. High quality would be the aim.

Many suggestions were made as to where such a shop could be operated profitably. A group is investigating this matter and is eager for suggestions. Financing such a project in its early stages is a serious problem. Similar shops in other places have operated on a profitable basis after the initial expenses were met. Seniors involved in any phase of this project would once again feel the satisfaction of being a vital part of the community.

Wherever you live in Washtenaw County this project is for you. All Seniors are invited to express their ideas about way and means at a meeting at the Burns Park Senior Center, 1320 Baldwin, Ann Arbor, April 2nd at 10:00 a.m. If you have questions contact Community Services Agency at 994-1650.

Students See "Pygmalion"

Twenty students from Manchester High School attended the Black Sheep Repertory Theatre's production of "Pygmalion" as guests of the Washtenaw Council for the Arts on March 21. Sponsorship of this event was provided by grants from the Michigan Council for the Arts and J.L. Hudson Company. One purpose of the audience development grants program is to encourage the participation in and appreciation of cultural arts events among rural high school students.

The students are studying "Pygmalion" as part of their English curriculum taught by Buzz Hastings. Attending students included: Tom Bejma, Missy Bunney, Jan Coval, Bob Curley, Mike Durvall, Dawn England, Julie Gebhardt, Kelly Gotta, Jeff Hawk, Erin Lantz, Katie Miller, Sarah Platt, Corrina Romaine, Mary Skimmon, Joanne Stierle, Mary Stierle, Paul Voytas, Lewis Litwin, Mike Kosha and Katie Miller.

Following the play, students were asked to fill out a short questionnaire and all showed an interest in attending other cultural arts events. For more information on this and other programs of the Washtenaw Council for the Arts, write to: WCA, P.O. Box 8154, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48107.

Bake A Bunny Shaped Carrot Cake For Easter

Baking at Easter is a tradition in many families; most use recipes that have been handed down from many different countries and cultures. Sweet breads are the most popular—the Russians bake Kirlich, a tall sweet bread baked in a mold rounded on top to represent the dome of a Russian church, and most European countries have a traditional egg bread with brightly colored hard cooked eggs baked in a sweet braided yeast dough.

Americans, too, have established Easter traditions. One uniquely American custom is the baking and decorating of an Easter cake which can double as a dessert and a centerpiece for an Easter dinner or buffet. Since carrot cake is a favorite, why not try a delicious carrot cake baked in the bunny shaped pan and start your own special Easter tradition? It's easy to bake and decorate, and sure to impress family and friends.

Professional results are easy to achieve with the Wilton Easter Bunny Pan because the bunny pattern is baked right into the cake. A decorating bag and tips are used to outline the contours made by the pan, then zig-zag, dots and stars decorate the egg. The bunny's fur is simply fluffed on with a spatula. To make it even easier, Wilton includes complete decorating instructions and icing recipes with each pan.

The Easter Bunny Pan is available in your favorite department or discount store, cake specialty shop or directly from Wilton Enterprises, Woodridge, IL 60517.

SMELT DIPPING IS SPRING TRADITION

A smelt-dipping trip is a tradition for thousands of Michiganders who head for lakes and rivers to scoop up bucketfuls during April and May spawning runs, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Entire families and carloads of friends head for their favorite fishing spots and often stand up to their chests in 40-degree water all night long to dip for smelt," stated James Drury, Auto Club Travel Operations manager.

Smelt sell for up to $3 a pound at state food stores. Whether broiled in flour or deep-fried in batter, they are considered one of the Great Lakes' best-tasting fish. Fifty-three Great Lakes smelt hot spots—including Canada's Point Pelee National Park and the Whitley area southeast of Detroit—are listed on Auto Club's 1982 Smelt Guide.

Since smelt runs are triggered partly by snowmelt, this winter's record and near-record snowfalls in many parts of the state should produce an excellent season, Auto Club observers predict.

Best runs of smelt averaging 8 inches long and weighing about 2 ounces each usually occur between 11 p.m. and 3 a.m. in 42- to 45-degree water temperatures. Occasional runs also occur during daylight hours.

"Lake Huron beaches and tributaries traditionally have been sites of the state's best runs," Drury said. This year, anglers predict best Lake Huron runs between April 13 and April 30.

"While many Lake Michigan rivers are spotty, best runs should be from April 15-25," he added.

In the Upper Peninsula, best Lake Superior runs occur from the second to third week of May. Along Lakes Huron and Michigan in the U.P., nights from mid-April to early May are best.

Peak Canadian activity at Point Pelee usually take place around April 20, but runs could vary by much as a week due to the weather.

Anglers are reminded that hand nets may be used for smelt up to one-half mile upstream from any river mouth from March 1-May 31 south of Highway M-72 and from April 10-May 31 north of M-72. Large dip nets up to 9 feet square are allowed on some streams by permit only. The State Department of Natural Resources 1982 Michigan Fishing Guide should be consulted for more information.

No dieter should overlook the advice of Miss Piggy: "Don't eat anything that you can't lift at one sitting."

When x-ray was discovered there was a lot of anxiety on the part of timid folks. They feared that pictures taken of them unwared would show them stark naked. Clothing manufacturers immediately came out with x-ray proof underwear.

The bridal veil started out as a sack over the head, but there are no photographs of those early brides to show why. Just as well.

You probably know that the world's greatest inventor didn't graduate from any school, but do you know how long he went, actually? Three months while at Port Huron.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

Recently our Vital and Health Statistics Office came up with some facts about accidental deaths in Michigan. What they found out was quite surprising, and encouraging, because they discovered that the death rate from all accidents dropped by 25.1 percent in Michigan between 1970 and 1980. Michigan's age adjusted accident death rate has been consistently below the national rate since 1970 and in 1980, it was a whopping 16.1 percent lower than that for the nation. I think that's an astonishing reduction and one we should all be pleased about.

One of the major reasons was the 25.7 percent reduction in the death rate from motor vehicle accidents, which account for just over half of all our accidental deaths. But almost all other causes were down significantly also; in fact there was a 41.9 percent decline in the death rate from accidental falls, the second leading cause of accidental deaths. Accidental death from poisoning was down 36 percent; from water transport down 37.5 percent; from firearms down 33.3 percent; and from drownings down 8 percent; and from fires down 4 percent. The only category which did not show a decline was choking on food or other matter.

Now, what are we to make of all this? Frankly, I'm not sure. The motor vehicle death rate reduction might be a result of the lower speed limit plus the increased cost of gas resulting in fewer vehicle miles driven. The accidental poisoning death rate may be down because of child-proof

U of M Students Honored

Some 8,436 University of Michigan students on the Ann Arbor campus were recognized at the University's annual Honors Convocation March 25.

Wade H. McCree Jr., U-M professor of law and former U.S. solicitor general, was the featured speaker.

A total of 3,998 awards were recognized at the convocation.

Of the total, 3,410 were Class Honors, recognizing an undergraduate academic record equal to at least half A's and half B's for two terms (one term for new students) during 1981.

In addition, 361 students were named James B. Angell Scholars. They have maintained an all-A record for two or more consecutive terms as undergraduates.

Also, 222 members of the freshman class received the William J. Branstrom Prize, a book of their choice and a bookmark. The recipients ranked in the top five per cent of their class.

Some students have won more than one type of honor.

Paul Tassie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tassie of Manchester received Class Honor in the field of Art.

ACCIDENTAL DEATHS

Recently our Vital and Health Statistics Office came up with some facts about accidental deaths in Michigan. What they found out was quite surprising, and encouraging, because they discovered that the death rate from all accidents dropped by 25.1 percent in Michigan between 1970 and 1980. Michigan's age adjusted accident death rate has been consistently below the national rate since 1970 and in 1980, it was a whopping 16.1 percent lower than that for the nation. I think that's an astonishing reduction and one we should all be pleased about.

One of the major reasons was the 25.7 percent reduction in the death rate from motor vehicle accidents, which account for just over half of all our accidental deaths. But almost all other causes were down significantly also; in fact there was a 41.9 percent decline in the death rate from accidental falls, the second leading cause of accidental deaths. Accidental death from poisoning was down 36 percent; from water transport down 37.5 percent; from firearms down 33.3 percent; and from drownings down 8 percent; and from fires down 4 percent. The only category which did not show a decline was choking on food or other matter.

Now, what are we to make of all this? Frankly, I'm not sure. The motor vehicle death rate reduction might be a result of the lower speed limit plus the increased cost of gas resulting in fewer vehicle miles driven. The accidental poisoning death rate may be down because of child-proof

High School Completes Spring Quickness

A six morning workout program has been completed by 45 young men from the 8th through the 11th grades, under the supervision of the football staff. The purpose of the pre-school workouts were to get a first hand evaluation of personnel for next fall's football teams. The morning sessions included work in agility, form running, and strength conditioning, with numerous drills developed to improve these areas. Testing was conducted for each young man for bench press strength, 30 yard dash time, and agility course time. The football staff would like to congratulate all the students for making our spring workouts so successful, and a special thanks to the parents for their cooperation.

A friend of ours said the other day that his grandmother, after being snowbound for four or five days remarked "Wouldn't that be awful if it were black?"

The lady of the house that we know of worked feverishly for a couple of days trying to unclog the drain so the water would go down. After several unsuccessful tries with drain cleaner, chemicals, etc., she called in a friend to try to open the drain. After plunging for a few minutes he reached over and flipped the drain lever, and out ran the water.

News Of Good Things Growing

Winter vegetables begin to seem a little tiresome while we are waiting for fresh rhubarb and asparagus to signal the arrival of spring. But imagination and a good cookbook give you the chance to bring cabbage and root vegetables to the table in appealing dishes.

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, farmers in our state harvested 3.2 million pounds of cabbage last year, nearly 86,000 tons of carrots, 245 million pounds of onions, and about 850 million pounds of potatoes. So you can see supplies are plentiful. Now, what to do with these good things growing in Michigan?

Stir-fried cabbage in cream is quick and easy. Wash and shred one small head of cabbage, saute in 4 tablespoons of butter with one-half cup of chopped onion. Stir until vegetables are coated with the butter, then cover and cook about 5 minutes. Remove cover, pour one-half cup of heavy cream over the vegetables, toss lightly. Cover again and cook about two minutes, just until crisp-tender. Add black pepper to taste, then serve.

Hungarian paprika potatoes also use cream, but in this case it's sour cream. Wash, peel and cube two pounds of Michigan potatoes. Heat 3 tablespoons butter in a heavy casserole. Add one medium onion, thinly sliced, and cook until onion is tender. Add the potatoes, three-quarters cup water, a teaspoon of salt, 2 tablespoons paprika, a dash of pepper, and two bay leaves. Simmer covered over moderate heat about 10 minutes, until potatoes are tender but firm. Shake the pan to prevent sticking, add a bit more water if necessary. Remove the bay leaves, stir in 1 tablespoon vinegar, and cook another minute or two. Stir in one-third cup sour cream and heat, but do not boil. Sprinkle with parsley and serve.

Cream is an ingredient, too, in this recipe for carrots in turnip cups. Wash and peel small turnips, cut slice from stem end of each, then hollow out with a potato scoop or melon baller. Put turnips into sautéing boiling water and simmer just until tender (about 15 to 20 minutes) invert and drain on rack.

Cook carrots until tender, drain well.

mash. Beat in heavy cream, salt, pepper and a pinch of dill weed. Stuff turnip cups with mashed carrots, place in greased shallow baking dish, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and broil until lightly browned.

Except for the seasonings, all these recipes are made entirely with Michigan products.

Local Seniors Going To State Contest

Paul Verhines, a Manchester High senior, competed recently in the Vocational Industrial Clubs of American regional competition at the MoTech Automotive Training Center in Livonia. The competition included written exams as well as practical "hands-on" troubleshooting of the automobile. As a result of his placing in the competition, Paul will represent the South and West Washtenaw Consortium at the state finals at Ferris State College in May. Paul is also eligible for up to $1,000 in scholarships. Paul, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Verhines of 424 Adrian Street, is enrolled in the second year of the Auto Service program.

Bruce Lobbestael, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lobbestael, 10730 Manchester-Clinton Road, competed in the regional V.I.C.A. machine shop competition at Ann Arbor's Huron High School and will serve as an alternate to the state contest in May. Bruce is currently enrolled in the Machine Shop program of the vocational consortium for the second year.

Health For All

CHRONIC BRONCHITIS

Spring is here but your winter cold lingers on. You cough. You spit. And if you're a heavy smoker, too, it could be chronic bronchitis.

Chronic bronchitis is nearly always associated with heavy cigarette smoking. It's likely to start in middle age and get worse as the years go on unless you seek help from a doctor early on. About three times as many men get chronic bronchitis as women. Most people with chronic bronchitis live in cities where air pollution is a problem.

The American Lung Association says that because people don't consider chronic bronchitis a killing disease, it is often neglected until it is in an advanced stage and there is serious damage to the lungs. But in 1981, about 7.1 million people suffered from chronic bronchitis. It brought death to about 3,900. Physicians report more than 330,000 new patients with chronic bronchitis every year. The Social Security Administration grants disability benefits to about 1,500 victims a year. Undoubtedly, chronic bronchitis is one of the nation's costliest diseases in terms of manpower, money and misery.

Since people who get chronic bronchitis are nearly always smoking, the cough is usually dismissed as only "smoker's cough." As time goes on, though, colds become more damaging. Coughing and spitting last longer after each cold. Soon they're with the victim all the time—before colds, during colds, after colds. Generally the cough is worse in the morning and evening and in cold, damp weather.

If your winter cold lingers, see your doctor. He or she can help you enjoy the spring.

For more information about chronic bronchitis and other diseases affecting lung health, call your American Lung Association of Michigan toll free at 1-800-292-5979. In the Greater Lansing area call 484-4541.

Preaching will be the Rev. Ronald Iris, Pastor of Sharon United Methodist Church, with worship assistance from Rev. Roman Reinick of Bethel United Church of Christ, and Rev. Thomas Hart of Manchester United Methodist Church.

Plans Finalized For April 22 Substance Abuse Meeting

The Substance Abuse Awareness Committee is now finalizing plans for their April 22 meeting to be held at the Manchester Middle School Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m.

William Zsenyuk, Village of Manchester Administrator and Police Chief, will begin the program by discussing the substance abuse problem on a local level. Liz Sill, a Circuit Court probation officer in Ann Arbor, will present statistics relating to young people and substance abuse. The final speaker, Janice Hammond, Klager Elementary School Principal, will discuss ways families can help prevent substance abuse and its relationship to other factors such as feelings about self and pressure from friends.

Following these brief presentations, the audience will break into smaller groups to talk about concerns and solutions related to substance abuse. It is the hope of the Committee that topics for future meetings will be identified from these discussions.

This first meeting is designed for adults; however, babysitting services will be provided for parents who find it necessary to bring small children to the meeting. Anyone desiring more detailed information may call Brian Schick at the Manchester Middle School (428-7442) or William Zsenyuk at the Village Offices (428-7877).

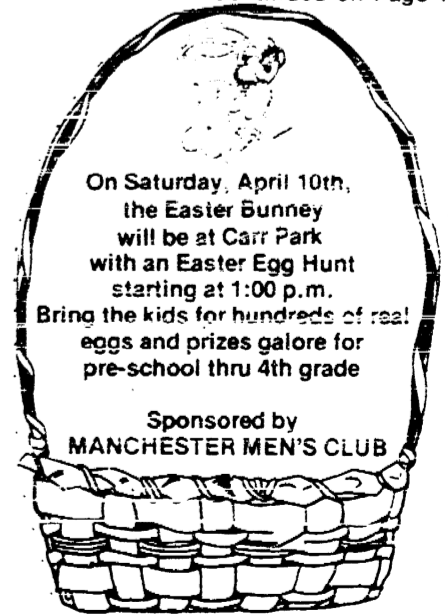

HIT OR MISS by farley

Many doctors are now reported to be studying that common malady known as Spring Fever, and it would seem that they could give some clear reasons for and symptoms of a disease as common as this one. But this is not the case. Most doctors deny that spring fever is a real phenomenon - a vagueness that makes it difficult to track down and put down in words or symbols on a chart.

"There's no thermometer for spring fever," says Dr. Arthur Pinter chief of behavioral medicine at Manhattan's Hospital for joint diseases. "You can't take a blood test for it but on the other hand no one would say that it doesn't exist. It's a very nebulous thing."

"About all that is really certain is that it
